

38 Chapter 38 Woo my ass!

Author's POV 1

"Do you think we should wake them up?"

Meredith hears someone talking near her bed but she's too tired to open her eyes.

"At least wake Max up. Your friend will kick his ass when she will find him in this position," a man said.

"Position?" Meredith asked herself. What position? And she immediately opens her eyes and she sees Sam and Cara by her bed, but she doesn't even turn her head and she sees Max next to her.

He was sleeping with his mouth open, snoring slightly completely parallel to what was happening around him. It was the best sleep of his adult life.

One hand is over Meredith's breast and another on her ass.

"This scoundrel!" she said. "It's not enough that he slipped into my bed last night! Now he has to touch me too!" and looking at Cara she said.

"Will you help me to go to the bathroom please? I need to wash my face and decide what to do with this... this... perverted alpha!" but as angry as she is, so amused is Sam.

"Why are you laughing?" Cara asks, annoyed by his grimace.

"It's nothing, but I need to take a picture. He will kill me later but his face is priceless. "

And as soon as Cara helps Meredith to walk to the bathroom, the women close the door behind them, isolating themselves in the bathroom.

"Mer," Cara whispers. "What was all about?"

"He came last night and moved into my room. And when he thought I was asleep, he slipped into my bed. I left him alone and fell asleep. "

"What? You didn't break his neck? " Cara asks, completely astonished.

"No. One, because I was tired and weak because of the blood that I lost yesterday. "

"And secondly?" Cara asked.

"Secondly, because it was a nice feeling to stay in his arms. I always wondered when we were married what it would have been like ifyou knew what I mean. " Meredith said.

"So you made up your mind. Are you gonna accept him? "

"What? Of course not. I already told him. I will accept him only when he will be able to make me love him. Clearly he is handsome and smart and damned rich but that is not enough for me. He is a manwhore and I can't trust him. He thinks the mate bond is enough. "

But Meredith couldn't say anything because screams were beginning to appear in her hospital room.

"Where is she? Who stole my wife? " Max growls that he started shaking the windows alarmingly all the humans over the hospital.

"Max, no more noise, this place is run by humans!" Sam tried to calm him down but immediately Cara ran to the bathroom door and came out with enough noise to distract him.

"Are you really an alpha? Can't you use your senses? It was enough to sniff the air a little and you would have known she was in the bathroom.

And Max blushes in shame.

"Shit!" Stark said. "She is right. I just looked like a fool. "

But Max doesn't give up and tells her knowing that Meredith will hear him:

"In love and war everything is allowed" and he grins broadly being convinced that with this reply Meredith will fall into his arms.

In his past he really enchanted so many women with his remarks, he will not break the rule with his own mate, she is a woman as well?

But he doesn't have time to say anything else that Meredith immediately appears from the bathroom door, leaning against the wall and telling him:

"I'm glad you admit we're at war." and she stretches out for Cara's hand to help her walk.

"What war, woman?" Max asks.

"I just remembered what you said last night when you slipped like a thief into my bed."

And Max's face is whitening.

"What did you say?" That you will woo my STUPID head, and also my heart, and you also said that I am a tiny, little human? "

"You forget pretty!" Max said as if that was the most important thing.

"Let me tell you. Woo my ass! Now get out of here! I need to change my clothes and see the doctor." Meredith said.

"I can help you with that" Max said but as soon as Meredith looks at him he starts to laugh, and signals Sam to come after him.

"I must say ,Sam, this woman is so different from everything I had in my life."

"She is a badass human, man. She's not afraid of anything, she has a lot of strength for a human and she looks fantastic! "

But as soon as he says that, Max looks at him menacingly.

"I am not saying it in that way ,dude. I have my own badass mate to tame. You know what I said." Sam tells him and starts to laugh.

"Come and let's have some coffee." Max said. "Do you think if I give her a coffee she'll love me?" he asks absolutely stupidly.

"She will adore you, Max!" Sam laughed to himself as Leo, his wolf, rolled his eyes.

"I don't understand what's going on with him." Leo says to Sam. "You say he became an idiot overnight."

"Let him be. He will recover, he is just excited that Meredith is his ex-wife. He needs time to process the news. "

But meanwhile in the hospital ward the doctor came and looked at Meredith's wounds.

"This looks pretty good. The stitches are at their place, " he said.

"Can I go home?" Meredith asks and Cara immediately turns her head towards her.

"I wish I could keep you for a few more days."
doctor says "for safety"

"Please, I promise that I will stay in my bed as long as you say, but I am going crazy here."

"Who will take care of you?" the doctor asks.

"I will," said Cara, looking at Meredith and smiling. "And her brother has a lot of ... resources. I will ask him to send a nurse to check her daily."

"In this case. You can go, at least we will have peace in the hospital again. There hasn't been so much fuss here in a long time, but that husband of yours is scary. " said the doctor.

"Ex-husband," says Meredith. "Excuse him, he is too scared that he will lose his ex-wife!" and the doctor starts to laugh.

"Good joke, Mrs. Cruz!" He said, assuming she is the wife of Maximillian Cruz, the richest man in the Vancouver area, but just a look from Meredith and he swallows his words.

"Isn't that a joke?" He asks again. And immediately he starts writing her a recipe and lets her go.

But when after half an hour Max and Sam came back with coffee in their hands, trying to Impress the ladies, they found an empty ward.

"Where is she?" Max asks in a panic with a big growl.

"Will you stop yelling, please!" the doctor appears behind them.

"Where is she?" Max asks, clenching his teeth.

"Ohh, the lady asked to be discharged and taken care of at home. She left with her friend twenty minutes ago. "

And Sam looks at Max, and Max looks at Sam, and both of them at the doctor who feels like a deer in front of the wolf.

"Why?" Max asks the doctor. "Why did you let her go? She is sick! "

"I can't force her to stay here. It was her choice. We are people not animals. We take into account the opinions of those around us. "

"Ha! Take that! Leo laughs, making Sam smile.

"Max" Sam said "Let's go. Let the doctor do his job, please, just leave him alone! "

And he walks away from Meredith former ward while the doctor yells after him.

"Hey, what about your luggage and all the food you left here?"

38 Chapter 38 Woo my ass!

"Burn it!" said Max, and I can swear that his head smokes.

Comment 0

Leave the first comment for this chapter.

Vote

Send Gift

Swipe left to continue >