

O Summoner 1561

Chapter 1561 No Longer Just A Vessel

Levin Cloud immediately tried to pull Thueban to his side by extending his arms that turned into roots. The Distorted God Apophis has already sensed that something or someone around it was lurking. Levin Cloud could have gotten Thueban earlier, but she was already being grasped by invisible parts of the Distorted God Apophis's body.

Levin Cloud knew that he would not be able to save the poor girl and attempted to kill her in that instance. It seems that the Distorted God Apophis sensed the killing intent that the hidden being has directed towards its vessel. The Distorted God Apophis defended Thueban from getting impaled by Levin Cloud but that does not mean she was safe.

With one gulp, the Distorted God Apophis swallowed Thueban as she released one last cry for help. Levin Cloud's roots was only able to pierce the body of the Distorted God Apophis which he clearly regretted. Levin Cloud immediately knew to himself that he moved to slow or else they might have a chance to stop what was bound to happen.

A powerful shockwave suddenly exploded when the Distorted God Apophis and Thueban started to merge with each other. Thueban did not necessarily lose complete control of her body but that does not mean that she was able to hold on as well. Thueban's mind has been broken but it seems that her spirit still held some sort of resistance.

Thueban cried out to any entity that might be able to help her in her time of need. She did not care at the time what entity answered her prayers be it a god or an evil entity. As long as she would be able to hold on to her own will. Since the closest being that could resonate to gods was Levin Cloud, the one that answered her prayers was none other than a Goddess of Death that was summoned in the same continent during that time.

A liquid entity in the shape of a female suddenly reached out to the hand that Thueban held out in the latter's last attempt to not be devoured by the serpent. The liquid entity was not powerful enough to drive away the Distorted God Apophis though as the former was blasted away by the mental energy of the latter. Still, the hand of the female liquid entity was able to touch the tip of Thueban's finger.

Thueban's soul which was about to be completely devoured by the Distorted God Apophis was suddenly encased in an orb of water just as it was about to be erased by the latter. Even if Thueban's soul was saved from being completely erased by the Distorted God Apophis, it does not mean that the serpent was not able to take over.

The Distorted God Apophis has completely taken over Thueban's body and mind while her soul was sealed in the depths of her subconscious. The only way to save the soul of the poor girl would be to kill her she can no longer get her mortal body as it is now in the complete control of the Distorted God Apophis.

Thueban's black hair started to turn slightly off white as a testament to the Distorted God Apophis' corruption of her body and resonance with the vessel. Her eyes were now that of a serpent instead of a human. Her light brown skin started to have some resemblance to a snake's scales as well.

The weak looking body that was not filled with nutrition started to have some shape as the Distorted God Apophis' energy nourished her unhealthy body. Her clothes that was dirty and ragged is changed to a whiter and clear silk gown. She also started to have golden bangles that were snakes biting their tails.

The Distorted God Apophis has finally fused with the vessel that it has waited for all these years. Levin Cloud and the others were unable to stop the process of the possession which disheartened them a bit. The Distorted God Apophis felt good in her new body as she now has real flesh in the mortal realm which means she can exercise control.

[The Distorted God Apophis has successfully taken over the vessel that it has planned for over thousands of years.]

The Distorted God Apophis exploded in energy once again as she tried to see what is the limit that it can draw out from its immense energy. The Distorted God Apophis could only release the strength of a demigod even if it has taken over her vessel. This was due to the fact that it was not a complete being as of yet and the world bearing its pressure towards her.

"You might be able to restrain me for the moment but that will not be true once I gather all of my remaining fragments." The Distorted God Apophis stated as her voice is now more feminine but in the deeper timbre.

The Distorted God Apophis then looked towards Levin Cloud and the others that tried to stop it from taking over her vessel. She released a powerful wave of darkness towards Levin Cloud which actually rooted him out of the cave ceiling that he was attached to. Levin Cloud was sent crashing on the ground, but he was able to buff himself just enough for the attack to not kill him.

"The noise is too much here. I must do something about it." The Distorted God Apophis stated as she left after seeing group retreat.

The Distorted God Apophis went out of the crevice, and she met eyes with her other half which is the Shadow of Apophis. The Shadow of Apophis stopped its assault on the enemies that gathered which made the players thought that it was tired but there was actually another reason. The players suddenly felt an eerie feeling around them which made them cast as much defensive magic on themselves.

"It is time to resonate with me my other half." The Distorted God Apophis stated as she placed her hand on top of the head of the Shadow of Apophis.

Chapter 1562 Resonance Of Body And Shadow

The Distorted God Apophis and the Shadow of Apophis started to consolidate both their powers as it is needed to stabilize the body that was just possessed. The Distorted God Apophis has only taken over the body and mind while the soul was only partially possessed. An anchor was needed for the Distorted God Apophis to stabilize, and her shadow would be the one to do that.

The only downside is that the two must never be separated or else there might be a chance for the Distorted God Apophis to go crazy and not control her energy. The Shadow of Apophis that was a mile long suddenly shrank and curled around the body of the Distorted God Apophis. The resonance of body and shadow has completed in under a few seconds and all the gods of the western continent were the ones that witnessed it.

The Gods of the Western Continent tried to smite the Distorted God Apophis but that would mean sacrificing a lot of their own divine energy. The Distorted God Apophis could also defend itself against the attacks from the divine realm above because it will only be limited to the current restraint on the world.

The divine punishment that the Gods of Western Continent could do would be at the level of a lesser god. The Distorted God Apophis is now at the level of a peak demigod due to its resonance with the Shadow of Apophis, but it will continue to rise in the future and reach to the strength of a lesser god naturally. The damage from the smite would not that be powerful as well since there are not many followers around the area.

"We greet the great master!" The avatars that are now under the Distorted God Apophis bowed towards her.

"I shall baptize this area with the strength of my newly attained body." The Distorted God Apophis stated as the Shadow of Apophis opened its mouth while she held her hand upwards.

A powerful orb of dark energy is created using the effort of the two. The players tried to fire off attacks and spells, but a powerful pressure came upon them. This was a passive skill that the Distorted God Apophis has as all beings around it will be under powerful restriction if they are not powerful enough. Most of the players that signed up for the battle are not that powerful but just wanted the rewards.

"Distorted Dark Wave!" The Distorted God Apophis stated as it released the energy that it has gathered.

The wave of darkness took the form of numerous black snakes that rushed towards all those that are in the area. All of the players were swallowed up in the attack as numerous snakes bit them. The players that were unable to defend themselves were swallowed by the darkness and slaughtered by the Followers of Apophis that were empowered by the wave of darkness.

"We shall deal with these lesser beings, master. It seems that the Avatar of Pakhet has found a way to the hidden temple of the Moon God Thoth." The Avatar of Babi stated.

The Distorted God Apophis knows why the Avatar of Babi would say such a thing because she has yet to become full. The Distorted God Apophis is not yet able to exert perfect control of its massive energy in the mortal realm despite taking over the vessel. The testament to that would be some of the players that still standing after her attack.

If the Distorted God Apophis was at full power, then all beings would kneel before it just by the pressure that her body is emitting. She would also not need to have the Shadow of Apophis to stabilize its immense energy. Seeing that most of the enemies have been neutralized and her body starting to get stiff, the Distorted God Apophis created a door of darkness and vanished from the area.

The players were relieved of the pressure of the Distorted God Apophis but those that were affected by it are now mostly dead. The remaining avatars started their slaughter but that does not mean that the other players are going to accept their deaths. Some of the players started their retreat as well since the Distorted God Apophis is no longer in the battlefield.

The players knew that they would not get anything for staying in the area as their main target is no longer there. The three avatars would not let that go though but three guilds that are said to possess the strength and courage of valiant people were the ones that stood in front of the three powerful enemies.

Adrian held the small conch shell and hid it back into his inventory. He was glad that everything was able to be resolved regarding the souls of the children. Just as he was about to check his accomplishments, Awraka suddenly came near him and whispered something.

"The Distorted God Apophis has descended and has taken over the vessel. It seems that Vice Guild Master also experienced something that might help us in the long run. He stated that a powerful death goddess used some of his energy to trap the vessel's soul so that it will not be devoured completely." Awraka whispered.

"Thanks for informing me. We shall teleport to the location of the battle now." Adrian stated but he was informed that the Distorted God Apophis vanished once again but that does not mean they cannot sense the immense energy that the serpent releases.

"Cairo has told us that the Sun God Ra could detect the Distorted God Apophis and it went to the Dark Sand Wastelands which is on the far opposite side of the Temple of the Sun God. Should we head over there to investigate first?" Awraka asked as all of the shadow unit members are determined.

"Sure. Go now but make sure that all of you will not get too close. The Distorted God Apophis is a god of darkness after all. You should be careful." Adrian stated as he called for all of the guild members to reconvene.

Chapter 1563 Corrupted Avatars I

There are three corrupted Avatars of western continent gods that are left in the area. They are none other than Avatar of Babi, Avatar of Ahti, and the Avatar of Menhit. They are just like the Avatar of Shesmu as their gods have submitted to the Distorted God Apophis.

The Distorted God Apophis promised the gods that submit to her that they will be able to descend early into the mortal world to claim territory. The gods of the divine realm all want to descend as they would be early in creating a divine realm in the mortal realm if they do so. Creating a divine realm in the mortal realm is not about power but about time.

There are already some gods that have created divine realms in the mortal world but that is something one can only do when they descend fully. The gods that descended earlier are either those that just woke up from being sealed or those that sacrificed to become a demigod. The latter would need to build up their strength organically as they would be restricted by the world providence.

The only reason why the lesser gods do not descend is the fact that they would be reduced to becoming a demigod. They could either be loved by their followers or be targeted by the hungry wolves that are the hidden demigods of the mortal realm. Even lesser gods would die if they were to get killed in the mortal realm with their divine source absorbed.

The Distorted God Apophis is a being that could easily promise protection to gods that join her faction. The number of western gods that joined her can be counted with hands but that also means that they would get a power that is primordial in source. The Distorted God Apophis is the other half of the Sun God Ra which means that she would not die unless one or the other truly dies.

The three avatars are also in line with their gods because they are greedy and selfish as they did grow up in places of the western continent that is rough. Their gods were also not gods that have a good reputation due to the things that they are associated with. Gods are beings that gain power by aligning by what they represent after all.

The God Babi is a God of Fertility as he represents never ending vitality. He might be helpful for those that want to have an heir but being never ending is not always a bad thing as he needs to release it on other things. The God Babi is also known for a god that murders anyone on sight and lives on a mountain of human entrails.

The Avatar of Babi is a male that also has some of his traits as he is also very muscular and full of energy. The golden armor that the Avatar of Babi wears is decorated with baboon designs while his helmet is that of a baboon. The chosen weapon of the Avatar of Babi is a large rod that is thick and as long as his body.

The Avatar of Babi might not look like he could easily swing this rod, but he could swing it like it is a stick. Any enemy that fights the Avatar of Babi in terms of physical prowess should be either equal to him in strength or more. If they are not as strong as him then they would easily be squished into a meat paste.

The Goddess Ahti is not like other gods of the western continent as she only has few followers. She was a goddess with the head of a wasp and the body of a hippo, just to make clear how at odds she was with the world. Very little information about her survives, except that she was spiteful. She must have been really spiteful for that to have endured so long.

The Avatar of Ahti also mirrors her own goddess as she was a fat woman that has a very thin head. She was a vain existence that blames the world for her beauty not being accepted or appreciated. She is a spiteful individual like her goddess as she would always look at anyone with malice if she does not like any comment about her. She would even be spiteful to the other followers of Ahti which is why their numbers are not that large.

The Avatar of Ahti uses a flail with curved spikes as she wants the flesh of her enemies to be scraped when she swings her huge weapon. She relishes in the fact that the malice of another person would be directed to her as she also grows more powerful that way. She would also take handsome young male slaves as her lovers and kills them the next day after one night.

The Goddess Menhit is just like the Goddess Bastet as she was a cat goddess just like her. Unlike the Goddess Bastet though, she was not a goddess that protects but a goddess that thrives in aggression and massacre. She was another cat goddess and also was a war goddess with the requisite aggression and murder tendencies.

The Goddess Menhit's name could mean "the slaughterer", "the one who sacrifices", or "she who massacres". She actually did this name justice because she performs all of those and even her followers are the same. Her followers are one of the most war hungry people as they would actively join in massacres or battles that will make blood flow.

The Goddess Menhit's followers are also few in number because the ones that are usually in her service are either crazy or has been raised to be battle crazy. The Avatar of Menhit is also the same as she is the one that clearly mirrors her goddess among all the crazy followers. To make matters confusing and unnerving, the Followers of Menhit would look like civilized people until slaughter starts.

There are signs if one is a Follower of Menhit as they would often collect trophies of those that they have killed. The most notable collection would be that of human canines as it is the sharpest of the teeth. Sharp teeth could also represent the Goddess Menhit as the followers would often give these as offerings.

The Avatar of Menhit is wearing golden armor that is actually very revealing when one is to describe it. It seems that it is not only the enemy's blood that they like to see in the battle but also their own. She wears a lioness helmet that has an intimidating look. Her armor is more decorated in the savage side as it could be described as incredibly war torn.

The Avatar of Menhit is incredibly agile and strong which is expected of someone that is under a war goddess. She prefers to inflict great damage to her enemies with her bear hands which is why she wears clawed gloves. These golden gloves with sharp nails that could easily scratch even the toughest of armors.

The golden nails are also a bit curved which means that any being that gets scraped would have their flesh dug out. The Avatar of Menhit also enjoys playing with her enemies as she would target the areas of the body that will spill the most blood. She would even relish the blood that she makes her enemies shed by licking it from her claws.

In other words, all three of the avatars and gods that have joined the Distorted God Apophis are beings that already have a few loose screws. The three of them did not actually stay because of a sense of responsibility but they just wanted needless slaughter. This was also one of the promises of the Distorted God Apophis to them. They wanted to have great release of their powerful thirst for blood and battle.

The players that left were actually not truly able to escape as an invisible barrier was actually already deployed as soon as the three avatars showed themselves. The ones that tried to leave were blocked by the barrier and attacked by the followers of the three gods that submitted to the Distorted God Apophis. In the end, all the beings that were sent there must now fight for their life or destroy the barrier to escape.

A lot of guilds accepted the request for teleportation and most of them also died from the attack of the Distorted God Apophis. The only ones that survived are those that could counter the darkness attribute and those that have life saving skills. The players that thought that they could raid the Distorted God Apophis have their hopes crushed.

They thought that they would fight a humungous serpent just like the Shadow of Apophis, but the reality was different. To make matters worse, the boss that they are about to raid just left without even letting them have a hit. The players are now left at the mercy of three avatars with their murderous gods descended.

Chapter 1564 Corrupted Avatars II

The Avatar of Babi wreak the most havoc as his attacks would sends shockwaves that would cleave the sands. If the ground itself was not made of sand, then it might have cracked open by the sheer force of his attacks. He easily bashed any player that does not have great footing into the sands below their feet.

The players that were already accustomed to hard ground had difficulty in maintaining their balance. This is true for the tank players as they need solid ground to stabilize their footing compared to other classes. They need to absorb the energy and shock from the attacks of enemies then distribute it to the ground below them.

The tanks that are unfamiliar with the sandy ground would be swept away via knockback by the Avatar of Babi's attack. This is not true for everyone as there have been tank players that have already accustomed themselves to the sand. They were the first ones to be transported to the western continent when the Shadow of Apophis first appeared.

"Weak! Can all of you not even put up a good fight?!" The Avatar of Babi shouted as he is not having the time of his life in killing his enemies.

The Avatar of Babi thought that he would have the time of his life in killing off the warriors chosen by the other gods of the western continent, but he is greatly underwhelmed. The ones that he thought would put up a good fight were easily sent flying by his attacks.

The Avatar of Babi jumped to attack a large group of players that was clumped but he suddenly saw a large axe near his head. The Avatar of Babi changed his position in midair which demonstrated his great flexibility and acrobatics despite his incredibly toned body. He met the large axe with his large rod which created a powerful shockwave that sent both him and the wielder of the large axe a few meters away from each other.

"You seem worthy! What is your name, warrior!?" The Avatar of Babi asked as he pointed his weapon towards the giant axe wielder.

"The name is Siegfried, baboon man." Siegfried stated as he was immediately healed by his guild members.

"Why is a real man needing support from others?! You should not need for trivial things as one would only cripple their development." The Avatar of Babi stated as he found out that Siegfried was not fighting by himself.

"You are saying that, but you have the support of a god with you. Why not relinquish the divine energy spreading through your body then you could berate our leader on what it means to have strength." Faust stated as his Greater Spirit Salamander coiled around him since it was now at the size of a wyvern.

"Then let us see which one would have more power! My great god versus the strength of mortals banding together!" The Avatar of Babi stated as he charged towards Siegfried with the latter doing the same.

The Avatar of Ahti was taking her time in killing off all the players around her, but she was not happy with some of them dying with a swing of her flail. She even thought of some of the mortals that she killed as cute. She wanted them to at least take one hit or else they would not last long when she showers them with her beautiful love.

Just as she was about to hit an elven player, a handsome man suddenly appeared in front of her flail and changed its course to her. The elven player was none other than Aisha and the one who saved her was Ain. Ain then concluded his defensive stance by lowering both his hands in a horizontal motion.

"Hello, handsome. Do you want to be part of this gorgeous woman's harem? I will surely make you my first husband as you are definitely my liking." The Avatar of Ahti stated as she pursed her lips and even did a sexy pose.

All of the players that saw her being all perky and seductive would either do a puking motion or turn their head away if they are respectful. Ain himself did not look away as his mental fortitude is extremely tough due to his job class which is Martial Sage. He could feel that the woman in front of him is exuding different emotions to him.

Ain could pick up the emotions of those around him due to his training and skills. The Avatar of Ahti does exude some sexual feelings toward him, but the blood lust is apparent. The blood lust that the Avatar of Ahti is exuding clearly overshadowed the previous feelings. She was saying one thing, but she ultimately wants to kill Ain for doing something that he should not have.

"A shy one or are you mute? Either way, that is also very good for me!" The Avatar of Ahti stated as she swung her flail once more towards Ain.

The flail's head flew towards Ain without any problem as if it had a homing capability. Aisha sighed as she knew that Ain would definitely try to deflect it once more as he was still in his training phase. She released multiple arrows that hit the head of the flail which in turn slowed it down a little.

"Thanks." Ain stated as he suddenly flared up in a misty blue aura which covered his body like a thin fil.

Ain prepared his stance and sent the flail flying back with a kick. He was able to easily deflect it once more, but he could see that his aura was slightly damaged from the flail. He was slightly damaged despite being able to deflect the flail back to its owner.

The Avatar of Ahti then held the head of the flail with her hands and licked the spike that hit Ain's aura. She was feeling exhilarated at the fact that a beautiful man could keep up with her. All the strong men in the western continent are few and those that are handsome are even fewer. She had to satisfy her desires with beautiful weak men instead but that ends now.

"I should thank the other western gods for sending such perfect men to me." The Avatar of Ahti stated as she burned with desire.

The Avatar of Menhit is different compared to the other two avatar as she actively took part in the slaughter of all those that entered her zone. She was not like the other that were interested in things such as fun because slaughter is the only thing that she views as enjoyable in her mortal life. She colored her golden claws with blood and relished in it.

Everyone that was in her surroundings would spray a beautiful crimson red fountain as she always aimed for the parts of the body with arteries. She enjoyed the feeling of bathing in the blood of others but that did not last long as a golden green glow spread in the area. All of those that she thought would die from blood loss suddenly started recovering back to full health.

The one that was responsible for that was none other than a strange looking elf that had longer ears compared to the ones around her. She was none other than the high elf Anastacia and she was the one that answered the call of the western gods along with a few of her guild members while some protected the world tree.

The Avatar of Menhit did not like this as she did not want her only joy to be suddenly gone which is why she immediately went for Anastacia's neck. She wanted to see if the high elf would bleed red just like the other mortals as she has never met a being such as her that smells like pure nature. Most of her guild members could bare keep up with the Avatar of Menhit's speed except for one.

A greater wind spirit in the form of a four-winged eagle suddenly appeared in front of the Avatar of Menhit and blocked any attempt of her getting closer to Anastacia. She suddenly sensed danger on her back which is why she immediately bent her back as four flaming arrows passed by her bent head. Still, she did not dodge the next attack as two arrows coated with the ice element hit her stomach and leg.

The Avatar of Menhit dropped to the ground and destroyed the ice arrows that pierced her. This was the first time that she has experienced the ice element as it was basically inexistent in the western continent. She felt the chill from the attack as her blood flowed from her wounds. The Avatar of Menhit smiled as she found someone that could inflict wounds on her despite her speed. The ones that hit her was another high elf but he was combat oriented compared to the other one that is clearly a priest.

Chapter 1565 Corrupted Avatars III

Alder did not expect that they would have to directly deal with one of the avatars in the western continent. He thought that they would only directly deal with the Distorted God Apophis, but they were suddenly getting easily dealt with by one of the corrupted avatars. Some of them know of these corrupted avatars as one of them did defeat the Avatar of Horus.

Even the spirits that are under his control are telling him that the Avatar that is in front of them is a monster disguised as a human. The elemental spirits could feel the deep bloodlust that is not easily detected by mortals. The Avatar of Menhit is one of such individual as she was covered in a blanket of blood that smells incredibly thick.

Alder could also see that healing everyone back to health is not going to cut it as the damage being dealt is incredible. The Avatar of Menhit is like the opposite of Anastacia as she deals incredible damage in the blink of an eye. Anastacia could heal all of them in a blink of an eye, but her allies cannot deal with the Avatar of Menhit.

Even Alder can only provide protection to Anastacia as no one in their elite group could actually follow the movements of the enemy. He cannot actively go on the offensive or else he might not be able to protect Anastacia from the enemy. He has this powerful scary intuition that Anastacia will die if the Avatar of Menhit even reaches just a part of her.

The Avatar of Menhit is also being extremely careful when it comes to getting near them as if she was not just a crazed slaughterer. Alder could hear the spirits whisper to him that the woman in front of them has a head clearer than before she was killing people. She was someone that acts crazy in the battlefield, but she was actually incredibly sane.

"We might be killed at this rate." Alder thought as they do not have Cersei or Mariposa with them as they are protecting the world tree.

"Should we help them?" Creepysoo asked as he was freshly revived by Levin Cloud.

"We will help them eventually because we cannot get out of this place if we do not destroy the barrier or defeat the three of them." Solstice stated as she managed to recover herself by collating the blood puddles that she split her body.

"It is a good thing that little Soleil is able to save herself and was the quickest among us to actually warn us." Peridot stated as she was also revived by Levin Cloud.

"I manage to slightly protect Big Brother Levin Cloud as well which is why he managed to revive the two of you." Soleil stated as she created a powerful flame barrier around Levin Cloud which protected him from dying due to the Distorted God Apophis' attack.

"I did almost die but I was able to heal myself with the small health that was left of me. A damage like that is illegal when the Distorted God Apophis has just gotten her vessel." Levin Cloud stated as he really did catch a break.

"How long till my brother arrives?" Solstice asked as Adrian is already headed towards their location.

"He said that it will take an hour as he is also going to fetch the others that died." Peridot stated as she saw the group chat.

"Can we even survive against three corrupted avatars within an hour? Even Big Bro Equinox needed the help of others to even attempt to kill one." Creepysoo stated.

"We might be able to this time as the ones that are here are from three of the major guilds. The chances will rise as long as we move with them." Solstice stated.

"We can manage an hour. Who should we face?" Peridot stated as they needed to distribute their team.

Siegfried and Faust along with some of their elite members are strong but they are not that familiar in fighting against a powerful NPC like the Avatar of Babi. They were getting easily thrown away by the shockwaves getting released by the giant rod. Siegfried will take on the attacks head on while Faust will counterattack but the Avatar of Babi seems to have a special barrier around him that dispels long range attacks.

Faust could see his fireballs getting dispersed by some sort of sonic barrier. He has deduced that the Avatar of Babi has some sort of sonic barrier around him that deflects long ranged attacks. Just as the Avatar of Babi's attacks can produce shockwaves, his body also produces a barrier shockwave which Faust needs to understand.

The team also lacks someone that could heal them proactively as their healers were losing lots of mana. They were getting hurt despite not getting directly hit by the enemy. They needed the healers to reserve mana which is why they chose to go with the potion route. The enemy is also not losing any momentum as if his vitality and energy is always full.

Just as they were thinking of what to do with the Avatar of Babi, a powerful flaming tornado suddenly fell onto the Avatar of Babi. Siegfried looked towards Faust, but the latter shook his head as he did not do something that powerful. The members of Siegfried's guild are suddenly surrounded by a golden glow that swept at them and healed all their wounds.

"Who dares!" The Avatar of Babi shouted as he swirled his giant rod in the reverse of the flaming tornado and dissipated it.

"I told you that it would not be enough against that big oaf, but you did good in buying me time to heal them." Levin Cloud stated as both him and Soleil appeared next to them.

Siegfried and the others were shocked as they did not expect to see them as they were not seen earlier. They looked around but the demon was not with them, but they did have the Leshy. The Infernum guild members did not expect that someone that could change the flow of the battlefield has come to aid them, but they were not the only ones.

Ain and Aisha were doing good in deflecting the attacks but that does not mean that they can counterattack. They were unable to land a blow on the Avatar of Ahti as they were pushed to be on the defensive. Ain tried to use some footwork to reach the Avatar of Ahti, but she was incredibly agile for her body structure.

Even Aisha's arrows were not able to even graze the skin of the Avatar of Ahti due to her relentless movements. The players that surrounded the Avatar of Ahti could not believe that such a nonsensical being exists. Seeing that her prey and future slaves were only stuck on defending, the Avatar of Ahti wanted to test them more as she wants beautiful strong men in her harem.

The Avatar of Ahti was about to use a skill as she waved the flail in a circular motion, but skeletal hands suddenly sprouted from the ground. The skeletal hands tried to drag her down while a sudden powerful wind tried to assist in pushing her down. The Avatar of Ahti could be seen slowly getting pushed downwards onto the sands as two hands made of sand attempted to swallow her.

"Hateful!" The Avatar of Ahti shouted as a powerful shockwave came out from her body.

The shockwave actually came from the wasp wings that was hidden behind the Avatar of Ahti's back. She was also immediately able to rise from the sands and even blow the sands that tried to swallow her. She burst out in a powerful energy as her malice increased but she does not know who to direct it to.

"She is really ugly." Creepysoo stated clearly which the Avatar of Ahti heard.

"You really are someone that cannot stop their mouth." Peridot stated as they appeared beside the Valor guild.

Creepysoo is not just talking about the Avatar of Ahti's body but also the aura around her. He could see the numerous evil spirits that are residing in her flail. He could smell something inhuman that is residing in the flail as numerous evil spirits with malice are contained within it.

"An ugly undead is talking about my beautiful self?! You are the ugly one!" The Avatar of Ahti shouted as she actually charged towards Creepysoo.

The Avatar of Ahti suddenly appeared in front of Creepysoo which shocked the others, but the latter did not get rattled. Creepysoo was hit by the full blunt force of the flail, but his body suddenly turned into bandages. The bandages would then cover the Avatar of Ahti's body and attempted to strangle her.

"To think that an ugly being like you is into bondage!" The Avatar of Ahti stated as she suddenly increased her body size to double and ripped all of the bandages that wrapped around her.

Chapter 1566 Corrupted Avatars IV

The Avatar of Ahti became bigger as a result of the continuous spells thrown at her by Creepysoo and Peridot. The malice that she was releasing earlier doubled with her size as if she was increasing her abilities by creating more spite for herself. Creepysoo placed curses on her, but it was all rejected.

[The target of the curse has already been afflicted with a great deal of curse which is why they cannot be affected by another curse that decreases stats.]

Creepysoo already fought some beings that have a notification alert like this. The beings that he battled with this alert notification have a special skill within them that actually acts like a curse. They would get double the value of a certain stat while sacrificing another stat in return.

The Avatar of Ahti sacrifices her Charm Stat in return for increasing her own battle prowess. It is also the reason why she has the nickname of the Ugly Gladiator because her Charm stat decreases to the point that it becomes negative. She would then fuel the criticizing gazes that she receives with her own spite.

Creepysoo summoned all of his undead knights to fight against someone like the Avatar of Ahti but not all of them can last long on a head-on collision against her. Frankie did not last long though even if he was the tankiest among all of them. Undead are weak against blunt force attacks which is why they can die when hit hard enough.

The ones that synergized well were actually Robin Hoodie and Aisha as the two complemented each other. Robin Hoodie would fire his spectral arrows at the gaps that Aisha cannot attack which is why the damage that the Avatar of Ahti received has compounded. Ain with the help of Creepysoo and Peridot is keeping the gigantic Avatar of Ahti at bay.

The players of the Valor guild could not help but praise the two that came to their aid. All that they need to do now is to make sure that they last long enough to kill the Avatar of Ahti. The health bar of the enemy is starting to slowly go down when it did not budge one bit earlier.

Alder is doing his best, but he cannot keep up with the Avatar of Menhit just by himself. He can defend against her attacks, but they were getting casualties every time that she moves. Since the Avatar of Menhit cannot kill Anastacia easily, she focused on the guild members that are near them.

The guild members would go to critical health as they cannot follow the movements of the enemy in front of them. Anastacia would make sure that they survive but she does not have infinite mana to heal them. If something is not done, then they would surely slowly die because they attack back.

Alder lost focus for one second which actually became dangerous. He was not able to defend Anastacia in time as he could see the golden claws aimed for Anastacia's eyes. He thought that he was too late, and he could also see Anastacia deploying a barrier, but it was not fast enough to materialize.

Just as the golden claws of the Avatar of Menhit is about to hit Anastacia's face, a red puddle suddenly materialized in front of Anastacia. The red puddle then erupted as a warrior with golden armor suddenly appeared between Anastacia and the Avatar of Menhit. Solstice suddenly created two swords made of blood and defended Anastacia from danger.

Alder saw who it was that helped them and is relieved. He knew Solstice when she sees that golden armor as that is her trademark when the sun is still up. Alder was not just shocked but also amazed because Solstice was able to defend against the Avatar of Menhit's attack despite being exposed to sunlight.

Solstice did not stop at blocking as she still has the red puddle of blood beneath her. She immediately used the blood to create numerous blood swords that she sent flying towards the Avatar of Menhit. The flying blood swords were quick and deadly as they plunged themselves to the exposed body parts of the Avatar of Menhit.

The Avatar of Menhit had to retreat as she was still in mid-air and cannot easily control her body. She was unable to exert any force in her attack and was incredibly damaged as well. She did not expect the sudden new enemy to defend Anastacia as she was sure that the high elf would have her head cut off by her attack.

"What is your name, warrior?!" The Avatar of Menhit asked as she wants to know the warrior that managed to block her attack.

"The name is Solstice." Solstice replied as wasting time is much better than unrelenting attacks.

"You do not smell human. You smell like one of the craving ones. You are pretty strong for a craving one. Is your rank a Marquis?" The Avatar of Menhit stated as she has already encountered some vampires, but they were often called craving ones.

"I am surprised that you know of my race but there were some that was vanished to the western continent. It is not surprising that you call them craving ones when they were already cut off from their families. Also, I am not as lowly as a Marquis." Solstice stated as she collected all of the blood that was spilt on the sands to create a blood orb.

The Avatar of Menhit raised her brows because she encountered one of the craving ones with this ability. He was one of the most powerful ones that she encountered but he still fell to her claws. His rank was that of an Earl as the craving one repeatedly told her when she killed him.

"Are you a duchess then but that does not change anything because you are going to get killed? I wonder what type of statement you will say when I separate your head from your body." The Avatar of Menhit stated as she exploded in energy.

The Avatar of Menhit's worn down armor started to get covered in fur as she was actually slowly transforming more and more to be like her goddess. Among the three corrupted avatars that are present, the Avatar of Menhit is the one that even the other two corrupted avatars do not want to face. The Avatar of Menhit is one of the known avatars that could actually fully sync with their patron god which means she could easily channel the energy of her goddess.

A blood red aura surrounded the Avatar of Menhit as she became vicious in her attacks. The Avatar of Menhit's bloodlust is suddenly sent to all those that are around her which created chills down their spines. Even Solstice felt this incredible bloodlust as she only felt this against enemies that have killed hordes of enemies.

The Avatar of Menhit suddenly vanished and appeared in front of Solstice. Solstice could not even react quick enough as the speed that the enemy moved made it even difficult for her to move. Anastacia could only buff Solstice to be able to take on the attack, but her buff was only received when the latter has her face planted on the ground.

Alder suddenly controlled four elemental spirits to attack the Avatar of Menhit as he knew that the only way to deal with the enemy is helping Solstice. The Avatar of Menhit vanished as four elemental spirits released spells on her location. Solstice managed to get up and recover as she was healed by Anastacia.

The Avatar of Menhit then set her sights on Anastacia as she was about to aim for the high elf's back. The Avatar of Menhit would have been successful if the skies above did not suddenly become dark. A sudden pain encroached her backside and she crashed onto the sands.

"I told you that I was not a Marquis but a Queen. Let me show you what a queen can do." Solstice stated as she was the one that plunged her swords onto the Avatar of Menhit's back.

The both of them crashed but it was the Avatar of Menhit that ate a face full of sand. Solstice plunged her swords deeply and only retracted them when she saw the enemy's claws swipe backward. The Avatar of Menhit stood up as she clutched her bleeding wounds with her two hands.

Solstice' form could be seen as fluttering within the darkness as she can now match the speed of the enemy in front of her. The Avatar of Menhit suddenly laughed out loud as she could now see the wish that she craves ever since she became an avatar. She even coughed out blood while she laughed which made her look like she was deranged.

"Will you be the one to send me to the afterlife?!" The Avatar of Menhit stated as she really wanted to die and it was her curse which is why she became the avatar of the Goddess Menhit.

Chapter 1567 Corrupted Avatars V

The Avatar of Menhit could not believe that she was unable to sense an existence that had killing intent towards her. She looked upwards and the time of days suddenly changed to a moonless night. On such a moonless night like this one, the Vampires reign supreme as they become literal monsters in term of fighting.

Solstice activated her skill to make the area around her into night for ten minutes as she needed to make sure that they can hold on. She did not think of what might happen after, but she did think about what to do. She knew that dealing lethal damage to the Avatar of Menhit would make sure that they will have a great chance of finishing off the opponent.

She vanished from being buried in the sand as her golden armor receded onto her skin and changed to shadows that turned to a beautiful black dress. She became darkness itself and plunged her deadly swords on the Avatar of Menhit's back. She was not given the title of Queen for nothing after all.

She might not have been able to kill the Avatar of Menhit because of the goddess essence (the part of their god or goddess that descends to avatars), but she was still able to injure her enemy greatly. Solstice thought that the enemy would charge at her crazily but the Avatar of Menhit laughed crazily. All of them thought that the word crazy really did describe but Solstice felt different.

The Avatar of Menhit suddenly summoned all the strength that she could get from the descent of her goddess. She actually wanted to die but it was only her goddess that forbids her. One might think that it is not odd that the goddess forbids an avatar to die but the Avatar of Menhit is different. She was forced to become a living war machine at a very young age.

She is also being filled with the energy of the Goddess Menhit that restricts her to even kill herself. She wanted someone that could overpower her as she would need to draw more from the power of the goddess. In other words, she wants to drain her battery so that she can finally die, and she sees Solstice as that opportunity.

"Let us see if you can survive my assault!" The Avatar of Menhit stated but she actually wished that Solstice could.

The Avatar of Menhit drew more power from the goddess as her wounds healed. The physical wounds might have healed but the damage was still there. The Avatar of Menhit zoomed towards Solstice without even minding the people around her. She was like a fierce jungle cat that pounced on its prey without fear or hesitation.

Solstice met with the Avatar of Menhit at the same speed as they clashed. She was as fast as the Avatar of Menhit but her silhouette produced a shadowy effect compared to the other's red. The two fierce women clashed as Solstice swords clashed with the golden claws of the Avatar of Menhit.

Solstice immediately noticed the difference between them. She was weaker in the strength department as she can see her swords being pushed back a little. The Avatar of Menhit is really a monster of strength and speed but there is a game changer in her team.

"Goddess' Full Blessing!" Anastacia stated as she buffed Solstice.

[You have been blessed by Anastacia with the power of the Goddess of Life Gaea.]

[Your Strength stat has been increased by 30% for ten minutes.]

[Your Intelligence stat has been increased by 20% for ten minutes.]

[Your Agility stat has been increased by 30% for ten minutes.]

[Your Stamina stat has been increased by 50% for ten minutes.]

[You have a 50% chance to deal double damage to you enemies for a duration of ten minutes. Tripled when it is a critical hit.]

[All the damage that you have dealt to the enemy will heal you for 10% of the total damage inflicted.]

Anastacia just gave Solstice one of the best buffs that her job class, the Envoy of Life, can give. A green light covered all of Solstice' body. With a swing of her sword, Solstice was able to overpower the enemy in front of her. She was able to send the Avatar of Menhit flying all the way towards the location where the Avatar of Babi was.

[You have dealt a critical hit to your opponent.]

The view of the Avatar of Menhit getting sent flying with some parts of her golden armor breaking could be seen by the Avatar of Babi and Avatar of Ahti along with the other followers. This chain of events led to the sudden tipping of the scales. Siegfried was pumped up as he was suddenly buffed by Levin Cloud with the same buff that was applied to Solstice.

Faust joined hands with Soleil as she was able to temporarily increase the rank of his greater elemental into a high elemental. Salamander could be seen growing to the size of a large flaming dragon. Partnered with the enlarged Regulus, both the high elementals made the Avatar of Babi combust into flames.

For the first time, the Avatar of Babi felt the intense heat of fire graze his skin. He shouted for the first time in the battle and became like a crazed baboon. He started to swing his large rod manically which Siegfried could now easily deflect. Siegfried started his counterattack as his axe felt lighter than before and started his powerful combo of attacks.

The Avatar of Ahti could also feel the pressure as well because she noticed that her enemies were not losing morale. They were also not directing any malice towards her as it was all being absorbed by someone else. She then turned her head towards an undead that wears a veil and holds a doll that looked like her.

"Did you like what Voodoo Marie made? I figured out your source of power because you reek of it." Creepysoo stated as he suddenly took out the Lesser Necronomicon.

"Undying!" Creepysoo stated as the Lesser Necronomicon suddenly released a powerful death spell that affected all his allies around him.

[You have been afflicted with the Forbidden Spell: Undying.]

[All of you damage will be decreased by 20% but you will not receive any damage for the duration of two minutes.]

[You will also be immune to any status condition during the duration of the spell.]

All the members of the Valor guild shuddered when they saw what kind of buff they were affected with. Creepysoo smiled as 20% of his health was suddenly cut off as that was the price of the forbidden spell but that is worth it for the enemy. The Valor guild that was afraid of getting close suddenly started to go forward against the enemy.

Ain was the one that started the attacks as he did not even doubt the notification that he read. He charged towards the Avatar of Ahti with his bluish white aura getting stronger. He did not even blink as the giant flail was about to hit his face as it actually passed through him as if he was transformed into a ghost type undead.

In fact, even ghost type undead would be affected by the flail as it was filled with divine energy from another goddess, but the forbidden spell is not something anyone can get. It was forbidden for the reason that it created an undying army that is not affected by anything for two minutes. This was a powerful spell that a powerful necromancer once created.

Ain smiled as he saw the giant flail pass through him as it was a worth it sacrifice for 20% of his damage. He suddenly started to perform a series of movements that created powerful blows against the body of the Avatar of Ahti. It was quite a sight to see a large, bodied individual being sent flying as if they weigh nothing at all.

"Martial Sage Arts: Fox Hunt!" Ain shouted as his body was enveloped in an energy shaped like fox.

Ain jumped high and aimed for the heart of the Avatar of Ahti, but his hands alone cannot pierce the sturdy golden armor that his enemy wore. There was a large indentation on the chest area of the golden armor though which meant that he could pierce it given time. The Avatar of Ahti though the attacks would no longer come but a shower of arrows rained on her.

The Avatar of Ahti tried to deflect the arrows but all of them passed through her flail as if they were illusions. The damage was real though as she could feel numerous arrows pierce the gaps in her armor. She crashed to the ground like a porcupine, but the attacks did not stop there as the duration of Undying was not yet over. The sight of the Valor guild attacking an injured and unmoving opponent could make other mistake that their guild name was different.

Chapter 1568 Corrupted Avatars VI

The fall of the Avatar of Menhit is what started the defeat of the enemies. The Avatar of Menhit looked quite satisfied of what was happening as her body started to become sore. She was seeing the fact that she could be dead as long as she keeps fighting against the enemies around her.

Solstice did not expect such a response from her enemy as she could sense the strangeness. She could feel as if the enemy that she is beating up looks like she was enjoying the sensation. The Avatar of Menhit did not care what was happening to the followers that followed her as all she wanted was her own death.

"A little more!" The Avatar of Menhit thought as she clutched her body that was now filled with wounds.

The Avatar of Menhit could feel the large decrease of the divine energy in her body. She knew that it would not be long until the control of the goddess that she serves will relinquish. She could feel her body battered up and incredibly injured, but she was smiling as she charged towards the enemy.

"Did you think that I would let you foolishly die just like that?!" The Avatar of Menhit suddenly stated to herself as she stopped her charge towards Solstice.

Solstice was also shocked of what happened because the presence of the Avatar of Menhit suddenly changed. If one were to describe the sensation, then the Avatar of Menhit is now filled with two auras that are dangerous. The Avatar of Menhit suddenly had a different expression on her face as she no longer smiled at her own demise.

"Such a naughty little girl. To think that she would try to kill herself by finding such powerful opponents. Shall we stop this as this body is very precious to me? I shall let all of you leave here with your lives intact and your heads attached to your neck." The Avatar of Menhit stated arrogantly but Solstice laughed.

"Did you think that you can act as if you can last long? That body is already at its breaking point and you entering it does not mean that everything is fine. I knew that some goddesses were arrogant as told by my brother, but you actually think that we will follow you just because you are one." Solstice stated as she charged to the Avatar of Menhit to finish off the job.

"It seems that I would need to educate you on how to bow down to a goddess!" The Avatar of Menhit or rather the Goddess of Menhit stated as a powerful golden light came down from the heavens. The sudden pillar of dark gold light erupted and created a shockwave that blasted Solstice a few meters away.

The Avatar of Menhit suddenly started to get fully covered in dark gold armor and the helmet that was golden became a face. The Goddess Menhit herself has descended onto the world as she did not want to have her avatar be killed. She needed her avatar for the things that are to come, and her death would make things lag behind.

[The Goddess Menhit has descended onto the mortal world partially by sacrificing some of her followers in the area.]

Some of the Followers of Menhit could be seen killing themselves by slitting their own throats. These people are what you describe as fanatic as they did not even think twice of killing themselves. The blood of the followers dyed the sands of the battlefield, and it was not just the Followers of Menhit.

[The Goddess Ahti has descended onto the mortal world partially by sacrificing some of her followers in the area.]

[The God Babi has descended onto the mortal world partially by sacrificing some of his followers in the area.]

Two more dark golden pillars of light could be seen descending onto the area as the Avatar of Babi and the Avatar of Ahti are also taken over by their respective patron gods. The golden helmets that they wore became real faces stuck to humanoids wearing dark golden armor. The dark golden armors are not only decorated by their sigils but also with the Distorted God Apophis to show their allegiance.

The three gods knew that they need their avatars for the plans for the future or else they would not easily descend when the time comes. The Distorted God Apophis is also a god that gives gifts to those that are incredibly useful which meant that they could get bigger territories. The loss of their avatars would also become a significant loss on their fighting forces as an avatar is five times more important than a normal follower.

"All of you did not heed my warnings. We shall let the world know that you will be slaughtered because you chose to ignore the words of gods." The Goddess Menhit stated but she could see that the beings in front of her was not cowering in fear.

"Descent of the Tree of Life and Death!" Levin Cloud suddenly stated as the dark skies above suddenly opened as a seed fell down to the barren sands.

The seed that fell to the sands suddenly sprouted into a large cactus looking plant that was a mixture of a healthy and a dying cactus. The entire area suddenly changed in pressure as the powerful auras of the three gods that descended has lessened. The lessening pressure exceeded by the three gods were not the only thing that changed as a rift in time and space suddenly opened outside the barrier.

The beings that came out of the rift was none other than Adrian and his guild members. The barrier only made sure that those inside will not get out, but it did not stop anyone from getting in. Adrian passed through the barrier and the area felt quiet.

"Alright then. It is time for us to hunt down gods everyone." Adrian stated in a clear voice as if what he said is a complete order.

"Greater Summon: Sirius!"

"Greater Summon: Kanlaon!"

"Greater Summon: Charon!"

Sirius, Kanlaon and Charon showed up in their original forms and their pressure alone could match one of the gods that descended. Adrian could already get the gist of the situation as he was getting some of it while he was rounding up the guild members. Thankfully they were able to gather at the Temple of the Sun God which is why they were quite early this time.

Adrian was only able to gather a few guild members as the rest were still needed to defend the Temple of the Sun God. They needed to guard the Sun God Ra even more now as the Distorted God Apophis has now taken a physical form in the mortal realm. The notable members he brought are those that can pull their weight against demigods.

The God Babi was suddenly hit by a powerful wind slash that came from a being behind him. Soleil's eyes glowed when she saw that her father has revived earlier than expected. Kabrakan, Vayu and Lycan made sure to clear quests from the underworld to immensely reduce their respawn timer. Adrian even helped them by creating more quests for them to clear but it was not only his guild members that benefitted but also other players.

Kabrakan went to be the defense against the Goddess Ahti as their group needed someone that could take the blunt damage that she did. Lycan went to Solstice and teamed up with her to try and take down the Goddess Menhit. Adrian did not need to tell all of them what to do as he briefed them to go against the being that they believe they can win against.

Adrian was on another duty and that is barrier breaking as it was not only there to stop them from leaving but also sapping some of their energy as well. He already let lose three of his soulbounds which could be said to change the flow of the battle to their favor. Also, the bodies of the avatars could be seen in their breaking points and killing them would only be a matter of time.

Adrian is also communicating with another person and that is Frey. She was not joining the battle because she was looking for the God Loki in the area as she is the only one that could sense him. She told the other that she could still feel the presence of the God Loki which is why she did not leave the crevice.

Adrian is also doing the same as he tapped into the Tree of Life and Death and used his own energy as a pulse to act as a radar. He was searching for the being that seems to be the mastermind of this whole thing and the collaborator of the Distorted God Apophis. When he thought that another god interfering, pieces of the puzzle started to get pieced together since the awakening of the Shadow of Apophis could not be due to natural occurrence.

Chapter 1569 The Temple Of The Moon Rises

The Distorted God Apophis has already reached the location given to her by the Avatar of Babi. Her new form could be said as very alluring but the aura around her makes anything feel intense fear. It is said that darkness was the first source of fear for the primal living beings as it is something ancient and unknown.

The Sun God Ra and the Distorted God Apophis were such beings as they were the first born of their respective dimension. They were only known as Ra and Apophis back then as one appeared when the other came into being. No one was higher than the other as they were of equal standing.

They also fulfilled different duties as Ra was the one that wanted to create beings. In order for that to happen, one of them needed to seal away the darkness. As Apophis was the one that had the control over darkness itself, it decided that it will be the one to fulfill this duty.

When the darkness was pushed to the corners of the universe, the God Ra started the creation of the first spark of light. With the first spark of light, new gods were born, and they looked at Ra as their creator and father. With the aid of the newly born gods, the new universe of Hiero was born with the gods of creation being the Ra and Apophis.

Although Apophis made great contribution to create the universe, the beings in the universe did not ray to it like they did with Ra. Instead of prayer for protection, Apophis received warnings to not enter their domain as it rules over darkness. Apophis did not mind this as it could still view the human beings it helped create but there was a slight bitterness in its heart.

The Gods of the Hiero universe called themselves the Ennead as given to them by the humans that prayed to them. Since it was humans that created the name of the group, Apophis was not given a place in the Pantheon. Still, Apophis had followers back then that would pray to it for the safe passage of night which it blessed them for safety in the cover of the night.

Apophis was fine with any number of followers as long as they prayed to him with pure thoughts. The good times do not last long though as the invading gods that prey on other universes found Hiero. The Ennead fought with all their might to protect their followers as much as they could, but the billion lives suddenly shrunk to a few thousand.

The invaders were none other than gods that were also stolen of their home or those that have been corrupted by what they call the void. Gods with their universe stolen or destroyed are called Dark Gods as they could no longer stay in their own dimension. Gods that have become corrupted by the void are called Distorted Gods as they become a twisted version of themselves.

Some gods have retained their high level of intellect of compassion but there are more that have just lost their minds. The gods that lost their minds are usually the Distorted Gods and it is said that any god that becomes one would ravish and destroy worlds to sate their pain. The one that attacked the Hiero universe was none other than a Distorted God called Raa Vaa.

The Ennead were unable to defeat the Distorted God Raa Vaa which is why they needed to flee even if they needed to sacrifice their universe to do so. They would rather become dark gods than have all of their creations wiped out. Ra and Apophis knew that they are the only ones that can have a fighting chance against the Distorted God Raa Vaa.

The Ennead along with Apophis fought against the Distorted God Raa Vaa as their remaining followers were sent to another universe. In the end, their universe had to be sacrificed as they could not defeat the Distorted God Raa Vaa. Apophis did not want to give up and did something that the other gods of Hiero did not expect.

The darkness that Apophis kept was unleashed into the universe which led to a rift in the dimension. A part of the void was exposed, and Apophis absorbed energy from this powerful source but cannot easily control it. Apophis was able to become even stronger, but it also meant that it is no longer the god that they once knew.

Apophis transformed into the Distorted God of Primal Darkness and unleashed its wrath against the Distorted God Raa Vaa. The fight of the two distorted gods destroyed the universe entirely but Apophis managed to defeat the Distorted God Raa Vaa. One might think that it is a good thing, but everything has a price.

Apophis managed to retain its intellect when battling the Distorted God Raa Vaa but exhaustion made its divine core weak. The energy from the void is otherworldly and cannot be hoped to be controlled by gods or beings that are not born inside of it. The restricted feelings that the Distorted God Apophis kept suddenly exploded and took over its mentality.

Since the Distorted God Apophis and the God Ra was connected to each other, the God Ra also became the antithesis of the Distorted God Apophis. Ra has become the Sun God Ra and became the only one that could stop the Distorted God Apophis on its rampage. It was this time that the Distorted God Apophis has become a being that became the eternal enemy of the father of the Ennead.

The Distorted God Apophis followed the Sun God Ra to the universe of Pandemonium which was extremely big in scale. It was only at that time when the Distorted God Apophis was able to be sealed in its own dimension by the Asmodians. The Ennead which was in the hundreds suddenly became low in number as a lot of the gods perished due to the universal travel.

"We are ready to do the ritual, master." The Follower of Apophis stated which woke the Distorted God Apophis from its trip down to memory lane.

"Start as I want to greet my favorite Ennead after all." The Distorted God Apophis stated.

The followers of Apophis laid out the magic formation as they were given permission to start. The Temple of Thoth was different from the other Ennead because he was the only one that would talk to Apophis back then when the others avoided it. The God Thoth is a curious fellow which liked the company of Apophis as the latter has the knowledge of creation.

The magic formation was placed, and the Distorted God Apophis immediately filled it with her miasma. The magic formation glowed in an ominous dark golden light as a tear in the dimension appeared. The barren dark sands were suddenly split into two as if a knife tore up another layer in the dimension.

A tall spire temple that has the background of the moon appeared in the other side as the temple was actually hidden in another dimension. The Distorted God Apophis smiled as this is something that only the God Thoth could do because he is god of the moon, sacred texts, mathematics, the sciences, magic, messenger and recorder of the deities, master of knowledge, and patron of scribes.

The most intelligent and prepared god among the Ennead as he is someone the others would also not want to have on their bad side. The God Thoth was also the only other god that could equal the Sun God Ra as the former fully understands himself and everything that revolves around the world. A god that is equivalent to a Primordial God when he gets serious in fighting.

"Should we proceed, master?" The followers of Apophis asked as they were now able to open a rift.

"We do not need to proceed because the master of the temple has already shown himself to us." The Distorted God Apophis stated as a floating figure with the helmet of an Ibis appeared from the top of the spire temple.

"It seems that it is true that you have managed to revive yourself but with the assistance of foreign ones. To think that you trusted them when it was also foreign gods that made our universe suffer." The man with the golden ibis helmet stated.

"As expected of you... Already descended into your avatar or should I say your vessel. The others would have scorned you for what you did but that is all that they can do. I need my parts that are kept inside of your temple." The Distorted God Apophis stated.

The human that was flying using magic was none other than the God Thoth that has already merged with his vessel. Two gods with vessels have met with each other and the pressure in the surrounding area could be described as heavy. With a wave of his staff, the magic formation that took an hour to create collapsed.

"Let us talk." The God Thoth stated.

Chapter 1570 The God Thoth And The God Apophis

With just a swing of his staff, the rift that was created by the magic circle vanished and the Temple of the Moon is no longer visible. The followers of Apophis are all shocked with what happened because they needed to use a lot of their mana to cast such a complex magic formation. They even needed the assistance of their patron god just to fully stabilize the magic formation, but it was destroyed by the floating human beings with one swipe of his staff.

"You wish to talk yet you do not want to invite me to your house?" The Distorted God Apophis stated as she acted a bit dismayed.

The God Thoth frowned but he did not answer the question presented to him. He just waved his hands once again and a floating veranda suddenly appeared in the sky. The God Thoth and the Distorted God Apophis went to the veranda created by the former as there was a golden mat laid down.

The God Thoth has already fused with his vessel as well and he was even first compared to the Distorted God Apophis. Even the Distorted God Apophis knew that she cannot win against the God Thoth even if she were to sacrifice her followers. The story would be different if she were fused with all of her fragments, but she was not.

The God Thoth has the appearance of a well-built teenager wearing a golden Ibis headdress. The color of his eyes is amber in color which matched well with his sun kissed skin. He had the aura of a great and wise person which makes it seem that he was older than what might think.

"What do you wish for rampaging about in the western continent? You have sacrificed a lot of lives just to collect the pieces of yourself that was scattered. You were not like this when we were back in our old universe. You have become the gods that you have despised. Has the corruption truly taken over your mind?" The God Thoth stated.

"You are saying that I am corrupted when I can see very clearly. I needed more power for what is to come to this world. Only when I am a Supreme shall I be able to protect us all on what is to come. What if I touched the forbidden energy source that the void gives? Even the first protectors of this world have done so as well." The Distorted God Apophis stated.

The God Thoth was speechless when the Distorted God Apophis actually used a logical argument against him. He thought that the Apophis that he knew was no more which is why he was prepared to fight and destroy him there. The God Thoth started to re-evaluate the Distorted God Apophis that is in front of him.

"He might have been corrupted but I can clearly see that there are still the duties that a god there. Still, this is not even a discussion because the corruption has already changed the way she thinks. Even the vessel that she has now is not fully taken over because of an interference." The God Thoth thought.

"Then answer me truthfully and make a pledge with your divinity on the line." The God Thoth stated as he wanted to see what the Distorted God Apophis truly wants.

One might call it lingering attachments as any other god from the western continent would not hear out the Distorted God Apophis. The God Thoth is curious, and he does not care what happens in the surroundings when he is curious. He wanted to see what a Distorted God that some recollection of its sanity has will truly do.

"I swear." The Distorted God Apophis stated as she suddenly slashed her chest with divine energy.

There was now a cross scar on the Distorted God Apophis' chest that was created using divine energy. If she were to utter a lie, then the scar would react, and parts of her divine energy would vanish. The Distorted God Apophis was really serious in getting her parts back even if she was to sacrifice her divine energy.

"Tell me... why are you really trying to takeover the western continent? You have destroyed lots of human lives and even evoked the monsters to be on your side." The God Thoth asked.

"Before that... let me tell you something that will inevitably happen. Did you know that the gods are now moving, and the gods of Pandemonium are no longer in full control?" The Distorted God Apophis stated as she smiled which made the God Thoth curious.

The Distorted God Apophis mentioned that a lot of gods are now moving because they could sense the great disturbance. The universe of Pandemonium has started to leak out energy onto the divine realms as the hold of the barrier is weakening. A faction of the gods has already started their plans while the Twin Gods cannot support everything all alone.

The Twin Gods cannot easily move because the realms of life and death should always be maintained or else everything collapses. One of the factors why the Distorted God Apophis know of the realm instability is the fact that the Twin Gods has chosen a champion. Those two only move when a major event will happen, and they even created a champion to an Asmodian bloodline.

Asmodians should not be alive during this era and only traces of them should remain but there is one being that is almost a pure one. The being that is also almost an Asmodian just happens to be the Champion of the Twin Gods as well. This does not happen with pure coincidence but because the Twin Gods willed it.

The Twin Gods sacrificed a lot of their divinity to make sure that they create a spark of hope. This is also the reason why the two are not always active. They were probably busy doing something else which is why they have delegated their tasks to other gods. The Twin Gods were aware of something that the other gods might have also learned.

"The crazed distorted gods and dark gods will not find this universe because it has been fractured. It is also the reason why this world that should have been extremely large is now only a tenth of its size. Even the bridges between worlds have been destroyed. The Nordic gods might have thought this as blasphemous which is why they were willing to help you." The God Thoth stated as he analyzed the Distorted God Apophis' words.

"You are correct that they are helping me because they want a way to the mortal realm. Once I gather all my fragments, I will be able to increase this world's restriction to that of a greater god. I do not care what they want because I only want to become great leader of the Ennead. They are just aiding me by helping themselves." The Distorted God Apophis stated.

"You wish to become our leader because of a threat that you are saying that will come. What can you do to assure us that you are not the threat?" The God Thoth asked.

"I am not the threat as you can see that I even embraced the gods that have joined me. I have not laid a finger on any of the gods in the western continent. I am just letting them have a taste of what will happen when I am not at the peak." The Distorted God Apophis stated.

The Distorted God Apophis is basically treating this whole ordeal as a way to train the people of the western continent of what is to happen in the future that she could see. The world itself will return back to its original state as the Asmodians that fractured it and created the divine barrier are no longer alive to maintain it.

The fractured world will return to become Pangea once more and it was the world that the Ennead arrived at. A world where all sorts of races coexisted and the super planet that is connected to other worlds as well. The core of the Pandemonium universe is the world of Pangea itself.

The God Thoth could not say anything about what the Distorted God Apophis stated as even he could see the evidence that the world is returning back to its original state. He is sure that the return to the original world would have taken a few centuries more, but the gods accelerated the process due to their interference.

"I have answered all your question truthfully without a hint of lie. You are even using your divine eye to see if I am lying. I will gladly accept the part of myself that you are keeping if you do not mind." The Distorted God Apophis stated.

"I have heard of your reasoning, but I also need to see what the leader of the Ennead has to say as well." The God Thoth stated as a golden gate suddenly appeared next to them.
