

No Chance 91

Chapter 91 Provocation Masked with a Smile

Elisa's mouth twitched. Reluctant to reply Will, she rose and walked out of the courtroom.

Charli turned to Rachel, who was frozen in her spot, and prodded her. "Rach?"

Rachel came back to her senses and the confusion on her face vanished. She turned to face Charli. "Charli, I didn't mishear, did I? Elisa is Iris?"

Charli cleared her throat. "You heard correctly."

They had decided to reveal Elisa's identity in this case. People would have guessed that she was Iris when they defeated Vincent. They might as well make the truth public rather than trouble themselves in the future.

Rachel inhaled. "Good heavens! Am I surrounded by geniuses? How clueless am I that I never realized it?!"

The trial was basically a final battle between the hero and the villain. It was a remarkable sight to see!

learn much from it,

she still felt

noticed her change in emotions. "Why, what never told me this. Does she... not think of me as her best overthinking this!"

Her face

envious of her abilities. That's why she never told anyone about her identity other than those in our office. But now that she can't hide her identity any longer, and in a society where the law had never been in touch with

"She never told you to protect you. You could have a few times.

course, it's true. Does Elisa not treat you very well? I'm sure that her best right!" She

Although she felt disappointed earlier, now she was elated. She wanted