

22 Chapter 22 Apollo 11 just landed on the moon!

Author's POV 1

He takes the flowers under his arm and with the ticket in his hand he goes outside and almost makes Cara fall from her chair when he throws the flowers on the desk and asks her:

"Who sent her the flowers? Who the fuck is J? " and he tore the note to pieces and threw it in the air, making everyone present look at him like a madman.

"I don't know who J is" Cara lies and taking the roses she goes back to Meredith's office to put the flowers on her desk.

But Max feels that a blood vessel will crack and he immediately goes after Cara and takes the flowers from her hand.

"These stay with me!" he says angrily.

"Who the fuck do you think you are to take her flowers. Mr. Cruz? " Cara said annoyed.

"Be careful how you speak, I am your alpha!" he said, annoyed.

"Not anymore, I banned myself from your pack, on my own initiative. So you are not my alpha anymore" and rushing towards him she takes the flowers from his hand and sits down at her desk.

But just as a small and capricious child, Max comes in front of her and seeing that her hands are busy with the bouquet of roses, he takes the chocolate and screams in front of her.

"This is mine! I paid for it!" and he stomped on it and trampled it with his feet under Cara's sad eyes.

"What a waste" she thinks to herself. "Take was a really good chocolate" and looking at him she tells:

"You are so mean Mr. Cruz!" and standing in front of him she says with attitude and courage:

"This is why you will never be happy, and no one will ever love you, because you do nothing but scream at everyone when something doesn't suit you and make everyone feel bad just because you're unhappy!" Cara yells at him, shocking everyone, even Sam who just gets out of the elevator and sees her hitting Max's chest.

"Who the hell do you think you're talking like that?" he asks her, his alpha feelings being so offended that he can no longer control himself and grabs Cara's hand and pulls it hard unbalancing her, but Sam immediately starts running and snatches her from his hands screaming:

"Max! This is enough!" he yells looking at Cara to make sure she didn't suffer anything, but Cara has something else in her schedule and pushes Sam, she is so nervous that she goes and slaps Max in the face in front of everyone .

In the office you can only hear the sound of her palm and a great common breath because they all took a deep breath and stopped , waiting to see how their little colleague would be killed by Maximillian Cruz.

But Max freezes and, as if he is taken out of his trance, looks around and, swallowing hard, tells everyone:

"Keep working!" and leaves, leaving Sam with Cara.

But this little and brave omega still has something to say.

"Do you know why she gave me the chocolate?" She asks Max without caring that she escaped through the ears of the needle earlier and that she risks a lot provoking him again.

"You don't know!!!" she shouted in his face. "You just assume things and you think you know everything. She is allergic to chocolate, you bastard! Just an ounce of it would kill her, but no, you come here and make a fuss without knowing anything! "

Max looks at her in shock and almost trembles.

"What the fuck! Could I kill her? " and he is so scared only to think that something as small and unimportant as chocolate could kill Meredith that she simply cannot recover.

He is a werewolf. Werewolf has no diseases, allergies all the more, but she is human...and she is more fragile than he ever thought she could be.

"Shit!" he said and lowering his head, humiliated and ashamed for the first time in his life, he got on the elevator and left the company for his packhouse.

But just after he left, Cara bends down and begins to collect the candles trampled on by Max and tears begin to flow down her cheeks.

That was a damned good chocolate! Why did he have to destroy it?

Sam looked at her and bending down helped her gather the dirt.

"Why did you do that? He could have killed you. " he asks her in panic about everything that has happened.

"Because he is a jerk. I am sick of all of this. Who does he think he is? " Cara asks, starting to cry.

"Shhht!" Sam says while he is trying to take her in his arms but Cara takes a step back away from him, and Sam feels that his heart hurts.

Cara looks at the rotten chocolate in her hands and throws it in the trash, saying angrily:

"This was a really good chocolate" and she turns her back to Sam and sits down at the desk, crying in silence.

Looking at her, Sam can't say anything else, and he exits the design department searching for Max, and when he finally finds him at home he asks:

"What was all about, Max? What the hell was going on in your head? "

But Max doesn't say anything, he just sits on the couch and stares blankly. On his face Cara's palm can be seen as a testimony that Maximillian Cruz was just slapped by a woman for the first time in his life and not just any woman, the weakest he ever met.

"What's with you two?" Grandpa Cruz asks coming down the stairs and sees that Max and Sam are standing like two statues.

"Cara Lewis beat him." Sam said and Max glared at him , but Grandma Cruz began to laugh out loud.

"Ooo, that must be a great show. I hope that that sweet little girl is still alive, or I will beat you again if you touch her. "

"She is fine!" Max said, confused by everything that had happened.

"Then why do you stay like a mute?" Grandpa Cruz asks him, hoping he will find something interesting.

"I'm jealous," Max says suddenly, shocking everyone. Even himself.

"What?" grandpa asks. He can't be jealous. He must take Meredith back in his life, what if Maximillian found someone else? And immediately Grandpa Cruz starts to panic.

"Who is the girl?" grandpa asks with a trembling heart .

"My mate," Max replies, confessing for the first time to his family that he has found his fated mate. But Grandpa Cruz feels that this is his last day.

"She is human" Max said and suddenly grandpa's face became happy. "And she is my chief designer and she is annoying me every day."

And that's it!

Grandpa Cruz starts to laugh out loud and he feels that the gods have been good to him.

"The chief designer is your fated mate?" he asks looking at Max who doesn't understand what happened to the old man.

And leaving, chirping with happiness, grandpa Cruz mindlinks his son and tells him:

"Carter, I have news! Apollo 11 just landed on the moon!"
