

27 Chapter 27 The number you have called is not available

Max's Cruz POV 1

"Maxi?" I hear Veronica behind the door.

"Tell me again," Stark said. "Why is she still here?"

"Because of Sam. She is his little sister, and I don't want to upset him. I tell him even though I'm kind of convinced that Sam would understand if I fired her after everything that happened.

"It doesn't smell good to me, Max. She hates our mate, do you know what would happen if she knew the whole story and found out about the bond between us? She will try something against Meredith."

"She won't." I tell Stark and I'm very convinced of what I'm saying. "She will never raise her hand against what is mine."

She may be a beta female by birth but her attitude and her physical and mental strength is far from that. It's just status for her.

"Maxi??" she asks again.

"Let her in, until I won't go crazy with all this "Maxiiii "" Stark says making me laugh.

"Come in, Veronica," and I can't even end what I want to say that she's already sitting next to my desk moving seductively and blinking her lashes full of mascara.

That never worked for me, but I was a man who needed certain things and she was there, available and extremely eager to satisfy me.

"And then you weren't embarrassed by Sam?"

Stark asks, starting to annoy me.

"Shut up!" I said to him and without looking at Veronica I asked her:

"What happened?"

"Will you go to the Vincenzo Castellano party?"

She asks, looking at me.

"Yes. We have a new contract and he invited us.

"I say and I see her smiling all over her face.

"What should I wear?" she asks, shocking me.

"What the fuck are you talking about?" I ask her this time looking at her.

"I'm coming too, isn't it?" she says, still fluttering her eyelashes in front of me.

"Veronica," I tell her, getting up and coming in front of her, and she stretches out her arms and tries to put them around my neck, but I immediately take them in my hands and put them aside.

"You are not coming anywhere with me. This, "I say pointing between us" will never function. "

"It's about that human. Isn't it? " she asks me, clenching her teeth.

"It's about a lot of things, not just about Meredith Quinn," I tell her and try to get away from her, realizing for the first time in my life that my past will catch me in the end and I'll pay for all the nonsense I did.

"Don't say I didn't tell you!" Stark tells me, but I can't tell him anything. He told me and I never listened to him.

"But I love you, Maxi. And I am proper to be your luna . We felt good together, why are you rejecting me now? " she asks me putting her hands on my chest.

I look into her eyes. She is Sam's little sister, what the fuck would I say to her so I don't hurt her?

"Tell her the truth!" Stark said. "Tell her that all this is over, and that she needs to leave us alone"

I look at her and just when I want to say what I have in mind, Veronica grabs me by the collar and pulls me towards her catching me unprepared and she kisses me.

And if that shocked me and pissed me off, let me tell you, all this is nothing but the fact that then the door opens and Meredith appears in front of us seeing her in this position.

I push Veronica off me and if a look could kill her, believe me, she will be dead and buried two feet below the ground.

"What are you doing here?" Veronica asks Meredith, shocking me with her infinitely large audacity.

Meredith looks at us and after a few minutes of silence she says looking at me.

"Yeah, I don't know what I'm looking for here either ..." and turns her back and leaves.

I push Veronica, who is still clinging to me and completely panicking, I start screaming for Meredith.

"Please, stay, this is not what it seems!" but Meredit is not stopping and pressing the elevator button she said without looking at me:

"I will come to the party by myself, don't wait for me or I will not come if you try to force me."

"Meredith," I whispered almost imploringly.
"Please, it is not .."

"Please excuse me for your explanations. And after this party, just stay away from me! "

And she just left me frowning, staying in the elevator with her back facing me.

"Maxi," I hear Veronica but I can't stand it any more. I go to my office, open one of my closets and take out a big box.

"What are you doing?" she asks, coming after me.

I take the box in my hands and go straight to her desk where I start throwing everything in the box without caring if they are valuable or just supplies.

"Maxi! What are you doing?" she asks me in panic and right then the elevator's door opens again and Sam and Luke step out of the elevator.

"What the fuck is happening here?" Sam asks while he sees Veronica yelling at me.

"Ask her!" I answer him, continuing to throw her things in the box until I completely free her desk and opening the elevator. I throw the box in the elevator, pouring all the contents on its floor.

"Get the hell out of here and stop showing your face in my company!" I yelled, leaving them both speechless.

"Maxi, please! You can't be serious. You can't leave me for that human. I know that she is your mate, but she is just a useless human being and..."

And that's it. How the fuck did she know that Meredith is my mate? Did he sneak out of the door?

Sam looked at me scared. He knows that I am right. He knows that Veronica's stay here has come to an end, and trying to control myself for Sam, not to break her neck, I use my alpha command and tell her:

"Get out! Now!"

She is looking into my eyes, and I can read the anger in her eyes.

"You will pay for this!" She said and had nowhere to go because of my order. She went into the elevator, kicked the box of things and spilled what was still in the box and pressed the button closing the doors.

"What was that?" Luke asks while Sam looks at me without saying anything, but I can't say anything to him and opening the door to the emergency stairs I start running down the stairs to the sixth floor.

"Where is she?" I ask looking around and not seeing her in her office.

"She's just left, alpha!" one of the designers said.

I take my phone and call her. She is not responding. And I call her again and again until I hear the robot:

"The number you have called is not available."
