

O Summoner 2111

Chapter 2111: A Forgotten Time God's Relic

"Are you sure? There are other things that you might need. Maybe pick another one as we can just give you that one for free." The Fairy King stated as he became this generous because of the vial of Pure Water.

"Is that fine? I do not want to impose." Adrian asked.

"It is fine as you can see that most of the things here are just lying around. You can easily tell that we have no use for most of these stuff as we do not really care much about earthly things." The Fairy King insisted.

"If that is the case then, can you give me a recommendation? I only need things that is related to Origin Magic." Adrian stated.

"Oh! I remember something that might be useful for you. I picked this up a hundred years ago from a strange merchant in a continent shrouded with mystery." The Fairy King stated but the Fairy Queen suddenly looked at him with a glare.

"Tell me, when was this? I do not remember giving you permission for going out a hundred years ago." The Fairy Queen stated as her eyes could be seen glaring.

"You might not remember it, my queen... but you did give me permission. Anyways, here is the item." The Fairy King stated as he presented Adrian with an hourglass that is cracked.

"You are giving him a broken item?" The Fairy Queen stated as she was suddenly feeling ashamed that they are giving the mediator things that can be considered trash.

"Actually, this item is perfect." Adrian stated as he almost had his eyes bulge from the details of the item.

==

Item Name: A Forgotten Time God's Relic

Item Tier: Mythical

Item Type: Skill Giving Item

Item Effect:

-An item that can give the user a Temporal skill depending on the results of the trial.

-This item can give only one skill to the user and will vanish upon use. Giving up on the trial will also count as consumption and the item will vanish forever.

-Minimum Skill tier: Epic

-Maximum Skill tier: Mythical

Description: A relic that came from a defeated Time God. It is said to house his wish to grow the beings that worshipped it which is why it gives skills to those that pass the trial. It looks like a broken hourglass, but it is actually a treasure only those fated with it can use.

Restriction: The skill learned from this relic cannot be transferred to a skill scroll as it will be bound to the user.

==

"It is just a broken item that leaks faint traces of temporal magic. Are you sure about this, mediator?" The Fairy Queen asked Adrian.

"Can you not see it for what its worth?" Adrian asked.

"All I see is a broken hourglass with faint traces of temporal magic. There are not even magic circles engraved in it." The Fairy Queen stated.

"I can attest to that, guild leader. Maybe you can get another thing instead." Hexy stated as she could not see the item for what it's worth as well.

"This is the only item that has either spatial, temporal, or force energy though." The Fairy King stated as he started to use search magic for things that Adrian might want alternatively.

"I see. It is only something that I can see." Adrian thought as he also felt that way with the Key to Daedalus' Labyrinth.

"Yes, this would be enough for me as I do not need anything else. If you still feel that it is not enough then you can just bring me another item with traces of any of the sub magic of Origin Magic. In return, you can ask a vial of Pure Water every time you give me one." Adrian stated as he felt that he received too much already because the Fairy King and Fairy Queen cannot see the real value of the item.

What Adrian does not realize is it is indeed trash for the fairies. They cannot utilize the items he was given nor recognize its importance. Items related to Origin Magic can only be used by the Daemos as of now. There is no other race that could utilize these items which is why most of them are left undisturbed or as power sources. Adrian would actually be doing them a favor for getting something that they could never use.

"We cannot accept that. Here! Have a Mythical Tier armor as well since the armor that you wear needs to be upgraded." The Fairy Queen stated as she shoved a type of light armor for Adrian.

"We will agree to the vial of Pure Water though but only when we can find things that have origin magic related things on them." The Fairy King added as he seemed to like having some stock of Pure Water.

"But..." Adrian stated.

"No refunds. Please take them as we will feel inadequate if you return them." The Fairy Queen stated as she suddenly released her motherly aura that can make no one reject her.

"Thank you." Adrian stated as he could only agree since he saw the determination in the eyes of the Fairy Queen.

Since Adrian already got a lot of stuff from the vault which he did not expect, all of them returned back to the castle. Adrian asked if Hexy needed anything, but she said that she was fine. She also wanted to spend more time in Aflheim as she was earning the magic of the Black Fairies. Adrian told her to do her best and to also relay the same message to Creepysoo.

Adrian returned to Avalon to check on Wisteria's condition. He thought that she would have emerged by now, but it seems that she was still slumbering. Adrian suddenly felt that Wisteria might become incredibly powerful as she was the longest soulbound to be in that kind of state. Adrian touched the chrysalis and talked to it as he knows that Wisteria can feel his thoughts.

Chapter 2112: Trying the Labyrinth

Adrian returned to see on what Wisteria's situation is now. The chrysalis has no indication that it will open up, but Adrian could feel that Wisteria is in good condition. She seems to be absorbing some kind of power, but he does not know what it is and could only pray that she will be able to evolve safely. Adrian is still a bit afraid that Wisteria will not evolve properly as there are some summoners having soulbounds that do not evolve with the path that they have chosen.

"Since that is the case, I should check on which item I will use first." Adrian stated as he looked at the Key to Daedalus' Labyrinth and the 'A Forgotten Time God's Relic'.

Both of these items give some sort of trial, but the last one will be all used up once he activates it. Adrian looked at the Key to Daedalus' Labyrinth and it really looked like a Rubik's Cube that is made of marble. It looked quite old and dusty that one might think that it is just an old broken toy. Adrian finally decided to look at the labyrinth first because he can just retry as it is always usable.

"Maybe... this is not just the only key available? Maybe there might be more scattered in the world and some players should have them as well. A dungeon that you can transfer to just by having a key is not a normal occurrence. If there are other keys out there then the fact that the labyrinth still exist means that no one has conquered it yet." Adrian thought as he grabbed the relic for five seconds.

Adrian actually felt his surroundings suddenly shift like he was teleporting. The teleportation was not immediate like his spells, but it teleports the user in layers. The first to be transported is the physical body of the key holder and then the rest follows. This must be the reason why it takes five seconds of uninterrupted time in order to be sent to the labyrinth.

[You have arrived at Everchanging Labyrinth.]

"Huh? I thought this was the Key to Daedalus' Labyrinth. Well, anyone could name an item so maybe that old man named the key like he owns the Labyrinth. Adrian stated as he looked around and is a bit disturbed by what he saw.

"Master, we are inside a dungeon." Kenos stated as it was the most proficient of space magic among all of his soulbounds due to its nature.

"To think that such a dungeon is possible." Adrian stated as he could feel that this dungeon is connected to another dungeon.

If Adrian's guess is correct, then the Everchanging Labyrinth is a collection of dungeons stacked together. Adrian could feel numerous types of distinct special spaces stacked against each other. He does not know who or what created the Everchanging Labyrinth, but he is quite sure that this being should at least be at the realm of a god. He even thought that a God of Space created it as only they could bend the laws that well to interweave dungeons together.

[Your identity has been proven due to having the key to the labyrinth even if it is a copy of the master key.]

[You can now start the traversal of the Everchanging Labyrinth.]

[The being that can reach the end of the Everchanging Labyrinth can receive a special item at the depths of the location.]

[Participants can eliminate each other by taking away their key.]

[Those that die by having their key taken away will no longer be allowed to return to the Everchanging Labyrinth.]

[Each floor will have special set of rules that are strictly enforced.]

[If a participant is judged to be cheating or not following the rules then they will receive a warning for the first violation. The punishment for the first violation is 10% stats debuff. Each succeeding violation will increase the duration and severity of the punishment. Please strictly follow the rules of the Everchanging Labyrinth.]

[You are currently on the first floor of the Everchanging Labyrinth.]

[On the first floor of the Everchanging Labyrinth, the participant is not restricted in using any means except for flight. This also extends to summoned monsters or pets when they go over the wall.]

Adrian was bombarded with notifications that he almost wanted it to stop and make a quick exit from the Everchanging Labyrinth. The first floor was actually a hedge maze that spanned in a large area. The way to clear this floor is none other than traversing the hedge maze and finding the stairs to the next destination. Since it is a maze, the destination is the middle of the entire structure.

"Sirius, Kimat, and Dodu find the optimal route. Take one small Dodu each so that we can interact with one another should there be some sort of soul interference in the maze." Adrian commanded as he summoned his three soulbounds as the entrance already separated into three paths.

"Yes, master." The three soulbounds stated but they looked at each other with this eager eyes.

Sirius melted into the shadows and headed towards the left path. He made sure to hide himself as there might be enemies inside the maze. There was no telling what dangers and traps there are which is why he decided to use shadows along the way to test for them. Kimat is different as he went to the middle path and blitzed like lightning. One would think that he would be heavy for his build and size, but he is actually incredibly nimble and fast.

Kimat used his speed to his advantage as he thought that he can just activate the traps but ignore them due to his fast reflexes. Dodu is the opposite as it walked in a normal pace and splits its body when it encounters forks in the path. Dodu would traverse all of the forks and paths in its side compared to Sirius and Kimat's side where they needed to take their time.

Chapter 2113: A Large Hedge Maze

Adrian waited at the entrance with a small Dodu relaying information. He did not need to traverse the maze himself as he could just wait for his soulbounds to do it for him. He was keeping aware of each of his soulbounds location due to Dodu keeping track of everything. The connection via the soul link was still there but another point of view made Adrian help his soulbounds as well.

When his soulbounds could not decide which path to take then he would relay what to choose. He also got reports of enemies inside of the Everchanging Labyrinth. What surprised Adrian was that the enemies were not strong at the first floor. In fact, the enemies were none other than Hedge Bunnies which were level 5 monsters. These monsters were either roaming or laying in ambush via the hedge.

This sudden development made Adrian a bit wary as it might mean that there is already a player or another being (an NPC since the Labyrinth does not discriminate) to be in the upper floors. He might actually be the most current participant of the Everchanging Labyrinth and is lagging behind everybody else. Still, he did not get discouraged as he suddenly got a report from Kimat.

"Master, all my paths lead to a dead end." Kimat stated in a sad tone.

Kimat is sad not because he failed but because there was a contest among the three of them. Well, Dodu does not really understand the competition much, but Sirius and Kimat do. It seems that Kimat has become a bit too confident in itself and challenge the older soulbounds to a contest. The first one that finds the exit will win. Adrian did not know what the winner will get as the soulbounds themselves seem to decide on that.

"If that is the case then you can circle back to the start and check on the paths that the other two have yet to traverse." Adrian stated as he cared more about completing the first floor of the Everchanging Labyrinth.

"Since master says so." Kimat stated in a rather happy but naughty tone.

Kimat returned to the start like lightning and blitzed to the left side where Sirius was searching. Dodu did not need any help in searching for paths as it just split itself when the path forks about. Adrian could also feel that Kimat is being a bit mischievous which is why he also chose the path that Sirius used.

Adrian needed to complete the first floor because he found out another special set of instructions and that is in exiting the Everchanging Labyrinth. Adrian tried activating the return function of the key and another set of rules suddenly popped up. He suddenly felt that the Everchanging Labyrinth is such a rule heavy place to explore.

[You wish to exit the Everchanging Labyrinth. Exiting without saving on the gate point before each floor will negate all the progress that you have made and refresh the floor.]

[Do you still wish to exit?]

Adrian is now told that all the progress he made will vanish when he exits without a gate point. He could understand that the gate point might be where the stair to the next floor is located. If he exits without finding the stairs to the next floor is then the maze that he tried to traverse will reset. The floor resetting means he will be returned to the start of the maze.

"I think I now know why the name is the Everchanging Labyrinth. It is not because it changes always but it changes whenever one gives up midway through. The rules basically tell you to finish one floor before exiting out of the Everchanging Labyrinth." Adrian muttered as he saw two sad looking soulbounds return back to the start line.

"All of it is a dead end." Sirius stated with his ears going down and his tail swaying slowly

"To think that I am this unlucky. I wanted to win against big bro." Kimat stated as it plopped to the ground.

"Since the paths that both of you chose are not the correct one, Dodu can lead the way." Adrian stated as Dodu gave the best route that it has taken.

Sirius and Kimat were no longer competitive as they already accepted that they have lost. They do not want to blitz the path that Dodu take as it was just a small child unlike them that are older. They still view Dodu as a Baby Slime even though it is now a different kind of monster. To the both of them, Dodu will be like the small younger sibling that they will spoil.

"Master, it seems that I have reached the end of my path. I did not see any stairs or gate though as it just opened up to another maze." Dodu stated.

Adrian managed to catch up to the Dodu that found the next maze. Adrian and the others waited for the other smaller Dodu to return as the next maze suddenly opened up to two paths. Adrian wanted to exit the Everchanging Labyrinth, but all his progress will be lost. They might need to traverse the first floor once again as it will definitely change.

"Let us quickly finish this as we already spent one day traversing the previous one. I only have six hours of in game time left before I get forcefully logged out." Adrian stated as he commanded Sirius and Kimat to blitz the paths.

This time, he had Dodu split into two with it riding both Sirius and Kimat. Dodu would then split its body when they encounter split paths. The soulbounds traversed the second maze and saw new monsters called Hedge Goblins that are level 10. The monsters became more powerful as they delve deeper into the maze, but it was still at the beginner level. In the end, Adrian was able to the gate point in under five hours due to the combination of his soulbounds.

[You have saved the First Floor Gate Point to the Everchanging Labyrinth.]

Chapter 2114: Wisteria's New Evolution

[You can now exit the Everchanging Labyrinth and the path to the second floor has been saved.]

[Do you wish to leave the Everchanging Labyrinth?]

"Yes. Leave the Everchanging Labyrinth." Adrian replied as his body and his soulbounds vanished from the Everchanging Labyrinth.

[You have returned to the main world.]

[The Key to Daedalus' Dungeon has been in cooldown. You can use it once more after seven days.]

Adrian and his soulbounds returned back to Avalon without any problems. Adrian looked at the Key to Daedalus' Dungeon to see if there are changes and he could see that the energy that it released vanished as if it was drained. Even if he holds the Key to Daedalus' Dungeon, Adrian is not being sent away or transported to another place. The mysterious energy that shifted the body then soul has vanished and might only recover after seven days.

"Such a mysterious thing." Adrian thought as he suddenly sensed something thug at his soul.

"Master!" A voice that resembled that of Wisteria suddenly echoed inside of Adrian's mind.

"Wisteria?!" Adrian stated as he could see the chrysalis glowing brightly which can also be seen in all of Avalon.

The chrysalis that held Wisteria did not move but it shined in a rather faint light. Not only that, but the entire surrounding of Avalon also suddenly started to smell incredibly pleasant. It was like the entirety of Avalon is suddenly doused with some sort of perfume that has the scent of a flower field. Adrian looked at the chrysalis as it finally showed some sort of reaction.

"Thump"

The chrysalis suddenly started to vibrate as it matched the heartbeat of the one inside. Adrian went closer to check on the chrysalis, and he felt like it was some sort of living heart due to how it reacted. It was like it became a unique organism, but it is actually just Wisteria finally waking up after a long time sleeping. Adrian touched the chrysalis, and he suddenly recovered all the soul link that he had with Wisteria.

A wave of emotion and memories suddenly flooded Adrian's brain as Wisteria finally became fully connected once again. Adrian was unable to fully connect with Wisteria during the evolution due to something but now that is restored. He could feel every type of emotion such as happiness and longing when he got reconnected with Wisteria. So much repressed emotions even made him tear up even though he just felt it.

"Master! It feels a bit cramped like I am once again in the state before I met you." Wisteria's voice was transmitted to Adrian via the soul link.

"Wisteria! It is fine. Use your own power to crack the force that is keeping you from awakening." Adrian stated.

The chrysalis suddenly started to move but not in the way that Adrian expected it to. The chrysalis did not break instead parts of it started to peel slowly. The chrysalis was like petals of a flower that slowly unfolded and shrunk as Wisteria's new form could be seen slowly getting revealed. With each petal getting smaller, the scent of flowers became even stronger as it was actually Wisteria's body that releases the pleasant smell.

[The World welcomes another type of species for the Dragon Turtle.]

[The world itself blesses this new type of species for the Dragon Turtle and increases the rank of one of its skills.]

Two world messages greeted the players as it was already customary for new species to be blessed by the world. World messages celebrating the success of summoners evolving their soulbounds were not a rare occurrence. One might even say that summoners are doing the will of the world as they are the ones restoring the species that died off. Still, the world message said Dragon Turtle and the guild leaders already knew who this was as they only know one player that has a dragon turtle.

[Congratulations! Your soulbound, Wisteria, has successfully evolved.]

[Congratulations! Your soulbound, Wisteria, has been blessed by the world. One skill that she has been randomly increased to Mythical Tier.]

[Your soulbound, Wisteria, has transformed from an Arboreal Dragon Turtle to an Immortal Spirit Dragon Turtle.]

[All of the skills that Wisteria had as an Arboreal Dragon Turtle has been transformed to fit its new constitution.]

[Your soulbound, Wisteria, has gained the skill Terra Prima.]

[Your soulbound, Wisteria, has gained the skill Nature's Spirit.]

[Your soulbound, Wisteria, has gained the skill Nature's Immortal Guardian.]

[Your soulbound, Wisteria, has gained the skill Geomancy.]

[Your soulbound, Wisteria, has gained the skill Gomaliel's Domain.]

==

Skill Name: Terra Prima

Skill Tier: Mythical

Skill Type: Passive

Effect:

-Absorb energy from the earth and release it in an aura around the user. This also benefits the allies around the skill holder.

-Each pulse of aura gives the skill holder 10% maximum health shield that can stack up to four times.

-Allies around the skill holder in a twenty-meter radius will receive the same effects.

-The maximum health shield will have the defensive capabilities of the skill holder.

-The skill holder is immune to knockback.

Cast Time: Instant

Cooldown: None

Mana Cost: None

==

Skill Name: Nature's Spirit

Skill Tier: Mythical

Skill Type: Passive

Effect:

-Enables the user to control the ground and all of the nature around them.

-Uses mana in accordance with what the user is controlling.

-Reduces the mana consumed when using spells related to Nature Magic.

Mana Reduction: 50%

Cast Time: Instant

Cooldown: None

Mana Cost: Dependent on the user's control

==

Skill Name: Nature's Immortal Guardian

Skill Tier: Mythical

Skill Type: Passive

Effect:

- Revives the skill holder when they die for the first time in full health and mana.

- Reduces the damage received by all resources by 15%.

- Can revive the user again when they again after the first revival but turns them into a chrysalis. The chrysalis will channel for a duration for the revival of the skill holder. If the chrysalis is destroyed before the complete channel duration, then the skill holder will revive with whatever they have received as health and mana.

Second Revival Channel Duration: 1 minute

Cast Time: Instant

First Death Counter Cooldown: 2 days

Second Death Counter Cooldown: 3 days

Mana Cost: None

==

Skill Name: Geomancy

Skill Tier: Mythical

Skill Type: Passive Stacking and Active

Effect:

- Absorb the power of the earth and increases the defense of the skill holder the longer they are connected to the earth.

- Increases 1% of the skill holder's defenses for each minute that they have a connection to the earth. (This effect lingers for 10 minutes even if the connection has been broken.) (This has a maximum stack count for the skill holder.)

- Increases stamina regeneration when in contact with the earth.

- Summoner Perk: The summoner can receive the effects of this skill when the soulbound is active. The summoner can also receive 10% of the effects even if the soulbound is not on the field but they need to have a connection to the earth.

- When at maximum stacks, the skill holder can use Geothermal Burst. Geothermal Burst deals 1000% of the skill holder's magic damage as true damage but loses all the stacks of the skill.

Maximum Stack: 100

Cast Time: Instant

Cooldown:

Mana Cost: None

==

Skill Name: Gomaliel's Domain

Skill Tier: Mythical

Skill Type: Domain

Effect:

-Activation of this skill will trigger Overgrowth and Life Absorption.

-The skill holder will go into a frenzy and lose 0.001% of their health per second but increases their stats by 500%. -Increases the damage dealt by the skill holder by 300% when this skill is active.

-Skill holder will go in a weakened state when this skill duration has been completed. Loses 50% of their total stats for the duration of the weakened state.

Duration: 1 hour

Weakened state Duration: 3 hours

Cast Time: Instant

Cooldown: 5 days

Mana Cost: None

==

"Wisteria also got a domain skill from the tree inside my soul." Adrian stated as he checked inside of his soul and Wisteria's soul is imprinted on the orbs of the strange tree as well. He has yet to know the extent of this strange thing inside of his soul, but it should not be detrimental since it is a part of him.

[Wisteria has gained the Title: Favored by the World.]

[Wisteria has gained the Title: World Guardian.]

After Adrian assessed the skills, the titles that Wisteria has is something that even he could not ignore. They were titles that the world itself bestowed which meant that every move that Adrian makes is indeed monitored by the will of the world as they say. Adrian once asked the Tree of Life and Death if the world was alive, and the latter answered that the world is indeed like a living being.

==

Title: Favored by the World

Effect:

-Increases the tier of one random skill.

-Increases the stats of the title holder when in the main world by 10%.

-Increases Luck by 10.

Description: Only those that is loved by the world can get this title. Even the world has favoritism.

==

Title: World Guardian

Effect:

-Increases stats by 10%.

-The world can call upon the title holder when it is in trouble.

Description: Only those that is trusted by the world can get this title.

==

Chapter 2115: Activating the Time Relic

Wisteria's appearance is still that of a dragon turtle, but she now looked ethereal. Wisteria's current size is about three meters tall, but she told Adrian that she reduced her size to a tenth of her original. She also said that she could increase her size exponentially when she uses Geomancy which means that she could increase her total size to that of 300 meters if she wishes to do so.

Wisteria's head is now more dragon than turtle as her pink skin tone along with her jade cloudlike eyebrows. Her eyes look like that of a small, scaled world as if she has the actual world in her eyes. The scales at the side of her head looked like the wings of a golden butterfly which elevates her charm and beauty. Her head shape is also slenderer compared to Kanlaon's robust and refined look which extenuates her feminine energy.

Another thing that changed is that her shell now has clouds at the side moving as if it was the ground. The clouds floating around her looked like they were representing the sky while the shell on her back represented the earth or a world. The most interesting thing that changed with Wisteria is the tree on her back changing to become almost the same as the Tree of Life and Death.

The only difference from the Tree of Life and Death is the fact that Wisteria's tree has a pearl like object located at the center where the two different tree looks intertwine. Other than her outer appearance changing drastically, the aura around Wisteria changed as well. She was not a divine beast like Kimat and Saena or a Disaster monster like Sirius and Charon. Wisteria actually exuded the aura that is the same of a primordial beast.

"Master! I am now stronger!" Wisteria stated with great joy as her dream of becoming more powerful has finally been achieved.

"I am glad as well." Adrian stated as he patted Wisteria's head.

The sight of a large dragon turtle monster wagging her tail over a few head pats is such a mind-boggling scene. Adrian is just glad that Wisteria evolved safely as he knew that she might have failed. Adrian is actually quite lucky when evolving his soulbounds, but he has some idea to increase the odds. He has a speculation that the world will increase the odds of evolution when you pick an evolutionary path that has no more living species.

"What are we going to do next, master? I want to test my new strength." Wisteria asked.

"You are going to rest as evolution also takes some form of strain on a monster. When you feel completely fine then we will dive in a dungeon to test your strength." Adrian stated which made Wisteria pout, but the latter always followed master.

Wisteria agreed with Adrian's suggestion as her body was telling her to sleep as if all her stamina was used. She was pushing via willpower which is why she is returned to the soul chamber to rest. The other soulbounds wanted to play with Wisteria but they know the feeling of low stamina upon successful evolution. Evolution does not mean everything will recover as stamina is used for this process.

"Since I have nothing to do for now, I think I need to use this." Adrian stated as he took out the 'A Forgotten Time God's Relic'

The broken hourglass looking relic looked like it was inviting Adrian to use it. He even felt like something was inviting him to use the relic. He knew that this relic still has some form of will as an ordinary relic will not entice the one that has it. He believed that he is the only one that could feel this enticement as he can use temporal magic.

[Do you wish to use the 'A Forgotten Time God's Relic'?]

"Yes." Adrian stated as a powerful wave of energy suddenly enveloped his body, but he was not sent to another place.

Adrian looked around and the world was suddenly frozen in time. Even the Daemos that are immune to temporal shifts were frozen in time. He could even see Old Man Pann frozen in time as he fed his monsters. The entire world was at a standstill and only Adrian was the one that could move.

"I suddenly had a bad feeling about this." Adrian stated as he felt the powerful energy coalescing behind him.

"Greetings, challenger." A hooded spectral being with a giant clock behind him greeted Adrian in this frozen world.

"Greetings to you as well." Adrian replied as he wanted to be polite since the being in front of him managed to make the world stop.

"A demon? To think that a demon would one day do my trial. Such a sad thing that I am only a fragment of my real self as this would have been very entertaining. Regardless, do you wish to participate in my trial?" The hooded spectral being asked.

"Can I know what to call you first?" Adrian asked.

"You can just call me, Time. I may be a fragment of my real self, but I have completely forgotten about what my former self was." Time stated as it genuinely did not remember who it was.

"Thank you, Time. I would like to take the trial." Adrian replied.

"A challenger has been listed in the Rivers of the Cosmos. Equinox is his name." Time stated as a scroll suddenly appeared in front of him and about a thousand mana was taken from Adrian.

The mana that was taken from Adrian is sent to the scroll where his name Equinox is burned as letters. Adrian suddenly felt that the universe became closer as if he was being watched by it. He did not know what he just signed his name onto, but he knew that it will not be an easy journey to complete it.

"With your name in the Temporal Cosmic Scroll, the agreement has been made. I shall now issue the first Temporal Cosmic Challenge." Time stated.

Chapter 2116: Challenging Time I

"The first challenge is simple. Solve the puzzle that is presented before you. You are given two spells that you can use infinitely for this one. There are no time constraints as that is only for beings that are bound by time itself." Time stated as a puzzle that has a million pieces suddenly manifested in front of Adrian.

==

Challenge: Time's First Trial

Mechanics: You are given the Temporal Spells Forward and Reverse. Complete the puzzle before you in order to pass the trial.

Forward: Advances the time of the target.

Reverse: Turns back the time of the target.

Reward: Completing this trial will guarantee you an Epic tier Temporal Skill book

==

[All of your skills and abilities are sealed for the duration of the First trial.]

[You cannot summon your soulbounds for the duration of the First Trial.]

[Connection with your ego weapon is also silenced for the duration of the First Trial.]

"Seriously!" Adrian stated as he could not get the assistance of his greatest partner when it comes to puzzles and that is Paradox.

"The cosmos has judged your ego weapon to be a hindrance in assessing your true capability. As such, the ego weapon connected to you is silenced for the time being." Time stated.

"Objection!" Adrian stated.

"Overruled." Time replied as if it was natural.

"Worth a shot." Adrian stated as he looked at the puzzle pieces.

He looked around to see if there was even a hint of what the pieces looked like when formed completely but there was no visual guide given. He had to piece through millions of pieces on his own in order to complete this trial. He had all the time in the world as the entire world is frozen in time and will not restart unless he completes the trial or gives up.

"No guide?" Adrian tried asking.

"There is no guide for this trial. Fix it on your own." Time stated which made Adrian realize something.

"Thank you for the hint." Adrian stated which made the Time shudder as it realized it suddenly gave a crucial hint.

Time was caught off guard as it did not think that the challenger would ask it a combination of nonsensical and crucial questions. Adrian made sure to do this as soon as he saw the rules of the challenges. A restriction of two spells meant that he could complete the challenge just by using the two and not doing anything else. The challenge itself was already a test of wits and thinking out of the box which is needed when one uses temporal magic.

Temporal Magic is not as straightforward as elemental magic as one would need to be precise but also imaginative at the same time. The puzzle challenge that he is presented is definitely the way to increase both his precision and imagination. This was not just a trial but also a way to train the person doing the trial.

"With the hint that you have given me, I think I have solved it. Reversal!" Adrian stated as he casted Reversal on the entire puzzle.

Adrian could see the millions of pieces suddenly gathering towards one another as the spell continued. He did not feel his mana dwindling as there was no restriction of the usage of the spell since the rules have been set. Adrian made use of the Reversal spell to return the puzzle back to the state where it was complete. He made sure not to go too far back or else the puzzle pieces might turn back to their raw materials instead.

The millions of puzzle pieces swirled around as if a storm of blocks is happening. Adrian could clearly see each puzzle piece coming together bit by bit. He did not lose focus as losing it might make the spell break and all of his progress getting reverted back. All of the puzzle pieces swirled around him, but he did not care as he is just focused on making sure that the puzzle returns to its completed form.

Adrian's face and even arms could be seen having cuts and bruises as the flying puzzle pieces were not made of plastic. The puzzle pieces were made of a material that could easily cut the skin of even the toughest demon. One hour of pure concentration made Adrian revert the puzzle back to its pristine and completed form. The completed puzzle is none other than a large statue of Time itself and it even looked completely identical to it.

[You have passed Time's First Trial.]

[You have secured an Epic Tier skill book.]

[Do you wish to continue with the trial or exit it?]

"I wish to continue the trial." Adrian replied as Time clapped his hands.

"Masterfully done, Equinox. Even if you are a demon that has the ability to manipulate time already, the concentration that you have shown is something noteworthy. Albeit, you may have gotten a hint due to a technicality." Time stated.

"I completed the trial within the confines of the rules. I did not cheat or get any hint that I was not supposed to." Adrian stated with a smile which made Time laugh creepily as it looked like it enjoyed itself.

"You are even more mischievous than the previous beings that failed at my trial. Do you wish to proceed to the next trial?" Time stated with a tone of joy, but Adrian did not know this surely as he cannot see the face hidden behind the hood.

"Yes, we can proceed to the next trial." Adrian replied.

[You will now undergo the next trial.]

[All previously sealed skills and abilities will not be unsealed.]

[Your soulbounds are still unable to be summoned.]

[You have also been given the opportunity to still use the Forward and Reverse skill.]

"Time for the second trial!" Time stated as he reached out his hand into the void and ripped it apart. A slime like being crawled out of the ripped space and then started to transform its body.

Chapter 2117: Challenging Time II

==

Challenge: Time's Second Trial

Mechanics: You are given the Temporal Spells Forward and Reverse. Defeat the enemy that is presented in front of you.

Forward: Advances the time of the target.

Reverse: Turns back the time of the target.

Reward: Completing this trial will guarantee you a Legendary tier Temporal Skill book

==

"You need to defeat this little one here." Time stated as the slime like monsters suddenly morphed perfectly to become like Adrian.

The body of the slime mimicked Adrian but one can truly see that it is an inferior copy. The slime itself still looked like the color of the slime as Adrian is not a shade of dark brown. Even the equipment that Adrian had is copied perfectly except that it is in a shade of light and dark brown as well.

[You have been copied by an Ultra Mimic Slime.]

[The Ultra Mimic Slime has been enhanced by Time just for this combat.]

==

Monster Name: Ultra Mimic Slime

Monster Tier: Legendary

Monster Species: Ultra Mimic Slime

Monster Race: Slime

Health: 100%

Mana: 100%

Description: A slime that is said to mimic any being that it copies. It is said that it can copy even the exact same spell that the target it mimics will cast. One must be able to be confident in defeating themselves as it will also copy the weakness of the being it copied. Another way to defeat is have it copy another person while one of your party members defeats it using the weakness they know of.

Never attack this monster alone as it is said to produce high casualty rate since it has infinite stamina.

==

"You just need to defeat a copy of yourself." Time stated as it floated away as Adrian and the Ultra Mimic Slime looked at each other to start the battle.

Adrian even brought out his sword armament, but the Ultra Mimic Slime managed to copy it as well. The armament was not like his real one, but it acted completely similar. Adrian knows that his armaments could not be imitated by monsters that can mimic but it seems that the Ultra Mimic Slime is enhanced by Time to do just that. Since they are now in a suspended animation space, Time has complete control over everything that happens and can easily bend the laws of nature as well.

"So, this is the true power of a Time God. They can bend the laws of nature while time is frozen. No wonder they were decided to be killed first by the enemy. The scariest thing is that they were killed even with this ability." Adrian thought as he clashed with the Ultra Mimic Slime a couple of times.

The Ultra Mimic Slime was just like its name as it perfectly copied Adrian's attack and attack patterns to the point that he was getting parried. The Ultra Mimic Slime is not like his inner demons that fought him as they usually have the upper hand. The Ultra Mimic Slime is a perfect copy of him to counter him as it somehow has the preset condition to copy Adrian without a problem as if it has precognition.

"Let us check with these attacks then." Adrian stated as he once again attacked the Ultra Mimic Slime, but he added feints in his attack pattern.

Adrian looked like he was going to attack the head, but he was actually going for the shoulder. He executed this perfectly and even opened his own head to be attacked. If the Ultra Mimic Slime does copy everything then Adrian will know with this. As Adrian changed his sword's path, the Ultra Mimic Slime did as well and did not even go for his vulnerable head. The clash of swords could be heard as Adrian and the Ultra Mimic Slime were once again at odds using the same attack.

He tried another tactic as well by adding two additional feints. Adrian easily added feints into his attack pattern and used the way the Ultra Mimic Slime copied him. As soon as he was about to reach the neck of the Ultra Mimic Slime via his sword, Adrian drops it, and the Ultra Mimic Slime actually did so as well. Without any warning, Adrian made a punch that actually landed on the face of the Ultra Mimic Slime, but he was also punched as well.

"Ouch! Reversal!" Adrian stated as he casted Reversal on himself to heal the wounds he received.

The Ultra Mimic Slime copied what Adrian did as well and healed itself using Reversal perfectly. The fight is once again back to the start as both of them are back to full health. The only difference is that Adrian can now see the dreaded future that awaits him. Unlike him that used mana to heal himself, the Ultra Mimic Slime did not use any.

"That is not fair." Adrian stated as he pointed towards the Ultra Mimic Slime, but the latter also did the same.

The Ultra Mimic Slime copied all of his gestures and mannerisms but never used any resources. This must be another enchantment used by Time to enhance the monster before them. Adrian would have definitely won if the mana of the Ultra Mimic Slime will also be used up whenever it uses spells. Temporal Magic is tricky since being inexperienced will make one use more mana than one will want to.

"That is the test, Equinox. You must defeat a perfect copy of your actions and self that is enhanced by myself." Time stated as it believed that Adrian will never complete this trial.

Time has issued the same rules for every trial, and no one has ever passed this second one. A Legendary Temporal Skill book is something that is already in the realm of gods should they completely master it which is why the second test has such high difficulty. All of the challengers have already conceded and just accepted the Epic tier skill book as a reward because they could not defeat the Ultra Mimic Slime. They could not defeat the copy of themselves despite their determination.

The Ultra Mimic Slime cannot speak which means only the challenger side can quit the battle. Some even tried to prolong the fight by taking time to rest but they all succumbed to mental fatigue. Being inside an area where time is suspended is not healthy for the mind. One would miss all the vices that they do and the hobbies that they are already accustomed of doing. Time believed that such is true even for demons as even they need to be in their usual routine or else they will lose their sanity.

"I think I have an idea. Still, an opportunity like this has never presented itself before. I will gladly use this for training." Adrian stated as his inner battle junkie suddenly flared up. Adrian started attacking the Ultra Mimic Slime once more but this time he was not doing any feints. He was attacking the enemy using his usual attack patterns. Time was frozen in place as he thought that Adrian has finally lost his mind. He could see the demon attacking the Ultra Mimic Slime and uttering 'Oh! So, that is the weakness' while smiling like a crazed battle maniac.

Of all the challengers that he greeted, Time has never seen anyone that will willingly attack the Ultra Mimic Slime just to see their own weaknesses. A lot of beings prefer to never know their weakness as they fear that knowing it will make others use it as weapons against them. This is his first time seeing another being using an enhanced Ultra Mimic Slime as its training partner. Adrian even used every armament in his possession to test everything.

"Such a shame. If only I could use my soulbounds then I would have tested more." Adrian stated but Time suddenly looked tired looking at him.

"Does this mean that you concede, Equinox?" Time asked as Adrian did not attack the Ultra Mimic Slime for a long time.

"Oh! I was just resting while I congregated the useful data that I got from battling myself. I am not giving up because I have already solved the trial once again." Adrian stated which made Time look at him with interested eyes except he cannot see Time's eyes due to the hood. "Reversal!" Adrian stated as the target for Reversal was the Ultra Mimic Slime.

Just like the Adrian, the Ultra Mimic Slime used Reversal on Adrian. Time thought that Adrian was doing something futile, but he did not stop using it on the enemy and he had no thought of stopping. The scene of the two beings reversing time on themselves looked incredibly funny as Adrian walked backwards but that is also the case for the Ultra Mimic Slime. Adrian reversed the time up to the point that the Ultra Mimic Slime was unsummoned from the rift as it returned back to where it came from. Time laughed heartily as someone finally solved the second trial that no one has ever done so before.

Chapter 2118: Challenging Time III

"You are the first one to actually attempt such a thing. A lot of people would not even attempt what you did as they are in fear of empowering the enemy even more. Only those that are crazy enough to think of a solution like that is able to triumph against the second trial." Time stated.

Adrian did not know whether he should be happy for the praise or be offended from being called crazy. In fact, the word crazy would not have been in the dictionary of Time if Adrian did not go full on battle junkie. Time would have told him that he was ingenious and observant if he just started with the Reversal spell from the get-go. He will never know that as he did show a side of him that is a bit strange to say the least.

[You have passed Time's Second Trial.]

[You have upgraded your Epic Tier skill book to a Legendary Tier Skill book.]

[Do you wish to continue with the trial or exit it?]

"I wish to continue with the next trial." Adrian replied.

"The third trial is something that no one has yet to do. Let the next trial begin!" Time stated as if it was hastening the process.

[All of your stats have been restored back to the original.]

[All skills and abilities that are sealed have been restored.]

[You can now use your soulbounds once again.]

==

Challenge: Time's Third Trial

Mechanics: Combat

Reward: Completing this trial will guarantee you a Mythical tier Temporal Skill book

==

[Congratulations! You have passed the third trial!]

"Huh?!" Adrian stated as he was suddenly given a congratulatory message even though he expected a fight.

[Due to you being the first to reach Time's Third Trial, you have automatically been given the win.]

"Congratulations, Equinox!" Time stated as it pulled out a party popper from somewhere and used it to create a small party explosion that was a bit lackluster.

"I am suddenly confused." Adrian stated.

"You are the first to reach this stage of my trial in all of the beings that tried it as of now. It is not just one relic that is scattered but hundreds of them. The trial was supposed to be a battle with someone that has completed the trials prior to you but you immediately cleared it as you are the first." Time stated which made Adrian finally realize it.

[You have cleared Time's Third Trial.]

[An avatar of you will now be there to stand against the next challengers.]

[The copied avatar of you will be replaced once it has been defeated by another challenger.] [You have upgraded your Legendary Tier skill book to a Mythical Tier Skill book.]

[Due to being the first one to clear Time's Third Trial, you have been given a special Mythical Tier skill book where you can choose which skill you want in that tier.]

[The Mythical Tier Skill Book that you choose will vanish from the drops as it will only be obtainable by you in Time's Trials.]

"Nice!" Adrian stated as he suddenly felt something scan him.

A silhouette of Adrian and his soulbounds appearing before him and disappearing was seen for a second. He could clearly tell that was the copy of him that the challengers will battle should they reach the third trial. In fact, future challengers that were clever and lucky enough to clear the second trial will all cry upon facing the demon of the third trial. Some even created a thread in the Forums calling it 'The Demon Trial'.

"Here is the special Mythical Skill Book catalogue where you can choose the skill that you want. Pick wisely as this is a once in a lifetime chance as not many can pick a mythical tier skill book." Time stated as Adrian was presented with the lists of temporal related skills.

Adrian could see that there were at least fifty skills in the catalogue which meant that he could choose from a lot of them. The skill books presented by Time were even quite unknown even for Adrian despite being knowledgeable about temporal spells. Some spells have restrictions and conditions even which made him look past them as he disliked skills with lots of needed conditions.

Adrian made sure to check each skill book as there was no time limit in picking. Time did not make him pick faster as well as they do have all the time in the world since it is suspended. Adrian grouped the fifty spells into four categories. The first category are the offensive spells which numbered to twenty. They were very powerful as they are mythical tier spells but almost all of them have specified conditions.

The second category he did are the defensive spells and there were fifteen of them. They were akin to life saver spells that can turn the tides of battle, but they have vast mana resource needed to cast. Some can only trigger in specific conditions as well which makes them difficult to use. The third category he grouped them up is the movement spells.

The temporal movement spells were godlike if Adrian had to describe them. You can move in suspended time or do something else while dealing a decent amount of damage. The only problem for them is the mana cost needed and the cooldown. Mythical Temporal spells are not something anyone could continuously use. The movement mythical tier temporal spells are about ten in quantity.

The last category that Adrian grouped them up is Passive or Miscellaneous skills. Each of them is incredibly versatile and useful but they require synergy. What Adrian meant by synergy is that one must have existing temporal spells to even make them useful. Luckily for Adrian, he can easily use temporal spells due to him being a demon which makes this restriction nothing to him.

"I will pick this one." Adrian stated as he picked the one that caught his eye because Paradox and even something inside of him told him to pick that one.

Chapter 2119: Temporal Walker

"You chose this one? Such a wise decision because you already have a part of its whole. I would have said that it is quite a cheat for you to receive this skill book without problems, but you have earned it. Time will always tell, I suppose." Time stated.

Time then created a small clock in front of Adrian. This small clock suddenly started to have its hands spin out of control as if it was broken. After the hands of the small clock stopped spinning, a sudden small explosion happened, and a skill book appeared in front of Adrian. Adrian grabbed the skill book as he could not believe that he got this skill almost for free.

==

Skill Name: Temporal Walker

Skill Tier: Mythical (Can be evolved when merged with other related skills)

Skill Type: Origin Magic Passive Skill

Effects:

The skill bearer will have 30% less mana consumption when using skills or abilities relating to Origin Magic.

An Additional lesser 10% resource consumption is utilized for Temporal Magic Related skills. The skill bearer will have 10% less cooldown reduction for all skills relating to Temporal Magic.

All skills relating to Origin Magic has a 10% chance of not going on cooldown.

All skills relating to Origin Magic has a 5% chance to ignore the resource consumption.

Enables the user to store one Temporal Magic skill that can be used immediately without resource cost. (2 hours cooldown) (Cooldown is not affected by this skill.)

Mana Cost: None

Cast Time: None

Cooldown: None

Note: This skill is only one of three parts. Collect the other two skills in order to unlock or evolve this skill to the next tier.

==

"Thank you." Adrian stated even though he did not need to do so.

"That is the end of my trial. Finally, this shard of me can now rest. Should you find another relic made from my old self, that version of me shall never have met you. Farewell, Equinox. May Time always be at your control." Time stated as its hooded spectral body faded away.

The world that was suspended in time finally flowed back again. Adrian could see everyone moving once again as they never noticed that time literally stopped or at least some did not notice. The three elders appeared before him and even Old Man Pann's gaze could be felt. They were able to sense the great disturbance in the time stream and it all pointed towards Adrian himself.

"What did you do this time, brat?" Elder Ascalor stated as he was both angry and worried for Adrian.

"I can explain." Adrian stated as he moved to a different location with the elders, and they heard his explanation.

"A relic powerful enough to stop the entire world's time without harming the time stream!" Elder Koronn stated with great curiosity.

"This is a major find for us. If there are still relics like that from the dead gods, then it might be useful for us to gather them." Elder Bronx stated.

"I agree as well but even the kid only got it by luck. Even the sparkly king (Fairy King) and bombastic queen (Fairy Queen) did not know that it was such a relic. If they did, then they might not have given it to the kid as it is incredibly valuable. A relic that grants a temporal related skill book to anyone that accomplishes the trials is incredibly valuable." Elder Ascalor stated.

"The fact that even us were frozen in time gives me goosebumps. Only a powerful time god could create such a relic from his dead body. It might even be a time god that is on par with the Twin Gods if it could freeze us in time. If you find something like that again, let me research it before you use it." Elder Koronn stated as he shook Adrian's shoulders with excitement.

"If I get another one. I might not be that lucky to get another one. Also, I was only able to pick because I was the first person to succeed up to the last trial." Adrian stated as each trial might become different should he challenge it again.

"If that is all then proceed to do your duties as lord again. There are some residents that want your opinion on something. Do not vanish suddenly because you need to train your pets or something. Also, the old man looks quite mad at you since you did not visit him when one of your soulbounds evolved. He has been cranky all morning as you did not go straight to him." Elder Ascalor stated as he vanished to go back and do his duties.

"Give me the relic first next time. I want to study it." Elder Koronn stated as he patted Adrian's head before disappearing. He probably returned to his workshop to research some things as Adrian's revelation made him all fired up.

"We are just happy that you did not vanish in time. That could happen if powerful temporal magic like that goes berserk. Glad that you are safe, but the Daemos Corps members want to spar with you sometime. If you can find time to do that then that would be great." Elder Bronx stated as he patted Adrian's back before vanishing as well since the former needed to go back to his duties.

"I can still feel your stare, old man." Adrian stated as he knows that Old Man Pann could definitely hear him. The old man might be cranky but even he cares about Adrian a lot which is why Old Man Pann made sure to thoroughly check on Adrian's existence.

"I am going to you then. I guess it is time to show the new and evolved Wisteria to you." Adrian stated as he flew towards Old Man Pann's farm. Old Man Pann was cranky but soon turned soft when he saw the greatness that the evolved Wisteria has. After Old Man Pann was satisfied, Adrian attended to some of the requests that his residents had before going to the guild house.

Chapter 2120: Semi Transcendent Skill

[Do you wish to learn the skill book for Temporal Walker?]

A system message appeared before Adrian as he used the skill book. He made sure to use it inside the guild house as it might make some sort of dazzling effects when one learns a mythical skill using a skill book.

"Yes." Adrian replied.

Just as he feared, a powerful golden glow was created when the skill book was used up. The skill book in his hands turned into particles of light that exploded into his body. The explosion of golden light was so powerful as he needed to close his eyes just to make sure he will not go blind.

[You have learned the Temporal Walker skill.]

[A special interaction has been created because you possess two skills that are compatible with each other.]

Adrian smiled as he indeed learned the skill which made him smile as he could feel that he is now easing the burden of using origin magic. He thought that he needed to do something to trigger the merger of the two skills as they are parts of an original skill. He did not know that just learning them will prompt him for the option.

[Your skill Rift Manipulator and Temporal Walker are resonating with each other.]

[The two skills are waiting for your approval to merge with each other.]

[Merging the two skills will create a more powerful version of the two skills but it will take some energy. Make sure that you are undisturbed as there is a delicate process of merging these two powerful skills.]

Adrian summoned all of his soulbounds to protect him. He told them to make sure that not even his guild members should bother him. He already felt that the merging process might take an hour or two. There might also be some sort of special effects that might happen while the merge in is progress.

"Yes, master!" The soulbounds answered with great enthusiasm.

[You have accepted the merger of the skills Rift Manipulator and Temporal Walker.]

[The merging of the two skills will now commence.]

Adrian saw the notifications but there was no reaction even after five seconds. He thought that something might be wrong, or he needed to be in a certain position to activate it. Just as Adrian was about to check inside of his body, a powerful energy or rather two powerful energies suddenly came out of his body.

"Ugh!" Adrian exclaimed as he clutched his chest as two entities came out of his body.

The first entity that came out of Adrian was an entity that has stars and galaxies inside of its body. It also had eight arms, but it had no features. Each of the hands of the entity had swirling portals as this was the representation of Adrian's Rift Manipulator skill. This entity is actually the physical representation of the skill, and it is still completely attached to Adrian even if it looked like it shot out of him.

The second entity is none other than the Temporal Walker skill. Unlike the Rift Manipulator skill that has a featureless face, the representation of the Temporal Walker skill almost looked just like Time. It was a hooded specter that has numerous clocks attached to its body. Each of the clocks were attached to a golden chain that surrounds the body of this entity.

The two entities looked like they were staring at each other before suddenly turning to face Adrian. The owner of the skill suddenly felt the weight of the two skills that he had as mythical tier skills are sometimes said to have egos of their own. The two entities looked at Adrian even if they did not have eyes, but the latter felt that he was being tested.

Adrian did not cower against his own skills as he stared right back at them without any problem. The sheer confidence and determination made the two entities bow down to Adrian as if he was truly accepted as their master. The two entities then stared back at each other as they moved their bodies forward. The two entities suddenly started to break down as they turned into a mass of different colored lights.

[The Rift Manipulator and Temporal Walker skill has successfully merged together.]

[Congratulations! Your Rift Manipulator and Temporal Walker skill has combined to become Space Time Suzerain.]

==

Skill Name: Space Time Suzerain

Skill Tier: Semi Transcendent (Can be evolved when merged with other related skills)

Skill Type: Origin Magic Passive Skill

Effects:

-The skill bearer will have 55% less mana consumption when using skills or abilities relating to Origin Magic.

-An Additional lesser 40% resource consumption is utilized for Spatial Magic or Temporal Magic Related skills.

-The skill bearer will have 40% less cooldown reduction for all skills relating to Spatial Magic or Temporal Magic.

-All skills relating to Origin Magic has a 20% chance of not going on cooldown.

-All skills relating to Origin Magic has a 15% chance to ignore the resource consumption. -Enables the user to store one Temporal Magic skill that can be used immediately without resource cost. (1 hour cooldown) (Cooldown is not affected by this skill.)

-Enables the user to store one Spatial Magic skill that can be used immediately without resource cost. (1 hour cooldown) (Cooldown is not affected by this skill.)

Mana Cost: None

Cast Time: None

Cooldown: None

Note: This skill is the combination of Rift Manipulator and Temporal Walker. Collect the last part of this skill in order to unlock its true form.

==

The two skills successfully combined and the representation of them could be seen for a split second before it entered back into Adrian's body. The entity that merged from both skills looked like a faceless entity with ten arms that had five holding clocks while the other five held portals. One could even see some sort of crown on top of its head. If one looked closely then they might have seen the silhouette of Adrian's face on the entity before it vanished.