CH 56

Karsyn POV

He was looking at Raygan, could actually see that she had concern now, and not just for him, but for his own father. Wondered how she could do that, with all that was going on? Or was it just that she had concerns that his father had gotten himself bit by a rabid wolf and not told anyone? And now there was a concern of it being spread to her pack.

He wasn't ready to leave her and return to his pack, but it was late. He found his clothes and phone, saw it was nearly midnight, smiled at that. He had been out here with her in the woods for nearly 8 hours and they had just been mating each other, even Avalon and Crush had mated each other a few times.

Crush, though he was completely settled inside Karsyn's mind, now that he was Marked and Mated by her beast, he was unhappy to have to leave his Mate and return to their pack. Karsyn realised he had no car to use as Rick had taken Danny back, removed that boy from what had been about to go down. Looked at Raygan and sighed, they'd left her car running on the side of the road. It was still just sitting idling, at least no one had come along and stolen it.

But then it wasn't really on a well-used road, this road pretty much just went past each of their pack's driveways and allowed their two packs to move in and around the human world with ease. There wasn't much risk of a human coming along and stealing it, he supposed.

Raygan drove him back to his pack and when he went to lean across the car to kiss her before getting out, she put a hand on him and pushed him away, looked pointedly at his gate guard and then back to him.

He smiled right at her, "What? and you don't think he's not going to smell you on me?" pushed her hand out of the way and leaned over to kiss her, uncaring of who saw him do it.

It was all coming out the moment he came across his father. There was no way that man wasn't going to see his Mark, or realise he'd been Marked, he would be able to scent another on him always. He also wasn't about to go and hide it from anyone.

His father might not know it was Raygan, but he'd know his son was Marked and Mated the moment they came within 10 feet of each other. So likely at training in the morning was when that man was going to find out.

He got out of the car, leaned down and looked at her. "Organise that dinner with your father. I'll see who's coming on my end, at least my unit, and my grandmother." he smiled right at her. His grandmother would be very happy about the turn of events.

She'd sighed at him, "Message me." she nodded "strip your father naked and check every inch of that man."

He just nodded and closed the door. Stood and watched her throw a U-turn and drive away from him. Sighed heavily, and then walked in through the now open gate, the guards having recognised him. He walked through the pack gate and felt Rick connect to him nearly the instant he set foot back inside the pack.

'Well, Alpha, are you Marked and Mated?'

Karsyn chuckled right down the link, 'You waited up all night just to find out?'

'Yes.' his Beta laughed at him. 'So are you? It certainly looked like you were about to Mark and Mate Raygan, and she knew it.'

'Mmm, she did.' he confirmed.

'Kar?'

'Go to bed, Rick.'

'Oh, we're going to play it like that, are we? Well, I ain't the only one up. Should I let Luna Mika know you're home?'

Karsyn shook his head, 'Yes, I Marked and Mated her. Happy now.'

Heard Rick laugh, 'What made you? What was it that set you and Crush off?'

'A pup.' he smiled at the thought of her having his pup.

There was dead silence down that link now, then ten seconds later Rick burst out, 'Are you kidding me?'

'No. Happened in Germany, she found out two days after scenting me out.'

'Well now...you don't take long, do you?'

Karsyn chuckled, 'Guess not. Or the Goddess saw fit to gift her a child real damned quick for making her wait so long.'

'Hmm, wonder if she'll do that with all of us?' Rick chuckled, 'Found your mate, got a pup and are Marked and Mated in a matter of weeks. Lucky bastard.'

Karsyn smiled, he did feel lucky right this minute, but also annoyed that they were not going to be sleeping in the same bed for who knew how long. 'How's father?'

'He's alright, annoyed you didn't return Danny yourself, I had to make up some crap about you and Raygan going off to try and get that evidence on Demi, together.'

'Alright, go to bed.' he said and cut the link. He was going to bed, it was late, and he was actually tired. If Raygan hadn't started that conversation, he'd likely have just slept out in the woods with her, all night long.

He strolled up onto the Alpha floor and found his entire unit leaning on the wall by his suite, shook his head at them all, grinning away like stupid idiots, "Go to bed."

"So, when do we get the official introduction?" it was Harvey.

"When dinner is organised. I told her to organise it in her pack, it can't very well be here, now can it?"

"Your father is going to go ballistic, you know that right."

"Mm, he's going to have to deal with it." Karsyn sighed to himself. It was likely, after the conversation yesterday about his father hating Raygan. He knew that his father was going to be really bloody ticked off. But he was not giving up his Gorgeous for anyone. Not even his own father, and especially not when the man was being so damned foolish about things.

"Where is the man?" he asked.

"In his suite with Renee, I imagine." Rick stated, "Why?"

His eyes moved to Harvey, "Did you speak with Renee or your own father even?"

He nodded, "Renee just stared at me, and my father stated point blankly, Steffen would not hide something like that, knows first-hand how dangerous it would be for the entire pack. Including for you and Danny."

"That doesn't mean he won't hide it for as long as possible." Karsyn sighed, "we're going to have to search him."

"He is not going to let us do that, Kar." Rick sighed.

"It has to be done." Karsyn huffed, and thought about the best way to approach it for a long time. Back in the kingdom, they would tranquilise the one they needed to strip and check, find the bite, then put them down if they found one. They'd not feel a thing at all, quick, clean and painless for the poor bastard.

He couldn't leave it much longer, his father's paranoia was getting out of control, "Go get me a tranquiliser gun." he muttered, "let's just get it over with."

They were all staring at him now, didn't look like they were too keen on sedating the current Alpha. He sighed heavily, "Look at the man himself, he is easily agitated, is completely paranoid where Raygan and the Wintering Moon Pack are concerned, is easy to anger and constantly irritable. That was what my mother was like after she got bit by that rabid wolf. We need to check him over. He's out of his mind."

Still, they were staring at him, only Harvey seemed to understand, "Look, even after Renee completed the Alpha Oath with Alpha Grant, I had to stop him from stating he was going to start a war if even one hair on Danny's head was harmed. Harvey was right there, the man couldn't help himself, still knowing what would happen to his own Mate and Luna if he started a war."

Both Rick and Mario looked at Harvey and he just nodded, "That Alpha Oath didn't seem to have an effect on the man's attitude. I think Karsyn is right. Something is really wrong with Steffen. We need to check for a bite."

"And if no bite?" Rick huffed.

"To the pack hospital for tests, something is wrong with him, he's not usually like this. The five months we were home he was fine, then we go away for a month, and come back to find out he'd started a war, with no real evidence, and regardless of the fact that Raygan is not to blame, he is constantly blaming her, he's completely irrational where she is concerned almost, or is, bordering on paranoid about the woman and her motives."

"Maybe someone did something to him," Rick offered up.

"It could well be," Karsyn nodded, "but we won't know until we get him checked out."

"Then perhaps we ask him in the morning to go to the pack hospital for tests, do this the calm way before sedating the man." Rick offered.

"Fine, but if he's bit, and he bites someone else. He'll infect them, you know that."

They were all quiet now, just thinking about the ramifications of that. It could be anyone in the pack, even one of them or their family members. He stood waiting on them, seems they didn't exactly know what to do.

"Fine, I want him checked right after training. Even if the four of us have to pin that man down and search him ourselves, there will be no arguing with me about it, if he won't strip and show us his body."

They all agreed to this, and he finally got to retire to his room for the night, looked at the clock and sighed. He was barely going to get any sleep yet again. Showered and dropped onto his bed butt ass naked, didn't need clothes. Karsyn felt Crush huff a little at them sleeping alone, wanting his Mate in the bed with them.

So did Karsyn, for that matter. He wondered if he'd be able to get her to let him sleep over. Hell he could just up and move his stuff there, smiled into his pillow as he wondered just what she would do if he drove himself over to her pack and took a bag with him.

Stated right to her, 'I'm your Mate and we'll be sharing a bed from now on,' chuckled softly at Crush's reply to his thought 'She'll likely punch you one.'

It didn't really concern him to be honest, they were going to be together at some point, and with him suddenly there in the Wintering Moon Pack, that surely would stuff up Demi and Zac's plans. Wondered if he could move in there without either one of them knowing he was living there.

If she was in heat, it was highly possible he could move into Raygan's room, and they'd not know about it until it was too late. He might be able to get footage himself of those two all loved up when she came out of that room with Zac. Now, that would be interesting, him leaning on a wall watching them and they not knowing about it until it was too late.

He wondered if Alpha Grant could be swayed into not telling his son about he and Raygan, or that he was in that pack. Sighed, didn't think Raygan would want her father knowing. Wanted to sort this out herself before presenting the evidence to him. But they might just have to bring in her dad on this one, whether she liked it or not. The man seemed more than reasonable, and Kar was willing to bet that he would want answers himself.
