

75 Chapter 75 You were a good muse!

Meredith's POV 1

"Vivi!" The girls yelled seeing her coming down from the podium. "You were perfect!"

"If you had looked at Luke, I think she should be called more than perfect," Leia said amusedly. "I believe that his heart stopped seeing you in white"

Do you really think? Vivi asks her blushing. But something is going on in her mind and I can't even make it clear that I hear her asking.

"How was his former mate?" Vivienne suddenly asks, making the girls stop laughing.

Leia looks at her and freezes.

"Why do you want to know?" she asks, a little panicked.

"Was she beautiful? Did Luke love her so much?" Vivienne asks in a trembling voice.

I take Cara's arm in my hand and help her sit, while Lori sits next to us. I don't know anything about Luke's former mate. I look at Cara, and Cara looks at me.

"Her name was Sarah," Leia said after some time.

"Luke met her two years ago, when she was eighteen. The age difference between them was a problem because Luke was twenty eight at that time. They lived as mates only for two weeks and then there was the attack. She didn't want him at the beginning, but you've seen my brother. He is a man with a big heart. He even bought a house for you to know you are safe "

"WHAT?" Vivi asks and I start signaling Leia to shut up but is too late. Vivi is already standing lifting the hem of the dress in her hands and starts to walk determined to go after Luke.

"I will break his ass. Is he trying to control me? "

But that's it! Immediately I get to my feet and putting myself in front of her I say to her:

"Sit down, Vivi!" and she squeezes her eyes at me.

"Sit down!" I call her very serious again.

"Stop the madness. All you've heard from this story is that Luke is trying to control you? He did it to keep you safe. He knows, Vivi. " I tell her slowly.

"What does he know?" she asks me in a panic.

"He knows!" I tell her again, very slowly, trying to make her understand what I mean.

"Oh my goddess!" suddenly Vivi says, putting her hands to her mouth. "How could you tell him?" she asks me crying.

"I didn't tell him anything. You know Max. He wanted to know how we met and he found out. "

"He will hate me!" she said crying.

"What does Luke know?" Leia asks, looking at us but Lori takes her and Cara and goes outside, because Lori knows what happened five years ago.

"He cares about you, sweetie," I tell him, wiping away her tears. "And you know what he did?" and I see her nod in disapproval.

"He made you rent a house that he bought specially for you, a house placed in the middle of New Moon Pack. You are the only human in the middle of the wolves, because every person in that pack knows that you are his mate and that he wants to protect you. "

"He did that for me?" Vivienne asks me with some puppy blue eyes.

"Yes and you made him feel like a shit all the time" I tell her laughing at her.

"Well this is my specialty!" she giggles and wipes away her tears.

"Will you change now?" I ask her. "I need that dress for the jury and you will put all your tears on it."

And I let her change but as soon as I leave the room, Luke stays in front of the door.

"Leia told me that she is furious at me again!" he tells me in panic.

"She is not. She just doesn't trust people, Luke. She only trusts me and her brother, and in reality she is afraid even of her shadow. Her world is made of dominoes."

"I want her," he said slowly. "I want her so much"

"Then go and take her, but first give me back that dress she wears." and I start laughing when I see him going into her room and Vivienne screams to get out because she's naked.

And of course Luke, as an obedient boy, listened to me instead of listening to her and didn't go out at all.

"Why are you laughing?" Max asks me, because he was searching for me after the show ended.

"Tell me what is happening in that room" I tell him pointing to the room where Luke and Vivi are. "Your hearing is better than mine"

And he just looks at the door that separates us from Vivi and Luke and then looks at me.

"She is crying," Max said, caressing my face. "And he just holds her."

And then looking at me he took my hand in his hand and said smiling.

"Come with me. I want to show you something" and he drags me after him, showing me some prices.

"Every year after the articles are presented in the contest, those present can bid for their favorite products." Max tells me, taking me in his arms while he pecks my lips.

"Are you serious?" I ask, looking at the prices, there are a lot of prices but one of the dresses has the most bids.

"What's all about with that dress?" I ask, smiling at Max and feeling my heart pound.

"That dress impressed everyone here. And if the model hadn't been a dwarf, she would probably have made an even better impression," says Max, starting to laugh out loud as I just stay and look at him with my mouth open.

"Are you nuts! Who the fuck paid $ 1.5 million for that rag?" I cried, but at the same time laughing happily.

"A lot of people!" Max said smiling "up to 1.3 million the bid went shoulder to shoulder then there were only two bidders left, so just as I told you last night. It doesn't matter if we win or not. What you did is beyond expectations. "

"So .." I said, making a sweet face and blushing a little, "I made you proud. "

"You did!" Max said.

"I should thank you" and I squeezed my eyes at him and pursed my lips, blinking my eyelashes.

"You were a good muse, Maximilian Cruz. Tonight I'll make you sit on the couch naked, naked, just as you were when your mother gave birth to you and I'll look at you. I will paint your nude and put it on the wall in the office. That way I will always be inspired. "

"You want to, don't you?" Max asks, laughing out loud and lifting me in his arms without caring that the world is looking at us.

"I love you crazy woman! Since Vivienne came here made you more open minded "

"I love you too, my super handsome alpha" I tell him, making Max become hard in one second.

"Tell me again" Max whispers, letting me glide lightly over his body and feel the effect I have on him.

"No," I say, looking straight into his eyes.

"No?" Max asks, looking at me playfully.

"No, I will show you!" and I immediately turn my back on him and leave.

"Tonight. And you would do well to make sure that this house that you rented for us is soundproofed because otherwise all our friends will hear you grunting like a pig. I want that my muse to be mute. I need inspiration for my creativity, hubby!" I say and I immediately run away making him look after me with his mouth wide open.

"What do you mean?" he asks. "grunting?"

"Grunting like a pig!" I tell him without looking at him.
