

O Summoner 1841

Chapter 1841 Supernova

"Supernova!" The Goddess of Light Luminaria stated as the large sun that she created descended from the sky.

"Defend!" Some of the players shouted.

"Activate the Anti Magic Field!" A player shouted as if he was the commander of the unified army.

The mages did not panic as being calm under pressure is part of being a mage. About a thousand mages chanted the spell as they already placed the magic circle. A large magic circle is summoned from the ground that the mages stood upon.

It is not just one group of mages that has this as all of the armies were prepared. The world has already judged that the era of peace has ended ever since a dark god descended. All the kingdoms already made sure to develop magic that could oppose the magic of a god.

"Futile!" The Goddess of Light Luminaria stated as she knew that the magic of humans can never defeat the magic of a god.

"Ice Palace!" A player that has the appearance of snow suddenly stated.

A large magical ice palace suddenly manifested in the far edge of the location of the Pantheon guild. Levin Cloud noticed that it was made by another player. The player that got the inheritance from the half Jotunn. The entire ice palace created a powerful frost barrier that decreased the heat that the Supernova had.

The large sun suddenly decreased in temperature that the Goddess of Light Luminaria noticed. She did not expect that there was a being there that had the inheritance of a frost being. The ice barrier might not have been able to defuse the Supernova, but it did weaken it to some degree.

The anti-magic circles that the mages created are then shot towards the Supernova and all of them interlaced with one another. The Supernova that the Goddess of Light Luminaria suddenly glowed bright and dispersed. The cheers of the players erupted as they were able to defuse a powerful attack that the Goddess of Light Luminaria has cast.

"Do not be complacent, puny beings. Do you think that I can only make one?" The Goddess of Light Luminaria stated as she created another Supernova.

The faces of the players suddenly dropped as they did not expect that a High God could fire such powerful magic in succession. The players hurriedly tried to do the same tactic earlier but the magic circles that they have carved for anti-magic has already been used up. The player that created the ice palace would then use offensive ice magic that created numerous ice spikes fired towards the Goddess of Light Luminaria.

The ice spikes did not even hit the Goddess of Light Luminaria as there was a powerful barrier that covered her. She did not even need to stop casting the Supernova spell in order to have the barrier deflect the attacks against her. The players are starting to panic but they forgot that they have powerful allies that are also present.

"Dark Javelin!" The Darkness Dragon King Drakness Tenebrosus suddenly shouted as he looked different compared to before.

The Darkness Dragon King Drakness Tenebrosus looked like a humanoid dragon instead of his usual draconic form that is a quadruped winged lizard. He looked like the Dragon Warrior Form that Hou Yiwei had but in full dark dragon glory. He clutched a spear made of pure darkness and tossed it towards the Goddess of Light Luminaria.

"Tch! Overgrown Lizard!" The Goddess of Light Luminaria reacted.

The Goddess of Light Luminaria had to stop casting the Supernova spell and use the energy that she has collected to defend against the spear made of pure darkness. The spear of darkness punctured the Supernova spell which created a rain of fire and light. The rain of fire and light scattered all throughout the battlefield which created some confusion.

The players immediately used powerful barriers to protect them against the rain of fire and light. The Goddess of Light Luminaria looked irritated at the Darkness Dragon King Drakness Tenebrosus. She knew that having him there would make her unable to freely chuck out powerful light elemental spells.

Even though the Goddess of Light Luminaria is a High God, she has to follow the rules of the world because the being that she swapped with also has to. Ark must cast spells that are Legendary Tier and above even though he does not need much mana to cast them as he is still weak. This weakness is also passed down to the Goddess of Light Luminaria as they not only switched places but also restrictions.

"I knew that I should have waited for the Chosen Nephilim to become stronger, but the opportunity already presented itself." The Goddess of Light Luminaria thought but she must make do with lower tier spells.

The Goddess of Light Luminaria made a Supernova once again, but she did not wait for it to gather enough power. She destroyed it via a powerful explosion which resulted in another rain of fire and light. The Goddess of Light Luminaria wanted the Darkness Dragon King Drakness Tenebrosus to choose between dealing with her or saving the ones below.

"Do you think that I did not think of that, pitiful goddess?" The Darkness Dragon King Drakness Tenebrosus stated.

The other darkness dragons and light dragons suddenly emitted powerful elemental energy from their bodies. The darkness dragons created a powerful dark dome that absorbed the rain of fire and light which blessed the players around with increased attack. The light dragons created a barrier of light that also absorbed the rain of fire and light but converted it to a blessing that healed those inside.

"I shall deal with you myself!" The Darkness Dragon King Drakness Tenebrosus shouted as he held out his hand and a dark flame suddenly created a weapon.

A draconic blade that is pure obsidian in color suddenly appeared in the darkness dragon king's hand. It glinted as the blade was so dark that it absorbed the light that is around it. The Goddess of Light Luminaria knitted her brows as she knows that blade since that was used by the previous darkness dragon king in the fight against the dark gods.

"Edax Lucis. The Devourer of Light. To think that a mere young dragon king was able to subdue it, but that blade is not enough." The Goddess of Light Luminaria stated.

"Did you think that you are the only one that can control light?" another voice suddenly echoed as a female humanoid dragon also appeared.

The female humanoid dragon looked more like a priestess that is veiled by light. She was even more beautiful compared to the Goddess of Light Luminaria as the light around her was gentle and warm. The light around the Goddess of Light Luminaria was hostile and searing which is vastly different to the ancient texts that described her.

"Lumen Isens. I was wondering where you have gone to. Do you think that a dragon would be able to defeat me when it comes to the control of light? You overestimate yourself, Light Dragon King! I am the Goddess of Light! Light itself bows down to me alone!" The Goddess of Light Luminaria shouted as the light around them suddenly shuddered.

"You may be the Goddess of Light, but I am the Light Dragon King! Light itself is forced to heel under me!" The Light Dragon King Lumen Isens stated as she pulled something from the light.

A staff made of pure white metal with a twinkling star on top of it is suddenly held by the Light Dragon King Lumen Isens. The Goddess of Light Luminaria looked severely irritated upon seeing the staff because that was something a goddess of light held once in the ancient ages. It is a weapon of divine might that should not have been wielded by a dragon.

"Spiritus Stellae. The Breath of a Star. How did you get that divine staff, Light Dragon King? I should not have asked because you are filthy, overgrown lizards that like to hoard treasure! Once I am done with you, I shall be the new owner of that staff!" The Goddess of Light Luminaria snarled as she looked greedily at the staff that the light dragon king held.

The Goddess of Light Luminaria could sense that the Spiritus Stellae is not in its prime as the one holding it is not of divine origin. If it was full power, then the Goddess of Light Luminaria would be half in power by now as the staff sucks in the closest light source to make the wielder more powerful. She is also making sure that the Edax Lucis does not touch her as she will experience great pain.

As the Goddess of Light Luminaria was observing the two dragon kings that are around her, an inconspicuous arrow made of pure darkness suddenly pierced her barrier. The Goddess of Light Luminaria felt a prick on her lower back as if an ant suddenly fiercely bit it.

"Who dares!" The Goddess of Light Luminaria shouted to mask the pain.

Chapter 1842 Irritated Goddess

Pana was just making sure that his control over the shadows is solid as he tried to enhance his bow using it. The shadows latched onto his bow, and it suddenly became a long bow that could shoot at high altitudes and long range. He then made sure to also enchant the arrow as he needed to make sure that it will fly that far without losing momentum.

He aimed at the Goddess of Light Luminaria just to test it out. He did not even think that he would be able to hit her with that arrow as he believed that the barrier would just block it like other projectile attacks. With great precision, Pana released the arrow, and it flew at an incredibly fast rate.

The shadows that enhanced his bow even made a snapping noise as it was dispelled with just one arrow. Fortunately for Pana, the weapon that he has did not snap or else he would be in big trouble. He looked up waiting for the arrow to be blocked by the barrier that is erected by the Goddess of Light Luminaria. He wanted to see how powerful the attack was and if it had any effect on the barrier, but the arrow actually slipped right through.

"Eh?!" Pana muttered as the shadow arrow hit the lower back of the Goddess of Light Luminaria.

"Who dares!" The Goddess of Light Luminaria screamed as her concentration shifted towards the people below.

Pana made the best course of action and melted in the shadows and also erased his presence using death energy. This is the style of fighting that the dark elves do when they suddenly need to drop aggression from the enemy. He also does not want to be smote by the Goddess of Light Luminaria as he hit a rather peculiar area on her body.

The Darkness Dragon King and the Light Dragon King used this as a chance to make sure that the Goddess of Light Luminaria gets severely damaged. The Darkness Dragon King swiped his sword towards the neck of the Goddess of Light Luminaria. He was about to hit her when she finally noticed him and erected an even more powerful barrier.

The sword, Edax Lucis, destroyed the first barrier that the Goddess of Light Luminaria has created. True to its name that is the devourer of light, the barrier made of light is shattered and absorbed by the blade. The blade glinted in an even darker light as it took the power of the barrier and released it as a sword wave aura made of the darkness element.

The Goddess of Light Luminaria created five barriers of light to deflect the sword wave but all five were destroyed. The good thing for the Goddess of Light Luminaria is that she was safe from the attack, but she forgot one more being. A beam of light suddenly blasted the back of the Goddess of Light Luminaria which made her squeal in surprise.

"You dare!" The Goddess of Light Luminaria shouted as she looked towards the Light Dragon King since she blasted the goddess of light with a light attribute magic spell.

The Goddess of Light Luminaria would not have mind the spell, but this is the first time that she felt hurt by light. She was supposed to be the Goddess of Light and should be immune to any damage from that element. Her anger flared up as she could not accept that there was a being that could hurt her using light magic.

"You just ascended as a goddess of light. You are not like the Lightborne. Do not be presumptuous that you are immune to my magic." The Light Dragon King stated as smiled smugly.

"It seems that I have been underestimating all of you too much. Even mere mortals dare to hurt me. I shall see what you can do when I release the army that I have created." The Goddess of Light Luminaria stated as she looked upon the crack in space.

The dimensional crack where the Goddess of Light Luminaria has yet to be fully closed. It seems that the Goddess of Light Luminaria is still using that separate dimension as a way to store her forces. Just like her statement, the Goddess of Light Luminaria made sure to have her powerful Luxera join the battle.

The Luxera that came out of the crack were much more solid and humanlike. If they actually had souls in their bodies, then they would have been classified as angels. The Goddess of Light Luminaria could not create anymore angels as she does not have the help of a god or goddess of life. Angels are created when souls are infused onto a Luxera, but the Goddess of Light Luminaria does not have authority over souls.

"Go and destroy them!" The Goddess of Light Luminaria commanded as all the Luxera spread their light streak wings and came out from the crack.

The pocket dimension might have been bigger than anticipated as thousands of Luxera came out of it. The armies that were just watching the fight of three powerhouses are now in action. The Luxera dove towards the armies like a suicidal air bomber as their bodies made of light can withstand the impact of hitting the ground.

"Incoming! Use magic!" The players shouted as Luxera are extremely resistant to physical attacks.

The rain of magic attacks started, and the calm battlefield has once again become chaotic. The players fought against the army that the Goddess of Light Luminaria has summoned. Everything would have been fine if they just need to defeat the Luxera but the five spheres floating near the Goddess of Light Luminaria still bothered them.

The demigods that have joined in the army also noticed five spheres and they can feel the air of divinity from them. The angels that the Goddess of Light Luminaria are now being filled with divinity which should have been impossible as the angels under the goddess cannot achieve godhood since they are enslaved. Gods and goddesses or any being that wants to become one must be liberated.

"Aim at the light spheres! Aid the dragon kings as much as we can!" One of the generals of the armies gathered stated.

The Goddess of Light Luminaria was now on the defensive which is unusual for her since she tends to use powerful spells to defeat her opponent. This perturbed the two dragon kings as their opponent was not doing her pattern as if she was biding her time. The Light Dragon King suddenly felt a powerful jolt in the light element as if a being of great power over the light element is suddenly born.

"Heavily injure her as fast as possible. I am worried about the beings that will come out of those spheres! Destroy them if you can." The Light Dragon King conveyed to the Darkness Dragon King via telepathy.

The Darkness Dragon King also felt the powers inside those light spheres and feared that they might not be able to deal with the Goddess of Light Luminaria if all five comes out. He slashed his sword towards the nearest light sphere, but the Goddess of Light Luminaria created ten layers of light barrier to protect it. The reason why some attacks were able to reach the Goddess of Light Luminaria was due to her focusing on defending the five light spheres instead of herself.

"Destroy them!" The Darkness Dragon King stated as he felt that one of the light spheres is increasing in energy.

The Darkness Dragon King and the Light Dragon King attacked at the same time as they tried to destroy two light spheres. They needed to at least succeed with one as they feared that the Goddess of Light Luminaria might overwhelm them when the remaining Angels of Virtue awaken. A powerful golden barrier that is made of pure light blocked any attacks from reaching the light spheres.

"Did you really think that I did not plan all of it? I might be irritated right now but I shall be the one that wins in the end. You will all grovel under my feet like the lizards that you are." The Goddess of Light Luminaria stated with great assurance.

The attacks of the Darkness Dragon King and the Light Dragon King were unable to scratch the golden light barrier that the Goddess of Light Luminaria created. This does not mean that the Goddess of Light Luminaria did not have any difficulty at all as she was draining a lot more mana reserves than she thought she was.

"We have arrived!" The four elemental dragon kings of fire, earth, wind, and water announced.

The four elemental dragon kings were also accompanied by numerous dragons and dragonkin as well. The Goddess of Light Luminaria sneered at the arrival of new enemies as she was already using a lot more energy protecting the angels. She was supplying them power and also protecting which is why she could not focus on the offensive but one of the light spheres started to expand.

Chapter 1843 The Diligent Angel

One of the light spheres expanded and released a powerful shockwave that also released a light wave. The light wave made all those near the Goddess of Light Luminaria get blown away a few meters. A female angel came out of the sphere, but she did not express any emotions. Still, those that knew of this angel would know her as the Angel of Diligence Uriel.

The Angel of Diligence Uriel came out of the light cocoon with armor that is made of white gold and silver. She also has a silver helmet that covered the top of her head until her eyes which made it seem that she cannot see anything. Her armor was more akin to what a woman warrior would wear but lesser for more mobility.

The Angel of Diligence Uriel looked like a battle mage angel as she is still an angel that casts powerful spells. Her six wings spread just like before and it resembled golden flames. Her entire body bursts with power as her blessing that the Goddess of Light Luminaria has given became maximized. The Angel of Diligence Uriel has awakened the Goddess Fragment that was hidden in her soul.

"Very good, child. I knew that you would be the first one to be able to awaken as you have limitless power. Now, defend the one that awakened your potential! Destroy all the enemies that have slandered me!" The Goddess of Light Luminaria stated as the Angel of Diligence Uriel suddenly burst into more power.

"As the goddess wills!" The Angel of Diligence Uriel stated but it was without emotion.

The Angel of Diligence Uriel suddenly released a powerful wave of pure light energy that knocked back all the dragons that were flying in the sky. The Darkness Dragon King and the Light Dragon

King were also knocked back as well as they were not excluded. The power of the Angel of Diligence Uriel is now equivalent to that of a lesser god.

NPC Name: Uriel

Title: Angel of Diligence

Race: Neo Angel

Species: Magna Ophanim

Health: 100%

MP: 100% (Infinite as long as light is present)

Description: The Angel of Diligence Uriel has been awakened by the Goddess of Light Luminaria by using the goddess fragment that the latter has embedded on the soul of the angel. She still has the great power that she possesses when she was still an ordinary angel. She now has the strength equal to that of a Lesser God. She will only obey the orders of the Goddess of Light Luminaria as she is the absolute existence in her eyes.

"Light of Purification!" The Angel of Diligence Uriel shouted as her wings suddenly released powerful rays of light.

The light rays were golden in color and spread out in six directions where six armies were gathered. The six golden rays hit the areas which razed the ground and produced powerful explosions. The screams of the people that were hit echoed in the area but that was music to the Goddess of Light Luminaria's ears.

"Yes. This is how it should be. Fear and respect are all but one thing to me. Punish the heathens in my name, Uriel." The Goddess of Light Luminaria stated.

"Exterminate the heathens." The Angel of Diligence Uriel muttered as she used more Light of Purification spells.

"Help them, Lumen Isens. I shall be enough to deal with the Goddess of Light Luminaria. If the Angel of Diligence Uriel is not stopped, the army would be wiped out eventually. Make sure that everyone will be able to gather as one force." The Darkness Dragon King stated.

"Drakness... you cannot deal with her alone." The Light Dragon King stated as it took two of them to even make the Goddess of Light Luminaria go on the defense.

"I shall not be alone. I will have my dark dragons be with me as support." The Darkness Dragon King stated as he called upon five dark dragons.

The five dark dragons released their dragon breath while the Darkness Dragon King charged forward to hit the Goddess of Light Luminaria with his blade. The Goddess of Light Luminaria was not able to release spells like Supernova as she was once again back to the defensive. Still, she believed that the Angel of Diligence Uriel will wipe out all her enemies for her.

"Another one is about to hatch. Just a bit more and I will be the winner. Once all of my Neo Angels get released, the central continent shall be mine to take!" The Goddess of Light Luminaria thought as she snickered while battling the darkness dragons.

"Humans! Aid me in destroying the angel!" The Light Dragon King stated as she countered the rays of golden light that the Angel of Diligence Uriel released.

The Light Dragon King created light barriers that took on the form of white crystals. These white crystal barriers absorbed the Light of Purification and turned to dust. The dust would then be transformed into healing energy that helped those that were injured before. There were some casualties already but those were the unlucky ones that got directly hit by the Light of Purification beams.

"Aid the Light Dragon King!" The generals managed to scream out their commands in order to organize the chaotic army.

The Angel of Diligence Uriel did not show emotion as she was just like a mechanical doll that released powerful light spells. She did not show any emotion or any sign of exhaustion as she just performed what she was commanded to do. She then started to collect light elemental energy into one point just like what the Goddess of Light Luminaria did.

"Supernova." The Angel of Diligence Uriel stated as she has already created a three-meter-tall sun.

"Curse of Sluggishness!" Creepysoo suddenly casted as a black shadow suddenly went towards the Angel of Diligence Uriel.

The collection of the light elemental energy suddenly became slow as Creepysoo used a curse that forced the affected being to get slowed down by half for ten seconds. It was effective as the small sun became slower to accumulate which granted them enough time. The mages of the army and the half Jotunn player launched spells of the water element towards the Angel of Diligence Uriel.

The small sun that the Angel of Diligence Uriel created suddenly got smothered which weakened it greatly. When the Supernova spell was released, the impact was enough to be defended by the army. If the Angel of Diligence Uriel could show emotion, then she might have become frustrated, but she was now likened to a machine.

"Supernova." The Angel of Diligence Uriel stated as another small sun started to get created.

"Once more." The general stated as they needed to do the previous plan to smother the small sun.

"Supernova." The Angel of Diligence Uriel stated once more as another small sun manifested beside her.

The jaws of the army dropped as another sun was created by the Angel of Diligence Uriel which the Goddess of Light Luminaria did not do. In fact, the Goddess of Light Luminaria's Supernova was bigger and more powerful, but she did not create another because she was still empowering the light cocoons. Two small suns started to get created as the heat in the area started to rise as well.

"As if these mindless light monsters were not enough... there is also another one that just chucks out powerful spells as if they are nothing." Levin Cloud stated as he was busy supporting the guild against the numerous Luxera aiming at them.

"For the Fallen!" A loud voice suddenly boomed as a powerful shockwave is heard from the sky.

An angel with grayish wings suddenly manifested as she wielded her flaming sword. The emotionless Angel of Diligence Uriel suddenly showed as light aversion to the flying angel as it seems that she deems that being's presence as an eyesore. The two Supernovas that the Angel of Diligence Uriel created that was supposed to be launched at the armies were diverted towards the angel with gray wings.

"Dodge!" Some of the players shouted as they knew that the gray winged angel might be an ally since she is hated by the white winged angel.

"Light Slayer!" The Fallen Angel Gomory shouted as she suddenly got covered with the flames from her sword.

The two Supernova spells that were extremely powerful and could kill a hundred people in an instant was suddenly sliced into two. The two Supernovas that were cut exploded but the lethality of it was halved. The Fallen Angel Gomory descended to the level of the Angel of Diligence Uriel as if attempting to challenge her.

"A Fallen. Intense hate for the first traitors. Changing the target to the Fallen." The Angel of Diligence Uriel stated in an almost robotic tone.

The Angel of Diligence Uriel stated as all her spells are now diverted towards the Fallen Angel Gomory. The rest of the army were a bit caught off guard as they do not know what a Fallen is.

Chapter 1844 Gomory

Gomory felt the powerful essence of the Goddess of Light Luminaria manifest into the mortal realm. It is not just her but also the other Fallen. All the angels or light based being that came from the goddess and betrayed her have also felt her presence. Just as they felt the presence of the goddess, her presence also vanished as fast as possible.

"What happened?! Why did I feel the presence of the Goddess of Light Luminaria?" Gomory stated as she looked towards her other Fallen comrades that were partially awakened due to the manifestation of the goddess.

"She really manifested but is sealed once again. We cannot move as we are still in the process of waking. We shall give you some of our energies but that will also put us to sleep again." The Fallen stated as it would take at least a year for them to fully move their bodies without any repercussions.

"I shall take on our burden. The Goddess of Light Luminaria will surely destroy us if she learns that we are still alive. She thinks of us as her greatest mistake." Gomory stated as the essences of the sleeping Fallen is absorbed by her sword.

"You have five releases so make it count as each attack will make even the Goddess of Light Luminaria feel hurt." One of the Fallen stated as they went to sleep once again.

Gomory immediately went to the closest kingdom that she was in and asked around. She felt that the tension of the people was high because they have learned that the Goddess of Light Luminaria has descended. She was immediately sealed again by the sacrifice of a Goddess of Justice, but she will eventually get unsealed.

Gomory knew that she is still too weak to wield the true power of the Fallen which is why she needed to train. She used the remaining time of two weeks to better herself so that she can wield the power of the Fallen with great might and precision. She immediately dived into perilous dungeons by herself until the day of the unsealing of the Goddess of Light Luminaria comes.

"For the Fallen!" Gomory shouted as she came blazing with her flaming sword.

Numerous spells were directed at her from the Angel of Diligence Uriel, but she was able to cut them off. The army were awestruck at the power of the Fallen Gomory, but they also noticed the disdain on the face of the Goddess of Light Luminaria. The Goddess of Light Luminaria even forgot to defend herself and shot a powerful beam of light towards Gomory.

"Ugh!" Gomory reacted as she suddenly blocked the light beam from the Goddess of Light Luminaria with her sword.

Gomory was sent flying downwards as the sudden hit from the goddess was not something that she has expected. She was about to get sent crashing down to the ground when vines suddenly sprouted from it and cushioned her fall. She looked surprised as she looked around to see who saved her.

"Levin Cloud! Thanks!" Gomory stated.

"Do not mention it as you have helped us back then. I thought that the Fallen would not come but it seems that I was wrong." Levin Cloud stated.

Levin Cloud and the others or the Pantheon guild are aware of the existence of the Fallen. One of their guild members, Ark, is basically raised by the Fallen as he was the chosen Nephilim. They usually aided him in his quests that takes them to talk with the Fallen that are awake.

"The Goddess of Light Luminaria must not be given free reign in the central continent. She is too much of a selfish goddess to even think about others. She will ruin the central continent even better than a dark god or distorted god." Gomory stated.

What Gomory stated is true because the Goddess of Light Luminaria only cares about herself and her satisfaction. She might have been a different being back when she was a mortal, but she changed when she became a goddess. Rather, some would say that her true personality came out when she held absolute power.

"Tell me that you came here with a way to at least destroy the Goddess of Light Luminaria?" Levin Cloud asked.

"I do but I have limited chances. I already used one when I slashed at the powerful spells and blocked the attack from the Goddess of Light Luminaria." Gomory stated as she used one of her chances to save herself.

"Maybe you should not have shouted your arrival. Just saying." Levin Cloud pointed out.

"Something within me just made me shout. I am not even much of a shouter." Gomory stated.

"Nice reunion and all but we need help here." Peridot stated as she was blocking attacks from Luxera and spells from the Angel of Diligence Uriel.

"I need help in reaching the Goddess of Light Luminaria. Can you guys help me? I am sure Equinox can just port me up there immediately." Gomory asked Levin Cloud.

"Yeah... he is not here yet. He is busy with other problems. We would have been able to ask help from other demons, but other gods of light started tearing at the world barrier making the dimension weaker." Levin Cloud stated with a wry smile.

"That is fine. If I am going to have a chance in getting near the goddess, then you guys are my best bet. The only problem is that angel, but it seems that the Light Dragon King interfered once I was sent crashing down." Gomory stated.

"I can hide her." Pana stated as he suddenly materialized using shadows.

"I can also help her." Awraka stated as she came into being as if she was incredibly opaque.

"Which one do you want to escort you while we provide a distraction? Shadows and death magic or Shadow Realm?" Levin Cloud asked.

"I will go with the dark elf as he was able to hide even from the eyes of the Goddess of Light Luminaria." Gomory stated.

Chapter 1845 Four Remaining Attempts

"Ah!" The Goddess of Light Luminaria shouted as a sword managed to slice through her defenses.

The Darkness Dragon King was able to destroy the light barriers that protected the Goddess of Light Luminaria when she was distracted by Gomory. Her shout also distracted the Angel of Diligence Uriel which made the spells of the Light Dragon King connect. The Angel of Diligence Uriel was sent crashing to the ground where other elemental dragons surrounded and bombarded her with spell.

"You should never look away from a battle." The Darkness Dragon King Drakness stated as he swiped the golden blood from his dark blade.

It is often stated that the blood of the gods does not run red but gold which is the origin of the gold mines since many gods died back then. Not a lot of weapons could make the gods bleed though since they are extremely durable. Also, bleeding for a god is a sign of great invulnerability which means that something could kill them indirectly.

The Goddess of Light Luminaria touched her wound in an attempt to heal it, but the sword wound did not close. The wound on her body was plagued with great darkness that made her healing magic ineffective. Also, the Goddess of Light Luminaria is actually not proficient in the art of healing magic since she was more of a combat goddess than a support goddess.

The Church of Light might advocate that the Goddess of Light Luminaria could expel any curses and such but that is just them blasting the curse away from the body using powerful holy light magic. True light healing magic is actually being siphoned from the Angel Raphael, but the followers of the Church of Light only know of angels as the goddess' agent.

"You shall pay for that!" The Goddess of Light Luminaria shouted as she started to protect the light spheres less and less as she called upon some Luxera to defend them.

The Goddess of Light Luminaria started battling the Darkness Dragon King in order to pay him for the humiliation that she experienced. The two colossus beings started to fight each other in earnest.

Their attacks would either release a powerful wave of darkness or a blinding flash of light which contributed to the great confusion in the battlefield.

Pana immediately coated Gomory with a shell made of death magic and a slight sliver of shadows to seal the deal. Just like that, the two of them suddenly became invisible to the eyes of the Goddess of Light Luminaria. It also helped that the attention of the Goddess of Light Luminaria is diverted towards the Darkness Dragon King.

"We may be invisible, but we can still be attacked. The vice guild leader will open up a path for us." Pana stated as he also needed to concentrate more since he has never experienced sharing his abilities.

"As long as we can get close to the Goddess of Light Luminaria then that would be enough." Gomory stated.

"Pantheon guild! Rally to me!" Levin Cloud shouted as he activated the guild skill.

[Your Vice Guild Leader, Levin Cloud, has activated the Guild Rally skill.]

[All guild members that are in the march will be immune to damage for the first three seconds.]

[All guild members that are in the march will be immune to crowd control for the first five seconds.]

[All guild members will have 20% increased defense for 20 seconds.]

[All guild members will have 10% increased damage for 1 minute.]

"Clear the way!" Levin Cloud commanded as he showed his valor as a vice guild master.

Apolaki and Vayu led the march as they culled any Luxera that came their way. They made sure that their enemies are killed within the timeframe given as they came close to the Goddess of Light Luminaria. They were not getting much attention from the Goddess of Light Luminaria or the Angel of Diligence Uriel because they are battling the dragon kings.

The Pantheon Guild was able to reach about ten meters the general location of the Goddess of Light Luminaria. Pana ended the stealth as the two of them were now under the Goddess of Light Luminaria. She was just flying above them battling the Darkness Dragon King.

"Thank you" Gomory stated as she activated one of the charges in her flaming sword.

The sword is suddenly wrapped in dark crimson flames that made Pana wince. The flames looked subtle and weak, but it was incredibly potent. Gomory suddenly shot towards the sky which made the Goddess of Light Luminaria notice her. The Goddess of Light Luminaria looked at Gomory, but the former turned her attention to the Darkness Dragon King.

The Goddess of Light Luminaria did not care much for the Fallen as she viewed them as failed creations. They were powerful but she was more powerful than them. She believed that the best that the Fallen can do is harm her that has the same effect as an ant bite. This was the failure of the Goddess of Light Luminaria as she did not expect that her abandoned creations found ways to mold light to hurt even her.

"Dark Light Slash!" Gomory shouted.

A silent yet refined dark light came out of the sword that Gomory held. The dark light did not look powerful, but it held great lethality especially to beings that are light itself. It was a spell that the Fallen have created to counter the angels that wanted to hunt them down.

The dark light punctured the thigh of the Goddess of Light Luminaria, and a pained scream could be heard from her. Golden blood came out of her wound which she could not believe. The Darkness Dragon King followed up Gomory's attack and managed to hit the Goddess of Light Luminaria on her right arm which made her golden blood trickle.

"That was my fourth attempt! Now for the remaining three." Gomory stated but she did not notice that another cocoon of light was missing.

"Vision of Light." A voice stated as Gomory wailed in pain as she clutched her eyes.

Chapter 1846 Angel of Charity

A powerful flash of light suddenly blinded Gomory which should not have been possible as angels and Fallen are immune to the status ailment blind if it comes from a light source. Gomory clutched her eyes in response to her vision darkening but she was not actually blinded by light. The Angel of Charity Camael sapped all the light around her eyes that everything she saw was darkness.

The Angel of Charity Camael then blasted Gomory to the ground with a light orb. Gomory fell down as she was disoriented since she has never faced such a situation before when she became a Fallen. The Angel of Charity Camael was about to follow up an attack on Gomory, but Pana intervened.

Pana fired arrows made of darkness and death energy which prompted the Angel of Charity Camael to block them. The Angel of Charity Camael thought that a simple light barrier would be able to block the arrows, but they just passed through and hit her. The Angel of Charity Camael would have screamed in pain but she just like the Angel of Diligence Uriel could not express intense emotions.

"Priority target acquired but first help the goddess. Light of Revelation." The Angel of Charity Camael stated as she suddenly flew up in the air.

As soon as the Angel of Charity Camael became high enough, she suddenly went supernova as her body started to shine bright. The bright light was seen by all beings, but they found it beautiful and enchanting instead of harmful to the eyes. A powerful light explosion then created chaos in the battlefield as many that saw it became afflicted with the blind status ailment.

[You have been afflicted with the Blind status ailment for five minutes.]

The sudden blindness of about half the participants incapacitated them to a great degree. Even dragons were affected by the blindness which halved the fighting force that the Darkness Dragon King and the Light Dragon King had. The sudden blindness of their enemies made the Goddess of Light Luminaria, and her underlings turned the tide of battle.

"Supernova!" The Goddess of Light Luminaria shouted as she now had some leeway in casting powerful spells.

"Dark Curtain!" The Darkness Dragon King Drakness shouted as he suddenly pulled a curtain made of darkness that met the Supernova casted by the Goddess of Light Luminaria.

"With two of my angels now active, all of you shall die!" The Goddess of Light Luminaria stated with a loud laugh as she gets more active the more her angels awaken.

The Goddess of Light Luminaria really wanted Raphael to be the next one that could awaken but the Angel of Charity Camael's awakening was on time. She would have suffered another powerful attack from the Fallen that suddenly intervened. She really wanted to kill Gomory using her own hands, but she was occupied by the Darkness Dragon King.

The Supernova was dispelled but there were scorch marks on the scales of the Darkness Dragon King. The Goddess of Light Luminaria was getting stronger and stronger as more of her angels revive. They should defeat her while they still have the time and upper hand but defeating a high god is a tall order even for an Elemental Dragon King.

"You should know that I am not using my full force because I am currently doing something else. You are not dumb Darkness Dragon King. I offer you salvation in return for serving me. I will become the Matriarch Goddess of this world. Join me!" The Goddess of Light Luminaria stated as she attempted to recruit the darkness dragon king.

"I would never bow down to a goddess that would even murder children. If we did not get any help, then the younglings would have died and the future of dragonkind would become bleak. You shall be defeated goddess even if I have to burn my soul to do so!" The Darkness Dragon King stated.

"A pity. I just have to erase dragonkind then. Your mother goddess has already passed onto the afterlife anyway." The Goddess of Light Luminaria stated which greatly angered the Darkness Dragon King.

"The domain suddenly shook! Is the Goddess of Light Luminaria getting defeated?" Ark suddenly exclaimed.

"She is getting hurt down there. Be ready to shake the foundations of your shackle!" The small Samael stated.

Ark immediately sat back down and meditated as he needed extreme focus. He needed to time the possibility of the Goddess of Light Luminaria getting a heavy wound. The Goddess of Light Luminaria needs to focus in order to keep her connection with Ark or else it might get disconnected. If the two of them get disconnected, then Ark would be able to return to the mortal realm.

The Darkness Dragon King suddenly released a fierce dragon aura that was actually felt in the entire central continent. Even the sleeping monsters were jolted awake and started to hide as they thought that the great dragon was flying overhead. The Darkness Dragon King was not joking when he said that he would burn his soul because he is doing right now.

"You should fear the dark, goddess of light!" The Darkness Dragon King stated as he pointed his sword towards the Goddess of Light Luminaria.

"Darkness is just the absence of light. Unlike light, darkness is ugly and depressing." The Goddess of Light Luminaria stated as she mocked the darkness.

"You say such thing, but it was darkness before light. That is the truth of this universe that even a proud goddess of light such as yourself cannot rebuke. I shall burn my soul in order to punish the goddess that dared to defile the name of the Mother Dragon Goddess! Mother of Dragons! Here my prayer and let me burn my soul! I ask for permission!" The Darkness Dragon King stated as he suddenly looked towards Basil.

"I, Basil, the Mother of Dragons give permission to Drakness Tenebrosus to do what he wills to do. For the future of dragonkind!" Basil stated but her voice echoed in lower and higher octaves as a silhouette of a gigantic humanoid dragon woman was seen faintly for a second.

As soon as the Darkness Dragon King was given permission, the whole world suddenly became dark. To be precise, the darkness dragon king released all of the primal power stored in a dragon's soul. It was so potent and overpowering that the only ones that were glowing were the Goddess of Light Luminaria and her two Neo Angels.

"Did you know filthy goddess that the Mother Dragon Goddess birthed each dragon from the essence of other gods. We, the darkness dragons, were birthed from the Goddess Tiamat mating with the God Erebus. Feel the power of true darkness hidden in our soul!" The Darkness Dragon King stated as all the darkness that he called upon here sucked in his blade.

"Draconic Nightfall!" The Darkness Dragon King shouted as a powerful burst of darkness elemental energy came out of his sword.

"Children! Protect your creator!" The Goddess of Light Luminaria shouted as the Angel of Diligence Uriel and the Angel of Charity Camael reappeared in front of her.

The two Neo Angels extended their wings made of light and shielded themselves for the impact. One could see that they felt some sort of disgust when they were suddenly called upon by the goddess to become their human shield, but they cannot neglect the order. A wave of intense darkness devoured the entire straight line and hit the Goddess of Light Luminaria.

The powerful attack even went through and parted the sea behind them. If there was a mountain in the path of the attack, then it would have been destroyed. When the darkness finally faded, the image of the two angels were incredibly battered to the point that their light could be seen fading. The Goddess of Light Luminaria is not looking good as well because her clothes that were white are tattered with patches of the darkness element clinging on it.

The Darkness Dragon King smiled as he suddenly became smaller and smaller until he started falling to the ground. The Darkness Dragon King burned most of his soul in that attack that even made the Goddess of Light Luminaria fear for her life. Still, the attack was not enough to defeat the Goddess of Light Luminaria as she used her own angels to become her meat shields.

"YOU DARE!" The Goddess of Light Luminaria shouted as she suddenly released golden flames from her body as she almost showed her true form.

The Goddess of Light Luminaria felt incredibly offended as she has never been blasted with darkness in her very face. She did not care about defenses anymore as she launched a powerful beam of light towards the miniaturizing darkness dragon king. The Light Dragon King suddenly showed up and took away the darkness dragon king as the latter needed to recuperate majorly since he lost most of his power from the attack that he released.

Chapter 1847 Interrupted Too Early

Ark felt the connection between him, and the Goddess of Light Luminaria shake aggressively. Even the light chain momentarily faded out which also made Ark's presence in the divine realm almost get cut off. Seeing that this might be his chance, Ark sent supercharged energy into the chain to try and cut his connection with the Goddess of Light Luminaria.

Ark did not know what would happen if he cut it abruptly since even the small Samael just told him that it would be enough for him to return. What he did not know if he would die in the process or would just be ejected out of the divine realm. He felt that the connection started to slowly unravel but it suddenly solidified once again. The fading chain made of light suddenly solidified as same as before which also sent Ark flying back.

"Ouch!" Ark stated as he was sent crashing towards his cage of light that also became solidified.

"You were too impatient. Also, the Goddess of Light Luminaria might not be injured enough down there for her to lose focus on her grip on you." The small Samael stated.

"I guess I did it too early, but the connection is getting more muddled as I can feel the Goddess of Light Luminaria getting tired. It is a weird sensation that I cannot describe as if I can feel what she is feeling. Tell me that she is not feeling the same things that I am feeling as well?!" Ark stated.

"She might be, but she is choosing to not acknowledge it which is why she might not know what you are doing. Make sure to focus and wait for the next opportunity. There might not be a third time as she might notice what you are planning. Make the next opportunity count." The small Samael stated.

The Goddess of Light Luminaria suddenly felt that her anchor to the mortal realm loosen as her body almost ascended to her divine realm. She immediately put all concentration back to her connection with Ark and stabilized it. This also meant that she lost the counter offensive on the enemies that wounded her greatly.

The Goddess of Light Luminaria could still feel the sting from the attack that the Darkness Dragon King. She can also feel the scorch of the dark light that the Fallen hit her with. She was incredibly injured, but she made sure to hide it as she was still above 70% in health. She was also healing her health gradually as well by drawing out energy from the light cocoon that has Raphael inside.

The Goddess of Light Luminaria knew that Raphael's awakening would be delayed if she continued this, but she has no other way to heal herself. She is just making sure that she controls her strength as protecting the light cocoons take precedence for her. She knew that she will not be able to win against this collective army by herself.

Even if she does not want to admit, she has been restrained by the world one way or the other. She cannot use powerful spells in just a split second like what she did when the world was whole. The world is incomplete which is why the powers of gods are also affected by it when they descend onto the world.

The Goddess of Light Luminaria does not want to admit it, but she made a grave error on her part when she used the binding energy of the light gods to descend. She actually needed some other hands and feet in order to conquer the central continent. She did not expect to be this injured despite her enemies only being demigods and below.

The demigods eyed her like a piece of meat as they all want a taste of her divinity. She is also wary of the other gods since they would swoop in to save their followers should something happen to them. She is calculating all the risks to make sure that she will have enough time to hatch her Neo Angels. She just needs enough time to have Mikhail awaken and she will be unstoppable by then.

Once all her Neo Angels are awakened, even greater gods that descend will not be able to bother her. She would finally reign as the true goddess in the central continent and eventually reaching the entire world. She must blaze her path early until the world becomes powerful enough to hold high gods. If she becomes the pioneer, then all the faith would go to her.

"This much pain is manageable. I will win as the pest on my sight has also fallen. Attacking with that kind of power to a goddess is not something even a powerful dragon king can do again." The Goddess of Light Luminaria stated as she applied a spell that cleared all her injuries, but she actually just fixed her humanoid vessel.

She might look like all her injuries were healed but that is just a façade. She is still in pain as the darkness that the darkness dragon king hit her with is still stinging her being. The gods know how powerful souls are, which is why even they are afraid of it when mortals will burn their own soul to injure gods. The more powerful the soul that is burned up then the more powerful the attack against the divine.

The Goddess of Light Luminaria also felt that something was odd with her connection as she made sure that it would not break even if she experienced extreme pain. She thought it was just a coincidence as the ancient magic spell that she used was almost as old as her. It was a spell that was created by Samael himself and a mere weak Nephilim would not be able to counter it as even the spell creator is long gone.

"I must have lost my mind more than I thought. I should not be swayed by emotions anymore. Where are my two neo angel shields?" The Goddess of Light Luminaria stated as she looked for the Angel of Charity Camael and the Angel of Diligence Uriel.

The two Neo Angels took the brunt raw power of the darkness dragon king's attack. It is evident that they are severely injured as their wings are broken to the point that they are having trouble flying. The light that they are giving off is also getting weaker by the minute as if they would get snuffed out any moment now.

"I have no choice as my other Neo Angels cannot yet awaken. I should draw power from the sun itself even though it is not entirely my domain, and that revived Sun God might interfere with me." The Goddess of Light Luminaria stated as she reached out to the sun.

"Power of a star! Come to the aid of the Goddess of Light!" The Goddess of Light Luminaria stated as the sun crystal pendant that is hanging on her neck suddenly glowed in orange flames.

All the beings there witnessed the Goddess of Light Luminaria reach out to the sun as if calling upon it. They thought that she lost her mind, but she actually summoned a being from the sun. A powerful sunspot suddenly exploded which released a wave of heat towards the world.

The beings witnessed the large sun in the sky give birth to three smaller suns that started to descend. Madness would have started to spread if a being clad in dark golden armor did not manifest above the skies and blast two of the smaller suns from the sky. The sun crystal pendant that the Goddess of Light Luminaria has on her neck suddenly shattered as if it has done its job.

The being clad in dark golden armor tried to destroy the last sun but it was able to descend faster than the other two by using them as sacrifices. A powerful voice suddenly echoed from the skies and declared hostility towards the Goddess of Light Luminaria. The voice came from none other than the Sun God Ra.

"You dare call upon the Primordial Beings locked inside the sun! Should you step foot in the Western Continent Goddess of Light Luminaria, I shall sever your divine body into dust! I have been quiet of your arrival because it is not the land that I dwell, but this offense must be paid." The voice of the powerful Sun God Ra stated as he can actually exert the might of a High God in the western continent freely unlike the Goddess of Light Luminaria that needed to use an ancient spell.

"I am not afraid of you, bird god! I got what I want from the sun. You will eventually bow down before me as I am not afraid to seal you once again." The Goddess of Light Luminaria stated as the being she called upon finally descended on the battlefield.

[The Goddess of Light Luminaria has summoned the Three-Legged Golden Crow.]

Chapter 1848 Three-Legged Golden Crow I

"Deal with the lower beings!" The Goddess of Light Luminaria stated as she bent the Three-Legged Golden Crow to her will.

Monster Name: Three-Legged Golden Crow (Small Essence)

Monster Tier: Mythical (Degraded from Divine)

Monster Type: Solar Avian

HP: 100%

MP: 100%

Description: The three-legged crow was believed to be the one who draws the Sun out from the clouds. It was said that the sun would be drawn out by the ten sun crows, who would each carry a responsibility to fly out and create a path for the other. The crow's favorite food consisted of two types of grass only found on earth, thus some of the crows would fly down and eat them, distorting the flight pattern of the sun.

This Three-Legged Golden Crow was summoned by the Goddess of Light Luminaria and thus was only able to summon a partial essence of the actual one that is still inside the sun. It is said that the sun itself will go dim if the actual Three-Legged Golden Crow awakens fully.

Status: Irritated

"You are telling that the bird that we are seeing right now that is as hot as the sun is just a small essence of the real one?" Peridot shuddered as she is genuinely afraid of the Three-Legged Golden Crow.

Peridot's master has said that the Three-Legged Golden Crow would often eat lesser dragons once they get a taste of their flesh. The Three-Legged Golden Crow might be like grass but that does not mean that it will not eat anything else if it is hungry. Peridot actually felt her skin tingle as she thought that the Three-Legged Golden Crow was looking at her.

The Three-Legged Golden Crow looked or had the general shape of a large crow. The only thing different from an actual crow is that it has golden feathers that shined like the sun. In fact, it looked like a small sun descended when the Three-

Legged Golden Crow came down to the ground.

The Three-Legged Golden Crow also had a powerful aura that emitted power just like the sun. The ground below the Three-

Legged Golden Crow is scorched to the point that it boiled like lava. Its very essence is so hot that even the fire dragons that came are wary of the Three-Legged Golden Crow.

The Goddess of Light Luminaria immediately retreated as she knew that a primordial divine beast like the Three-Legged Golden Crow will not be an easy opponent. She did click her tongue when she did not summon the divine tier version of the Three-Legged Golden Crow but that would be pushing her luck since the actual crow would be as powerful as her.

The Angel of Diligence Uriel and the Angel of Charity Camael could be seen steadily recuperating as they were no longer being attacked by any being. They were resting near the Goddess of Light Luminaria as she was also slowly healing herself but the wounds from the darkness dragon king are not healing properly. Even the Goddess of Light Luminaria cannot easily heal wounds that are dealt from burning the soul of a dragon king.

"Surround the Three-Legged Golden Crow!" The generals shouted as they were now enveloped by a spell from the Light Dragon King to lessen the effects of the sun aura that the Three-Legged Golden Crow has on.

"I shall deal with the crow. Make sure that you defeat the Goddess of Light Luminaria when given the chance." The Light Dragon King stated as she changed to her more draconic form.

"You think that you can take me on alone, dragon? This small essence of me might have been degraded but it is enough to deal with small fries like you." The Three-Legged Golden Crow suddenly stated as it suddenly expanded to a size that dwarfed even the Light Dragon King.

The entire army was now filled with different emotions of fear, anxiety, and hope. They feared the Three-Legged Golden Crow as it has powerful energy that even those that are unable to feel the energy of others can feel. Anxiety as they did not know what would happen to them or if they were going to live. Hope that at least the demigods can help them but even they are hoping for a miracle at this point.

The Three-Legged Golden Crow suddenly spat out an actual small sun that burst into flaming comets. The flaming comets fell almost infinitely as all of the armies were targeted. The entire area is covered by flaming comets to the point that ordinary defenses are useless.

The barriers that the mages activated were shattered as they were not made to defend against massive area of attacks. The barriers that were made are more into focused defenses against instantaneous spells that the Goddess of Light Luminaria does. To make matters worse, the Three-Legged Golden Crow had a very annoying attribute attached to any of its attacks.

[The Three-Legged Golden Crow has the Primordial Disaster title. All magic will be less effective against it, and it can destroy magic using its own attacks.]

The barriers melted like they are not made using the consolidated mana of a hundred thousand mages. Even the Light Dragon King's barrier was immediately shattered upon impact of the flaming comets. The fire dragons tried to control the flames of the comet, but they could not do so. The water dragons tried dousing the flames but even that failed.

The wind dragons tried to divert the flaming comets which showed some success, but they cannot do so for all. The earth dragons chucked large boulders of clay but that only increased the mass of the flaming comets. All the beings felt that this is how they die, and the entire area was filled with explosions and flames.

If one were to say that moist land should not be able to sustain fire, then they have not seen the sight now. The entire area was like a flaming inferno as the screams of those that are burning could be heard.

Chapter 1849 Three-Legged Golden Crow II

A flaming inferno that scorched the land can be seen as the army has faced the disaster known as the Three-Legged Golden Crow. The entire area was filled with flames that rose to the height of ten meters. Even the mere sight of bodies cannot be seen inside the flaming hell that is now their reality.

Fortunately, or unfortunately for the army members, they were not getting immediately killed by the fire, but they are being burned alive. The Three-Legged Golden Crow that the Goddess of Light Luminaria has summoned is only a degraded version of the real one. This means that the divine might that it could do is only about 10% of its original power.

A powerful wind suddenly swept across the battlefield as lightning came down from the skies. On another side, the flames that were hurting the people suddenly just felt like a tingle. The flames on that side danced as if there is a mind of its own. This is not just one of the strange occurrences as a large tree that has lush and dead branches appeared.

[The Tree of Life and Death, Yewdrassil, has been summoned in the surroundings.]

[The Tree of Life and Death, Yewdrassil, has accustomed itself to its environment of flames.]

The Tree of Life and Death, Yewdrassil, suddenly burned but the flames did not hurt it. The flames looked like in invigorated the tree and made it more beautiful. The flames that are near the Tree of Life and Death were absorbed and reused to empower the beings that are under its protection.

"What!" The Three-Legged Golden Crow muttered as its powerful flames are being used against it.

The Three-Legged Golden Crow knew that the flames that its enemy is converting are the ones that is no longer under its control. The Three-Legged Golden Crow can only control the flaming comets, but it no longer has extreme control once it lands on the ground. The Three-Legged Golden Crow felt a being was controlling the flames that are emitted on the ground and it was a being of the pure fire element.

[You have entered the Pure Fire Elemental Form.]

[You can control the flames in your general area.]

Soleil activated her Pure Elemental Form which she got from the Elemental Kings. She is able to borrow power from an elemental king to transform into one, but she knew that their real enemy is not the Three-Legged Golden Crow. She used one of the forms that enable her to control all the flames in her general area. It is a form that turns her into a pure Fire High Elemental.

"Regulus, help me with the flames!" Soleil stated as her elemental companion is now a High Elemental as well.

A large golden flaming lion roared which made the flames shudder under its might. Soleil also looked vastly different from her human form as she is now a pure elemental. Her skin is bright orange while her eyes are crimson flames. Her entire dress is even made of red flames that connected to the flames that are under her feet.

[You have entered the Pure Wind Elemental Form.]

[You can control the winds in your general area.]

Vayu also did the same as his daughter and transformed into a pure wind elemental as well. He looked like a ghostly samurai as his entire body looked like a mist. His very presence extinguished the flames around him. His katana also became wind itself as it could theoretically elongate infinitely as long as he can control the winds.

[You have entered the Keeper of the Tree of Life and Death Form.]

Levin Cloud also changed his form as well and entered his true form, but he was influenced by the current flaming appearance of the Tree of Life and Death. The current Levin Cloud looked like a flaming leaf monster. He looked like the avatar of the current flaming Tree of Life and Death.

Levin Cloud looked like his Leshy form that has the body of branches and roots with head of a stag skeleton. The only difference is that the part of his body that should have the leaves are now flames that burned red. He looked like a forest demon entity than a Leshy due to his hot appearance.

"It is not hurting anymore!" One of the soldiers clamored as the flames that were burning his skin suddenly turned to flames that healed.

These phenomena could be seen in the entire area that is around the Tree of Life and Death. The flames that should be burning them are now the things that are healing them. It was all due to Levin Cloud utilizing the new form of the Tree of Life and Death.

"The flames around all of you will heal you instead of burn as long as the Tree of Life and Death stands in this very field. Defeat the Three-Legged Golden Crow while we have the advantage!" Levin Cloud stated as his voice echoed.

"Kill the bird!" The generals shouted as they fear that etched into their heart was washed away due to the appearance of the Tree of Life and Death.

The Three-Legged Golden Crow is angered to a great extent that it flew towards the Tree of Life and Death in order to destroy it. One reason is because it is angry, but another reason is that the smell of the Tree of Life and Death reminded it of its favorite grass. Instinct actually kicked in for the Three-Legged Golden Crow as hunger took its toll.

Vayu and Soleil sprung to action as they jumped towards the Three-Legged Golden Crow. A wind katana on the right while a fierce flaming lion on the left. The Three-Legged Golden Crow snorted as it released a golden aura that knocked back any entity that was around it. The flaming claws of the Three-

Legged Golden Crow is about to reach the Tree of Life and Death when a powerful boom echoed in the sky as lightning came down to hit the crow.

Chapter 1850 Tempest Lodestone Kaiser Tigris

The lightning that hit the Three-Legged Golden Crow did not come from Vayu but a source much harsher and filled with divine might. A white tiger with glowing black stripes venerated with silver spaulders and bracelets could be seen slamming the head of the Three-Legged Golden Crow. This white tiger was also as large as the Three-Legged Golden Crow even in its gigantic form.

The presence of the white tiger is like lightning itself which is incredibly fierce. There is also a kingly aura around the white tiger, but it is more prominent because of the crown of lightning that is floating on his head. The Pantheon guild members smiled as there was actually a being that floated behind the white tiger.

"Sorry I am a bit late." Adrian stated as he appeared suddenly in front of the Tree of Life and Death.

A gigantic white bird suddenly perched on top of the Tree of Life and Death while a large black wolf came out from the shadows. The being known as the Demon has finally arrived and he brought out the summons that could help them in this time of need. Sirius howled and shadows suddenly formed from the shadows of the people and created tendrils that pinned the Three-Legged Golden Crow.

Saena flapped her wings and all she made use of the light that the fire was emitting to spread healing energy. The stamina and health of all the beings that are in the area started to go back to full. The divine bird that is perched on top of the Tree of Life and Death is now making sure that all beings that protect it will be blessed.

"How come you only arrived now?" Levin Cloud asked as Adrian suddenly remembered how he arrived at this point.

Adrian managed to evolve Kimat but he did not expect that there would be some backlash on him. He suddenly felt drained to the point that he could not immediately move. It seems that housing divine beasts inside his soul is not for those that have weak souls. Fortunately for Adrian, the Old Man Pann immediately went to the rescue.

The old man had to toss Adrian inside the Pool of Life and Death that evolved from the Spring of Life. It evolved to the Pool of Life and Death because of the influence of the Tree of Life and Death. Normally, people that dip directly inside a pool made of divine life and death energy would have exploded but not for Adrian.

The Champion of Life and Death has certain perks such as access to any divine places that have the blessing of the Twin Gods. Also, it helped that the God Abaddon once descended onto Adrian's body which strengthened his soul to the extreme. This made it possible for Adrian to dip inside the very essence of life and death to recover his weakened body and soul.

"What happened!?" Adrian asked as he suddenly sprung up from the Pool of Life and Death.

"It is good that you are alive, boy. Any late than now then you would have been in a comatose state for a month. You pushed your soul too much when you evolved that cat there. Next time, make sure that you rest your soul first before attempting to create a divine beast contracted to you.

The souls of demons might be strong but remember that part of our souls is still tied to this realm. There is a reason why demons suddenly enter long slumbers if they do not get enough rest." Old Man Pann stated as he started to berate Adrian about his mistakes.

"I thought everyone were just lazy when they get overworked, but it seems that is a weakness for us." Adrian stated.

"Unlike the rest of us that cannot revive upon true death, we cannot just reset the state of our souls like you when you die." Old Man Pann stated as he pinched Adrian's sides.

"Ouch! Okay then. Next time it is better to end up dying than incredibly weak." Adrian stated as he did feel extreme pain from the pinch but only one hit point was decreased from his HP.

"Enough of that! Show me this beauty! What is this monster race called? Even I do not know what to make of it." Old Man Pann stated as he suddenly started to inspect the new Kimat.

"Kimat turned to a Tempest Lodestone Kaiser Tigris." Adrian replied.

"As expected of a monster with the Kaiser name. It has the qualities of a monster emperor. I can even feel that it has both the metal and lightning element, but it leans more into the lightning element." Old Man Pann stated as Adrian has managed to finally look at the notifications and skills that Kimat now possesses.

Adrian might have been shocked when he saw Dodu's skills when it evolved but he is almost speechless when he viewed Kimat's skills. Kimat's spells basically made him a spell casting tank that does not fear any other element except for fire which is great. He did expect that the divine body will give Kimat great power, but he is more curious about the domain skill.

Adrian is curious about the domain skills that his soulbounds get when they are truly bonded with his inner tree like soul. He is curious on how the domain skills sprout out as Kanlaon and Saena do not have domains like the others but that does not mean that the two are weak. Adrian actually wanted to know how they get these domains, but he would have to dive deeper into his soul for that.

"I forgot to tell you since you were hanging on by a thread. The Goddess of Light Luminaria has managed to break the seal earlier than anticipated. You are already late by a few days as the collective army has come forth to deal with her, but I fear that they might fail without demons there. The other Daemos have gone to fix the rifts that the light gods created." The Old Man Pann stated as Adrian learned of everything and left as soon as the Tree of Life and Death sent him coordinates.
