

O Summoner 2351

Chapter 2351: Against the Frost High Elf Ranger II

Vayu once again manifested next to the Frost High Elf Ranger and his katana already near the neck of the latter. The Frost High Elf Ranger activated a magic circle that turned his body into snow as he is then transported to a marked location. Vayu did not even flinch at the thought that his attack missed as he gracefully stepped onto the air itself and propelled himself towards the new location of the Frost High Elf Ranger.

The Frost High Elf Ranger could only respond with a volley of ice arrows to make sure that Vayu does not reach him. Vayu cannot dodge the ice arrows which is why he opted to block them instead. He sheathed his katana once again and then released a small tornado that swept the ice arrows. The combined tornado and ice arrows created an icy wind tornado that got destroyed as it activated a trap that the Frost High Elf Ranger laid.

The Frost High Elf Ranger used this chance to get some distance while also setting up some quick traps along the way. The Frost High Elf Ranger did think of escaping, but the prospect of his victory might give him the ultimate power to reverse the taboo body. The Primordial Beast of Gluttony told them that the only way to cure their body is to have another elemental stabilize it or do the Ceremony of Absolution in order to forgive them of their wrongdoings.

"This is my only chance. If I could capture him and then force him to do the Ceremony of Absolution, then I will no longer be affected by the taboo." The Frost High Elf Ranger thought but he knew that capturing the being in front of him is not easy.

"A warrior must focus on the battle." Vayu suddenly stated as he is once again next to the Frost High Elf Ranger.

The Frost High Elf Ranger could only reflexively block with his enchanted bow. When Vayu's weapon and the Frost High Elf Ranger bow clashed together, the defense mechanism of the bow activated and released a burst of cold energy towards Vayu. The entire area in front of the Frost High Elf Ranger is suddenly covered in ice as the enchanted bow released a way for its owner to be safe.

The Frost High Elf Ranger thought that Vayu was frozen solid as the ice that was released by his weapon is enchanted and it is almost similar to the ice that froze the entire settlement along with the frost elves. He thought that Vayu will be unfortunate and be caught in the aftermath of the defensive mechanism, but the body of the latter cannot be seen. The ice was clear enough to see through but there was no frozen body inside of it.

"That was quite close." Vayu stated as the lower part of his battle kimono robe looked frozen.

"Tch! As the legends about the elementals go, Wind Elementals are the most difficult to catch because of their free-spirited nature." The Frost High Elf Ranger stated as he released more arrows towards Vayu, but the latter just slashed it with wind blades.

"Ah! I am getting rusty because I am not fighting against humanoid opponents as often. I have been fighting large monsters for a long time that my combat against beings that have same body shape as me has regressed. This is not a good thing for me as a warrior as this means I am quite lacking. I should always show my best for my daughter as she idolizes her dad." Vayu stated as he cracked his neck as it was getting stiff.

"Just admit that you are not as good as me, wind elemental. If you do what I want, then I might think of sparing you and letting you free instead of being my slave after you are defeated." The Frost High Elf Ranger stated.

The Frost High Elf Ranger activated numerous traps that created large chunks of ice that modified the terrain that they are in. The entire area now has some blockings which makes it ideal for a ranger that needs the natural barriers when dealing with opponents. The Frost High Elf Ranger knew that he will not succeed in defeating the wind elemental before him if he does not create advantages for himself. The raised ice blocks also contain some of the traps that he initially placed which means that the Frost High Elf Ranger has created a specialized terrain just for him.

"I will win with this." The Frost High Elf Ranger thought as he aimed his bow towards Vayu once more, but the target was no longer there.

The Frost High Elf Ranger could have sworn that Vayu was there a second ago as he has sensory traps placed all over the area to supplement his awareness against a fight with a wind elemental. The Frost High Elf Ranger suddenly sensed killing intent behind him and a powerful flash of light as well. The Frost High Elf Ranger immediately turned around while also activating the defensive trap on his feet that created an ice barrier around him instantly.

"I am not a wind elemental. I am a Half Storm Elemental." Vayu stated as his katana is suddenly coated with a fierce aura of wind and lightning.

Vayu's katana hit the ice barrier, but it was easily destroyed because of the destructive properties of his attacks. The ice barrier shattered like glass and the shockwave of the attack hit the Frost High Elf Ranger. Vayu would have followed up with another slash at the Frost High Elf Ranger, but the latter used the force of the impact to get sent flying backwards.

The Frost High Elf Ranger suddenly remembered one thing about advance wind elementals. If wind elementals have aloof and free-spirited personalities, then their advance counterparts are different. Storm Elementals are beings of unbridled chaos that will always appear calm before they start to wreak havoc. There is a reason why the saying goes that there is always a calm before the storm.

The Frost High Elf Ranger pieced everything together as the first phase of the battle was not as active as what is happening now. The attacks that Vayu used earlier were clean and concise to the point that there was no wasted energy. It was a combat style that one can describe as calm and serene which is now a great contrast to the fighting style now. Vayu is now coated in an aura of lightning and wind that devastates even the ground beneath his feet while his sword cuts even the air itself.

"I need to escape. My fantasy of getting him as a captive is no longer realistic. Even the high elves before me have told that one must never cross a storm elemental as they will destroy everything in its path just to calm themselves." The Frost High Elf Ranger thought as he activated all the traps that he placed that were designed to harm his enemy.

"Frost Phoenix Arrow!" The Frost High Elf Ranger shouted as he poured in mana into his bow to activate a skill that created a silhouette of a Frost Phoenix flying towards Vayu.

Vayu suddenly found himself surrounded by magic traps activating around him that released chains of ice. Not only that but a powerful skill is also heading towards him in the form of a Frost Phoenix. Vayu did not panic but his aura could be seen increasing even more as his long hair that is in a ponytail turned to pure lightning.

"Storm Blade." Vayu stated as his entire body got coated in lightning as all the skills of the Frost High Elf Ranger crashed down towards him.

A powerful ice explosion happened where Vayu was, and the Frost High Elf Ranger looked back from his current location that is about fifty meters away from his previous location. The Frost High Elf Ranger thought that he might have killed the storm elemental, but he did not want to assume. The Frost High Elf Ranger knew that his survival is the most important and hiding in the northern continent will be easy for someone like him.

"It is quiet. Too quiet." The Frost High Elf Ranger stated which made him nervous as there should have been more destruction in the area where all the spells and skills clashed but it was all just ice and snow.

The Frost High Elf Ranger released an arrow carrying some power that cleared the snow when it traversed. When the arrow reached the location where Vayu was, there was no sign that the Storm Elemental was there. Sensing the empty signs of resistance, the Frost High Elf Ranger started to run as fast as he can, but a streak of lightning suddenly passed him by.

The Frost High Elf Ranger's left ear suddenly got cut completely as a humanoid clad in lightning descended from the skies. Vayu looked like he was a god of wind and lightning that descended to the mortal realm.

Chapter 2352: Against the Frost High Elf Ranger III

"Storm Blade."

Vayu calmly activated the skill despite seeing all the traps and skills headed towards him. He performed a powerful quick slash that released storm elemental power. The skill he used destroyed all the traps and even cut the Frost Phoenix arrow into two but that was just the beginning.

Storm Blade is an introductory skill that helps him generate lots of energy for his Storm Gauge. The Storm Gauge is his unique ability bar that can help him unleash his other form that can utilize the more intense variant of wind elemental energy. One of the ways to generate energy for his Storm Gauge is the act of hitting skills that have the wind or storm element.

As soon as Vayu destroyed all the traps and even the Frost Phoenix Arrow using his Storm Blade, Vayu immediately transcended most of his mortal body and transformed into lightning that shot upwards to the sky. All of the ice elemental skills and abilities that were supposed to hit him exploded as soon as he attacked it with great accuracy while he was safe from the explosion since he was up above the dark clouds.

Vayu's body and even clothes turned more and more into an elemental. His body would fade in and out of existence as it started to turn into wind itself. His hair has permanently turned into lightning while his armor became different colors of clouds. He partially turned into a full elemental, and this happens when his Storm Gauge reaches capacity but even this has a time limit. Without missing any chance, Vayu charged towards the Frost High Elf Ranger like a streak of lightning.

"Argh!" The Frost High Elf Ranger exclaimed in both shock and pain as one of his ears was cut off.

"You managed to somewhat dodge that when I was aiming for your neck. It seems that your instinct is really that of a hunter. Still, you shall die today for all the sins you have committed against the elementals." Vayu stated as he suddenly vanished in place with a flash of lightning.

The Frost High Elf Ranger immediately evaded by ducking down as he felt the killing intent about to reach for his neck. Vayu did a horizontal slice that released both wind and lightning from his katana. The wind and lightning hit the area around them and reduced it back to either water or nothing at all. The Frost High Elf Ranger did not rest as he coated his right foot with sharp ice and performed a kick towards Vayu.

Vayu immediately redirected his sword downwards to try and cut off the leg of the Frost High Elf Ranger, but the latter activated a mysterious power from his bow. The bow of the Frost High Elf Ranger suddenly glowed in a pale blue color and emitted a bone chilling frost that is sent towards his ice-covered foot. The ice-covered foot hit Vayu's sword and it emitted a sound as if two metals were clashing.

The clash between the ice covered foot of the Frost High Elf Ranger and Vayu's katana created a powerful explosion of ice and storm element that sent both flying in opposite directions. The backlash from the clash of the attacks were not as grand but it did give the Frost High Elf Ranger some distance against Vayu. The Frost High Elf Ranger's ice covered leg could be seen to have almost shattered but the effects of using permafrost on the body is not good even for a powerful high elf like himself that still has some effects of the curse present.

Vayu did not give any time for the Frost High Elf Ranger to even recover as speed is his essence. The storm does not wait for anyone to destroy it as it destroys everything around it. Vayu stepped once and he is immediately next to the Frost High Elf Ranger. The enemy in front of Vayu did not look shocked as if the former has already noticed how he travels almost instantaneously.

The Frost High Elf Ranger activated the mysterious power of his bow once more and it radiated a powerful freezing energy that clashed with Vayu's katana. The katana that is supposed to at least cut off an arm from the Frost High Elf Ranger is now being blocked by a more powerful ice barrier. This ice barrier could even freeze the katana that Vayu has as the blade started to form layers of frost.

Vayu could only increase his elemental manipulation to produce an explosion of lightning. He used the explosion of lightning in order to make sure that he does not destroy his weapon. The mysterious freezing energy that tainted his blade is definitely that of an elemental but corrupted in a sense. Vayu knew that the bow that the Frost High Elf Ranger is not an ordinary bow but something that could harm him and might even counter him in the long run.

"Even elementals have hierarchies after all! This bow of mine is made from the branch of the Winter Tree that absorbed the Frost Elemental King! A High Elemental like you could never defeat me when you are being weakened by it!" The Frost High Elf Ranger stated as he laughed.

"I see. No wonder I felt that time was slowing down whenever I try cutting your head off." Vayu stated.

Vayu did feel that something was happening every time he got close to the Frost High Elf Ranger, but he could never tell what it was. He knew that the Frost High Elf Ranger might have great instincts and reflexes but the speed at which he does his attacks made even the latter unable to notice in time. The only reason for the Frost High Elf Ranger's quick reflexes is either Vayu missing his attacks or a strange power that could momentarily freeze time.

"The legends did say that Elemental Kings have powers that are unique to their element but to think that it was true. The ability to literally freeze time but you are so weak that you can only slow it down." Vayu stated in a tone that was neither condescending nor mocking.

"Now you know that you can never defeat me as I have a weapon that has the power of the Frost Elemental King! I shall show you, its greatness! Frozen Time!" The Frost High Elf Ranger stated as the entire area they are in suddenly looked like frost was building up.

It looked like the area is suddenly covered in a thin coat of ice so delicate but inside time actually froze. Vayu could be seen having a thin layer of frost on all parts of his body as well as even the lightning and clouds became suspended in time. The Frost High Elf Ranger's bow really did have the power to freeze time but that also ate most of the reserved energy that it has absorbed from the Winter Tree.

"I must kill him now that the Winter Tree is no longer alive. I cannot absorb more power from it to restore the energy of permafrost." The Frost High Elf Ranger stated as he pulled on his bowstring to release numerous ice arrows towards Vayu as he is still a bit wary of getting near him.

Ice arrows could be seen launched at Vayu but all of them hit an invisible barrier. This barrier is made of wind, and it is also frozen in place just like Vayu. He might have been frozen in time with the surrounding but that also meant that his active skills were as well. Seeing that his normal ice arrows cannot kill Vayu, the Frost High Elf Ranger released another powerful Frost Phoenix Arrow.

"I will make sure to freeze your body so I can siphon your energy until you dissipate!" The Frost High Elf Ranger shouted as he believed that he has already won.

The Frost Phoenix Arrow reached Vayu's barrier and clashed with it for a good five seconds before it truly broke. The power of the Frost Phoenix Arrow decreased but it was enough to damage Vayu to a certain degree. Layers of ice and snow started to cover Vayu's body as his body started to get frozen as the Frost High Elf Ranger also used some permafrost energy on the skill he used. The Frost High Elf Ranger started to celebrate when the storm clouds above rumbled.

[The Storm Gauge is at 200% capacity.]

[Activating Storm Elemental King Mode: Susanoo.]

Vayu could be seen smiling as the storm above released lightning and rained it down towards him. The layers of frost that built up on his body got washed away as Vayu's body glowed in a dark violet light. The silhouette of a warrior tengu made of lightning could be seen behind Vayu which shocked the Frost High Elf Ranger to his core.

"You should have finished me when you had the chance. I guess a hunter that plays with his prey will never learn his lesson. Arashi Kamikaze!" Vayu shouted as he sliced the sky in half.

Chapter 2353: Against the Frost High Elf Warrior I

The Frost High Elf Warrior found himself in a location where spires of ice are placed all around them. The area itself is still covered in ice and snow but there are some obstructions around them like ice pillars or frozen stones. Sensing the killing intent directed at him, the Frost High Elf Warrior immediately raised his sword to parry the spear that aimed for his head.

A crisp sound of two metal weapons hitting each other resonated in the area. The Frost High Elf Warrior did not show any panic in his eyes as if he has everything in control. He merely activated some energy from his sword to empower himself and send Frey flying back.

The blast of cold energy and even the strengthening of the Frost High Elf Warrior made Frey need to gain some distance as she felt the danger around her. She immediately rotated mid air and kicked the air itself by creating a foothold using a magic circle. She repositioned her spear to make sure that she will not be getting blocked by the ice pillars or ice rocks.

"A Valkyrie dared to battle me. I guess you are quite confident in yourself seeing that you have not called for your sisters. Oh! I can capture you and use you as a hostage to make the Valkyries do what I want. Your sisterhood is the weakness of your kind as you cannot let your sisters go as long as they are alive.

I even remember back then when we used one of your kind to make the Valkyries back off from fighting us. Such a shame that she killed herself in order to not burden your kind. Well, we did use her corpse as an ice sculpture to send a message." The Frost High Elf Warrior stated as he wanted to make Frey lose her mind as he knows that Valkyries are very sensitive when it comes to their other sisters.

"I remember my sisters telling me that story, but I also remember how pathetic they said all of you Frost Elves back then are. The fact that all of you shrunk back in fear and opted to vanish from the world instead of valiantly fighting to your bitter end is only what cowards do." Frey replied.

The cold facial exterior of the Frost High Elf Warrior could be seen cracking as his anger peaked for a moment before he controlled it. The Frost High Elf Warrior wanted to rebuttal but what Frey said is true because he was there when they became cowards. The Frost High Elves opted to vanish from the annals of history in the northern continent than proudly fight against those that retaliated against them.

"Words are for the weak. Weapons should do the talking." The Frost High Elf Warrior stated as his sword suddenly glowed in a pale blue mist.

The Frost High Elf Warrior slashed his sword forward and it released a sword wave that had the power of ice in it. The attack was so quick that Frey could only attempt to dodge it as the sword wave cut through ice and snow. Frey dodged the attack but soon found the Frost High Elf Warrior near her.

Frey kicked her feet and did a flip backward to gain some distance. She found herself in the area where ice spires are located with only about three meters distance against each other. The Frost High Elf Warrior deliberately lured Frey in this area as he knows that she would have limited movements in a more crowded area as she uses a spear.

The Frost High Elf Warrior thinking that he would gain an advantage now could be seen sneering at Frey. He was already thing of things that he could ask the Valkyries for in exchange for her freedom. He even thought to himself that he is incredibly lucky because of the fact that only one of them is present. If there were two then he might have a difficult time depending on their abilities, but a group of Valkyries will definitely slaughter him.

"If you surrender then I will not treat you harshly." The Frost High Elf Warrior stated with an expression of superiority.

"Did you really think that you would win just because you have cornered me in this part? Frey stated as she suddenly slammed her weapon to her knee.

The long spear that is about two and a half meters suddenly split into two parts. A longer pike that is about one and a half meters in length with a one-meter short sword. With a quick movement, Frey immediately did a thrusting motion with her pike which the Frost High Elf Warrior blocked with his sword. Frey already thought that her initial attack would be blocked which is why she followed it with a slash from her short sword.

The short sword managed to create a small cut on the face of the Frost High Elf Warrior. The cut would have been deeper if the Frost High Elf Warrior was not able to dodge but his reflexes were incredibly trained. The Frost High Elf Warrior did not even need to look at the direction of the short sword, but he dodged it with minimal effort although he was cut by it since it was pure reflex.

Frey charged as she advanced with great speed since she knew that this would make her control the battle. The Frost High Elf Warrior and Frey entered a melee brawl against each other. Both combatants were skillfully dodging each and every strike they did against each other. There are times where some attacks would connect but the best that they got were a few cuts.

Frey might look like she was controlling the flow of the battle, but she noticed that she was slowing down. Her attacks connect more often, and the Frost High Elf Warrior has more cuts, but she felt that she was the one draining more stamina. She only realized what was happening when her arm has a slightly larger cut.

Chapter 2354: Against the Frost High Elf Warrior II

"My cuts are getting infected by some sort of magic ailment." Frey stated as she could see that her cuts were not closing up.

The cuts on her body that was done by the Frost High Elf Warrior are freezing over as layers of frost could be seen on top of them. To make matters worse, the cuts are not healing or closing up as the creeping cold is permeating into her body. The Frost High Elf Warrior smiled mockingly as it took quite a while for Frey to even notice what was happening to her body.

"Do not worry as a few more cuts would freeze you just enough to present you as barely alive to your sisters." The Frost High Elf Warrior stated.

Frey did not even bother to answer back as she did the unthinkable. Frey shattered the frozen flesh herself to expose her flesh and blood before pouring a potion directly at it. She did not do this to all of her cuts but only to the large ones that will hinder her movement.

As soon as Frey forcefully healed her body using unconventional ways, the slowness that she felt weighing on her suddenly became lighter. It seems that the frost covering her cuts were also shutting down her body and telling it to sleep. This is the effects of the sword that the Frost High Elf Warrior has.

The sword of the Frost High Elf Warrior has the power to shut down the biological abilities of living beings. This is also the reason why he was able to trap Frey and Peridot easily when he empowered the Frost Elf Mage earlier. If he did not empower the Frost Elf Mage using his sword earlier, then Frey nor Peridot would not have been frozen solid.

"Your sword is infused with magic that defies laws which means it is part divine. How is a being that is not even a demigod have the ability to wield it?" Frey stated as powers that could affect life already fall into the divine territory.

"Easy. You just need to bastardize the being that you used to worship." The Frost High Elf Warrior stated as the sword was made of parts of the Winter Tree.

Frey looked at the sword on the hands of the Frost High Elf Warrior and could immediately tell that its quality was higher than the spear that she uses. The Frost High Elf Warrior might appear calm and collected but he is also starting to create scenarios in his head. He might not show it, but he is already a bit worried that he might not be able to deal with Frey alone.

Even earlier when he first encountered Frey, the Frost High Elf Warrior already knew that she was an opponent that might be on equal footing to her. This is the reason why he opted to empower the sacrificial Frost Elf Mage earlier to freeze the area entirely. He already had some form of combat with Frey earlier, but he had a small group that assisted him with defenses.

"Seeing that you are not making any moves, you must also be in a bind on what to do next. Tell me that a proud warrior such as yourself will not suddenly escape with your tail between your legs." Frey instigated.

"Why would I need to run away when I can easily defeat you here and now!" The Frost High Elf Warrior declared boldly which made Frey smile.

[The enemy has acknowledged.]

[All prerequisites for the skill Arena of the Valkyries have been fulfilled. You can now activate the skill.]

"Thank you for that spirited declaration." Frey stated as she slammed the short sword onto the snow.

"No! I was tricked!" The Frost High Elf Warrior shouted but both him and Frey were enveloped in a bright light as their bodies vanished from the area they were fighting.

[You have been transported to the Arena of the Valkyries.]

[All special effects of skills and abilities will be nullified in this area.]

[Usage of magic will be restricted to both parties.]

[One can only exit the arena if the other dies.]

[All stats in the arena will be refreshed back to normal.]

Frey and the Frost High Elf Warrior found themselves in a large circular pedestal arena. There are five large pedestals with the middle being the largest of them all and it also houses the arena where the two will battle. Outside of the arena itself nothing as they were basically fighting on large spires that extend to the clouds. Any being that drops from the arena will die from falling as the height is something that even a demigod might die from.

The four other pedestals have beings that are purely there for viewing the battle. Some of the Valkyries could even be seen cheering for the battle to start. These Valkyries are none other than those that have already passed over unto the afterlife and one of their forms of entertainment is to watch fights that occur in the Arena of Valkyries.

"Where have you taken me?!" The Frost High Elf Warrior shouted as he was suddenly in an unfamiliar area.

"The Arena of Valkyries. A place where only one can escape and that is the one that makes it out alive. If you want to escape from here, then you better be able to kill me." Frey stated as she turned her weapon into a spear once again.

"Then this is where you die. I have been going easy on you earlier as you have a prospect of being a hostage but now that ends. You have signed your own death warrant by dragging me into this place." The Frost High Elf Warrior stated as the air around him did transform into a more menacing aura.

"You are not the only one that I dragged here to fight to the death. Let me tell you this as one of the rules of this arena is that both participants must have skill level close to each other. This means that I can either kill you or you can kill me." Frey stated as her eyes became sharper than before.

Chapter 2355 Against the Frost High Elf Warrior III

Frey and the Frost High Elf Warrior are now trapped inside this special arena until one of them loses. This special skill can only be used once a month by Frey which is why she is very selective on who she uses this skill. The skill, Arena of Valkyries, could either be the thing that can turn the tide of battles or bring doom, but it depends on how it is used.

Frey and the Frost High Elf Warrior could not use any spells and abilities that have crazy effects in this arena. This arena is only for warriors that have honed their weapon skills to the utmost. This also means that the Frost High Elf Warrior cannot use the special power of permafrost in this area. Frey is also restricted as well as she cannot call upon the power of her patron goddess.

All combat done in the arena should be purely weapon skill and both combatants immediately attacked one another. In regard to weapon superiority, Frey has an advantage as she uses a spear that has farther reach than the sword that the Frost High Elf Warrior uses. The difference in weapon could either be an advantage or a disadvantage depending on who manages to get the perfect distance against their opponent.

If Frey manages to keep her distance from the Frost High Elf Warrior, then she would ultimately win as the latter will not be able to touch her. If the Frost High Elf Warrior manages to close in on Frey with his sword, then he would ultimately be the winner. Victory in this battle is clearly tied to the one that can create or maintain their opportunity.

Frey uses a lunge attack and aims for the chest of the Frost High Elf Warrior. She knew that aiming for the head would guarantee a critical hit, but she anticipated that the Frost High Elf Warrior will be able to evade that strike easily. The Frost High Elf Warrior also thought that Frey would aim for the head as spear users would often aim for their opponent's head if they were in close proximity, but his enemy is different.

Frey focused on using piercing attacks that could aim for the Frost High Elf Warrior, but the latter used his own swordplay to dictate the flow of the match. Frey is unable to land a clear hit as the Frost High Elf Warrior also parried some of the attacks that were supposed to connect. The clash of spear and sword continued for quite a while until the restrictions of the Arena of Valkyries slowly lifted.

[All beings in the Arena of Valkyries can now use 10% of their magical energies.]

There is a special rule in the Arena of Valkyries and that is the fact that the restrictions will get lifted if there is no deciding factor in the match. Since both Frost High Elf Warrior and Frey were unable to get a clean hit against each other, the Arena of Valkyries decided that something must be done to spice up the competition. Also, the dead that are watching need better entertainment than two opponents exchanging blows against each other.

"I can feel it." The Frost High Elf Warrior stated as some of the energy in his blade was restored.

The cool mist that the sword of the Frost High Elf Warrior radiates has returned. Frey could also feel that the temperature dropped by a few degrees when the restriction was somewhat lifted. Still, the Frost High Elf Warrior is not the only one that has access to the restricted energy before. Frey also felt her divine energy returning back to her body and a slight connection with the Goddess Freyja has been linked.

"The spirits of these warriors need entertainment." Frey mumbled as she looked at the stands where some audience members were bored because no one has harmed each other.

"This will be your downfall, Valkyrie. The energy of permafrost has returned back to my blade." The Frost High Elf Warrior stated as he immediately absorbed the energy that is stored in the sword.

The Frost High Elf Warrior suddenly got covered in armor that is made of a faint layer of frost while also increasing the amount of lethality from his attacks. Unlike the Frost High Elf Ranger that could barely utilize the permafrost energy, the Frost High Elf Warrior has great mastery over it as he is often the one that trains using it. The mastery over this energy is also not low because he could even grant it to his allies.

The Frost High Elf Warrior's steps also became lighter, and Frey easily caught that detail because the former suddenly vanished like ice mist. Frey could only feel the killing intent from her side which she redirected her spear to block. A clear sound of two metals colliding could be suddenly heard. The Frost High Elf Warrior materialized next to Frey using the same ice mist that he vanished from.

The Frost High Elf Warrior was on the defensive most of the time earlier no it switched to Frey. She used her spear to parry attacks that are about to hit her while she evaded some attacks that just need a slight correction in posture or movement. This continued on for minutes again as the restrictions are once again lifted.

[All beings in the Arena of Valkyries can now use 30% of their magical energies.]

A sudden jump to 30% is not something that scoff at as the Frost High Elf Warrior suddenly burst in cold air. It felt like a blizzard was suddenly summoned by the Frost High Elf Warrior as layers of frost could be seen on Frey's body. Frey knew that she should exert more effort as well as the enemy in front of him was now radiating killing intent to the highest degree. Frey used up her divine energy to create another layer of armor around her, but this one is made out of light and magic.

Chapter 2356: Against the Frost High Elf Warrior IV

"This is where you will die." The Frost High Elf Warrior stated as his return of energy is quicker compared to what Frey is receiving right now.

The Frost High Elf Warrior released sword waves filled with the power of permafrost. Each strike that hit Frey on the body would instantly cover that part of her body with ice. Even the aura armor that Frey is wearing would get affected by it. Even Frey's spear could be seen being coated in frost as permafrost does not just freeze living beings but also inanimate objects.

"Surrender, Valkyrie. I know that you could end this skill if you wanted to." The Frost High Elf Warrior stated as he knew that powerful skills that forces enemies to fight against each other should have some ways to entirely avoid the fight.

"Unfortunately for you, you are trapped in here with me as well. There is no shortcut to this battle because you determined the absolute rules when you spoke. You can only leave if you are able to defeat me in combat." Frey stated as she gained some distance from the Frost High Elf Warrior.

The Frost High Elf Warrior has already gained an idea on how to defeat Frey as he memorized how she used her distance against him. The Frost High Elf Warrior made use of the fact that Frey could not attack any enemy that closes the gap by a meter. Frey could use other means of attacks like kicks or punches, but those kinds of attacks will not defeat the Frost High Elf Warrior.

"You are not using the Might of the Allfather. Have you been abandoned by him?" The Frost High Elf Warrior suddenly noticed as this was the power that made him fear Valkyries the most.

He was there when the Valkyries massacred the frost elves in battle. He was there when they raged in battle coated in a silvery aura that radiated death all over. The Frost High Elf Warrior was wary that Frey would be able to use this energy as well, but he noticed that she never activated it upon their battle. He thought that Frey was just saving this as a trump card, but she was slowly dying to his attacks because of his permafrost energy.

"To think that I am correct! You no longer have the power to call upon the Might of the Allfather! The Valkyries have been abandoned by their master. The God Odin has shunned his precious guard and no longer bestows them his might. This is information that will be very useful to us as the Valkyries could now be wiped out by us!" The Frost High Elf Warrior stated as the power that the God Odin bestowed onto the Valkyries is what really terrified the frost elves and frost high elves.

"My sisters and I no longer need the power of that vile god because he was never our true master. The Valkyries do not fight for the God Odin, but they fight for the good of the people that believe in the gods affiliated with the Goddess Freyja." Frey stated with pride, but her statement did not resonate with the Frost High Elf Warrior.

"You say that but the only thing we feared back then was the God Odin. Now that he is no longer the master of the Valkyries, all of you are just weak women that can be easily killed." The Frost High Elf Warrior stated as he activated all of the permafrost energy that he can wield as his fear of the Valkyries is no more.

The Frost High Elf Warrior suddenly exploded in permafrost energy as his entire body is coated with it. The Frost High Elf Warrior could be seen wearing a different armor that is made up of clear blue ice while his sword also doubled in length. He also summoned a steed that is made entirely out of ice that is alive. He was able to do this despite only having half of his total energy being available for use.

[The Frost High Elf Warrior has entered Permafrost Knight form.]

[All damage from the Frost High Elf Warrior is doubled and will apply Frostbite.]

[If you get ten stacks of frostbite then an explosion of ice will occur on the part of your body that has the most stacks of frostbite. The explosion will deal 5% of your maximum health.]

"Get ready to meet your deceased sisters, Valkyrie." The Frost High Elf Warrior stated as he pointed his sword at Frey while riding the ice steed that he summoned.

The Arena of Valkyries might not be large, but it was spacious enough to ride a mount. The frozen sword of the Frost High Elf Warrior dragged onto the floor, and it literally froze it with just a touch. The Frost High Elf Warrior charged with his summoned steed which prompted Frey to dodge as the speed at which the enemy traveled was too fast for her to counterattack.

"Just accept your death, Valkyrie. This will make it easier for both of us." The Frost High Elf Warrior stated with a mocking tone.

"Dying would not be bad but killing you is my goal. I will make sure to separate your head from that body from all the venomous words you have said to me, my sisters, and my goddess. Goddess Descent!" Frey shouted as a pillar of golden light descended upon her body.

The Frost High Elf Warrior tried to stop the descent of the Goddess Freyja onto Frey's body, but he was repelled by the intense divine energy. Frey's armor changed as well as it was now made out of lights that flickered in different colors and the aura around her changed as well. The Frost High Elf Warrior did not panic though as he could feel that Frey's transformation was incomplete as he was not getting oppressed with divine energy compared to when the God Odin descended back then.

Chapter 2357: Against the Frost High Elf Warrior V

Frey is now adorned with her signature Aurora Armor that she can only wear when the power of the Goddess Freyja descends on her. She managed to activate Goddess Descent but the only thing that descended was the divine energy of the Goddess Freyja. With the limited energy that she could muster, she cannot call upon a fragment of the goddess to empower her in battle.

The Frost High Elf Warrior also felt this as he did feel divine energy from the Valkyrie before him, but he did not feel the oppressive power of a god. He thought that a goddess would truly descend but Frey only became stronger in terms of her aura. There was no shadow of a divine entity that is possessing her body.

"It seems that even your goddess cannot help you which means she must be weak." The Frost High Elf Warrior stated mockingly as he could feel that he has more of a presence compared to Frey now.

"Are those your last words, elf?" Frey stated with full confidence as she had this form way before she became the Avatar of the Goddess Freyja.

"You dare call me just an elf?!" The Frost High Elf Warrior shouted as he rushed towards Frey with his frozen sword.

For High Elves that think that they are better than normal elves, the referral as just an elf is a big insult to them. Even though elves themselves can become high elves if they attune better with nature, but that sentiment is not shared by natural born high elves. The Frost High Elf Warrior is a natural born high elf which is why he looks down on normal frost elves and does not really care as much when they died.

"Pathetic." Frey simply stated as her spear could be seen coated with refracting lights as well.

Frey thrust her spear even though the Frost High Elf Warrior was still a few meters away. The Frost High Elf Warrior believed that Frey was losing her mind as she was hitting nothing by performing that attack, but he was wrong. The thin ice barrier that the Frost High Elf Warrior suddenly shattered as something made an impact against it.

"What was that?!" The Frost High Elf Warrior thought as he was still charging towards Frey as he slowly realized his barrier was undone.

Frey did not react as she expected that the Frost High Elf Warrior will have some layer of protection. She then flipped her spear once again and thrustured towards the direction of the Frost High Elf Warrior. The Frost High Elf Warrior felt the danger and instinctively evaded while also using some of his permafrost energy to quickly create another barrier.

The barrier was struck once again and easily destroyed but the Frost High Elf Warrior remained safe. Unlike earlier, the Frost High Elf Warrior managed to get a distinct look at the thing that collided and destroyed his barrier. A very thin and sharp light projectile in the shape of a spear destroyed his barrier before dissipating when it hit.

"Hm. More effort then." Frey stated as she shifted her stance to a more stable standing position with her back being a bit hunched.

Frey gripped her spear tightly and assumed a crouched position. The energy of her armor could be seen going towards her spear as it glowed in the same light that covered her body. The Frost High Elf Warrior's instincts as a warrior flared up as it was telling him to protect himself. The Frost High Elf Warrior would have attacked but all he could do is send a frosty sword wave that can be cut by Frey as seen in their earlier exchanges.

"Frost King's Barrier!" The Frost High Elf Warrior shouted as he stabbed his sword onto the floor.

A large ice explosion with the sword of the Frost High Elf Warrior being in the center of it all. A large wall of ice could be seen created instantaneously as if the ice manifested from air. Frey, on the other hand, kept her immense focus as she proceeded to do numerous spear thrusts in front of her.

The ice barrier that the Frost High Elf Warrior held is also being maintained by him using his own mana and willpower. He thought that his instincts might have become rusty as he thought using the powerful Frost King's Barrier was excessive against one warrior, but he soon learned that it was the correct option. The Frost King's Barrier that is said to easily defend against Legendary Tier spells could be seen getting chipped slowly by numerous light projectiles in the shape of a spear.

"How could this be happening!? How can one woman have this kind of power!" The Frost High Elf Warrior thought as he could feel his mana being rapidly drained as his Frost King's Barrier is being sculpted with ease.

Frey's eyes could be seen glowing in the light of an aurora because it is not just her armor that is filled with it. Frey's entire body is filled with the divine energy of the Goddess Freyja as she has become the perfect vessel. Even if she does not host a shard of the Goddess Freyja's soul, Frey could still perfectly utilize the divine energy sent to her as she no longer needs the assistance of her goddess to effectively use it.

The Frost King's Barrier slowly cracked which made the Frost High Elf Warrior panic because this was the best defensive spell he could muster with the limited energy he could use. The Frost High Elf Warrior did not think that he would actually wish for time to go faster because he knows he will win if he has access to more energy. He wanted to use the ultimate spell that the Frost Elemental King used to defeat hundreds of Frost High Elves back then.

"The interval is every half hour. As long as I do not get harmed for the next ten minutes, I will win this battle." The Frost High Elf Warrior thought as he poured more mana to the Frost King's Barrier to regenerate it.

"This is inefficient." Frey muttered as she relaxed her stance since she noticed that she could not destroy the Frost King's Barrier.

The Frost High Elf Warrior actually became slightly relieved as he could see through the ice that the enemy Valkyrie stopped attacking. He then saw Frey rushing towards the barrier and attacking it directly with the weapon but failing to destroy it. The best that Frey could do was destroy shards of ice from the barrier itself. They were now at a stalemate but only the Frost High Elf Warrior was glad that this was the case.

"I will win!" The Frost High Elf Warrior thought but he suddenly felt hot on his stomach.

The Frost High Elf Warrior thought that he was completely rid of the curse given by the Winter Tree, but he soon learned that was not the case. He looked down on his stomach and saw the spear being held by the enemy Valkyrie now piercing his stomach. The spear head even pierced the floor which made the handle look shorter. Thorns suddenly exploded from the spear and gripped the body of the Frost High Elf Warrior as this was the special effect of Frey's spear when it impales an enemy.

"How!?" The Frost High Elf Warrior muttered as the Frost King's Barrier shattered since the flow of mana is suddenly cut off.

"Impossible! My Frost King's Barrier should have been impenetrable." The Frost High Elf Warrior stated as he dropped to the ground coughing out blood which the thorns absorbed.

"Nothing is impenetrable against the Aurora Spear. It took quite a while to fully make it my own skill as it was derived from the previous skill given by the God Odin called Gungnir. Unlike Gungnir that hits the targets always, Aurora Spear is filled with the magic of the Goddess Freyja and my will. This spear can penetrate any defenses as long as I have a clear target." Frey stated.

"I can still win. I am the greatest Frost High Elf to ever live! I have lived longer compared to those that have come before me! I am the chosen High Elf that will lead all of the others!" The Frost High Elf Warrior stated as he gripped his sword with his dying hands.

The Frost High Elf Warrior gripped the sword and activated its magic to try and restore himself. Frey recalled her spear and is about to cut the head of the Frost High Elf Warrior when the energy from her enemy's sword did not function properly. The Frost High Elf Warrior also noticed this as the permafrost energy that was supposed to heal him suddenly covered his hand with freezing ice.

"No! I am your master! You must obey me!" The Frost High Elf Warrior shouted but the sword did not obey him but turned his entire body into ice and then proceeded to explode.

Chapter 2358: Against the Frost High Elf Mage I

"A demon's arrogance has always been told since time immemorial. You dare challenge a Frost Witch in her own domain!" The Frost High Elf Mage stated as she used her staff that came from the branch of the Winter Tree to conjure up Ice Golems.

"Continue with what you are doing as I will protect you against her attacks." Adrian stated as Soleil, Peridot, and Kanlaon looked like they wanted to help him, but he already told them that he would handle it. Still, the three of them knew that they should not be careless and not raise their vigilance as there might be ambushed but they continued their flame attribute spells to thaw the ice.

"It seems that you underestimate me, demon. I am the considered the Wicked Frost Witch of the North!" The Frost High Elf Mage stated as she was known by this nickname a long time ago.

"Does that mean that you are contracted to a Devil God? I will wait for you to summon him or her because the fight will be boring if you are not in full power." Adrian stated with a smile as his excitement started to rise from hearing the title of the Frost High Elf Mage.

"Hah! Only weak witches are in a contract with another godlike entity. Die!" The Frost High Elf Mage shouted as the Ice golems charged towards Adrian and she released a barrage of ice lances towards him.

"Tch. You made my anticipation rise when you were not even contracted with a devil god." Adrian muttered with a slight let down.

"Master, shall I deal with the moving ice?" Sirius asked.

"You can support me with your shadows, but your main duty is making sure that they are undisturbed. Greater Summon: Kimat!" Adrian stated as Kimat appeared next to him.

"What do I need to do master?" Kimat asked.

"Find a chance to kill the Frost High Elf Mage." Adrian commanded and Kimat nodded as he roared.

Kimat vanished from the area as lightning suddenly hit his body. The dark clouds above formed because Kimat transformed himself as such or is hiding at the skies above. The dark clouds suddenly released lightning bolts towards the Frost High Elf Mage, but a clear ice barrier easily blocked all attempts to deal damage to her.

Adrian finally acted and summoned mirrors to catch all of the ice lances that were released by the Frost High Elf Mage. He then redirected all of them back to the enemy, but it is also met with the clear ice barrier that she has around her. The ice golems that she created charged towards Adrian, but he did not even bat an eye against them as they were mainly just golems.

Adrian used four mirrors in front of him and then made his four other arms enter them. Four large mirrors could then be seen to manifest where the ice golems are located. Four large hands came out of the mirrors and crushed all of the ice golems in an instant. The Frost High Elf Mage was testing the limits of the power of the demon before him, but she did not think that her ice golems and spells would be destroyed that easily.

The Frost High Elf Mage cannot move as much from her location as well because the lightning bolts raining down from the skies are making her unable to. Her clear ice barrier could be seen as a great protection but that also hinders her movement. A barrier that could negate at most 80% of the incoming damage has great downsides and that is her being unable to reposition as easily.

She suddenly felt bloodlust from behind her as a dark shadow wolf came out from the shadows. She erupted a pillar of ice to kill the dark shadow wolf and it got dispersed. The dark shadow wolf was sent by the large wolf familiar behind the demon. She was wary of the wolf as well because it had the blood of a Fenrir.

She knows this because there is a Fenrir in the northern continent as well but has silver fur instead of black. The Frost High Elf Mage crossed paths and battled against this silver furred Fenrir once and managed to escape. It is one of the Hidden Monarchs of the Northern Continent and lives in a chasm where stars are said to fall down.

The Frost High Elf Mage focused too much on the powerful beasts that the demon summoned that she actually forgot that her real enemy is Adrian. A powerful star suddenly clashed with the clear ice barrier, and it held penetrating properties. The barrier that mitigated damage suddenly got punched with a hole and an arrow hit the Frost High Elf Mage's left thigh.

"That barrier is something else." Adrian stated as the Frost High Elf Mage saw a different form compared to the one before.

The Frost High Elf Mage froze the arrow that is lodged on her thigh and proceeded to use a potion to heal her wounds. Seeing that her defenses can be breached, she no longer decided to hold back in using her staff. Her mind told her that she will only survive if she used all of the energy she has stolen from the Winter Tree.

"I have underestimated you too much as you seem young for a demon but that ends now. I shall show you the wrath that only the Wicked Frost Witch of the North can summon! Come forth and aid me! Aurora Borealis!" The Frost High Elf Mage shouted as she raised her staff in the air, and it released a powerful wave of energy to the sky.

The dark skies suddenly exploded in beautiful lights as a real aurora borealis did appear as the Frost High Elf Mage summoned it. Adrian suddenly felt that the temperature dropped by a lot and that the Frost High Elf Mage looked like she was covered in this powerful freezing energy as well.

Chapter 2359: Against the Frost High Elf Mage II

[You are now inside the domain of the Aurora Borealis.]

[All damage that you will receive from Ice elemental attacks and spells will be doubled.]

[All ice elemental attacks and spells that will hit you can trigger Frostbite status ailment.]

[If you have ten stacks of Frostbite then Frosted Funeral will trigger. Frosted Funeral deals magic damage equal to 5% of the affected target's maximum health.]

[All beings inside the Aurora Borealis will gain a stack of Frostbite every minute if they feel the cold.]

"This is not your power." Adrian stated as he looked at the Frost High Elf Mage.

"This is now my power! I have plundered this from the Winter Tree itself! I control the beautiful domain that could freeze anyone to death!" The Frost High Elf Mage exclaimed as this was the power that she wanted to get from the Winter Tree.

"Beautiful as it might be, but it is incomplete because the one that casted it is not with authority and power." Adrian plainly stated which made the Frost High Elf Mage look at him with contempt because he already saw through it.

Adrian would have been afraid if the domain skill was complete, but this one is not. This domain was cast not by the Frost High Elf Mage but by the staff that she uses. It is not a domain that is used by a being that has divine energy in their body because the Frost High Elf Mage does not have any in her. The only traces of divine energy that Adrian can feel is from the staff that she carries.

"This is my power now! The Winter Tree is dead and so will you! Blizzard!" The Frost High Elf Mage shouted in fury as a large magic circle was created in the entire area.

The magic circle was instantly created and even covered the location where his friends were. The Frost High Elf Mage believed that the demon would prioritize defending his friends as they were still busy thawing the ice on the gate, but he did not. She saw the demon look at the Aurora Borealis, but she was mistaken as the demon was looking at the dark clouds above.

"Kimat, destroy it." Adrian commanded as a powerful roar in the sound of thunder echoed in the entire area.

The magic circle to create the Blizzard spell suddenly shattered as lightning precisely destroyed it. The Frost High Elf Mage suddenly felt the backlash from her spell not activating due to mana surge. The Frost High Elf Mage then looked up in horror as a large tiger with three heads looked down on her.

"Impossible!" The Frost High Elf Mage shouted as Kimat did something that the former thought.

Kimat used all of his energy and destroyed the Aurora Borealis. All three of his heads suddenly released a powerful blast of lightning to destroy the domain that the staff created. Naturally, the Frost High Elf Mage did not feel this backlash as she was not the one that truly summoned the domain.

Kimat ruthlessly tore apart the Aurora Borealis using his innate energy. The domain that the Frost High Elf Mage is so proud of shattered in an instant. Beautiful dancing lights replaced by the looming dark clouds that accompanied Kimat in the skies.

The precious staff that she cherished to the point that she worshipped it suddenly started to vibrate. The Frost High Elf Mage could feel it as she even connected some of her life force to bond with the staff. The immense backlash of the early destruction of domain finally made the staff unable to function properly. The staff that was made from the body of the Winter Tree shattered into pieces with the Frost High Elf Mage in great shock.

"No!" The Frost High Elf Mage shouted in horror as her prized staff was destroyed just like that.

[Your soulbound, Kimat, has exhausted all of his energy. He will be sent back to the Soul Chamber for rest. You cannot summon him for the next two hours.]

"I guess destroying a domain really does take a toll on you. Even I did not think that such a thing was possible, but Kimat's innate energy makes it possible." Adrian mumbled as he looked at the pathetic sight of the Frost High Elf Mage.

"I guess I should finish her off then." Adrian stated as he released another empowered arrow towards her, but it bounced back due to the clear ice barrier.

The Frost High Elf Mage could be seen clutching the fragments of her staff. Her mana is also going all over the place as if she lost control of it, but the real reason is due to her losing her mind. The Frost High Elf Mage could be seen laughing maniacally while trying to piece together the broken staff. She tried her best to bring it back together, but she could not do it even if she freezes the parts together.

The staff of the Frost High Elf Mage was not just destroyed by the backlash of having its domain destroyed but also the innate energy of Kimat that destroys all things. It can never be restored back to its previous state which is why Adrian rarely lets Kimat use it unless necessary and knows that no one else would be affected. Tears could be seen going down the face of the Frost High Elf Mage as she slowly descended to delusion and madness.

"This cannot be! This should not be happening! That was supposed to be my power! You cannot be destroyed just like that!" The Frost High Elf Mage as it seems that she connected part of her brain to the staff itself.

When the staff broke, part of the Frost High Elf Mage's mind broke with it. This was not something that just happened, but it happened due to consequences. Seeing a deranged being that could no longer fight, Adrian wanted to put her out of her misery but she suddenly did something that even he did not expect.

Chapter 2360: Against the Frost High Elf Mage III

The Frost High Elf Mage started to devour the broken parts of the staff in a frenzied manner. She did not even bother to chew because she could not do so. She practically swallowed the broken parts of the staff even though her teeth and throat were bleeding.

She even did this with her mana boosting all of her physical capabilities as if this was her last-ditch effort. What Adrian did not notice is the marking just below her neck that looked like the symbol of Gluttony. This symbol was slowly sinking into her skin as it merged with her soul because her hunger for power drove her to the edge.

[An Irregular is starting to be born.]

A notification suddenly popped up in front of Adrian and he did not know what it means. He released attacks against the Frost High Elf Mage, but all his attacks are blocked by an even stronger barrier. A thick layer of ice and snow suddenly started to swirl around the Frost High Elf Mage as she devoured every broken part of her staff.

"I have done it! Wahahaha!" The Frost High Elf Mage shouted as her body started to have cracks.

The Frost High Elf Mage's physical body started to get cracks as if her flesh was made out of ceramic. Light could also be seen seeping out of the cracks as if she was about to explode but an unknown force is holding it in. The Frost High Elf Mage does not even notice that her body is on the verge of breaking down as she was in pure ecstasy.

"More! I can be so much more!" The Frost High Elf Mage shouted as something came out of the cracks that her body created.

Branches of the winter tree could be seen coming out of the cracks of her body which actually snapped the Frost High Elf Mage from her delusion. Her face that was of pure ecstasy believing that she gained infinite power is now full of doubt and fear. She finally saw what was happening to her body and the horror finally sunk in as she looked at Adrian as if she wanted to be rescued.

"Help!" The Frost High Elf Mage mumbled before her entire body finally exploded into the branches of the Winter Tree.

Adrian is unable to do anything as an invisible barrier could be seen around the Frost High Elf Mage. She was already being consumed by something that was implanted within her. Adrian saw a symbol that was familiar to him and remembered that it looked like the symbol used by the Devil God of Gluttony to represent the sin.

The Frost High Elf Mage's body that exploded into branches suddenly reformed as it restructured to the new being that awakened. An Irregular being that should not have been born as they are beings that the world itself has not permitted. They are beings that could destroy the stability of the world which is why any Irregular that is born will be given execution as soon as the world itself senses their presence.

[The Irregular of the Freezing Frost has been born due to the interference of the Primordial Beast of Gluttony bending the laws of the world.]

A large three-meter-tall humanoid being that has the face of the Frost High Elf Mage on its chest could now be seen. This humanoid looked like a Leshy, and a Dryad combined as it has features of both their genders. The body of the humanoid is akin of a Leshy while the face looked like that of a dryad that has no eyes.

The face of the Irregular of the Freezing Frost looked feminine at least that is what it looks like from the features as they are soft. The nose, plump lips, and even gentle bone structure is of a female, but it is difficult to distinguish because there are no eyes. The place where the eyes should be is covered with reverse stump as the hair are like made of roots.

The unnatural part of the Irregular of the Freezing Frost is the body. The neck looks like that of a human, but the chest has the face of the Frost High Elf Mage with her eyes closed. The arms are not typical humanoid arms as they are twice as long and covered in ice. The lower body is also a different kind of mess as the Irregular of the Freezing Frost has a humanoid lower body that is also attached to a body of a deer.

The Irregular of the Freezing Frost's lower body basically has six legs with two having humanoid feet and the remaining four having cloven hooves. The Irregular of the Freezing Frost also has some sort of halo behind its head that is a large snowflake. In essence, the Irregular of the Freezing Frost looks like a Faekin that has been cursed by something.

[You are in the presence of the Irregular of the Freezing Frost.]

[The Irregular of the Freezing Frost is immune to Water Elemental Damage.]

[The Irregular of the Freezing Frost is immune to Ice Elemental Damage.]

[The Irregular of the Freezing Frost emits a permafrost aura around her that deals magic damage and applies Frostbite if they are affected by her aura for more than a minute.]

"KUWAHAH!" The Irregular of the Freezing Frost emitted a roar that was definitely not anything a human or an elf could ever emit.

The roar was like a mix of a deer and a horse's threatening neighs. With just a roar, the Irregular of the Freezing Frost suddenly made the entire area freeze even more as the temperature dropped almost instantly. The snow that was around them turned into pure clear ice while the flames of those behind Adrian almost faltered. Fortunately, Sirius managed to extend his shadow to cover the people melting the ice that blocked the door.

[The World has detected an Irregular at your location.]

[The World has given you an objective to kill it immediately.]
