

59 Chapter 59 Just you and me forever

Author's POV 1

At the hospital when Cara opens her eyes she sees Sam sleeping with his head on her bed while he stays on a chair, and he just holds her hand.

"Sam" she whispered seeing him in that uncomfortable position, and she tries to caress his head but the pain is still there and hearing her sigh in pain Sam opens his eyes.

"Are you alright?" He asks her, getting up immediately and looking at her.

"Yes" she said and took his hand in her hand again. "I am alright, is just pain and nothing else"

"I'm sorry, Cara. I'm stupid. Whenever it is about you I become stupid." Sam said looking at his feet.

"Sam, look at me," Cara said. "Cici will heal me if the doctors will refuse to cure me."

"They're not refusing anything because I almost killed one of them just hearing him speaking about you, but they can't do too much treatment on your body. They just sedate you with something light and non-toxic and it seems like is Cici's job to do the rest. " And Sam just looks at her and waits for the storm to begin.

"What are you talking about? What's wrong with me if they want to cure me but they can't? "

And Sam is at the point of fainting again but his wolf, Leo, pushes him and after he growls at him a few times, Sam tells her:

"You are pregnant"

And Cara just looks at him and starts to laugh but her fractures makes her cry instead.

"Shit, Leo!" Sam said. "She is crying. She hates the idea!" and he starts to tremble.

"Isn't that a joke?" Cara asks as soon as she calm herself seeing him so panicked.

"No, and I am so sorry for doing this to you. I didn't even ask you if you would want kids so soon. I just took you and made you mine without thinking at protection, I wasn't able to focus on anything else then having you. "

"Sam" Cara whispers seeing him so tormented but he is not listening.

"I am sorry, if you don't want the baby .." he his heart almost stops saying it. "I will understand even if it will kill a part of me, but I want you more than anything else, and I want you happy"

"Samuel Jackson!" Cara said with a growl making him startle. "Are you stupid?"

"What?" Sam asks looking at her carefully. She is not yelling at him. She is not crying anymore and she looks kind of... happy?

"I am more than glad to have this pup." Cara said. "In this way I got you forever. I will hunt you with our baby if you will ever think to leave me!" She said laughing lightly.

"I am just kidding, I will never use my pup like this. But I am happy Sam." She said.

"Shit!" Sam said "While you were sleeping I thought that I will pee on me fearing for your reaction. I really, really want this pup, Cara."

He walks in her bed and sets near her so he won't touch her wound and putting a hand over her tummy he said.

"You brought me so much happiness while I brought you so much sadness for more than a year, and yet here you are, loving me. Thank you for not accepting my rejection back then. Thank you for taking me back." And bending down he kissed her lips and then his mark.

"I don't want to think about our past Sam, let it be the last time when we talk about it. Can we change anything from the past?" Cara asks him. "We can't even learn anything useful from it because our past is sinister, we've already made mistakes and this," she said, pointing to her tummy. "This is our future!"

"The doctor said that I can take you home when you are awake, and he will prescribe some soft analgesics. Do you want to come home?" he asks looking in her eyes and making an oath to himself that he will take good care of her.

"I want to go home, to our empty house and to be just the two of us." She said.

Sam mindlinks Luke, who waited on Sam's car all the time, and tell him to bring the car and takes Cara home.

But as soon as Cara enters her bedroom, her face falls on the floor.

"Sam!" she winced happily. "What is this?"

"It's Meredith touch" he said smiling when he sees her so happy. "I asked her to help me prepare at least one room. You're pregnant, you can't just lay on an empty mattress."

And Cara looks at him and taking his hand she puts it on her tummy.

"Six months, Sam. Six months and we will be parents." And he takes her in his arms and lays her down on the bed, easily lifting her dress. He looks at her flat tummy and whispers.

"Little pup, I hope that you will be a girl" and he starts to put little pecks on her tummy.

"Why a girl?" Cara asks looking at him with wonder. Every man wants a boy to take his name further.

"I want a little Cara in my life. And I will love her from her first second of life, and I will not lose precious time with her as I did with you. I want a second chance to do things perfectly" and he can't stop kissing her tummy again and again while Cara is playing with her finger in his hair.

"You are already doing it. Stop blaming yourself, Sam. Maybe if you would have accepted me back then we wouldn't be so attached to each other. We have a history that made us cherish each other more."

"I can't lose you anymore!" Sam said and looked into her eyes.

"You won't because I just clanged on you, remember?"

He just looks at her and realizes something that makes him laughs at.

"Just wait for my parents to hear about our pup and they will be so happy!" and in that second Cara's face whitened.

"Parents?" she asks in panic.

She knows his parents, they are the forms betas and his father was powerful and stiff, while his mother was a very difficult person. Marion Jackson just ignored her all her life, and as a child when she was hurt or she was suffering that woman was always closing her eyes, or worse aggravate her sufferance. If Luna Lisa wasn't so good with her she would be dead until now.

And fearing that everything will collapse and that his parents will take him away from her she said bursting in tears.

"I don't want to see them!"

"What?" Sam asks in shock. "Why are you saying that?"

"I don't want to talk about it! I just don't want to meet them!" and she started to cry making him perplexed.

"Leo, what the fuck is going on with her?" Sam asks hurt by her reaction.

"Maybe they did something to her and she is afraid, Sam. Something is not right. She will never do something like this without any reason." Leo said. He knows his parents and he knows his mother deeds better than Sam.

And Sam just takes her in his arms and makes her stay between his legs, with her back resting on his chest.

"Then it will be just us. You and me. I will not force you to meet them, but Cara if they did something to you, I want to know." Sam said.

"I just don't want to talk about it!" Cara said while she lets her tears to flow over her cheeks.

"It's alright" Sam said and kissed her cheek. "Just you and me forever" he whispered but in his mind he will never let his parents go if they hurt Cara in some way.
