

81 Chapter 81 Grandpa is worse than mafia

Author's POV 1

"Did you find anything?" Landon asks as soon as he arrives in Washington, at the house that Max rented, and looking around he said:

"This place is a fortress. How the hell did they get in here? Something doesn't make sense!"

"I would have chosen this place too, if I were Max. So I don't understand, how did they get in?" Carter, who came with Landon, tells him.

"How did you find this place?" Landon asked, looking straight into Max's eyes.

"It's one of the contest organizer's venues. They used it two years ago and I knew the location. I rented the house from them, because this year was too small to host the event."

"That was a niche, somehow Castellano must have stolen a key!" Landon said and immediately took out of his bag the laptop he had brought with him.

"What are you doing?" Max asks him, looking at what he is doing.

"This time we came prepared, son. After her first kidnapped, Grandpa Cruz, Carter and I made a plan so that this will never happen. But it seems that you can never foresee a complete danger. " Landon looks at James and says.

"This is your job son. You are a genius in cybernetics. Trace her! "

"Trace her?" Max asked, looking at them as if they were hallucinating.

"Tell me that she wears the bracelet that grandpa gave her." Carter tells Max.

"Of course she wears it. She takes it down only when she is sleeping or bathing "and Max approaches the laptop that James has already started working on and sees a signal moving on the monitor.

"Dad, Landon!" he said. "I feel like kissing you right now! You are a genius!" and immediately bends over and looks at the map that James is watching.

"Why are they in this place?" Lori asks, putting her finger on the spot where the point finally stopped moving.

"Are they nuts?" and horror overwhelms James again.

"She is human. That is not a place for humans like her, not even for werewolves with the power to heal themselves. "

"Satsop Nuclear Power Plant?" Landon asked, looking at Carter.

"They must have taken a flight to be there so soon," James said. "But this is not good at all"

"That place is unfinished but it's a strategic place and is guarded permanently. They have to be hidden in areas where there is no activity, and I know where to start our search. " Carter says. "I've been there once when I was younger."

Carter and Landon are like brothers from another mother and another father, but mentally they are like twins.

"How can you follow Meredith on that laptop?" Max asks, looking at James.

"That perverted grandpa of yours, replaced a diamond in her bracelet with a tracking device." James said "He knew that Castellano would never let it go. He knows his type, and so does dad and Carter. " and looking at his laptop he said.

"Don't look at me like that. Grandpa Cruz was too afraid that Meredith would be hurt again. "

"Don't say it!" Max said getting into the car Carter and Landon came in.

"You must thank him, Max," Stark said. "That grandpa, as perverted as he is, made you a married man at the beginning, kept you married when you signed the divorce papers and now he traced your mate to the other end of the country without letting you look like a madman."

"Yes, he did. Grandpa is worse than mafia. Fuck, he is everywhere! He's like an octopus spreading its tentacles everywhere." Max said, still shocked by this old man's abilities.

They drive directly to the airport, constantly following Meredith's position and when they finally arrive, they take Max's private airplane, leaving Lori in Washington to look after their friends and keep them informed about Cara's and Leia's recovery.

"What should we do?" James asks downloading some plans with the place where Meredith is hidden.

"I don't know about you, but I will kill every werewolf involved in this shit.

Cara and her baby deserve justice. Leia, if she will live, deserves to know that her alpha cared about her and avenged her. And Meredith. Meredith must know that I will fight for her with all my strength, until the end of my life and until the end of the world I will fight for her, because she is mine." Max said, closing his eyes and trying to visualize the moment when he will find Meredith.

In one fucking hour they reached to the Satsop Nuclear Power Plant just to hear James saying.

"Shit! I don't understand anything! She was here a few moments ago and now she is not anymore." and he looks in panic at Max and his father.

"What do you mean that she is no longer here?" Max asks furiously, clenching his fist and coming near James to look in his laptop.

"She's not here anymore!" James yelled. "And I don't understand what is happening!"

London and Carter looked into each other's eyes and were whitening their faces.

"It doesn't make any sense what you're saying," Carter said, looking around. "They can't be in the Satsop Nuclear Power Plant. The place is more guarded than I remembered. But they were here or very close to this place, the tracking device is very precisely. "

"James" and he turns suddenly and looks at James. "Can you show me the map you were looking at earlier?" Carter asks and Landon comes near him.

"Show me what's here!" he said pointing to the middle of the Satsop Park, and James maximized the image.

"Shit! How could I forget?" and he starts to smile.

"They went into the ground!" he said laughing like crazy. "That's why we can't trace them anymore. "

"And this is good?" Max and James ask, looking at Carter as if looking at a madman.

"It is!" Landon said laughing, too. "The underground is only one way road. They can't run from here without facing us! "

"Come with me," said Carter. "Nearby is a tunnel that leads under this church. Some atomic shelters were built in case of an accident under this church, and this tunnel was the only access. There is no signal. "

And Landon and Carter transform into their wolves.

They are in their fifties but both Landon and Carter are handsome and still very strong. Their alpha aura surrounds them wherever they go, and as wolves their stature is majestic.

Finding the tunnel they enter and run, followed by Max and James, who are also in their wolf forms.

And with every step they made they felt that they were not alone in this place. With every step they made they felt that this place is the devil's den.

It is said that the premonition is the greatest ammunition, but sometimes you must take the risk and continue your way.

At the end of the tunnel some light can be seen. And also some screams and growls.

Max stops and can't breathe.

He feels her. He feels Meredith and Stark yell in his mind to go at her. To save her, to bring his mate back home, but Max's heart stopped. He hears growls and those are Meredith's... growls.
