

56 Chapter 56 We are not there yet

Author's POV 1

In the morning when Meredith opened her eyes she was all over Max's body, and she was wondering why she was feeling something between her legs that pushes her and somehow pulses.

She lifts herself lightly so that not to weak up Max who is sleeping like a baby, and sits on her knees next to Max, gently lifting the sheet.

"This scoundrel!" she said in her mind, but looking at his cock that is out of his boxers, and who seems to have his own program while Max is sleeping she is all blushing.

"I must postpone the mating thing how much time will be possible" she thinks for herself. "He will break me to pieces with this monster"

And she lets the sheet lightly and descends from the room, she is walking to the bathroom and starting the shower.

But in five minutes just when she was almost enjoying her shower the most, the bathroom door opens and a very scared Max entered.

"Where are you?" he asked breathless.

"Maximillian Cruz!" she yelled covering her breast and her pussy with her hands and sitting immediately on the shower floor. "Get out!"

But seeing her completely naked Max is so shocked that can't even articulate a word.

"Max!" Meredith yelled again and Max just stays with his mouth wide open and looks at her and when he feels that his wolf calmed a little he takes off his boxers, and enters the shower. He lifts Meredith from the floor where she sat crouched, trying to hide her nakedness from his eyes, and lifting her he puts a hand over her bottom and forces her to put her legs around his waist.

"Max!" Meredith said "This is too much!"

"No, I won't try anything more than this, it's just a shower. I promise that I will not try to mate with you"and he stays under the shower with her in his arms holding her at his chest, letting the water to clean them.

"Your little friend has something else to say. It stings me in my ass, and certainly has other plans." Meredith whispers, but this time much more calm.

She just looks him in the eye and thinks that maybe this is as hard for him as it is for her.

"I need to trust him," she said to herself. "I want this mate bond. I never hoped to have something like this as a human, but now, feeling those marvelous tingles I want it too. ”

“Little?” Max said letting Meredith slip over his erected cock, and feeling every inch of it. “I am far from little, my darling” he said with a big grin.

“I know you are,” Meredith said, looking straight into his eyes. “If you weren’t you wouldn’t be the most coveted man in our country.” And she is a little bit sad saying it.

“I am sorry” Max said looking at her and realizing that talking about sizes and skills is not the most proper thing, considering their past. They have been married for five years and they have never been together since, now is the first time they see each other completely naked.

Even worst, he never touched her like this until today and he had been whoring all around the country with different women. He looks at her and whispers in her ear:

“I made a lot of mistakes and the most unfortunate one is that it didn’t care about your feelings back then. But I know now how wronged I was. All I want is to make things right for you. I will walk in your rhythm. And this” he said pointing to his cock while he distances himself from Meredith just a little. “He will be like a monk until you want a piece of it, I promise that I will never look at anyone else, because all I need is here, in my arms."

Meredith looks him in the eyes and blushes.

"Right now is not about not wanting you." Meredith said and puts her arms around his neck. "I am far from that and I am still worried that all that I feel is because on that imprinting that your wolf put on me, but I like the way I feel. I'd be a liar to say that I don't like the feeling of having you just for me."

"You have me" Max said and kissed her lips.

"I am far from what I was five years ago, Max," Meredith said and looked straight into his eyes. "Back then I was thinking only about making my parents happy and I was able to sacrifice everything. Now, physically I may be the same, just older, but I don't want to sacrifice anything. I know what I want in this life. In Paris I've seen so much love all around me. Everyone was talking about love, that town was forcing you to find some love for yourself so that you fit into the landscape."

And Max just looks at her and his heart tightened. Did she loved someone else in Paris? He must find the truth.

"Did you find someone to love in Paris?" he asks her, feeling how his heart skips a beat while waiting for her answer.

"You want to know, don't you?" Meredith asks him smiling at him.

But he just looks serious at her while the water still flows over their naked and embraced bodies.

"I had offers" she said making Max almost faint. "But I'm here now, can't you see that?"

And Meredith knows that probably now Max is making a lot of connection in his head and seeing how sadness appears on his beautiful face she kissed him this time.

"Why are we talking about the past, Maximilian Cruz?" and she caresses the back of his neck with her hands. "Am I not here now? Am I not your wife? "

But Max just looks at her and says nothing.

"Now, right now, I pick you! And I am scared because I feel how something greater than everything I met in this life is dragging me to you. It makes me feel unsecured, but I will adapt to this. And when I will not be able to keep distance in this relationship, I will be yours with everything I have, but give me some time. It's too much in a short time for my little human heart" and she just smiles at him making him calm himself.

"With everything I have, Max" she whispered, blushing a little and making him understand what she was talking about, while his cock became even harder and bigger than before just thinking at her words.

"I will give you time, my darling" he said "But leaving here alone is not an option. Castellano is still free, and that stupid of Veronica too. The only reason I let Sam live here after he married Cara was to protect you"

"He's still here, just a door away," Meredith said, trying to assure him she was safe.

"I need you in my pack house. I can't stay away from that place too much without stressing my pack. You know how a pack works. This is our life, Meredith."

"As a human I am not comfortable to live in a pack house." Meredith said looking straight into his eyes.

"So what are you telling me?" Max asked and took her out of the shower and put her to bed on her back without wiping her body of water drops. He just stays between her legs with his cock at her entrance and looks in her eyes.

"I am telling you that I am here, and I will accept you completely, and that I need to adapt to everything. Less than a month ago, I was hating you Max. This" she said pointing to their position

"would have been something like a nightmare a month ago, but now I am ok with this. I am still upset for what Stark did but I like the feeling. The mate will become stronger every day, but we are not there yet."

And Max can't stand it anymore and kissed her, while his hand and tracing all over her naked and wet body, making him shiver. Everywhere he touches her he feels a million of tingles like some little explosions all over his body.

"I love you so much" he tells her and he has tears in his eyes. "And I so sorry for everything I've done in this life, I lost five fucking years with you! Now we could be already happy, we could have been parents and have some little Meredith and Max around us, but I ruined everything with my arrogance."

"I am here now" Meredith tells him trying to calm him. "If you stay, Max! I'm here and I'm staying!"