

Chapter 17 The Truth Finally Surfaced

Aaron's attitude towards Grandpa was very good, but his attitude towards Albert was not that good.

It was obvious.

He was a very gentle and cultivated man, so even a little change of expression, made people believe that he dislike Albert.

Albert replied with the same sneer, "Why? You want to take care of the affairs between me and my wife? You seem very angry about her passing out?"

Susan looked at Aaron and shook her head silently.

She didn't want the Karl family to know about her illness.

Aaron naturally knew that he just loved Susan too much. No one in the Karl family cared about Susan when they heard Susan passed out.

All were accusing eyes as if she fainted and was taken into the room by him was a shameful thing.

Aaron knew he had spoken too much.

He put away his sharp eyes, became gentle again, and bowed slightly to the elders of the Karl family, "I'm sorry. I'll deal with the media. Please believe that Susan and I are innocent. We are just friends."

With such a respectful attitude, if the Karl family didn't give face, it will be a little unkind.

After all, offending Aaron was not good for the Karl family.

After all, there was no good for the Karl family to offend Aaron.

Albert's father got up and said to Aaron, "Since it's all a misunderstanding, it's nothing. I also believe Susan is not the kind of person."

Albert's mother also said, "Yes, Susan wouldn't do such a thing."

Grandpa also stopped talking.

Only Albert snorted coldly, "President Aaron personally sent her here to explain. I want to ask, is my wife so charming, or will our Karl family beat her? Don't you think it's inappropriate to care so much about a married woman?"

Albert's father scolded, "Shut up!"

Albert's face was very bad. He got up, grabbed Susan's wrist, and took her upstairs.

Aaron was surprised, "What will you do to her?"

Albert looked back and said, "What are we doing in the room? Do you still need to ask? Or do you want to come and see it in person?"

Aaron couldn't speak.

Albert hissed coldly and then dragged Susan into the upstairs room.

When the door was closed, he put her against the door panel. "You passed out? He fucked you too hard, so you passed out? Huh?"

Susan was dizzy and didn't get over it for a long time.

"Do you think everyone is like you and Lacey? Don't think everyone is so dirty. Aaron is not like you!"

These words directly made Albert's anger rush to his head in an instant.

His strength increased, and Susan felt that her shoulder bones could be crushed by him.

Her painful face turned pale. "Albert, what are you angry about? Now it's not your fault. No one will blame you for abandoning me at this time. What a good situation for you."

Albert never felt so angry.

He angrily punched the door behind her. The thick door panel was cracked by him, and the back of his hand was full of bottled blood.

Susan stared at him, and suddenly the air was quiet at the moment.

"Albert, we don't have to act for half a year. We can divorce now."

Now she had a child. The baby was everything to her.

It took a long time for him to say, "Divorce? Then you can run away with Aaron?"

Susan was extremely disappointed. "Albert, you will never understand what I want."

His eyes were slightly confused. "I don't understand what you want, so what?"

Susan closed her eyes. "You know what my company is like now. It's beneficial and harmless for your family to stay away from it."

He withdrew his hand, and opened the door, "Get out."

Downstairs, Aaron hadn't left yet.

He looked relieved when he saw her go down.

Susan said to the elders, "Sorry, I have to deal with the company's affairs, so I'll go first."

She turned and left with Aaron.

Inside the car, Aaron said, "Divorce Albert. Such a family is not deserved to stay in."

Susan didn't speak with her seat belt fastened...

Aaron started the car and continued, "It hasn't been a day or two since your company had an accident. They never helped you. As soon as our affair came out, they were very concerned. Isn't that enough to explain? They don't plan to take care of your company. After all, it's the right way to keep a distance from you at this time."

Susan looked out of the window and was stunned.

The Karl family abandoned her silently after all.

Looking at their attitude, it should be sooner or later to divorce Albert.....

"I understand. I thought they cared more or less about me, so I wanted to explain. They didn't need me to explain at all. They had planned to abandon me."

She spoke plainly, but Aaron was very sad.

"No matter what their attitude towards you is, you have me. Believe me, I will help you achieve what you want."

Susan sniffed her nose and didn't speak.

Aaron's efficiency was very high. At the moment when the news was pressed down, he also put pressure on major media channels to send out all the press releases and apologize to Susan.

Overnight, the public opinion gossip disappeared.

This powerful means surprised many people. They don't know how much money it cost to make the major media consistent.

In addition, the lipstick case was easily solved.

The culprit was Lacey. The police found a lot of lipstick in her residence.

The police examined the lipstick. All of them were coated with a thin layer of drugs causing a coma at the front end. After a person finished coating, there was no toxin left on the lipstick, so no matter how to test the lipstick, it was impossible to find out anything.

It turned out that the poison has reached the users' mouths, and there would be no more on the lipstick.

After all, the truth was revealed, all media platforms were asked to clarify for Susan, but also pointed out that Aaron Shawn would cooperate with the Laura family to create more high-quality products.

As soon as the news came out, everyone was surprised.

Aaron's high efficiency and fast movement were amazing.

Even Albert didn't even have time to react, and Susan's company recovered.

After listening to the assistant's report, Albert leaned back in his chair, his dark eyes with a trace of meditation.

"The truth finally surfaced."
