

My Woman 681

Chapter 681 (Life Must Go On)

'This deity has always lived according to my own will, rarely considering them. It's time to look at things from their perspective.'

Sure enough, upon hearing Ye Hua's promise, Qing Ya and Donghuang Baizhi were overjoyed. Once Ye Hua said it, he could hardly escape. After all, Ye Hua is the Supreme Overlord, he wouldn't lie.

"Let's go shopping, it's been a while since we bought clothes and bags," Qing Ya couldn't wait any longer and wanted to go on a shopping spree.

Donghuang Baizhi chimed in, "I heard there are many new arrivals. Qing Ya, we need to catch up with the times."

Ye Hua was still unaware of their intentions and was blaming himself.

"Let's go then, bring the little ones," Ye Hua stood up and extinguished his cigarette.

The two kids were ecstatic at the thought of going out to play. They quickly changed their clothes and then pulled their mother, who was still putting on makeup, urging her to hurry up.

Qing Ya and Donghuang Baizhi hadn't been out for a long time either. It's in a woman's nature to look beautiful, so they needed to touch up their makeup.

Although they didn't really need to do so.

But now that Donghuang Baizhi had become a public figure, Ye Hua didn't want to cause any trouble. So, she slightly changed her appearance to look like Qing Yutong... This made Donghuang Baizhi feel a bit frustrated. She couldn't even go shopping with her husband using her original appearance.

In fact, Ye Hua had a bit of selfishness. If everyone knew that he was the husband of the Empress, who would dare to provoke him...

'Now that Qing Tiandi had already been defeated, the only one who dared to play mind games with this deity was gone. What a pity...'

It's hard to find someone like him... It had never happened before.

After changing into regular clothes, the family finally went out to Dragon Peace City's large shopping mall for a stroll!

One hour later...

Ye Hua sat in an ice cream shop with the two kids, Donghuang Li and Ye Yan, drinking fruit juice. Ye Hua held an ice cream cone in his hand and occasionally took a lick.

'Shopping with women was simply no different from suicide. This deity actually agreed to such a thing again.'

It seemed that he couldn't let his emotions get the better of him...

'This deity was too impulsive.'

"Daddy, it's so boring..." Donghuang Li held a large cup of fruit juice in her hands and said.

Ye Yan sighed, "I really don't understand why Mommy likes shopping so much. My legs are about to break..."

Ye Hua let out a soft sigh, "Your mommy loves shopping the most. She won't come out until several hours have passed."

"Daddy, let's go somewhere else to play," Donghuang Li jumped down from her seat and pulled her father's clothes.

Ye Hua thought her daughter's suggestion was good, "Where do you want to go?"

"Just not here..." Ye Yan whispered, indicating that he really didn't want to stay in the mall anymore... He would never come here again in the future.

Ye Hua agreed with his son's opinion, "Alright, let's go. Daddy will take you out to play."

"Yay!"

"Okay!"

Ye Hua carried one child in each arm, feeling like a good father, and walked out of the ice cream shop.

"Quick, check if Mommy is still there," Ye Hua said in a deep voice, as if something big was happening.

Donghuang Li and Ye Yan instantly became serious, carefully observing the 'enemy' around them.

"Daddy, Mommy isn't here, we can escape..." Donghuang Li whispered.

Ye Hua's gaze sharpened, "Good! Ye Yan, keep an eye on nine o'clock, Ah Li, watch six o'clock, and report immediately if you spot any 'enemy'!"

"Yes!"

"Yes!"

The two kids received their orders and excitedly followed their father, sneaking away.

Meanwhile, Qing Ya and Donghuang Baizhi stood upstairs, watching their husband sneak away with the two kids, their faces darkening. But they also found it amusing. Ye Hua had this side to him.

"He said he would accompany us, but it's only been an hour, and he couldn't hold on," Donghuang Baizhi pouted, finding him to be a big liar who doesn't keep his word.

Qing Ya sighed, "An hour is already quite long. In the past, he would want to leave after just ten minutes."

"Forget it, let's go shopping on our own. Fortunately, I have you, Qing Ya. If I were alone, I would be bored to death."

"Haha, I feel the same way."

The two women held hands, becoming more and more harmonious. This was also the situation that Ye Hua hoped to see.

Carrying the children, Ye Hua successfully escaped.

"Daddy, that was so much fun. We escaped," Ye Yan clapped his small hands and exclaimed. 'If Mommy had caught us just now, we would have definitely been scolded.'

Donghuang Li couldn't stop smiling, "Daddy, can we play like this more often?"

Ye Hua nodded. He had spent most of his time teaching them cultivation techniques, but had rarely interacted with them. Today, he had a sudden inspiration and had some fun with the kids.

'This deity's actions must definitely not be seen by others. If they were seen, this deity would definitely have to kill to keep it a secret.'

Carrying the two little ones, Ye Hua stood on the bustling street. The people passing by looked different than before.

Nowadays, people's physique has improved, and their complexion looks much better. Many people have symbols of power on their chests, like stars or moons.

Now, when it comes to matchmaking, people look at these symbols. Having a car or a house doesn't matter as long as you have a few stars.

This is a world where the strong are respected. Even rich people are no match for a single star.

This has given some young people hope. They have achieved the level of cultivators through their own efforts, bringing glory to their ancestors.

Ye Hua is very satisfied with this kind of world. It should be like this. Everyone has the right to pursue what they want. 'This deity can grant you that, but don't make the wrong choice. Once you make a deadly choice, no one can save you!'

A person wearing a bear head mask is handing out flyers. Donghuang Li curiously took one.

"Sister, what's on it?" Ye Yan asked curiously.

"Um... it's a flyer for the Challenger Tournament at the Dragon Peace City Sports Arena," Donghuang Li placed the flyer in front of her father.

Ye Hua originally didn't want to look at these boring things. It would be better to watch a movie instead. Hasn't the new Venom movie been released recently? It's said to be very cool.

But when he saw the hopeful little eyes of his children, Ye Hua couldn't bear to refuse.

"Let's go and take a look..." Ye Hua nodded.

Donghuang Li and Ye Yan were ecstatic. They hugged their father and showered him with kisses, leaving saliva all over Ye Hua's cheeks.

How could Ye Hua dislike his own children? In the eyes of others, the relationship between this father and his children is really good.

Carrying the two kids, Ye Hua walked towards the nearby sports arena. As they approached, they could hear deafening roars coming from inside.

This reminded Ye Hua of a scene on Canglie Star, where people also enjoyed watching such duels. It seems that humans have a penchant for this kind of spectacle.

In the past, the ancient Romans had slaves fighting, and now it's not much different. Even the interstellar civilization of Canglie Star is the same.

Chapter 682 (The Supreme Overlord Drools)

Carrying his two children, Ye Hua bought tickets and, at his son's strong request, also bought popcorn, cola, and foam fingers.

Entering the interior of the stadium, the thunderous cheers echoed in his ears. The two little ones were excited. They jumped out of their father's embrace and looked at the interior of the stadium. A marble-made arena stood before them, and two warriors were engaged in a battle. People waved their tickets and cheered for their chosen fighters.

Ye Hua called out lightly, "Don't wander around, stay close to me."

Although the two children were excited, they didn't ignore their father's words. They obediently followed behind him and found their seats.

Ye Hua sat down slowly, with Donghuang Li and Ye Yan sitting beside him, sipping cola while watching the live fight.

On the arena were two young men with their strength levels marked on their chests, both possessing a single star, belonging to the ranks of novice cultivators.

Such a battle of strength was nothing special for the two children, but the atmosphere at the scene was quite enjoyable. The two little ones were filled with excitement and began cheering for their favorite fighters.

Ye Hua took out a cigarette and lit it. This kind of fight had become boring to him, but the atmosphere was quite good. It was much more interesting than accompanying his wife for shopping.

"Sister, who do you think will win?" Ye Yan asked curiously while sipping his iced cola.

Donghuang Li pursed her lips and replied, "It doesn't matter who wins. As long as we're happy."

"Yeah, sister is right," Ye Yan agreed. As long as he was happy, it didn't matter who won or lost.

Ye Hua heard their conversation but didn't say anything.

'Being able to bring joy to the children of this deity was already a great honor for all of you. However, if you want to bring joy to this deity, you'll need to use your brains.

As the match continued, one of the men was knocked off the arena with a punch.

The audience erupted into cheers, but there were also some sighs of disappointment as they tore up their tickets.

Seeing this situation, Ye Hua shook his head helplessly and looked at his sleeping children. They had been clamoring to come and watch, but now they were bored enough to fall asleep.

Seeing Ye Yan snuggling up to Donghuang Li and falling asleep, his adorable expression brought a smile to Ye Hua's face.

He didn't wake the children up and let them sleep.

The second match quickly began.

"Ladies and gentlemen, next is a battle between two Moon-level powerhouses. It will surely provide a visual feast for everyone. Let the contestants enter the arena!"

Upon hearing the announcer's words, Ye Hua felt bored. What kind of visual feast could Moon-level powerhouses provide? It felt like he had grown accustomed to a more thrilling and stimulating life, and now everything seemed bland.

Should he leave early?

But when he thought about the child in his wife's belly, Ye Hua felt that he should stay for now. Ye Yan was still young, so it would be beneficial for him to learn here.

Resting his chin on his right hand, Ye Hua's gaze focused on the arena. The two fighters on it were exchanging blows, displaying a significant amount of spiritual energy.

The spectators watched with great interest, some even showing admiration. Moon-level powerhouses were truly amazing!

Ye Hua's eyelids felt heavy. Ash from his cigarette fell on his clothes, and the ember at the corner of his mouth gradually extinguished.

Father and his two children fell asleep in such an environment. It was simply unbelievable.

It's unknown how much time had passed, but Qing Ya and Donghuang Baizhi walked out of the mall carrying big and small bags.

They looked at other people's boyfriends, who were carrying bags in their hands, and then looked at their own situation.

Truly envious...

Qing Ya helplessly smiled and said, "I used to fantasize about having a boyfriend who would help me carry bags, but now it seems impossible in this lifetime."

"Haha, Qing Ya, you have such terrifying thoughts. Unless the sun rises from the west, Ye Hua will help us carry bags," Donghuang Baizhi teased. It's already good enough that he accompanies you on outings with his male chauvinism.

Qing Ya smiled sweetly and said slowly, "As a girl, of course, I hope to be cherished by a man. Baizhi, haven't you ever fantasized about it?"

"Alright, I dare not fantasize anymore."

"....."

"It's getting late, we should go back and cook," Qing Ya glanced at her watch. It was already 5 p.m., and they had unknowingly spent three hours shopping.

Donghuang Baizhi nodded, "Let's go find them first and see what Ye Hua is doing with the children."

"Okay."

Sensing Ye Hua's presence, Qing Ya quickly found his location. It wasn't too far away.

The two women bought tickets and entered the stadium. The battles were still intense, without any signs of stopping.

"Ye Hua actually brought the children to watch this..." Qing Ya said angrily. How could he let Ye Yan, who was so young, watch this kind of thing?

Donghuang Baizhi had become more understanding. "It's okay to watch. This is just a normal fight, no one gets hurt, and they can learn from it."

"Baizhi, you've changed. You used to be on my side," Qing Ya couldn't help pinching the Empress's arm.

Donghuang Baizhi whispered, "Be careful, or I and Ye Hua will team up to bully you."

"Hmph~ We'll see," Qing Ya retorted mercilessly, causing the Empress to giggle.

The men present were all focused on the matches and didn't notice the conversation. These two women were more attractive than the men in the arena.

Hand in hand, the two women found their husband...

However, when they saw the appearance of their husband and children... they were stunned as if struck by lightning.

They saw Ye Hua slouched on his seat, completely lacking any image, and the two little ones were already lying on top of their father, who knows when.

The crucial point was that drool was flowing from the corner of Ye Hua's mouth...

This was what shocked Qing Ya and Donghuang Baizhi the most!

How could they let go of such an embarrassing situation? They immediately took out their phones and vigorously snapped pictures of their husband.

"Now we've got you! You said we drool in our sleep at night, but look at yourself, you're no different! And this sitting posture, where's the supreme elegance? You're just like..." Qing Ya and Donghuang Baizhi couldn't find the right words, but it's like an uncle!

Looking at the photo of Ye Hua, Qing Ya and Donghuang Baizhi couldn't help but burst into laughter.

Ye Hua listened to the familiar laughter, slowly opened his eyes, instinctively wiped the corner of his mouth, and his face twitched...

His entire face turned black, and then he looked at the sweet laughter of his wives, feeling completely embarrassed!

Qing Ya and Donghuang Baizhi raised their phones and said, "Ye Hua, now you can't escape anymore, the drooling Supreme Overlord, hahaha!"

"Delete it!" Ye Hua said in a deep voice. This had escalated quickly, to the point where even they dared to tease him.

Chapter 683 (Divine Dragon Pulls the Coffin)

Qing Ya and Donghuang Baizhi stuck out their tongues playfully, looking mischievous.

"We're not deleting it."

"Yeah, exactly! We finally captured this moment."

Ye Hua glared fiercely at his wives, as if to say, "If you don't delete it now, I'll lose my temper."

"What are you glaring at? You didn't accompany us shopping, and now you're throwing a tantrum. I'm going to share it in the group chat." Qing Ya snorted and immediately shared the photo in the group.

Donghuang Baizhi didn't want to be outdone and even shared a video in the group.

"You guys!!!" Ye Hua was shocked. These two women must be itching for trouble to dare share his embarrassing moments in the group!

Ye Hua immediately took out his phone, opened WeChat, and indeed saw a photo of himself drooling in the group chat. The Empress even added to the spectacle...

Lie Gu: "Oh my, is this our boss??? My worldview is shattered!!! (Funny)"

Zi Shan: "Ah ah ah! The image of my idol is completely ruined. (Pitiful)"

Brittany: "Hello, Your Highness~ (Puckering lips)"

Wei Chang: "Your Highness remains down-to-earth as always. (Happy)"

Xun Fang: "Your Highness is so adorable~ (Picking nose)"

Ye Zizi: "Oh my god!!! What did I just see!!! That drool..."

Dongfang Yuer: "Madam knows how to have fun. (Covering mouth)"

Yi Hong: "Your Highness, everyone is making fun of you, but I'll refrain from joining... (Funny)"

Qing Yutong: "Brother-in-law, you... your image is completely destroyed. (Crying)"

Death Mage: "Jejejeje..."

Qing Ya and Donghuang Baizhi were already laughing so hard that their stomachs hurt. That's how the WeChat group was—there were no hierarchies, and everyone could freely make fun of each other, just as Ye Hua had said before.

While Ye Hua watched his subordinates joking around, his anger reached its peak, and the chat was flooded with comments.

He immediately sent an angry emoji, but it didn't work. The teasing became even more intense.

Ye Hua was so infuriated that he almost left the group. He would have to teach them a lesson in the future. He put away his phone and turned his gaze to his wives.

Qing Ya and Donghuang Baizhi continued to amuse their husband, giving them a kiss each, which made Ye Hua feel slightly better.

His wives lips were truly fragrant.

The sleeping little ones were also awakened by the commotion.

"Mama~"

"Mama~"

Qing Ya and Donghuang Baizhi hugged the children in their arms and each gave them a kiss, making the two little ones extremely happy.

"Mama, Yan'er is hungry." Ye Yan pouted, looking as if he would starve to death.

"Alright, Mama will cook for Yan'er."

"Yeah, Mama is so good. Yan'er loves Mama the most." Ye Yan snuggled in his mother's arms, showering her with affection. Qing Ya was delighted; it seemed like she had won over her son's stomach.

Donghuang Baizhi whispered, "Ye Hua, let's go back."

Ye Hua stood up, brushed off the ash from his clothes, and said boredly, "Let's go back."

The family of five walked down the aisle, with Ye Hua yawning and appearing as if he hadn't fully woken up.

However, just as the family was about to leave, a dragon's roar suddenly resounded through the sky!

This dragon's roar stunned everyone, including Ye Hua, who stopped in his tracks and slowly turned to look at the sky!

"What is this???" Qing Ya furrowed her eyebrows, puzzled by the extraordinary dragon's roar.

"Something is about to happen!" Donghuang Baizhi said solemnly, her face showing deep concern. Although it was just a dragon's roar, it could be felt.

'It's powerful!!!'

Although Ye Hua was momentarily stunned, he quickly regained his senses. His heart started to fill with excitement and unexpected joy!

Today, the original Ye Hua was feeling down, but this dragon's roar brought him great pleasure! This was the feeling he desired!

Just with this dragon's roar!

This was the most powerful encounter Ye Hua had ever experienced here. He couldn't wait to see what kind of surprise it would bring him!

Donghuang Li and Ye Yan also looked at the horizon. The sky gradually turned red, like a sunset, but it turned into a fiery red color.

This sudden change caused the two cultivators in the arena to stop and look up at the sky!

All the spectators stood up and looked at this unusual phenomenon!

Even some people were whispering to each other.

"I think I just heard the roar of a dragon. Is it an illusion?"

"I heard it too, so it's not an illusion."

"Why did the sky turn like this? It feels like the end of the world."

"Could it be that something is about to appear?"

"Could it be another demon lord? Oh my God... How could this happen?"

Ye Hua took out a cigarette and leaned against the side, a curious expression on his face.

Qing Ya and Donghuang Baizhi, seeing their husband's expression, knew exactly what Ye Hua was thinking. This was an enemy tailor-made for Ye Hua.

Just this morning, Qing Tiandi had died, and now someone immediately took his place in the afternoon.

It felt like the enemies were coming one after another.

Roar!!!

Another dragon's roar resounded, making everyone's scalp tingle. Unlike before, this roar was much closer! It felt like it was right next to their ears!

"It's here," Ye Hua said calmly.

In the red sky, a figure appeared in everyone's field of vision—a red dragon hovering in the sky, displaying its power and majestic body to the world!

"It's really a dragon! Holy shit! I actually saw a dragon in my lifetime!"

"This is not special effects, it's a real dragon! Dragons really exist in this world!"

"So unexpected, so unexpected! Dragon... I'm going to make a wish."

Ye Hua's gaze was not focused on the dragon, but on another object.

Underneath the crimson claws, it seemed like something was hanging.

Qing Ya and Donghuang Baizhi both noticed it, and compared to the divine dragon, that dark object was even more concerning.

As the divine dragon approached, some people could see it clearly!

"This... This is the Divine Dragon Pulls the Coffin!" [The phrase divine dragon pulls the coffin refers to a situation where an immensely powerful and influential figure, symbolized by the divine dragon, intervenes or takes action in a matter or event that is seemingly insignificant or beneath their status, represented by the coffin.]

"And such a thing exists, it seems only the Upper Realm can have it."

"Yes, I've seen it before. Others have nine Dragons Pull the Coffin, which is even more impressive than this."

Qing Ya and Donghuang Baizhi were puzzled and had no idea what it was.

"Ye Hua, what is this?" Donghuang Baizhi curiously asked.

Ye Hua's voice was heavy as he said, "Inside that coffin is a very powerful creature!"

Hearing her husband's words, Qing Ya and Donghuang Baizhi felt a little gloomy because Ye Hua said the other party was powerful.

If possible, the two women would have preferred to hear their husband say that the person inside was powerful but just trash. However, Ye Hua didn't say that.

It was just the original Ye Hua who didn't say it. Looking at their worried expressions, it was truly speechless...

The divine dragon flew into the air, and the coffin under its claw fell with a thunderous crash. Another burst of dragon's roar erupted, and then it flew towards the sky, as if it had never appeared before. The sky returned to its original color.

And the coffin unexpectedly fell in the center of the arena, deeply embedded in the marble.

The two contestants looked at the coffin in the middle with puzzled expressions. The entire coffin was not lying flat, but standing upright.

Chapter 684 (The Figure in the Painting)

Everyone's gaze turned towards the coffin, their expressions filled with curiosity, including Ye Hua.

Is there a person or a monster inside that coffin?

The two people in the arena looked at each other with confusion and mustered the courage to approach the coffin.

This action made everyone hold their breath. What would happen?

The coffin was engraved with strange patterns, and the two of them curiously examined it. It seemed like a peculiar painting, depicting six people holding weapons and facing a large army.

Ye Hua took a drag of his cigarette and casually said, "If I'm not mistaken, this coffin should be a kind of seal."

"A seal?" Donghuang Baizhi questioned with doubt.

"Yes, but the seal seems to have been broken now," Ye Hua chuckled softly. From the extent of the seal's damage, it was powerful!

Qing Ya was very curious. "What does the dragon from earlier mean?"

"Let's make a hypothesis. The dragon might be a guardian species that discovered the seal was broken and..." Ye Hua's words weren't finished as he wanted to hear what his wives thought.

However, Qing Ya and Donghuang Baizhi didn't say anything. It was Donghuang Li who spoke up, "Then it left this threat here and ran away..."

"Haha, my clever Ah Li," Ye Hua touched his daughter's cheek. It was just a speculation, and the actual facts were unknown.

Ye Hua laughed, but Qing Ya and Donghuang Baizhi didn't.

"Even the divine dragon couldn't contend with it and left behind such a dangerous thing," Donghuang Baizhi murmured.

Ye Hua flicked the cigarette ash. "Let's take a look first and see who is inside!"

The two women nodded and continued to focus their gaze on the arena.

The two people in the arena finished examining the coffin and attempted to touch it with their hands.

But before their hands could touch the coffin, a strange aura emanated from it. Their expressions changed, their bodies began to convulse violently, and their life force was being drained away, merging into the coffin.

In less than a few seconds, the two people fell down like empty shells.

Ye Hua felt that this move resembled Ye Zizi's technique of extracting blood essence.

However, this was the extraction of life force, and the difference between the two was not significant, but rather similar.

Seeing the instant death of the two people in the arena, the tens of thousands of people present were stunned, forgetting to even escape.

A golden barrier instantly enveloped the arena, and the voice of the host was heard, "Everyone, please remain calm. The barrier has been activated, and relevant personnel are rushing here!"

The words had just been spoken!

The coffin lid slammed shut with a heavy thud. The deafening sound indicated that its weight was extraordinary, so heavy that even the marble shattered!

Ye Hua stared intently at the coffin in the darkness. Who would come out of it?

Qing Ya and Donghuang Baizhi became nervous. Donghuang Li and Ye Yan, on the other hand, were quite excited, just like their father.

A strange painting floated in the coffin...

This phenomenon left everyone in a daze, even Ye Hua felt surprised. 'A painting?'

Moreover, it was a landscape painting, but in the bottom right corner of the painting, there was a person sitting and fishing...

This was not particularly strange. What was strange was that the person sitting and fishing seemed to be moving!

"This painting! Could it also be another seal?" Qing Ya asked in a deep voice.

All eyes turned to the coffin, curiosity evident in everyone's expressions, including Ye Hua.

Is there a person or a monster inside that coffin?

Donghuang Baizhi nodded, "That should be the case. This painting is likely a powerful sealing treasure, and so is the coffin. It's a double seal!"

"Who could it be? To endure such a seal, and now... the seals are gone..." Qing Ya muttered, feeling that this enemy was different from the ones they had faced before.

A slight smile appeared at the corner of Ye Hua's mouth, but he immediately composed himself, showing a serious expression. "It seems... this enemy is very powerful!"

Upon hearing her husband's tone, Qing Ya and Donghuang Baizhi instantly lost confidence. They had witnessed Ye Hua's immense strength, like a god among gods. Now he was giving such an evaluation...

"Ye Hua, don't tease us like that. It was our mistake earlier, you're scaring me," Qing Ya forced a smile, speaking softly, hoping her husband would retract his previous words and appear more relaxed, as if facing an insignificant matter.

Ye Hua chuckled inwardly, but he didn't show it on his face. He spoke in a solemn tone, "I also have no certainty about this opponent. Although the seals have dissipated, you should still feel the lingering power. Being able to break the seals during their existence, this opponent is very powerful."

Donghuang Baizhi's face fell, "Ye Hua, what should we do? Let's hurry back to the Voidless Realm."

Donghuang Baizhi only wanted to protect her family, as the Voidless Realm had protective barriers outside, providing more safety.

However, Ye Hua ruthlessly struck them down, "The barriers of the Voidless Realm won't hold."

Qing Ya and Donghuang Baizhi instantly became anxious. They looked at their husband's stern expression, as if he wasn't joking. What should they do... what should they do...

"Ye Hua, let's move to the Canglie Star," Qing Ya suggested directly. If they couldn't win, then it was best not to take risks.

Upon hearing this, Ye Hua's mouth twitched slightly. They were already thinking of running away so quickly. They were indeed eager.

"Why the rush? The outcome is still uncertain. Let's see how powerful this person is first," Ye Hua had no intention of going to the Canglie Star. Running away when the enemy arrived? That's not how things should be.

"Daddy, I want to go beat up the bad guy," Donghuang Li raised her fist.

"Ah Li, don't be naughty," Donghuang Baizhi sternly scolded.

Donghuang Li pursed her lips, hoping to grow up quickly so that she could join the fight and assist her father.

The painting that drifted out of the coffin appeared before the eyes of tens of thousands of people. Though they didn't know its meaning, it looked mysterious and awe-inspiring.

Suddenly, the person fishing in the painting stood up, put down his fishing rod, and turned his head to look outside the painting!

With just that gentle glance, everyone felt their breath halt. It was terrifying!

A single gaze held such immense power!

Ye Hua was somewhat surprised by the opponent's strength. 'Indeed, they were formidable!'

Qing Ya and Donghuang Baizhi had been observing their husband's expression all along, and their hearts felt heavy.

Their minds couldn't help but recall Wang Dabao and his wife. They had met with tragedy because they encountered someone as powerful as themselves.

If they and Ye Hua also encountered someone powerful, did that mean... they would follow in Wang Dabao's footsteps?

Women, they easily overthink things. They were already thinking about the future before anything had happened. It was scaring themselves.

The man in the painting smiled and took out a folding fan, gently waving it!

The scenery in the painting vanished, turning into an ordinary piece of white paper, devoid of anything...

Pff!

A flame erupted, instantly engulfing the painting, reducing it to ashes...

As the painting disappeared, a figure gradually appeared on the scene. It was exactly like the man in the painting, holding an ordinary folding fan, gently swaying it.

Chapter 685 (Nanwu Banner)

The man had a tall figure with slender eyebrows and sharp eyes. A strand of silver hair slid along the temples and rested on his chest, giving him a sense of unruliness. Coupled with the ordinary folding fan in his hand, he appeared like a charming and elegant scholar from ancient times.

Especially with his exquisite facial features and the curve of his lips, he was simply a heartthrob for young girls.

It seemed that many women present were enchanted by his charm, their eyes sparkling with admiration. He exuded an ethereal temperament, and one couldn't help but imagine being embraced and caressed by such a man.

With a swooshing sound, the man opened the folding fan in his hand, releasing a powerful aura.

The protective barrier that humans took pride in shattered like glass with a single strike. It was utterly vulnerable.

Ye Hua thought that this man was indeed handsome and had a good hairstyle. Especially with that strand of silver hair falling down, it added a unique touch.

It seemed like he had a higher sense of presence than him...

Taking a sneak peek at his two beautiful wives, he noticed that their gazes were fixed on the man in the field. It made Ye Hua feel annoyed. How could they be so shallow and captivated by a man like this?

They used to say sweet words to him in bed, claiming that he was the most handsome man in the world, and now they were looking at someone else...

All those affectionate words in bed were just empty promises!

"What are you looking at! You're drooling!" Ye Hua said in a deep voice.

QIng Ya and Donghuang Baizhi weren't as Ye Hua described. They were just observing the enemy a bit more seriously, but they were accused of being infatuated. It was truly unfair to themselves.

Seeing that her husband was a bit jealous, QIng Ya and Donghuang Baizhi didn't say anything. It was acceptable for him to admire beautiful women, but they weren't allowed to appreciate handsome men. He was such a domineering man.

"This man seems very powerful," QIng Ya felt the aura emanating from the man and thought that he was the most formidable person she had ever encountered. Donghuang Baizhi felt the same way.

Ye Hua sneered disdainfully, "Is he stronger than me?"

"Ye Hua, didn't you say you don't know?" QIng Ya asked curiously.

"Well..." Ye Hua was suddenly speechless. Even if he was slightly weaker, there was no need for them to worry. They should know how hard it is to live a happy life.

Donghuang Baizhi comforted him softly, "Ye Hua, it's okay. Even if you're a bit weaker, we won't change our hearts. After all, we have children."

Ye Hua: "..."

Why did he feel like he was stepping on his own foot again? How could he always do such foolish things!

Donghuang Li also comforted her father, "Daddy, failure is the mother of success. You should work hard in cultivation like Ah Li does, then you'll become stronger."

"Yes, what Sister said is right. Dad, you have to work hard. Otherwise, Yan'er will catch up with you," Ye Yan also cheered his father on.

Ye Hua felt a headache coming on. He was only creating a suppressed atmosphere, but they actually believed that he couldn't measure up...

Well, now that the car had started, how could he take a U-turn halfway?

Seeing her husband's desolate expression, Qing Ya and Donghuang Baizhi were also worried. As a man with such a strong ego, how could he accept the existence of someone more powerful? Poor Ye Hua...

The attention of the crowd once again turned to the field.

The man swayed the folding fan in his hand and slowly ascended into the air. His gaze swept around, taking in his surroundings and this unfamiliar world...

"I am Luo Hou! One of the Nanwu Banners. Today, I am delighted to see the light of day. When the Banner Master returns, we will surely unify the world!" As soon as his words fell, Lu Hou's figure disappeared.

Although it was just a short sentence, it revealed a lot of information!

The crowd was shocked. This was a blatant threat. The era of the Demoness had just passed, and now there was something called the Nanwu Banner... It seemed even more terrifying than the Witch. What was happening in this world...

Qing Ya murmured, "Nanwu Banner... Lu Hou... one of the five banners... the return of the Banner Master..."

"It's really going to change." Donghuang Baizhi said solemnly. This wasn't just one person! He was just one of the five banners, and there was a Banner Master behind him!

One person is already so formidable, what about the other four? And what kind of strength does their Banner Master possess?

Ye Hua, with a "troubled" expression, lit another cigarette. "It's quite troublesome."

"Ye Hua, this opponent is different from before. Do you have any knowledge about their origins?" Donghuang Baizhi curiously asked. She certainly hoped that her husband could grasp the enemy's movements. Knowing oneself and the enemy would ensure victory in every battle.

Ye Hua had never heard of the Nanwu Banner. There were only two possibilities: either the Nanwu Banner appeared earlier than himself, or... the Nanwu Banner came from another region.

But in the entire Milky Way, Canglie Star represented civilization and progress, while Cangluo Continent represented strength. If there really was such a powerful force, it would be impossible for him not to know. The possibility of it coming from another region was unlikely...

It should be a remnant from history, appearing even earlier than himself. He could ask Zi Shan about it. He heard that she had conducted research on divine history. It seemed like he had another meeting to attend.

The opponent this time was indeed very powerful. Ye Hua didn't deceive Qing Ya and Donghuang Baizhi about this. But it was precisely because of that, it became interesting!

Otherwise, every time he made a move, the opponent would collapse immediately. Where was the fun in that? He needed powerful opponents, both in mind and skill.

"For now, we don't know yet. Let's go back and discuss our strategy." Ye Hua said in a deep voice. It was necessary to thoroughly investigate the opponent's information and not underestimate them!

Qing Ya and Donghuang Baizhi nodded. The family immediately left the scene and returned to the Voidless Realm.

First, they sent the two children out to play. Ye Hua then called for a family meeting, with Qing Yutong also invited. After all, she was considered his woman, and he had done everything he should do, except for the last step.

Besides, he had always wanted to take Qing Yutong as his own.

Ye Hua and his two beautiful wives sat on chairs, waiting for Qing Yutong to arrive.

In an instant, they heard Qing Yutong's ghostly cry, "Brother-in-law, something bad happened! Should we move out?"

Ye Hua: "..."

Qing Ya: "..."

Donghuang Baizhi: "..."

It seemed that even Qing Yutong knew that the situation was not simple.

"Yutong, how many times have I told you not to be so easily frightened, be a lady!" Qing Ya spoke up to educate her. Acting so recklessly, how could she find a husband?

Qing Yutong pursed her lips, indicating that her man was sitting right there. She had decided in this lifetime and would never change her mind, no matter what.

"Oh, I know. Do you know what happened today? Five strange incidents occurred in various places! Dragon pulling coffins, exaggerated claims... I even have videos." Qing Yutong held a tablet computer in her hands.

Donghuang Baizhi asked in a deep voice, "Five incidents??"

"Yeah, sister Baizhi, don't you know?" Qing Yutong replied with a question.

Chapter 686 (Achieving a Clear Mind)

"Yeah, Baizhi, don't you know?" Qing Ya replied.

Donghuang Baizhi spoke in a deep voice, "But we've only encountered one instance."

Qing Yutong shook her head, "You guys, even though the world has changed, it's still the age of the internet. You're really outdated."

Ye Hua said lightly, "Let's see it."

"Alright then." Qing Yutong played the video, even providing commentary.

"This one appeared in the Era Park in Ocean City."

The video seemed to be taken by a kind-hearted person. At that time, everyone was playing, and suddenly there was a burst of dragon roars, followed by the appearance of a black coffin, just like the previous situation.

Everyone was curious and vigilant, so there were no casualties.

Ye Hua was simply curious if there was a painting inside the coffin.

As the coffin lid was opened, something eerie appeared...

It looked like a large jar, like the kind used for pickling vegetables...

As the jar fell to the ground, it instantly shattered into pieces, and water flowed everywhere...

Something strange happened. The water seemed to have a life of its own... it gradually gathered and formed a human shape!

One could clearly see the curvaceous figure.

The next second, Ye Hua's expression became bewildered.

Damn pixelation! [The video is probably pixelated.]

Motherfker!

Do you know what the most evil thing in this world is? It's pixelation censorship.

'This deity hadn't reached the level of being uncensored in the mind...'

This woman was indeed beautiful, not to mention her fair skin. She seemed to be made of water, a woman with an abundance of water.

Her exquisite features made people restless, her gaze was gentle, not like someone wicked.

However, the woman spoke slowly.

"I am Yue Hua, one of the Five Banners of Nanwu. It's a pleasure to be here, and I look forward to meeting you again." After saying these words, Yue Hua smiled enchantingly and disappeared.

If it weren't for the pixelation, Ye Hua would give full marks, but with that damn pixelation, he didn't feel like rating it anymore. His mood worsened.

Next, Qing Yutong played the second video and said, "Brother-in-law, this one happened in Nanyang City."

The footage seemed to be from an internet cafe, recorded by someone who was surfing the web. The roof had a large hole, and the black coffin had smashed many computers. The owner was there cursing.

Who the hell throws coffins around!

Ye Hua just wanted to know what was inside.

As the coffin was opened, Ye Hua and his wives stared at the screen.

They waited for a long time, but no one came out.

However, they heard a voice even though they couldn't see anyone.

"I am Bai Gu, one of the Five Banners of Nanwu. Prepare to welcome the return of the Banner Master!"

Then there was silence.

Qing Ya frowned and asked in confusion, "Is this... a person?"

"Sis, this should be an invisible person," Qing Yutong scolded her sister. How could she not know about this? So outdated.

But Qing Ya was puzzled. Even if someone was invisible, there should be flaws to find. But just now, that man had no flaws at all.

"This invisibility is different from the usual kind. It should be a member of a different race," Ye Hua said in a deep voice. Just like Wei Chang and the others, they possessed unique constitutions. It seemed that this invisible person was the same, completely existing in the air. As long as there was air, it seemed they were immortal!

'Truly powerful! This deity is increasingly looking forward to meeting the Banner Master!'

Donghuang Baizhi's face looked a little grim, very worried about what would happen next.

Qing Yutong continued playing, "This one happened in Long'an City."

Ye Hua calmly said, "This one skipped. We've already seen it."

"Oh, alright then."

Qing Yutong switched to another one and smiled, "This happened in the northeast."

The screen showed a ski resort, and just like the previous situations, there was the sound of dragon roars, followed by coffins falling from the sky...

But...

The coffin was heavier this time and sank directly into the snow. This made Ye Hua quite speechless. This dragon was really negligent. Not only did it bring these calamities here, but it was also so irresponsible, littering.

Ye Hua and his two wives watched the video intently.

One minute...

Five minutes...

Ten minutes...

"Is he not coming out anymore?!" Ye Hua couldn't help but shout, feeling frustrated with the suspense.

Qing Yutong smiled, "Oops, I forgot to fast forward. The climax starts at the 15-minute mark."

"Hurry up," Ye Hua said irritably, his eyes growing tired from staring.

As Qing Yutong fast-forwarded, they finally reached the main part, eagerly awaiting what was to come.

Finally, there was movement in the snow pit, and a large hand appeared in the video. Ye Hua's eyebrows tightened slightly.

It was a man... Boring...

And a burly man... Even more boring.

"Next one, next one," Ye Hua couldn't help but say. This was unbearable, too ugly...

It was so ugly that it affected their mood. Even Qing Ya and Donghuang Baizhi's faces changed. It was truly an earth-shattering level of ugliness.

It wasn't discrimination; that face was truly contorted, resembling a monster.

To make matters worse, it had limbs, especially those buck teeth... Oh my god...

With a face like that, there was no need for combat; it could just disgust the opponent to death.

Qing Yutong laughed, "Brother-in-law, wait a moment. There will be a surprise."

Ye Hua endured the pain in his heart and continued watching, still trusting Qing Yutong.

The man in the video started speaking.

"I... "

One minute passed.

"am..."

One minute passed.

"Cang..."

One minute passed.

"Kong..."

One minute passed.

"hong..."

Qing Yutong was already laughing on the side, while Qing Ya and Donghuang Baizhi had stiff expressions. There was even a drop of sweat on Ye Hua's forehead.

This was getting exasperating. They had never been so impatient before.

They just wanted to know what he was going to say, but he took five minutes to say five words. Oh my god...

'This deity doesn't want any contact with him. He could literally bore people to death.'

Qing Yutong continued to switch to the next one.

"Sis, this one happened in Zijin City."

Watching the video, it seemed to be taken at a garbage dump... The person recording was a worker.

There was still the dragon roar, and then a loud crash as the coffin fell.

After waiting for a minute, the coffin lid finally opened, and someone walked out...

Qing Ya and Donghuang Baizhi twitched at the corners of their mouths, seeming a bit scared.

Even Qing Yutong, who had seen it before, leaned closer to her sister. This was fear from a girl's perspective.

Ye Hua had never seen such a situation before.

This was clearly not a human...

It was a scarecrow, covered in yellow straw. But the most striking thing was its facial features... They were truly...

Its entire eyeball was exposed, looking terrifying to the extreme. No wonder Qing Yutong was scared. It was very horrifying.

Chapter 687 (Origin)

"I... I am Kung... Sha, Nanwu... banner... One of the Five Banners."

Ye Hua's mouth twitched.

Stuttering???

One slow-witted person and one stutterer...

How could there be such peculiar people? This group was truly unique.

As the scarecrow Kung Sha walked, the video shook violently, indicating the fear of the person recording.

But nothing happened. Kung Sha disappeared from the frame.

Qing Yutong closed the video and said in a deep voice, "Brother-in-law, sister, sister Baizhi, this group of people is different from before."

Ye Hua didn't deny it, and Qing Ya and Donghuang Baizhi nodded as well.

Their arrival didn't cause any harm, except for that Luo Hou who killed two people. Well, to be precise, the two people were absorbed by the coffin.

"What are they doing here?" Qing Ya asked in confusion.

Ye Hua calmly said, "Qing Ya, it's not about what they are doing here, but what they want to do."

"They don't want to kill people," Donghuang Baizhi murmured.

"Brother-in-law, we came here to find out their origins. Only then can we find the right countermeasures," Qing Yutong suggested.

The little sister's words were correct. This group of people was extremely powerful. If their strength had to be categorized, they surpassed the level of the Supreme.

Such a formidable group had been sealed away, indicating that the one who sealed them must be even more powerful.

But why didn't they just kill them directly? Or was it that they couldn't be killed at all?

"I'll go out for a moment," Ye Hua said calmly. Zi Shan was a deity, so he could ask if she knew anything.

"Ye Hua, we'll go with you," Qing Ya stood up and said. She felt a little upset every time her husband went to a meeting without her, as if he didn't trust his wife.

Donghuang Baizhi also showed a desire to go.

Ye Hua fell silent for a moment, then said, "Alright, come along."

Upon hearing her husband's agreement, the two wives smiled happily. Qing Yutong was also delighted that her brother-in-law didn't treat her as an outsider.

The four of them went straight to the Leisure Bar. The Gorefiend was doing his usual cleaning, but when he saw Your Honor and Madams arrive, he quickly bowed and greeted, "I pay my respects to Your Honor and Madams."

Qing Yutong, who was standing by, was speechless with joy. The Gorefiend knew how to talk and even included her among the Madams.

Ye Hua nodded slightly in acknowledgment and then picked up his phone. He sent a message in the WeChat group: Meeting! Same place!

When it came to serious matters like this, the subordinates took it seriously. Jokes were jokes, but business was business.

One minute later, all the subordinates had gathered, standing respectfully. Even Brittany, holding Jue Tian in his arms, appeared.

"Subordinates, pay respects to Your Honor and Madams!" The subordinates knelt down, showing their respect and admiration.

Ye Hua said lightly, "Rise, everyone."

"Thank you, Your Honor!"

Ye Hua said, "Yutong, go turn on the TV."

"Yes, brother-in-law." Qing Yutong picked up the remote control and turned on the TV. Every channel was broadcasting the five mysterious events, creating an atmosphere of fear and unease.

"Just this afternoon, five supernatural incidents occurred nationwide! Five coffins were dropped by divine dragons, and five strange individuals appeared! Their strength is unknown, and they call themselves the Nanwu Banner. So far, their leader has not shown up, and they have already caused two deaths."

"Their appearance has caused confusion, and we hope the Voidless Realm can provide an explanation. This station will continue to track and report."

The subordinates watched the TV silently. In fact, this matter had caused quite a stir, and everyone was aware of it.

But Ye Hua wanted everyone to see it and understand that everyone was counting on the Voidless Realm to provide information or capture these people. After all, they were outsiders, and their motives were unknown.

Turning off the TV, Ye Hua sat on the high chair, while his two wives stood obediently beside him. Qing Yutong was the same.

However, everyone noticed that the previous Qing Yutong used to stand among the subordinates, but today's Qing Yutong stood behind Your Honor. Could this represent a possibility that Your Honor had promoted his sister-in-law?

Wow, Your Honor is so bold. Isn't he afraid of his wife's reprimand?

At such a serious moment, the subordinates were genuinely concerned about the Your Honor's personal safety. They were truly loyal subordinates.

Qing Ya and the others did not interject. As the wives of the Supreme Overlord, all they needed to do at this moment was to listen. They couldn't let their husband lose face in front of his subordinates. They could scold him later.

Ye Hua didn't know what the subordinates were thinking and asked, "You should all know about today's events. Speak up, any suggestions?"

Dou Fushi, one of the subordinates, immediately took a step back. From past lessons, it was concluded that when Your Honor asked a question, it was best not to interrupt.

Li Hun looked at her husband's actions with confusion. This was the time to speak up, so why was he stepping back?

So...

"Your Honor, Dou Fushi has a suggestion," Li Hun said in a sweet voice.

Dou Fushi froze, looking at little Hun Hun with disbelief. Did she really have to betray him like this?

The other subordinates had a smug expression on their faces.

Ye Hua looked at Dou Fushi at the back and asked calmly, "What suggestion?"

Dou Fushi felt like dying. little Hun Hun was perfect in every way, always obedient and submissive. But... oh well, self-preservation was more important now.

"Your Honor, I believe it would be best to observe the situation," Dou Fushi quickly said, feeling that this suggestion was safe and sound, without any problems.

Ye Hua actually wanted to observe the situation as well, to see what the other side wanted to do.

"Brittany, what are your thoughts?" Ye Hua asked Brittany.

Brittany held the desperate Jue Tian in his arms, and from Jue Tian's expression, it could be seen that he had been tamed by the three women and wouldn't resist anymore.

Brittany's gaze turned cold, and he respectfully said, "Your Honor, I believe we can make a move to test them!"

Ye Hua thought Brittany's suggestion was acceptable, but making a move to test them seemed a bit hasty, considering how difficult it was to encounter formidable opponents.

Ye Hua nodded, and Brittany respectfully stepped back.

"Nanwu Banner... Does anyone among you know about them?" Ye Hua asked calmly.

Zi Shan in the team furrowed her brows slightly, appearing as if she knew something but wasn't certain.

"Zi Shan, you used to be from the Divine Realm. Why don't you explain?" Ye Hua asked in a low voice.

"Your Honor, little Hun Hun was also from the Divine Realm before," Dou Fushi immediately raised his hand and shouted. Little Hun Hun was betraying him, so he had to retaliate.

Li Hun gave Dou Fushi a disdainful glare. Petty... he even wants to betray his own wife.

This surprised Ye Hua a little. Li Hun was also from the Divine Realm? He had no idea.

"Do the two of you know the origin of the Nanwu Banner?"

Chapter 688 (Banner Master)

Li Hun respectfully said, "Your Honor, your subordinate has never heard of the force called Nanwu banner."

Upon hearing Li Hun's words, Ye Hua was slightly disappointed. When Li Hun appeared, her overall strength was stronger than Zi Shan's, indicating that she had been alive for a longer time, but she didn't know about it.

"Zi Shan, do you know?" Ye Hua asked in a deep voice.

Zi Shan replied in a low voice, "Your Honor, your subordinate is also unsure."

"Oh? Then tell me what you know."

"Yes!"

Zi Shan took a deep breath and respectfully said, "Your subordinate used to enjoy reading ancient books. By chance, I came across a piece of parchment in the Prince's study that mentioned the two words 'Nanwu banner'."

Yi Hong's face stiffened beside them. 'The ex-boyfriend... no, the ex-husband of her wife...'

Zi Shan actually cared about her husband's feelings, which was why she hesitated earlier. But when Your Honor asked, could she tell a lie? Clearly, that wouldn't work.

"Continue," Ye Hua became interested, even the three women behind him were curious.

Of course, the numerous subordinates were not to be left out. After all, a powerful opponent had finally appeared, and they had to approach the matter with a serious attitude.

Zi Shan continued quietly, "The parchment was damaged, so the information wasn't complete. This Nanwu banner was a group of individuals from the Primordial Era, consisting of a Banner Master and Five Banners. They enjoyed challenging formidable opponents and paid no attention to the weak. That's about it."

Ye Hua felt that these six people were somewhat similar to his own ideals. They challenged the impossible, only to be surrounded and attacked by a group of powerful individuals. They broke the seal while he was reborn, but their essence hadn't changed.

Moreover, they were people from the Primordial Era, which was quite interesting. It was said that all the people from the Primordial Era were wiped out in a great battle, but they should have been sealed, so they escaped the disaster.

Indeed, this opponent was very powerful. 'This deity is getting excited!'

And they enjoyed challenging the powerful, so there was no need for him to seek them out. They would naturally come knocking on his door.

However, Ye Hua was thinking about something important. If his subordinates' subordinates were to fight against those five individuals, who would win or lose?

For example, the Green and Red brothers, although they had enhanced their strength, they didn't possess any techniques or combat experience. It's likely they wouldn't be a match.

This time, things were really tricky. He had to think carefully.

"Everyone, be on standby 24/7 and await my orders!" Ye Hua commanded in a low voice.

"Yes!" The subordinates responded in unison.

"You can disperse now!"

After the subordinates dispersed, Ye Hua returned to the Voidless Realm with his wives and sister-in-law.

"Ye Hua, should we inform the outside world?" Donghuang Baizhi curiously asked.

"There's no need." Did he have to explain his actions to others? That's ridiculous!

Donghuang Baizhi didn't ask further. At present, she relied on her husband's decisions.

"I'm a bit hungry," Ye Hua murmured.

Qing Ya smiled tenderly and said, "Alright, I'll cook for you."

Ye Hua nodded and then sat in the garden, lost in thought. These five individuals were more powerful than he had imagined, and the Banner Master, what kind of person was he to lead them? He must be even more formidable.

The whole situation had become interesting. He really wished Qing Tiandi was still here, what a pity.

On the other side...

The five Banners of the Nanwu Banner had gathered together. At first glance, there seemed to be only four people, with one person missing.

The five of them sat in a small grove, with a fire burning in the middle, crackling and making sounds.

Luo Hou fanned himself with a folding fan, a faint smile on his face. "The air outside is really refreshing."

"Yes..." The others responded.

After a minute of silence, Cang Konghong slowly spoke, "Yes..."

The other four didn't interrupt Cang Kong Hong. They were used to his way of speaking, and it was a form of respect.

Yue Hua was the only female among them. At this moment, she was also dressed in clothes, and under the flickering light of the fire, her delicate face looked particularly beautiful, especially the smile at the corner of her mouth, which was very pleasing.

"How long have we been sealed?" These words came from Bai Gu, as if they were transmitted through the air, extremely eerie!

"Be...en...a long... time..." Scarecrow Kuan Sha said intermittently. His tone seemed a bit dazed, but one shouldn't underestimate him. Although he stuttered, Kuan Sha's strength was ranked high.

Don't underestimate Cang Konghong just because he speaks slowly. His strength is the strongest among the five, followed by Scarecrow Kuan Sha. Yue Hua, made of water, ranks third, Luo Hou is fourth in terms of strength, and Bai Gu made of air is fifth.

Although Bai Gu is ranked fifth, his terrifying power can leave people speechless.

"That's enough," Yue Hua said with a soft smile.

The other four paused. It was time to summon the Banner Master!

A gust of wind swept by, extinguishing the bonfire and plunging the surroundings into darkness.

The five stood in a pentagon, forming a formation.

"Summon the power of the heavens!" Yue Hua exclaimed in a tender voice.

"Summon the radiance of the earth!" White Bone spoke with a deep voice.

"Summon the soul of the underground!" Luo Hou said in a low voice.

"Summon..." Cang Konghong shouted, but due to his way of speaking, only one word came out.

"Master... let the holy light... shine upon... the earth again!" Scarecrow Kuan Sha stuttered and shouted loudly.

In the pitch-black sky, a black hole suddenly appeared. The five looked up at the darkness with anticipation in their eyes.

In fact, it was they themselves who sealed the Banner Master. This was not betrayal, but an absolute safety measure.

They had been waiting for this day!

A figure suddenly appeared in the darkness. She seemed to be in a deep slumber and descended slowly.

As the figure descended, her appearance became visible.

It was a young girl, not yet a woman. From her figure, it was evident that she was not tall, probably not even 160 centimeters. Her body seemed to have not fully developed, unlike Yue Hua, who had a well-rounded figure.

Although the young girl's figure didn't meet the standard, she had an astonishing beauty in her facial features. While she might not be stunning at first glance, the more you looked, the more beautiful she appeared, and it had an enchanting effect.

The young girl gently lay on the grass, while the five stood respectfully by the side, waiting for the Banner Master to awaken.

After a while, the young girl's eyebrows trembled slightly.

The five knelt down respectfully and shouted loudly, "We respectfully welcome the return of the Banner Master!"

The young girl suddenly opened her beautiful eyes. They were like blocks of ice, truly breathtaking. Such eyes existed in the world, and they were truly beautiful...

Coupled with her unique facial features, it added to her charm!

The young girl sat up, casting a bewildered gaze around, then looked at her own hands before turning her head to look at the five Banners.

Chapter 689 (Kai Yun)

"I... "Perhaps it had been too long since she last spoke, the little girl seemed a bit uncomfortable.

Yue Hua's eyes were slightly red. "Banner Master, we have broken the seal and summoned you."

The little girl remained stunned for a long, long time. Her gaze shifted from confusion to anger, and a smile gradually appeared on her face.

"Yue Hua~" The little girl exclaimed and quickly threw herself into Yue Hua's arms, as if she were very fond of her.

Yue Hua gently stroked the girl's head. "Banner Master, we are finally together again."

The little girl nodded and looked at the straw man named Kung Sha beside her. She pounced on him as well. "Big Dummy, I missed you."

Kung Sha's eerie face unexpectedly showed a smile, making it even more terrifying.

Leaving Kung Sha's embrace, the little girl spoke to the air. "Bai Gu, I miss you so much."

"Bai Gu also misses the Banner Master," a voice echoed from the air.

The little girl laughed happily and pounced toward Luo Hou. "Hehe, we're finally all here."

Luo Hou smiled and patted the Banner Master's shoulder.

The little girl immediately rushed towards Cang Konghong. "It's so good to have you all here. I can play again."

"Banner Master, you can't just think about playing all the time," Yue Hua respectfully said.

This made the little girl a bit frustrated. "Why can't I play? I want to play, hmph~"

It seems that this Banner Master hasn't grown up yet. Her personality is even more immature than Ye Zizi's, only knowing how to play.

The Five Banners naturally understood the Banner Master's personality. Seeing that she was no different from before, they were very happy.

"Banner Master, you have to listen, or we won't pay attention to you," Yue Hua said softly, like a mother.

Upon hearing this kind of threat, the little girl immediately pouted, showing a dissatisfied expression that couldn't be placated.

"I'm hungry..." The little girl pouted and said.

Luo Hou chuckled. "Banner Master, let's go home and cook."

"Yay, I want Big Dummy to cook!" The little girl excitedly clapped her hands and jumped around, displaying the demeanor of a Banner Master.

Kung Sha nodded with his eerie "smile."

Luo Hou took something out of his Qiankun bag and threw it forward!

Boom, boom, boom!

A deafening sound erupted, accompanied by a brilliant white smoke.

After the white smoke dispersed, an endless staircase appeared before their eyes, with a palace situated atop it.

Enormous plaques were erected on the staircase.

"Nanwu Banner!"

The little girl jumped onto Cang Konghong's shoulder, and the six of them walked toward the staircase. Their figures moved swiftly, and in the blink of an eye, they reached the topmost level of the staircase, where they could directly see the Milky Way, which was incredibly beautiful.

The little girl murmured in fascination, "It's so beautiful here, I really like it..."

Kung Sha respectfully said, "Banner Master, I'll go cook first."

"Big Dummy, hurry up. I'm starving," the little girl rubbed her stomach and said.

"Yes, Banner Master!"

"Luo Hou, bring out the table. We'll sit here and eat," the little girl continued to give orders.

"Yes, Banner Master!"

As the little girl sat on Cang Konghong's shoulder, her gaze became deep, and she muttered, "I wonder... if there are any powerful opponents left."

"Banner Master, there will be," Yue Hua softly replied beside her.

"That's good, hug me~" The little girl reached out her hands towards Yue Hua.

Yue Hua smiled gently and embraced the young girl.

The little girl's name is Kai Yun!

In the Voidless Realm, Qing Ya had already prepared the food, and the family was enjoying a lavish dinner.

However, both Qing Ya and Donghuang Baizhi didn't seem too happy, all because of the sudden appearance of the Nanwu Banner.

It was a terrifying existence from the ancient times, suddenly appearing in this world like a bug.

Moreover, the situation had become more serious now, and this phenomenon had spread to every corner of the world.

People all over the world knew that there was an abnormality with the Dragon pulling the coffin in China and were curious to find out what was happening.

But most of them were just watching from the sidelines, as it had nothing to do with them. Why bother getting involved in muddy waters?

All the pressure now fell on the Voidless Realm. If Qing Tiandi hadn't acted impulsively today, it would have been a perfect opportunity. Unfortunately, Qing Tiandi chose to challenge Ye Hua alone.

"Mom, why are you not eating? Yan'er will serve you the food." Ye Yan stood on a stool, using his small body to serve his mother.

Qing Ya snapped out of her thoughts and smiled softly, "Yan'er is so well-behaved."

"Mom, don't worry, Dad can handle it." Ye Yan had blind admiration for his father. No matter how powerful the enemy was, his father could defeat them.

Qing Ya looked at her husband and noticed Ye Hua's serious expression, something she had never seen before.

Ye Hua knew that Qing Ya was looking at him but didn't say anything. He silently ate his food, as if he couldn't win... as if he couldn't win.

Donghuang Baizhi put down her bowl, thought for a moment, but didn't say anything, and continued eating.

Qing Yutong looked at her sister and the Empress's worried expressions and found it amusing. 'After all this time, don't you understand brother-in-law yet? Clearly, he's just pretending to make you worry.'

They were both such fools, or perhaps it was just that the intelligence of pregnant women was reduced to zero.

After dinner, Qing Ya and Donghuang Baizhi went to rest early, even dragging Ye Hua to bed.

Ye Hua knew that the two of them had something to discuss. Amidst the resentful gazes of their two children, Ye Hua spent the night sleeping with his wife.

The three of them lay on the spacious bed, and the atmosphere was somewhat oppressive.

Donghuang Baizhi was the first to ask, "Ye Hua, tell us the truth, can you handle it?"

"Yeah, we're really worried about you." Qing Ya followed, if her husband wasn't confident, they were prepared to find another solution.

Ye Hua let out a sigh of relief and said calmly, "What's with this? Are you both so frightened just because you encountered a formidable opponent? You really disappoint me."

Qing Ya and Donghuang Baizhi just didn't want Ye Hua to take unnecessary risks. After all, Ye Hua was the pillar of the family, the father of their four children. If anything happened to Ye Hua, how could they go on living?

"Ye Hua! Stop trying to tease us, we are really worried about you." Qing Ya had a melancholic expression, it had been a long time since she felt like this.

Ye Hua patted his wives' fragrant shoulders. "Can you have confidence in me? It's like I'm about to lose already."

"Then give us a smile to see." Donghuang Baizhi said seriously. Since the appearance of the Nanwu Flag, her husband hadn't smiled once, always wearing a stern expression.

Ye Hua's confidence was their confidence. He was their sky in their hearts, and now that the sky was gloomy, how could they be happy?

"Alright, alright, I can defeat the opponent, can we sleep now?" Ye Hua sighed helplessly. It seemed like he had really frightened them. These two foolish women, even Qing Yutong knew that he was just pretending.

Chapter 690 (Another One Comes)

But now Qing Ya and Donghuang Baizhi didn't believe their husband anymore. They thought he was trying to comfort them.

Now Ye Hua was at a loss. If he had known, he wouldn't have scared them. Now they might develop depression from being scared.

It seems like he's just lifting a rock and smashing his own foot. He has to coax them.

"Alright, enough talking, more kissing." After saying that, Ye Hua embraced the Empress in his arms and savored her tender lips.

After enjoying the Empress, Ye Hua began tasting Qing Ya's cherry lips. It had been a long time since he had kissed his wives, and it was a bit exciting.

Qing Ya felt her husband's actions and shyly said, "Ye Hua, what are you doing~"

"Hush, let yourselves feel comfortable."

"Ah~" Qing Ya couldn't help but moan softly. A sense of satisfaction emerged from the depths of her heart.

Donghuang Baizhi stared blankly at the two people beside her.

They actually... right in front of her...

Ye Hua embraced the Empress in his arms and kissed her gently. "Don't think about those things. We should just enjoy ourselves."

"Ye Hua~ you~" Donghuang Baizhi blushed with shyness. Tonight, a wolf had entered the room unexpectedly.

When that sense of satisfaction appeared, all the troubling matters vanished in an instant.

Ye Hua was also quite satisfied. He had finally accomplished a major goal in his life. After hoping for it day and night, he finally got it.

This was also thanks to the Nanwu Banner. They are truly his lucky star.

Having comforted both wives, Ye Hua felt satisfied. He finally became a true man for once, and it felt great.

Holding his two sleeping wives, Ye Hua silently thought about the Nanwu Banner. It was quite interesting. This time, he wouldn't let himself down.

In the early morning, Ye Hua slowly opened his eyes, and the beauty beside him was no longer there.

The Empress must have gone to handle affairs in the Voidless Realm. There were many things waiting for Donghuang Baizhi's orders. Qing Ya was probably preparing breakfast for everyone.

"Awake? Come out and have breakfast." Qing Ya walked over with a gentle smile, her face flushed, looking incredibly charming.

Ye Hua beckoned to Qing Ya playfully, teasing her.

Qing Ya glanced at her husband with disdain and walked gracefully towards him.

Ye Hua held Qing Ya's hand firmly, gently pulled her into his embrace, and then kissed her.

"Why are you so enchanting, Qing Ya?" Ye Hua chuckled softly.

Qing Ya said irritably, "You've succeeded, you scoundrel."

"Haha." Ye Hua burst into laughter. He loved Qing Ya's coquettish demeanor. It was incredibly enticing.

"You're still laughing. Last night was just an exception. Don't expect it to happen again." Qing Ya said shyly, unable to resist pinching Ye Hua. He had become so self-satisfied.

Ye Hua's expression turned serious. "It's not up to you."

"Alright, alright. You're the boss. Can you get up now?"

"No!" Ye Hua said as he pressed Qing Ya down and carefully tasted his wife's cherry lips.

"Ah, Mom and Dad... you..."

Donghuang Li and Ye Yan stood at the door, covering their eyes. When they saw their parents still inside, kissing each other on the bed, they ran in and shouted, "Mom and Dad..."

Upon hearing the children's voices, Qing Ya quickly pushed her infatuated husband away and gave him a fierce glare. She whispered, "It's all your fault. The children saw us."

Ye Hua smiled embarrassedly, not taking it to heart.

After getting dressed, Ye Hua came out and coincidentally saw the Empress returning.

Donghuang Baizhi saw her husband and instantly recalled last night's events. Her exquisite face blushed, looking incredibly beautiful.

'These two women of mine, no matter how many times, they are always so shy, as if it were their first time.'

"How's the situation today?" Ye Hua asked lightly as he sipped on his lean meat and century egg congee.

Donghuang Baizhi replied solemnly, "The headquarters of Nanwu Banner has been established in the south."

"So fast." Ye Hua was a little surprised. He thought they would make a bigger move to intimidate others, but it turned out to be a small-scale operation.

"Brother-in-law, there's the latest video here too." Qing Yutong played the video.

Everyone saw the long staircase and the palace in the sky. It was magnificent!

They truly lived up to their reputation as figures from the primordial era. Such grandeur was enough to intimidate many people.

Qing Yutong wondered, "This was shot from the air, indicating that there was a helicopter hovering around, but Nanwu Banner didn't pay any attention to it. It's quite strange."

Qing Yutong's words received agreement from Qing Ya and Donghuang Baizhi. It was unusual for such a powerful figure to completely ignore this fact.

Ye Hua said indifferently, "Because they disdain it, they didn't pay attention. It's a simple reason."

In fact, the less Nanwu Banner acted, the more doubtful Ye Hua became, as it was against common sense.

Perhaps it was just a matter of time before they revealed their specific plans. Just wait a little longer.

That's right... just continue waiting.

"If the enemy doesn't move, I won't move either," Ye Hua added another sentence before falling silent.

However...

One month passed...

Two months passed...

Three months passed...

The hype around Nanwu Banner seemed to have vanished all of a sudden. People almost forgot about it and returned to their normal lives.

These three months were frustrating for Ye Hua. Zi Shan mentioned that Nanwu Banner liked to challenge powerful opponents, but now it seemed they were inactive...

Ye Hua even grew impatient and considered sending someone to probe their intentions, but he resisted the urge.

As the Supreme Overlord, he had never taken the initiative, and this time was no exception.

Therefore, these three months left Ye Hua a bit displeased. He eagerly anticipated them to take action every day, but was disappointed every time.

He felt that Nanwu Banner was a group with brains, so he would play a game of wits with them! He had never been afraid of anyone!

But for Ye Hua, today was a good day.

Anxious, Ye Hua stood outside the sleeping chambers, listening to Donghuang Baizhi's loud cries from inside.

Donghuang Li and Ye Yan held hands, also feeling nervous.

"Daddy, it's been so long. Why hasn't Mom given birth yet?" Donghuang Li asked worriedly.

"Ah Li, don't worry, it will be soon..." Ye Hua said with a gentle smile.

With the sound of a baby's cry, Ye Hua breathed a sigh of relief. Finally, the baby was safely born.

During Qing Ya's delivery of Yan'er, Ye Hua was also extremely worried. Today was no different. He decided he didn't want to have children anymore. He truly dreaded this feeling.

Ye Hua carried the two children inside.

On the bed, Donghuang Baizhi looked a bit weak, her face pale.

Qing Ya held a little one in her arms and smiled, "Ye Hua, you're going to have more sons."

"Yes, Ah Li has another little brother." Donghuang Li was so happy.

Ye Yan was also excited, "Haha, Yan'er is also a big brother now. I'm so happy. Let Yan'er see what his little brother looks like!"
