

Chapter 15 Chapter 15

I look around again to see all the couples wrapped up in each other, whisperingsweet words in their mate's arms to which their mate's eyes twinkle with mischief and just beinghappy. And here I am sitting in front of the fire staring into nothingness I am thinkingabout nothingbut at the same time everything. I am thinkinghow my life changed in just few hours and I am not even sure that this new life will bring me happiness or sorrows or heartbreaks, all of it is so confusing Before I get a chance to think further I feel a body slip beside mine, I instantly recognize him immediately as my brother scent fill my nostrils which is now mixed with somethingelse like a mix of fresh green grass with his scent of first rain of the season, I guess he already marked his mate and vice versa. Both of their scent is a perfect mixture. But I can't ask them directly as much as I love my brother and we have a special bond, still I don't want to invade their privacy.

"Hey Rinnid how are you liking the mated life? Who's your mate anyway and most importantly where is he? "

His question startled me a bit, I assumed till now everyone knew about it already and him asking a question like that means either he has no been paying attention or maybe he just arrived. Not wanting to talk about it, I quickly changed the topic.

"The mated life is everything I expected it to be, too much. But let it be Let's talk about your mate for a bit. I saw you with a redhead back in the field, Who's she? And most importantly how is she? What's her name?" I asked with curiosity. I wanted to know who's the next Luna of me pack.

"Her name is Missy, she was tired so she's in the cabin right now but I know you'll love her, she is from the neighboring pack and a beta's daughter. She's kind. I hope the Elders make their decision in favor of her." He said with those dreamy eyes.

"Oh yeah right! What's the whole decision thing anyway? I tried asking Z- my mate but he wouldn't say."

Ronan eyes me skeptically but answers my question unlike my mate who just walked away as if I simply doesn't exist for him. "Did you not pay attention to anything in lessons? The Elders have the final say on whether you are fit to be Luna or not, wait ! Did you talk to them already ?"

I nodded, still confused.

"What did they say?"

"Nothing really . They did let my wolf talk through me which was odd but they smiled before they walked away."

My brother smiled and gave me a side hug and I hugged him back not caring about the fact that later Zaden is going to sue me for this, because right now I am wearing his hoodie and Ronan is unintentionally leaving his scent on his hoodie. But it doesn't matter to me, Ronan have always been my best buddy and brother so I love him and who knows maybe this is the last time I am getting hugged by my own brother.

"Congrats Rinnie! They accepted you to be a Luna. From now on mom and dad doesn't have to worry about you, now you have someone in your life who will love you and will take care of you forever. I am happy for you sis."

Yeah Right! I can be happy with the love of my life and that's me and my wolf, no one else. I LOVE ME AND RHEA. For me love my mate first he needs to earn my respect first then we'll talk about love. I know I am being stubborn and selfish. But I have no shame admitting it, for me my happiness comes first. If I am happy then only I can make others happy. And I. AM. DEFINITELY. NOT. HAPPY.

We talked for about ten more minutes. I asked him more questions about his mate, I so want to meet my sister-in-law, but now is not the time.

I didn't say anything after a bit , after that he got up and walked away. Before I had time to think deeper and dive into the world of my wild thoughts I saw Emma and her mate Lorcan walking towards me with a worried expression.

"Riven! Where have you been? I have been looking for you everywhere. We need to talk about this whole situation and we ne-" Emma was suddenly interrupted by her mate's arms around her waist.

"Hi Luna ! Sorry we haven't got a chance to meet each other properly but I am Lorcan King brother and beta of Alpha Zaden King. Why are you sitting here alone? I can't imagine my brother leaving you unattended with all these males around, especially not while you are still unmarked."

"Nice to meet you Lorcan and please call me Riven just like Emma here, Congratulations you have found you mate as incredible as Emma."

Emma blushes at my statement.

"And speaking of your brother aka Alpha king I have no idea where that male is and I don't really care at the moment because I needed a moment alone for myself. He obviously hasn't noticed I am gone so it can't be that big of a deal."

The moment I said it, his eyes glossed over as if he was mind linking someone. When he came back to he looked worried again as before.

"We need get back to the cabin Zaden has noticed you're missing and is not pleased." I nodded, knowing there was no way to avoid this.

I followed Emma and Lorcan silently back to the cabin and prepared myself for the lecture I was about to get. There was nothing I could do so it's better to fight back with and I just needed to pick my own battles.
