

O Summoner 2001

Chapter 2001 Fight Against Surtr II

Adrian was getting heated up as his entire body is now geared up for battle mode. He was so heated up that he was no longer holding back with the use of his energies. Adrian made a conscious decision to not use nether energy because that is harmful to gods, and he did not want to be in the bad side of the god that rules an entire dimension. The fight's intensity increased to the point that his battle junkie side has now activated.

Swords started to clash with one another as the Fire Giant Surtr coated his blade with fire while Adrian coated his blades with nether energy. The two beings could be seen fighting each other with their all even if the Fire Giant Surtr has his strength still sealed. The Fire Giant Surtr could see that it was him that is starting to lose.

The nether energy that coated the blades that Adrian is using could easily diffuse the flames that the Fire Giant Surtr's sword creates. The flames that the Fire Giant Surtr creates would get dissolved as soon as the nether flames gets in contact. The clashes between the two are also increasing in intervals but the Fire Giant Surtr could see that it was him that is getting pushed back more.

At first, it was Adrian that was getting pushed back but it turned to the Fire Giant Surtr after a few clashes. The Fire Giant Surtr could see that his opponent is now getting fully used to the battleground. Adrian was a bit clumsy at first because he was not accustomed in fighting in an area that was uneven. Once Adrian has gotten the hang of all the surrounding area, he was now able to literally dance in the battlefield.

Adrian would even use his wings when he knows that an uneven spot is where he would land. He also timed his temporal spells to a great degree that it felt like it is second nature to him. The Fire Giant Surtr knew that his opponent is actually like him and a certain son of his annoying rival. The Champion of the Twin Gods was someone that grows more powerful as he battles.

"You have thoroughly entertained me to a great degree! I shall give it my all!" The Fire Giant Surtr stated as his entire body proved why he was called Fire Giant.

The Fire Giant Surtr suddenly burst into flames as his entire body started to grow to a size of five meters. This was not his entire size as he was still limited in power due to matching Adrian's level, but it was still powerful enough to make the onlookers panic. Some of the beings that watched actually evacuated as soon as they saw the Fire Giant Surtr grow in size.

"Two can play at that game! Galactic Titan!" Adrian shouted as his sword fused back to a great sword.

As soon as Adrian activated the skill, a power inside of him exploded and made his stature increase as well. Adrian grew to a large figure as well and he was now at eye level against the Fire Giant Surtr. The Fire Giant Surtr heftily laughed as soon as Adrian matched his size because he thought that this fight would become boring once he grew in size.

"Some say that size is not something that would determine victory, but they have never seen the view from up here! Ants can easily be squashed by giants after all!" The Fire Giant Surtr stated as his sword erupted in hotter flames which actually doubled in size.

If the Fire Giant Surtr's sword was already big, the flaming sword made him look like a dwarf carrying a large great sword. The arena that the Fire Giant Surtr created started to break down as well since the weight of him and Adrian made it sink a little. Piggy Bank had to be evacuated in the air by Kanlaon in order to keep watching the fight.

"Hit me with your best shot and I shall conclude this match!" The Fire Giant Surtr stated as he suddenly used his own flaming breath to empower the flames on his sword.

The orange flames that erupted from the Fire Giant Surtr's sword suddenly turned gold with a lining of white. Adrian felt the heat even though he was protected from it, and he knew that getting hit by that flaming sword will definitely kill him. Due to the Fire Giant Surtr being serious, Adrian did not hold back as well and used all of the nether energy at his disposal.

Adrian's body is suddenly covered with nether mist as he looked like a ghostly giant. Adrian cannot use his domain because it would just be outright cancelled. He cannot use his domain because the entire area is already transformed into the divine realm of the Fire Giant Surtr. Any foreign energy or domain that activates would just get swallowed by the dense divine energy in the area.

"I should also use all of the Primordial Energy that I have gathered." Adrian thought as another layer of energy covered his gigantic body.

"Oho! Make sure that you survive! Infernal Ragnarok!" The Fire Giant Surtr shouted as he shot towards Adrian.

"Elemental Dragon Slash!" Adrian shouted as he used all of the energies of the summoned elemental dragons and infused it to his sword.

The Fire Giant Surtr could be seen looking like a gigantic magma monster with a flaming sword clashing with a knight that has the power of elemental dragons. As soon as the onlookers felt the wave of powerful energy that the Fire Giant Surtr and Adrian released, they all scattered for their lives as they knew that this level of attack will level the entire area. Even Kanlaon had to fly higher up to the dark clouds as he feared they will die when both powerful beings clash.

In just a split second, both the Fire Giant Surtr and Adrian appeared next to each other and clashed their sword with one another. The Fire Giant Surtr did not dodge and neither did Adrian as this was a clash of pure strength. As soon as the blade of the Fire Giant Surtr hit Adrian's sword, a powerful explosion occurred that released the energies sealed on their blades.

The beings that were unable to escape on time were extinguished but they were made of flame or lava, and they will regenerate. They were after all birthed from the excess energy that the Fire Giant Surtr emanated. Piggy Bank was not like the flaming beings though as the powerful explosion almost reached them which prompted Kanlaon to fly higher.

If not for Kanlaon then Piggy Bank would have already died just from the shockwave that the two powerful beings released. Piggy Bank could not believe that Adrian was this powerful that he can go toe to toe with a god. He has seen a lot of videos where Adrian fought against godly beings, and it was not this equal. He peeked downwards as he extended his head to look down since he coiled himself when Kanlaon had to fly higher.

"Did Equinox lose?" Piggy Bank stated but he did not aim this question to anyone as it was more of a rhetorical question.

"If master died then you will have died as well." Kanlaon replied.

"How?" Piggy Bank asked as his attention suddenly focused on Kanlaon.

"I would have been unsummoned and you will have plummeted to your death. Your butler might have been able to teleport you just in case but that does not mean the kinetic energy you gathered from falling will stop." Kanlaon stated.

Just as Kanlaon said, Piggy Bank might be teleported by Alfred but the force that he gathered while falling will not dissipate when they teleport. He would still have the same force he had before he teleported. This is one of the reasons why teleportation magic is dangerous unless they have complete mastery over it. Only demons can easily dissipate force when they transfer which is why they are able to control time, space, and force.

"I am glad that Equinox is fine." Piggy Bank stated as they started to descend as Kanlaon got a command from Adrian.

Adrian could be seen on the ground with tattered armor which made him almost cry. He had to feed a Legendary tier armor to his own armor in order to fix all of the broken parts. His entire face is also covered in soot, but he was still alive although he would die from just a normal punch.

"My entire body hurts." Adrian commented as the Fire Giant Surtr approached him with great enthusiasm and laughter.

"As expected of the Champion of the Twin Gods! You are a mighty warrior indeed as you were able to survive a clash with me even if I used my most powerful attack." The Fire Giant Surtr stated.

"You flatter me, Fire Giant Surtr. If you did not seal yourself to be at my power level, then I would have been easily defeated." Adrian stated.

Chapter 2002 To Vanaheim

"Humble in defeat but a beast in battle. Just like the Twin Gods that represent life and death, the Champion that they have chosen also has different sides when it comes to war and peace." The Fire Giant Surtr stated.

"Thank you for the praise." Adrian stated as he saw Kanlaon descending with Piggy Bank.

"Are you good?" Piggy Bank asked.

"I am fine." Adrian stated with a thumbs up but one could see that his armor is tattered and yet to fully recover.

"I see. You want to help that little one there. I now know why you wish to travel to Vanaheim." The Fire Giant Surtr stated as he was able to see Coin hanging around Piggy Bank's shoulder since the latter has summoned it.

"Vanaheim?! Is that the realm connected to Muspelheim?" Adrian asked as he is shocked to learn of that name as that is a realm he already heard.

Adrian learned of Vanaheim as it was actually the original divine realm of the Vanir gods that are the gods of life that used to be allied to Asgard. Adrian knew what happened to Vanaheim from the Goddess Freyja as she said that it was seized by a dark god back then. The Vanir Gods allied with the Aesir Gods to combat the dark god that tried to usurp their divine realm.

The Twin Gods were also called upon to help them as the gods of life are under the Goddess of Life Gaea. They managed to defeat the powerful dark god with the help of the Twin Gods, but the cost was Vanaheim becoming desolate. The entirety of Vanaheim became unable to absorb the life energy that the Vanir Gods generate.

In the end, the Vanir Gods had to leave their home realm and move to Asgard with the Aesir Gods. This move created the Pantheon called the Norse Gods which is the combined group of the Aesir Gods and Vanir Gods. Adrian did not expect that he will travel to a ruined world in order to fetch a divine relic.

"I applaud you for your dedication to your friend, but I will also warn you as well. Vanaheim is no longer hospitable to life itself. It has become a world where it actually absorbs life instead of giving which is why you need to be very careful once you go there. Although, the energy that you possess right now is more than death and can hurt a god such as myself.

I think that you will be fine on your way there but still take caution. I will allow you free pass to travel from any corner of my realm. I will also give you this as a sign of gratitude for accepting my selfish demand." The Fire Giant Surtr stated as he gave Adrian a gem that looks like a flaming heart.

[You have been given the Flaming Underground Crystal.]

Item Name: Flaming Underground Crystal

Item Tier: Mythical

Item Type: Ore

Uses:

Any weapon crafted with this crystal will give it 200% increase damage when using flame elemental spells. Any armor crafted using this crystal will give it 60% fire damage resistance and will prevent the user to get any severe burns. There are other unknown uses that has yet to be determined.

Description: An ore that is said to be present at the very depths of a world that is filled with lava and flames. It is said that it takes at least a thousand years for it to form under great pressure. It is also said that if it remains in constant pressure for at least 10, 000 years, then it will evolve into a Transcendent Tier ore that can grant the user the ability to turn and be immune to any type of flames.

"Detected an ore that is very compatible with the Dragon Orb of Soulbound Kanlaon. I advise that master give this ore to Kanlaon for better use." Paradox suddenly interjected as it detected a are ore that can increase one of Adrian's soulbound.

"Do I have to?" Adrian asked Paradox.

"There are other uses, but the best use would be to enhance the current Dragon Orb of Soulbound Kanlaon." Paradox replied as if it has already calculated all of the instances to use the Flaming Underground Crystal and deemed that it was best to use it for Kanlaon.

"If that is what you say then I guess it is for the best. Kanlaon, fuse this with your Fire Dragon Orb." Adrian commanded as Kanlaon took the Flaming Underground Crystal and did just that.

Kanlaon easily fused the Flaming Underground Crystal with his Fire Dragon Orb as if it was hungry for it. As soon as the Flaming Underground Crystal got absorbed, the Fire Dragon Orb that was red suddenly turned to a mix of red and blue flames. Adrian also looked at the Earth Dragon Orb and saw that it turned into a deeper brown color.

[Successfully upgraded the Fire Dragon Orb of Soulbound Kanlaon to Intense Flame Dragon Orb.]

[You have been given increased 5% Fire Elemental Resistance as a bonus for achieving such a feat.]

[You have slightly upgraded the Earth Dragon Orb of your Soulbound Kanlaon.]

[You have been given increased 1% Earth Elemental Resistance as a bonus.]

Adrian felt that the heat suddenly felt chilly despite Piggy Bank sweating buckets. He was now completely immune to the heat that Muspelheim emits due to his increase in Fire Elemental Resistance. He did not expect such a bonus and actually almost kissed Paradox for its great foresight.

"I will now no longer doubt the Great Paradox!" Adrian stated as he jokingly bowed to Paradox.

"Ahaha! I am glad that the gift that I have given you. I have also lifted the restriction on you which is why you can now travel to Vanaheim." The Fire Giant Surtr stated.

"Why does it seem that the great ruler of Muspelheim is incredibly generous to us?" Adrian asked as he knew that gods are not this generous, and he knows very generous gods.

"I am generous because you have the energy that is related to the End of the Aesir Gods. You are also cursed by one of them which is the why I am incredibly happy! Just know that you are also tied to me by some sort of fate which is why I am generous to you. That is all that I will say as I have said to much. I do not want the pesky three sisters to suddenly visit me." The Fire Giant Surtr stated as he vanished in a burst of flames.

"Wow! He vanished just like that." Piggy Bank stated.

"He might have vanished, but he is still watching us since he is connected to this very realm. Unless you destroy Muspelheim, the Fire Giant Surtr will continue to live." Adrian stated as he could see that most of his armor has already fixed itself.

"I am sorry, great Ruler of Muspelheim. Please do not smite me!" Piggy Bank stated as he bowed.

"Do not worry as words rarely offend gods. It takes a special breed of petty for gods to be hurt by the words of mortals. I am more disturbed by the fact that the Fire Giant Surtr said something ominous." Adrian stated as the last words of the Fire Giant Surtr made him a bit perturbed. "The thing about both of you being connected? Did you do something that makes you connected to a giant flaming god?" Piggy Bank asked.

"I do not know as he did not specify it as even gods are tied to some sort of fate. I am just concerned that I am somehow tied to them as well without knowing." Adrian stated.

"Any idea why you are tied to them? You must have at least some ideas." Piggy Bank stated.

"It might be related to me being the Divine Enemy of the Aesir Gods. I might have unknowingly become tied to them. I throw all the blame to the God of Mischief Loki for doing such things in the main world." Adrian grumbled as he senses great headache in the future.

"At least that will be in the future! The game might not even unlock that part of the game in our lifetime." Piggy Bank stated.

"Please do not say that and take that back. If you say it like that then you might hasten the destruction." Adrian stated as he shuddered when he heard those words.

"I take all what I said back then." Piggy Bank stated as Adrian started to open the portal to Vanaheim. n/ô/vel/b//jn dot c//om

"Hmm?!" Adrian grumbled.

"Why?" Piggy Bank asked as Adrian's expression told him that something is amiss.

"The path is no longer blocked by the divine energy of the Fire Giant Surtr but opening a connection is not easy. Something is trying to block me but that is not a great hindrance to a demon." Adrian stated as he poured more energy into breaking the connection of the two realms.

Chapter 2003 Vanaheim

Adrian's wings even unfurled as he released more energy to break the dimensions. Piggy Bank could see that the dimensions were getting distorted in front of him. The two dimensions could be seen trying to reject one another while Adrian is the one that is trying to make a connection between the both of them.

"Master, a secure connection is not feasible." Paradox reported as Adrian also nodded.

"Agreed. If the firm connection and stable connection is not possible then another approach is needed. Paradox! Become my claws that tear the dimensions!" Adrian stated as he held up his right hand.

Paradox suddenly broke down into smaller pieces and attached itself to Adrian's right hand. At first, Adrian's hand is covered by a glove, but it soon formed into a demonic claw that has sharp nails. Adrian smiled as he saw the formation of the claw and made a slashing motion in front of the air.

As soon as Adrian slashed the air, he was able to destroy the barrier that held the dimensions together. He was able to create a rift in the dimension which he is often told to not do. Adrian did not care for that as this was the only plausible way for him to create a way to Vanaheim.

"Let's go!" Adrian stated as he grabbed Piggy Bank to drag him away since the rift will close in just a few seconds.

"Wait! I am not yet ready!" Piggy Bank stated but Adrian did not hear him correctly as he just filled the latter part of his vocabulary with screams.

Adrian made sure to protect Piggy Bank from the harsh effects of wormholes since this is basically what they are traversing. If Adrian did not protect Piggy Bank, then his body would get turned to shreds as the harsh environment of the wormhole will basically kill the latter. The most uncomfortable feeling that Piggy Bank felt is his stomach turning which made him get some type of motion sickness.

Adrian once again slashed at the space in front of him as he created another rift that now led to Vanaheim. As soon as the second rift appeared, the rift that he created in Muspelheim already vanished. Adrian accelerated towards the new rift and finally arrived in Vanaheim with Piggy Bank.

[You have arrived in Vanaheim.] n/ô/vel/b//jn dot c//om

Adrian looked around and even touched the ground to see the state of Vanaheim. Just as he was already told, Vanaheim can be considered a dead planet as the energy of life is basically not present in the planet. Adrian actually wondered why the planet itself has yet to be destroyed but he can feel that the deterioration has already started.

"Woah! We are in another planet or is it dimension?" Piggy Bank stated.

"Uhm... We already passed other planets before coming here. Muspelheim might be called another dimension, but it is actually a planet as well." Adrian stated.

"Oh right! So, what are we going to do next?" Piggy Bank asked.

"I was actually hoping that it would be you to lead me next as I already did my part of bringing you here. I cannot even feel the divine energy that the relic is emitting. My abilities stem more into the realm of life and death. Without those energies present, I cannot stretch my perception." Adrian stated as he cannot feel any other energy in this world.

"I do not even know what to do as well." Piggy Bank stated but Coin suddenly jumped up to fly to a direction.

"I guess we already have our lead. We will ride Kanlaon as we follow Coin." Adrian stated as he summoned Kanlaon once more and rode him with Piggy Bank.

Coin flew fast enough that they are easily covering some distance, but it was not fast enough that they cannot catch up. While flying, Adrian could see that parts of this dimension is actually starting to break down and float up into space. The planet will be destroyed in a century or so if this planet cannot be revived.

"What was the god that invaded again? Was it the god of corruption or something? It must have been a powerful god that arrived as the planet is dead. Even the core of the planet has already gone cold. There is no longer a cycle of life and death in this world as life will never start." Adrian stated as he observed his surroundings more.

"Coin bumped into something!" Piggy Bank shouted as Coin could be seen slamming into something.

Adrian looked closely at the thing that Coin slammed into. Kanlaon slammed the area with his tail, and it produced a reaction. There was an invisible thing in front of them and even Adrian's eyes cannot see through it because there was no sign of life. Adrian immediately commanded Kanlaon to release a freezing gale in front of them.

"Blizzard!" Kanlaon stated as his Frost Dragon Orb released a large area freezing wind and snow.

The entire area in front of them were swept with the Blizzard and frost could be seen developing on the area in front of him. The thing that was covered in frost is none other than a large heptagonal prism. It looked like it was an invisible altar or something, but Adrian could not see any more of entrance.

"No door. Do you feel anything?" Adrian stated as he cannot feel anything from the mysterious building.

"Coin told me that we must destroy that thing." Piggy Bank stated.

"Destroy that thing? That would be easy then. I have the soulbound that is perfect for the job. Greater Summon: Dodu!" Adrian stated as he summoned Dodu.

Dodu appeared gleefully as it jiggled its body to say that it is incredibly happy. Adrian smiled upon seeing that Dodu is in a good mood. He then commanded Dodu to split into multiple slimes to destroy the mysterious building upon the statement of Coin. Adrian did not doubt Coin since he already knows that it was a god in a sealed form.

Dodu did his best and split into thousands of smaller slimes to start the demolition process. Even though the building is covered in frost, Dodu could easily melt the ice that Kanlaon used to cover it. In just a few minutes, the mini Dodus could be seen to destroy a millimeter of the building structure. Adrian could be seen on the side cheering for Dodu since even Charon cannot phase through the building.

"Are you fine? You are using mana to make me float." Piggy Bank interjected as he could see that Adrian is still using mana on him.

"If I stop supporting you then you will die from suffocation. There is no oxygen present in this world and let us not forget that you are still human." Adrian stated as no living being could easily survive in this world.

Just as the Fire Giant Surtr stated, being inside of Vanaheim is a death sentence as no plant is present in this world. There is no breathable air present to sustain life thus any living being that reaches here will die. Unless they are blessed by a god of time or a god of space then they will certainly die in a matter of minutes. Piggy Bank's shocked face was so theatrical that Adrian actually laughed from his reaction.

"Do not worry as it is not much mana to sustain you. I can have Kanlaon switch with me as he can create a field of air where you can breathe if I need my mana for something else." Adrian stated.

"Let us pray that you will not need your mana for something else then." Piggy Bank stated but Adrian's senses suddenly became sharp.

"Charon!" Adrian shouted.

Charon suddenly appeared in front of Piggy Bank as an attack suddenly arrived at Piggy Bank's location. Chains were also deployed in front of Charon to add a layer of defense, but all those chains were actually destroyed. Adrian was not able to sense the bloodlust easily and it actually frightened him because Piggy Bank would have died if he was slower.

"Where did the attack originate?! Did you see where it came from?" Adrian asked.

"I did not." Piggy Bank stated but he was not the one who Adrian directed the question to.

"Small and delicate ripples in space could be felt from the area. It is so small that even master will not detect it unless he focuses." Paradox suddenly reported.

"Can you give the point of origin?" Adrian asked.

"Negative. The ripples are changing as if the attacker is slithering in space itself." Paradox reported.

"Any signs of life?" Adrian asked just to make sure that it might be the First Golden Goblin Lord.

"Negative as well. No sign of life is present." Paradox reported once again which did not make Adrian confident.

"Suggestions on how to proceed?" Adrian asked but he actually already thought of a way.

"Suggestion to destroy the dimension around us." Paradox stated which made Adrian smile as he was thinking the same thing.

Chapter 2004 Memory Eater I

"Suggestion received." Adrian stated as he gathered spatial energy inside of Paradox and smashed the dimension that was specified.

Adrian's charged attack of spatial energy literally ripped the dimension a little to reveal the entity that was snaking in it. Adrian was able to see the entity that attacked earlier, and it was not something that can be described easily. The good thing is that Adrian is able to see what kind of entity was attacking them from the between dimensions.

Monster Name: Memory Eater (First Golden Goblin Lord)

Monster Type: Parasitic

Monster Tier: Semi-Mythical

Level: 400

HP: 100%

MP: 88%

Description: A monster that is born as a parasite but it neither has a soul or any signs of life. It is a residue of the fallen god from another universe trying to revive itself, but no sign of divine soul is present. It is currently using the body of the First Golden Goblin Lord, a demigod, as sustenance. It is in search of divine energy in order to create a new host body.

Monster Thought: Need... divine... energy... (Stop... me...)

Adrian could see that the Memory Eater is not a monster born in this realm or universe because its soul is not created. The Memory Eater is a parasitic monster, but it was actually bigger than its host. A memory eater is basically a large brain that has nerves as tentacles while the First Golden Goblin Lord is located at the center with only its upper body being seen.

"From the way it is structured, the Memory Eater is a parasitic being which preys on larger beings, but this world only had the First Golden Goblin Lord when it was created. It had no choice but get the First Golden Goblin Lord as a host since it has no choice. Parasitic beings that cannot get a host body would die in a few days' time." Adrian stated. Nôv(el)B\\jnn

Adrian could see that the Memory Eater was not the only parasitic monster that was created but it was the only one that survived. This dead world might have created more but they all died when no host could be present. It seems that the First Golden Goblin Lord was the one that sealed the relic in that mysterious building.

"Kwaahhh!" The Memory Eater emitted a screech like battle cry as its position was revealed.

"Charon, pull the enemy to us since we need to defeat it in order to at least give the body of the First Golden Goblin King rest." Adrian stated as he knew that the soul of the First Golden Goblin King would have given a petition to the gods of the underworld.

"Yes, master." Charon replied as he released at least a hundred chains and all of it plunged on the Memory Eater.

The Memory Eater tried to escape from the chains, but Adrian already made sure to have Charon use nether energy. If nether energy is deadly to gods, then using it against beings created from one would be effective as well. The Memory Eater screeched once again as an unknown and incredibly painful energy coursed through its body.

The Memory Eater has a special body which is actually just full of nerves which is why it is sneaky when it comes to attacks. It was basically a godsend for it to have gotten the First Golden Goblin Lord as a host. It can utilize the special ability of its host to a perfect degree which means that it can also evolve it to a better one.

The Memory Eater has already fused perfectly with the host body to the point that it can go in between dimensions in order to attack. The fact that it can go in between dimensions but cannot get inside the building that the First Golden Goblin Lord is a testament on how well the relic is sealed. The Memory Eater must have been trying to destroy the building for quite a long time, but it could not.

"If it cannot destroy the building then that means its attacks are not physical in nature. If there is any weakness, then that thing cannot deal physical attacks. Limit Break: Summoner!" Adrian thought as he summoned all of his soulbounds that are remaining.

As soon as Adrian summoned all of his soulbounds, the buffs that each summon give made the team stronger. He immediately called Sirius to attack with all his might while Kimat made lightning rain. Saena and Kanlaon were at the back since they needed to defend Piggy Bank the battle. Wisteria cannot use any plant life in the area because there is no life in the planet which is why she used her leaves as sharp projectiles.

The Memory Eater has never felt pain this extreme when it was created. The first thing that it has done before was parasitizing the First Golden Goblin Lord. It has the memory of its host, but it has yet to feel anything in the physical sense. The Memory Eater suddenly released a powerful psionic attack that created ripples in space.

Adrian with the help of Paradox created a wave of spatial energy to try and stabilize the spatial psionic waves but he was not as powerful as the Memory Eater. As soon as the Memory Eater released more powerful psionic spatial waves, the between dimensional space shattered entirely and the mysterious building was finally in full view.

"Stop it! If it continues using that attack, then it might rip apart the dimension entirely and create a wormhole that leads to nowhere!" Adrian shouted as he was also in a state of panic since he can sense the dimensional layers becoming thin.

"Nether Domain!"

"Netheros True Form!"

Adrian immediately released his domain, and the entire area is filled with nether energy. He also transformed into his true nether form while his soulbounds also adapted the forms once they touched the nether energy. Except for Kanlaon and Dodu, all of his soulbounds used all of their attacks towards the Memory Eater.

Adrian's attack and his soulbounds were not easily able to get close because the psionic spatial attacks also became a predicament. Getting near the Memory Eater would also make anyone be in the range of the psionic spatial waves which actually deals true damage. The damage was not that large but continuous true damage would eventually kill any being.

"I should be the one to get close since I am mostly immune to those attacks." Adrian stated as he summoned his axe armament.

Adrian is immune to any spatial damage that the Memory Eater is creating because it was not that high tier. If the Memory Eater can use level one spatial energy than Adrian is able to easily use level ten spatial energy. He can still be damaged by the psionic attacks, but he will not be dealt true damage that the spatial energy creates when mixed with them.

Adrian cannot use his bow armament as any mana created attacks would get destroyed before it reaches. The only way for the Memory Eater to stop is for Adrian to physically damage it to the point that it is unable to release it. Paradox told Adrian that the body structure of the Memory Eater seems to be entire of nerves except for its host body. This means that it can feel everything that landed on it earlier which is why it is going on overdrive.

"This is no different from the gods reacting to the first time they get hit by nether energy." Adrian thought as he charged bravely towards the Memory Eater.

[You have been hit by psionic spatial wave.]

[You are immune to the spatial energy mixed into the attack. True damage will not be dealt to you as a result.]

[You have received 100 magical damage.]

"I can do this! Power Orbit!" Adrian stated as he used the second skill.

Adrian suddenly spun like a top and directly hit the body of the Memory Eater. Adrian's clash with the real body of the Memory Eater is not pleasant as he felt that he was hitting marshmallow and not the delicious kind. He could hear the squishing and sloshing that he almost wanted to puke but the Memory Eater was in full overdrive when it came to pain.

"No... More!" The Memory Eater shouted using the mouth of the First Golden Goblin Lord as it connected to the host body.

"Psionic Boom!" The Memory Eater suddenly shouted as a powerful burst of energy waves made Adrian get knocked away.

It was a good thing that Adrian did not clash into anything as Charon caught him using chains. As soon as the attack of the Memory Eater has finished, all of Adrian's soulbounds attacked as it was now their turn. The psionic spatial waves were no longer preventing them from getting closer due to the sacrifice of their master. The soulbounds were out for blood and they were filled with bloodlust as they saw Adrian spit out blood.

Chapter 2005 Memory Eater II

Sirius has gone into overdrive as he used all of the shadows that he can muster and turned them into sharp spikes containing nether energy. The Memory Eater could be seen oozing some sort of gray matter as it does not bleed. Kanlaon also joined in on the attack as he used numerous elemental spells from afar that is enchanted by nether energy. The Memory Eater could not evade as it was still screeching from the pain inflicted by Sirius.

Saena also did not hold back as she released all of the light that she has already gathered and saved on her body. She released a fearsome beam of light that is enchanted by nether energy which is why it looked like a black, gray, and white light ray. Her attack was so effective that it pierced the Memory Eater's left lobe and made some parts of it explode.

Charon did not become merciful as well because he made all of his chains materialize using nether energy. All of Charon's chains became nether chains that pierced the body of the Memory Eater. With just one touch, the nether chains would dissolve an immediate part of the enemy which was incredibly brutal. Even Piggy Bank had to close his eyes or else he might have fainted from the gruesome sight.

Kimat also joined in on the brutal attack as he turned himself into lightning which Adrian did not know was actually possible. Kimat fused with the clouds, and it made the clouds take a feline shape which resembled him. The clouds literally roared as lightning empowered by nether energy rain from the sky to hit the Memory Eater. The memory eater could no longer move due to the previous attacks which made it an incredibly easy target.

The smell of burnt flesh wafted in the air as the Memory Eater looked burnt. The series of attacks did not stop as Wisteria also joined in on the offensive. She might have no way in controlling the plant life in the area because there was none, but she can make almost an infinite number of leaves. Each of Wisteria's leaves would be enchanted with nether energy and she would use them as sharp projectiles that embedded on the body of the Memory Eater.

With each leaf embedded on the body of the Memory Eater, the flesh would instantly deteriorate until that part becomes dust. The power of each leaf might be small but a hundred thousand of them would destroy even the sturdiest of divine beings. All of this rage and bloodlust because they saw their master spat out blood from attacking the Memory Eater.

"Are you fine?" Piggy Bank asked as he handed Adrian a potion although he does not know where his mouth is since he was gigantic and looked like a ghostly shadow demon.

"I am fine. The blood that I spat was merely an effect of having waves pass through my body. That is basically spoiled blood that my body needed to expel since it is harmful." Adrian stated but his soulbounds thought otherwise as they focused all their rage on the Memory Eater.

It did not take long for the Memory Eater to be reduced into a pile of miserable fleshy parts. Even the host body which is the First Golden Goblin Lord could not be distinguished. If the part is not deteriorated, then they would be blown to bits to the point that no one can describe them. The Memory Eater that was supposed to be an ultimate blocker for Piggy Bank has been reduced to almost nothing.

"Did we defeat it? Sorry! Wrong choice of words. Did you beat it?" Piggy Bank asked.

"I think so but there is no notification that tells us that it has already been defeated. Even I am perplexed as this thing does not have a sign of life which is why I cannot determine if it is dying." Adrian stated.

Just as Adrian is about to check closely, the Memory Eater suddenly raised its weakest tentacle vein up as if it was praying for salvation. Adrian shuddered as he felt the air become colder as if the presence of something unwanted has entered the scene. He then remembered what happened when he entered the Trial of the Fates.

When Adrian is suddenly summoned to the Trial of the Fates, he was ready to fight. Instead of fighting, he was actually greeted by the Fates themselves. They only looked at him and started whispering among themselves as if even they do not know what is happening.

"Equinox, it seems that fate has chosen something either really easy or really difficult in your journey." The First of the Fates stated.

"We cannot usher a trial as the thread of your fate cannot be determined now." The Second of the Fates stated. n/ô/vel/b//jn dot c//om

"A higher power of fate has intercepted us which makes us unable to intervene." The Third of the Fates stated.

"What do you mean by that?" Adrian asked.

"It seems that Fate has something in store for you. You have to prepare yourself for the worst." The First of the Fates stated.

"You can also prepare yourself for the best! I doubt that but it is good to hope." The Second of the Fates stated.

"All we can say is that this will be in the near future, and it might determine what your next course of action will be." The Third of the Fates stated.

"So, what is going to happen to the trial?" Adrian asked.

"The trial has already begun." The First of the Fates stated.

"The duration has just become indefinite." The Second of the Fates stated.

"This is all we can say to you as even our mouths must bow to higher fate." The Third of the Fates stated.

"Return and be careful as fate might strike you whenever you are not ready. All we can do is warn you of the trial that is to come." The Fates stated as they returned Adrian back to the mortal realm without even being clear what his trial is.

"Do not tell me that my luck is that bad!" Adrian suddenly muttered as the weak tentacle of the Memory Eater suddenly released a beam of light as if it was a last-ditch effort.

The beam of light that is actually a psionic spatial wave hit the dimensional barrier and created a small rift. Adrian did not know where that rift leads to, but he knew that something was not right in that other dimension. As soon as the small rift appeared, all of his body suddenly felt heavy as if a powerful being was exerting its pressure on him which is why he looked up.

As soon as Adrian looked upwards, he saw a familiar eye that is devoid of feelings, but it was certainly giving him extreme bloodlust. The eye looked at Adrian as if it wanted to kill him but all it can do was stare as it cannot pierce the small rift that was created to make it bigger. All the eye could do was look at the dying Memory Eater.

The eye noticed that the Memory Eater was the one that called upon it, but it cannot easily help it. The Memory Eater was already severely damaged by nether energy, but the eye suddenly had a flash of inspiration. The eye suddenly blinked as a black colored tear came out of it and fell on the Memory Eater.

As soon as the black tear fell on the Memory Eater, it suddenly exploded with a powerful energy that made all of its blasted body parts return back. It looked smaller since a lot of its body deteriorated but it was enough to regenerate to a great degree. The Memory Eater that looked like a giant brain suddenly started to fuse onto the deteriorated body of the First Golden Goblin King.

The Memory Eater fused with its host at the cellular level as it has now taken the humanoid body of the First Golden Goblin King as a template. The Memory Eater has now created a humanoid body for itself as it safely acquired it since Adrian and his allies were being held back by the eye using its pressure. Adrian felt like fate was making fun of him but thinking like that only made him abscond the thing called fate.

"Need to move!" Adrian stated as he tried to move.

Adrian cannot believe that he or any of his soulbounds cannot move since they were in their nether forms. In this current form, Adrian should have lots of stats as he might be equal to a lesser god if he is serious. He thought that even a greater god will be no problem as long as he can set up his domain and summon all of his soulbounds. Little did Adrian know is that the being from the other dimension is actually a god that is higher in realm compared to a High God.

Chapter 2006 Memory Eater EX I

The pressure from the being in the other dimension made Adrian or any of his allies unable to move. The eye did not stop exerting pressure as the Memory Eater finalized its new form. The humanoid appearance of a human sized goblin with the exoskeleton that looked like an armor. The new Memory Eater was reborn and this time it has fused with the body of its host with the power of an evil god.

[You are in the presence of the Memory Eater EX.]

Monster Name: Memory Eater EX

Monster Type: Extraterrestrial

Monster Tier: Mythical

Level: 400

HP: 50%

MP: 22%

Description: A monster that is born as a parasite but has now fully fused with its host using the unknown power of an evil god that it has summoned through sheer desperation. It now has the full abilities of the First Golden Goblin Lord while having an exoskeleton that is slightly increased defense. It is still weak to physical attacks, but its body is no longer in the realm of normal.

Monster Thought: Destroy the enemy!

"I hate my life." Adrian muttered as that is all he can do since he cannot move.

The Memory Eater EX has the body of a humanoid that is not in perfect shape. Its arms are almost twice as long as its body due to it almost reaching the ground. It also has tentacle-like nerves coming out from its heads that make it look like it has some sort of long hair. The exoskeleton that it is wearing looks like the previous parasitic membranes of the Memory Eater creating an armor.

The Memory Eater EX does not have eyes as half of its face is actually brain with the lower half just being a large mouth. The thing that terrifies Adrian the most is that it is now capable of coherent speech unlike before. This is no longer just some sort of fusion but the creation of a higher order being and all of it is due to the evil god beyond the destroyed dimension.

"Paradox, any ideas?" Adrian stated but he suddenly saw a large, clawed foot near his face before he got an answer.

Adrian was suddenly sent flying towards the building that Dodu was trying to still destroy. Fortunately for Adrian, he is still in his Netheros True Form which is why his elevated stats made him bulkier. In just one kick, Adrian lost 5% of his health which is already big for one attack. All of Adrian's soulbounds tried to escape the pressure but they were also unable to do so even if they are strengthened by nether energy.

"Great power!" The Memory Eater EX stated as its voice was incredibly screechy as if it was straining its own vocal cords in order to speak.

The Memory Eater EX smiled sinisterly as it suddenly looked at its hands. With one thought, the hands that looked humanlike suddenly turned into sharp membranous claws. The first thing that the Memory Eater EX tested its new claws on was none other than Sirius. Seeing the bloodlust that suddenly exploded from the body of the Memory Eater EX, Sirius tried to let its body sink into the shadows.

Sirius was able to slightly evade the claws of the Memory Eater EX, but its back could be seen injured before his body sunk to the shadows. The Memory Eater EX looked at the strange red color that laced its claws as this is something that is not that common for it. The Memory Eater EX only knew of blood because of the First Golden Goblin King but the blood that the latter had was not red but bluish.

The Memory Eater EX opened its large mouth as a tongue that looked like a tentacle suddenly extended to lick the red blood. The Memory Eater EX shuddered as if it has tasted something extremely exhilarating because it is the first time it has tasted anything. It did not have any need for taste as it only needed a host when it needed to live when it was still a parasitic monster.

"Delicious!" The Memory Eater EX stated as it looked at all of Adrian's soulbounds as prey.

The Memory Eater EX is now accustomed to the taste of blood as it has evolved into a being that needs the flesh of the living in order to live. Adrian tried his best to move even though his body is getting damaged as he needed to seal back all of his soulbounds, but he cannot. The being from the other dimension was looking at him more compared to the others which meant that the pressure on him was greater.

"More!" The Memory Eater EX shouted as it elongated its claws once more and the target was now Kanlaon.

Kanlaon cannot move as well but he was still coiled up and protecting Piggy Bank. Piggy Bank will not die unless Kanlaon dies but he might be next with the sadistic smile of the Memory Eater EX. The Memory Eater EX vanished from its location and appeared in front of Kanlaon as it wanted to plunge its claws towards him. As soon as the claws of the Memory Eater EX touched Kanlaon, the claws bend a little, but it was able to crack some of Kanlaon's scales which meant that they were durable and sharp.

The fact that the claws of the Memory Eater EX can damage Kanlaon to an extent but also get some backlash meant that it has yet to fully metallize its exoskeleton. As long as they can defeat the Memory Eater EX now then they will be able to kill it before it has fully become a hardened warrior. Adrian thought that there was still a chance even though their enemy is strong as it is still fragile.

"I just need to escape from the pressure of that evil god." Adrian thought as he glared at the evil god to look at the dimensional barrier and noticed that it was not resealing itself properly.

The evil god tried looking for Adrian and looked at the flying Memory Eater EX, but he was not there. The evil god thought that Adrian would follow up and attack the Memory Eater EX, but he was wrong. Adrian has already made sure to stop time as he summoned his spear armament. Rage boiled upon Adrian's mind as time flowed back to normal.

The evil god from beyond the dimension was making sure that the dimensional barrier does not restore itself. It was using some of its own power to keep the small rift from closing up. Adrian knew that the evil god will not be able to enlarge it unless it was waiting for the Memory Eater EX to enlarge the rift for it.

"Arggh!" Kanlaon suddenly shouted as his scales were destroyed and blood trickled down.
n/ô/vel/b//jn dot c//om

"Impossible! How did was the Memory Eater EX able to destroy Kanlaon's scales so fast!?" Adrian thought as he can feel Kanlaon's pain through the soul link.

Adrian managed to look closely to see that the Memory Eater EX is now getting used to its body to a great degree. The Memory Eater EX coated its claws with spatial energy which made it have the penetration enchantment. The fact that it was able to do this at so little time meant that its own intelligence was increasing at an alarming rate. Adrian suddenly felt that he might actually fail a quest as large as this and he was even helping out a friend.

"I should at least save Piggy Bank with all I can muster even if I have to sacrifice a level to cast a forbidden spell." Adrian thought as he knew that Piggy Bank must not die or else the quest would fail.

Just as Adrian was thinking about how to save Piggy Bank, the sound of coins jiggling suddenly echoed in the surroundings. The Memory Eater EX that was enjoying the sight of Kanlaon's blood is suddenly allured by the golden glow that came from inside of the dragon's coil. A burst of golden light and the sound of a thousand of coins clinging is emitted as a golden knuckle met the face of the Memory Eater EX.

"Hundred Thousand Grand Money Knockout!" Piggy Bank shouted as his fist became pure gold and hit the face of the Memory Eater EX.

The Memory Eater EX got sent flying as a result of the powerful attack that Piggy Bank used. The shockwave of the punch also released some sort of golden aura that temporarily released all of his allies from the pressure that the evil god is exerting. As soon as Adrian was able to freely move, he sealed Kanlaon as he was bleeding profusely and vanished from his location.

The evil god tried looking for Adrian and looked at the flying Memory Eater EX, but he was not there. The evil god thought that Adrian would follow up and attack the Memory Eater EX, but he was wrong. Adrian has already made sure to stop time as he summoned his spear armament. Rage boiled upon Adrian's mind as time flowed back to normal.

The evil god finally saw Adrian, but he was now controlling a large spear with all the nether energy that he could muster. With a loud shout, Adrian shot his spear towards the eye that was peeking out as he needed to deal with the evil god first.

Chapter 2007 Memory Eater EX II

"Get out of this place and die, interfering bastard!" Adrian shouted as he launched the spear with all of the nether energy in the area.

[You have created a fighting technique called the Nether Spear Blast]

The Nether Spear Blast shot towards the eye that was peeking through the rift and is successfully hit. The evil god was able to see the spear move and is able to create a barrier to somewhat defend its eye, but that defensive barrier is not enough. The evil god used its powers to defend the rift which meant that it has altered part of the reality in the main world, and it knew that it should not have done that.

Interfering with the main world also meant that the rules of the main world will interfere with the evil god. The energy that the evil god was using to maintain the small rift suddenly became bigger in expenditure. The rift that was not closing started to slowly close and the hold that the evil god has of the main world started to die down. In the end, the barrier that it used to prevent Adrian's attack shattered as it became weak.

Adrian's spear destroyed the barrier and shot towards the eye of the evil god. As soon as the spear hit, a powerful nether energy blast exploded as the evil god from beyond the rift could be heard screaming in pain. The eye that was looking at Adrian closed and opened with more pressure, but the nether flames burned it. The evil god looked incredibly angered to the point that it tried to use some sort of tendrils to rip apart the dimension, but the restriction of the world forced it back.

[You have managed to damage an Absolute Being.]

[You have gained a permanent damage buff.]

[All of your damage will be permanently increased by 3%.]

The evil god was forced back, and the rift finally shut itself due to Adrian's interference. He knew that the rift lingering would make the evil god's influence bloom once more which is why closing it is his top priority. Adrian suddenly transformed back to his normal self as he unfurled his wings to look at the next enemy. One would think that Adrian's exchange with the evil god occurred in a span of ten minutes, but it actually occurred in only under a minute.

The exchange might have been longer if Adrian did not think up a plan immediately. The evil god could not see Adrian when time stopped because it is not in the main world. When time is stopped in the main world, the evil god would only see a frozen world as time is not the same in other dimensions. Adrian thought this would work and his gamble paid off as he managed to force an evil god to not interfere.

"Next is the Memory Eater EX!" Adrian muttered as he changed his form to his Aetheros form since a mythical tier enemy is not that easy to deal with.

Adrian disappeared from his area once he stabilizes himself and pulled up his twin daggers. He reappeared next to Piggy Bank and parried the sharp claws that was about to separate the latter's head from his neck. The Memory Eater EX managed to recover from the powerful punch that Piggy Bank used as parts of its head caved in. Piggy Bank is shocked upon seeing Adrian and the Memory Eater EX clash, but he soon recovered.

Piggy Bank knew that he must carry his weight as he felt bad for Kanlaon tanking all the damage that was meant for him. Coin felt the drive of its master and unlocked a special ability which is called Merchant Overspending. Coin could make any merchant related damaging skill to have no fixed damage multiplier. The damage would be bigger, but the downside is that the money being burned would also be bigger.

The attack that Piggy Bank used to make the Memory Eater EX' head cave in is done by burning 100,000 gold coins. The sheer amount of gold coins burned is at the level of half a million dollars which is why Piggy Bank's attack was powerful. This made the Memory Eater EX think of Piggy Bank as the most dangerous being currently as it decreased its health to 20% with one punch.

"Grand Money Punch!" Piggy Bank shouted as he wanted to counterattack the Memory Eater EX while Adrian was holding it back.

The Memory Eater EX shuddered as it used the ability of the First Golden Goblin King to escape. Piggy Bank's golden fist hit nothing but air, but it also meant that 80% of the gold coins he used is refunded. Adrian looked at the Memory Eater EX clearly and saw its current remaining health. Upon seeing the number, Adrian literally smiled as this battle can now be done with.

Monster Name: Memory Eater EX

Monster Type: Extraterrestrial

Monster Tier: Mythical

Level: 400

HP: 19%

MP: 10%

Description: A monster that is born as a parasite but has now fully fused with its host using the unknown power of an evil god that it has summoned through sheer desperation. It now has the full abilities of the First Golden Goblin Lord while having an exoskeleton that is slightly increased defense. It is still weak to physical attacks, but its body is no longer in the realm of normal.

Monster Thought: Kill the Golden Fist! Absorb the soul of the host! It hurts!!!

"Sirius, Charon, Kimat, make sure to aim for the kill! Saena, heal Piggy Bank and the others. Wisteria, create a field of leaves that obscure vision!" Adrian commanded as all of his active soulbounds started to get back fighting as they are healed more efficiently due to Adrian's current form.

Sirius emerged from the shadow realm even though it was still hurt and aimed for the neck of the Memory Eater EX. The Memory Eater EX managed to sense the bloodlust and escape before Sirius was able to bite its neck. The Memory Eater EX thought that it has already escaped but Charon was waiting at the area where it will reappear. This is possible because Adrian made Paradox focus on the changes in space.

Finding out where the Memory Eater EX will reappear was a cakewalk since the host was only blessed by a god of space. In this new era where demons are the only ones that can use spatial magic normally, finding the path of transfer is easy. One might even say that the Daemos are the new Gods of Time and Space due to their power over Origin Magic.

Charon was able to lock in onto the Memory Eater EX and wrap it with his chains. Some of the chains that Charon used pointed to the sky as lighting summoned by Kimat rained down. The chains acted as a lightning rod while Charon hid underground in order to negate the damage. The Memory Eater EX screamed as it got directly hit by lightning.

The Memory Eater EX managed to accustom itself to the pain which is why it managed to activate teleportation once again. Adrian with Paradox' help tracked the path once more and the Memory Eater EX was greeted by numerous sharp leaves as soon as it reappeared. Sirius then emerged from the shadows and aimed for the Memory Eater EX' neck once more.

The Memory Eater EX managed to react quick but not fast enough. Sirius was unable to hit the Memory Eater EX' neck but the arm was pulled off. Sirius did not even devour the arm as he tossed it towards Saena which she easily disintegrated with a burst of light. The Memory Eater EX was about to scream in anger when a dagger suddenly got plunged into its back. Nôv(el)B\\jnn

"First one." Adrian calmly stated.

[You have successfully aimed for one of the weak spots shown.]

[The Memory Eater EX has lost 10% of its maximum health.]

[All subsequent hits will now deal 5% of its current health.]

The Memory Eater EX screamed in pain much louder than before as its weak spot was destroyed. The Memory Eater EX tried to slash at Adrian with its remaining arm, but he has already vanished. The Memory Eater EX suddenly kneeled on the ground as gravity intensified to a great degree instantly. The Memory Eater EX was unable to react immediately, but it did try to teleport away.

The Memory Eater EX tried to gather mana to make itself teleport away, but the space has already been sealed. The Memory Eater EX is suddenly confused as it could not utilize the special ability of the host it has fused with.

"You cannot get away because this is your end." Adrian stated as he appeared just above the Memory Eater EX and plunged his two daggers on the caved in skull.

[You have executed the Memory Eater EX by dealing 5% of its maximum health due to hitting its weak spot.]

Chapter 2008 Relic of the Invisible Hand

[You have killed the Memory Eater EX.]

Once the notification has been received, Adrian has loosened his alertness a bit as he needed to relax. Piggy Bank also dropped down on the ground as he could no longer take the pressure. It seems that Piggy Bank's legs gave out and he was only standing due to the adrenaline. Adrian suddenly had another message from the underworld that he did not expect.

[The First Golden Goblin Lord is thanking you for defeating the parasitic being that abused its own body.]

[The cooldown of your Teleportation Skill has been reduced by 10%.]

[The mana consumption of all Spatial Movement skills has been reduced by 10%.]

[The First Golden Goblin Lord has entered the cycle of reincarnation thanks to you.]

Adrian could only smile as he did not think that there really was the soul of the First Golden Goblin Lord in the underworld. Beings like him that are blessed by gods could actually indefinitely stay in the afterlife as long as they have unresolved issues. They are beings that have been given the Heroes' Privilege which is why they cannot reincarnate as long as they do not want to.

"If only all of them would be that easy to solve." Adrian muttered as he always disliked his audiences of these special beings when he is in Limbo.

The Memory Eater EX did not drop any loot at all which somewhat made Adrian angered. He could only curse the evil god for making the Memory Eater EX more powerful but not drop any item. He did like that the experience points shot through the roof, but he always has enemies that give lots of experience points. Before Adrian's anger meter skyrocketed, Dodu was finally able to destroy the mysterious building.

As soon as Dodu destroyed the outer layer, a powerful flash of light suddenly got released from the mysterious building. A powerful burst of divine energy swept across the area which actually killed Dodu. The divine energy was so thick that Adrian had to protect Piggy Bank from it. The wave of divine energy was so powerful that it took Adrian to use all of his divine energy to diffuse.

All of Adrian's divine energy bottomed out and will not regenerate for a while but he was able to defend Piggy Bank from it. Adrian told Dodu to rest well as it did a job well done and even protected them from the initial divine energy wave. As soon as the wave of divine energy died down, a relic suddenly floated above the mysterious building.

The relic was none other than the Relic of the Invisible Hand and it matches all the description that they have been initially given. A gold coin floating in the air while numerous ghostly hands were trying to clutch it as if the hands were greedy for it. Before Adrian or even Piggy Bank could react, Coin suddenly flew straight towards the relic.

"Wait!" Adrian shouted as he did not want a helper suddenly touching things when they have yet to determine if it was safe.

Coin did not wait or even hear Adrian's words as it touched the relic without any issue. As soon as Coin touched the relic, another burst of divine energy swept towards them, but it all flowed to Coin instead of dispersing. Coin suddenly glowed in pure divine energy as Piggy Bank also completed his current mission.

[You have aided your partner, Piggy Bank, in completing the quest: Awaken the Divine Soul of the Helper.]

[You have gained one level.]

[Your Luck stat has increased by 1.]

Coin that was a small floating gold coin with appendages suddenly started to grow into a more humanoid shape. The body soon turned to that of a young man that is barely clothed except for a golden robe created from golden silk. The face of the young man is also covered with golden silk as one could see that the gorgeous young man was blind. The olive skin and green hair even made the young man look otherworldly.

The young man feeling that its body has been reconstructed suddenly exploded with more divine energy. The divine energy that he released created a large golden coin floating behind him which solidified his godlike status. The golden coin is also minted with the etching of wheat to signify abundance.

[You are in the presence of the Lesser God of Wealth Plutus.]

"Thank you, Piggy Bank. I knew that I could count on you in order to restore my own power." The Lesser God of Wealth Plutus stated, and his voice sounded so pleasing to the ears as if you will be hypnotized by it.

"Hey! I helped too." Adrian stated in protest as he actually did the most work.

"Thank you for that as well, Champion Equinox. I knew that the friend of Piggy Bank would definitely help him." The Lesser God of Wealth Plutus stated with a smile.

"I would also like to thank you for the next thing that would happen." The Lesser God of Wealth Plutus added as if he knew that something would happen, and he did.

Lightning suddenly came across the wide sky and Adrian had to call upon Kimat to absorb it. Kimat roared and absorbed the lightning as if it was a snack. As soon as Kimat devoured the first lightning strike, the sky suddenly got filled with dark clouds as lightning basically scattered in all directions. The Lesser God of Wealth Plutus used the power of the relic of the Invisible Hand to create a barrier made of divine energy to protect them.

"Mortals dare defy the will of the gods!" A thundering voice came out from the clouds as it parted.

The clouds parted to reveal two gods riding a white cloud and Adrian already knew who they were. The two gods were none other than the God King Zeus and the God Queen Hera arriving at another realm as if they have been there before. The glares that Adrian received from the God King Zeus could be clearly seen but the Lesser God of Wealth Plutus also shared this glare.

"Greetings, Zeus and Hera." The Lesser God of Wealth Plutus stated which angered the God King Zeus even more and made him direct lightning to him but Adrian commanded Kimat to devour it once again.

"Insolent Beast!" The God Queen Hera stated as she released a powerful burst of mana towards Kimat.

The Lesser God of Wealth Plutus saw this and utilized the relic once more and erected a barrier that easily deflected the attack that the God Queen Hera used. The mere defiance of the Lesser God of Wealth Plutus made the God Queen Hera look offended. Adrian, on the other hand, did not look pleased as he changed back to his Netheros form because he was ready for battle.

"I have greeted you, but you did not even greet me back and look at me like I am invisible. You even dare to hit my benefactor and his friend." The Lesser God of Wealth Plutus stated as he suddenly released powerful bloodlust. Nôv(el)B\jnn

"A mere lesser god dares to be rude in front of the God King and God Queen? It seems that you need to be destroyed once more to learn your lesson." The God Queen Hera stated as she also released a powerful bloodlust to counter what the Lesser God of Wealth Plutus released.

"A mere woman that cannot even keep her husband in line dares to speak about teaching other beings a lesson?" The Lesser God of Wealth Plutus stated which angered the God Queen Hera to a great degree that she released a powerful wave of divine energy that had the power of a High Goddess.

The God Queen Hera might not look like it, but she is a High Goddess in her own right. Even if the Lesser God of Wealth Plutus is supported by a powerful relic, he will not be able to defend himself against this attack. A flash of worry could be seen on the face of the Lesser God of Wealth Plutus, but he used all of the divine energy he can harness from the relic to defend them.

The God King Zeus also took offense with those words as he was described as a loose married man by the Lesser God of Wealth Plutus. The God King Zeus called upon thousands of lightning to destroy the lesser beings in front of him. Adrian already called upon the energies of the underworld in order to help the Lesser God of Wealth Plutus protect them.

"Enough!" A voice of a woman with great authority suddenly erupted as the holy relic that Adrian kept in the depths of his inventory suddenly glowed and shot out.

The holy relic of the Goddess of Life Demeter suddenly flew upwards to destroy the attack of the God King Zeus and the God Queen Hera. As soon as the attacks hit the holy relic, the entire area is suddenly covered with wheat stalks and grain that healed Adrian and his allies back to full health and mana.

Chapter 2009 Sister of Zeus

"Enough!" A powerful female voice came from the relic as it released a burst of life energy that destroyed the combined attacks of the God King Zeus and the God Queen Hera.

"Alright! The holy relic activated which means that this is the time where she should intervene." Adrian thought but his body suddenly shifted to his Aetheros form and flew towards the holy relic.

"Not this agaiinn!" Adrian stated as he was actually the one to become the vessel.

Adrian's body touched the holy relic, and he lost control of his entire body. The divine soul of the Goddess of Life Demeter entered his body through the catalyst known as the holy relic. He did think that this is one way of using the holy relics because this was also the way the Twin Gods used when they borrowed his body.

"I will just need to borrow the mediator's body for a while to teach my siblings a lesson." The Goddess of Life Demeter told Adrian, but he actually did not have much of a choice on the matter.

Adrian's body is inhabited by the Goddess of Life Demeter, and it slowly started to morph. Adrian's body transformed to that of the Goddess of Life Demeter but there was also something different. The Goddess of Life Demeter looked more regal as her aura actually became much more powerful than a High Goddess. Even the God King Zeus and the God Queen Hera are shocked to see such type of power from the Goddess of Life Demeter.

Even the Goddess of Life Demeter herself was shocked upon doing so but she finally knew the source of this strange appearance and power up. She was getting fed pure life energy by Adrian's aether energy which made her become even more powerful. The Goddess of Life Demeter was about to try and see where the source of Adrian's energy was as she silently looked at his subconscious.

Splitting the subconscious are easy for gods as they can have multiple appearances in different places. This is also one of the reasons that they are called immortal since they will not die permanently if a copy of them is killed. It would take the destruction of the True Divine Essence to kill a god which Adrian achieved when he killed the Goddess of Light Luminaria.

== n/ô/vel/b//jn dot c//om

"You are not allowed here!" A gigantic Paradox stated as it was the first to greet the Goddess of Life Demeter snooping around inside of Adrian's deepest level of subconscious.

"To think that the master would let an ego of a weapon bond with it. Are you sure that you are serving your master well?" The Goddess of Life Demeter stated as she was neither hostile nor polite.

"Leave now or else we will eject you from the possession of the master's body. He has agreed to the possession because it is needed but diving within him is prohibited." Paradox stated mechanically but its words contained a threat that actually offended the Goddess of Life Demeter.

"Leave now." A voice resembling Adrian stated.

"Champion Equinox?! No, you are not him." The Goddess of Life Demeter stated as the being in front of her was not the Champion Equinox she has known.

"I am him or at least I am a part of him that he has yet to unlock. You can even call me the Noblesse Equinox but that is for people that did not sneak their way in. Leave or your own divine soul will be burned by nether energy." Noblesse Equinox stated as the entire subconscious suddenly got ignited in Nether Flames.

"I will leave. I did not mean any harm as I only wanted to know the mysterious pure life energy that even my grandmother cannot use freely." The Goddess of Life Demeter stated.

"The pure life energy you speak of is none other than Aether Energy which is the highest form of life energy. Now that you have your answer...BEGONE!" Noblesse Adrian stated as the subconscious of the Goddess of Life Demeter was sent out with a powerful burst of mental energy accompanied by a slight enhancement of nether energy to give a warning.

"Thank you, Master's Inner Demon." Paradox stated.

"It is my duty to guard the inner sanctum of me after all. I would have no need to move though as you were already able to evict the sneaky one." Noblesse Adrian stated.

"I have calculated that you would be the best one to handle this as my method would eradicate the presence of the Goddess of Life Demeter in my master's body." Paradox stated.

"Wooh! Talk about protective but I like it. It is also a good thing that the sneaky goddess did not see the thing that we are hiding." Noblesse Adrian stated as he looked down.

When Noblesse Adrian looked down, Adrian's demon core could be seen half in nether and half in aether state. This should not be the case as his core is supposed to swap in between the two. Paradox could be seen using some ancient glyphs to slowly and surely fuse the two energies together to create a demon core that has never been seen before.

"This is all for the sake of the master." Paradox stated as Noblesse Adrian just watched what the former was doing in the depths of Adrian's subconscious that even he has never been before.

The Goddess of Life Demeter felt a powerful force expel her soul almost, but she managed to hang on. She then looked at her side to see Adrian crossing his arms as it seems that Paradox reported to him what the former has done. This all happened within a matter of three seconds which only made it look like the Goddess of Life Demeter paused for a brief moment, but she now looked at Adrian in a much more different light.

"Please focus on the danger at hand and not diving inside my subconscious. I had a difficult time reviving your son from being sealed and that is how you thank me?" Adrian stated as he did get a report from Paradox, but the latter only said that the Goddess of Life Demeter tried to probe his subconscious.

"Apologies, Mediator Equinox. I was merely curious of such powerful life energy. As I have embarrassed myself, I will make sure that you are well compensated later since you did revive my son. How did you know that he is my son?" The Goddess of Life Demeter stated as she looked a bit confused on the last thought.

"We are connected which means that some of your emotions and memories will naturally pass through me. I got it from that, and I did not even need to look into your subconscious." Adrian retorted which made the Goddess of Life Demeter even more embarrassed.

"Sister. I should have known that it was you who orchestrated this." The God King Zeus stated as he glared at the Goddess of Life Demeter.

"I merely aided the revival of my son that you severely punished. I have already overlooked you blinding my son but the fact that you have sealed him is the last straw." The Goddess of Life Demeter stated as her anger made numerous golden wheat stalks grow around her.

"Your son was giving the blessing of abundance to almost anyone! It would not take long for humans to become corrupted if they are given too much abundance." The God Queen Hera stated.

"Tell that to all the women and men that your husband has already corrupted." The God of Wealth Plutus stated which made the God King Zeus hurl lightning towards him, but the Goddess of Life Demeter easily protected him.

"If you wish for your son to not die then make sure that his tongue is tied!" The God King Zeus threatened.

"Maybe you should do that to your balls so that you do not sire anymore bastards." The God of Wealth Plutus rebutted which made the entire sky split apart due to the immense thunder and lightning.

Even though the God Queen Hera was looking like she was furious, she actually liked the spunk of the newly revived God of Wealth Plutus. He was saying the words that she could not tell her husband as she was now bound by oath to not say disparaging words to him. She is actually relishing this exchange and the best thing is that his husband could not kill the one saying it.

"Are you here for combat, sister?" The God King Zeus stated as he glared at the Goddess of Life Demeter.

"If that is what it takes to protect my son from you then I shall do so but remember that I am the leader of the Gods of Life in Olympus. One command from me and they will all leave without any warning which will destroy the abundance of Olympus." The Goddess of Life Demeter stated as her words echoed in the area which made the rumbling thunder stop.

Chapter 2010 The Deal Forward

The Goddess of Life Demeter's statement made the anger of the God King Zeus and the God Queen Hera fizzle out. They were now being threatened to starvation if they do not bend to the will of the Goddess of Life Demeter. The thought of not having the lavish feasts filled with the wine created by the Goddess of Life Demeter being tended by the God of Wine Dionysus. If the Goddess of Life Demeter tells them that all gods of life will join her then she is not joking.

"I already gave you some reprieve back then when you wanted your daughter out of the underworld! Do not push me anymore as your selfishness has created a rift between me and my brother!" The God King Zeus stated but he was more composed as lightning did not rumble.

"Sister, please do not be hasty. I am sure that you and my husband will create an agreement where both of your wants are granted. Please exercise your wise and venerable self, dear husband." The God Queen Hera stated as she tried to soothe the God King Zeus.

"If my son is not protected then I shall have winter come to Olympus for twelve months instead of six." The Goddess of Life Demeter demanded.

"Wow! You are such a diva, but I respect it. Still, maybe ease on the Goddess of Life Persephone as I can see that she is enjoying her time in the underworld. You have grandkids there and they do not like being away from their parents too much. Even if gods do not care for the perception of time, they will have that when someone precious is taken from them." Adrian commented but the Goddess of Life Demeter ignored his rumblings.

"And you, my darling son. Shut your mouth before I do it or else the anger of my brother will really end you." The Goddess of Life Demeter stated as she looked at the God of Wealth Plutus with eyes that could pierce walls.

"I am blind, mother. I cannot see what their reactions are. Who blinded me? Oh right! It was uncle if I am not mistaken. Do not get me started on their schemes of getting me sealed." The God of Wealth Plutus stated with immense sass.

"I know your pain child, but you have just returned. Shut up if you want to stay that way." The Goddess of Life Demeter whispered, and the God of Wealth Plutus can only grumble and accept as he does not want to get sealed again.

"Dear husband, our sister is resolute this time. She even used some mysterious power and a holy relic to clash with us in this realm. She has already planned this from the beginning while we have not even carried the holy relics here. Victory might not be in our grasp against her as we do not have holy relics to stabilize our energies." The God Queen Hera stated.

"I know, dear wife. Still, I must also be resolute as that intrepid boy has been cursing at me. If his eyes were still there then he will be disrespecting me even more." The God King Zeus stated as he is still showing an imposing figure.

"Can both of those stuck-up people hurry up?! My body is already beyond stressed from this possession. You are burning my aether energy at a great degree and it is no longer regenerating beyond 50." Adrian grumbled as he could see notifications telling him that there would be some backlash to his body.

"Dear husband. Please tell your magnanimous decision to our sister." The God Queen Hera stated as she clutched the God King Zeus' arms.

"Hear me, sister! I shall forgive the offense of my nephew for such words against me. Instead, he will not be able to return to Olympus, but he will still be recognized as a god there. No Gods of Olympus and all under our banner shall treat him like an outsider. Do you agree, sister?" The God King Zeus stated. n/ô/vel/b//in dot c//om

"It is not like I want to return to that place anyways." The God of Wealth Plutus muttered but it was still heard by the God King Zeus and the God Queen Hera.

"Zip it, son." The Goddess of Life Demeter stated as she used some magic to create a gag made of bundled wheat for the God of Wealth Plutus.

"As long as my son is no longer under threat from Olympus then I do not need anything else. I just need you to promise what you have said to the Fates. Both of you." The Goddess of Life Demeter stated.

"Sister! You do not mean to say that we are not keepers of our words. We are family." The God Queen Hera stated.

"I may be your sister, but you blinded my son to which I did not say anything. You sealed despite your word that you will not do it. I need a vow to the Fates before I truly agree." The Goddess of Life Demeter stated with great confidence.

"I swear to the Fates of what I have said earlier." The God King Zeus stated as an eerie wind suddenly blew across the wind.

"I swear as well." The God Queen Hera stated as another eerie wind blew.

"Since you have made the promises, I shall no longer press for anything. My son, you can stay at my personal divine realm for the time being." The Goddess of Life Demeter stated.

"No more. My body can no longer take it. Get out." Adrian stated as he suddenly pushed the divine soul of the Goddess of Life Demeter out of his body towards her holy relic.

"Such impertinence!" The Goddess of Life Demeter stated as she was shocked that she was easily expelled once again by a being that is not even a demigod.

"You have exceeded your possession time, lady goddess." Adrian stated as he suddenly heard thunder rumble.

"Finally! The demon that is disrespectful has separated from our sister." The God King Zeus stated as he started to harness lightning.

"Hit me with that then I will declare no aid from the Gods of Death on your end. I am the Mediator of Death, but my best friend is also the Mediator of Life. Make a wrong move by offending us and all of your heroes will be booted out of Elysium." Adrian threatened as his aura changed to that of one with great authority.

"Sister, is what he says true?" The God Queen Hera asked.

"It is true, sister. The Twin Gods appointed him Mediator of Death and his friend the Mediator of Life. All the gods of life and the gods of death are now under them for the time being." The voice of the Goddess of Life Demeter came out from the holy relic.

"Husband, we must not offend the Mediator of Death. Calm your rage as you know that you are partly at fault." The God Queen Hera stated even though she knows that it is all of the God King Zeus' fault.

"Also, since you are already here. I am warning you gods to not mess with time and space even with relics. One wrong mistake of doing it may create a powerful rift that connects to the other universes. Even if you are playing with relics, play with those that do not alter the fabric of reality. If you want the aid of demons in fixing the fabric of time and space, you better heed my advice." Adrian stated but his words were clearly directed towards the God King Zeus.

Numerous sparks and rumbled could be heard as the God King Zeus were keeping his anger in check. If he did not learn that Adrian was the Mediator of Death, then he might have unleashed his wrath upon him. The God King Zeus was holding himself back to the point that lightning shot upward instead of downward.

"Let me also warn you, little demon. Do not test my patience because it will run out eventually. Olympus has no need of the powers of you demons." The God King Zeus stated.

"Will you promise those words to the Fates?" Adrian stated with a condescending smile, but the God King Zeus cannot do so and can only leave.

"He left without even saying goodbye. I never met gods that are so rude." Adrian stated as he looked at the skies clearing up.

"Since my siblings are gone. I will just reiterate what I said earlier. You can stay at my divine realm for the moment, my son." The Goddess of Life Demeter stated.

"No mother. I love that you care but I already have a place where I can stay. My transport to that realm is also present here as I have already sent my regards." The God of Wealth Plutus stated.

"Where will you stay since you are not allowed in Olympus?" The Goddess of Life Demeter asked.

"I will stay with brother-in-law in Hades." The God of Wealth Plutus stated which made the Goddess of Life Demeter's face drop.
