No Way Back Chapter 251- Only Jane could make Hugh's blood full of fever.

Only Jane could cure Hugh's increasingly out of control frustration and insomnia.

Only Jane could make everyone get to realize what hardships Hugh had gone through when he was believed to make himself rise above the common herd by relying on his talents.

Jane was watching the situation below.

However, Luna kept uttering a heartrending cry.

It felt good to see her being abused like this.

But her constant cries made one annoyed.

It was likely to cause physical discomfort.

Jane felt a burning gaze on her. She glanced at Hugh and asked, "Why are you looking at me like that? Is there something on my face?"

After saying that, she even reached out to touch it.

"Janie, I love you."

Hugh's affectionate and unexpected confession almost made Jane choke on her saliva.

"Hugh, why did you tell me that out of the blue?"

Moreover, Luna, his nominal cousin, had her fingers cut off.

In any case... this atmosphere was extremely strange!

"I just wanted to, so I said it."

"Other than my grandmother, no one... has ever really asked me what I've been through."

Hugh lowered his eyes to mask his emotions.

He knew that this was not the right time.

He just wanted to say it out loud....

He wanted to let this woman know.

He couldn't wait to let her know how much he loved her.

Jane fell into silence.

She gazed at this man who was high above but only showed such a fragile appearance in front of her.

Hugh was like the king of beasts who had fought countless battles and beheaded countless generals.

Only when he returned to his 'nest' all by himself would he ****the scars that were left behind after the battle, which tortured them day and night.

Now.

Such a man took the initiative to expose his scar in front of Jane.

Jane pursed her lips and reached out to hold Hugh's hand.

Hugh's body felt like it had been electrocuted.

Gradually

"No matter what the future holds, at least for now, I'll be by your side.

"No matter what happened in the past, at least for now, you've made it through and are right beside me."

Jane's voice had a kind of magic that spoke of poetry.

"And here's another one..."

"I couldn't participate in your past, but now and in the future, I won't let go of this hand."

“Janie, you can’t get rid of me anymore.”

Hugh held Jane tightly. His eyes were burning, and his voice was gentle, warming her heart.

Jane’s face cracked into a smile as she said, “We’ll see if you’re capable of keeping me by your side.”

The two of them were glued together in the cubicles on the second floor.

Below, Luna did not feel the sweetness of Jane and Hugh at all.

It was often said that human joys and sorrows were not connected.

After realizing her situation, Luna could only endure the pain and personally cut off two of her fingers.

Without anesthetic effect, Luna passed out from the unbearable pain.

Diane’s heart ached as if transfixed with a dagger when she saw this. She wanted to rush forward and get someone to stop Luna’s bleeding, but Raymond grabbed her tightly.

Raymond looked at Victor and said, “Father, now that Luna’s been punished according to the family rules, are you satisfied?”

“Raymond, don’t underestimate me. I once led the Croft family to gain a foothold in Stormton City. Just this little thing... isn’t gonna make me angry.

“The Croft family’s come a long way, and now we have so many offspring. It makes sense that there are some black sheep.

“Since there are some rotten apples, we’ll just get rid of them. We can’t just let the family fall because of a few rotten apples, right?”

Victor saw through it very clearly.

His voice was emotionless, and no one could tell what he was thinking.

Raymond immediately lowered his head and said, “Yes, Father, I crossed the line.”

‘Grandfather, since Luna... She has already received such a heavy punishment, it’s better to let her go for treatment first.

Marlon mustered up the courage to speak.

The skin on Luna’s body was paling

Luna would die if she lost more blood like this!

In the living hall, only the third branch who were aloof from worldly affairs dared to take the initiative to ask.

After Marlon spoke up, Ford echoed, “That’s right, Grandpa. Please let Luna go down and receive treatment from a doctor.”

“Victor, I beg you. Luna knows her mistake and has paid the price she deserves. Please let her go for treatment!” Diane could no longer hold it in. She knelt on the ground and cried as she begged.

Layne bit her lip lightly. Raymond’s expression contained herself to take the initiative to speak. She could only plead with her eyes.

“She can’t take these three fingers away. Call the doctor over to treat Luna.

“Also... after she’s cured, send her out of the country. She’s not allowed to return without my orders.”

Diane’s countenance changed. “What? Victor, are you going to send Luna overseas? Are you going to make her never return to Cruksia?”

“What? Do you still want to disobey my orders?”

Victor shot a cold glance at Diane.

Just this glance sent a chill running through Diane’s heart. She did not dare to say something more..

“I... I... I don’t dare...”

Raymond rained down curses on Diane’s head in his heart.

If Victor had a bad impression of the second branch because of this....

Raymond would definitely teach Diane a lesson when he returned!

Was she really tired of living peacefully all these years and wanted to live a life of being a street rat?

Just Hugh was already difficult to deal with.

Aside from the fact that Victor was like an old fox that no one could figure out what he was thinking, even as Victor's son, Raymond was afraid of him from the bottom of his heart!

"If Luna can rely on her own ability to do something that impresses me overseas, it's possible for her to come back.

"If she can't even redeem her lost dignity, then the Croft family doesn't need this kind of trash. What's the point of bringing her back? To be used against the Croft family again?"

"Got it."

Everyone retreated.

Luna was taken away to be treated by a doctor.

As for the three severed fingers, Victor arranged for the butler to clean up the wound.

The severed finger was thrown into the trash can.

After watching this show, Jane pursed her lips and said, "As expected of the previous leader of the Croft family. He's so cold and unreasonable. All he thinks about is values."

"This is Victor's nature..."

Hugh muttered.

No one knew what he was thinking.

"Hugh, I'm not denying the survival rules set by your grandfather, but looking at your grandfather like this... don't you think he's a little pitiful?" said Jane.

After Victor had gone through everything, what he got, in the end, was reverence and fear from the bottom of the heart of the Crofts.

They appeared respectful, fawning, and smiling, but Jane believed that none of them was sincere.

Even Victor's children, daughters-in-law, grandsons, and granddaughters were not sincere with him.

"Janie, there are many pitiful people in this world. If you want to use this word on my grandfather, there's no need.

"I think he enjoys it. Some people live and put the family's honor above everything else. I guess my grandfather will make anyone who insults this honor sorry."

No Way Back Chapter 252- Hugh said this expressionlessly.

As the person who had been taught by Victor, he was once closest to Victor.

Hugh had long seen through the nature of Victor's survival.

"You're right... I don't know what's wrong with me. I suddenly feel sorry for him. I'm clearly quite pitiful myself. "But your grandfather looks so powerful. I offend him. I got the feeling that this is supposed to be a trap."

Jane pouted.

The corners of Hugh's ****curled up into a faint smile. "Now you're afraid?"

"A little. Well, I surely got enough confidence to do such a thing and I'm prepared for taking the consequence. "Victor's reaction is within my expectations. Moreover... I got you as my back even if the sky falls, right?"

Jane looked at Hugh with a trusting gaze.

"It's my lifelong honor to be your knight."

Hugh generously and seriously gave Jane a promise to protect her for the rest of her life.

He couldn't wait to spend the rest of his life with Jane.

And he would never leave her!

The current Hugh was capable of giving her such a sense of security!

He could protect the woman he loved deeply to keep her safe and away from any harm!

At this moment...

There was a soft knock on the door.

"Mr. Hugh Croft, Miss Jane Fowler, may I come in?"

It was the butler who led Hugh and Jane in.

Hugh said softly, "This butler has served the Croft family for 60 years. I heard that he grew up with Grandpa. His name is Harper Larson."

"I can feel that... he has an extraordinary aura. I guess he can achieve something by relying on his own ability even if he leaves the Croft family."

Jane was confident that her judgment of people was extremely ****.

Jane was especially self-assured when it came to someone who could make her feel this way.

Gold would glitter forever.

"Since someone like Harper continues to work for Victor and the Croft family, there must be a reason."

"That's right. With the opportunity to serve Grandpa, his family moved up the social ladder.

"Perhaps Harper can make something of himself if he is out on his own, but I'm sure what he gets eventually is less than if he follows Grandpa."

Hugh was certain of this.

As for whether Harper couldn't bear to part with Victor after many years of serving him...

That was something only the two of them knew.

It was not within his consideration.

*Come in."

Harper pushed the door open and entered.

He bowed to Hugh and Jane.

Then, he looked at Jane.

"Miss Jane Fowler, Master wants to see you. Please come over."

"Okay."

It was expected.

It was impossible for Victor to call Jane to see Luna's miserable state.

And Victor couldn't just let Jane leave safely without saying anything.

Jane thought it was a good chance.

She wanted to have a good chat with Victor.

She expected to grasp a lot of things from his style of doing things and the choice of his words.

"Mr. Hugh, Master said that he hopes to talk to Miss Jane alone this time. Please wait here for a moment."

Harper seemed to have thought of what Hugh would say.

Thus he spoke first.

Hugh narrowed his eyes, exuding a dangerous aura.

"Grandpa should know that I won't agree so easily, right?"

“Then he has no choice but to ask Miss Jane to go back first. He’ll have a private chat with her another day,” said Harper.

Hugh was lost for words.

He set his lips into a thin line.

There was a faint anger ****in those deep and dark eyes.

Victor was threatening him! Hugh knew it very well!

At this moment...

Jane gently pulled Hugh’s arm and said, “Hugh, let me go there.”

“Janie...”

“Don’t worry, I’ll be fine.”

Jane raised her eyebrows confidently at Hugh.

Then, without a composed look, Jane looked at Harper and said calmly, “Harper, please lead the way.”

Harper’s eyes flashed with amazement. “Yes.”

Jane was not an act, and Harper could see through it at a glance as someone who had dealt with countless people. This calmness represented Jane’s pride.

She was confident in her ability and believed that no matter what happened next, she would be able to save the situation.

At the same time...

With a simple sentence, Jane managed to persuade the man who was all-powerful.

It seemed that Victor’s feeling was right.

Jane followed Harper through the corridors.

They arrived at a small garden with a fountain.

The table was filled with top-notch pastries and fragrant black tea.

“Miss Jane Fowler, please take a seat. Master will be here soon.”

Harper bowed and retreated a short distance away.

Jane sat down with her arms crossed and leisurely admired the beautiful scenery around her.

It was as if she was in her own home.

Her demeanor was devoid of nervousness.

At this moment...

Victor walked over slowly with his hands behind his back.

*Miss Jane Fowler.”

“Hi.”

Jane replied in a flat tone.

She did not stand up or bow to Victor

“There’s no need to stand on ceremony Make yourself at home. Take whatever you want to eat and drink.”

Victor said with a smile. He casually pulled out a chair and sat down.

He narrowed his eyes and sized up Jane quietly.

His eyes were as cold as a beast’s.

Facing such a gaze, Jane chose to ignore it.

In a relaxing manner, she picked up a cup of black tea and took a sip.

“This is nice. Whittard of Chelsea 1886?”

“You know about this thing? Haha, this tea is cultivated using the Whittard of Chelsea 1886, and it was personally cultivated by Harper.

“After all these years, my late wife and I loved the tea he cultivated. It tastes better than the Whittard of Chelsea 1886.”

Jane felt the same way.

Jane could savor the fragrance left behind by the tea leaves. It was even more mellow than the top-brand teas.

“Miss Fowler is more carefree than I thought. I thought you would be afraid that this pastry and tea would be tampered with.”

Victor flashed a smile and spoke with an amiable expression, devoid of the ruthlessness that he had when he punished his granddaughter just now.

As they chatted and laughed, Jane felt like her life was in the grip of Victor.

“If you want to kill me, don’t beat around the bush.

“Of course, just in case, I have a way to protect myself...”

Jane said, tapping her nose.

She did not tell Victor something.

Over the years of studying traditional medicine, Jane trained her sense of smell to an extraordinary level.

In addition, she had been exposed to so many medicinal herbs for many years.

If the black tea and pastries had a strange taste...

It was impossible for Jane not to smell it.

Of course, Jane had her reason to be so confident.

She was sure that Victor was not setting up a trap for her.

He had no reason to poison Jane.

At least, not at the moment.

Today, he invited Jane to come to the Croft family to let her watch Luna's ending...

Victor had other motives!

And this motive....

According to Jane's estimations, it was related to Hugh!

No Way Back Chapter 253-“Miss Jane Fowler, it looks like you're quite confident dealing with the Croft family.”

Victor picked up a cup of steaming black tea.

He took a sip.

He then heaved a sigh comfortably.

“Miss Jane Fowler... Hmm, I'll call you Jane instead.”

“Whatever. Anything that makes you happy.

“But... you don't seem to have any animosity towards me. You must have asked me here because of Hugh.”

Jane went straight to the point.

It was not Jane's nature to beat around the bush with Victor.

Jane was not interested in saying something in a roundabout way.

Victor took another sip of black tea.

He was not in a hurry to answer Jane's question.

Jane did not speak and waited quietly.

She was even calmer than Victor.

“Jane, do you think everyone has their own value in a place like the Croft family?”

Victor suddenly replied with an irrelevant question.

Jane thought for a moment before replying.

“...You mean, everyone has their values, right?”

“Just like Luna. In your heart, I’m afraid she’s just a stepping stone for Hugh.

“No... It’s not just Luna. Anyone who wants to compete for the position of power in this family against Hugh has their values.

“Their value lies in testing whether Hugh can bear the entire Croft family as the heir of the family.”

If it were anyone else, such an answer would be too cold-blooded and heartless.

However, it was just right for Victor.

“That’s too much. No matter what, Luna is still my granddaughter. I actually feel very pained to treat her like this.”

“But I don’t feel there’s any pain in your words. When you ordered to get Luna’s fingers cut, you were quite decisive.” Victor was speechless.

Jane just said that bluntly without caring how Victor would feel.

Honestly, nobody had ever done this to Victor.

He couldn’t help chuckling aloud.

“Jane, you... You got balls. No wonder you dared to scheme against my granddaughter, take away my grandson, and even joke around in front of me, your elder.

“You’re so funny.”

“I’ll take that as a compliment.”

Jane remained neither humble nor pushy.

She still projected an air of calm self-confidence when faced with Victor’s terrifying gaze from time to time.

If it were an ordinary person, they would probably be trembling in fear and not dare to speak casually.

“Aging weakens a person’s murderous nature. People are tired of fighting and killing when they get old, but it doesn’t mean that they ignore the basic rules. Someone must get the punishment he deserves, “Jane. If the Croft family was as in a position as your family, we’ll talk about so-called kinship.

“But this doesn’t work in the Croft family! The slightest slack in vigilance might draw countless pairs of malicious eyes waiting to drag me down from the top! I will fall into a bottomless abyss!

“You think I went overboard with Luna because you’ve never seen me when I was in power! I’m already very tolerant! I gave Luna a chance to return to the Croft family to prove herself!”

“I know you have investigated me, so I have to clarify one thing. I have nothing to do with the Fowler family. I don’t care anything about it.”

Jane had to make this clear to Victor.

Otherwise, Victor would think that Jane had something to do with the Fowler family.

It sounded annoying.

“Since you know that I’ve investigated you, you should also know the real reason why I called you here today.

“This is the first time I’ve seen Hugh getting close to a woman. He’s the head of the Croft family. Sooner or later, he’ll get married and have children.

“I can’t correct Hugh’s thoughts and let him be as clear-sighted as me. Fortunately, Hugh’s talent is far beyond my imagination. At least when Hugh is still alive, the Croft family will be fine.

“Jane, although this is the first time I’ve met you, I can tell that you’re unfathomable. You’re qualified to be Hugh’s wife.”

With that, Victor took out a small box from his pocket and placed it in front of Jane.

He signaled with his eyes, hoping that Jane would accept this item.

“Whether I’m qualified or not is not up to you, and no one but me can decide whether I’ll be Hugh’s wife or not. Through it all, you have no right to play God in our relationship!” said Jane coldly.

She stood up and did not accept the small box.

“Old Mr. Croft, I roughly know what you mean. There’s still a long time. Hugh and I are young. We don’t need to make a decision now. That would be irresponsible to each other.

“One more thing, Old Mr. Croft, I won’t give up my life for anyone again. I’ll decide how to live my life.

“Even if I end up with Hugh, my title won’t be Hugh’s wife, but Jane Fowler!”

With that, Jane left without looking back.

Now that she knew Victor’s motive.

Jane had no reason to stay any longer.

It was obvious that Victor wanted Jane to be an ***puppet.

Jane didn’t know how Hugh’s grandmother make it through in the Croft family.

However, Jane would not accept such values being imposed on her!

Seeing that Jane was about to leave, Harper hurriedly went forward. “Miss Jane Fowler...”

Jane said coldly, “Harper, I don’t want to make things unpleasant. Please don’t stop me.”

Harper didn’t know what to say.

“Let her go.”

Victor instructed.

He picked up another cup of black tea and took a sip.

“Jane, come and have tea with me when you’re free. As long as you’re here, I’ll treat you well!”

Without giving him a response, Jane left.

Victor laughed loudly. “Heh, what a stubborn girl. Harper, don’t you think she’s like my wife when she just married me?” Harper’s eyes became thoughtful. In a daze, a woman in a yellow floral dress flashed across his mind. She was as beautiful and bright as a sunflower. He nodded.

“Indeed. Old Mr. Croft, are we just going to let Miss Jane Fowler leave?”

“With her temper, she won’t listen to me now. Besides, she’s Hugh’s fiancée. Do you want me, his grandfather, to help him woo her?” –

Victor snorted.

He wasn’t going to do such a thankless task with no subsidies!

Harper opened his ***as if he wanted to say something, but he bit the words back.

“Alright, Harper, we’ve been friends for so many years. Don’t be bashful.

“Come, sit down. If you have anything to say, just say it. There are so many pastries. Don’t waste them.”

There were no outsiders. In front of Harper, Victor seemed to have become much younger. He had returned to the carefree young man from before.

At this moment, he was not a cruel tyrant who could chop off his granddaughter with a knife.

“But Old Mr. Croft, Mr. Hugh is related to the Croft family’s future. You have to be more careful about the Croft family’s future mistress.”

Harper still spoke.

This was not what a butler should say to his boss.

Read Novel No Way Back Chapter 254

No Way Back Chapter 254-It was true that he had worked for Victor for many years.

However, the estrangement between their identities would never disappear.

Harper knew very well that this was crossing the line.

“If it were any other heir, I’d be a little more worried.

“I don’t have to worry about Hugh.”

Victor said it very casually.

“Master... you...”

“Well, it’s not like I’m getting old and useless, but do you know why I retired so early and handed over the Croft family and D.Y. Group to Hugh?

“This kid is much more powerful than I was back then. I’m decades older than him, but in terms of strength now, I’m not as good as him.

“It’s just that he’s less experienced when it comes to harming his siblings.”

Speaking of such a cruel thing....

Victor said in a casual manner as if he was talking about the weather today.

He remained calm and composed.

This was something that others did not even dare to think about.

In the Croft family, however, such things happened a lot.

If the person in charge of the Croft family lacked this bit of courage....

This so-called “benevolence” would sooner or later kill him.

No one could resist the temptation of such a huge family fortune.

Harper pursed his lips.

Of course he knew...

It had been 50 years.

For fifty years, Harper had accompanied Victor all the way here.

In the beginning, Victor did not want to be an executioner who fought against his siblings.

Later on...

Victor was numb

This was something the member of the Croft family had to go through in order to become the person in charge of the Croft family.

There was no room for rejection.

If he refused...

He was doomed.

His other brothers would not show any mercy and let him off.

The word 'power' made it too easy for people to become insensitive and cold-blooded.

"Harper, you've been by my side for so long. You should know... I'm old. I don't want to have any killing intent.

"For today's trial regarding Luna, if I had known earlier, I would have just left it to Hugh. I'm already retired, so why should I care so much?

"I'm actually thinking about going traveling with my brother. We'll just go to the places that my wife wanted to go when she was alive but didn't have the time to.

"As for Jane... Hugh will find a way to tame her. If he can't even tame a woman, what right does he have to fight for the Croft family?"

"I understand."

Harper secretly sighed.

In the final analysis, Victor's change stemmed from his wife's death.

No one could know...

Even his wife didn't know that before she ***.

How important she was in Victor's heart?

Even Victor would not be able to get an answer if he asked himself.

Hugh sent Jane back to her apartment.

*Janie, my grandfather... didn't do anything to you, right?"

Hugh spoke carefully

The depths of his eyes gradually turned cold.

If Victor dared to do anything to Jane...

"He didn't. He just made it clear to me about the survival law of the Croft family.

"By the way... your grandfather actually cares about you. For one thing, you're his grandson, and for another, you're the one in charge of the Croft family."

Jane said calmly.

For Victor, Hugh was not only Victor's blood-related grandson but also the Croft family's future.

Logically speaking. Victor could put everything aside, but not Hugh.

It involved Victor's love and responsibility for Hugh....

But only Victor knew which one took a bigger part.

"Janie..."

Hugh did not expect Jane to say such a thing. He was a little surprised.

"Hugh, I want to ask... Was your grandmother happy as Victor's wife before she **?"

Before getting out of the car, Jane unbuckled her seatbelt and stared at Hugh.

Hugh pursed his lips and recalled the elegant face in his dim memories. "... She was not happy, but she wanted to stay by Grandpa's side."

"She loved your grandpa?"

"Yes... she did, but Grandpa didn't love her that much."

Sometimes, Hugh could see his grandmother looking at Victor with infatuation.

Occasionally, there would be a hint of resentment.

If she had not met Victor and fallen in love with this man....

Would Grandma have led a different, happier, and better life?

She wouldn't have been trapped in the Croft family like a canary in a cage, living a life of scheming.

She wouldn't have to wear a fake mask and accompany Victor to all kinds of banquets. Sometimes, she had to watch the man she loved play with other women.

She wouldn't have been devoured by jealousy in her heart and it took her forever to find healing.

This was an unsolvable question.

No one knew the answer.

One was fearless when he or she was been deeply loved.

The unreachable one always made the other one restless.

In the game of "love", whoever was the first to fall in love was destined to be the **and bow down to the person they loved deeply.

At this moment...

Jane reached out and stroked Hugh's face.

Her warm palm touched Hugh's slightly cold face.

It was as if there was a chemical reaction. Hugh subconsciously looked at Jane.

“I’m just asking. Don’t look so serious.”

Hugh looked at Jane’s gentle smile.

Gradually, the coldness in Hugh’s eyes dissipated.

...Janie, promise me that no matter what happens, no matter what others say...

“You have to stick to what you think is right. Just be yourself and live your life.

“I love the unrestrained and free Jane, Do you understand?”

Hugh reached out and gently grabbed Jane’s hand that was caressing his cheek.

He enunciated each word clearly.

His eyes were burning with energy that was as bright as the sun.

“Of course. I won’t break my wings again for anyone.

“I’m Jane. I’ll keep glowing until I die.

“Hugh, if you love me, accept me. I’m not restrained, and I won’t allow myself to be imprisoned.”

Jane’s lips curled up into a smile.

Today, in the Croft family, Jane had a rough taste of Victor’s ruthlessness.

But Jane and Hugh would not be Victor and his poor wife.

The two of them had their own lives.

It was up to them to live their life, happy or sad.

They wouldn’t be manipulated by the elders of the last century!

“Yes!”

Hugh couldn't help it.

He gently leaned forward.

He realized that Jane did not refuse.

His thin lips landed a light kiss on Jane's cheek.

It was as if he had planted poppies and was obsessed with poison.

This gentle kiss was not enough.

His lips landed on her cheeks to her lips.

A kiss.

It was a deep kiss.

At the same time...

Diane was taking care of the unconscious Luna who had lost too much blood in the hospital.

Hatred surged like a tidal wave in her eyes.

"Jane..."

"She is unforgivable!"

"If it wasn't for you, my precious daughter wouldn't have ended up like this!"
Diane thought with resentment.

Read Novel No Way Back Chapter 255

No Way Back Chapter 255-Diane had suppressed her killing intent because of Raymond.

But the thought of this rekindled her desire to take revenge!

Layne walked into the ward.

"Mom... take a break. Let me take care of Luna,"

“Layne, where’s your dad?”

“Dad is still dealing with the aftermath at the old residence. I think he’s arranging the procedures for Luna to leave the country.

When Diane heard this, she could not hold it in anymore. She covered her face in floods of tears.

“Does he have to be so heartless and why make it so fast? Luna has become like this. He’s her father!

“No matter how incompetent she is, we raised her since she was young. She’s also my dear daughter, and I worked hard to give birth to her after I was pregnant for nine months!”

“Mom... don’t be like this. Now that things have come to this, Dad must be feeling terrible.

“But we have no choice. Grandpa has already given the order. Do we have any room to resist? Everything we have today belongs to the Croft family...”

Layne was also heartbroken.

But what happened today...

It was already expected.

Moreover, Victor had given Luna a chance to return to Cruksia.

However, this “chance”...

If Luna wanted to seize the chance with her ability...

It was undoubtedly harder than ascending to the heavens!

Diane suddenly fell silent.

Her eyes were slightly lowered, and it was unknown what she was thinking

Layne sighed softly and walked forward to pat Diane on the shoulder.

“Mom, I know you’re concerned about Luna. Don’t worry. Even if she goes overseas, we can still video call each other or secretly go to see Luna.

“We can give Luna her living expenses regularly, and I’m sure she can live very well overseas.

“Regarding what you said just now, I know that you’re having a mental breakdown. Don’t let Dad hear it. Otherwise, you’ll be the only one who gets hurt.”

“...Layne, as Luna’s brother, you must avenge your sister!”

Diane suddenly looked up and grabbed Layne’s arm tightly.

His eyes were filled with killing intent.

“ ... ”

Layne could not help but be stunned.

Yes... Revenge, Layne thought he should take revenge.

“That bitch Jane had brought me so much humiliation and even sowed discord between me and Madelyn.

“She made a move against Luna and recorded that kind of humiliating video of her, causing Luna to lose three fingers: and be chased out of the country”
Layne said to himself inwardly.

In terms of reasons for revenge, Layne had ten thousand reasons to kill Jane!

But...

Why?

When Diane grabbed Layne’s arm and wanted Layne to take revenge on Jane for Luna...

Layne’s mind flashed with the image of Jane. She was confident and radiant. She had won the world championship and enjoyed the admiration of thousands of people. She was like a noble queen.

Why did he think of Jane like this?

Why was he so resistant to the words “revenge against Jane”?

Could it be

“No! That’s impossible! The person I’ve been in love with is little Maddie since I was young! There’s no doubt about it! “How could I have feelings for Jane!” Layne told himself in his heart.

When Diane saw that Layne was hemming and hawing and was unwilling to respond, she quickly said, “Layne, what’s wrong? Even if it’s not for your sister, Jane is still the enemy of you, me, and the Fowler family

“Mom... Let’s talk about this later. We should take care of Luna first”

Diane was lost for words.

All of a sudden, Diane had a feeling that she did not know Layne.

In an instant...

Diane seemed to realize something.

It was something that Diane was once afraid of.

That was, Layne might be invisibly affected by Jane because of Jane’s real identity and his engagement with the Fowler family.

In addition, Jane deliberately seduced Layne for she coveted the Croft family’s power.

Now...

Things had already gone beyond Diane’s control.

That night...

Jane took a shower.

Soon, she received a call from Clarence.

“Mr. York, what’s wrong?”

“Queen, it’s like this... Given your outstanding performance in the rescue mission in Eastshel, the higher-ups are very satisfied with you.

“We want your members to receive the honor. Meanwhile... we’d like to offer you and your members a work opportunity to become a state-secret online action team!”

Clarence had once mentioned this to Jane, but she did not expect this would come so fast.

Jane pursed her lips.

“Queen, there’s no need to answer me immediately. I know you have your own concerns. Have a good discussion with your team members.

“If you can officially become a hacker and serve the country, your safety and information will be strongly guaranteed. Of course, as the number one hacker of the Darknet, you might not care about this.

“The point is that the country’s backup information bank can be used by you during missions!”

Clarence’s words hit the nail on the head.

This indeed tempted Jane.

As the Darknet’s number one hacker, Jane had access to many databases.

But the defense for a country’s information server was watertight.

In other words, it could not be hacked. It would never be able to find a loophole to hack into.

It went without saying that a country’s information server stored many things that were unknown to others.

Even Jane was extremely curious about them.

If she could master this information server, many things in the world would no longer be a secret b Jane.

Except...

“I’ll talk to my member.”

“Alright, I’ll wait for your news.”

After hanging up, Jane mentioned everyone in the WeChat group of the Red Star Team.

“Tomorrow at three in the afternoon, put aside what you’re doing and gather at the base. I have something important to announce! You must be there!”

“Roger that!”

The next day.

At 3:00 p.m.

Jane arrived at Red Star Team’s base on time.

Marlon, Connor, Marquise, and Liliana were already waiting there.

They were discussing what announcement would Jane make since she gathered everyone here all of a sudden.

When they saw Jane, they greeted her, “Hello, Queen!”

Marlon stepped forward and asked, “Queen, is there a new mission for our team?”

After saying that, he rubbed his palms together excitedly.

The other three members all did so with excitement written on their faces.

It seemed that the victory of Hotel Molov had given the four team members great confidence.

This was also what Jane wanted to see.

After half a year of training, coupled with the skills of the four of them, they were already very powerful.

They just needed to win a battle! It would completely set their passion aflame!

“This isn’t a new mission. It’s something else.”

Jane relayed Clarence’s message to the members of the Red Star Team.

When the latter heard this, they were all stunned.

“Queen, do you mean... as long as we join, not only will we get the country’s promise, but we can also use the national database?”

No Way Back Chapter 256-Toward the end....

Connor cried out in excitement.

“Gosh, that’s Cruksia’s information bank!”

“That’s simply a god-level library for a hacker. How much knowledge can it accommodate that’s inaccessible to the outside!”

Liliana and Marlon chattered.

Even Marquise, who had always kept his ****, was so excited that his face was flushed.

For those who use cyber technology to try to understand the truth about the world’s cover-up.... This was an irresistible temptation.

“The access level won’t be high for starters, so we definitely couldn’t get all of them, and all we have access to is the surface.

“Surely, as more missions are completed, we will definitely be able to unlock higher access, and we’ll be an official organization of the country.

“There’s one thing you guys should be prepared for... If Red Star Team chooses to be incorporated into the country’s organization, we will lose most of our freedom.”

Jane said to the point.

The four of them fell silent.

They could be invited by the country to become a “warrior” who served the country.

Furthermore, they could also access the information library.

It was indeed a huge temptation.

If they had to abandon his freedom because of this...

As the ancients said, "Life is precious, love is even more valuable, but both can be abandoned for the sake of freedom."

They chose to become a civil society organization to serve the country spontaneously.

It was all for "freedom"!

"Ahhh! What a difficult choice! My head is spinning!"

Connor couldn't figure it out. He squatted on the ground and scratched his handsome bangs messy.

"Me too!"

"I'm greedy. I want both."

"No, I can't think of anything. Queen, you make the decision for us. We'll listen to you!"

Jane met the four-man team's trusting gaze.

She pressed her lips together and nodded. "Since you want me to make a decision, then... I have a suggestion here. Listen to it first."

The next day.

In Harbor City.

Clarence received a call from Jane last night.

On the phone, Jane said that she would bring her team to the base of the No. 7 Scientific Research Organization in Harbor City to talk to Clarence and his superiors personally.

Clarence agreed after asking for instructions.

Tristin brought the members of the Red Star Team in front of him.

They met in the conference room.

“Have a seat.”

Clarence served tea for Jane and her members.

As for the four members of the Red Star Team, they could not help but ****their tongues as they looked at the huge research base.

As far as they knew, they had only seen such a base in movies.

Who would have thought that they could see it with their eyes one day?

Recognition of irises, infrared strafing, and all kinds of high-tech products were available here.

Jane was the only one who sat down calmly.

“Mr. York, where’s Yale?”

“He’s still working on the experiments. Recently, his research has reached a critical juncture. He has been staying in the laboratory for a few days.”

“I understand, Mr. York. If there’s anything you need my help with, just let me know.”

“Queen, you must be joking. At this juncture, it’s no longer my place to interfere. Everyone has to listen to the professor.”

Clarence did not say the word “Yale” explicitly.

It was true that Clarence trusted Jane

But the four people Jane brought...

It was the first time they had met.

Jane guaranteed that the four of them were trustworthy. If anything happened, Jane would be responsible for all the consequences.

But Clarence believed it was better to be careful.

The topic of Yale was skipped.

Clarence intertwined his hands and stepped forward slightly with a serious expression, "Well... Tell me your conditions, Queen."

"Our conditions are very simple. Members and I don't like to be restrained. We yearn to do things freely.

"So... it's very simple for us to join a cybersecurity organization appointed by the country.

"As the captain, I need absolute autonomy and freedom! No one is allowed to interfere with our team's authority!" "Well..."

A frown crept across Clarence's forehead almost imperceptibly.

Then, he sighed.

"If it's up to me, I'm willing to believe you, Queen. I'll give you the most freedom and independent authority. "Because I know you won't betray this country. Your love for this country runs deeper than anyone else's. It's engraved in your bones.

"And I know only by freely leading this team can you unleash their greatest ability and fight for all the benefits for the country.

"It's just that I don't have the final say... The higher-ups admire you, but that doesn't mean they can trust you." "Thank you for your trust, Mr. York. That's why I brought my team here to personally negotiate the terms.

"Now, Mr. York, please follow my request last night and let me have a long distance video chat with someone who has a say about this."

"Alright, he really wants to see you too."

Clarence got up and went to the computer in the conference room to operate it.

After a short wait, he finally obtained the other party's permission.

"The higher-ups said that they'll only meet you and your team

"I'll go out first. Oh right... if you see him, don't be too surprised."

Clarence gave Jane a piece of advice and left.

Jane was left a little confused.

Why did he mean by saying “don’t be too surprised”...

It couldn’t be someone Jane knew, right?

“We’ve got a visual, Queen.”

Marlon shouted.

Jane looked at the projection in front of her and a figure appeared.

Jane could not help but be dumbfounded when she saw the person’s face clearly.

She finally realized why Clarence told her not to be surprised.

Because this person...

He was so young!

He had a baby face.

However, he had a mature hairstyle.

His hair was combed sleek.

Black and white intertwined.

He was wearing a black suit that didn’t match his childish-looking face. He was about 5.9 feet tall.

Jane quickly recovered from her shock.

“It’s an honor to meet you, Queen, the legendary number one hacker of the Darknet, and your team members.

“Let me introduce myself. I’m the person in charge of the Cybersecurity Information Center in Cruksia. Just call me King.”

Pfft...

Marlon and the others could not help but twitch their lips.

Although...

It was normal to have a code name for a hacker.

They weren't supposed to be surprised.

However, the baby-faced man in front of her clearly had a high status.

And he used the code name "King"...

It was the opposite of "Queen."

It was obvious that it was impossible to make him and Jane a couple just like doing the character pairing in the entertainment industry.

If it was intentional.

This meant a silent battle between him and Jane.

It was a declaration of war.

Jane looked at the man in the video indifferently and said, "Very good, King. Mr. York should tell you my suggestion. What do you think?"

"...Queen, you should know how difficult it is to ask for absolute freedom and the authority not to be allowed to interfere in working under a national organization."

Read Novel No Way Back Chapter 257

No Way Back Chapter 257- "Despite the fact that Mr. York vouches for your character, and is also aware of your contribution to the No. 7 Scientific Research Organization and your team's service to the country....

"If you or one of your team members intends to betray us, the authority given to you will become the most lethal weapon against us.

"Promises are useless. We must make the most rational judgment."

King spoke in a very mature voice.

He meant to reject Jane but his words made it hard for one to feel offended.

It was a pity to give up on such a powerful team.

It was precisely because they were powerful that if anything happened, no one could bear the consequences!

"I understand, King. I don't have much hope for this negotiation.

"There's only one thing I have to make clear in advance!

"Red Star Team will never betray the country. The purpose of its existence is for the five of us to gather together to make the country better and repel those Internet vermin who want to harm the country!

"Even if we can't become a national organization, we won't stop what we're doing. We will try our best to make all the better choices! I'm sorry! I've taken much of your time!"

Jane openly accepted this result.

The other four members of the team straightened their faces when they heard Jane's words.

Jane's answer was exactly what they wanted.

Jane thought that the negotiation was over and wanted Clarence to come in and turn off the video call.

Since it didn't work, she thought she might as well end it early and meet Yale to see if there was anything he could do to help with the manufacturing progress of the photolithography machine.

"Man, don't be so rigid. I think Miss Queen is right.

"Didn't you rely on her team to successfully resolve the incident at Hotel Molov? Don't tell me that you're jealous of their ability and deliberately made things difficult for them."

A teasing voice sounded.

Another man who was a carbon copy of King appeared.

However, he was wearing a floral suit that did not match the solemn equipment behind him.

“You are...”

“Oh, let me introduce myself first. My name is Hunter Lourd, and this is my younger brother, Hayden Lourd. He finds his name too lame, so he asks others to call him King.

“Hahaha, isn’t he a little childish? My brother is simply a man-child. By the way, my code name is Gaia.”

Hunter patted Hayden’s head.

Hayden was speechless as he muttered in his heart.

“What the fuck!

“Is he still my brother?

“He just sold out all my identity information!”

The members of the Red Star Team were all dumbfounded. Childish?

Speaking of this, Hunter was more childish than Hayda

Calling himself Gaia, did he think that he was an Ultraman?

But this code name...

It was familiar.

“In 2001, there were two hackers who resisted Meridonia’s cyberattack alone under the extremely simple cyber conditions and equipment of Cruksia at that time.

Also, a parasitic virus was used to cause the Internet firewall of Meridonia to completely collapse. It was only a month later that the subsequent loopholes were repaired

“One of the hackers was codenamed Gaia. The addressed as unknown X

ker did not have a codename at the time and was

“After this battle, two hackers from Cruksia shocked the world, but they disappeared from the public eye at an extremely fast speed without any news”

Connor said in surprise, “2001, now it’s 2030 It’s been 29 years?”

Marlon exclaimed, “Ah! It all came to me! In Cruksia’s Hacker Chronicles, there are indeed records of these two hackers who made a brief appearance in the public eye!”

Liliana added, “I didn’t expect them to be recruited by the country as the person in charge of the Cyber Information Security Center. And they’re twins!”

Marquise sighed. “They look so young”

Marquise’s comment hit the nail on the head

If they were walking on the road, how could one expect that they were already in their fifties and were the heads of the national Cyber Information Security Center?

They could only treat him as a 20-year old youth who was preparing for SAT test.

The corners of Hunter’s lips curled up. “I didn’t expect Queen to remember the two of us. I’m really honored”

“As a hacker from Cruksia, if I forget the two of you, I’ll be ashamed to call myself Cruksian

“Because of your deeds, the domestic computer industry has developed rapidly from then on and all kinds of talents emerged in an endless stream.

“In a sense, at that time, the two of you were like heroes who retaliated fiercely against Cruksia. The butterfly effect that followed affected me and my team members.”

Jane gave the two people in front of her the highest evaluation.

More or less...

The history of Internet development in Cruksia began with the achievements of these two people.

Now, they were sitting in the position that represented the highest authority in the Internet center of Cruksia.

It was also a kind of “medal for heroes.

“Well... we’re really flattered to hear that.

“Time makes it inevitable that in every profession the rising generation is worthier than the former one. At that time, we were also paying attention to the incident at Hotel Molov

“But we can’t find a signal transmitter in time to hack into the hotel network from the inside like your Red Star Team. “We’re getting old and useless. Hayden, don’t you think we should give more opportunities to young people?”

“Forget it, Hunter. Tell them yourself.”

Hayden pursed his lips speechlessly

He stood up and gave his seat to Hunter.

“Tsk, all I did was catch you on the raw. Is there a need to be angry with your brother?”

“Queen, don’t lower yourself to this guy’s level. This boy is just like a little kid. He won’t grow up. Haha!”

Hunter took the opportunity to sit on Hayden’s previous seat.

In an instant, his expression changed.

There was still a faint smile hanging on his lips.

At this moment, even with a harmless baby face, it was impossible to ignore the boldness emitted by him. Marlon and the others could clearly sense this and could not help but straighten their bodies.

“Next... let’s talk about the conditions”

Jane nodded and said, “I’m all ears.”

“We have a case here. I’ll give you one day to help us destroy the network system inside and eliminate all evidence.

"Of course, you can discuss with your team members if you want to accept this case..."

"There's no need to discuss. We'll take it now!"

Jane answered decisively without any hesitation.

"That's right. Since there's a chance, we must fight for it!"

"Does this mean you'll agree to our demand as long as we complete this case?"

Marlon and the others spoke one after another.

"Of course!"

No Way Back Chapter 258-The matter was settled.

Jane notified Clarence and quickly returned to Stormton City with the Red Star Team.

When they arrived at the base, they received the details of the case from Hunter.

It was time for the official operation.

The video call ended.

With his legs crossed, Hunter spun back and forth on the chair. He had a smile on his lips, and no one knew what he was thinking.

Hayden crossed his arms and leaned against the wall. Looking at his brother's expression, he sighed softly. "Hunter, is there a dumb idea fermented in your mind?"

"What nonsense are you talking about? Hayden, show some respect to your brother. I'm thinking about the future of Cruksia! How can you say that I'm thinking of a dumb idea?"

"Are you willing to let go of so many talents from the Red Star Team?"

"I... Of course not, but they want absolute freedom and authority. What can I do?"

"If anything happens, it's not something we can afford. They'll officially become the country's action team. As the authority is unlocked, they can use the country's information server!"

Hayden's cute baby face revealed a rare expression of dilemma.

Hayden would rather stay up late to write code.

Now that he was old, at least this was something he could handle easily.

It wouldn't be as troublesome as incorporating the Red Star Team.

"You're afraid that one of them will betray the country. It's very reasonable to reject their request given that you want to eliminate this possibility.

"But from another perspective, if such a powerful team falls into the hands of other countries in the future, they will also become our most troublesome enemy.

"After the incident at Hotel Molov, Eastshel already knows that Queen led her members to solve the problem. They will definitely extend an olive branch to recruit this team.

"It's not just Eastshel. The other countries will soon know about the existence of the Red Star Team and try every means to attract it.

"In other words, we still have to bet on the patriotism of this team, right?"

Hunter casually flipped through the information on the members of the Red Star Team.

His fingertip gently tapped on Jane's profile picture.

Hayden pulled his hair in frustration.

"This isn't my job in itself. I'm just a code writer and administrator.

“It’s all because you shifted the task onto me... Damn it! You’ve already thought of how to settle Red Star Team, right?” “Don’t be silly. We’re talking about a team that’s more powerful than us. If I don’t make a surefire plan, any slight carelessness may result in a catastrophe.

“That’s why I chose this trial. Hayden, give them the information about Rose and let them complete the mission in a day.”

Hayden was slightly stunned.

Information about Rose?

Wasn’t that...

The moment the twins looked at each other, Hayden seemed to understand something.

“I got it.”

In Stormton City

In the base of the Red Star Team.

Jane and the others made it there.

Various equipment was activated. The preparations were complete. Jane sent a message to Hunter.

Soon, a document was sent over.

There were a few words “official start” sent by Hunter that flashed up on the screen.

Jane sent the file to the main computer as quickly as possible and shared it with the team members.

After Liliana finished reading the information, he muttered, “Rose, an organization in Bufentea, specializes in combating the abduction of women and children... There doesn’t seem to be anything suspicious from the information alone.”

“Don’t be careless. The underground human trafficking organization that we destroyed previously is superficially responsible for taking care of the old people.

“Many underground organizations with a vile nature use legitimate identities or even public welfare to disguise themselves. This is the reason why we hackers exist to investigate.”

“Yes!”

The team began to work in an orderly manner.

They had worked together for half a year and during which, they had come so far.

They won a huge victory over the Hotel Molov invasion with their joint efforts.

Now, everyone in the Red Star Team had a real connection.

It was as if there was no need to explain.

And everyone would be able to understand what they were going to do next.

It only took three hours.

They hacked into Rose’s database successfully.

Jane glanced at the time.

It was eight in the afternoon.

After everything was done, Jane could lead the team to eat.

Connor was the first to notice that something was wrong.

“Queen, take a look at this.”

He sent the information he had compiled to Jane.

Jane took a sip of mineral water and opened the document sent by Connor.

After she read it, Jane’s expression darkened slightly.

“Queen, we didn’t find anything strange here either...”

“This organization seems to really be a normal organization that saves women and children from trafficking.

“Moreover, they’ve been organizing information recently to determine the criteria for an international public interest organization.”

Marlon and the others also found something wrong.

Jane pursed her lips.

She casually checked it.

There was a public welfare organization in Cruksia that would participate in the activity.

Was it a coincidence?

Or...

“Queen, I don’t think this organization is a badass alliance. At least, they didn’t leave any evidence on the server. “Any clues on your end?”

Jane said, shaking her head, “While you guys were busy, I was investigating the background of this organization. It’s found to be indeed clean. It’s just a public welfare organization.”

“Well...”

Even Jane had said so.

Marlon and the others looked at each other, all silent.

Attacking such a foreign public welfare organization completely violated the bottom line and the original intention of the Red Star Team.

However, Hunter had requested to destroy the server data of the organization in order to pass their application for full freedom and complete autonomy.

They were now caught in a dilemma.

At this moment, the order given by Hunter and their original intention were placed on the scale.

It swayed left and right.

They were struggling to make a decision.

Finally...

The members of the Red Star Team turned their eyes to Jane.

Jane closed her eyes and stood up.

Everyone thought that Jane had made a decision.

In the end...

“Let’s go eat first,” Jane said.

“Eat?”

Everyone looked at Jane in confusion.

“It’s already eight o’clock in the evening. We haven’t even eaten lunch. Although work is important, your health is your life.

“If there’s no health, then there’s nothing left. Moreover, we’ve already figured out Rose’s true colors. There’s still a long time before the one-day deadline they gave us.”

Liliana could not help but say, “But... Queen, they want to destroy the data. We...”

“All we can do is eat first, then come back and investigate everything about Rose without leaving any traces, right?*

As soon as Jane said that, the members of the Red Star Team immediately knew Jane’s decision.

“Yes!”

The next day.

At four o'clock in the afternoon.

Jane finally called.

Hunter picked up the call. "How is it? Has Rose's data been completely destroyed?"

Hayden was sorting out the information at the side.

No Way Back Chapter 259-Hearing Hunter's words, Hayden stopped what he was doing.

He gave Hunter a look of deep significance.

"We didn't destroy Rose's data."

"The Red Star Team only spent three hours hacking into Rose's server, but we spent 20 hours investigating everything about Rose."

"After careful observation, we found that Rose is a genuine public welfare organization. There's nothing fake about it.

"Our Red Star Team will never take action against such an organization!"

Jane said coldly.

"Queen, this is an order. It's also a trial.

"Have you decided to give up on this mission by saying such words?"

Hunter's tone suddenly turned cold.

An invisible pressure was transmitted to Jane through the phone.

Jane was on speaker.

The members of the Red Star Team were all beside Jane.

Their stomachs were in knots at Hunter's words.

"That's right, I choose to give up!"

Jane's answer was decisive and without hesitation.

She was not affected by Hunter at all.

"As smart as you are, you should know why I asked you to destroy Rose's server.

"This is also indirectly for the glory of Crucsia. It's easy as pie for your team.

“The test of this mission is to check your loyalty. You only need to press a button and your team will be able to get access to the national information bank! You will be recognized by the country! From then on, many things will be easier for you!

“This is an inescapable vault for hackers who want to explore the world. Are you going to give up at the last step?” Hunter took a deep breath.

He was like a demon tempting humans to open Pandora’s box.

Pandora’s box had the treasure that humans dreamed of.

It was hard for one to resist this temptation no matter how strong his will was.

However...

“Such glory is not what Cruksia needs, nor is it something our Red Star Team would fight for.

“If the prerequisite for us to obtain autonomy is that we have to cross the bottom line against our conscience, then we’d rather give up, and we’ll never do such a thing!

“Mr. Lourd, I’m sure you don’t know the bottom line of the Red Star Team. Let me repeat it for you!

“First, we can’t endanger national security.

“Secondly, we can’t betray the bottom line of humanity.

“Thirdly, never stand against the innocent.

“Your mission is completely against our team’s three bottom lines. Forgive me for not obeying you!”

Jane’s voice cannot conceal the anger in her tone.

She almost growled.

Hunter’s actions were simply humiliating the Red Star Team!

If people didn’t even care about their bottom line, what was the difference between them and those bastards in the Flower family?

Jane would never cross the bottom line to hurt the innocent at the cost of her life!

Instead, she would choose to fight for what she wanted openly!

If the person in charge of the Cyber Information Security Department in Crucsia was such a person, Jane would be extremely disappointed! There would be no possibility of cooperation between them in this lifetime!

This was the first time Marlon and the others had seen Jane so angry.

After being stunned for a moment, they all spoke.

“Yeah, we’re with Queen!”

“Rose is innocent. We won’t be against it!”

“Even if we stay as a civil society organization in the future, it’s much better than crossing the bottom line and living like zombies!”

“What information bank? We don’t give it a **care!”

“Hahaha…”

Hunter suddenly laughed out loud.

He couldn’t help but clap.

“Why are you laughing?”

Jane frowned imperceptibly.

People might think that Hunter was laughing at them because he thought they were so young and ***that they gave up such a good opportunity in a moment of anger.

However, Jane sensed that Hunter’s laughter did not carry such emotions.

Instead…

Was it an acknowledgment for them?

“You’ve passed, Red Star Team.

“According to the agreement, we will give you absolute autonomy. Your work is almost the same as before.

“Many things will be easier for you guys and you enjoy the privilege at the national level. At the same time, the national database will be opened for you to search for information.

“Of course, the higher level of authority in the database has to be unlocked gradually by your achievements. This is what we agreed on.”

Hunter’s sudden words made Jane and the others at a loss for what to say.

Jane narrowed her eyes, exuding a dangerous aura. “What do you mean?”

“Literally. When your Red Star Team found a way to hack into the internal network of Hotel Molov and successfully resolve the shocking and terrible incidents internationally, your ability would have qualified.

“Regarding the incident about Hotel Molov, even the cybersecurity of so many countries could not resolve it. In terms of ability, your team is undoubtedly the strongest.

“No matter how difficult the mission is, it won’t be a problem for your Red Star Team. The most important meaning of this trial is to test if you can uphold your bottom line and stick to it at the critical moment.

“Just like what my brother said, when you come into contact with the national database, we can’t be sure if you will leak it. This is not a test of your ability, but of your character!”

“...I see.”

The misunderstanding was resolved.

Jane finally understood Hunter’s good intentions.

“For hackers, it’s indeed an irresistible temptation to have access to a national-level information bank and be able to retain absolute autonomy and even enjoy the national privilege.

“You’re using these conditions as bait to see what we’re going to do, right?”

“That’s right. Your answer can be said to be perfect. Hayden, after seeing what Red Star Team did, you probably have nothing to say, right?”

After saying that, Hunter glanced at Hayden with a smile.

“...Let’s wait and see.”

Hayden pursed his lips and relented.

At least for now, the team’s performance was indeed perfect.

Who knew what would happen in the future?

He would deal with it when the time came.

“Then it’s settled. Queen, congratulations on officially joining our country’s Cyber Information Security Center! Your team is now the most special action team!

“If you have time, you can bring the Red Star Team’s members to the headquarters for a tour. According to you, you want to use your own base and not be restricted, right?”

“Yes! Thank you, Mr. Lourd!”

“Also... I have to remind you something. We’ve already made an unimaginable concession by allowing you to join.

“If anything happens to the Red Star Team, Queen, you must bear the greatest responsibility. As the person who agrees with your willful conditions, I will also take full responsibility and resign!”

“Hunter!”

No Way Back Chapter 260- With a surprised look, Hayden wanted to say something.

But Hunter stopped him with a gesture.

“Thank you, Mr. Lourd. I believe that my team members will not do anything to harm the country!

“If I didn’t even have this bit of trust and foresight, I wouldn’t have created the Red Star Team from the beginning. I might as well go solo!”

Jane’s deep eyes were now sparkling with joy.

Marlon and the others felt the deep trust from Jane.

They could not help but be moved.

Jane was their “idol”, the “captain” who had led them to climb countless peaks and reach unimaginable heights,

Without Jane, they might at most end up forming a civil society organization, and their skills would not be able to advance further.

They could never reach where they were today! They had obtained the approval of the country! They had even saved a huge crisis!

Jane was like a light that illuminated their originally dark future!

They had 100% confidence in Jane.

What made them even happier was...

Jane, such a powerful, confident, and dazzling person, completely trusted them.

She was unwavering and extremely determined!

At this moment...

Marlon and the others could not help but swear in their hearts.

Even if it meant betraying everything in this world, they absolutely could not betray Jane...

This came from Jane’s “trust” in them!

Even if the entire world would stand against Jane, the Red Star Team would also stand firmly by Jane's side. They would be her strongest back to fight against the entire world!

"Queen, this promise is enough.

"Also... you didn't really think that we wanted you guys to destroy the Rose server just now so that our country's organization would be recognized, right?"

Hunter said aggrievedly.

He was a little angry!

He needed someone to comfort him.

"Ahem, ahem, ahem!"

Jane coughed a few times.

After a lot of twists and turns, this matter was finally concluded.

"After the New Year, find a time to come to the headquarters and take a look. By the way, take your access cards.

"I'll give you access to the information your team currently has.

"The headquarters will also arrange an office for you. Of course, it's up to you whether you use it or not."

"Thank you, Mr. Lourd."

The call ended.-

Jane looked at her team members.

All of them stared at Jane with tears brimming in their eyes.

Jane was stunned.

"What... are you doing?"

*Boohoo! Queen, I'm so touched! I can't take it anymore!"

Shaun was the first to rush in front of Jane and give her a hug. He was crying profusely.

Jane didn't know what to say.

Following Shaun, the other three also pounced on Jane.

Even Marquise, who was unemotional and reserved, made such a move.

Jane was dumbfounded.

Their sudden actions put her on the ground.

Jane got up and dusted herself off.

"So? Give me an explanation?"

"We heard what you said to Mr. Lourd just now. I didn't expect you to trust us so much..."

Marlon sobbed.

Their trust in each other was two-way.

This was such a wonderful thing.

"Are you ***?"

Jane rolled her eyes.

The four men were dumbfounded.

"We've long been trusted partners. It's been half a year... No, from the beginning, I chose the four of you to form a team.

"I've already made myself very clear Do you think I was just putting on a show? If I don't trust you guys, I might as well go solo.

“Why would I bother myself to personally train you guys? You think I got nothing else to do?”

“If we don’t have a tacit understanding with each other, how could the case about Rose and Hotel Molov be resolved so quickly? What we’re doing is a labor of love?”

Jane ***their foreheads one by one

They gritted their teeth in pain.

But deep down in their hearts, they were filled with joy!

They were so excited that it was as if they had wings and were about to fly into the sky.

This was the first time they felt it personally....

This team was their other home, a safe haven, and a habitat.

It felt like they had completely integrated into this place!

The four of them had ***smiles on their faces, no longer as reserved and nervous as when they first met half a year ago.

Jane’s lips curled into a smile. “To celebrate our complete victory this time, do you want to treat me, the captain, to a feast?”

“Of course!”

“I’m just afraid that you won’t like it...”

“Cut the ***and get ready! I’m in a good mood today! Not only do I want delicious food, but I also want the best wine!”

“I got this!”

Shaun patted his chest.

Since it was Shaun who spoke, Jane thought he was going to take them to Cloudnine Restaurant for dinner.

After all, that was the Luther family's business.

In the end...

Shaun brought them to a new place.

It was a top-notch castle-looking restaurant built in the center of the lake by the shore of Lake Visu.

It was named "Starry Restaurant".

There were two paths leading to the restaurant.

One was an elevator-type conveyor belt.

The other type was a walking wooden bridge.

Protective measures were in place and dazzling lights were hung up.

Everything about the restaurant had an air of luxury and it was not hard to guess how expensive it was to build such a posh restaurant in the park area in the center of Stormton City

The minimum cost was 150 million dollars.

Liliana said in surprise, "The second branch of Cloudnine Restaurant... Shaun, when was it done? We haven't even heard the news yet."

"Just half a month ago, but it hasn't officially opened for business yet. It's only the trial period now. Only distinguished guests who have received an invitation can go in for a meal.

*Since it's branded as the Cloudnine Restaurant branch of the Luther Group, we naturally have to make sure every detail is perfect."

Shaun introduced as he led everyone to the entrance of Starry Restaurant.

The store manager had already received a call from Shaun. He bowed respectfully and specially prepared an extra table for Shaun and the others.

After all, Shaun was the boss's son.

Jane and the others walked through the red carpet under the castle's glazed lamps.

They finally took their seats.

Jane opened the menu and her originally indifferent gaze became a little interested.

When she first heard that it was a branch of Cloudnine Restaurant, Jane thought that the dishes on the menu were similar to Cloudnine Restaurant's.

She had thought that she would have the same food as she was in Cloudnine Restaurant except that the environment was new.

Unexpectedly, the dishes on the menu featured specialties from Tansico and Yalondy.

They were different from those in Cloudnine Restaurant which featured specialties from Yalondy and Floricia.

The former was characterized by "spicy" food.

The latter was "characteristic".

"In order to balance the two restaurants, after much consideration, my father and brother decided to use the slogan of the second branch of Cloudnine Restaurant to change the focus of the cuisine.

"Of course, Cloudnine Restaurant's signature dish is also available here. To have a full new experience, you can try the food here in Tansico and Yalondy.

"That's a great decision!"

Shaun was really something.

At this moment...

A beautiful young woman in a red evening gown with an artistic air walked over.

“Manager, is it time?”

This voice... Why did it sound so familiar?
