Ch 34

Karsyn POV

Karsyn was mind-linked by his father just as he was about to crawl into his bed, he groaned at the words " Kar, get your ass down here to my office, I just got more on Demi."

He got himself up, even though he was tired, had been up since two in the morning, going on 20 hours now, when did he get rest and sleep. If it wasn't his father calling on him, he was having to go and meet with Raygan. Though that last one didn't bother him. He liked knowing she wanted to see him, for any reason at all. He was happy to head out to meet her no matter how tired he was, and would suck it up to see his Mate.

He made his way down the stairs of his packhouse, the whole place was in darkness bar the foyer, and he could hear Renee crying already, as he made his way to the man's office. Sighed internally, whatever it was, wasn't going to be good, that much he knew, and it wasn't.

He had taken the phone from his father's hand, when he'd held it out to him to see what it was, had only watched it for a short moment before he stilled the video they were watching, turning it off all together and put the phone face down on the desk. So that no one had to see it or hear it.

He turned a very distraught Renee, who was staring horrified at the footage next to him, into her Mate's arms, to cry into his chest. Where his father curled his arms around her and rubbed her back, trying to help calm her and comfort his mate.

Not even he wanted to see that video footage of someone mating Demi, even though he actually knew it wasn't what it looked like. He believed that she was Marked and Mated over there. From Raygan's fury at what was going on, he knew it to be true she was not at all happy about it. "Don't look at it." he told the both of them, with a heavy sigh.

"Son, we have to pull everyone together and go and get her. Save her from that pack."

"From which pack?" he huffed with annoyance. "There is still no physical proof that it is the Wintering Moon father."

"Who the hell else would do this to us?" his father yelled right at him.

"I'll put a call into Alpha Raygan and find out if anything odd is going on over there, right this minute." He sighed. It was nearly 11pm. He knew she'd already been in an argument with her brother tonight. Perhaps something was going on that she'd not mentioned to him.

He saw his father's eyes move to the phone on his desk and just knew that man was going to watch that video. He'd seen that it had gone on for 10 minutes. Picked it up and walked out of the room with it so that he couldn't. Mind-linked to his whole unit to come to him in the Alpha zone on the Alpha floor.

Walked up there and they were all already there waiting on him, likely had been in their own suites turned in for the night. He tossed his father's phone to Rick, "Please watch that. I cannot."

"What is it?"

"Demi being Mated." He stated flatly "It goes for 10 minutes."

Rick nodded and opened the message. He watched Rick turn the volume off and both Harvey and Mario sat with him to watch it. He knew none of them wanted to look at it. They were just watching it for anything that could pinpoint where she was, though he and Rick knew where she was.

He sighed as he dialled Gorgeous. It rang a few times before her voice came down the line. "What now?" she muttered.

"There is video footage of Demi being mated, father just got it like 10 minutes ago." He sighed "What is going on over there?" even he was annoyed with the goings on.

"Nothing, as far as I am aware. Demi stayed in her room all day. Apparently is terrified of me. And then went into heat at like 8pm. So, I can't even go in and check on her."

"Just freaking great." He muttered "So, they've filmed themselves mating and sent it to father. What did you argue with Zac about?"

"Don't take that tone with me. This is not my doing." She snarled right back at him.

Karsyn sighed and took a breath in "It's not you Raygan, I'm annoyed about the situation and that every day something else just crops up to make my father mad at you or your pack. He's talking again about racing over there to your pack to get her back."

There was silence on the end of the line for a long moment and then she huffed "Perhaps I pushed my brother too much today. Made a point of asking which pack Demi came from. If father had spoken to her Alpha about their Mate Bond, organised an alliance. Zac was very uncomfortable."

"I bet. What else did you say?"

"I let him know you and I both thought that we believed it was another pack trying to incite us to war against each other. That you don't think your sister is here."

"Okay..." he thought about it for a long moment himself. "So, I'm guessing they are upping the ante, so to speak. Because we're in agreement that there will be no war."

"It could be that," he heard her sigh. "If she is actually in heat, Karsyn, they will be locked in that room for days on end. Could well see many videos coming out of those days."

"Just freaking great." He muttered "I'll keep father's phone then. I can't have him coming to you in a full rage over this. But Renee is in full distress down there over what she saw."

"I can only imagine...how graphic is it?"

"I didn't watch much of it. But he's holding her down, his hands on her hands to keep her in place so to speak." Karsyn rubbed a hand over his face.

"Nothing you haven't done to me. That is just normal mating with wolves."

He half smiled "Mm."

"I've got a plan. I'll put it in motion while they are locked in that suite. I'm going to lay out cameras around the packhouse so I can get you the proof that she is not only Marked and Mated, but happy to be so. That she is unharmed and healthy. This should convince your father, I or my pack are not at fault."

"Alright, video would be better than stills. Only problem I see is that you've denied she's in your pack, and then there will be evidence she is there. So, he'll see it as you lied." He huffed and just knew that his father would.

"Well, up until just the other day I had no idea. I knew when you knew."

"I know. But he's so set on her being there in the Wintering Moon Pack. Any reason will do at this point, for him to start a new war with your pack." He sighed heavily, he didn't like it, but it was true.

"I guess then, that it's up to you to stop it. Perhaps tell him you knew, saw my shocked reaction to her picture that as far as I'm concerned, she's happy."

"He'll think it's a lie Raygan. You have no idea how much he hates you and your pack."

"I don't really care, Karsyn. The man is in the wrong. If he attacks me again, I will unleash the full force of my warriors upon him. At him specifically."

He was quiet for a long time, his own Mate had just verbally threatened his father, and was letting him know that if push came to shove. She would do what was expected of her, as the Wintering Moon Pack's, War General, regardless of who he was or who his father was. He sighed heavily; things were starting to get out of control.

"Get the evidence, Raygan, as quickly as you can, so I can put it in front of my father. I think Renee will believe it. If I can sway her, perhaps she can sway my father." There wasn't much else he could say. He could expect no less of her. Her words matched her reputation as well.

"I will, but it's going to have to wait until they come out of that room." She clicked the line closed.

He sighed and looked at his unit. They were all staring at him. He knew they'd heard his conversation with Raygan. The threat she'd just issued. "Anything?" he asked, ignoring the concerned looks he was getting.

"Um yeah. You might want to see this." Rick nodded.

He walked over and there on the screen, where Rick had paused the video, was a picture of Demi's Mark spot, her hair was out of the way and there was silver filigree on her neck. It clearly showed the girl was Marked and Mated. Just like Raygan had said she was.

"Is it brutal or just mating?" he asked.

"Without sound, it looks no different to simple mating. With sound?" Rick shrugged.

"Don't worry too much about listening to it. Raygan stated she's in heat, so likely it will be all rough and raw anyway."

They all nodded to him. "Hopefully in a week we'll have proof there is nothing bad going on. I've just got to hold father off for that long."

"How are we going to do that?"

"I'm hoping I can sway Raygan into letting me lay eyes on Danny. It was something Renee stated she would request. If I can get that to happen, perhaps some shred of trust can be built between them."

"I'm sure you can find a way to sway the woman." Rick smirked at him.

"hmm, might not get what I want on that, just yet." But he smiled none the less, though Raygan had pretty much got up and walked off afterwards. He'd have been happy to go again, and she knew it. She had stopped him from starting something.

He sighed softly as he sank down on the chair with the boys, looked at his phone as it chimed. It was a picture of who could only be Zac and Demi. They were both not just smiling up at the camera, all happy together, but were laughing and looked genuinely happy.

Zac had Demi on his lap, and she was all leaned back against him, he had one arm around her, and it was Demi holding the camera to take the picture. They looked very much like a couple in love, and under that photo were the words. The future Alpha and Luna of the Wintering Moon Pack, it appeared to be a screen shot of something she'd received from her own brother. The date and time were right there. She added the words under it "Here's your bloody proof."

He huffed at the tone of the message under it, she was ticked off and he knew it, showed that photo to Rick and the boys. They all frowned at it and Harvey muttered "So, just what the hell is going on?"

"Raygan and I are still working on the reason behind all Demi's texts to father. It's clear she and Zac are happy, yes?" He pointed out both Zac and Demi's silver filigree in the photo that he'd just received. "She's been there the whole time apparently. Was there when Raygan got home from Germany even."

He saw both Harvey and Mario stare at him now, "We should probably go to my suite, and Rick and I will fill you in on everything we think is going on." He stood up and they all stood as well, followed him out the room and down to his suite. So, they could talk without anyone overhearing them.

He did not think his father would believe that Demi was out to hurt or harm their pack. So, there was no point in telling him what he or Raygan thought of the matter. His father would just blow up and state Raygan was lying. That it was Zac that was forcing Demi and want to rage a war to get her back once more. Seemed no matter what he did, his father was going to wage war. He needed to know what was going on to lay it all out. Have the evidence to back it all up or his father would just spin it to his own liking. That Demi was innocent and being forced to be there. That the Wintering Moon was to blame.
