

47 Chapter 47 You never divorced!

Author's POV 1

Meredith changed her clothes and went out and calling James on her phone she asks:

"Where are you?"

"I just parked, I'm going up right away." James says.

"No, stay there, I'm coming out right now." and leaving the building she sees him get out of the car and runs to her, while Lori follows him.

"I am fine, don't worry. I am just furious but I am fine." she said, seeing his stress.

"What the fuck was in his mind?" James asks. "I need to talk to him, he can't just announce to the whole planet that you are his wife!"

"When in fact she is not!" Lori said.

"Exactly!" Meredith said. "It's the worst joke he's ever made."

"Where do you want to go?" James asks her.

"At the office, I need to work."

"Cara is not coming?" Lori asks, looking after her.

"No, she is fucking her husband , thinking that I can't hear her moans" said Meredith laughing.

"WHAT HUSBAND?!?!?" Both Lori and James ask in shock.

"Don't ask! Just let's drink a coffee and then let me at my office. "

"Starbucks?" James asks.

"Is there anything else?" And Meredith begins to laugh, calming down a little in the presence of James and Lori. She knows that no matter what happens she has them! They are her people no matter what is happening. "

But when they enter Starbucks all the heads turn to Meredith.

"Is that her?" Someone asks.

"Yes, she looks like her! She is his wife! "

James looks in shock at them and almost growls, when he realizes that a part of those who are talking about Meredith are werewolves and had no respect for their alpha decision.

"I start to doubt his brain," said one of the werewolves. "His first wife was human, and this is also a human. I believe that our alpha had a fetish or something! " and the werewolf looks at Meredith in disgust.

James immediately walks towards them but Meredith stops him.

"Let them talk, James. Can we skip the coffee please? she asks, almost crying.

Lori takes her in her arms and hugs her and whispers:

"Come with us in our pack. There we will protect you! "

But hearing her. Meredith's heart aches. This is the problem.

"The point is that I want to stand by myself. I want to be strong and to succeed in this world. Every time dad and James were not around, none in our pack respected me. I was just the human "

"What?" James asks in shock.

"I did not want to tell you because I did not want to upset anyone. I always understood what my place was in the pack and the fact that you and our parents loved me, it was enough for me. "

"But you are our family, I will talk to them." James said.

"No, you will leave them alone" and looking at her she said "I need to show them that I am not a weak human. That I can fight with them and win, James. This is why I need to stay here. They called me in many ways but I will show them who I am. ”

“And who are you?” James asks her, smiling at her. He loves her deeply.

“I am Meredith Quinn, daughter of Alpha Landon Quinn. The most honest, kind and powerful man I know! ”

“Let’s take you to your office!” James said, but as soon as she put her foot in the company all eyes were on her. Everyone was whispering.

Even her colleagues from the design department were talking stealthily.

“She slept with the boss and she gained a position in the company,” said a colleague, loud enough for her to hear, but she had enough and she went straight to his office.

“Did you see me sleeping with Maximilian Cruz?”

And the man is looking at her perplexed. He never thought that this human woman would say something back.

“I asked you something!” she said. “Did you see me sleeping around with your boss so you could make assumptions and expose them to the public?”

And looking at those gathered like a circus, she said:

"You know nothing! You are just some silly fools who think you know everything, as werewolves you believe yourself superior to us, humans. But let me tell you! You are just some unhappy beings who are driven by instincts and hatred. Apart from that great mate bond that saves you and makes you more human, you are animals! That's what you are!" and she enters her office slamming the door behind her without seeing that Max and Luke heard her from the beginning.

All her colleagues are looking at him in shock.

He is their Alpha and just realized that if Meredith Quinn is his wife, they just fault their own luna.

One look from Max and they understood that they are one step away from the mortuary pit.

"Luke," Max said. "Dismiss the entire design department and bring some new designers here!" he said, shocking all of them.

"And you" he said to the one who offended Meredith directly. "You are banned from this pack. I will never accept anyone who talks without thinking and mocks a woman, whether she is a werewolf or a human or who knows what other unknown being. Get out!" he growls at him and the man stumbles.

He lets Luke do his job and goes straight to Meredith's office and closes the door behind him.

"Please go outside," Meredith tells him without looking at him.

"This is not an option. I came here for two reasons." he said looking at her.

She is very pale and tired and he can see that she is nervous.

"One, I will hold a press conference in two hours and I need you to be there too. And secondly, grandpa is here, in my office and wants to talk to both of us."

"Max, please," Meredith said.

"He is very panicked and if you will not come, he will come here and this place is not a proper place for all of us to discuss."

And she just walks out of the office and watches in shock as the designers pack their things from the desks, but she doesn't give a damn about them, so she presses the elevator button and enters while Max follows her.

And when Meredith enters Max's office, Grandpa Cruz stays on Max's chair behind his desk but that's not all. Landon and Olivia Quinn are here as well Carter and Lisa Cruz.

"What's going on?" Meredith asks.

And Max just looks at grandpa Cruz and tells him:

"Grandpa, why are you silent now? Tell her what you just told me a few moments ago?"

And grandpa looks at her and for the second time in his life he is afraid that he will lose someone important.

"Grandpa?" Meredith asks. "What happened?"

And Grandpa takes a big envelope, then he pulls out some documents and puts them on the desk.

Meredith approaches and, seeing the documents, she almost collapses.

"What the hell is going on?" she asks, almost fainting. "Why are those documents here? They should be in the archives of the City Hall!"

"Tell her, Grandpa! Tell what you've done !! " Max tells him gritting his claws and trying to control Stark not to beat his own grandpa.

And he's not angry about the effect of Grandpa Cruz's action, in fact he is somehow happy, but he is furious because the man he loved with all his soul betrayed him.

"It was all because I had the fate that you are the best choice for him. I couldn't let you go without making a plan! " Grandpa said.

"What is going on!" Meredith yells and Olivia comes and takes her in her arms but Meredith releases herself and pointing to the document she asks:

"Why is this document here ?" she asks again.

"Because you are still married. You never divorced!
