

Chapter 11 Chapter 11

"Reject him!"

"Excuse me?"

"Yeah you heard me, reject him then."

I was dumbfounded for a moment. She is saying this as if it is a normal thing to do.

"You obviously don't seem to be thrilled to be matched with him. Reject him and you can be happy then or if you want we can exchange, you can have my mate, he's also a highrank warrior from the same pack or you can be alone that's what you want right? This is your chance, you can have a happy life again. I overheard you talking to Emma and it's not a hidden fact here that you 'like' this idea of hunt so there shouldn't be a problem for you, in fact you can be independent and can explore the world just like you wanted right?"

I feel the body behind me go stiff at her statement. His chest vibrates violently with the growl, he is trying to keep down his temper I can feel by his body heat and for a moment I fear that he will lose his shit and will shift into his wolf. Although I am not whether he's angry at me or on Victoria, his arms around me tightens as if he's warning me. Does that mean he's mad at me?

I am at complete loss of words. On one hand, I probably would be happier with a different male by my side. From the interactions we've had today, I won't doubt that. On the other hand, even if I reject him and move on, I would always have a hole in my soul from where he is supposed to be. In our world mate means our other half of your soul and they are chosen by moon goddess for us for a reason. And there's a probability that this will make my wolf weak or maybe berserk. And I don't want that for my wolf. If there's someone I love and cherish the most in my life, that is my wolf. I maybe selfish for this, because I am thinking about myself only and not about my mate. But I am not happy with him either.

It's one thing to have met your mate and move on, but it's another when you've met them and try to move on without them. My wolf is also not responding in this situation, in fact she's silent since the moment we've met our mate, she doesn't seem so ecstatic after meeting our mate like the other normal couples around here. I am stumped. I don't know how to respond on this thought.

Just as I was about to speak up again, I feel Emma take a place next to me. The look she gives her cousin makes me want to curl into Zaden's chest to hide from her icy glare. She looks ready to pounce on her cousin at anytime.

"It's not that simple Victoria and you know it. even if she is not happy in this very moment she will be in the future. How can you really expect her to give a chance of a happy future. How can you expect her for some twisted fantasy you have? You think he would want you after you made his mate reject him? You are truly sick in the head, cousin! I think it's about time you realize that fact." Emma said each word venomously.

"How dare you Emma? You are my cousin, you are supposed to be on my side, and here you siding with that whore." Victoria sneered.

"It's not about taking sides Victoria, it's about right and wrong. You already have found your mate but still you are not appreciating him, he was chosen by moon goddess for you for a reason, learn to cherish him." Emma said while trying to be calm and I am happy to see the her mate supporting her.

For a moment everything was still. I tore my gaze off Emma to Victoria to see her storm off, her mate only a step behind her. And I instantly feel a little bad for him because it seems he's already in love with her. And Victoria is being Victoria I guess. I step out of Zaden's grasp to hug and thank Emma, I turn towards my mate first to see acceptance in his eyes for Emma and in a way I am glad he's accepting her because of their first meeting I was scared for her, the second it's there, however it's gone instantly. A squeak like sound comes from my mouth and in a flash I am over his shoulder being carried off to what I assume is our cabin. I mouth a quick thank you to Ems, who nod in return with a smile and wave goodbye.

I zone out most of the walk and move only to get a more comfortable position on Zaden's shoulder. What if he mark me there? What if he tries to force himself on me? What if uses some other means to make me submit to him? There are so many questions going on in my mind and they are making me nervous. His hard muscles are poking in my ribs but I can't complain. Well especially because he's doesn't answer my question, because he's a big bad Alpha, or maybe he's like this with me only. I am still not sure whether he have accepted me or not. When I am put down I expected to be in the male cabins, but as I look around in shock when I see we are standing in the middle of my bedroom.

My face goes red when I see my dirty bra and panties laying out on the floor, but Zaden's gaze is on me and me only and I thank goddess for that. He is silently watching me with a neutral expression and it's hard to tell what he's thinking. I open my mouth to speak but he beats me to it.

"Were you going to reject me?"

Our ads aim to provide better support for authors.

