

O Summoner 1251

Chapter 1251 Infiltrating The Silver City II

"First, your leader sends an assassin to kill off the Mother of Dragons. And now, you dare insult our Mother Goddess! Words will never sate our anger here, Angel Gabriel. I want all of you to kneel and apologize!" Drakness stated as his power covered the entire sky making it look as if it was nighttime.

Adrian had to stop himself from laughing because there is only one thing that angels will never do. They will never bow towards another being that is not an angel of higher rank or their beloved goddess. The angels that serve the Goddess of Light believe that they are above others and will never bow towards them even if they are the ones at fault.

"You know damn well, overgrown black lizard that angels bow to no one!" A booming voice filled with majesty stated as Adrian suddenly backed off the entrance as he knew that someone powerful was going out.

Adrian made sure to conceal every energy in his being and it was not difficult. The strange tree planted deep inside his soul could temporarily house all of his energy to make it seem like he is dead. A bright being could be seen coming out of the gates of the Silver City.

An angel that could be said to have the perfect humanoid body. Blonde hair that glistens with light and six wings that are of the purest white color. Three halos are even adorning his head that showed his authority as an angel.

"Mikhail!" Gabriel shouted as he did not expect that he would come out as he was needed to stabilize the Silver City.

Mikhail was told to not leave the Silver City because he is using his power to manipulate light to stabilize their home dimension. Mikhail then sent a telepathic message to Gabriel to say that three of the Supreme Angels are maintaining the Silver City while he is out. Mikhail knows of Gabriel's ability, but this is the Dark Dragon King in front of them.

The Dark Dragon King is their antithesis, and his energy is more powerful than them as of now. The angels are still recuperating from being cut off for a long time. Gabriel will need Mikhail's aid to make sure that no other angel will perish should this involve a fight.

Adrian smiled as the angels are no longer focused on the surrounding but the angry Drakness. He immediately went near the gate to test if he could pass through. He made sure to let loose some sun energy in his body so that some light elemental energy is present.

"Lo and behold! I can actually pass through!" Adrian thought to himself as he immediately slipped inside the gates of the Silver City.

"Do you fluttering doves admit your wrong doings?!" Drakness once again stated.

"I believe that you are being too hasty in accusing us, overgrown black lizard. We did not offend any of you and if that angel did attack the Mother of Dragons then she has already paid it with her life. Is there any reason why you are still angry?!" Mikhail stated in his haughty tone.

"You have already failed to kneel when I was still being reasonable. It seems that all of you have forgotten that we allow you to be haughty because we pity what happened to you. But it seems that the demons are more civilized than fluttering birds such as yourselves. Dragons! Make sure that all the angels present here will kneel!" Drakness commanded as he released a powerful amount of the dark element from his very wings.

"It seems that it did result in a fight just like what Sir Equinox said." Ark stated.

"You do know that you are older than him, right?" Pana stated.

"Enough talking. Equinox said that he is already inside. We just need to hold out until he has finished his objective." Basil stated as she emitted the aura of the Mother of Dragons which powered up all the dark elemental dragons.

"Angels! Show these overgrown lizards our might!" Mikhail stated as all the angels released light elemental energy to fight off the dark elemental energy.

"Mikhail! Why did you command the attack? We still do not know where the demon that was supposed to be the one accusing us is." Gabriel stated as he did not like the sudden attack between both sides.

"You actually dare to lecture me, Gabriel?" Mikhail stated in his calm tone but the underlying hint of anger from Mikhail shut Gabriel up.

"I apologize but make sure that no one dies here. It would be disastrous if the dragons retaliate against us." Gabriel stated in a rather meek tone as he is afraid of Mikhail, but he had to swallow his dissatisfaction because he is weaker than Mikhail.

"No worries. Even demons cannot pass through the barrier because they cannot contain light elemental energy in their bodies. If a being that does not have light elemental energy passes through the barrier, then I would have felt it already." Mikhail stated.

=====

"So, this is the Silver City, huh! It is too flashy just like the videos and no real aesthetic. Just like a gaudy porcelain sculpture that was just created to be sold immediately." Adrian muttered to himself as he started to look for the Sun Disk.

Adrian could see that the Silver City is bustling with people because a lot of players wanted to be angels. Angels basically start with a high charm stat which means those that had ugly or mediocre faces suddenly transformed to become model looking people. People even mocked the players that picked the angel race for their beauty as Angelfished.

Since Adrian and Saena is still fused together, he can detect the energy of the sun radiating from the Silver City. He could detect numerous sources but there is only one that burns like the midday sun. A golden sun disk floating on the middle of a towering spire which is guarded by five angels.

"Found it!" Adrian muttered as he started to think of a plan to retrieve it.

Chapter 1252 Infiltrating The Silver City III

Adrian immediately found the Sun Disk once he focused on the sun energy being radiated in the area. The Sun Disk is still full of power compared to the other two vestiges. Adrian needs to assess whether he can escape the Silver City should he ever force his way through.

From the intelligence he gathered, two of the Supreme Angels are out. One is leading the angels against the undead while the other one seems to be searching for something. Since Mikhail and Gabriel are outside then that leaves at least three Supreme Angels here.

Adrian needs to be wary of the remaining three as they could be as powerful as him or stronger. He will not be able to find a chance like this again, but he is thankful that the angels are being called outside which is why his job is going to get easier. The only angels here are those that are either starting out or guarding facilities.

"I cannot use domains either as that will be immediately sensed by the Supreme Angels. I have to go with a sneaky approach first and if that fails then direct it is." Adrian muttered to himself as he passed through the Tower of Babylon.

Adrian entered the spire and ascended slowly until only his head is passing through the concrete to see what the five angels are doing. He needed to carefully sneak attack the five at the same time in order to get the sun disk. Some sort of barrier is protecting the sun disk as well as siphoning its energy to distribute towards the Silver City.

"Greater Summon: Kanlaon!" Adrian stated as he summoned Kanlaon outside the spire in his biggest form. He needs Kanlaon to be flashy as possible and the angels already know that they are currently fighting dragons. Kanlaon will be the perfect distraction against the unsuspecting angels.

Kanlaon appeared in all his might and roared loudly at the angels. The five angels guarding the sun disk suddenly discussed with each other on what they needed to do. They have been tasked with guarding the sun disk, but it was already protected by a barrier cast by Mikhail himself.

"All Angelic Guards! Attack the beast that dares to invade our Silver City!" A voice suddenly sounded from atop the spire.

Adrian thought that the other Supreme Angels will actually descend and attack, but they did not. Adrian did not know why but he will make use of this situation to further his needs. This situation made it much easier to attack them while they are scrambling for defenses.

"Kanlaon, use Elemental Apocalypse!" Adrian commanded as Kanlaon's six dragon orbs suddenly spun uncontrollably around him. All six elements are being utilized to their fullest as Kanlaon roared.

"Defeat the beast before it casts its spell!" The angels roared as they charged towards Kanlaon.

Three of the five angels guarding the sun disk went to attack Kanlaon and Adrian smiled. Since the attention of the angels were fixed towards Kanlaon, Adrian easily slipped up and placed his whole body on the floor where the sun disk is held. The two remaining angels noticed that a foreign energy was near them, but it was too late.

Sirius and Kimat suddenly came out of their magic circles and attacked the angels. Sirius made use of his ability to trap his enemies in the shadow world. Sirius took Kimat and the angels with him to the shadow realm for them to kill. The angels could not even alert their other brethren of the fate that they will encounter.

"So, this is the sun disk. It is much gold than I imagined it would be. It is also radiating continuous sun energy compared to the other vestiges." Adrian stated as he touched the barrier with his hand.

The barrier felt warm, but it also stung a little. The barrier was created by someone powerful, but they used one fatal flaw. The barrier actually utilized the sun disk as a power source to continuously set it up. All Adrian needs to do is shake it up a bit and he will be able to break it easily.

"I better hurry it up or else the two Supreme Angels outside might return inside. Sirius and Kimat are also fighting against two powerful angels. The two angel guards might be weakened but they can still keep up with Sirius and Kimat in the shadow realm." Adrian thought as he immediately thought of his most powerful weapon.

"Primordial Armament: Axe" Adrian stated as an axe suddenly manifested beside him from nowhere.

Adrian also changed from his Aetheros form to his Netheros form to ensure more power on his side. As the angels charged towards Kanlaon with their weapons made of light, Adrian swung his axe towards the barrier which created a powerful shockwave when it was broken. Adrian thought that he would be inconspicuous but his sudden attempt at breaking the barrier made a huge commotion.

"A demon!" One of the three angels that guarded the sun disk shouted. He also noticed that the two guards that remained are nowhere to be found. Seeing this, the three angels that guarded the sun disk hurriedly flew towards Adrian.

Some of the angels decided whether to attack Adrian or Kanlaon as they did not know who to prioritize. Adrian did not care as he once again prepared to hit the barrier as cracks already started to appear. He also used Saena's sun energy with the hit earlier which activate something in the sun disk.

"Too late!" Adrian stated as he hit the barrier once more with his axe, but he used both nether energy and primordial energy at the same time. Adrian's strike created a shockwave as Kanlaon's Elemental Apocalypse spell activated simultaneously.

The angels that were rushing towards Adrian are blown away by the powerful shockwave. Those that do not have powerful wings are sent towards Kanlaon's Elemental Apocalypse. The cries of angels getting caught up in the Elemental Apocalypse spell echoed in the Silver City. The low-level players are panicking as they did not think that an attack on a 'safe zone' is possible.

In reality, the Silver City is not a safe zone because safe zones are no longer possible in this patch. The safe zones have been lifted when the field bosses can now wander off in other territories. This is also the consequence of the act that the angels did by increasing the energy in the mortal world.

Kanlaon's Elemental Apocalypse is not fatal to powerful angels though. He only killed the poor low-ranking players that tried to join the battle as they got a mission to raid Kanlaon. The damage to the surroundings is not that great though as the structures in the Silver City has basic spells of defense attached to them. Although, some parts of the city are burning or flooded due to Kanlaon's attack.

The two angels that Sirius dragged to the Shadow Realm also resurfaced but they could be seen as heavily injured. Sirius and Kimat did not get damaged that much which means they were in a great advantage inside the Shadow Realm.

"Intruder!" One of the angels stated as he looked at Adrian with bloodlust.

"You should worry about the thing behind you." Adrian stated as the two angels looked behind them to see a beam of golden light hitting them.

The two angels are sent flying away from Kanlaon's breath attack but the other angels that recovered from the effects of Elemental Apocalypse rushed to him once more. The original five angel guards of the sun disk are not yet defeated. They ignored Kanlaon and went for Adrian as they needed to guard the sun disk with their life.

"Sirius, use Realm Ender." Adrian commanded as Sirius became huge. The large Sirius then attacked the area that Adrian designated. The barrier protecting the sun disk immediately shattered and he also severely wounded the angels.

Kanlaon could be seen as getting damaged in a hair's breadth that Adrian needed to recall him. The angels that were fighting against the dragon are all confused that the enemy they were fighting suddenly vanished. All the angels then saw Adrian at the middle of the tower holding the sun disk that is said to be the guardian treasure of the angels.

"Stop the demon from stealing our treasure! All angels surround him." One of the five guard angels stated as all the angels rushed towards Adrian.

"Steal! I am just retrieving an item that does not belong to you." Adrian stated as he snapped his fingers and released Quantum Dispersion in the area.

All the angels rushing him suddenly felt a powerful pushing force with Adrian at the center. Some angels got disoriented from the sudden motion while some remained steady. Adrian looked at the angels that are emitting their bloodlust towards him. He knows that they will not let him leave alone when a sudden powerful explosion of energy could be felt from the other side of the gate.

Chapter 1253 The Awakening Of N

The fight against the angels and the dark dragons are proceeding in a slow pace. The angels are mainly defending against the array of dark attribute magic being slinged towards them. The attacks of the dark dragon king are blocked by Mikhail and Gabriel as his spells are overpowering to the point that it could kill an angel should they get hit once.

Gabriel knew that the dark dragon king is powerful but not this powerful. He then saw the presence that might be the reason for the sudden power spike of the dragons. The presence of the Mother of Dragons at the heart of the dragon formation made her difficult to attack.

"It seems that the dragons are gaining more power when they are near her." Gabriel communicated to Mikhail via telepathy.

"Killing her would deal a huge blow to these overgrown lizards. That should be easily done." Mikhail replied.

"Are you sure? Attacking her would mean waging war on the dragons. She is their most revered person as of now and using any act of aggression against her is basically admitting that we sent someone to kill her." Gabriel stated but Mikhail smiled.

Gabriel knew what Mikhail's smile meant. To others, Mikhail's smile might look beautiful as he is the most beautiful of them all, but it is different for to Gabriel. He knows that Mikhail's smile really meant something else, and it meant that he sent an angel to kill the Mother of Dragons.

"Does it even make a difference now that the lizards are all enraged? Killing her before is not different to killing her now. I should make an example of her by hanging her head in our gates." Mikhail stated but Gabriel feared what will happen to them should the dragons become their enemies.

Gabriel knew the benefits of the relationship with the dragons as they could use the skies of the dragon's territories. The skies of the territory of dragons are not monitored by the demons which is why it is easy to make deals there. If they do not maintain the relationship, then they will no longer be able to become covert.

The demons cannot easily attack the angels as well since they have a mutual relationship with the dragons. The angels might not want to accept it, but they are still very vulnerable as of now. They have yet to return back to their peak forms. Even Mikhail only has about more than half of his power when he was in his prime.

"No need to worry that much, Gabriel. The treasures that we got are steadily restoring the energies of all the angels. We also have the power of faith that is being thrown to us by those useless mortal pigs. It will only take a week before we return back to our peaks." Mikhail stated.

Gabriel could only nod as he knows that Mikhail will not tolerate any resistance towards him. If Mikhail says that it takes them one week then it will take a week. If he says that they no longer need the beneficial relationship with the dragons, then they no longer need it.

"If that is what you say then it is final. The other angels are already growing tired of giving out treasure to the dragons anyways. I believe it is the leader's job to light the way so please start it by killing that lizard disguising itself as a human woman." Gabriel stated as they had to bribe the dragons for this beneficial relationship. He is also getting tired of the angel treasury getting slowly whittled down. A robber does not like another robber stealing their stuff after all.

"Gladly! I shall light up the way! Flare Nova!" Mikhail stated as he gathered immense light energy in his hands.

"Get behind me!" Ark stated as he created multiple layers of protective spells on his body to defend Basil.

Basil is the reason why they are currently getting the upper hand. The only reason that they are not totally winning is due to the fact that the angels outnumber the dragons. If the dragons and angels had equal number, then the dragons would have dominated them from the start.

"Mikhail! Zadkiel said that the sun disk has been stolen and a dragon is wreaking havoc inside the city." Gabriel reported.

"So, they managed to sneak inside like a lizard. As expected of these vermin. I shall not give them any pity. Deal with the intruder while I finish these pests off." Mikhail stated but a flurry of arrows coated in death energy are sent flying towards him which Gabriel deflected with light barriers.

Mikhail cannot move as he is casting Flare Nova which brings down a giant ball of flaming light to an area of his choosing. Gabriel needed to stop the arrows from reaching Mikhail because his casting might get cancelled. Gabriel could feel the immense heaviness of the status ailment present in those arrows that could incapacitate Mikhail for a quarter second.

"Even weak flies try to attack me now. How have we fallen this low! It is time to kill all those that attacked us to send a message." Mikhail stated as he tossed the flaming sun towards the largest bunch of dark dragons.

"Dragons! Use your breaths!" Drakness Tenebrosus commanded as all the dragons gathered their breath attacks and launched it towards the flaming sun headed towards them.

The flaming nova and the dragon breaths clashed against each other and created a powerful shockwave that blew some of the dragons away. Just as the smoke was clearing out, a beam of light came shooting through the smoke with Basil as the aim. Basil will not be able to dodge in time which is why Shock, her lightning dragon, took the hit for her.

Shock immediately turned to particles of light once the light beam hit him, but it was still headed towards Basil. Pana wanted to pull his bow to create a shield arrow, but he is not fast enough. As if predicting this would happen, Ark suddenly came in front of Basil with Light and Dark Shield.

The light beam hit Ark's Light Shield, but it shattered immediately. The light beam then hit his Dark Shield and it showed some resistance because it trembled first before suddenly shattering like a mirror. Knowing that Basil will die, and their advantage being taken away upon her death, Ark immediately activated his skill that he received from the vampires.

"Darkness Armor!" Ark shouted as darkness descended upon him in a quick fashion.

The darkness that descended Ark immediately wrapped around his body and created a thick armor that protected him. But even this thick armor made of the darkness element was not enough to stop the attack. Ark resisted the beam of light for a few seconds before ultimately getting his darkness element armored shattered.

The beam of light then continued on, but Ark did not stop his duty of being his friend's protector. He tanked the beam of light with his body because he has Light Element Resistance. He did not even flinch as his own body tried blocking the attack of the Supreme Angel Mikhail.

"I admit that you are great pathetic bug, but you will not be able to stand against my might." Mikhail scoffed but he suddenly ate his words.

The light beam that should have torn a hole through Ark's heart suddenly dissipated as it lost its power. Feeling the embarrassment of swallowing his own words, Mikhail launched a flurry of weaker light beams towards Ark. As if in a trance, Ark tanked all the hits that were supposed to hit Basil until he knelt on the dragon they are standing on.

Ark looked ragged and barely hanging on to life. Actually, he is already dead as parts of his body is already turning into particles of light. He looked at his hands as he is actually experiencing death for the first time in game.

"So much for our not dying promise." Ark stated as a notification suddenly appeared before his eyes.

[The Mark of N has sensed the user's upcoming death.]

[Activating the hidden power of the Mark of N due to the user fulfilling the exact conditions to activate the mark.]

[Exact Condition: Die at the hands of the most powerful Angel or Devil.]

[User will now start the transformation process to become the Chosen Nephilim.]

Ark does not know what he is reading, and he thought that it might be hallucinations. He suddenly felt a power surging inside of him as the mark given to him by the two sisters started to feel hot. The mark that as located on his hands suddenly crept towards his heart and embedded to it.

Ark screamed in pain as a throbbing sensation could be felt in his chest. He feels like someone is personally squeezing his heart when three sets of illusory wings appeared behind his back. The set of wings on the right looked light angel wings while the set on the left looked like devil wings.

Chapter 1254 Arrival Of The Nephilim I

[The angelic choirs are trembling in their voices above the clouds.]

[The devilish torturers are stirring their pots for the anticipation of havoc.]

[The Perfect Child between Light and Darkness has finally awakened his soul.]

[The Arrival of the Chosen Nephilim shall awaken the dormant souls of those that passed away.]

The world messages that the people received are all narrated by three different voices. The first world message was said by a beautiful and harmonic voice. The second world message is said by a screechy male voice. The last world message is said by a voice of an old man along with the two previous voices.

Ark screamed in agony as his whole body is transformed on the spot. The angels and dragons that were fighting literally stopped as they felt the intense energy that Ark released. The energy that Ark released and is also pulling towards him manifested the light and darkness elemental energy towards him.

The intangible light energy could be seen as twinkling crystals while the dark energy looked like giant specs of black dust. Mikhail trembled as he did not think that the soul that he was searching for was this near to him all along. Mikhail looked at Ark with such killing intent that he salivated which is not to his character.

"The soul of the Nephilim! The soul of my brother's child! Once that is mine, my power will become limitless!" Mikhail muttered as he suddenly charged towards Ark while his body is being reforged in the sky.

Just as Ark is about to get caught, a fast meteor like thing suddenly came flying from the other side of the sky. A flaming sword cut through the sky and aimed towards Mikhail's neck. This flaming sword is none other than the God Slaying Sword.

"Disgraceful Fallen! No wonder your race was abandoned by the beautiful goddess!" Mikhail shouted as the Fallen player, Gomory arrived at the scene.

Gomory was leveling up in an area that is quite far from the fight when she heard the world messages. Something also called upon her as her whole being shook as a being is drawing torrents of light energy. She immediately told the god slaying sword to make haste at that location for they will need to arrive there before the angels.

Gomory actually sacrificed five of her levels for the chance to just arrive there at a quick pace. She did not flinch with her sacrifice as she was even proud of it. If she did not sacrifice her levels, then Mikhail would have gotten the Chosen Nephilim.

"You will not touch the chosen child, Leader of the Supreme Angels Mikhail. I, Gomory of the Fallen, shall stop you here." Gomory stated but Mikhail just laughed.

"Mother, what should we do with him?" Drakness asked as he did not expect this situation.

"We must protect my friend, Ark, at all costs. The reason this is happening is due to him protecting me. Are we so ungrateful that we do not return favors!?" Basil stated.

"No! Dragons are honorable beings! Dark Dragons, protect the friend of mother!" Drakness commanded as the dark dragons gathered around Ark.

Large amounts of light and darkness energy are being gathered by Ark. He is now covered in an egg looking case that are enclosed angel wings and devil wings. This egg looking thing is also pulsing greatly as it collected an abundant source of energy from the world.

"Get that egg! This is my supreme command!" Mikhail shouted as he thirsted for that egg more than anyone else. Gabriel saw Mikhail's expression and knew that the latter wanted this egg at all costs. Even if they sacrificed angels, Mikhail would want to get that egg which Gabriel does not want to give him. Gabriel knew that the egg or the one inside the egg will most likely be a source of power for Mikhail.

"It seems that you think I am weak just because you are stronger and more in number. Do not forget beings that are called angels. The Fallen were the original beings of light created from the bodies of light celestial gods!" Gomory stated as her humanoid form or rather shell started to fall apart.

The human form that Gomory has that looks like an angel with ash-colored wings started to fall apart as if she was made of dried clay. When her human form started to crack, light started to spill out of the cracks in response to Gomory's actions. The angels and dragons could not believe their eyes as a humanoid person suddenly started to crack like a porcelain doll.

Inside of the human shell, is a gigantic being that can rival the size of Drakness' dragon form. Gomory's real form is shown which is the form of the Fallen that she has become. Gomory's real form cannot be easily described in words because the human mind may not be even able to completely comprehend it.

Gomory's true form has a feminine silhouette as she looked like she is wearing a long dress if the shadow is only judged but reality is stranger than fiction. The dress that one will think is wearing is actually three pairs of wings folded upon each other. With each pair of wings having three eyes located at the middle of large feathers.

Her waist is actually just a white feminine curve that is made purely of light. Her bosom silhouette is actually two golden rings rotating but she did have a head. Her head might look like she has bundled up some hair in a silhouette, but it was actually three pairs of small wings with eyes on each feather.

The only human like thing on Gomory's true form are her arms and hands as they are used to grip the flaming sword that matched the new size of its wielder. The god slaying sword burned brightly with the fires of a powerful sun while the angels looked at Gomory in disgust. She was ugly in their eyes as the angels now were crafted with perfection.

"Kill the failure!" Mikhail shouted as he grasped the air and a sword made of light also appeared on his hand.

Mikhail did not want to bother with Gomory as he needs to get Ark as soon as possible. He will be able to extract more power from the egg than when Ark awakens. Mikhail commanded the angels to only focus on Gomory but he heard ugly shouts of pain. When Mikhail looked at the location of the screams, he saw the entire angel squad burning in flames.

"Burn in the flames of Purgatory!" Gomory stated as she received this skill with a deal from one of the god of deaths. She received this skill when she needed to recapture lots of escaped souls. She was lucky with this because she was able to actually talk with that specific god of death.

The Flames of Purgatory skill was a perfect match for Gomory as one needed great mastery of the light element to cast. It is also a skill that deals great damage to enemies that have great animosity towards them. This is the perfect skill to use against angels for Gomory that is a fallen. The only downside of the skill is the fact that it turns the sword into a phantasmal sword.

When a sword is turned into a phantasmal sword, it can no longer deal physical damage.

Thankfully, the Flames of Purgatory skill is a toggle skill which Gomory has already mastered. The angels will not be screaming in pain if she was new to using this skill after all.

"Weaklings!" Mikhail muttered as he collected a lot of light elemental energy in the surroundings or at least tried to. Mikhail noticed that the light element was in disarray as some were not bending to his will. The Nephilim egg is actually sucking the area dry of light and darkness elemental energy.

"Gabriel! Call for Raphael immediately!" Mikhail commanded Gabriel as Raphael was already out in the mortal world.

"I already called for him and he will arrive as fast as possible. He will probably arrive in a minute." Gabriel replied as he created multiple light barriers to protect the angels from Gomory's attack.

"We cannot have that happening though." A voice from nowhere stated as all of the angels are suddenly trapped in bindings made of shadows.

Adrian suddenly manifested his body from thin air while he was holding something like an orb made of pure darkness. Gabriel and Mikhail easily broke the chains, but Adrian is already finished casting his spell. He made sure to be prepared in his escape as he looked towards the Nephilim egg.

"A soul made of light and darkness. To think that one of the persons that I am looking for was right under my nose." Adrian stated as he released the spell contained within his palms.

"Oblivion!" Adrian muttered as the whole area in the sky is suddenly swallowed by an encompassing darkness where even sound is not heard.

Chapter 1256 Arrival Of The Nephilim III

Gomory ripped a dimension apart using her light elemental manipulation. Adrian could see that she used her true form in this instance. He does not know how she managed to do that, but it seems that the end point is only applicable to the Hidden Grotto.

"Bring his egg as I will need to be the last one to go inside as the portal will close if I enter." Gomory stated.

Adrian nodded and brought Ark's Nephilim egg inside the portal with Basil and Pana following near him. When the three entered, Gomory followed and the rift in space closed up on itself. Adrian is shocked because he did not think that the light element could actually be used to push down the walls of the dimension.

"It seems the Fallen are more powerful than I originally thought. Then again, only a handful of them are alive in this day and age." Adrian stated as he is now in the presence of the two Fallen that are still awake.

"It is nice to see you again, Champion Equinox. It seems that your visit here is not a coincidence because you have brought the person that we wanted you to find." Pahaliah stated.

"It seems that Gomory has come with him as well which means she must have sensed the Chosen Nephilim's soul when he awakened." Rikbiel stated.

"It is nice to see you as well. It seems that today is a momentous occasion for the Fallen. The Chosen Nephilim has been found but he has yet to finish his metamorphosis." Adrian stated.

"That is to be expected. He will not be able to awaken unless Lilith herself will awaken. Only she could give him the necessary energy to truly be revived. The good thing is that the Nephilim that have been reincarnated will awaken themselves as well." Pahaliah stated.

"Their reincarnation will be halted though as long as he is still inside the egg." Rikbiel stated.

"Then you can make him hatch then." Adrian stated.

"We cannot do that on our own because only she can do that. He will be in that state as long as we cannot awaken Lilith for a short moment. The other option would be to get the help of a devil. We could provide him with the necessary light element, but the darkness element is needed from a devil. His soul is part angel and devil after all." Pahaliah stated.

"We must not do that. Devils are difficult to speak with because of their ways to twist the truth. We might endanger the chosen one if that is to happen." Gomory stated as she finally spoke.

"Did you not tell us that you have met a devil once in your search for the Chosen Nephilim, Gomory?" Rikbiel asked Gomory to which she nodded.

"I did but that devil cannot be trusted because he made my journeys more difficult and treacherous. In the end, he only served his agenda despite me aiding him. We cannot trust someone like that which is why we need to find another way." Gomory stated.

Adrian listened in on the conversation as he looked at the quest given to him. It seems that the quest is not yet finished because Ark has yet to hatch. In the end, Adrian needs to hatch Ark so that he can receive the reward for the quest.

"Since we cannot get help from a devil that you know then we can just summon one to do our bidding. Devils that have been summoned will always agree to the commands of their summoner as long as you give them equivalent compensation." Adrian stated.

"How are you even going to summon a devil? Do you know how to summon one?" Gomory asked as he knows that Equinox has never summoned a devil before. She knows that she can summon an angel, but he has not been using that ever since.

"I can summon one. We just need preparation and the correct compensation." Adrian stated as he looked at his skill that has transformed.

[Your Summon Disaster skill has been transformed to Summon: Devil's Advocate because the angel Gabriel no longer wishes to be summoned by you.]

The skill finally transformed into something useful when the Angel Gabriel refuses to be summoned. He did not think that skills can undergo such transformation, but he welcomes it. At the very least, he has the ability to get another helper for such occasions.

-----

Skill Name: Summon: Devil's Advocate

Tier: Legendary

Type: Summoning Skill

Effect:

- Summon a Devil from Hell that will answer the summoner's call.
- The Devil summoned will be dependent on the sacrifice that the skill holder gives.
- The larger the mana given to summon the Devil, then the higher in Hierarchy will be the one summoned.

Mana Cost: Skill Holder Dependent

Cast Time: 5 Seconds to 10 minutes (Dependent on Mana used.)

Cooldown: 2 hours

Duration: 10 minutes

-----

"Basil and Pana, can you take care of Ark's egg for a moment. It will be my first time summoning a Devil. I do not want him getting dragged to hell of something since he is also part Devil." Adrian stated as a joke, but it rung true for the Fallen.

"Do not worry, Champion Equinox. A Devil will not be able to move as much with us in their presence. They also fear us since we are the original angels after all, and devils all hailed from angels." Rikbiel stated.

"I actually wanted to ask. Has there been Fallen that become a Devil?" Adrian asked as he became curious.

"There are a few but they are ones that we should not summon. I believe that they have already ascended to become a Devil God since they were the ones that swore revenge on the Goddess Luminaria. The battle between angels and devils not because they are complete opposites but has been dictated by their gods." Pahaliah stated.

"Let us just hope that we do not summon their aspects then. I was told that Devil Gods often create a demigod body for them to inhabit in hell." Adrian replied as he started to chant the spell.

Adrian's body started to create a powerful gust of wind and his speech started to become distorted as a magic circle slowly started to get carved into the floor. The magic circle looked like it was being drawn in blood, but Adrian was not bleeding or anyone else for that matter. Strange pale blue wisps suddenly got ignited in the corners of the magic circle as if Adrian was summoning the damned.

Adrian made sure that he will not cut corners because the darkness element that is needed from the Devil will surely be great. As Adrian focused on the chanting, the air around them started to become heavy as a portal started to manifest on the floor where the magic circle is created.

The magic circle has vanished and in place of it is a mass black swirl. Adrian continued chanting until there was only one percent of his mana left. He then stopped and took out something from his inventory which are the angel wings that he ripped from the angel that attack him and Basil earlier.

He told Basil to hand the wings over as that will be the best compensation for the devil that they will summon. As soon as Adrian held the angel wings on top of the mass black swirl, a humanoid shape started to rise up from the massive black swirl. The humanoid shape looked like a man with bat six bat wings and two horns on his head.

The massive black swirl then finished being conjured when Adrian presented the angel wings to the devil. The magic circle also vanished, and the devil has been summoned correctly into the world for ten minutes. Adrian succeeded just like he thought but he suddenly thought that he did too well.

The devil that he summoned looked close to a human as he immediately tucked away his horns and wings when he fully manifested. Adrian had a bad feeling about this, but he needs to stand his ground. If he shows any sort of weakness in front of the devil, then it might just ignore him. Still, he has a feeling that he did not summon a normal devil from the name that appeared in his notification.

[You have summoned the Devil, Beelzebub.]

[Beelzebub is the Lord of the Flies and was formerly known as the Lord of the Skies.]

[You managed to summon one of the Princes of Hell to the mortal world without help.]

[The devils of Hell are in awe of your talent. The devils of Hell have heard of your name as it has started to be spread far and wide in Hell.]

"To think that a demon will summon a devil. I thought your race hated being likened to us since we somewhat took inspiration from your people. But that is not what I answered the call for, I was curious to see who dared to send an unknown call to hell, but it was actually Fallen." Beelzebub stated.

Chapter 1257 The Devil's Advocate

-----

Summon Name: Beelzebub

Title: Lord of Flies, Prince of Hell, Devil God Incarnate

Level: Unknown

Summon Effect: All Darkness Attribute Spells and Attacks will have an increase effect of 100%

Disposition: Adheres to Rules

-----

Adrian did not know if he is extremely lucky or extremely unfortunate. Of all the devils that he could summon, it had to be one of the Prince of Hell. The only silver lining in this situation is the fact that Beelzebub seems to be someone that is a stickler for the rules. Adrian also got increased adoration from the devils which he does not know if it is good or bad.

"Pahaliah! Rikbiel! It has been such a long time since I met you. I hope you did not forget about me just because I ascended into a god. Although this demigod body might not display my godliness, I still emit some divinity in me." Beelzebub stated.

Adrian looked at Beelzebub and he has the look of a young master that is very intelligent. He dresses like a young master from the era of kings and queens. He has the aura of a young master or a prince as well because he is a bit haughty but has the air of dignity.

"Nice to see you again, Beelzebub. I should not actually say this because this clone of yours does not even have a connection with your divine body." Pahaliah stated.

"What does that mean?" Gomory asked as she does not know how devils getting an incarnation affects their divine body.

"When Devil Gods Incarnate, the demigod that body that they create will be unable to receive commands from the main body. You can think that it will be an independent part of itself that has been created. Something like a finger getting cut and then a whole body will grow from that finger." Rikbiel stated.

"For example, this incarnation here. Beelzebub is already a devil god, but he gets bored from time to time and needs to guard his domain in hell. It is why the devil gods create a copy of themselves in Hell as some sort of gatekeeper. It is also the reason why even though angels kill the bodies of high-ranking devils, they do not really kill them permanently." Pahaliah added.

"I get it as I deal with souls of the dead. Basically, the devil gods that have already transcended to the divine realm do not trust other demons but themselves to guard their domains in Hell. In return for having an incarnate, the Devil Gods will not be able to interfere with their incarnate because they sprouted a consciousness despite being a part of their soul.

As you said earlier, a devil incarnate can die but the real body will never die because the death of the incarnate just returns the fragmented soul back to the main body. This is why there are repeated records of angels and Heroes of Light in the Church of Light about them slaying the same exact devil." Adrian stated.

"As expected of my summoner and the Champion of the Twin Gods. I would not really answer the call of some no name summoner anyway. Since time is ticking, what does my summoner want? Do you want the world to be plunged in darkness or rain chaos to all?" Beelzebub stated.

"Nope. We need your help in hatching that." Adrian stated as he pointed at the Nephilim Egg that was being hidden by the two Fallen's light attribute spell. Only when Adrian pointed it to Beelzebub did the Nephilim Egg become visible to the devil god incarnate.

"Is that what I think it is?" Beelzebub stated as he wanted to touch the egg but the two Fallen blocked his hands.

"Do not be such a worry wart. Unlike what you think, I loved the children of Samael." Beelzebub stated as if the egg holds Samael's children.

"We will not let you be near the egg as you might do something to the child inside. We cannot have you altering his mind so that he becomes a monster." Pahaliah and Rikbiel simultaneously stated.

"What do you think of me as? You do know that Devils prioritize one thing over anything else. We want everyone to have the liberty to be themselves without being restrained by another being. Devils that control other people clearly did not belong to the founding class such as me.

We do not like controlling others to do our bidding. If we did then we did not have to create a demigod clone of ourselves to manage the territory in Hell. I will help you hatch the young lad as I owe a debt to pay to Samael. I might as well pay it by making sure that his bloodline continues." Beelzebub stated.

"Why does he keep saying that Ark is a child of Samael?" Gomory asked Adrian but the latter knew the answer.

"Because Ark's soul is not the soul of a human but a Nephilim. I do not know what happened in the beginner town, but it seems his very soul was modified there. In this game, he is not just Ark but also a reincarnation of the Chosen Nephilim." Adrian replied as the soul in the Nephilim egg is no longer the same soul that Ark previously had.

"If you agreed to help then make it quick. We have a few minutes left before he gets unsummoned." Adrian warned as they only have five minutes left.

"Worry not summoner, I have the solution for that." Beelzebub stated as he suddenly plunged his hand into his chest and started to pull out his heart.

Out of all the players, only Adrian was able to not flinch or look away from this sudden action. There was no blood spatter as the body of a devil made to host the fragmented soul of a devil god must be purely a shell. Still, this was not something anyone could just stomach to see but Adrian is already used to this.

[The Devil Beelzebub has taken a keen interest in you.]

[Favorability with the Devil Beelzebub has increased.]

Adrian did not know whether to laugh or cry because a devil has sudden interest toward him. It was a good thing that gods cannot peer through this pocket dimension inside a pocket dimension. If that was the case, then it would be the Devil God Beelzebub that will take interest in Adrian.

"Finally! I thought I would never be able to get one despite having seven of them." Beelzebub stated as he took out one of his hearts from his chest.

Adrian looked at the specs on the heart and his jaw almost drop. Basil actually fainted on the spot with Pana and Gomory looking away. The scene of a throbbing heart in the hands of a human looking man is not a scene anybody can process.

-----

Item Name: Black Heart of a Devil (Beelzebub)

Tier: Mythical

Item Type: Material or Class Change Item

Effect:

- If eaten by a being that has no devil blood or origin, transforms them into a devil.
- If used as a potion material, it can grant the potion properties of Hell Darkness magic.
- The blood that it pumps contain pure dark energy.

Description: One of the Hearts of the Devil Beelzebub. It is said that eating this heart turns humans into a demon that has the same bloodline as Beelzebub. Eating the heart of a devil will enable that devil to always monitor the heart eater.

-----

"I believe this will solve everything that needs to be done for the Chosen Nephilim to awaken from his cocoon. I await the day that he reigns over both the angels and the devils just like it was prophesized by the first devil that had future sight. I believe that my summoner already knows what to do.

I wanted to be here for the awakening of the prophesized king, but I can no longer maintain my form in the mortal world. Giving one of my hearts already made the universe angry after all. If the Lightning of Providence were to hit me then I will turn to ash. I bid farewell." Beelzebub stated as he suddenly became weak but was still able to give the heart to Adrian.

The magic summoning circle for the devil appeared once again as the black swirl manifested. The black swirl then claimed Beelzebub and swallowed his body as he is returned to Hell. All that is left is the heart that he gave to Adrian that is still beating powerfully.

"To think that selfish guy actually gave you one of his hearts. It seems that Lord Samael did save him back then and he has not forgotten it. With the Black Heart of Beelzebub, we will have enough darkness elemental energy to feed to the child." Pahaliah stated and Rikbiel agreed.

"Let us start then. I want to actually ask Lilith something when she wakes up because she is a descendant of an Asmodian." Adrian stated.

Chapter 1258 The Black Heart And Angelic Halo

The Black Heart of a devil not only represents its number of lives for the vessel and determines the number of times it could die but it is also the source of their power. With each Black Heart destroyed from a devil, their power decreases by a significant amount. The fact that Beelzebub sacrificed one for Ark means that he wants to help them sincerely.

Adrian wanted to ask something to the Fallen about Ark being the prophesized king or something but that would be for later. The only thing that he needs to be concerned about is Ark hatching from his egg. Adrian grabbed the Black Heart and hovered it in front of the Nephilim Egg.

"Since the devil actually offered something of his body, I think we should do the same, but I will be the one to sacrifice." Rikbiel stated.

Pahaliah wanted to stop Rikbiel, but the latter has already made up his mind. Rikbiel knew that he is the perfect candidate for this because his time is already running out. Unlike the other fallen that are sealed, Rikbiel is close to dying as his wound from the war back then never healed.

"No! There must be another way." Gomory stated as she seems to be very close with Rikbiel.

"There are other ways child but the ending for me would be the same either way. I will still die even if we both share our light energy to the Nephilim Child. I believe this must be my fate as even a devil wanted to offer his heart to the chosen one." Rikbiel stated as he has steeled his resolve.

Gomory no longer told Rikbiel to stop because she knows that would be hurting his wishes. She also knows that Rikbiel will not truly die but he will also not be this version of him once he revives. Rikbiel will become like Gomory as she knows that a Fallen that dies create a dungeon for a player to conquer.

From what Gomory got from Pahaliah and Rikbiel, the Fallen that she has combined with was called Metatron. She was one of the most powerful of the Fallen but she was in a worst condition compared to Rikbiel. She could no longer maintain her body which is why she decided to find a suitable vessel to become her host.

Gomory was that host as she was the one that accidentally found the hidden dungeon called the Trials of Metatron. She was able to narrowly conquer the dungeon and fused with the dungeon core which was Metatron's soul. Due to her fusion with Metatron, she was the first player that has become a Fallen.

She also knows that the other Fallen will likely suffer the same fate as they will not return to the cycle of reincarnation easily because they are made from parts of gods. It is also one of the reasons why the Fallen could be described as one of the most powerful races in Pandemonium because there can only be so much of them.

"Do not worry, my family. Although, I do not know when we will meet again but I do know that I will not be the same as before. Should my new vessel be haughty and rash, I believe that all of you will make sure to straighten them up." Rikbiel stated as he already started to separate one of his Angelic Halo.

The Angelic Halo is the equivalent of the Black Heart for the Fallen or Angel race. Since the Angelic Halo was the symbol of an angel, the devils do not want to be remembered as such. Which is why the beautiful shining halo that could be seen by everyone was turned into Black Hearts that no one could ever see.

"I, Rikbiel, offer my Angelic Halo to the future king of the Angels and Devils." Rikbiel stated with such a warm tone as he placed his halo on top of the Nephilim Egg.

Just as he was doing this, parts of Rikbiel's body could be seen turning to dust. Pahaliah and Gomory looked at him with smiles as his whole body deteriorated into nothingness. The only thing remaining of Rikbiel's body is a ball of pure light that shined with such luminance.

The orb of light is Rikbiel's soul which is condensed into pure light energy. It is such a pure soul that one can feel the warmth of a family member from it. The fact that a ball of light can make anyone feel this type of warmth is such a heartwarming feeling.

The orb of light then shot towards the sky like a shooting star and vanished somewhere. Only a lucky individual or a fated one can find the bright and warm soul of a Fallen in the depths of darkness. Pahaliah and Gomory looked at the vanishing light orb before looking back at the Nephilim Egg.

"Let us start now that Rikbiel has given us his last gift." Pahaliah stated as he used his light energy to activate Rikbiel's Angelic Halo.

Adrian activated the Black Heart as well by suddenly clenching it with his hands as black blood oozed out of it. The light that the Angelic Halo gave out is absorbed by the Nephilim Egg while the black blood that the Black Heart bled out is absorbed in the shell. The Nephilim Egg that was like a still rock suddenly started to beat like a heart.

The beating of the Nephilim Egg became so loud that the bodies of everyone there resonated with it. They could feel the Nephilim Egg beat with their full body as if their own natural rhythm is following the flow. As this was happening, the outside world is thrown into chaos as both light and darkness started to freely swirl into the world.

As if the light and darkness elements are celebrating that their king is about to be born, the day and night cycle suddenly became haywire. Night became like day and day became like night which alerted all the powers of the world because they thought that a dark god was descending once again. People wanted to know what was happening and travelled to the north for the Great Star Gazer, but she was still in a coma.

The people of the world did not know that the King of Light and Darkness was going to be born in such a momentous day. The elemental kings of light and darkness could actually feel it in their guts that another king that can challenge their control over light and darkness is about to be born.

Inside the secret dimension, the Nephilim Egg started to go crazy as it started absorbing the angel light and the black blood like crazy. Adrian had to squeeze harder and harder until the Black Heart became flat as a pancake. Still, it did not stop the Nephilim Egg from getting enough as it even absorbed the flattened black heart.

It did the same to the Angelic Halo as it absorbed it until nothing was left. Even Pahaliah felt that some of his light energy was absorbed in the process because he did not stop in time. When the Black Heart and the Angelic Halo was absorbed, the Nephilim Heart stopped from beating.

The Nephilim Egg then started to float in the air as the angel and devil wings started to slowly peel away as it showed the one inside. Ark could be seen curled up inside the Nephilim Egg as if he is sleeping. The light and darkness energy that he absorbed then went wild in the area as it created powerful waves of energy that could damage those around them.

The waves of light and darkness energy are actually so powerful that Pahaliah could not protect all of them. Even Adrian could not block the waves of energy being launched at them. They could heal up their wounds thanks to Saena but that is not the permanent solution. The light and darkness energies inside Ark is running wild and he cannot control it.

"Champion Equinox and Gomory, we must calm him down even if we harm him a little. If he continues, then this dimension might get destroyed and we will be visible to the gods above. The Goddess of Light Luminaria will never let Ark be reborn if this is to happen." Pahaliah stated in panic as the dimension is being ripped apart by the chaotic swirl of energy.

Adrian agrees with this as this pocket dimension is already unstable in the first place. The only ones maintaining this pocket dimension would be the sleeping Fallen and Lilith, but she was asleep as well. As the three is about to do something, Ark started to unfurl all of his wings and the energy started to go nuclear.

"Hurry and stop him!" Gomory stated as she could see the dimension waving.

Just as they were about to move, a beautiful young teen suddenly appeared before them and clapped. With just a clap, the raging light and darkness energy suddenly calmed down.

Chapter 1259 Lilith Awakens

A beautiful girl that looks like she is in her teens suddenly stood in front of the group. With a clap of her hands, the raging light and darkness energy became calm as if they never raged at all. This beautiful teenage girl looked familiar to Adrian because he has seen her before.

Adrian then looked at the sealed crystal where Lilith was once sleeping and found out that she was no longer there. Lilith, the First Nephilim, has actually woke up from her seal but that also posed a problem. She and the other Fallen were the ones maintaining this pocket dimension in the first place.

Without her and the Fallen, the special pocket dimension started to crumble. She saw this and immediately waved her hand. The crumbling pocket dimension started to get fixed again but that also made her weaker.

"Lady Lilith!" Pahaliah stated as he turned into a humanoid form and helped the weakened Lilith up. Gomory helped them as well since they need to help their master after all.

"I am fine, Pahaliah. We have more important matters to handle and that should be him." Lilith stated as Ark has yet to fully awaken.

"At once, Lady Lilith. Gomory, call upon the newly awakened Fallen and tell them that we need to stabilize Young Master Ark." Pahaliah stated to which Gomory nodded.

Gomory helped all the newly awakened Fallen and gave them the details of what to do. When the sealed Fallen saw that their Lady Lilith has woke up, they were ecstatic to be at her service once more. Meanwhile, Adrian is impressed with how Lilith fixed the pocket dimension as she did not just use spatial magic but also light and darkness elemental magic.

"The problem is that the pocket dimension is still imperfect. It will collapse into itself if I do not do something. Might as well do something and it might make my reward even better." Adrian muttered to himself as he told Pana and Basil to look after Ark as he needs to do something.

The Fallen all surrounded Ark who is floating in the air with his wings fluttering. The Chosen Nephilim has yet to stabilize the chaotic light and darkness energy in his body. Just because you were born having affinity for both does not mean that you can freely control them immediately.

"Whatever you used for his darkness energy seems to be very stable. It is the light elemental energy that he has which is causing the rampage. The darkness element inside his body is just protecting itself by reflecting it on the outside.

All of you, cast the Light of Salvation. It will be the only thing that can calm down the rampaging elemental energy in his body." Lilith stated as she started the magic circle which the other Fallen also followed up.

Numerous magic circles for the spell Light of Salvation surrounded Ark's body as the Fallen casted simultaneously. A huge pillar of light descended towards Ark as he screamed out loud with his eyes opening. When Ark opened his eyes, a pure golden light could be seen on his right eye while a pitch-black darkness could be seen on the left.

[The Prophesized King of Light and Darkness has fully awakened.]

[Light elemental users will have a boost of 10% to spells and abilities as long as they are in the main world, Nebulon.]

[Darkness elemental users will have a boost of 10% to spells and abilities as long as they are in the main world, Nebulon.]

A world message is once again given to the players of the world, and they thought that a powerful NPC has been unsealed. They looked at the streams of popular streamers, but no one had any idea what was happening. All they knew is that whoever awakened, the world itself became strange because of them.

Seeing that Ark has finally awakened and is in good hands, Adrian asked Paradox on the details of the pocket dimension. The Cube of Paradox analyzed the dimension, and it has a 40% chance of collapsing. It might not look like a big number since it is no more than half, but the percentage should only be below 10% for a stable pocket dimension.

"Suggesting the master to use Aetheros form in stabilizing the dimension as that form is optimal for repairing things within the universe." The Cube of Paradox stated as Adrian changed his form.

With Adrian's cosmic like wings, he spread out Aether Dust to all corners of the pocket dimension. It did not take long because the special pocket dimension is not that big. He then performed what the Daemos do when a rift in space appears and that is mending the broken dimension.

For the Daemos, repairing a broken dimension is basically child's play. Adrian used up about half his mana with intense concentration to make sure that the dimension stabilizes. He could feel his mastery for Arcane Magic steadily rising as he fixed the special pocket dimension.

"Master, you have stabilized the pocket dimension by a great percentage. The possibility of collapsing is now 8.9%. Should we continue?" The Cube of Paradox asked but Adrian already stopped since that is what he could do on his own.

Stabilizing a dimension is usually a group effort but Adrian did great because he was already an Arch Demon. Still, he could no longer decrease the collapse rate as it might hurt the dimension more if he did it in a quick way. The least amount of time to fix a rift usually goes for five days and lesser for pocket dimensions. Although, an hour of fixing is not good as a something quickly fixed could always get easily destroyed.

"That is fine, Paradox. Only the master of this pocket dimension could truly stabilize it. She would need to do it on her own." Adrian stated as he looked at Lilith while the latter also looked at him with interest. Although Lilith only has a speck of Asmodian Blood in her, she could sense the large amounts of it in Adrian.

Chapter 1260 Lilith

Adrian descended to the group and saw that Ark was already good to go. He did drop a few levels but that meant that his strength was swallowed to evolve his body. When Adrian now looks at Ark, he could see the intense light and darkness energy in his body waiting to be released.

"Thank you, Ancestor." Lilith suddenly stated as she bowed towards Adrian which made all the Fallen and the others flustered.

For the Fallen, they did not expect their powerful lady would actually bow to a being weaker than her. For the players, they were amazed that such a powerful NPC that could control elements with a clap is showing great respect towards Adrian. Ark could be seen admiring Adrian even more.

"No need for that. I just helped you because I know that I will be rewarded." Adrian stated as Lilith smiled.

"Indeed, but we must show our gratefulness to someone as mighty as you. I believe no other reward will be better than this. This should be only useful to someone like Ancestor." Lilith stated with a cute smile as she handed a red vial to Adrian.

When one saw Lilith, no one could say that she is ugly because she is drop dead gorgeous. She has long black hair that turns golden by the tips. Eyes that are heterochromatic with the right eye being green and the left eye being light blue. She also has pale flawless skin that actually glimmers when light touches it.

[You have completed the quest, Find the Nephilim Reincarnate]

[You have been rewarded with Vial of Potent Asmodian Blood.]

-----

Item Name: Vial of Potent Asmodian Blood

Tier: Transcendent

Type: Consumable or Material

Effect:

- If used on potions, it is a great synthesizer and increases the potion's effectiveness by 400%.
- If used as a catalyst, increases the chance of raising the tier of the item by a minimum of one and increases the success rate by 77%.
- If drank by a being with Asmodian Blood of purity higher than 50%, it increases their Asmodian Blood purity by a small percentage.
- If drank by a being with Asmodian Blood of purity lower than 50%, it can increase their Asmodian Blood purity by a large percentage or could kill them.
- If drank by a being with no Asmodian Blood, it straight up kills them but there is a 0.001 chance of surviving and getting a 10% Asmodian Blood purity.

Description: The Blood from a High Asmodian that has great effects but can come with deadly side-effects. The Asmodians had a tradition of giving the younger generation their blood to inherit some of their abilities, but this is only possible for pure blooded Asmodians. It can increase Asmodian Blood purity for those that are not pure blooded Asmodians.

-----

Adrian's mouth almost salivated as he was already losing hope that he could become a pure blooded Asmodian. He did not think that such an item would be given to him, and it looks like the other Fallen are telling Lilith to not give him the item. Lilith, on the other hand, gave the vial to Adrian as she does not want to risk death.

She might have some Asmodian Blood in her because of her father but she only has about 14% purity. Drinking the vial would basically be a lucky draw for her. If she was lucky then her purity could increase but if she was not, then she would die a painful death.

"My decision is final. In fact, that reward is small compared to what the Ancestor has given us. He has delivered us the Prophesized King of Light and Darkness." Lilith stated as she looked at Ark.

"Me?!" Ark stated as he pointed to himself since he could not believe what Lilith was saying.

"Master Ark needs to still rest. Gomory, please assist him and his friends while we talk with Lady Lilith." Pahaliah stated as he needed to question the things that led to this point and why his lady is calling Adrian as Ancestor.

"If you want to know how I got unsealed, the raging light and darkness element seeped inside the formation which triggered something inside me. Maybe due to the fact that it was from brother, but the light and darkness energy inside of him jolted me awake." Lilith stated.

"BROTHER!" All of them shouted except for Adrian as the only one that released that energy was Ark.

"Did I not say this before I sealed myself? The Chosen Nephilim is none other than my brother's soul reincarnated back to this world. I also noticed that Rikbiel is not with us. Is he out patrolling the outside world or something?" Lilith stated in a normal tone as if everything was fine and dandy.

"Lady Lilith, can you please elaborate? It seems that some details must have escaped us. Also, about Rikbiel..." Pahaliah stated.

"Judging by your reaction, Rikbiel has started the Ceremony of Ascendance. Let us just hope that the new Rikbiel that will come to us will also have his gentle soul. If not, then I can just rip that person's heart out and find a more fitting vessel." Lilith stated with a straight face, but the weight of her words is true.

"About young master Ark being your brother..." Pahaliah stated carefully.

"It seems that I should clarify. I was always called as the First Nephilim because I was the first to be born from an angel and a devil, but I actually had a twin." Lilith stated.

Lilith then continued her story that she was actually a few seconds born later compared to her brother. The only difference is that her brother was weak and died a few moments after he was born. Due to their mother mourning from the bottom of her heart, the Twin Gods took pity on them and promised that his brother would one day be reincarnated. Everything would have been great, but the Oracle of Delphi suddenly told something that the angels did not like.