

Chapter 6 What Happened To Her?

"Have you made your decision?" Albert's eyes were full of burning fury.

Susan just shrugged, she was too tired to explain to him.

For her, divorce was a relief now.

Albert clasped her wrist tightly.

"Did you tell my grandpa and father about the divorce?"

Susan shook her head, "No."

"The hasty divorce will affect the reputation of your brand. I think..."

"You don't want?" Susan interrupted him.

"If my family abandons you on the premise that you have done nothing wrong, the public would regard my family as a ruthless businessman. I don't care so much, but grandpa and father attach great importance to reputation and commitment. I don't want them to be criticized by others."

Susan mocked, "We have no wedding, few people knew that we are a couple. Isn't this the preparation that your family has made for today? "

Albert frowned. "It seems you can't wait to divorce me? Do I have the favor to know the name of my successor?"

"Whatever you think."

The man no longer spoke, but the trembling muscle on his cold face reflected his repressed exasperation.

Albert got up with a livid face, dropped his pen, and went out.

Susan didn't know what he was thinking.

His sudden anger confused her.

She couldn't figure it out but had no interest in exploring the reason.

Since Albert suddenly left, the divorce had to be suspended.

Susan followed Albert out.

"What's wrong with you?"

Before the word came out of her mouth, she suddenly felt that sun over her head shakes violently.

The overwhelming pain destroyed her mind in an instant.

Consciousness gradually dissipated, and at the moment of falling into darkness, she seemed to see Albert running toward her.

He looked nervous as if he loved her so much.

"Susan! What happened to you?!"

She woke up in the hospital.

It was already night.

The ward was empty, and her memory gradually returned. She remembered that when she fainted, she saw Albert nervous.

It should be him who sent her to the hospital.

Did he know she was sick?

No.

If he knew, he should pity her.

Out of compassion, he would stay here.

Now that he was not here, something must have happened.

Susan took out her mobile phone and was about to call her assistant. At this time, the door of the ward was pushed open, and the assistant entered in a panic——

"Miss, something happened!"

Susan frowned, "What's the matter?"

"Lacey, Lacey, she's missing... When Albert heard the news, he went out to find her. Later, he found her in the wilderness, but she was naked and seemed to have been raped..."

Susan froze.

No wonder he was not here. It turned out that something had happened to Lacey.

Albert had always believed that she used divorce as a cover-up for her true evil plan.

And what happened just now was enough to prove her guilty in Albert's heart.

This was Lacey's plan.

Pinching the temple to sober herself, Susan asked weakly: "Why is Lacey missing?"

"Albert clarified that lipstick's fame and kept my position, Lacey seemed to be so angry that she ran away."

It seemed that Albert meant what he said.

But that's the right time for Susan to praise his honesty.

If she couldn't prove her innocence, she may be in prison.

"Jessie, call the police directly."

"The police?"

"Rather than let others make the police intervene, let's step forward first."

"Okay, I got it."

According to this trend, there was no doubt that Susan was the most suspicious person of Lacey's rape.

Calling the police would greatly eliminate her suspicion.

Susan said again, "Inform the Karl family that I suddenly fainted and was in the hospital."

Soon the Karl family arrived at the hospital.

Albert's mother took Susan's hand and asked, "What's the matter? Why did you suddenly faint?"

Susan shook her head. "I'm fine, mom. I'm just anemic."

Grandpa and Albert's father stood aside and looked at each other.

His father said, "Susan, do you know where Albert went today?"

Susan nodded, "I just know about Lacey... I have called the police. I believe the police will find out the truth."

Although she didn't know whether Lacey was raped, at present, she could only regard it as real.

Grandpa frowned, "What, you called the police? Once the police intervene, Lacey and Albert will become the focus of public opinion again.

I don't know what to say. Why are you so thoughtless? This will affect the reputation of the Karl family and you will also be criticized because of your identity as Mrs.Karl."

How could Susan consider the reputation of the Karl family at this time?

She just wanted to make her life smooth and relaxed.

She had no extra energy to care about the rest.
