

O Summoner 1591

Chapter 1591 Evolving Dodu Once Again I

Adrian felt a powerful shock as his soul returned back to his body so suddenly. He wanted to at least say goodbye, but the goddess seems to have something to do. He has yet to be in a realm where he could defeat gods as entering divine realms is like entering the house of a prepared individual.

[Your, soulbound, Dodu has gained the qualifications for its evolution. Do you wish to evolve it now?]

A notification suddenly appeared before him which now makes his priorities different. The only thing that he can do now is to grow stronger and he might be able to help the Twin Gods. Adrian did not know that the fate of the Twin Gods is inevitable due to what is happening in the universe.

"Let us return back to the guild house first." Adrian stated as he vanished from his location.

Adrian immediately entered the guild house as the guild badge has that function. All the guild members could immediately teleport into the guild house as long as they are within Avalon's territory. Adrian actually had to get Ascalor's help for the special function of the badge as he cannot do it alone.

Adrian placed Dodu in the vast hall of the guild house while some of the guild members were there. The ones that are there were the people that did not accept the quest to help the western gods and those that do not belong to the faction of the Church of the Twin Gods. Only a few of them were present and they even greeted Adrian when he returned.

"I think you guys need to stay clear for the moment as I do not know what will happen if you are near. I will not be responsible if you guys die from a reaction." Adrian stated with a smile, but it made all of the remaining guild members take a dozen of steps back.

The guild leader they know is kind and his sense of measure is not of a normal player. When he says near, it was near his perspective instead of a normal player. This is the reason why all of them made sure to not ignore the potential danger and move away from their guild leader.

"What are you going to do, guild leader?" One of the guild members asked.

"It is nothing. Dodu is going to evolve which is why the vast amount of energy that it held might explode." Adrian replied but the faces of the guild members have their jaws dropped.

The guild members are very familiar with Adrian's soulbounds as they often roam around Avalon. They even have some dedicated fan bases, and they are very well known. Their guild master's soulbounds even have different personalities and the most voted cute personality is actually the slime Dodu.

The guild members loved the way that Dodu is always there to jiggle its body when they give it some treats. It even helps them dismantle things as it could easily separate the unwanted blood from some monsters they killed. Dodu is the most famous soulbound when it comes to the guild members and the cutest with its jiggling body.

"Oh my god! Dodu is going to evolve! I hope it is still cute." One of the guild members stated.

"No way! You might see Dodu's Chibi form as its real form is not cute. Dodu's real form is really cool!" One of the guild members exclaimed.

"What do you mean?! When I said cute, I was describing the real form. The Chibi form is also cute, but the real form is so huge and bouncy! It was very nice to be hugged." One of the guild members stated as the guild members next to her suddenly stepped away from her.

The other guild members that heard this knew that the members of the guild are not normal in a sense, but it seems some have weird tastes. They remembered that this member is actually someone that vibes with Basil that views reptiles as cute. The buzz of the guild members that are witnessing this are a bit loud, but Adrian did not mind.

To the guild members, they view the soulbounds of other guild members as legitimate members as well. Even Adrian is also excited to see what the new evolution looks like. He has this anticipation that the new evolution would be superb.

"Do not tell me that you are going to do something that involves your soulbounds without inviting me?" the voice of Pann suddenly stated which shocked Adrian as the former was suddenly behind him. Adrian almost dropped the pearl containing Dodu from the sudden shock.

"How did you get inside of here?" Adrian asked as he did not know why Pann could enter their guild house.

"Basil actually gave Pann permission to enter the grounds as she often lets Pann check her dragons." One of the guild members stated.

"I see. If the other members gave permission, then no one is at fault. But please do not appear behind me. My heart almost dropped old man. Also, how did you know that I am going to do something with my soulbound?" Adrian asked.

"Your soulbound there has been emitting a powerful energy and I traced it back in the church. I was going to talk to you at the church, but your soul was not in your body as you were in a trance. I left for a moment to tend to things, but you were gone when you arrived.

I thought that you would visit my farm but to think that you would use your guild house. It seems that my efforts in helping you back in your early journey is not worth anything for you." Pann stated while acting as if he is going to cry.

"I apologize for that. My mind was all over the place because of the information that I am getting. Anyways, you are here now so no harm no foul." Adrian stated.

"What is taking you too long? Go!" Pann stated with excitement.

Chapter 1592 Evolving Dodu Once Again II

"You were the one that cut me off earlier." Adrian stated but Pann just gave him the bombastic side-eye.

"Okay then... I shall start." Adrian stated as he clicked on the Yes prompt that was appearing on his right side.

As soon as Adrian clicked on the Yes prompt, the rainbow pearl suddenly started to wobble. The rainbow pearl is not really a pearl but some sort of chrysalis that housed the Uboth-Sathla. It was a being that can only be described as something that came after the Protoss.

Adrian asked Pann what an Uboth-Sathla was but even he did not know a concrete definition of them. He has heard of them, but he has yet to encounter one which is why Pann is extremely excited. The rainbow pearl shook as cracks soon started to form in its luminescent and clear body.

The cracks slowly started to grow bigger and bigger until a powerful torrent of energy started to flow out of it. The powerful torrent of energy seems to be close to the light attribute as the surrounding trees and plants suddenly became more vibrant and grow bigger. Pann could not believe that such a being was capable of giving off such pure life force.

The effects of the life energy on the surroundings were only temporary though as it will soon be gone once the wave of life energy is cut off. This state of overgrowth is a temporary phenomenon that happens when a god or goddess of life blesses an area or when a powerful life-giving being is born. The players are also affected with this as their lives and mana are being regenerated at full power.

Adrian checked the guild house to see if the energy was leaking out, but it was sealed perfectly. The energy was not leaking out which means there will be no monster horde that will be attracted. Such powerful life energy is something that attracts powerful monsters which is why summoners that have same attribute soulbounds would need to find a very secluded location.

The rainbow pearl cracked completely as it released some light from the inside. The sound of glass cracking and breaking soon echoed in the area. A loud breaking sound erupted when the rainbow pearl could no longer hold its shape as powerful blinding light scattered in the guild house.

[Congratulations! Your soulbound Dodu has evolved into an Uboth-Sathla.]

Adrian received a notification, but his vision is also flooded with such a bright light that he could not see what Dodu now looks like. The light subsided and Adrian could not believe what Dodu now looks like. He knew that slimes would always look slime like even after evolution but the current look of Dodu still shocked him.

Adrian is not the only thing that is shocked as the others that knew of Dodu's appearance before are in shock as well. If Dodu is already big for a slime at a height of three meters, then his new form is humungous. Dodu's new height is roughly around thirty meters in height, but its width is something else.

Dodu's new body is still slime like, but it looked like it was a bundle of a thousand slimes that are not properly combined together. Dodu's new form is basically a congregation of a thousand or more slime that emits rainbow colored light when any form of light hits its body. It can even extend these body parts to form appendages to create something like tentacles.

If one looked at Dodu now, then they would accurately describe it like an alien version of a single celled organism. Some of the guild members were shocked as they could not believe that a cute slime being will become a mass of full nightmare fuel. Some members actually thought that the evolution is cool looking, and the minority has an affectionate look on it.

[You have unlocked knowledge on the Uboth-Sathla as you have obtained one of the forgotten species.]

[All of Dodu's skills have been forgotten and it has gained new skills that is in line with its current evolution.]

[Dodu has gained the title of Prototype of All Life.]

[Dodu has gained the title of Life Bringing Disaster.]

==

Monster Name: Dodu

Monster Race: Uboth-Sathla

Monster Species: Uboth-Sathla

Monster Description: Uboth-Sathla, the Unbegotten Source is described as a huge protoplasmic mass resting in a grotto deep beneath the frozen earth. The being is of a monstrous fecundity, spontaneously generating primordial single-celled organisms that pour unceasingly from its shapeless form. Uboth-Sathla is said to have spawned the prototypes of all forms of life. Whatever its pseudopods touch is forever devoid of life. Uboth-Sathla is destined to someday reabsorb all living things.

==

Adrian did not easily view the evolution right away because he was sucked back into his inner realm while it was underway. Adrian is once again in a familiar world where there are special orbs in each part of an unknown tree. Unlike before though, Adrian already knows what he wants for Dodu as he inserted the soul inside an orb without much trouble.

[You have selected the Gharab orb for your soulbound, Dodu.]

[Its evolution will be influenced by the path that you have chosen for it.]

Adrian is suddenly sent back to the real world to view the new form that Dodu took. Adrian greeted Dodu to see if it was fine but the response that he got was not human speech. The response that Adrian got was like a mixture of whale sounds and static which clearly indicated that Dodu was not a normal being.

Adrian could still understand what Dodu is saying because he is connected to it. Pann, on the other hand, is admiring the speech patterns and the way Dodu moves. The old man was enamored and immediately inspected Dodu without even getting Adrian's permission.

The evolution was not something that can be described is easy because the evolution is not something that can be done with ease. One would need to be incredibly powerful or lucky to evolve Dodu into the being that it is now. Adrian immediately looked at the effects of the new titles since this is something that no one in the group has gotten.

==

Title: Prototype of All Life

Tier: Mythical

Effect:

- All beings that have this is said to contain the genetic trace for all living beings.
- Negates all damage from any source by 10%

Description: A title given to special beings that cannot be easily replicated. It is unknown what is the cause of this title, but it is only given to unique individuals that have been spoken through in legends.

==

Title: Life Bringing Disaster

Tier: Mythical

Effect:

- All beings that are allied with this being have their recovery skills increased by 100%.
- All living beings near the bearer of this title will experience unnatural growth.

Description: A title given to beings that can affect the regeneration and life of living beings. It is often given to beings that can interfere with the natural process of life.

Adrian could not believe that Dodu got two mythical titles that easily, but he is thankful. The fact that one gives our flat damage negation, and the other boost regeneration is not something easily received. Usually, titles are something that can influence a character to sway to a certain side, but the ones Dodu received are more neutral.

The titles also did not have any negative connotation which means Dodu will not be hated by specific groups. Adrian could rest easy that Dodu will be accepted into any domain and will not be hunted down just for being itself. Still, Adrian thought why Dodu has a title that has the disaster modifier like his other soulbounds.

"What about Dodu looks like a disaster? It just looks like a cool alien looking super slime." Adrian muttered as he immediately turned towards the skills that Dodu has gained which are only five. It might only be five, but each skill is something that is very unique to its new monster race.

[Dodu has gained the skill: Insatiable.]

[Dodu has gained the skill: Mimic.]

[Dodu has gained the skill: Collective Intelligence.]

[Dodu has gained the skill: Gharab's Domain.]

[Dodu has gained the skill: The Corrosive One.]

Each of the skill is something that a powerful slime monster could learn because of its unique being. Adrian could also see the effect of the qliploth which is the last two skills. He already knew what part of the qliploth he needed to put Dodu at which is why he was able to finish the power gifting, as Adrian describes it, without much issue.

"Still, All of Dodu's skills are basically mythical tier. It basically defeated every soulbound that evolve at this point. Some still had Legendary tier skills but Dodu has all in the Mythical Tier." Adrian muttered.

"This is due to the individual named as Dodu having a unique body that absorbed the abilities of other beings before its current evolution. All its skills have been refined into the current skills it has now." Paradox stated.

Chapter 1593 Uboth-Sathla

Adrian immediately checked the skills that Dodu possesses as all of them are Mythical in Tier. There may only be five skills but the description of each is a handful. Dodu is playing with Pann anyway as the old man was busy admiring the slime souldbound.

==

Skill Name: Insatiable

Skill Tier: Mythical

Skill Type: Passive

Effect:

- All holders of this skill will no longer feel hungry, but they will also no longer feel full.
- The Satiety bar is instead transformed into another health bar.
- If the Satiety bar is already 100% and the user eats, the excess is converted into health healing percentage. If health and Satiety bar is full, every 10% excess will increase stats by 2%.
- If Satiety Bar is below 20%, Strength Stat is increased by 20% but Intelligence Stat is reduced by 20%.

Cooldown: None

Mana Cost: None

Cast Time: None

Adrian shuddered upon seeing the effect of the mythical skill because it is extremely useful for Dodu. Dodu basically eats everything that it can melt in its body. The skill also provides great stat increases for Dodu even if it has excess Satiety or low satiety. There is no downside to the skill except for the decrease in Intelligence stat but Dodu rarely uses that anyway.

"What is the next one?" Adrian muttered as he looked at the Mimic skill.

==

Skill Name: Mimic

Skill Tier: Mythical

Skill Type: Transformation

Effect:

- Copies the body of a being that the user has full understanding of.
- The stats of the copied target will also be the stat of the user during the transformation.
- All the abilities and skills will be copied as a result of the skill.
- The user can only use the power of the copied target by 80% but will still have the same restriction to the target.
- Even sealed skills can be copied and used if the user is compatible with the sealed skills or abilities.
- The user can mimic the target for as long as it wants but the transformation will be undone when the user dies.

Duration: None

Cooldown: 30 minutes

Mana Cost: None

Cast Time: Instant

Adrian is already speechless from this skill because there are no restrictions that can prevent Dodu from copying another being. Dodu can even copy dragons as long as it has understood its body which made Adrian think of a lot of combinations. The first thing that Adrian thought of was to provide all of his soulbound's DNA to Dodu.

"Having two Sirius in the field will basically make their skills overlap. This could lead to a greater synergy with all of my soulbounds. The only downside is that the strength of the copied target will be the same as Dodu. Dodu will no longer be a tank if it transforms into another being, but I sometimes lack power than tanks which is fine." Adrian thought as he looked at the next skill which he thought is a bit odd.

==

Skill Name: Collective Intelligence (Slime Variant)

Skill Tier: Mythical

Skill Type: Passive

Effect:

- Increases the Intelligence Stat by 1 for every unique being that has been devoured or understood.
- Gives the user the ability to store some of the intelligence gained of the devoured beings. The memories and reflex of using skills and abilities will also be stored in the Collective Memory.

- Freshly devoured beings can be stored in its memory but only the best of each species will be stored after a day.

Duration of Stored Memory: 1 day

Cooldown: None

Mana Cost: None

Cast Time: None

This skill the thing that Adrian deems the most broken as this basically gives Dodu photographic memory and the ability to get the memories of others. This can be used a bunch of different ways because it will not only be useful in battle but also in intelligence gathering. The thing that Adrian likes the most as the beings that it could be targeted is not restricted to just artificial intelligence.

"If I am lucky and use it right then I would be able to get some information from players. Private information might be off-limits but things that they hide in the game will be plausible to get."

Adrian thought as his devious mind started to think of ways to use it.

Adrian's mind wandered off, but he returned back to reality when it was time to see the Domain skill that Dodu got. Dodu is another one that was able to get a Domain skill as it seems it was very compatible with the part of the Qlippoth that Adrian chose. If one were to know that one summoner has three soulbounds that could use a domain skill, then he would be hunted down for the secrets.

==

Skill Name: Gharab's Domain

Skill Tier: Mythical

Skill Type: Domain

Effect:

- Select a large area where all beings inside will be deemed defenseless by the user.
- Only the user's attacks will apply a stacking effect that lowers the enemy's defense and magical defense by 1%. (This can stack up to 80%.)
- If the targets have armor or weapons, then each attack has a chance to decrease the durability of the item by 50%.
- All of the user's attacks will recover Satiety by 2%.
- All of the defense and magical defense that has been lowered will be transferred to the user of the skill.

Duration: 1 hour

Cooldown: 1 day

Mana Cost: None

Cast Time: Instant

Adrian does not know much of the domain or who is this Gharab but it is a domain skill that can only give positive effects to Dodu. He does not mind that it is a domain skill that is dedicated in strengthening Dodu but he thought that this skill might get nerfed once he uses it in battle. The skill, Gharab's Domain, is basically a domain skill that turns Dodu into an unkillable tank because it now increases its defense and magical defense.

Dodu's weakness was its slime characteristic that gets more damage when afflicted with magical attacks. Dodu might be immune to physical attacks, but it can still be killed with a physical attack if its core is destroyed. Adrian looked at Dodu to check if his hunch was correct and he almost cursed in happiness.

Dodu no longer has a slime core upon its evolution which means it has already negated one of its fatal weaknesses when it comes to physical confrontation. Dodu also now increases its magical defense as well although this can only happen when it uses its domain skill but that is a huge improvement. A large undying slime monster that destroys defenses and items is not something anyone would want to face off against.

"I can already hear the outcry of all my enemies that face Dodu. The next skill is even more terrifying because this is not a domain." Adrian thought as he expanded the details on the last skill.

==

Skill Name: The Corrosive One

Skill Tier: Mythical

Skill Type: Passive / Body Augmentation

Effect:

- All physical contact with the user will deal 0.1% maximum health damage per second or 0.01 (Boss Monsters or Special NPCs).
- All physical touch will deal damage over time onto the enemy.
- There is a 20% chance of the target being afflicted with a stack of the status ailment of Corrosion.
- If the target is afflicted with 10 stacks of Corrosion, the user's touch will deal double the damage to the enemy.
- All physical touch or contact will decrease the defense of the target by 15%.
- Doubles the chance of destroying the durability of items.

"This is it! The skill type that made the world fear slimes." Adrian thought.

This is the skill that brings fear to the beings that were alive when slimes were still roaming in the world. A skill that affects the very livelihood of adventurers as their lives are not only in danger but also their equipment. A mythical tier of this skill means that even legendary equipment would be deemed useless once Dodu gets any body contact on it.

This is one of the skills that will torment all of Adrian's future enemies. It is also one of the reasons why a lot of hired player killers or mercenaries will not accept the commission of killing Adrian. They would lose more than what they could gain, and Adrian would make sure that they will.

Adrian will gain another moniker due to this behavior as the 'Demon that strips you of everything'. It is a moniker that made his enemies stay away from him or at least those that have a lot to lose inside the game. Still, that is another story for the future once Dodu unleashes its wrath upon Adrian's enemies.

"Satisfied?" Adrian asked Pann as the old man seems to have stopped cuddling Dodu. He did not notice it, but the other guild members also flocked near Dodu and squeezed its soft body. Some even outright did a trust fall as they are buried in the softness.

Chapter 1594 Uboth-Sathla II

"It seems all of you are having a good time?!" Adrian commented as the guild members were enjoying the soft and bouncy sensation that is Dodu's body.

"You should try it as well, guild master! This is like buying one of the most premium beds in existence and it is slightly refreshing to lean against as well." One of the guild members replied as Dodu extended a piece of its body which looked like a tendril and pulled Adrian.

Adrian is suddenly pulled by Dodu's tendril as he was embraced by his soulbound. Adrian melted into the body as if he was lying down on a very comfortable cloud. He had to admit that it is incredibly comfortable that he was about to sleep.

"Master! Dodu feels incredibly great!" Dodu suddenly stated as it was like a small boy's childlike voice.

"Dodu?!" Adrian exclaimed in shock because Dodu has never gotten much emotion in its voice.

"Master, I can also transform my body now!" Dodu stated as it was extremely excited for itself.

"Really! Can you show me?" Adrian asked as he asked all of the guild members to step away from Dodu for the moment.

The guild members stepped away as instructed as Dodu suddenly curled itself into a ball. It suddenly shrank until it was about three and a half feet tall. Dodu suddenly extended its small hands and feet as it formed a human shape.

Dodu's form is that of a five-year-old child which perfectly encapsulates its age as it did evolve from a Baby Slime. Dodu's hair has a silver sheen to its glow when light touches on it and it was very curly like that of a cute child. Dodu's clothes are like made of a shiny silk fabric that shines in different colored light when sunlight touches it.

Dodu's face is what made Adrian almost rub his eyes because the face was like his childhood face. Dodu looked incredibly cute but the aura around it was not something that can be described as cute.

Anyone that has powerful sensory abilities would immediately be run away from Dodu upon seeing it for the time.

"Interesting! It has perfectly mimicked the body of a human child, yet its monstrous abilities and aura did not diminish. The only thing that can make it look like it is not human are the clothes that it has conjured. If one is incredibly observant, then they would see that is made of some liquid or plasma material." Pann stated as it touched the clothes that Dodu is currently wearing.

Dodu's clothes is something close to what pre-school kids wear which is a silver white polo and blue shorts. Dodu looked incredibly cute that some of the girl guild members wanted to pinch its cheek. Dodu's eye color is clear blue which makes it look ethereal as if it is not a real human born of this world.

Adrian summoned his other soulbounds so that they can play with the new super intelligent Dodu. The humanoid Dodu smiled and laughed just like a child which warmed the hearts of the guild members that were there. Adrian could feel them creeping close to Dodu but the former suddenly interfered.

"Ahem?! Are you guys not going to do anything? Since all of you are free and the rest are trapped in the western continent, can I task all of you to provide a report on the war between the dragons and the angels?" Adrian stated.

"Ark, Pana and Basil are already in the midst of that war though." One of the guild members grumbled.

"I actually heard from them that one could change their race to an angel without being tied to the Goddess of Light though. Do you guys know anything about that?" Adrian asked as he was not entirely sure of the complete details.

"It seems that Ark managed to unlock a feature when he managed to recruit the angels that no longer wanted to be a slave to the Goddess of Light Luminaria. Instead of the angels turning into devils, they can retain their racial status by having Ark as the leader since he has the Fallen with him." A guild member that knows the status of the question replied.

"I see. Then why is he not yet able to have new players join his side then?" Adrian asked.

"Apparently, he needs to forge a relic that can give birth to angels in order to do so which is his current quest. A lot of angels are trying to stop him from accomplishing that feat. Two of the highest order angels are even hunting him down but the Fallen are keeping them in check. The other highest order angels cannot leave the Silver City because of the dragons." A guild member added.

"Does he need help in the creation of the relic?" Adrian asked as Ark was not answering his follow up questions.

"He said that it is an individual quest on his end because he is currently in Hell. It seems that the item that he needs is there which is good." The guild member stated.

"Why is a Nephilim being in Hell a good thing?" Adrian asked as that is something that would happen if one had a choice.

"It seems that the angels are disgusted and weakened when they enter Hell as that is a realm that rejects the Goddess of Light Luminaria. They will just get toyed with by the devils there if they even stepped foot inside." The guild member stated as he now has her hands near Dodu's cheek and went for the soft pinch.

"So soft!" The guild member exclaimed as she wanted to touch once more but Dodu immediately ran towards Adrian's leg and hugged it.

"So, we are not yet needed in the Dragon versus Angel war. I just hope that everything in the western continent is going well." Adrian stated but it seems that he has jinxed it. A powerful shockwave suddenly erupted and affected the entire planet.

Chapter 1595 The End Of The Current Cycle I

A powerful shockwave rocked the whole planet which sent a lot of the powerful monsters awake. Some of the monsters even started to leave their habitat as they created small monster tides. All of the kingdoms in the central continent and northern continent gave orders to mobilize to stop the beast horde.

[A beast horde is going to strike Avalon. Prepare for battle as you will need to defend your territory for an hour or reduce the number of the monsters to a tenth to drive them away.]

"What triggered the beast horde?" Adrian asked as his fellow guild members told him to watch the stream of Infernum guild.

Adrian immediately looked for the stream to see what is currently happening in the Western Continent and he was not happy with what he sees. The God Seth, the Goddess Bastet and the Goddess Sekhmet are all dying and turning into particles of light. The battle has already moved to the Temple of the Sun as the Distorted God Apophis has already reached the final location.

"As expected of my brothers that have become weak. I, Anhur, shall defeat the serpent with my spear!" The God Anhur shouted as he believed that he will be able to vanquish the Distorted God Apophis.

The God Anhur was one of the gods of war that killed members of the Ennead in order to absorb their power. He did not even blink when he plunged his spear onto his own brothers and sisters as he believed that might is always right. If they sacrifice their lives for the victory against the Distorted God Apophis, then he believed that they will not carry grudges.

The God Anhur jumped up high as his whole body emitted a golden glow. He already entered the state of a Peak Greater God, and he might become a High God if he had more sacrifices but there are only a handful of gods left on their side. The God Anhur threw his spear with all of his strength, and it flew at a fast speed.

All the monsters, followers, and players that were in the way of the spear died without much resistance as it pierced their bodies. The Distorted God Apophis saw this as the spear did aim for its body, but she did not bother to dodge. The Shadow of Apophis that is coiled around her suddenly moved in a circular motion which created a barrier made of shadows.

The barrier managed to block the spear, but the Shadow of Apophis could be seen to have become damaged to an extent. The Distorted God Apophis saw this, but she did not worry. The God Anhur thought that his attack would weaken the resolve of the other corrupted gods, but they did not falter.

The corrupted gods charged forwards without fear because they know that they are close to winning. The wishes of their beloved avatars will be fulfilled as long as they win this war. The God Anhur roared as his spear flew back towards him.

Seeing that his tactic of making them lose morale was useless, the God Anhur aimed for the corrupted gods that charged towards them. What the God Anhur did not think about is that he has gained the attention of the Distorted God Apophis. A purple snake suddenly rose from the ground and bit the leg of the God Anhur.

The leg of the God Anhur is suddenly turning purple as a powerful toxin has been inserted into his body system. The God Anhur that was fierce and mighty could no longer stand on his own two feet because of the poison in his divine body. If this body was not his permanent one, then the God Anhur would have easily cut it off without hesitation, but it is not.

If the God Anhur were to cut off his leg right now, then he would be unable to regenerate one in just a day. He would rather bare the pain than cut off his limb in the heat of battle. The remaining gods that are alive in the side of the Sun God Ra could be seen dying from the attacks of the corrupted gods.

"Such hubris into thinking that everything is under your feet just because you are hailed as a God of War. You have slaughtered your own brothers and sisters because you crave the attention and power all to yourself. The gods of this generation have truly lost touch of reality as they have become too selfish." The Distorted God Apophis stated as she looked down on the God Anhur.

"What do you know serpent when you have corrupted and brainwashed my brothers and sisters!?" The God Anhur replied.

"I did not brainwash them. They have joined me in their own volition because they have seen the things that all of you do when hardships follow. Had they not joined me then they have fallen to your spear. You are not someone that should preach of what I do not know when you are clearly doing something immoral." The Distorted God Apophis stated.

"I will kill you!" The God Anhhur shouted as he mustered up all of his strength to plunge his spear towards the Distorted God Apophis.

The God Anhur's attempt would have been great, but the Distorted God Apophis already knew what he was going to do. Before the spear reached the body of the Distorted God Apophis, the Shadow of Apophis has already bit the head off the God Anhur. In the end, the God Anhur lost without putting much of a fight which puts his title of God of War to shame.

"Why are you doing this!? You were one of the original ones! And why are all of you going with her wishes when all of you will be devoured after?!" The Goddess Bastet stated in frustration as even her heals and barriers can no longer protect them.

"We know, sister. We have just accepted fate because we want the best for those that worship us deeply. Do not hate us sister because we are only doing what needs to be done." The Goddess Ahti stated.

Chapter 1596 The End Of The Current Cycle II

The Goddess Bastet could see that it was not a few gods that have joined the Distorted God Apophis. There were a lot of them, and they were actually lesser gods in the Ennead that have been overlooked. These gods were overlooked because they were not like them who were perfect presentation of gods.

"In the end, you know what the gods of the Ennead are lacking now, sister. You are just overlooking it because you are someone that has always been blessed. You are passive to what has happened to the other brothers and sisters.

No one became the leader when the Sun God Ra died in battle. We were waiting for another leader to emerge from all of you that have been close to our father, but it was for naught. All of you only cared about yourselves and no longer wanted to lead those that needed someone." The Goddess Menhit stated as she plunged her claws into the Goddess Bastet's heart.

The last god that is in the side of the Sun God Ra has finally been defeated. The Distorted God Apophis opened its mouth and devoured all of the divine energy that the gods of the Ennead have become. When all of the divine energy that spread was devoured, the Distorted God Apophis immediately fired a beam of concentrated energy that destroyed the barrier that the Temple of the Sun God has.

As soon as the barrier covering the Temple of the Sun God was destroyed, a powerful light wave suddenly spread throughout the area which removed all of the buffs that the corrupted gods and their allies have. The Temple of the Sun God suddenly started to go up into the sky as pieces of it started to crumble. The Temple of the Sun is not being destroyed but it fused with the large sun disk that the temple had.

The whole temple itself became a sun disk that towered even gods. The Sun God Ra also appeared but he was no longer just three meters tall as he became a towering ten meters tall. He was clad in full golden armor that was brimming in pure sunlight.

The Sun God Ra is not the only ones that are clad in golden armor as those that became his followers have also become golden warriors. Cairo, the Champion of the Sun God Ra, is now clad in a full mythical tier golden armor but it was only temporarily granted during this time. Cairo looked incredible as he led a hundred thousand sand soldiers that he conjured since he is the commander of their army.

"Attack!" Cairo shouted as his shout started the last battle against all of the enemies.

The Sun Disk spun fast and released a powerful beam of light that decimated all those that were hit by the powerful beam of light. Cairo raised his staff and created a miniature sun that collected all of the souls of fallen players.

"Rise like the Sun that rises during the morning! Morning Glory!" Cairo shouted as the miniature sun exploded and sent the souls of the players back into the sands.

The souls of the players became one with the sand and started to take form. All of them became Sand Soldiers that must fight for the Sun God Ra. All of the ones that were revived became even stronger because they are directly affected by the blessing of the Sun God Ra.

"Sun Beam!" The Sun God Ra stated as the dark clouds is pierced by ten beams of light.

The ten beams of light landed on the ground and deleted those that were a hundred levels below the Sun God Ra. The Distorted God Apophis created darkness to shield her army against the attacks of the Sun God Ra. She knew that the Sun God Ra will not admit defeat unless he is killed by her. She also noticed her spirit fragment that is dangling on the latter's neck.

"Shesmu and Menhit, come with me to deal with the Ra." The Distorted God Apophis stated as she created her dark gold armor.

The Shadow of Apophis that coiled around the Distorted God Apophis suddenly melted and turned into the armor that covered her. Her armor has scales of a snake that covered every part with a serpent's head as a helm. A dark golden whip is also created as her choice of weapon as she charged towards the Sun God Ra along with the God Shesmu and Menhit.

"I shall leave this to you, my champion!" The Sun God Ra stated as he created a golden sand boat to board.

"Yes, patron god." Cairo stated as he slammed his staff on the ground.

The sands suddenly erupted as a large behemoth of a monster is created by Cairo. A Sand Gigante that is a humanoid sand giant with large pieces of crystals on its body is created. The army that the Sun God Ra does not have ways to defeat a god, but Cairo's enhanced strength right now is equivalent to a Greater God.

"The Sands of Time is only good to those that can ensure victory! Sand Restoration!" Cairo shouted as all of the broken weapons of the sand soldiers suddenly returned to their original state.

[Your weapon has been enhanced and increased in tier temporarily.]

Even the players that were just revived are affected by this blessing. The weapons that were legendary tier suddenly jumped to a mythical tier. With just a swing of their weapon, they can send their enemies flying which made them happy because they now have a fighting chance. Cairo was about to cast another buffing spell when a powerful blast of negative energy suddenly targeted him.

Cairo had no choice but to create a powerful barrier to protect him as he looked at the direction of the blast. The attack came from two swordsmen that did not look like they were from the western continent.

Chapter 1597 The End Of The Current Cycle III

The twin swords, Jiang and Ye, were present in the enemy side. They were the two swordsmen that have swords that can emit powerful energy and have an exponential effect when they are on the same side. They only did a skill together and it was already powerful which means that they have become even stronger compared to when they were at the Pandelympics.

Not only are Jiang and Ye become stronger, but they were also the chosen blessed warriors of the Distorted God Apophis. They are the top contributors for those that are on the side of the Distorted God Apophis. They knew that they must kill Cairo so that their allies can go forward.

Cairo himself is maintaining the sand soldiers and the sand soldiers will vanish if he dies. Cairo also knows this which is why he is making sure that he is at the back of the line and maintaining everything. He thought that no one would notice this but there are people with keen senses of sight that have been blessed by Distorted God Apophis.

Jiang and Ye have one of their eyes turn into something similar to that of a snake. This is the Snake Eye that was given to those that have great contribution. It is also an ocular skill that can see the flow of energy which means they could trace the mana of the sand soldiers leading up to Cairo himself.

Jiang and Ye were not the only ones that were given the ocular skill as there are three more individuals. These three individuals were also taking their time and looking for a way to reach Cairo. One of them is actually an assassin that has already reached the backline where Cairo is located.

The assassin player sprung into action and aimed at Cairo's neck. She was about to reach Cairo's neck, but his staff suddenly swung backwards and hit her right in the head. Cairo's attack sent her flying a few meters away, but he was not able to damage her greatly because of his current state.

[You are currently the Beacon of the Sun.]

[You have unlimited mana to create Sand Soldiers. (Maximum of a hundred thousand)]

[Your damage is decreased by 90%.]

[All of your physical damage will inflict a powerful knockback.]

[Your defense is increased by 200% but you cannot move from your location.]

The assassin player was sent flying towards a group of players, and she eventually died because all of them ganged up on her. A lot of the players that saw this made sure to not attack Cairo but Jiang and Ye are different because they saw an opportunity. The two of them unleashed a sword wave that headed towards Cairo.

Cairo is about to raise another sand shield when Jiang and Ye suddenly appeared before him. It seems that they have a skill that could send their bodies to the area of the sword wave. Jiang and Ye suddenly covered themselves in a powerful sword aura and slammed their swords towards Cairo.

The two thought that they have successfully damaged Cairo, but they are wrong as they saw that the staff that he is holding was parrying their attack. Jiang and Ye are shocked because they have never thought that a mage would be able to match their strength, but they are wrong. Cairo was never a mage to begin with because he is Sun Battle Mage.

"Sun Disk!" Cairo shouted as the Sun Disk suddenly faced his location.

Jiang and Ye sensed the incredible danger that they were in and immediately threw their swords far away. The Sun Disk suddenly emitted a powerful beam of sun energy that bathe the location that

Cairo was in. Cairo's surroundings turned into a pillar of golden light as everything in a ten-meter radius is eviscerated.

"They managed to escape." Cairo stated but there were those that were not.

A lot of players tried to sneakily attack him, but they were destroyed by the sunlight. One could see lots of particles of light around Cairo which signified that a lot of players died. Jiang and Ye were able to escape but barely.

Jiang's right arm and Ye's left arm could be seen scorched by a powerful sunlight. They managed to escape by teleporting to where their sword was which is called Sword Shunpo. The reason they threw their sword away earlier was the cause of their safety.

"Fury of the Sands!" Cairo shouted.

A powerful sandstorm suddenly brewed behind Cairo as he created it to give him some leeway. His location is clearly too visible, and he needed something to cover himself. A sandstorm slammed its way towards the entire battlefield as it also provided buffs to the Sand Soldiers.

[You are inside a sandstorm.]

[Speed has increased by 20%.]

[Evasion has increased by 30%.]

"It seems that Cairo might bring a win!" One of the Pantheon guild members stated as he looked towards Adrian.

"He might win the battle, but they would definitely lose the war." Adrian stated because the Sun God Ra is bleeding.

Adrian is not watching the battle below but the battle that is happening in the skies above. The Distorted God Apophis, the God Shesmu and the Goddess Menhit are all fighting the Sun God Ra. One might see that they are at a standstill but that is not true because the Sun God Ra is full of wounds.

"I would like to tell you to surrender but I know that you will not do that. The only way to win is through your death." The Distorted God Apophis stated as she calmly assessed the situation.

The Distorted God Apophis did not have any visible wounds on her body, but the God Shesmu and the Goddess Menhit have some. The Distorted God Apophis could easily block the attacks that comes from the Sun God Ra using her darkness but the two gods with her could not. She did protect them from fatal attacks but she must not do that forever.

Chapter 1598 The End Of The Current Cycle IV

"The Sea of Nothingness!" The Distorted God Apophis stated as a powerful dark energy came out of her body.

The Sun God Ra tried to repel her darkness with the light beam of the Sun Disk, but it was just swallowed. The corrupted gods saw the stretching darkness that covered the entire western continent. This was the signal of the Distorted God Apophis to them when the time to end the war has come.

"I offer my being to nothingness!" The God Babi stated as his divine body suddenly turned into particles of light while exploding and dealing great damage to those around him.

"I offer my being to nothingness!" Another corrupted god shouted and created a powerful explosion in her surroundings.

"I offer my being to nothingness!" Another corrupted god shouted and created a powerful explosion in his surroundings.

Both players in the army are stunned to see the gods that they are allied with or fighting becoming particles of light. The people under the Distorted God Apophis thought that this will lead to their loss while the other side started to celebrate. The Sun God Ra was not celebrating though as he tried his best to destroy the encroaching darkness spreading in the western continent.

"A valiant attempt but it is all for nothing because everything will return to nothing!" The Distorted God Apophis stated as the darkness suddenly opened a gate to Duat which is the divine realm of that she is in charge of.

A lot of powerful evil monsters and spirits were imprisoned in Duat and started to flood the western continent. The powerful evil monsters and spirits thought that they were released by the Distorted God Apophis but that is not true. She suddenly enlarged herself and turned into a large serpent that covered the entire skies of the western continent.

The powerful evil monsters and spirits are then devoured by the Distorted God Apophis. With each gulp of the enormous mouth, lots of evil monsters and spirits are turned into energy inside the body of the Distorted God Apophis. These powerful evil monsters and spirits are actually residual energy that the Distorted God Apophis released when she was in Duat.

She let the powerful evil monsters and spirits culminate and become powerful because they will just be a source of power for her in the end. She has now come to reap what she has sown because she knows that the Sun God Ra will not be defeated with what she is now. She is incomplete which is why she must supplement what she needs.

"Extreme Sun Flare!" The Sun God Ra shouted as he utilized all of the energy that the Sun Disk has.

A powerful burst of sun energy is released from the Sun Disk and all of it is sent towards the Distorted God Apophis. The Extreme Sun Flare would have dealt incredible damage to the Distorted God Apophis if it was before she collected four fragments. The spell still dealt great damage, but the body of the Distorted God Apophis could be seen recovering.

"Return to Nothingness!" The Distorted God Apophis shouted or rather announced to the western continent.

Darkness itself fell onto the western continent as everything is turned into nothingness. The bodies of all the people in the western continent are covered in darkness and starting to combine with it. All of their bodies are melting due to the immense power that the Distorted God Apophis has.

The darkness did not differentiate from friend or foe, but one could see the mark of Thoth appearing on select individuals. The champions of the gods under the Distorted God Apophis are sent into a sleeping state as their souls were specifically marked. All of the beings that could not withstand the energy of the Distorted God Apophis died.

A powerful light shone in the darkness as the Sun God Ra still started to fight back despite his body turning into smoke as the darkness is permeating in his divine body. The Sun God Ra shot powerful bursts of light that scared the darkness but there was too much to even dispel. The Distorted God Apophis then looked towards the Sun God Ra in her full serpent form.

"So, this is the end." The Sun God Ra stated as he could feel the energy that he collected vanish from his body.

Even the preparation that he did by having incarnations were not enough to stop the Distorted God Apophis. The look of satisfaction and melancholy could be seen on the face of the Sun God Ra as he did not win this time. All of the gods have been returned to the source and his power could not save them from Apophis.

"You have tried your best, but I have one this time around." The Distorted God Apophis stated as she launched numerous snakes made of darkness to bite the Sun God Ra.

The Sun God Ra closed his eyes as his body vanished into the source and his soul is sent to the afterlife. A crystal with a snake inside of it dropped from his body. The Distorted God Apophis devoured this crystal as this is the last missing piece of his body which is the Spirit of Apophis.

A powerful shockwave erupted from the western continent as the Distorted God Apophis started to become complete. A large serpent swam in the darkness, but the outline could be seen as its body looked like a vast sea of stars. The Distorted God Apophis also absorbed the energy that the Void it has gotten.

[The Distorted God Apophis has fully absorbed the energy from the Void. It has evolved into the Darkness Primordial Apophis.]

A world message is sent to all of the players as the winner of the war is none other than the Distorted God Apophis or rather the Darkness Primordial Apophis. The God Thoth descended onto the western continent that has been turned into complete darkness.

"Congratulations on your victory. As the overseer, you may now make the announcement." The God Thoth stated.

"It is now the End of the Current Cycle!" The Darkness Primordial Apophis stated as its voice reached all parts of the world.

Chapter 1599 The New Cycle

[You are being summoned as a representative of the underworld.]

Adrian suddenly saw a notification that did not even give him a chance to reply. His body suddenly vanished from the guild house. The guild members are even shocked as they were just talking to him a second ago and now, he is no longer there.

Adrian's body materialized in a place where the other players that have connections with the death and life gods are located. He was transported to the Death Realm where the God Osiris rules. The players were not yet finished destroying or purifying the evil spirits.

A shining soul suddenly manifested on top of the death realm that blazed like the sun. This is the soul of the Sun God Ra that has come to rejuvenate his divinity. The God Osiris already knew what to do but the cleansing of his death realm has yet to finish.

Adrian immediately went to action as the Sun God Ra's soul was falling into the center of the death realm without anyone going to catch him. The evil spirits that were fighting the players suddenly changed their targets as they saw the pure soul that the Sun God Ra has. If they were able to devour this soul, then they would be able to ascend into a god.

Adrian appeared before the evil spirits that tried to devour the Sun God Ra and released his domain and true form. Nether energy suddenly spread out on the death realm as Adrian's true form terrified the evil spirits. The fact that a being could terrify evil spirits that are not afraid of death and destruction is not normal because a Netheros is not normal.

"All of you needs to be punished!" Adrian stated as he collected all of the evil spirits that are remaining using nether energy.

He then opened a gate that leads to another death realm which has scorching heat. The large gate suddenly opened with a burst of flames and ten huge hands suddenly came out of it. The ten large hands collected all of the evil spirits that Adrian caught as it also shut the gates.

"Thank you, Champion Equinox." The God Osiris stated.

"I am not here as the Champion Equinox but as the Representative of the Gods of Death." Adrian stated as his body is being controlled by the game's AI as he is fulfilling the duty that a god of death should do.

Adrian turned smaller but he was still in his true form and raised his hand. The large temple like pyramid that was in the center of Abydos suddenly turned to pieces. The large pyramid suddenly became large stone slabs that floated in the air as a powerful energy source is shown.

This energy source was a powerful abundant energy that has the same energy of the sun. Adrian guided the soul of the Sun God Ra into the energy source as it seemed to incubate the soul. The God Osiris smiled as he knew that everything is now falling into place as he knelt while turning into particles of light.

The divine energy of the God Osiris filled the energy source even more as it exploded. A large sun suddenly materialized in the death realm as it compacted into the body of a humanoid with a falcon head. The humanoid looks like the Sun God Ra but his being felt different as if it was a new god entirely.

[The Primordial Sun God Amun-Ra has risen.]

The Primordial Sun God Amun-Ra looked like an incarnation of the sun itself. He was wearing clothes of blazing fire that is lavished with golden ornaments. He even has a huge sun disk behind him that is also blazing like the sun.

"I thank the Gods of Death for keeping your promise. The new cycle is now starting!" The Primordial Sun God Amun-Ra stated as he burst out of the death realm.

The Primordial Sun God Amun-Ra went back to the mortal realm and appeared on the western continent. The Primordial Sun God Amun-Ra and the Darkness Primordial Apophis with the God Thoth are now looking at each other. Seeing that the Primordial Sun God Amun-Ra has returned to his peak power, the God Thoth also activated the last spell that he has prepared.

The moon suddenly rose in the vast darkness of the western continent as numerous pages of runes started to swirl. The God Thoth merged with all of the runes as his armor suddenly changed to a silver moon sheen. The three gods that started the universe of Hiero suddenly transformed back into their primordial versions.

[The God Thoth has evolved into the Primordial Moon God Thoth.]

"Let us now start the recreation of the western continent." The three primordial gods stated as they released a powerful wave of divine energy that spread throughout the western continent.

The western continent that was covered in darkness is suddenly experiencing the sun and the moon at the same time, but an eclipse was not happening. The western continent that was covered in darkness suddenly started to sprout life once again. The deserts that were barren before is now full of oases and even a few settlements have already been built.

When the western continent has been fully recreated, the next thing to be created are the gods. The gods that have died are once again born into a more powerful version of themselves. The three gods made sure that the gods that they have created will now be able to contend with any of the gods of Pandemonium or even better.

The gods were created with golden armors but there was now a hint of dark gold in it. The aura of the gods is also amplified as if they have really become something that is different from their previous versions. Even the gods that have some deficiencies before are now more humanoid in appearance as they only have headdresses that symbolize their previous forms before.

Chapter 1600 The Start Of A New Cycle

All the gods in the Ennead were recreated or at least those that had their divine essence returned to the source which is inside of Apophis. The gods became stronger and fiercer than they have ever been as they gave a radiance that did not lose out to any greater god. Seeing that the gods have been created, the Primordial Sun God Amun-Ra started to purify all the parts of the western continent.

The God of Death Osiris was created as the first among the Ennead as he needed to balance the death realm once more. He immediately vanished and returned back to Abydos as an unmanned death realm is not always good. With the God Osiris back in his death realm, the mass resurrection has kicked off.

The souls of the deceased have been summoned one again by the Primordial Sun God Amun-Ra with the help of the God Osiris. All the beings that died have been revived but their minds have been rewritten by the Primordial Moon God Thoth. The numerous scriptures in his temple suddenly flew towards each people.

The Primordial Moon God Thoth has already made sure to have a copy of all the memories of the living beings in the western continent. All of which are already edited as well to make sure that there is no flaw in the continuation of their memories. They have already been fed the new information that they need so that they will not know that all of them have died and been recreated.

This special rewrite is only for the NPCs though as players of the western continent would still be able to remember what happened. They will also have to start their reputation back as it has become a clean slate. This was already a known end which is why most of the players that fought for the Sun God Ra are those of the western continent.

"I have already fixed everything. All that is left now is to place each god back to their respective temples." The Primordial Moon God Thoth stated.

"I shall place the mortals first before the gods." The Primordial Sun God Amun-Ra stated as he raised his hands, and all of the mortals were sent to their respective locations.

The Primordial Sun God Amun-Ra cannot do this without repercussions, but he could bypass it due to the immense energy that the Darkness Primordial Apophis is giving them. One could see that the Darkness Primordial Apophis has been shrinking as they are performing the creation of the new cycle.

The Darkness Primordial Apophis made sure that the promises that it gave to the gods that followed her will be done. The Avatar of Menhit could be seen living happily with her daughter. The Avatar of Ahti could be seen freely holding hands and being affectionate with her lover as she now has the features that she wished for. The Avatar of Babi could be seen with his fellow friends enjoying the day without the undying thirst for battle.

The other avatars of the corrupted gods or rather former avatars as their gods wished that they no longer be their avatars upon their recreation. The gods wanted their avatars to live the life that they wished they had. As if some of the corrupted gods still retain their memories before, some of them could be seen smiling deeply upon gazing at the mortals below.

"It is now time for the gods to descend!" The Primordial Sun God Amun-Ra stated as all the temples of the gods suddenly lit.

The Primordial Sun God Amun-Ra once again drew power from the Primordial Darkness Apophis. The Primordial Moon God Thoth also aided the Primordial Sun God Amun-Ra with this as they needed to rewrite the laws of the western continent itself. The newly created gods were as strong as Greater Gods while some were above it and they needed to ease the restriction.

[The Primordial Sun God Amun-Ra and the Primordial Moon God Thoth pleads with the world to allow the special privilege.]

[Privilege has been granted as the offerings are accepted by the world.]

[The Primordial Sun God Amun-Ra has returned to being the Sun God Ra.]

[The Primordial Moon God Thoth has returned to being the Moon God Thoth.]

It was not only the Sun God Ra and the Moon God Thoth that gave up some of their powers because even the Darkness Primordial Apophis has shrunk even further. Just before the Darkness Primordial Apophis shrinks even further, it sacrificed its power to separate itself from the vessel that it has taken over.

Adrian suddenly appeared before the vessel of Apophis and behind him was the Primordial Goddess Magwayen. The silhouette of the goddess could be seen taking the seal off the soul as the vessel was reincarnated back into the western continent with her family. The offering that the Darkness Primordial Apophis made it return to becoming just a normal god.

[The Darkness Primordial Apophis has returned to being the Serpent God Apophis.]

Adrian vanished upon doing his duty as the deal with the goddess has been finished. The Goddess Magwayen could be seen eating the energy that the Serpent God Apophis as sacrificed with a satisfied face. She returned back to her death realm without any fuss which made Adrian heave a sigh of relief.

The Sun God Ra made sure to create equal territories for each of the temples and also large areas that is uninhabited. He also created areas where there are kingdoms to make sure that not all people in the western continent would be zealots of their respective gods. The gods this time are no longer just attached to their divine realms.

[All Temples in the Western Continent have been created as specific Sanctuary for Gods.]

[The Gods of the Western Continent can now freely descend onto their temples without any restriction to their strengths.]

[The Gods of the Western Continent cannot exert the same influence outside of the western continent and each of them will also lose a part of their strength if they move too far away from their respective temples.]

"My job is complete. I shall now prepare for the documentation of the new cycle. Farewell, my kin." The Moon God Thoth stated as opened his book.

Upon opening his book, a rip in the dimension is once again created with the Temple of the Moon in that special place. The Moon God Thoth returned back to his all-seeing temple as he needed to record everything once again. The moon that was up in the sky vanished as there was only darkness and the sun remaining.

Seeing that the Moon God Thoth has returned to his duties, the Serpent God Apophis immediately scattered itself back into six fragments. The five fragments, except for the Body of Apophis, scattered all throughout the western continent. Each of the place where the fragment is scattered has been turned into the forbidden zone of the western continent. The scattering of the fragments of Apophis also started the creation of the dungeons and monsters in the western continent as well.

"It is time for me to return back to my divine realm. I shall see you once again in our fight every morning." The God Apophis stated as his body vanished back to its divine realm.

The darkness surrounding the western continent vanished as well as only the sun remained. The Sun God Ra is now satisfied with the new cycle hence he recreated his temple once more using sand. A beautiful temple made with golden sand and a large floating sun disk could be seen once more.

"It seems that everything has proceeded accordingly, my patron god." Cairo stated as he was also revived and greeted the Sun God Ra.

"Everything has proceeded with a much better ending that I thought. I shall now get back to my Divine Realm in preparation for the night. I shall descend when the day has come to its peak tomorrow." The Sun God Ra stated as he returned back to his divine realm to make sure that everything is flowing accordingly.

[The Western Continent has become a Holy Sanctuary for the Western Gods.]

A world message that created a powerful buzz has swept across the entire world. It not only shook the mortal world but also the gods of the other continents. They did not expect that such a thing is actually possible.

As soon as the western continent was available for travel, a lot of the gods have sent their followers to check on what happened with the western continent. The Sun God Ra, the Moon God Thoth and the Serpent God Apophis might have finished their duties, but the demons are not yet finished. A powerful shift in the balance of the world just happened.

All four of the Arch Demons along with Pann have gathered together as they need to fix the sudden impact to the realm barrier. The gods of the western continent is only responsible for the western continent after all. All five demons released powerful Origin energy to stabilize the world once more.

[The World's restriction has been lessened.]

[Lesser Gods can now descend without repercussions, but they will also be bound by new rules.]
