

21 Chapter 21 El Lidero Supremo!

Author's POV 1

In Max's office, he watches Meredith analyzing her injured hand and immediately Luke returns with the disinfectant and the bandages, he goes to her and says in a rather commanding tone.

"Give me your hand!"

Meredith is lost in her own thoughts, thinking about everything that happened. She is human and he is an alpha, if she really is her mate, and Max is not wrong about that, what will he do?

At the moment she is safe, Max doesn't seem to want her but he's just driven by his wolf, but what if things escalate? What if he will imprint himself on her? She will have no chance, and even if she fights in the end, she will end up in his arms.

"Meredith, give me your hand!" Max said again, raising his voice a little and grabbing her hand without waiting for her to react.

"Hey, it hurts!" Meredith suddenly woke up from her dream because of the sting caused by the disinfectant.

She just looks at Max who blows lightly on the wound, trying to calm her down.

This is a Max she doesn't know. And after all that happened, she doesn't even want to know him, because she is convinced that the wolf changes its fur but the habit remains the same.

A manwhore will always be a manwhore. And just today she faced one of his bitches. What will she do if others come in his way? Will she have to fight all the women who claim him?

Max looks at her and analyzing her carefully he asks her:

"How do you know that Veronica is a werewolf?"

"Does it matter?" Meredith asks and gets up from the couch, but Max grabs her hand and sits her back down.

"Yes, if you really want to know, it matters!" He tells her slightly annoyed that Meredith always chooses to sneak out and doesn't do what she's told.

"Cara is a werewolf, James is a werewolf. Do you want me to tell you about others?" she asked ironically.

"Judging by your face and you're a werewolf... Alpha!" Meredith says sarcastically.

"Aren't you afraid of us?" he asks her, wondering how easily she talks about this.

"Why ? Do you think I'm Little Red Riding Hood to be afraid that the big, bad wolf will eat me? " and Meredith starts laughing.

"There are a lot of things we can't explain in this world, Mr. Cruz. As long as some are convinced that there are aliens in space, why not have werewolves in tha story? Maybe vampires, witches and who knows what other strange beings! "

"So you are not afraid of us!" Max said, shocked.

"Of course I am." said Meredith, being honest for the first time in her life. " You are a horde of beasts who act only on the impulses that drive you, but I am here to work not to care about your personal business! " And putting her hand on the doorknob and opening the door, he turns to Max and tells him.

"Keep your dogs on a leash or I'll break their necks one by one! " and slams the door in his face and leaves.

Max looks at her back, as she disappears behind the door but immediately remembers that Veronica probably returned to her office and runs away immediately, but Meredith walks past her and doesn't say anything to her, while Veronica sits at her desk and has a broken nose.

"Maxi" she whispers. "Why are you so mean to me and neglect me?"

And just the thought of having Veronica over him again, or touching her makes him sick, and he is so panicked at this thought that he realized that even his ex-wife did not cause him as much disgust as Veronica provokes him.

"What's wrong with me?" he asks himself.

"You start caring for Meredith, you moron, and the bond even acts on you, El Lidero Supremo!
"Stark laughs in his face.

"Will you leave me alone?" Max asks, getting angry again.

"Not! I do NOT want to leave you alone! Go for our mate and make her feel good. She was upset and it was just your fault! "

"No, I am not her puppy to sit after her ass all day!" Max said and went into the office slamming the door behind him and leaving Veronica depressed because she had no effect on him anymore.

But Stark didn't give him peace at all, and whatever he started to do, he repeated to him, just like a broken record playing the same song until you went crazy:

"I want to see Meredith. I want to see Meredith. I want to see Meredith. " again and again until on the verge of a nervous breakdown Max gets to his feet and starts screaming in the office:

"WILL YOU SHUT UP !?!" and calming down a little he says to Stark.

"I will take you to see Meredith, just shut up please. I can't hear you anymore, just stop! "

He presses the elevator button, walking in front of Veronica without even answering or looking at her as she tries to seduce him and goes straight to the sixth floor.

But when the door opens: Surprise!

Cara is sitting at her desk eating chocolate, the chocolate he bought for Meredith. The most expensive chocolate in the world that had to bribe her and make her work with him, and love him.

Cara is eating her fucking chocolate!

Deeply satisfied Cara is smiling sweetly at him and says:

"Mr. Cruz! Do you want some chocolate? It's extraordinarily good! "

But Max sees black in front of his eyes, he enters Meredith's office and: surprise! Another surprise: She is not here !.

He looks around and sniffs the air, inhaling her smell which is everywhere but just when he wants to get out he sees on her desk a huge bunch of red roses.

And his heart stops: the flowers are not from him.

Who the fuck is sending her red roses?

Without thinking, he goes to the office and starts checking the flowers, looking for a note, or something to find out who sent them:

"Aha!" he yelled in victory finding what he was looking for and opening the note he whitened his face.

"You are the most wonderful thing in the world and I will always be grateful for finding you and being a part of my life.

Happy Birthday!

I love you to the moon and back,

J"
