

11 Chapter 11

Aurora's POV 1

I walked into the kitchen area and there I found Mrs. Kala busy ordering away the cooks as they ran from side to side, preparing dinner.

"Oh, Rory. How are you feeling so far? Did you like your room?" Asked the older woman as soon as she raised her head from the iPad she held in her hand.

"Yes ma'am. It's alright." I answered.

"Come here. Let me show you around." She said as she escorted me deeper into the kitchen.

"You already know some of the kitchen staff. Here is the head chef, Beau Mullins." Beau was a large, buffed man, he had brown skin and bleach blonde dreadz that contrasted harmoniously with this dark skin. At first sight he seemed intimidating but don't be fooled, for he is very docile.?

"Over there is his Sous chef, Tony Gibbons." She nodded over to a medium height guy with auburn hair and green eyes who was busy kneading on some type of bread. He gave me a brief smile before returning to his duty.

"Everyone, Aurora has joined our household group as the alpha's personal maid. I expect all of you to welcome her and make her feel at home." Mrs. Kala said as she patted my shoulder earning everyone's attention. I hated being the center of attention.

"Really?" Someone whispered. "Personal maid? First I ever heard of it." Another commented. All I could do was play with the hem of my shirt as I avoided everyone's gaze.

"Oh, dear. I forgot. Are you hungry? You haven't had anything for breakfast or lunch? Beau. Would you mind whipping up something quick for Aurora here?" The older woman said to the buffed guy who nodded and smiled before turning to get something out of the fridge.

"No. It's okay Beau. Thanks." I stopped the buffed guy and turned to Mrs. Kala. "Umm, actually I wanted to find the backyard door? My wolf has been pestering me to go for a run."?

"Oh, sure thing dear. Right through that door and then you turn a left. The backyard door is right over there. Don't stray too far though." She said with a smile before they all resumed their work.

I took the route Mrs. Kala said and found myself in a beautiful rose garden yard. The aroma was incredible.?

'It's so beautiful out here Aurora!' Rhea exclaimed in my mind.

'Yeah. It is.' I thought as I looked around for a place to take my clothes off that'd shield my nudity from others. Being a wolf, you should be used to having people seeing you naked. It's only normal because we have to strip off our clothes in order to shift, but I still wasn't ready for that.?

I walked through the yard until I came to the edge of the forest. I took a quick glance behind me and ran to the biggest oak tree before taking my clothes off and laying them neatly before putting them in a little squirrel hole close to the ground and covering them with a bit of dried leaves. I mentally prepared myself for the excruciating pain I'd feel like last time, but it was bearable this time. In no time I was in my wolf form. 1

'Very good Aurora! You're starting to get a hang of it.' Rhea praised and I couldn't help but smile.

We sprinted through the forest crisscrossing through trees and jumping over puddles, enjoying the feel of the wind as it hit my fur. It was a feeling of freedom. Like nothing could ever go wrong. We spent the next hour running until we both felt hungry.?

I looked up to see through the tree branches that the sky was already turning hues of orange and purple as nightfall came, so we decided to head back to the pack house.

'We better hurry back to the house Rhea.' I told my wolf who hummed in agreement.

Once I was fully clothed, I walked back through the rose yard garden and couldn't help to stop and admire them. Whoever was taking care of them knew what he was doing cause they all looked crisped and beautiful.

I stooped to the level of one of the bushes to sniff a rose better and sighed in delight. I made a mental note to ask Mrs. Kala or Aspen if I could pick a few to put in my room.

"It's a breathtaking garden huh?" A voice cut me out of my train of thoughts making me jump up in surprise and see beta Barone walking down the stairs that led to the mansion. I quickly bowed my head in respect.

"Hey. Didn't I tell you that there was no need of formality." He chuckled. "What are you doing out here all by yourself?" He asked.

"Oh, I came for a run and then I couldn't help to admire these roses. They're really beautiful." I said as I smiled at the roses that surrounded us.

"They sure are. This was Alpha Wolfgang's mom garden, and he's taken care of them ever since she died." He commented shocking me. Who would have thought that mean old grumpy man had such a soft side, but then I remembered the day I saw him arguing with Alpha Gudolf while I waited for dad that day of the meeting. ¹

"I had no idea." I smiled as I looked over the roses once more.

"So. How have you felt so far at the mansion? Did you like your room?" He asked.

"Um, sure. It's a tad bit too big for the few things I came with but it's nice." I answered the blonde guy.

"Well, it shocked all of us when Wolfie said he'd take you in as his personal maid but now I see the reason behind it all." He said as he gave me a closed eyed smile.

"Huh? The reason?" I asked hoping to find some answers to the reason I was brought here suddenly.

"Yeah. You're a total hottie." He said as he gave me a wink making me blush. Sure, I know that the beta is a womanizer, but I couldn't help to feel flattered by his words. I was always the outcast at school and I rarely had any guys hit on me, so this was a first.

"You're already eighteen, right? The guy who turns out to be your mate will be one lucky bastard." He said earning a nervous giggle from me.?

'Yeah. So much for lucky...' I thought to myself.
