

52 Chapter 52 I will love for two

Author's POV 1

"What are we doing here? Meredith asked seeing where Max brings her.

"We are going to eat our lunch" he said smiling at him.

She knows that he is rich because her family has lots of money too, but Max is richer, but still did he bring her at the airport?

"Where? To the North Pole?" Meredith asks ironically "There's no need to take me in a place where I will start to shiver and ask for something to cover myself, if you want me more dressed."

"No, but next time I will take you there. It's a very good idea, thank you darling" Max said and opened the door for Meredith.

"We are going to Washington." He said as easily as if it was something normal to fly from Vancouver to Washington to eat lunch.

"No, I need to work and I will lose a lot of time flying in the USA" Meredith said and didn't move from her place.

"It's also a working lunch, darling," Max said. "It's for the contest I told you a few times ago. The organizer wants to know the person who will represent MaxLine at the contest. "

"Why didn't you tell me? Shit! I need to change my clothes. I can't go like this at a meeting. I am too sexy and I need to make a good impression.

And looking in her bag she realized something.

"Shit," she said to herself. "I didn't take my purse from the office.

"What's going on?" Max asked seeing her lost in her thoughts.

'Nothing. I just forgot to take my purse. You dragged me and made me lose my brain with your kisses attack. Don't do it anymore! "

She said pouting her lips at him, but Max starts to laugh seeing her so affected.

"Everything is just fine, don't worry. I took care of everything already!" he told her and taking her in bridal style he got on his private plane.

"Maximillian Cruz! I can walk by myself!" she tells him blushing all her face when the stewards see her in his arms.

"With that heels on the plane stairs? No thank you? What if you will fall?" And he just walks with her in his arms until he reaches their seats.

"Is this plane yours?" Meredith said looking around. The plane is fantastic. Has twelve seats for passengers and a mini bar and also seems to have a bedroom.

"It's ours!" Max said looking into her eyes. "There is no more mine. All I have is ours." And Meredith heart stops.

"There is no need to think like this. I would never claim something that is yours if this mate bond will not work" She said but for the first time she wanted the mate bond to be real.

"Are you tired?" Max asks looking at her and placing her hair behind her ear lightly.

"Just a little bit," Meredith said. With all that happened these days drained my energy" And looking at him she asks. "Will you put me down please? You are not walking anymore. "

"I like to hold you," Max said. "Believe me, Meredith, I want to hold you in my arms for a lifetime. "

"Put me down, Max," Meredith said but smiling at him. "Your crew is watching us"

"I don't care," Max said with a serious face. "I am not doing anything wrong. I just enjoy my time with my wife"

"If you will put me down, I will kiss you" Meredith said smiling at him.

"Will you do that?" Max asked laughing.

"Just a peck, but I will!" Meredith laughs at him.

"Your stewardess are looking ugly at me, I believe they are loving you, and now you just broke their hearts."

"Kiss me!" Max whispers in her ear. "Kiss me and I will do as you wish." And Meredith puts her arms around his neck and approaching him, she pecked his lips but she stayed there, feeling his lips on her lips. It was her first time when she took the initiative to kiss a man, and she loved every second of it.

And just when she thought that she finished Max puts a hand on the back of her neck and drags her to him, kissing her.

"It's my turn," he said, smiling as he kissed her. And licking her lips with his tongue he asks for access. Meredith just smiles in his arms, and let him ravage her with his perfect French kiss, while she kissed him back.

And when they need to breathe, Max let her on her own feet and whispers.

"Darling, let's seat. We will have a lot of time to exercise our kissing skills during this flight." And he starts to laugh while Meredith becomes all blush on her face.

"You!" she said. "You just cut your branch from under your feet. No more kisses for you!" and immediately she sat down in her chair, but Max has other plans and looking at one of the stewardesses he tells her:

"We're ready, please announces the pilot that we can take off," and sits down in front of Meredith.

"I think I'll add a new rule," he said.

"Every time when you are mad at me, I will kiss you" he said laughing but Meredith knocks him down when she answers:

"It's a good idea."

"It is?" he asks in shock.

"Yes, this way you can learn how to kiss" and she turns her head and looks out the window of the plane as it rises in the air.

"WHAT?" Max asked in shock. "Who kissed you better than me?" he asks and moves near her seat almost trembling.

"I'd tell you, but then I should kill you," Meredith said gravely.

"Tell me who?" Max insists.

"I think that I should drink something" Meredith says and she smiles at him while he is so pale. Someone kissed his mate and did it better?

"Shit?" Stark asked. "Kiss her again, and let me do it!" and in a second he takes Meredith in his arms putting her in his lap in one move as if she were as light as a flake and kisses her directly.

"What ..." she said but immediately Max, under Stark's control, kissed her again putting all his soul in that kiss, making Meredith to ask herself why she didn't kiss a man in her life, until Max.

When Max walks away from her he looks into her eyes waiting for her wrath. Her face is flushed and her eyes are closed, trying to prolong the emotion she experienced earlier.

"So?" Max said. "Am I the kisses' king?"

"This was better ..." she said and tuning her head she saw a stewardess looking at them with a sour face.

"Mr. Cruz "she asked." Would you like something to drink or eat? "

"Just some charcuterie board and some red wine" he said and the stewardess wants to leave but he stops her.

"And my wife wants ..." and he looks at her.

"Some sprinkle water and I'll share the food with MY HUSBAND, so make the board big enough for two people" and she looks at Max and smiles while the stewardess leaves nervous.

"So you recognize me as your husband in front of another woman?" Max asks her.

"She was rude and you are my husband. Did you slept with her too?" Meredith asks without looking at him.

"No. She is a werewolf and she was always a woman who clings to you sit and suffocates you by her insistence, she is not from my pack but she works here. "And he takes Meredith's hand in his hand.

"Meredith ..." he said looking at her.

She is visibly upset. That stupid stewardess reminded her of Max's old ways with other women.

"Mer" he whisper approaching her ear and making her almost tremble near him. "I never knew what it means to love someone."

And she turns her head and looks into Max eyes.

"But I want to tell you that I love you! I love you and not someone else. I didn't know how it is, how you feel when you love someone, but now I know. "

"It's too soon to love me, it's only because of the mate bond" Meredith said and puts her hand on his cheek caressing his face with her palm. "It's only because of that mate bond. These are not your feelings. "

"It doesn't matter why I love you, Meredith. The thing is that I do. And I am happy that in the end I become like this. And even if it is only because of the bond mate, and I am happy. I never felt like this. It's something so new for me. To care about someone, to want a woman to that point in which I don't recognize myself. I love you, darling" he said lets his head to sit in her palm.

"I'm not sure about my feelings," Meredith said, looking into his eyes and assuming every word she said. "But I am trying, Max. And believe me, I want this mate to work. The thing is that I like you, or maybe I love you too and I don't know, or I am afraid to say it. I want the love that I saw between my parents, that James and Lori have, that your parents live. I am jealous of Cara and I am furious that I don't have a wolf to come in this relationship without hesitation. But I am trying, Max. I am trying!" she said and tears appeared in her eyes.

"Shhhhh" Max said putting his finger under her eyes and wiping away her tears. "For now it is enough that I love you." And he put her in his arms around her waist, still holding her in his lap and kissed her.

"I will love for two until you clear your mind."
