

O Summoner 2081

Chapter 2081: The Ziz Makes a Move II

Like thunder rumbling down from the heavens, the Ziz descended from its high-flying altitude. The body that was so large could finally be seen as it was able to dwarf Avalon itself. Adrian thought that this monster would basically destroy Avalon if it wanted to land on it. The Ziz was not this size when it first attacked the barrier as its body was only as big as one floating island but now it is the size of all five combined.

[The True Ruler of the Skies has descended from the atmosphere.]

[All flying monsters under it will have their strength increased by 20%.]

[All flying monsters under it will gain the Frenzy buff which increases their damage dealt by 20% but will lose their sense of rationality.]

[All flying monsters under the Ziz are affected by the miasma it is releasing via its body. All of the flying monsters under the Ziz will now inflict miasma on attacks. Miasma deals additional 0.1% maximum health damage over ten second and can stack up to ten times.]

The flying monsters under the Ziz suddenly exuded a toxic dark smog which was none other than miasma. They also became enraged as they are now affected by Frenzy. The eyes of all flying monsters under the Ziz suddenly turned red. Some of the flying monsters could not house the miasma in their bodies which is why some started to literally rot while alive.

The Ziz did not care about them though as all they needed to do was infect all of the enemies hindering it with miasma. The frenzied flying monsters started to charge without any care for their lives as the absolute order of the Ziz must be done. The sky darkened once again as beyond the dark clouds were another set of flying monsters waiting to descend. A lot of the players thought that they could handle the flocks of flying monsters, but some started to get scared.

The Ziz did not idle also as it released powerful gusts of wind that created wind blades and tornadoes made of miasma. It was not just it that became enraged as the remaining five mythical tier flying monsters under it released fierce attacks as well. The power of each of the attacks of the flying monsters was so great that it destroyed the regenerated first barrier and second barrier in Avalon. This did not stop there as the Ziz swooped down thinking that it could destroy the third barrier, but two powerful beasts suddenly appeared when the sound of an ocarina was heard again.

Bessy appeared alongside another monster that took the form of clouds. The cloud monster was none other than a Cloud Wyrn and is one of Old Man Pann's hidden monsters. Adrian always thought that the old man never gets hit by sunlight when he visits the ranch. The Cloud Wyrn was actually the reason why he could leisurely stroll without being hit by the harsh sun.

The combined force of Bessy and the Cloud Wyrn was able to defend the last barrier, but their bodies were not perfectly safe. Bessy could be seen to have cut marks while the Cloud Wyrn had parts of its body disintegrate. The two monsters were not able to fully defend against the Ziz which meant that the latter's current body is incredibly strong.

"I am warning you, giant bird. Leave now and your life will not be forfeited." Old Man Pann stated as a warning since he knows that the Ziz is a natural force.

"A demon given the title of Nature's Protector? Such a funny thing." The Ziz stated as it looked down on Old Man Pann.

The Ziz was not just waiting for its underlings to be massacred earlier. It was gathering powerful nature and wind elemental energy to empower itself as it knew that Old Man Pann would overpower it. The strength that it had when it first attacked Avalon was not enough to gain its victory which is why it let its underlings deal with Avalon while it absorbed a lot of energy. This is also the reason why it suddenly grew into such a large size.

Avalon was perfect for the Ziz because it has a thick amount of natural energy that any primordial beast would want to take it as their territory. The Ziz is sure that it will be able to stand at the top as long as it gains Avalon as its base. It will absorb natural energy to a terrifying degree that its body would be the size of a continent if it is left alone.

"Such a disrespectful bird, I will turn you into fried chicken." Old Man Pann stated as he finally showed his true form.

"Even if you are Nature's Protector, I am a Natural Disaster! I am your undoing!" The Ziz stated as it released numerous wind blades once again towards Old Man Pann, but he blocked it using origin energy via playing his ocarina.

The powerful wings of the Ziz made the normal trees in Avalon bend while some trinkets were also blown away. Old Man Pann did not flinch though as this attack was just like a breeze to him. Old Man Pann might be fine, but the others were slightly pushed back as even the flying monsters under the Ziz were blown over. Seeing that no amount of talk will ever get through to the Ziz as the miasma has taken over its body, a powerful bloodlust is released by Old Man Pann.

"I would have protected you as well if you had a shred of sanity left but you are too far gone. As Nature's Protector, I will be the one to stop you. I shall show you why I was named Pann by the Asmodian Daemos!" Old Man Pann decreed with his deep voice as each word that came out of his mouth was filled with his own Noblesse Aura.

"Panic!" Old Man Pann shouted as he used his ocarina to release a loud noise that was mind shattering.

Chapter 2082: PANIC!

A loud noise that sounded like an entire legion of beasts and monsters are roaring and snarling could be heard but it all came from Old Man Pann's ocarina. The sound might not be harmful to his allies, but the enemy monsters are another thing. As soon as the enemy monsters heard the sound, the already frenzied monsters turned manic. All the enemy flying monsters that were in the area suddenly started to bite one another as if they were possessed by something.

[All enemies have been affected by Panic.]

[All enemies will be confused for 20 minutes.]

[All confused enemies will have their defenses get reduced by 30%.]

[All enemies will now attack their own allies first as a result of being affected by Panic.] The chaotic battlefield that is due to the frenzied flying monsters suddenly became even messier. It was not messy for those that are defending Avalon though as the enemies that were fighting them suddenly turned back and started destroying each other. The effect of Panic was absolute to the point that the players that were having a difficult time suddenly got a breather.

The most interesting interaction would be from the remaining mythical tier flying monsters. The Flame Phoenix, Sparking Thunderbird, Thousand Vibration Hummingbird, Rendering Mist Crane, and Evil Dark Sun Raven suddenly turned towards the Ziz with burning aggression and confusion. All five remaining elemental birds charged towards the Ziz in order to attack it as if their internal rage for it was activated due to being enslaved.

"Insolent fools!" The Ziz shouted as it suddenly flew higher up in the clouds, but all five elemental birds were there to stop it.

The Flame Phoenix created a powerful flame vortex that singed a part of the Ziz' feathers. The Sparking Thunderbird released a powerful blast of lightning from above which made the Ziz fly lower as part of its body was momentarily paralyzed. The Thousand Vibration Hummingbird released numerous sharp leaves that vibrated at a high speed which tore through the defenses of the Ziz easily.

The Rendering Mist Crane already scattered mist in the area and clouded the vision of the Ziz so that it will not be able to easily detect the attacks from other mythical tier birds. The Evil Dark Sun Raven spewed dark flames from its mouth that decreased the defense of the Ziz but also applied negative status effects. The Ziz finally realized the being that made all of this possible because there was a special being amongst the Daemos back then.

A Daemos that was the offspring of a Dryad Queen and a normal Imp. The offspring of the union between the two said to have birthed a special Imp that had small wings that made it almost unable to fly but he possessed something powerful. The Imp that was born from that union is said to have the power to summon the most primal force of the universe to inflict on all of those that dared go against it. He was named after the primal force that he could render thus he was named Pann.

"To think that demon was still alive!" The Ziz thought as it tried its best to deal with all of the other mythical beasts that came for its life.

It is not just the mythical birds that are attacking the Ziz as there were others that are doing so. The skies were filled with the massacre of flying beasts. Some even drop down to the ground with barely any life left and players only needed to finish them off. This became an incredibly fast way of getting contribution points as a lot of enemies were dropping like flies. "It is still quite vicious whenever the old man uses that skill." Elder Ascalor stated as he returned with a few scratches since he was also saving some of his strength while battling earlier.

"I was enjoying the battle when I suddenly heard the infamous war cry of the old man. I guess he wanted this fight to be done at a quick pace as we will lose to a war of attrition after all." Elder Bronx stated.

"I did not like my battle as leaves are now stuck in my coat and hair." Elder Koronn stated as he started to clean himself from the aftermath of his battle.

"How long will the effects of what Old Man Pann did last?" Adrian asked as he looked at Old Man Pann and one could see that he was tired just by using that skill.

"Half an hour at best but for those mythical birds are a different duration. We hope that 15 minutes will be the minimum, but the old man is not in his prime. The effects might wear off soon which is why we must kill all of the mythical birds along with the Ziz during that short time frame." Elder Ascalor stated but even he thinks that will be difficult.

"We can do Void Crusher." Elder Koronn suggested.

"We can actually do that, and it might destroy all of those enemies at the same time, but it will take time and that Ziz might notice." Elder Bronx stated.

"Leave it to me. Sirius use Samael's Domain." Adrian stated as Sirius howled.

Sirius released his domain, and nothing changed if one just looks normally. The sudden density of mana in the area doubled but the Ziz would not be able to sense this sudden shift as it was busy fighting with the other mythical tier birds. Adrian also hid the elders from view but also made mirages of them doing fake fights. Seeing such great illusion, the elder started chanting the spell they have agreed upon.

The Ziz might look like it is struggling against the other mythical tier birds, but it was actually winning. The Ziz might have gained some scratches, burns, or destroyed feathers but it was still battling at full power. The other mythical tier birds were the ones getting destroyed by the Ziz as the wounds on each of them was incredibly horrible. The Flame Phoenix could be seen having parts of its flames smothered.

The Sparking Thunderbird's beak was destroyed, and it could no longer fly as fast. The Thousand Vibration Hummingbird has wings that were destroyed which is why its flight was now wobbly. The Rendering Mist Crane has lost one of its feet and eye which makes it also have unstable flight. The Evil Dark Sun Raven has a large gash on its back that is still bleeding and not recovering.

"You have not come to your senses and dare attack your master. I have no use for all of you that are rendered useless. Return back the power that I have given you. Gale Tempest!" The Ziz shouted as it used a powerful attack.

A powerful tornado suddenly exploded from the Ziz which destroyed all flying monsters that were legendary tier and below that were around it. The mythical tier monsters were also blown away, but they were still alive. All five of them just plunged down to the ground as they are now prey for the players that were waiting there. The Ziz then absorbed more nature mana in the area and recovered 10% of its health instantly.

Monster Name: Ziz

Monster Tier: Transcendent

Monster Race: Primordial Beast

Monster Species: Ziz

Monster Level: 450

HP: 80%

MP: 81%

Description: The Ziz is a giant griffin-like bird in mythology, said to be large enough to be able to block out the sun with its wingspan. It is one of the first three primordial beasts to be created by the world and lords over the skies with its other two cohorts, the Leviathan and the Behemoth, ruling over the sea and the earth respectively. It is the True Ruler of the Skies and can command all flying monsters using its own aura.

The Ziz would have recovered more health but the debuffs from the Evil Dark Sun Raven affected its healing. The dark elves also casted a curse on it to negate most of its healing or else it might have healed back to full health. Seeing the Ziz recover its health, Adrian needed to take action immediately. Adrian appeared behind the Ziz via his mirror armament and also created five other mirrors for his soulbounds to appear next to him.

He then changed to his axe armament to try and take down the Ziz. It would have been a good try, but the Ziz was still faster and stronger than Adrian despite the debuffs. The Ziz just twisted its body in an attempt to bite Adrian using its large beak. Adrian tried to escape using blink, but the Ziz suddenly released a burst of miasma that made his body unable to use mana for a moment.

"I think I am going to die." Adrian thought but a powerful beam of light suddenly hit the chest of the Ziz at just the right moment. That powerful beam of light came from the middle island of Avalon and it was fired by none other than Saena.

Chapter 2083: Void Crusher

The beam of light shot through the chest of the Ziz which made it flinch. Saena was able to save Adrian due to this action as the other soulbounds followed up that attack. Adrian swung his axe and hit the beak of the Ziz but was sent crashing down due to the impact. His other soulbounds then attacked the Ziz with the chance that they were given.

Sirius bit one of the wings of the Ziz with his empowered bite. He made sure to infuse darkness attribute into the attack as normal physical attacks do not deal much damage on the Ziz. Kanlaon managed to coil upwards and then release his breath attack at a point-blank range. The sudden burst of golden light heavily damaged the Ziz.

Kimat roared out loud as a powerful and fast lightning strike came down from the heavens to pierce a wing of the Ziz. One could see that one of the wings of the Ziz being paralyzed as it no longer flapped. Charon used his chains to suppress the limbs of the Ziz as it was trying to pierce Kanlaon with its sharp talons. Charon's strength was barely restraining the Ziz but the health and mana that he sapped is getting transferred to the other soulbounds.

Dodu was the most ambitious of all the soulbounds as it found the body of the Ziz very delicious. Dodu covered one of the wings using its body but the sheer size of it made it impossible. Instead, Dodu released powerful toxins that is inside of its own digestive system and melted the feathers and the wing. The Ziz could be heard screech in pain for a slight moment before released a burst of wind elemental energy that knocked away all the beings that are near it.

"Tempest Rush!" The Ziz shouted as it suddenly exploded in power as it wanted to kill all the beings that dared to harm its body.

"We are done with the spell. Transport the other birds." Elder Ascalor sent via telepathy to Adrian.

Hearing the communications, Adrian changed his form to that of his mirror demon form and locked on the location of all five mythical tier birds. The five mythical tier birds were scattered due to being heavily damaged by the Ziz earlier. They no longer attacked the Ziz as they were suddenly destroying their own allies that the players were culling down.

Adrian quickly told Charon to convert all of the mana he siphoned to him. Adrian's mana suddenly surged to the brim that he looked like he was intoxicated with mana. Five large mirrors suddenly appeared next to the five mythical birds and swept them away. The five mythical birds suddenly found themselves appearing before the Ziz as it exploded in power. The effect of Panic was still there as the five mythical birds once again tried attacking the Ziz. Seeing that its minions were no longer useful, the Ziz decided to destroy them along with everyone in the area. A powerful blast of wind elemental energy is released with the Ziz at the epicenter. The five mythical birds took the brunt of the blast but that was not the end of their torment.

"Void Crusher!" All three of the Daemos Elders shouted as a powerful vortex exploded where the Ziz and the five mythical birds were.

The explosion was so powerful but also compact to the point that its explosion radius was small. If one was able to see what happened, then they would describe it as a black hole suddenly caving in and swallowing everything in its path. The five mythical birds were struck by Void Crusher and had half of their bodies fall victim to its black hole. The lifeless half and destroyed body of the five mythical birds dropped to the ground.

The Ziz was not entire safe as well as one of its wings was devoured by the black hole and is now spewing blood. The Ziz felt unbearable pain as one of its proud and large wings suddenly got destroyed without any counter. The Void Crusher also swallowed some of the energy that the Ziz used on its previous attack. The skill that was supposed to destroy everything in the area was easily swallowed by the Void Crusher.

"Scary!" Adrian muttered but he was incredibly impressed by that combination spell that destroyed everything even a powerful spell.

"Danger!" The Ziz suddenly thought as its fierce temperament suddenly cooled down due to entire losing one wing.

"It is trying to escape!" The players shouted as they suddenly saw the Ziz flying away but the sound of an ocarina once again sounded.

A large whale that flies in the sky suddenly manifested above the Ziz and slammed it down towards the ground. Bessy might not be able to contend with a fully powered Ziz, but it could overpower it momentarily when it is weakened. The Ziz is sent crashing, but it did not land on the ground which was the thing that Adrian wanted to happen. A powerful miasma suddenly enveloped the Ziz as it exploded into dark clouds which made it unable to make contact with the ground.

The dark clouds then converged with one another and the Ziz was once again reformed. The minor injuries were restored but the missing wing was not something it could restore easily. The Ziz would need to at least absorb natural energy for an hour for his entire wing to be regenerated. The Cloud Wyrms tried to do a surprise attack on the Ziz, but it failed since the latter could easily see it even if it is camouflaged as a cloud.

The Ziz is now fueled by anger once again and wanted to kill the Cloud Wyrms, but Bessy interjected which saved it. The Cloud Wyrms vanished from sight once again as it hid itself in the clouds. Bessy also looks incredibly tired as well which is why she vanished into stars. It might seem like Bessy did some simple attacks but each of her strikes was empowered by her entire strength and it was still not enough for the Ziz.

"Bessy cannot use its entire body and only summon an avatar to battle when it is in this world." Old Man Pann's words suddenly entered Adrian's mind.

Just as Old Man Pann said, Bessy is actually as large as the world itself before it expanded. She can only send an avatar using some of her powers to go down in the mortal realm which is also restricted by the world barrier. The real Bessy is actually outside the world swimming freely in the starry universe. Her strength is also limited to what Old Man Pann can handle as well as he is the anchor for Bessy in the mortal realm.

"All must perish!" The Ziz shouted as it no longer cared if it might destroy everything around it.

[Miasma has been spread out in your area.]

[All stats will drop by 10%.]

[There is a possibility of getting a status ailment when exposure is too long.]

A powerful burst of miasma exploded from the Ziz, and it scattered in the area like a heavy fog. A dark fog blanketed the entire area of Avalon and made all of the beings inside weaker. The Tree of Life and Death along with Saena suddenly burst in holy light. The Tree of Life and Death tried its best to purify the miasma in the area with Saena's help as her winds blew away

The powerful miasma that the Ziz released is suddenly lessened in concentration due to the presence of Saena and the Tree of Life and Death. Seeing that its attack was mostly useless, the Ziz finally used a skill that it can only use. The Ziz suddenly flew high up in the sky and burst into numerous small dark feathers that rained down in the entire area. The dark feathers were powerful and sharp, but it did not distinguish between friend or foe.

Both the flying monsters and the players were subjected to the million feathered rain that is empowered by miasma. All beings that were cut by the feathers were subjected to status ailments and even status debuffs. Healing was also reduced to a great degree if numerous feathers managed to hit you. Avalon's third barrier managed to defend against the rain of feathers which also protected the players that were flying but decided to take shelter.

The million dark feathers then flew upwards as soon as it hit the ground to deal another round of damage. The millions of feathers converged in the sky to recreate the body of the Ziz. When the Ziz reformed, the wing that was utterly destroyed is now back to normal. The large drop of health of the Ziz is also healed by 20% which made Adrian's jaw drop in disbelief. The Ziz that they had used almost everything to destroy is now back to 85% health because of one attack. "How are we going to defeat that when that attack could not only destroy everything but also heal the enemy?" Adrian thought as he suddenly felt the increasing sense of danger.

Chapter 2084: Cavalry from the Skies

Adrian could only think that the battle with the Ziz is pointless if they could not get it down to the ground. The elders have used a lot of mana in using Void Crusher while Old Man Pann is also tired from overusing his powers as well. If the old man was actually at his peak, then he might be able to deal with the Ziz himself, but all of his tamed monsters are not able to contend with it.

The other powerhouse NPCs of Avalon are also dealing with the flying monsters that are still alive. The Ziz was the only being that is not being attacked because it was powerful and quick. Only the demons that can bend time are able to slowly catch up to it. Adrian could feel that Elder Koronn was stopping time for brief moments in order for them to glimpse at the movement of the Ziz.

"Master, we must use it." Sirius stated as the domain was still active.

"Ok." Adrian agreed as he vanished from his location but an illusion of him was still there.

The Ziz looked down upon all of the lower beings that it killed. It was able to kill some of those pesky blessed ones, but it mostly killed off its own subordinates. The number of flying beasts decreased by half because of its own attack. Still, the Ziz did not care as all the life force that it took was reverted back to it as health. The Ziz thought that it would be able to recover entirely but the special spell called Void Crusher actually destroyed part of its mana body.

"The demons need to be destroyed. They are beings that could overturn the world! Overturn the world that I shall rule!" The Ziz thought as it suddenly sensed powerful bloodlust aiming for its neck.

The Ziz turned around to see the one that released such bloodlust but there was no one there. The next thing that the Ziz knew is that two daggers and a demon was hanging on its neck. The Ziz used its front talons to swat Adrian away but that was all the diversion he needed. Sirius suddenly came out of Adrian's shadow in his released form and bit the back of the neck of the Ziz.

"Kuwah!" The Ziz screamed as a powerful potent poison entered its body.

Adrian was about to escape using blink and take Sirius with him, but the Ziz exploded its body once again into millions of feathers. The explosion this time did not scatter in the entire area but just in the general area where Adrian was in. The powerful explosion killed off Adrian and Sirius in the blink of an eye and they did not even have time to react.

[You have died.]

The Ziz manifested itself once again into its form but the bite mark and the poison in its system was still there. Sirius was able to damage the Ziz by a chunk of its health as Adrian empowered him to the brim. This also made the Poison of Samael become more potent to the point that even a transcendent being like the Ziz could not get rid of it. The bite mark was bleeding profusely and the Ziz has to use great effort in order to hold it back.

"Still, the demon is dead. I just need to deal with the others." The Ziz stated but it suddenly heard a voice that it deemed annoying.

"Seriously! It is the first time that I revived in a while, and I did not think that I will get some buffs upon revival. Is this the perks of the Mediator of Death?" Adrian stated as he immediately revived and saw the notifications that would make anyone's mouth drool.

[You have revived.]

[All health and mana have been restored.]

[Cooldowns have been reduced by half.]

[All stats will increase by 20% for a ten-minute duration after revival.]

Adrian could not believe the enormous, good stuff that he got from dying which he did not think be possible. He always hated dying in the game as there would be a chance of him failing the quest or protect his territory, but the buffs changed his perception. The fact that the buffs almost replenished all of his cooldowns but also increased his stats is mind-blowing to him. "Still, Sirius is not revived upon my revival. Even if we share a soul, he is still very hurt and that is something that I shall not forgive." Adrian stated as his eyes blazed with fury.

"You should give up young demons as you will not be able to defeat me." The Ziz stated as it once again exploded into feathers and launched themselves towards Adrian.

"Time Stop!" Adrian stated as time began to stop.

"You see. I managed to see something interesting earlier when time was stopped momentarily, and you became feathers. You were unable to move freely despite being a mass clump of primordial energy. You might be strong when you are whole but feathers that are clumped make you vulnerable." Adrian stated as he used Limit Break: Summoner to summon his soulbounds.

Kanlaon released his breath attack towards all of the feathers which destroyed most of them. Charon grasped them with his chains and absorbed the life force in each feather making them turn to dust. Kimat cloaked himself in lightning and charged towards the feathered field to destroy all of them as well. Dodu turned into numerous smaller slimes and disintegrated one feather for each small slime.

All of this happened when time was stopped and the Ziz could only watch as parts of its body turned to dust. The power that made it able to destroy hundreds and thousands of enemies has now become its weakness. It did not even know that it had such a weakness until Adrian pointed it out. Still, Adrian cannot keep time still forever as his mana was seriously getting used up.

Even Elder Koronn does not stop time frequently as he pleases or as long as he pleases because the Time Wraiths will notice as well. This time, Adrian was prepared for such aftereffect as defeating the Ziz was more important than Time Wraiths after your life. The Ziz tried to reform its body, but its power was scattered because it also scattered its body. To think that the powerful attack that it uses to destroy all beings is now its fatal flaw.

[You have gained +1 to all of your stats for causing trauma to a Primordial Beast.] Adrian did not look at the notifications as he was busy making sure that time is stopped to the point that his nose actually started bleeding due to stress. He held time for so long that it was still paused despite his mana drying up. Adrian wanted to keep it longer, but he sensed something approaching and it was none other than the Time Wraiths.

[You have gained an achievement. You have gained the passive skill: Temporal Dabbler.]

Adrian had no choice but to stop using Time Stop and time flowed back naturally. The Time Wraiths also vanished as well because the time anomaly stopped but that also meant that the Ziz could now reform. Seeing that time is no longer stopped, the Ziz quickly reformed its body but parts of it could be seen missing. The feathered body of the Ziz could be seen having some bald spots.

"You!" The Ziz burned with rage as it charged towards Adrian in a straight line attempting to kill him before he could react.

"Temporal Bubble!" Elder Koronn suddenly appeared next to Adrian and cast a sphere of condensed temporal energy which slowed down the Ziz to a great degree.

A portal then swept across Adrian and Elder Koronn as they appeared back at Avalon. The temporal bubble then exploded which dealt some damage to the Ziz and enraging it further. Just as the Ziz is about to lock onto Adrian once again, Elder Bronx suddenly appeared below it and did a powerful uppercut that sent it flying upwards.

"Justice Rains from the Skies!" A powerful female voice stated as numerous swords of rainbow-colored light suddenly came down from the dark skies and pierced the Ziz.

Five beautiful maidens came piercing through the dark clouds using their Pegasi. The swords of light buried deep into the body of the Ziz and made it unable to turn into energy. The Ziz could only scream out loud as it plunged to the ground as all of its wings were heavily hit. The five maidens riding the Pegasi did not stop in their attacks as they relentlessly threw out numerous spells and attacks towards the Ziz as it was crashing down.

One of the maidens came flying towards Adrian and he noticed who it was which actually made him a bit nervous.

"I hope that we are not too late to help." Frey stated as she smiled beautifully filled with grace and fierceness that only a Valkyrie could show.

Chapter 2085: All Domains Activate I

"No, you just made it in time. We needed that breather." Adrian stated as he looked at the elders to see their current situation.

"It seems your little missy has arrived to save you this time." Elder Ascalor stated as all of the elders are now able to manipulate mana once again.

"Please do not tease me if you do not want me to tell Elder Danaya what you do." Adrian stated as Elder Ascalor's comment made Frey blush.

"You know that I am just joking about that, brat. I am just making light of the current situation as it is too heavy." Elder Ascalor stated as he knew that Elder Danaya might learn of the numerous elder ladies that come to Avalon to fawn over Elder Ascalor.

"Do you know how to defeat it? It is not even getting decreased down to 60% health as it is always regenerating because of the mana in the area that it could use." Frey stated as she finally came back from battle mode.

"One way to defeat it is by burying it in the ground but that is impossible as it could turn into numerous feathers to evade attacks. The other players will be able to join in the attack so we might be able to defeat it if we attack the Ziz." Adrian stated.

"Why not use the islands to trap it? It might be weakened if you trap it inside of a floating island." Frey suggested.

"Do you think we can do that, elders?" Adrian asked as he turned to the three elders.

"The only hollow island is the one that controls the barrier, and it is not big enough to trap that bird. We might need to reduce it down to size as much as possible. We can prepare the teleportation of that bird if you want but that would also mean we will not be able to contribute to the battle." Elder Ascalor stated as the arrangements for transporting a transcendent tier enemy is not really easy.

"Please prepare as we will be the ones doing the heavy lifting. Signal us when everything is ready." Adrian stated and the elders nodded as they vanished to prepare trapping the Ziz inside one of the islands.

"You might sacrifice one of the islands though. Are you sure about that?" Frey asked as she only suggested it but did not expect that Adrian will agree with her.

"If we do not stop it then all of my territory would be destroyed. Sacrificing one territory should be fine as I can restore it, but it would take a big blow on my own wallet though." Adrian stated.

"Okay then. I will join my sisters in battle. Fight with us when you are ready." Frey stated but the Ziz suddenly released a powerful call that made the entire area reverberate.

"What was that?!" Adrian stated as he suddenly heard numerous cries of monsters.

"The Ziz called upon more flying monsters. I need to help all of them to weaken it more. Be careful." Frey stated as she gave a nod towards Adrian and smiled.

"Elven Elders, how is the last barrier?" Adrian asked as he appeared in the Church of the Twin Gods.

"The third barrier is still powerful enough to hold off the Ziz, but it is already taking all of us to maintain it. The Daemonio are trying to restore the second barrier, but they said that it will take a while which is why we are maintaining the last one." Elder Willow stated as he was leading all the elders.

"Thank you. I appreciate all of your help." Adrian stated as he vanished and appeared to look at the situation outside.

Adrian could see the Valkyries and some of his guild members fighting against the Ziz. He could also see a large flock of flying monsters head towards Avalon again. The players might look like they are winning but they are incredibly tired as they have been fighting nonstop. The ground is literally littered with the corpses of flying monsters. Even Creepysoo could barely control the undead monsters he is summoning as his mana is always running low.

"The Ziz is not even using all of its power as well. I also died as well which means getting revived will now be a game of chance if Levin Cloud notices it." Adrian thought to himself as he can no longer revive on his own. He would need the aid of his best friend which is also incredibly busy and tired from casting healing and support spells all day long.

Seeing that there is no other choice, Adrian had to decide on the best but riskiest method. He had to use all of the domains of his soulbounds in unison. He knows that numerous domains might change the actual topography of the area but that is something he is willing to take. Defeating the Ziz is the highest priority and that will not change his mind.

"Everything in the world requires sacrifice after all. Are you ready, everyone?" Adrian asked as Charon, Dodu, and Kimat appeared next to Adrian.

[Your soulbound, Charon, has activated Ghogiel's Domain.]

[Your soulbound, Dodu, has activated Gharab's Domain.]

[Your soulbound, Kimat, has activated Gah Agsheblah's Domain.]

[The Tree of Life and Death is reacting to the domains of your soulbounds and expanding it towards the entire territory.]

Adrian suddenly saw the Tree of Life and Death release a powerful burst of energy to empower the domains of his soulbounds. Adrian already knew that there might be some connection to the domains of his soulbounds to the Tree of Life and Death because there is a large tree inside of the depths his soul, but he just brushes it off. This time, he will definitely ask the Tree of Life and Death about the tree, but it will be after the battle.

"We got a lot to support so all of you do your best." Adrian stated as the effects of all the domains actually stacked with each other.

Chapter 2086: All Domains Activate II

Charon's body transformed to become larger and more specter like. The chains in the area became bigger and sturdier as his domain releases what Adrian calls Charon's Forbidden Form. This form not only doubles every stat Charon has but increases the potency of all his attacks. In an instant, Charon released hundreds of thousands of chains that pierced a lot of flying monsters.

An enormous amount of vitality and mana is converted into useful barriers that were given to all the players in battle with the Ziz. Charon also gave some of his barrier and mana to players that were on the brink of death which restored them back to life. Not only that, but Charon's chains also finally penetrated the Ziz which was unable to do so earlier. The health and vitality of the Ziz started to get siphoned by Charon and he also applied a slowing buff that became helpful in fighting against the Ziz.

The Ziz noticed the sudden changes in its body as it felt its vitality being sapped away. The Ziz tried to send the miasma in its body towards Charon, but it is fighting against an undead. Miasma barely affects the undead as it might only make them prone to bloodlust. Also, the miasma inside of Charon's body is much more potent and scarier compared to the miasma inside of the Ziz. The miasma inside of Charon is like if nether energy is converted into miasma.

The Ziz tried to struggle but it could not destroy the chains piercing its very soul. The chains did not pierce its body because the Ziz only has a physical body if it wanted to. Since it is fighting against beings that can easily deal with a physical body, the Ziz opted to use a spiritual body instead as its spiritual body is incredibly sturdy as well. The transcendent spiritual body of the Ziz is enough to even tank hits from mythical tier attacks that deal physical damage without any problem.

"Filthy undead!" The Ziz shouted as its focus shifted to Charon instead of the Valkyries that it was fighting earlier.

The Ziz charged towards Charon in an attempt to kill him in one strike but a slender and fluid like monster suddenly appeared from inside of Charon's body. That monster is none other than Dodu as it utilized the hidden pocket dimension of Charon's body to hide. Dodu suddenly appeared and burst out of the hidden pocket dimension when Charon was about to be attacked. Dodu's suddenly appearance shocked the Ziz, but the latter did not stop in its charge.

"Foolish." Dodu stated in its cute voice as it expanded its body to try and take over the body of the Ziz.

"Argh!" The Ziz screamed as Dodu was actually able to cling onto its body as if it was a physical entity.

Dodu's body is incredibly versatile when its domain has activated as it can not only corrode physical beings but also spiritual ones. Adrian even tried it on an undead that has no physical body and he could see the ghost part being melted. Dodu was able to attach itself onto the Ziz and corrode the defenses of the primordial beast.

The only thing that Dodu has a difficult time corroding is the miasma, but Adrian lent him nether energy to quicken the process. Dodu started to melt the body of the Ziz at an unprecedented pace as parts of its feathers actually started to disintegrate. It might not actually take long for the Ziz to die as long as Dodu does not stop. The Ziz will not take this beating easily though as its eyes glowed and its body burst into numerous feathers once again.

Dodu received some significant damage, but it is still safe as Kanlaon came in for the save. Charon also received some damage, but it was minor enough to almost be nonexistent. Also, Charon and Dodu are Adrian's tank and support tank which means they are sturdier than any of the other soulbounds. Still, the Ziz turning into feathers once again is incredibly painful to deal with but there is now a being that could disrupt it.

A powerful roar shook the heavens as streaks of lightning could be seen on the clouds as it moved. The cloud itself was actually Kimat in his true form as his three heads rained powerful lightning at the Ziz. The feathers that were numerous were all struck by lightning and had to condense back into the form of the Ziz. The Ziz screamed in pain as it actually started falling to the ground because it lost consciousness.

"Quick! Attack it!" Frey shouted as she and the others rushed to try and deal as much damage as they can.

The Valkyries and other guild members attacked the Ziz as it fell down. To their surprise, the Ziz actually fell down to the ground where Charon's chains pinned it down. Dodu once again tried to predate it, and Kimat rained powerful disruptive lightning on it. The other players were shocked at first but join in on the attack as the Ziz was so massive that a player looks like an ant beside it.

Adrian's soulbounds were doing dreadful damage but the other players were wondering where he was. Adrian was not near any of his transformed soulbounds but was still in the island of Avalon. He was not waiting or commanding but groaning in pain. This pain assaulted him when he least expected it as he was about to descend as well.

"It hurts a lot." Adrian shouted as he was already kneeling on the ground.

The pain that Adrian is experiencing is none other than his soul being torn apart as multiple activation of domains affects him since he is connected to all of his soulbounds. The domains might harmonize outwardly but internally they were all fighting against each other. The one feeling that pain is none other than Adrian as his soul houses all of the souls that are currently activating the domains.

Chapter 2087: All Domains Activate III

[Your soul is getting damaged due to the stress of maintaining numerous domains.]

"No wonder the records about domains clashing might injure souls is in bold text. It hurts like hell and hell is real place in this game." Adrian stated as he was unable to stand up as his body felt like exploding.

Adrian's soulbounds were worried about him but he made sure that they needed to defeat the Ziz while their domains are active. Saena embraced her master and released healing winds that could somewhat alleviate the pain he is experiencing due to the damage to his soul. The strengthened Saena could heal even damaged souls which is only due to being affected by her current situation as the guardian of the Tree of Life and Death.

Adrian did not care if he is experiencing great pain as he could see that the Ziz is getting bombarded with numerous attacks from his soulbounds. The Ziz finally crashed to the ground where the other players started to attack it. The domains that kept the power of all three of his soulbounds finally fizzled out as Adrian's soul could no longer bare the damage and had to end the domains early.

"It is recommended for the master to rest for a while." Paradox stated as Adrian wanted to jump downwards to help deal with the Ziz.

The sudden crashing of the Ziz came as a surprise but the players jumped at the opportunity in getting contribution points by damaging the boss monster. As if the players have been possessed, all of them suddenly rushed towards the Ziz without paying attention to the enemies around them. In fact, one might say that they destroyed any enemy that dared to get in their way against the Ziz. The Ziz suddenly opened its eyes as the continuous pain inflicted upon it made it wake up.

Just as the Ziz was about to take flight, a beautiful woman with crimson hair suddenly appeared above it and smiled seductively. Solstice released all of the crimson orbs that she has collected and used it all on the Ziz. The crimson orbs burst out chains made of blood that had spikes on the ends which pierced the Ziz. This made it impossible for the Ziz to suddenly fly away as the chains that bound it switched from Charon's to that of Solstice'.

"Everyone, it is a feast." Solstice stated as this was her favorite line nowadays when she is enjoying the battle too much.

"Make sure to pin it down! Even its soul must be pinned to the ground!" Creepysoo stated as he pushed his mana to the brink and summoned numerous skeletal hands that helped in pinning down the Ziz.

The skeletal hands were not the only ones that held the Ziz down as even ghostly hands that grab at the soul pinned it. This made it even more difficult for the Ziz to suddenly fly as these ghostly hands could rip up parts of its soul if the enemy is not careful. Creepysoo even exchanged some of his life force to cast this spell as his mana literally ran out.

"Moon! Here my call!" The voice of Peridot sounded as the clouds parted away to reveal the large moon that released large chunks of it and landed directly onto the Ziz.

"I am the Storm!" Vayu shouted as his form shifted to his full elemental form.

"I am the Sun!" Soleil shouted as she also transformed to her full elemental form which gave an enhanced appearance even to her elementals.

Vayu flashed across the battlefield and helped in pinning down the Ziz as his lightning pierced one of the wings of the enemy. Soleil did the same as she used the enhanced power of Regulus and Kitsu to plunge flaming spears at the other wing. The other players also helped in incapacitating the Ziz as some opted to bound its talons.

"I guess, I should finish this." Levin Cloud stated as he transformed to his true form and became one with the soil itself.

Levin Cloud then moved the soil like a tidal wave in an attempt to bury the Ziz below the ground. This was one of the surefire ways to weaken the enemy as inscribed in the books. The Ziz looked at the incoming land crashing upon it and recovered its sanity momentarily. There was some delight in the heart of the Ziz that it would be sealed once again and have no power to hurt anyone but the miasma inside of it has other plans.

The miasma that polluted the Ziz has already transcended the likes of being a virus as it has already attacked to its soul. This meant that even if it is killed, the Ziz will always have this miasma stuck on its soul and it will never find peace. The only guaranteed way to stop the Ziz is to seal it, but it will have a chance to recover as time passed just like last time. The Ziz did not care though as long as it is stopped since it might actually destroy the world if it is fully affected by the miasma.

"No!" The split entity born from the miasma affecting the Ziz stated as it fully took over the body of the Ziz.

The players thought that the Ziz was trying to escape when they saw it fidgeting but it was actually fighting against its split entity. Unfortunately, the split personality overpowered the main one and unleashed the forbidden move only usable by the primordial beasts.

"Derecho!" The Ziz shouted as its body exploded into wind elemental energy.

The burst of energy was so potent that it blasted all beings away by about fifty meters. The ones near the Ziz were damaged horribly as some even lost their limbs. This powerful burst of wind energy is not without its downsides though as the Ziz lost 20% of its maximum health just by casting it. Still, it was able to escape the bonds that tied it and reformed its damaged body.

Chapter 2088: Burning Miasma

Enemy Boss: Ziz

HP: 45%

MP: 65%

The Ziz finally dropped to half its health, but it was mostly due to it using a powerful skill that also damages it. The Ziz suddenly that wanted to run away suddenly burst out in miasma as its split personality no longer wants to just get the territory but destroy everything in the area. The area suddenly got filled with more miasma than every as the Ziz is using the miasma to steal the life force of every being in the area.

"For a being that is tainted by miasma for thousands of years, you are very immature." A female voice that is a bit low and monotone stated, and it came from none other than one of the members of the Pantheon guild.

"Hexy! Do not antagonize it!" Creepysoo stated as he is about to pull Hexy to safety.

"I can finally use one of my skills that has been sealed for so long. I never thought that a place could have miasma this thick. Cursed World: Awakening of the Black Fairy!" Hexy stated as she suddenly released a burst of miasma as well, but it was different to the dark fog that the Ziz has released.

Hexy has joined the guild not only because she has similar interests to Creepysoo, but she was actually in search of a place filled with miasma. She also liked that the guild gives everyone freedom to explore which she liked as she does not like being with other people as much. She does like the guild members though as they do not think or look down on her for her interests. She had the skill Cursed World: Awakening of the Black Fairy ever since she started the game. She already had unlocked four of the five things needed to fully use it, but the last one proved to be a challenge. She needed to be in a place filled with harmful miasma that endangers lives. She thought that the Undead Citadel would be that place but the miasma there was gentle as they were baptized by the God of Death Abaddon.

She even asked their guild leader to take her to a world filled with miasma but even he told her that might be impossible. It is not that Adrian could not help her, but all the places filled with miasma that he was in are already purified. Hexy did blame her guild master as he promised to take note of places like that, and Adrian did. He was able to give Hexy a list of places with miasma, but those places were not enough to trigger her skill until now.

The miasma that the Ziz released was so deadly that her last condition was suddenly unlocked. The Ziz saw the egg inside of Hexy's body and was terrified of it. The Ziz burned through its miasma to try and kill Hexy as she was actually something that was the natural threat to beings like him that is now mostly made of miasma. Most of the players were incapacitated as the miasma was too heavy and they were filled with numerous status ailments and status debuffs.

"I will protect you!" Creepysoo stated as he called upon all his undead knights.

"Thank you." Hexy stated as she suddenly became a black chrysalis.

"Impossible! Your species should have been erased from existence!" The Ziz stated but the voice was vastly different as if it was another being entirely.

"Everyone, stop it even if it costs your life." Creepysoo stated as the Ziz was terrified of what Hexy would become but it was actually the start.

The miasma in the area suddenly started to get absorbed by the dark chrysalis. The thick miasma in the area suddenly started to recede as all of it was going towards the dark chrysalis. This also meant that the players started to recover from their status debuffs and status ailments. The life force that was supposed to be stolen from them is being returned as the miasma that is supposed to carry it went towards the dark chrysalis.

"Everyone! Protect Hexy!" Solstice shouted in command.

"I do not know what it is happening but protect the dark chrysalis." Most of the players shouted as they believed that protecting what is helping them is the correct thing to do.

"Stop getting in the way, insects!" A darker voiced Ziz stated as it released powerful wind blades to try and stop the beings targeting it.

"Reversal!" Kabrakan shouted as he tanked most of the wind blades and sent it back towards the Ziz.

The Ziz had to dodge its own attack as it would hurt it because of the sheer power it used. Still, the Ziz pushed through as it is becoming closer to the dark chrysalis. Just as it was in the fifty-meter mark, blood weapons started raining down and Solstice covered in shadows and bloody dress pierced the back of the Ziz. She was now in her full battle mode as she even drank the special blood of her brother to activate this form.

Solstice had white highlights on her crimson hair as the Asmodian blood in her body was activated. She felt extremely ecstatic as if every life in the area will bow down to her. She could even manipulate the blood to such a great extent that creating weapons only took a second. She knew that Hexy might become the trump card they need as the Ziz never reacted this strongly towards any of them before.

"Get away, you inferior Asmodian descendant!" The dark voiced Ziz stated as it spun like a screw while in the air.

"Storm Blade!" Vayu shouted as he appeared in a flash of lightning and struck the Ziz.

The Ziz was paralyzed momentarily as the effects of the lightning are more powerful than expected. The Ziz being stunned for about two seconds is all that they needed as Regulus and Kitsu suddenly attacked it. Regulus bit the Ziz by the leg while Kitsu used its tails to bind one of the wings

Chapter 2089: Awakening of the Black Fairy

Hexy first encountered the Cursed Egg in the Town of Genesis. She found it because she was digging and searching spots that people said is cursed. She found a small, cursed shrine that held a small flower bud, but it was called the Cursed Egg. As soon as she grabbed the Cursed Egg, the cursed entered her body and the series of quests were received in her end. The quests made her even more of a loner which made her even more isolated, but she actually found solace and fun when she entered the Pantheon guild.

This time, a fortuitous encounter happened to her as the area filled with miasma came to her instead of her finding it. She felt incredibly hot as her body started to change and even her soul as well. She could feel the powerful curse energy of the miasma seeping into her body and empowering her. She felt incredibly joy and bliss as her body started to get strengthened to a great degree.

The Ziz, on the other hand, tried to destroy the dark chrysalis as it feared the being that would sprung out from it. The only problem is that there were numerous beings trying to stop it. The Ziz could easily kill them but that would mean it would lose precious time. The beings were not even trying to kill but buying time for the dark chrysalis to open.

"My miasma! All of it is getting sucked inside of that thing! I must retreat!" The dark entity that hid incredibly well inside the Ziz thought.

This hidden entity even took the form of the Ziz' split personality and made sure to influence the primordia beast. This was the will of the distorted wind god that the Ziz defeated back then. The distorted wind god no longer remembers anything of its origins as it only preserved it's a small chunk of its power when it tainted the Ziz. Fearing the entity that will emerge from the dark chrysalis, the Ziz moved its body to escape as all of its miasma will be devoured at this rate.

"Why can't I move?!" The split entity of the Ziz stated as its body no longer started to listen to it fully because the real entity of the Ziz is starting to wake up.

"Did you think that I will let you escape when there is now a way to destroy you?! I always thought you were a part of me born from all my negative emotions, but you were an invasive parasite all along." The real Ziz stated as it prevented its body from escaping.

"If I die then you will die as well! The split entity stated.

"I am ready for death as I will just reform once again. If you get extracted from my body, then I will reform without you which is why we must die here. You will be erased from existence by the existence that can bend curses." The Ziz stated as it might have also known of the being that Hexy is starting to become.

"No!" The split entity of the Ziz shouted but a large being with a sword suddenly came crashing down towards the primordial beast.

The sword that stabbed the Ziz was none other than Adrian primordial sword armament which made the enemy scream in pain. The damage of the sword was not physical at all as Adrian pierced directly through the soul of the Ziz. He looked a bit exhausted, but he was still able to recover and pin the Ziz down to the ground.

"Did I miss something?" Adrian asked as he tried plunging his sword more, but the Ziz was able to release a fierce blast of miasma with its mouth.

"Summon: Light Crest Swan - Defense Mode!" Adrian stated quickly as an image of the Light Crested Swan burst forth and created a barrier made of light that protected him and the others from the sudden burst of miasma.

[The world is celebrating!]

[A species thought to have disappeared is once again being born.]

World messages suddenly started to get received by the players as the dark chrysalis which held Hexy started to open. A burst of dark light exploded in the area which nullified the remaining miasma of the Ziz. Hexy emerged from the dark chrysalis in a new form that made even the quirky Creepysoo blush.

[The Black Fairy has returned to the world.]

Hexy's appearance changed drastically to the point that no one would even say that she resembles her. The dreary cloth that covered her dark and dreary hair suddenly turned into silk veil that shined like the dark skies with stars. Her dark purple robe that looked worn down turned into a beautiful black dress that has the same motif as her veil. Dark purple butterflies flew around her as this was her aura manifesting into reality.

The most notable thing that changed is the fact that she suddenly grew four insect like wings. The insect like wings looked like it was made of darkness or shadows and collected fragments of light to make a translucent film. The Hexy that would be described as an ugly witch in her normal attire suddenly transformed into a beautiful dark butterfly goddess.

"Impossible! The Curse Wielders have returned! We wiped out all of your species!" The split entity of the Ziz shouted as the distorted gods did wipe out the Black Fairy Species because they were able to naturally wield miasma.

"I finally achieved my race change. I should give you something as thanks for making it possible." Hexy stated in her same rough voice. Her appearance might change but her way of speaking will not.

"Cursed World: Lepidopterarium!" Hexy stated as the miasma in the surrounding suddenly rumbled.

The miasma that the Ziz released suddenly turned pleasant and manifested into dark purple butterflies. Even the miasma leaking out of the Ziz were being transformed as Hexy had free reign over any type of miasma in her area. She collected all of the miasma until the Ziz was almost dried of it.

Chapter 2090: The Ziz Perishes

The dark purple butterflies attached themselves to the body of the Ziz and absorbed more miasma from it. Hexy might be the new Black Fairy but even she has just been technically born. Her face could be seen struggling but she did her best as this was a chance to earn extra stat points. She needed lots of miasma so that she can convert it into extra stat points for herself.

"Even if you suck me dry of miasma, you will never get rid of me!" The split entity of the Ziz stated.

"I have a better plan as we are in the territory of the Mediator of Death! I have already sent a telepathic message to him of what needs to happen." The real Ziz stated as the split entity of the Ziz tried its last struggle in order to live.

"It is ready, brat. Hurry!" Elder Ascalor stated as the magic circle was already ingrained inside of Adrian's head.

"I cannot hold on any longer." Hexy stated as she was the one absorbing the miasma that was overflowing from the Ziz.

"Release all of your ultimate skills on it as soon as possible!" Adrian shouted as all of his guild members, but also other players did as well.

The entire area where the Ziz was buried in flashes of different colored lights as numerous ultimate skills were used. Adrian had to transform into his mirror demon form to avoid the confusing burst of lights as he skillfully created the magic circle needed to transfer the Ziz. All of the players used their powerful skills, but they were only able to deplete the health of the Ziz to 10% but that was enough for Adrian.

The Ziz was weakened to a great degree that forcibly transporting it was now possible. As soon as the Ziz was unable to repel the force of being teleported, Adrian activated the magic circle and vanished along with the weakened primordial beast. All the players were shocked that they disappeared but the guild leaders and even the Avalon channel was given an explanation. They were told that the Ziz was transferred to a sealed location under the ground for it to truly meet its end.

"There are still flying monsters running about! Those that want contribution points should kill them!" Solstice' voice was heard by every player that wanted points and the fight for first place blazed once again.

"You, okay?" Creepysoo asked as he helped Hexy had difficulty standing from overexerting herself when it was clearly her first time using her new form.

"I am a bit tired, but you are getting red. You must also be having a difficult time." Hexy stated but Creepysoo's face was not red because he was tired, and it was because of something else.

"Where have you taken me?!" The split entity of the Ziz stated as its body has become small enough to fit inside one of the floating islands.

"Gravity Field!" All Three Daemos Elders stated simultaneously as the body of the Ziz pressed down on the ground.

Th Ziz tried looking for a way out, but the entire area was indeed sealed off. It was a hollow space created by the three elders as specified by Frey. Just as they speculated, the Ziz was weakened even more as it entered the enclosed space under the ground. Adrian did not think that this would entirely work as a floating island is still in the sky, but soil is soil.

"Any last words?" Adrian asked as he changed his form to his twin dagger form and already activated the ultimate skill.

"All of you are idiots. The Blind Idiot God has already seen your reality. It will not be long until all of your demise. If I had succeeded, then this pitiful planet would at least survive. Argh!" The split entity of the Ziz stated but it was followed by a pitiful scream.

"You are too chatty." Adrian stated as he stabbed the first weak point he saw.

"If you kill me then you will also kill this primordial beast! It tried so hard to protect all of you, but you will kill it in return?!" The split entity of the Ziz stated.

"The real Ziz already accepted its fate in return for me eradicating you from its body." Adrian stated.

"Ha! You cannot kill me! I am already bound to this one's soul! Even if you are the Mediator of Death, you will not be able to erase me from this being's soul!" The split entity of the Zis stated.

"I see. I guess you have never met my weapon until now. It has a great function of specifically targeting souls." Adrian stated as he showed his primordial twin dagger armament to the Ziz. "How do you have that!" The split entity of the Ziz stated in shock as it saw the weapons in Adrian's hands.

"Hurry up, brat! We are also maintaining the barrier and magic circle while using Gravity Field!" Elder Ascalor complained.

"Sorry! I just need to stab there. In the area where that foul darkness is attached in the soul." Adrian stated as he walked menacingly towards the area where the distorted god's miasma was clinging to the soul of the Ziz.

"This cannot be! No mortal should have those weapons even if they are sealed!" The split entity of the Ziz shouted in jumbled words which made Adrian unable to understand fully but it seems that this entity knows about his weapons.

"I would have asked it but asking enemies is foolish." Adrian stated as he finally killed the Ziz, but he took a mental note that some distorted gods might know about his armaments.

[The Ziz has finally laid to rest.]

[Experience points and contribution points will be given to those that participated.]

[You have gained +1 to your Divinity for eradicating a parasitic divine entity.]

"I guess, it really was a distorted god. Anyways, time to focus on the restoration of my territory." Adrian stated as he thanked the elders for their hard work after they collected the loot from defeating the Ziz.
