

176 Chapter 176 EPILOG 3

Elias left his own party and as soon as he was outside, his mate's fragrance became more subtil. 1

"Can you find her, Kan?" and his heart is small like a flea.

"Yes, I am the best tracker , I will find her no matter how much time it will take."

"I am scared," he said. "I was more than sure that I will not find my mate tonight, it seemed so impossible to me. I fuck up royally, man"

"We both did." Kan said "Let me focus" and he looked to the shore area and started to walk after her.

"Elias!" suddenly one of his whores called him and jumped in his arms. "I have a gift for you!" she said and tried to touch him in his intimate parts, but Elias caught her hands and pushed her a little without harming her.

"There is no need." And he looked around .

Suddenly this girl's smell makes him feel sick.

"Did you find your mate?" the girl asked. "Whoever she is, I can be better. I can offer you more"

Elias just watched her .

“Why did I sleep with this girl?” Elias asked.

“Fuck me if I know.” and Kan would beat himself for the way he acted with Theo.

“Shit , dad, was right.” He turns around and starts to walk.

“You are a jerk!” the girl shouted. “Fucking impotent!” she said and left him alone, but Elias just took a deep breath and said.

“You are a man, Elias Samuel. If she will reject you will do just as your dad said. You will resist and never accept her rejection. You will fight to make her forgive you!”

And he slapped himself twice.

“Focus!” he commanded himself and started to walk to the shore.

And as he leaves the forest that is between the castle and Max’s nest and he steps on the beach his nostrils are full with the most magnificent perfume.

“Gardenia...” he whispered.” She smells like some gardenias”

Of course that Theo felt him too, because his smell hit her directly and all her being was yelling to turn around and mark him, but she knew that he was probably here to reject her, so she just stood there.

“We can do it, Samara” she said to her wolf “We can resist his rejection. We will not show him how hard it is for us.”

“But I want him,” Samara whispered.

“Well...is not enough” and she just stood there, curled up, with her knees to her chest, watching the waves and the way the moonlight was playing with them.

She just stood there, expecting a rejection.

But behind her Elias was almost hit by lightning.

With her back at him, her hair was now down, flapping in the wind, and in this light her dress seemed like some amber fire.

She was so thin and so delicate.

“She is so beautiful,” Kan said. “Go to our mate, Elias. Please”

“She will cut my neck,” Elias whispered.

“At least you will die looking at her, you fool” Kan said. “Just go, I am dying here”

With every step Elias did, Theo's heart skipped beat after beat, and when in the end he just stood beside her, without saying not even a single word, she kept her breath.

"Why is he silent?" she asked Samara.

"I don't know. Maybe he just wants to give us the perfect rejection." and she didn't look at him at all.

But Elias did the same thing.

They stood there, side by side, watching the waves, the moonlight and the falling stars. And when their silence was disturbed by some Semipalmated Plovers, Elias just smiled, because he felt that those birds were singing for them, and he just stretched his arms and caught Theo's hand in his hand, holding it tight.

No one of them said anything. They just stood there and warm tears flowed on their face, but in silence, while they felt the tingles between them.

Next morning Max and Sam took Meredith and Cara and came to see if they killed each other but they just found them sitting down on the sand.

They were sleeping, holding hands, while Theo's head was resting on Elias' shoulder.

Max just kissed Meredith.

"I love you" he whispered, trying not to wake their kids.

"This is all because you took me back years ago.

All this happiness we lived is just because of you.”

“We all worked together,” Meredith said and looked again at Theo and Elias.

“Do you think that they will be fine?” Cara asked but Sam pulled her in his embrace and kissed her lips as he said.

“Yes, there is no danger here...It’s only love. They will find a way to forgive each other.”

“ Love ... always protects, always trusts, always hopes, always perseveres. Love never fails. “ (1 Corinthians 13:7-8)
