

96 Chapter 96 Less is more

Max's POV 1

"Sam, Luke," I say, immediately looking around. "I need you to be my eyes tonight. I can't focus. All my mind is at Meredith. I will not be able to see any danger even if it will be in front of my eyes "

"Man" Sam said "Nothing will happen. If Castellano or Veronica will try something today they must be really stupid. "

"I don't care, Sam. Just be there and be vigilant, because I can't be. Not today" and taking a deep breath, I close my eyes. "Two months ago I was so far from this moment and if you had told me that today I will be here with my ex wife who in fact is still my wife, I would have said that you are crazy. But here I am and believe me that I am living a dream. "

"I know, Max," Sam said. "I was in the same position as you and I know how it is to be madly in love with your mate, I know all too well what regret looks like and I know even better how you feel when you know you were forgiven even though you didn't deserve it. Just be happy for everything you receive today. And count on me! "

"I will watch the area for you too," Luke said. "I have no idea what it's like to be in your position, chairs specially prepared for them.

"But my sister..." he continues.

"She is with Meredith, helping her to dress. For the last time, find a place and sit there!" and this time I used my alpha command even though I know that it is not working on humans.

"What a nerve on him!" Luke said. "I feel like breaking those skinny legs and stuffing them in his ass!"

"Leave him alone!" and looking at him I ask "How is Leia?"

"The same, even if the nurse said that yesterday she moved her hand, but I know that this is impossible."

"Nothing is impossible, man. Just look at me right now, just look at Meredith, think about and never lose your hope. "

"I will never stop hopping" he said smiling sad but he can't say anything else that my father and London came and said:

"It's time, son!" and he signals to James to invite people to sit down.

Everything is perfect.

Meredith had only one wish. To have this ceremony in our back garden. Everything is

"It's time, son!" and he signals to James to invite people to sit down.

Everything is perfect.

Meredith had only one wish. To have this ceremony in our back garden. Everything is simple but at the same time is chic and glamorous.

Our back garden is not an ordinary one. It is a huge alley of old oaks that frames a beautiful lawn. From place to place, my mother and my late grandmother planted wildflowers, leaving this place natural. Perennial, fragrant and colorful flowers give such a pleasant air to the place. Only the perfectly trimmed and well-groomed lawn makes you realize that this place is made by human hands and that it is not a spontaneous vegetation.

On regular summer evenings our pack members can come here and run quietly in any form they want.

When the music starts my father starts to walk, together with Landon and they stop under the archway with wildflowers that my mom, Olivia and Lori have prepared according to Meredith's instructions. I never knew that some simple wild flowers put together can look so beautiful.

"Less is more," Meredith said. "I don't want roses and lilies. I like the simple things because love is something simple and pure, and when our minds intervene it becomes more complicated." She said and she was right.

In front of me James, Luke and Sam start to walk and sit on the right side of my dads. Yes, fathers, because from now on Landon will be my father too.

And that's it.

I look ahead and smile. I smooth my black tuxedo from Versace and I start to walk. My father smiles, Landon and James smile too. The minute I reach them and turn around I see all my pack members. They smile at me. I also see some sad faces, of some female members who probably just realized that they lose all the chances to become my luna. I hope they won't make Meredith feel uncomfortable because I will show no mercy for them.

"She will laugh in their faces," Stark said. "Since she became a werewolf she doesn't give a shit about our past"

"I hope so" I said and looking to the place where I know Meredith will appear, my heart is as small as a flea.

Mom and Olivia start to walk and coming in front of the crowd they sit in the front places.

Lori starts too, in her light orange silk dress, and I can swear that I see a little bump on her abdomen, and looking at James I am sure that he's seen it too because he just looks at her with a wide smile.

Vivi, my new Frenchie super crazy pack member, follows Lori and she is happy and winks at Luke as soon as she arrives in the place where the bridesmaids will stay, and she sits near Lori.

The sweet little Cara, is like a summer dream and she also walks slowly in her dress. She is like a little fairy and I know why Sam was never able to give her up, not even after he rejected her. She is just a perfect little being. Inside and outside.

But I can't take my eyes off the end of the alley. And when at the end of it my sweet mate appears, my breath stops and Stark has a little and shift.

She is like a queen. With her beautiful dress and her soft makeup, with her hair in which you can see the stars and the moon, and with her little hands that hold a white tulips bouquet, she is the embodiment of perfection.

She just smiles and with every step she makes I know that she is one step closer to be mine forever. She already is, but I need this ceremony to wash all my sins for the way I acted at our wedding.

I look at her and I don't even realize when my eyes get wet and tears start running down my cheeks. James comes near me and gives me a napkin to wipe my eyes.

"Don't cry, pussy cat!" he said laughing.

"Shut up, James!" I tell him laughing, without taking my eyes off Meredith. Everyone looks at her with their mouths open. Believe me, I'm not subjective. She really is the most beautiful woman in the universe.

I see even Francois looking at her with teary eyes, as if he was expecting something else. Something like any public, carnal and wild mating.

Surprise sucker! This is like a wedding.

This is my opportunity to say I do, willingly and loving the woman that stays in front of me.

"I love you" I said as soon as she was in front of me, smiling at me and making my heart melt, and I didn't care about anything else. I pulled her into my arms and kissed her.

"It's not the time!" Dad said, looking at us, because he is the one who will give us the blessing.

"Max" she whispered after I detach easily from her. "You ate my lipstick and now you look silly" she said, smiling at me, wiping my lips with her fingers.

"Shit!" I love you so much! " I said again and kiss her again and her father starts to laugh and says:

"It seems that he doesn't want the Moon Goddess blessing. Let's go!" and starts to laugh.

"Let's start," I said in a commanding voice, kissing Meredith again.

And we both look into each other's eyes and hold our hands.

"Let's do it!" she said.
