

46 Chapter 46 You are selfish!

Author's POV 1

The next day, in the early hours of the morning, Meredith's phone was ringing non-stop.

"James ... What happened?" She asks, trying to open her eyes.

"Is that true? Did you marry Max again?" James asked in complete panic.

"What? Of course not! I will never make the same mistake twice. You know me!" Meredith said, waking up completely.

"Then you should open your TV, but please stay calm. I am coming to your home with Lori."

Meredith jumps out of bed immediately and in the living room Cara and Sam are already watching the news with their mouths wide open.

"The new wife of the fashion tycoon, Maximillian Cruz, just appeared from nowhere! Did she marry him because of his influence or because of his money? This is something that only time will make it clear. But the real question is, will she last longer than Maximilian Cruz's ex-wife? That man is an absolute lover" the reporter said and the TV host laughed and said something that made Meredith's heart skip a beat.

"I know. I tried him by myself!"

"Holy, fucking shit!" Cara said, getting to her feet. "I will kill him! And she goes straight to the door but Sam catches her in his arms.

"Cara, please, I will talk with him. He didn't realize what he was doing. "

"He didn't realize what he was doing? Really Sam? When you fucked all the women in Vancouver together, you really didn't know what you're doing? Do you ever know what you're doing or just taking what you think that belongs to you? You know what? " Cara said. "I want to divorce!" and she walked to her bedroom.

Sam whitens his face and Meredith motions for him to go after her, while she takes the remote control and turns off the TV.

"You can't divorce me!" Sam yells from Cara's bedroom.

"I just realized that you are just like your alpha! Let's divorce. We didn't even manage to consume our marriage and this is good because we have nothing to remember about this madness! We were married for almost one day. "

"Mark My words, Cara! We are not divorcing! " and he closes the door with the key and takes off his clothes completely in front of Cara.

"You are a pervert!" she yells at him "Get out! "

But Sam doesn't let her and walks to her in Adam's suite, with his body that is descended from heaven, and he catches her and says in a seductive voice :

"First we will consummate our marriage and then I will let you to divorce me! "

And he immediately tears her clothes off, leaving her completely naked in front of him and he is lifting her into his arms, forcing her to place her legs around his waist.

"I still want to divorce!" Cara said, smiling at him, but Sam slapped her on her ass and made her tremble in his arms.

"I will punish you for making me lose control. You are a very naughty wife, Cara Jackson! Sam said while he enters with her in the bathroom and closes the door so that Meredith doesn't hear him.

He takes his cock and puts it at Cara's entrance as he whispers:

"I believe in forever, Mrs. Jackson, and if you ever bring up the subject of divorce again, I will punish you in my way and make you regret it!" and he slips in her just a bit and stops in shock.

"Are you a virgin?" he asks with his mouth wide open, unable to believe that he was about to refuse something so pure. And if he could, he would beat himself for his stupidity.

"You are the manwhore of the family not me, I just hope that all your 'training' has paid off and you will impress me." Cara tells him arrogantly, and right at that moment Sam pushes his hips and enters her completely, feeling that his heart stopped.

"Holy fuck shit!" he and Leo yell, at the same time, making Cara panic.

"What's wrong?" She asked, trembling in his arms both of stress because of his reaction and at the same time from the pain she feels in her pussy.

"Nothing is wrong, nothing... it's just too perfect!" Sam said and kissed her immediately, making her relax.

"You are perfect, Cara! Tight and perfect, and I never felt what I feel right now. Let me worship you!" he says.

And when he feels that she is ready he starts to move inside her pussy, rotating his hips, slipping in and out in an alert rhythm, until Cara starts to shiver and for the first time in her life she has an orgasm.

Her tiny body aches in his arms and when he feels that she is finished he moves two more times inside her and releases his semen deep inside her womb.

"We need to find a house" Cara said with his cock still inside her pussy, feeling it throbbing inside her. "I need to scream while you are fucking me!"

"So we're not divorcing?" Sam asks.

"And let whoring again? No thank you! Your cock is only mine!" she said and kissed him, making him hard again.

But in the living room Meredith is lost in her own thoughts and when she hears the knock on the door, thinking it is James, she immediately opens the door without checking.

In front of her, Max stays, panicked and pale.

"Can we talk?" he asks.

Meredith signals him to follow her and turns on the TV and hears the TV host saying.

"She must have a lot of sexual experience to tame Maximillian Cruz. I've tried everything and he never called me again. So she must be a sex machine to resist in front of him. "

And Meredith changes the channel. Another show, the same subject.

"Will he ever change? I bet that he will divorce her. Didn't you see what she looked like? She's not even as beautiful as the women who went through Maximillian Cruz's bed. She is too simple! "

And she turns off the TV, and showing him the door she said:

"Get out of my house, now!"

"Meredith!" Max said. "Please, I will talk to the press and clear everything.

"Clear what?" Meredith asked. "The fact that I am presented as some money digger on all TV stations? Or that I am some sex machine? The fact that I am compared to all your whores? "

Max just looks at her.

"Please, Meredith!" Max said again. "You are not like they say, and I will speak with them and I will clear things up."

"Max , you are selfish. You are thinking only of yourself! Please get out or I'll leave this place if you insist on staying here. "

And Max looks at her and with his head down he left her house, and he mindlinks Luke Navarro instantly:

"Prepare a press conference for today. I fucked up again! "

"Don't say it!" Luke says.
