

O Summoner 511

Chapter 511 - Sacred Snake

The moment that Adrian stepped on the inner border, he suddenly felt a piercing gaze directed at him. The gaze is not hostile but more of a scrutinizing one. He did get information that the southern overlord could detect others from faraway. Adrian suddenly got curious of the elusive overlord.

[Your every move is being watched. Be careful and do not do anything to harm the surroundings and the inhabitants of the territories.]

Adrian could see that he is now in the gazes of the southern overlord, but he could not see it. Adrian tried to use his Evil Eyes to pick up a soul, but he could not. He could only see numerous souls of weak monsters that are living in the area.

A strong soul would usually become a different color than the pale white color of ordinary souls. The overlord's souls should be golden in color as Adrian used it on Scarlet. At first, he did not think that Scarlet is the Western Overlord as golden souls are not limited to powerful monsters but also powerful NPCs.

Adrian now used the color of the basis as he could get fooled by his normal eyesight. He used his evil eyes until his stamina dropped to half, but nothing is getting picked up. He could not know why that is, but he guessed that a skill might be interfering with his evil eyes.

Evil Eyes have a weakness and that is inaccuracy when people could hide their souls. The Undead King and his other top-grade subordinates could do it as they have been undead for a long time. Even the Daemos elders could do it as analyzation magic is basically magic created to peer into the souls of the living.

It is a magic that was only used by summoners to find soulbounds but some genius mage back then reconfigured it. The reconfigured version is basically the Inspect magic spell. Adrian's Inspect skill has already fused with his Evil Eyes which means that the latter is a more powerful version of the skill.

"Southern Overlord...Sir...Ma'am. Whatever you are called. I am here for an audience. Can you please talk to me? It is important." Adrian shouted as he waited for a response.

Adrian waited to almost an hour but all he heard is birds chirping or the occasional cricket sound. The Southern overlord is definitely not going to meet him like he is now, and a special condition should be made. He wanted to wreak havoc on the area, but he does not know if he will be able to step foot on the territory again if he does so.

Adrian noticed that the monsters in the area are not hostile. They would even scatter if Adrian is about five meters away from them. The southern territory is basically full of monsters that are scared of confrontation or strangers.

After the initial wait for no response, Adrian suddenly heard the howl of wolves. He immediately used Soul Form Transformation to become invisible as he knew that demon wolves are coming to the area. Even the western territory had demon wolves attacking them but the aeromorph warriors dealt with them.

This time the territory did not have any kind of protectors as the southern territory is treated something like a safe haven for creatures that do not like to battle or are too weak to battle. Such a thing should have been impossible in a world where the survival of the fittest is the standard, but it is possible thanks to the southern overlord.

Adrian just watched for now as the invading demon wolves scared the weak animals that even he ignored as they are also scared of him. The demon wolves looked vigilant as they did this as if they are expecting a response. When no response is created when they just scared the weak monsters, they finally started releasing killing intent.

The killing intent released by the demon wolves are enough to freeze the weak monsters in their place and accept their deaths. One of the demon wolves even tormented the poor creature and not killing it outright. The other demon wolves did so as well, and they toyed with the ones they captured.

Adrian might be a player and also treat other monsters as experience, but he is also a summoner. Summoners are basically the bridge between monsters and people. One of the requirements of the summoner is the right treatment of their soulbounds.

If the soulbounds are not treated correctly, they will first start to ignore the commands of their master. If the master still does not treat the soulbound better, the soulbound will then attack their master as a form of revenge. When the soulbound could no longer handle or stand their master, the soulbound will forcibly terminate the contract between them.

Contracted monsters are the monsters that are considered soulbounds which are the summoner's named monsters. A summoner could have a number of soulbounds but only a certain number could be active at a time. Also, numerous soulbounds does not mean a better summoner as the soul of a person could only handle what it could.

Back to the contract termination, the process and result of the contract termination is not painless. If the soulbound monster cancels the contract, the soulbound will only be weakened for a certain amount of time. The master will become weakened for a duration and would not be able to form another contract in about a month in the least.

The summoner would also feel the sense of loss as something that has become a part of them has been lost. Some summoners would go into depression or a loss of senses until they recover. Summoners basically fuse their souls with the soulbound which meant that they are tearing apart their own soul if a soulbound cancels the contract. In other words, the summoner and soulbounds are one.

Summoners are basically the ones who understands monsters best due to this innate ability. The other summoner players might not know this, but they always avoid torturing spells and attacks on monsters whenever they fight one. The developers ingeniously set this up so that the balance of nature is preserved through the summoners.

=====

The monsters that are being toyed around are now almost at death's door. Adrian is about to move as he saw one of the demon wolves going for the kill when a shadow of something hit that demon wolf. The demon wolf got sent flying towards a tree and became minced paste.

The other demon wolves suddenly turned into their battle mode as the one they want to challenge has finally started to move. Adrian also sensed another's presence, but he could not pinpoint the location as it felt like it was everywhere.

The demon wolves that are now in battle stance ignored the monsters that they toyed with and focused on their surroundings. Adrian, on the other hand, started to rescue the injured monsters as they are at death's door.

Adrian used Sirius as a means to transport the injured monsters stealthily. He used the shadows as ports while Saena immediately started the healing of the injured monsters. The injured monsters started to heal steadily but Adrian made it faster by using the Life Essence in him although it is scant.

While the injured monsters are being healed steadily in a secluded area, the demon wolves that tormented them are steadily becoming meat pastes. The unknown attacker of the demon wolves has yet to show itself, but Adrian had a glimpse of the body shape of the attacker.

Adrian managed to see a tail when he applied Chrono Shift on himself. The skill became an effective tool in determining fast attacks as it not only increases speed but also reaction time. But the speed of the tail attack is still too fast for Adrian to distinguish which is why he could still not see the one attacking the demon wolves.

When the last demon wolf became meat paste, Adrian looked around to see if the southern overlord is now visible. He could not see anything as a mist suddenly rolled in, but he still continued to heal the injured monsters. The healed monsters became very friendly towards Adrian and some even rubbed their cheeks on his foot which made his other soulbounds jealous.

He is currently tending to the last monster while those that he healed are gathered around him when suddenly a shadow is cast behind him. The shadow that is cast is elongated as the mist also collected behind him. The small, injured monsters immediately scattered as if they are frightened by the presence behind Adrian.

Even Saena's reaction became rather comical as the proud bird suddenly froze. Adrian slowly turned around to see the one casting the shadow and he is surprised. A giant snake with pure white scales is looking at Adrian with its red eyes but it was not filled with hostility but with gratitude.

Monster: Sacred Snake

Level: 230

Title: Southern Overlord of the Wilde, The Peacekeeper

Chapter 512 - The Lonely Serpent

Monster: Sacred Snake

Level: 230

Title: Southern Overlord of the Wilde, The Peacekeeper, The Half Spirit

Description: A final evolution of the snake species where it is said to have become a land deity. It is said that the Sacred Snake has mystic powers that could rival gods when it grows to a length of ten thousand meters. Due to other smaller creatures being afraid of it, it prefers to live alone giving it the moniker of 'The Lonely Serpent'. It no longer needs to eat upon reaching this evolution as it feeds on the energy of the world itself.

-----

The Southern Overlord is actually a large white snake which is so long that the mist itself is hiding its body. Adrian also somewhat felt that the Sacred Snake is somewhat familiar. He could not point his finger at the reason because he is scared of what the southern overlord would do.

Adrian and the southern overlord are now in a staring contest. Adrian's soulbounds are not moving because they were told to stand down. They could only attack if they think that their master is under attack which he is not.

The southern overlord moved its head closer to Adrian to meet his eyes on the same level. Adrian did not know what to do and just blankly stared back which is very straining for him as anxiety and uncertainty are mixed in his gaze. The southern overlord's head suddenly moved, and Adrian thought that it will attack but the Sacred Snake did not.

The mist suddenly moved away and the southern overlord with it. Adrian breathes a sigh of relief but then something hit him.

"Ahh! I forgot to tell it why I want to recruit it. Seriously!" Adrian stated as he comically rolled on the ground for suddenly blanking out and getting on a staring contest with a giant white snake.

Adrian did not know what to do next as no system prompt emerged for something like an auxiliary quest about befriending the southern overlord. What makes him even more curious is the fact that the southern overlord's body is covered with mist or rather it brings the mist with it.

Adrian suddenly remembered that the southern overlord would fade in and out of existence which is reminiscent of Vayu and Soleil. He then checked the logs again and saw that the southern overlord is indeed a half spirit.

"It seemed to want to talk to me, but it just went away on its own. Maybe I need to gain its trust. The best way would be for me to defend its territory. The only thing that I want to know is why it arrived to late and not earlier when the weak monsters were getting thrashed around." Adrian thought as he went around the territory.

Adrian then found three other places that have the same demon wolf meat pastes. It suddenly hit him that the southern overlord actually fought three battles in three different separate areas. The areas are so far apart like a kilometer away from each other.

"How long is it that it could reach this area in a fast time?" Adrian suddenly shuddered as he knows that he could have become this meat paste.

Adrian could more or less guess that the demon wolves always attack this area since more groups of demon wolves are present in this territory. He just wished that no Child of Disasters are in the next group that will come.

The Child of Disaster is basically the children reared by the Wolf of Disaster. It seems that they are more powerful than the normal demon wolf and are said to be named monsters. Even the fox clan elders are wary of them as battling them one by one is still a challenge.

Each Child of Disaster is said to be guarded by thirty demon wolves of higher levels. He is actually quite lucky that he has yet to encounter that group, but he could deduce that the southern territory could have a higher chance of being attacked by the Child of Disaster.

Adrian made his soulbounds survey other areas so that he could respond faster. The southern overlord is just watching Adrian from the distance like the silent guardian it is. The southern overlord is curious about Adrian, but he is not yet that special in its eyes. The southern overlord will not bother Adrian as long as the latter did not bother the monsters in its territory.

When Adrian is just chilling in the area that he is observing, Kanlaon suddenly contacted him via the soul link. Kanlaon stated that a large group of demon wolves are now heading towards the southern territory. There is even one demon wolf that is quite bigger than the other demon wolves.

"Do not tell me that I just jinxed myself when I was thinking of a Child of Disaster." Adrian suddenly thought as he borrowed Kanlaon's eyesight.

Adrian whose eyes became dragon slits suddenly saw a group of maybe fifty or more demon wolves running towards the southern territory. Adrian could feel that this number would be too much for him to handle as most of the monsters in the southern territory are not combat ready.

Adrian psyched himself up as he needed the confidence to handle the coming monster horde. He could make the monster horde disperse if he could kill the leader but that is easier said than done. He could not see the levels of the demon wolves, but he could tell that they are more powerful than the ones that the southern overlord could kill in one hit.

"Kanlaon, warn all of the monsters near the area. Other soulbounds, regroup at Kanlaon's current location." Adrian commanded.

A loud dragon roar is then heard from the distance as Kanlaon warned all those inside the area he is in. Numerous small and weak monsters retreated further inside the territory when they heard the loud dragon roar. The southern overlord also heard it and also saw the great number of enemies that are coming towards its territory.

Chapter 513 - The Child Of Disaster

Kanlaon's roar is not only heard by the monsters in his area but also the incoming demon wolves. The demon wolves did not stop charging despite the dragon roar that they heard. The only reason that this could happen is the demon wolves are stronger than Kanlaon that is already level 168.

"Paradox, can you determine our chances of winning if we battled multiple monsters that are higher level than us?" Adrian asked sarcastically but his weapon suddenly answered when it is normally quiet.

"Gathering details about the demon wolves from master's memory...Answer has been found. Chance of success is 3.14159%. Advising master to withdraw from battle as you cannot handle the monster horde alone." The Cube of Paradox answered.

"You suddenly got smart and talkative when you normally are just quiet and act like a normal floating weapon. Even my own weapon thinks that I am weak. I admit that I am not always hunting but do you have to say that to my face." Adrian scoffed at the chance of success that the Cube of Paradox gave him.

"If master uses all the skills in his disposal and the maximum potential of the soulbounds, the success chance increases to 11%. I was quiet because I was internalizing all the data that master has acquired as I am learning." The Cube of Paradox reported.

"Scary. You will not launch a revolution and kill off the human race, right?" Adrian jokingly commented.

"I do not understand." The Cube of Paradox answered.

"It was a joke. I watched in when my class were watching vintage movies. Anyways, summon the Primordial Armament: Mirror." Adrian stated.

"Accepted." The Cube of Paradox replied as it emitted purple lightning and materialized a mirror in mid-air.

[You have summoned the Primordial Armament: Mirror.]

[Your skill Primordial Stance activated. Your stats will be adjusted to fit your current form.]

[Your Strength stat is decreased to half of its original stat points.]

[Your Agility stat is decreased to 75% of its original stat points.]

[Your Dexterity stat is reduced to half of its original stat points.]

[Your Endurance stat has been increased by 50%.]

[Your Intelligence stat has been increased by 75%.]

[Your movement speed is decreased in this form, but you can travel using the mirrors.]

Adrian's appearance changed to that of a person that wears twice the size of his or her normal fitting clothes. A blindfold is also formed to cover his eyes. He now looked like a demon fortune teller. The added bonus is that he floats five inches above the ground.

The most notable feature is that there is now two pairs of arms and hands floating beside Adrian. He basically has his own limbs, but the two pairs made him look like a six-armed blind deity. Adrian also felt strange as he might be blindfolded but he could see everything around him.

His vision suddenly became omnidirectional. Not only that but the Primordial Armament became six mirrors. Each hand now controls a mirror which floated around Adrian. His form is so strange that one might think that they could easily take him down.

"This form is really strange, but I need to get used to it with the time that I have. If my guess is correct, I can still create other mirrors that break easily while my main mirrors will not break." Adrian thought as he experimented with his new form.

Adrian also learned that each hand also has a demon eye on its palm that acts as Adrian's eye. The omnidirectional vision is actually coming from his six new eyes as the ones on his face is not working as intended. The most promising thing that Adrian learned is that the max range of each mirror and arm is five hundred meters which is long.

"I could basically use this form to spy on enemies that are faraway. The only downside is the hand travels one foot per second which is slow." Adrian muttered as his vision suddenly got covered with white mist once more.

From the mist, a giant white snake is suddenly coming close to Adrian. The southern overlord itself is coming to Adrian which means this could be a chance to get its recognition. The southern overlord looked at Adrian's new form but did not ask him about it.

"Strange young demon, I am sure that you know but a great danger is coming to my territory. I ask you to take shelter so that you will not get caught on my problems. It seems that a child of that infernal wolf is coming to attack me.

You know this as your dragon companion warned the inhabitants of my territory. For that I am thankful, but you need to take shelter. You have done enough when you healed the injured." The Sacred Snake stated in a telepathic message.

The voice of the Sacred Snake in Adrian's head is reminiscent of a mature woman in her thirties or forties. The voice sounded mature and calming that reminded Adrian of his mother. The tone of the voice was commanding yet soothing.

"I want to battle with you. I know that it might be too much of a request, but I need your help to subjugate the Wolf of Disaster along with the other overlords." Adrian stated.

"If I survive the attack of the Child of Disaster then I might consider your offer since the other overlords seem to agree with your demand. If you can manage to kill the subordinates of the Child of Disaster when I am battling it then we have a chance to stop them." The Sacred Snake stated.

"Is the Child of Disaster as powerful as you?" Adrian asked as he is curious.

"There are three spawns of that infernal wolf. Each spawn having great abilities that could almost rival that of an overlord. The one coming to my territory is almost as strong as an overlord. If you want to fight, then are you ready to accept the risk?" The Sacred Snake asked Adrian.

Chapter 514 - Alphas

If you want to fight, then are you ready to accept the risk?" The Sacred Snake asked Adrian.

=====

QUEST NOTIFICATION

Do you wish to fight?

The southern overlord is offering you a chance to defend her territory with her. The oldest of the Wolf of Disaster's children has come and it would take the Sacred Snake's full attention to deal with the Child of Disaster.

Difficulty: A

Reward: Increased recognition from the southern overlord.

Failure Condition: Death of the Southern Overlord

Failure Result: Destruction of the southern territory of The Wilde

Completion Condition: Kill all the demon wolves that invade and the Child of Disaster.

=====

"I accept. I already decided to help defend your territory anyway." Adrian answered as he accepted the quest. The increased recognition would make it easier to recruit the southern overlord to his cause.

[You have decided to help the southern overlord.]

[The southern overlord has been added as a party member.]

[The quest will immediately fail if the southern overlord dies.]

[Your evasion has been increased by 10% thanks to the Southern Overlord's Mist Walker ability.]

Adrian welcomed the bonus evasion as he could not easily evade with his slow speed in his current form. He then proceeded to disperse more mirrors in each direction. He could even make the mirrors look invisible if he placed them well enough.

The southern overlord vanished into the mist. Adrian is told that she will perform a surprise attack on the Child of Disaster so that she will get the upper hand. Adrian did so as well and casted Soul Form Transformation on all his soulbounds.

Adrian also discovered that he could multicast using each of his hands, but it is limited to spell replication. He casted the Soul Form Transformation simultaneously without much difficulty. It seems that his new form could be more of a spell caster.

It did not take long for the demon wolves and the Child of Disaster reached the southern territory. The demon wolves saw the mist rolling inside the forest which means that the southern overlord is expecting them. The Child of Disaster which is a wolf that is about fifty feet high and darker fur than the other demon wolves.

"I know that the southern overlord said that the Child of Disaster is as strong as her but that is just ridiculous." Adrian thought as he managed to see the details of the Child of Disaster.

Adrian managed to activate his evil eyes using the eyes on the palms of the extra hands to peer into the details about the Child of Disaster. He could only lament that a high leveled named monster actually entered the battlefield, and he is not sure if he will succeed in the quest this time.

----

Name: Alphus

Monster: Lesser Fenrir

Level: 225

Titles: Child of the Disaster, Calamity, Alpha

Description: One of the children of Fenris who is also the oldest of the tree. Since it is a Lesser Fenrir, it does not have the same restriction that a full pledge Fenrir has. No restriction also means that it is weaker than the Fenrir. If it reaches maturity, then it will fulfill its destiny as the Devourer of the Stars.

----

Alphus is leading a numerous size of demon wolves that are all in the level range of 190 to 200. The giant black wolf is very strong looking even from the images produced by the mirrors. Adrian could feel that the Lesser Fenrir is not an easy opponent.

"I will start the operation then. Quantum Cascade." Adrian chanted as he formed the spell.

Adrian is about four hundred meters away from the location of the demon wolves, but he already started chanting a spell that has limited range. Adrian is able to do this because of his secret passive skill that is generated by his current form. The secret skill is called Pathfinder.

----

Skill: Pathfinder

Tier: Legacy

Type: Passive

Effect: Able to conjure up spells in locations that the mirrors could see. The spell will not be at full power but only deal 80% of its total damage. Spells will also disperse if vision is no longer available.

----

The demon wolves are not all tagged as targets while he avoided the Lesser Fenrir Alphus. The southern overlord told him to leave the Child of Disaster to her for the first few seconds in battle. Adrian's job is to separate the demon wolves and Alphus as they are empowered with the Lesser Fenrir around.

"Now that Quantum Cascade is building up in eight different locations, I should proceed with the next spell. Vortex..." Adrian stated.

The six hands that Adrian has all simultaneously casted the Legendary skill Vortex. A small pebble size star is manifested in each of the hands. Each hand then proceeded to drop the small pebble size star into the mirrors.

The mirrors acted as a gateway for the skill and the small pebble size star appeared in the location of the demon wolves. As if Adrian has perfectly timed everything, the Quantum Cascade activated and pulled the demon wolves away from Alphus.

The demon wolves got disoriented as they got separated into six groups. They wanted to rush back into formation when the southern overlord suddenly erupted from the ground and bit the Lesser Fenrir. The southern overlord brought the Child of Disaster to another location while the demon wolves got stunned as their leader got sucker punched.

The demon wolf are about to follow their leader but Adrian will not let them. Adrian snapped all six of his fingers and six black holes formed when the small pebble size star exploded into nothingness. All of the demon wolves got dragged into different black holes.

Adrian knew that the black holes will not be able to kill the demon wolves as the damaged decreased to 80%. The buff that the Lesser Fenrir still has some effect as no demon wolf got killed. Adrian anticipated that it could happen which is why he followed up with another spell when the black holes spit out the demon wolves.

"Quantum Dispersion!" Adrian stated as six magic circles that blasted the six groups of demon wolves away from one another. His soulbounds will take care of the clean up now as he acted like a watchtower that could see everything.

Chapter 515 - Sacred Snake Versus Lesser Fenrir

The southern overlord dragged the Child of Disaster to a more open location where they could battle without the interference of others. Alphas, the Child of Disaster and Lesser Fenrir, saw that its subordinates got sucked inside some sort of vortex when he got separated.

The Lesser Fenrir issued a howl before it got separated with the pack. It managed to buff its allies before being taken away by the southern overlord. Alphas immediately tried breaking free from the jaws of the southern overlord when it managed to gather enough strength.

The southern overlord bit the lesser Fenrir in away where it could not easily gather strength to retaliate. This is the reason why Alphas had to wait for its chance to try and break free. The lesser Fenrir used its sharp claws to strike at the scales of the southern overlord, but it was tough.

Alphas had no choice but to use a skill that released a sizeable amount of dark attribute magic. The dark magic hit the southern overlord with such intensity that it loosened its hold on the Lesser Fenrir. Alphas managed to break free but crashed to the ground.

The dark attribute magic is effective because of the attribute differences between the southern overlord and the lesser Fenrir. The lesser Fenrir has dark attribute while the southern overlord, which is a sacred snake, has both water and light attribute.

The attack of the lesser Fenrir is very effective on the southern overlord but that did not stop the latter to continue attacking. The southern overlord once again spread out the white mist and vanished inside of it.

Alphas took on a defensive stance as it knows that the southern overlord's main arsenal is rapid fast attacks when the area is covered in mist. The battle of the giant monsters has finally started. Their battle shook the ground that they are on to the extent that it reached the Selvaggian race's city.

====

Adrian used Quantum Dispersion and blew away the numerous demon wolves. The attacks are still not able to kill any of the demon wolves, but they are now weakened and wary. The annoying howl that empowered the demon wolves made Adrian raise his eyebrow, but he could still manage.

The battle between the southern overlord and the child of disaster is so loud that some of the demon wolve tried to go there. Adrian is not having it which is why he immediately tasked Sirius to kill all those that run away.

Adrian could feel the intense anger that Sirius had for these demon wolves, but he still remained calm due to Adrian's reminders. If Sirius relies on pure instinct, then he would become an easy target. Sirius immediately used Phantom Rush to damage and even kill some of the demo wolf stragglers.

When Sirius rose from the shadows, the demon wolves suddenly lost interest in aiding their leader. The demon wolves suddenly looked at Sirius with immense hostility. It seems that even the demon wolves see Sirius as a threat.

"It seems that Sirius really does have a connection with these demon wolves seeing their reaction towards him. It is still manageable as they are now focused on Sirius and not aiding the Child of Disaster. Quantum Cascade." Adrian cast it once more as he tagged all the demon wolves to just one epicenter.

Adrian commanded Sirius to not leave the area as just buy enough time for the spell to activate. Sirius issued a howl which the other demon wolves also howled back. It seems that they are talking about something. A few seconds later, Sirius suddenly attacked the one that looked like the temporary leader.

"Crap. Saena support Sirius with all your might. Kanlaon wait for my signal. Charon and Dodu will be on standby for now. Kimat be ready to support Sirius using electric shocks to disorient the demon wolves." Adrian commanded as he empowered Sirius with Nether energy.

Numerous demon wolves all charged towards Sirius, but Adrian did not let that happen. He blocked some of the charging demon wolves using the mirrors he created in that location. The mirror breaking is also considered as damage which means he can direct beams of light to deal damage.

Adrian started to set up the mirror cage that will continuously deal damage to the demon wolves. Adrian also added an effect to the mirrors as he attached his Quantum Spacemine on each of them. With every broken mirror, a resulting explosion will ensue that will damage the demon wolves.

The Quantum Cascade activated once more, and the demon wolves got grouped up. Sirius used his shadows to bind the demon wolves that crashed into each other. Kimat also provided another layer of support by using an electric net which Adrian did not know it could do.

"Kanlaon, light them up." Adrian commanded as Kanlaon released its fearsome dragon breath on the demon wolves.

The howls of agony coming from the demon wolves could be heard but it is yet to decide their deaths. It seems that howl is not just a simple howl due to pain. The demon wolves started to heal as their decreased health bars steadily rose.

Adrian could see that cleaning up the demon wolves will be much more difficult. He proceeded to become more active in the battle by using an improvised tactic.

"Paradox, can you use Geoforce on the invisible mirrors scattered in the battlefield?" Adrian asked his weapon as the temporary mirrors are still considered as weapons although they fall in a gray area.

"Yes, master. Since the temporary mirrors are also considered as parts of the Primordial Mirror Armament.

"Proceed to enlarge the mirror at these coordinates." Adrian commanded as he thought of something that a cute monster did in a really old movie.

The cube of paradox enlarged the invisible looking mirror. Adrian managed to learn that he could connect two mirrors from one another. It is a way of transportation, but he thought of something different.

"What do bigger mirrors do? They magnify of course." Adrian stated as he proceeded to connect the giant mirror and the mirror in front of him. He then proceeded to send one of his fists inside the mirror.

Chapter 516 - Magnification

"What do bigger mirrors do? They magnify of course." Adrian stated as he proceeded to connect the giant mirror and the mirror in front of him. He then proceeded to send one of his fists inside the mirror.

As soon as Adrian's knuckle passed through the mirror, a gigantic version of his fist appeared on the other end that accurately hit the demon wolves. Since Adrian's strength has been decreased, his normal attacks did not do as much damage as he thought but it was effective in stopping the demon wolves.

The attacks might have been magnified but the damage is still the same as Adrian's normal punches. It is only the area that became bigger, but he is proud of his achievement.

"Theoretically, how many mirrors can we supersize?" Adrian asked the Cube of Paradox as he is curious about the maximum number of enlarged mirrors.

"If master has a thousand arms and a thousand temporary mirrors then it is possible to enlarge all one thousand mirrors. That is only possible if master's mind could handle the weight of controlling a thousand things at the same time." The Cube of Paradox answered.

"Basically, it is limited by how much hands I have and could control at the same time." Adrian stated in a rather depressed tone.

Adrian is already having a very difficult time trying to control the six field of visions accessible to him. Anymore would probably make him go insane from the immense stress. He is now becoming very greedy as this form is by far the most versatile.

"Dodu, swallow the demon wolves that I attacked." Adrian commanded.

Dodu that is currently invisible and is only about one foot tall suddenly expanded. Adrian might not have expected it, but Dodu can become bigger the more it consumes. Dodu can now become five meters tall due to this situation but the time for being that big is also limited.

Dodu easily ate the five injured demon wolves and shrunk back to its normal one-meter size. The demon wolves saw this liquid monster swallow five of their pack members and started to attack it. Try as they might, the demon wolves could not even scratch Dodu as it is immune to physical attacks.

After Kanlaon, Sirius and Kimat were done with the demon wolves they are attacking, they helped Dodu by cleaning up the demon wolves that ganged up on it. The proud number of fifty for the demon wolves decreased by twenty in about thirty minutes.

The remaining thirty demon wolves became wary and started to split up inside the territory. Each of the demon wolves split up in groups of six but Adrian is not going to let that happen. When both Quantum Cascade and Vortex activated, Adrian covered a large area of the battlefield with mirrors.

Since Adrian could make six at a time, he covered the area in a fast pace. The demon wolves that tried to escape entered the mirror instead and exited another mirror that still led to the same area. Imagine this as the Endless Corridor effect that animations or cartoons like to use.

The mirrors did consume a lot of mana which is why Adrian's boost in intelligence is very useful. He could easily recover the lost mana that gets consumed when a demon wolf enters the mirror. Adrian felt like a god that could control the world even if he is on another area.

"I feel like I am a great puppet master to be able to control a large area with ease." Adrian muttered as he raised his chair by himself.

Adrian watched as the demon wolves are being decimated by his soulbounds. The appearance of Charon constantly absorbing health from the demon wolves is a sight to behold. Charon excels in battles with greater number of enemies because all its skills are area of effect.

The demon wolves keep trying to kill Adrian's tank soulbounds, but they could not get below 90% health thanks to Saena. Kimat provided support to the group attackers by paralyzing the demon wolves which is a great contribution. The demon wolves are easily affected by lightning type status effects.

"Let us see if the southern overlord is doing well as I am." Adrian muttered as he looked at another pair of mirrors.

====

The battle between the Lesser Fenrir and the Sacred Snake is intense. They both of them already terraformed the area that they are fighting on. All trees fell and even the earth got carved as a result. The Lesser Fenrir looked exhausted, but Adrian is most worried about the southern overlord.

The southern overlord is heavily damaged as her scales are broken and blood seeping out of them. It seems that the Lesser Fenrir with darkness attribute is her weakness. Adrian started to conjure up a plan to provide support to the Sacred Snake.

The Sacred Snake's eyes suddenly glowed in a blue light, and it started to rain the area that she is fighting on. The mist that covered the area became thicker and started to become fog with zero visibility. Adrian, who wanted to provide support, could not do so as his vision is covered with fog.

Despite Adrian's lack of vision, he could still monitor the health of the Sacred Snake since they are in the same party. The health of the southern overlord is down to 60% and is now regenerating. It seems that the rain she summoned is some sort of healing rain while the fog perfectly hid her from the sharp eyes of Alphas.

"Hiding is futile, white snake." Alphas, the lesser Fenrir, suddenly spoke in a human language which shocked Adrian.

"As expected from a named monster, it is very intelligent." Adrian thought as he waited for his chance to attack the lesser Fenrir.

The Lesser Fenrir, Alphas, suddenly radiated a black aura that parted away the thick fog in the area. Not only did the fog get parted, but the Sacred Snake's location is also shown to it. The fangs of the lesser Fenrir aimed for the neck of the southern overlord.

Chapter 517 - Mirror House

The Lesser Fenrir, Alphas, radiated an immense dark aura that parted the thick fog and revealed the location of the Sacred Snake. It bared its fangs and lunged towards the neck of the southern overlord. Adrian is not going to sit by and watch this happen which is why he put his plan in motion.

"Paradox, magnify the six mirrors in that area immediately." Adrian commanded as he is thankful that his ego weapon is acting like a second brain for him.

The parting of the fog not only helped Alphas but also Adrian as he was having trouble navigating his vision in the thick fog. The Cube of Paradox immediately executed Adrian's mental orders and magnified the six temporary mirrors in that location.

Adrian then utilized all six of his hands to try and grab the lesser Fenrir. Adrian's six hands became magnified using the mirrors. Six large demon hands made a grab for the Lesser Fenrir which made Alphas lose balance. The lesser Fenrir got pinned to the ground, but Adrian is not feeling confident.

The strength that he needed to keep the lesser Fenrir down is much greater than he expected as Alphas easily pushed away the six hands keeping him pinned down. The six gigantic hands crashed on the temporary mirrors and proceeded to break each mirror.

[You have received 12% damage in maximum health.]

Adrian received a system notification about a sharp decrease in health. He did not know that he would get damaged if he crashed on his own mirrors. It seems that his strength is not multiplied by six even if he has six hands in total.

Still, Adrian could see that his effort is not in vain as the southern overlord used that chance to coil around the Lesser Fenrir. The downside of the Sacred Snake evolution is the loss of its venom gland as it is replaced by a gland that creates the mist that comes with it whenever it is moving.

The southern overlord did not only coil around the lesser Fenrir but also casted ice magic as a layer of frost is slowly building up on Alphas. The lesser Fenrir thrashed about as it bumped on and mountains in order to shake off the southern overlord that is choking it to death.

Adrian though that the southern overlord is about to win when the lesser Fenrir erupted in black fire and burned the beautiful white scales on the Sacred Snake's body. Black scorch marks could now be seen on the beautiful white scales of the southern overlord.

Since Adrian left his concentration on the demon wolves as he is sure that his soulbounds would take care of all of them, the some of the demon wolves managed to escape. When the number of demon wolves remaining became eleven, one of the demon wolves activated the same ability that Alphas used against the southern overlord.

That demon wolf sacrificed itself by using its life force as some sort of magic cancellation aura. It then charged towards the mirrors that created the endless corridor effect and broke it each mirror it crashed on easily. The other demon wolves used this chance to regroup with their alpha.

The demon wolves suddenly became faster than ever as if they get stronger if their alpha gets lower in health. Adrian suffered from his own mistake, but he also knows that he fails the mission if the southern overlord dies.

"Since it has come to this, I might as well head to that location with my soulbounds for the final stand." Adrian stated. He then proceeded to enlarge the mirror in front of him and proceeded to enter it. He also conjured a mirror for each of his soulbounds to enter so that they could easily reach the next location.

====

Alphas, the lesser Fenrir, howled so loud that it became deafening to those that arrived recently. It seems that the current form that the lesser Fenrir is taking is its berserk form. Not only did it look like a dark flaming wolf, but it also radiated this aura that gives those around it with fear.

The other demon wolves also proceeded to become a dark flaming wolf to follow their alpha's lead. Alphas has still 50% of its health remaining while the southern overlord has 45%. The rain did not stop and still kept healing the southern overlord passively with 0.1% health every five seconds.

"It seems that you managed to thin the pack. Thank you for your assistance so far." The southern overlord stated as a praise for Adrian.

"Thank you but leave the compliments when we kill that thing. Can we kill that thing though?" Adrian stated as he is not sure if they could win against a lesser Fenrir that has its damage multiplied by two.

"Just be mindful and not get hit by the Child of Disaster and you will live. One or two strikes from him would probably kill you or get you critically injured. Your priority will still be the same and kill off its underlings. They are a great nuisance." The southern overlord stated as she glared at Alphas.

"Kill the white snake!" Alphas howled as it charged towards the southern overlord in its flaming glory. All the trees that fell down became scorched in an instant.

"Immediately, make the mist thicker. I have a plan to buy us some time for you to get healed by my soulbound." Adrian stated as she sent Saena to heal the southern overlord.

"I do not know why you want to do so but I will trust you." The southern overlord stated as she produced more mist.

Adrian then proceeded to create mirrors that are rectangular in nature and in great amounts. He did not even care about durability as he only needed quantity right now. The mist suddenly covered the whole area and the wolves lost vision of their enemies for a second.

Alphus proceeded to blow away the mist using his own aura, but he got stunned by what he saw the next moments. Numerous images of Adrian's group and the southern overlord is now spread out. Alphus and the demon wolves could not make out where the real ones are.

"Welcome to my Mirror House. Well...more like Fragile Mirror House since each mirror will break with just a tap. Adrian muttered to himself as the southern overlord became amazed by Adrian's feat. He did say that he would buy her some time to get healed but she did not expect something this spectacular.

Her attitude towards Adrian became somewhat better as she raised her evaluation of the demon player. Adrian just hopes that it would but enough time to restore the southern overlord's health to at least 70%.

Chapter 518 - Frost Blossom

The numerous reflections that came with Adrian's mirror house is very effective in distracting the demon wolves and the lesser Fenrir. They crashed into numerous reflections already and is steadily increasing the damage cap that Adrian could deal with his mirrors.

While Adrian is steadily increasing the absorbed damage, his soulbounds are using the ability to travel in the mirrors that is given to them. Since Adrian and his soulbounds have their souls connected to each other, even his soulbounds could use his mirror traversing function.

Kanlaon would pop in and out of the nearest mirror and blast the demon wolves with its frost breath. Dodu just waited for its next meal as it is still digesting the demon wolves that it ate. Sirius would also use the mirrors and the shadows in order to deal the killing blow on the weakened demon wolves.

Saena is still busy healing the Sacred Snake as the southern overlord has an enormous health pool. Kimat did not like to move its body, so it just sent its attacks to the mirrors and let Paradox transfer it to the nearest enemy reflection.

The one who is the most broken in this mirror house setting is Charon. The Lifeless Lord soulbound could basically just send its chains to the mirrors and it will latch on the opponent in the other side.

Charon could just wait for the enemies to lose health as it kept increasing its barrier which is now 50% of its total health. The barrier is still rising, and it would not take long for Charon to have a hundred percent health shield.

"The only problem is the lesser Fenrir. That Child of Disaster is destroying more mirrors that I can make. I already drunk three mana potions thanks to him." Adrian muttered as he kept making mirrors to hide their current location.

"It would not take long for that Alphus to sniff us out from our current location. He is the oldest and strongest of the three Children of Disaster. He is not well versed in magic which is why that form of his might be burning more mana that he could generate." The Sacred Snake stated as it agreed to get treated by Saena.

"I agree as it almost sensed our directions a couple of times. I had to teleport us twice already because of its sharp senses but I can no longer do that." Adrian stated as he already used Rewind to revert the cooldown of Teleportation.

"Since this location will be our final stand, I should now prepare then." The Sacred Snake stated as its red eyes became golden.

The mist that the southern overlord generated started to release a chill in the air which Adrian easily sensed. He could feel that the mist is also affecting some of the mirrors near them as a layer of frost is creeping up on those mirrors.

The damaged scales on the southern overlord started to fall off and converge together. Each scale formed something like a white lotus, but Adrian could see that it carried immense power. About a thousand white scale lotuses is made as numerous small scales from the southern overlord came off.

When the southern overlord used her skill, the lesser Fenrir immediately sensed Adrian's current location. Adrian knew that the southern overlord has yet to fully activate the skill which means it is up to Adrian to let her complete it.

"Paradox, converge all mirrors and let them act as walls to separate the charging Alphas." Adrian commanded and his ego weapon accepted the command.

The numerous scattered mirrors all converge in a location to stop the charging lesser Fenrir. The Child of Disaster did not care for the number of mirrors it broke as its sharp eyes only focused on the Sacred Snake that is casting an ability.

"Yes...keep coming to this location without concern." Adrian muttered to himself as he is now increasing the damage absorbed.

The lesser Fenrir, Alphas, did not know of Adrian's plan or even care of its demon wolf subordinates as it just blindly charged towards the southern overlord. It seems that the lesser Fenrir knows of the skill that the southern overlord is using which is why it is trying to attack the latter immediately.

The lesser Fenrir is obviously afraid as the spell is reminiscent to the one its father, Fenris, told him that is very dangerous. It was the ability that the Sacred Snake used in order to drive away the Wolf of Disaster in expense of her tail.

Due to the blatant charge of the lesser Fenrir, the last mirror finally broke but that also meant that Adrian took a lot of damage. He did not expect that he would lose 50% of his current health easily as each broken mirror shaved off 1% of his health. If he did not drink a potion then he might have died just now.

"Prismatic Mirror!" Adrian stated as his six main mirrors surrounded the charging Alphas.

The six mirrors then fired a scorching beam of light that totaled all the absorbed damage that Adrian received. The Child of Disaster did not expect that the damage it received would be so significant as it only saw the demon helping the southern overlord as an ant.

The lesser Fenrir did not know that he is actually receiving the exact same damage that it dealt. If it knew then it would have tried its hardest to avoid breaking any mirror. Alphas came crashing to the ground with a howl of pain and only stopped a few meters away from the southern overlord.

"It is over now, Child of Disaster. Do not worry as your father will come with you sooner than you will expect. Frost Blossom!" The Southern Overlord stated as the numerous white lotuses made of her scales fell down on the Lesser Fenrir.

When the white lotuses made of snake scales fell down on the body of Alphas, it exploded and immediately damaged the Lesser Fenrir by creating a piercing ice shard. The Child of Disaster wailed in pain as numerous of this white lotuses hit it but it still did not lose determination to live.

Chapter 519 - The Blind Demon God

The look that the Child of Disaster stated that its will power is ever burning. Each white scale lotus that hit it would decrease the health of the lesser Fenrir by 0.5%. The value might be small, but the lesser Fenrir has about a hundred billion health points.

"Awoo!" Alphas, the Lesser Fenrir, howled and the other dying demon wolves howled as well.

The demon wolves that are close to death became wisps of dark flames. As if they sacrificed their life for their alpha, the dark flames gathered towards the injured Alphas. Adrian could see that the dark flame wisps are actually the souls of the demon wolves.

The mouth of the Lesser Fenrir opened up and started to suck in all the dark flame wisps coming their way. Adrian suddenly felt a chill run down his spine as the souls of the demon wolves are devoured. Since Adrian is the Shepherd of Lost Souls, he could practically be called a living version of a grim reaper.

The demon wolves might have looked like they willingly offered their souls but that is not the case. The demon wolves' souls are actually in lament and is in torture as their souls are becoming nourishment to the Lesser Fenrir's body. This ability should not have been accessible to a normal Fenrir as soul consumption is a very evil magic that only dark gods are supposed to have.

"Do not tell me?!" Adrian suddenly thought and shuddered at a potential future.

Adrian did not act on his realization for now as the Lesser Fenrir is recovering its strength to a vast degree. The injuries that it had has turned its red health bar back to healthy levels. Alphas is now regaining strength and the white scale lotuses are being melted by the dark flame that burned hotter when the Lesser Fenrir started eating souls.

"Little Demon, it is not safe anymore. You should escape as I will sacrifice myself to defeat the enemy in front of us." The Sacred Snake stated as her voice is now weak as the last spell took a toll on her.

"Should I try my guess out? I do not know if it would even take effect." Adrian thought as the energy in the surroundings suddenly became rampant.

The Lesser Fenrir, Alphas, has already devoured all the souls of the demon wolves. Even with Adrian and his soulbounds attacking, the damage that Alphas has received is very minimal in its buffed and berserk state.

Adrian could only think that his Netheros True Form as a solution to the problem, but he does not know if it will take effect. He always wondered if his Primordial Stance would affect his true form.

In the past before getting Primordial Stance, the Soul Armaments (now Primordial Armaments) will also be transformed with him since it is part of his soul.

Adrian, who is pondering on how he would proceed, is woken up from his thoughts by the clashing of the two titans in front of him. The Sacred Snake that recovered a decent amount of health and the Lesser Fenrir is now embroiled in a fight between each other.

Adrian's soulbounds tried to engage but only Sirius could truly deal damage as Kanlaon might hurt the Sacred Snake by mistake. Even Kimat, who could paralyze using his lightning, could not even paralyze such a huge monster. Adrian is left with him and Sirius to deal with helping the Sacred Snake.

Although his soulbounds could not deal damage, that does not mean that they are completely useless. Charon could still siphon health from the Lesser Fenrir. Saena could still heal the Sacred Snake albeit at small amounts.

Dodu could still give the Sacred Snake immunity to physical attacks for a few seconds. Kimat could strike the eyes of the Lesser Fenrir to provide temporary distractions. It might not be huge advantages, but an advantage is still an advantage.

"I will take a Leap of Faith then. Nether Domain." Adrian stated as the surroundings suddenly changed.

The temperature changed as it dropped to a colder temperature but only to the point where it gives those inside a slight chill. The mists of three different colors started to gather in a huge vicinity as Adrian's Domain Skill activated.

If there is one thing that Adrian is thankful, it is the fact that the Lesser Fenrir has no Domain Skill. If it had a Domain Skill, then Adrian's group would have been easily killed. When the Nether Mist rolled in, the Lesser Fenrir and even the Sacred Snake felt a chill run up their spine, but it is actually their souls feeling the dreadful power.

"Netheros True Form!" Adrian chanted.

Adrian's body that is small compared to the two titanic monsters is wrapped in the Nether Mist. Adrian also sealed back his soulbounds in order to turn them in what he dubbed as Nether Forms. The two gigantic monsters fighting literally froze when they felt the Nether Mist.

The Lesser Fenrir even tried to get some distance, but the Sacred Snake did not let it. The southern overlord tightened her coil on the Lesser Fenrir. Adrian's Nether Mist sphere that should have stopped at ten meters actually became as big as twenty meters.

The first thing that broke apart the mist is six giant demonic hands with the upper arm but those are not attached to an elbow. The Nether Mist Sphere then disappeared and Adrian's form that is a towering twenty meters high could be seen. The two gigantic monsters felt like they saw a god come down to this world to destroy the world.

Adrian's form is literally like a demon god or an asura. Adrian's horns became like a crown that adorned him while his blindfold became the Nether Mist itself that glowed in an eerie light. Adrian's six mirrors is also rotating around him like they are godly items with demon eyes blinking that added to the scary effect.

Adrian's Netheros True Form combined with his Primordial Stance could be easily called a new form. Adrian's senses also changed as he can no longer see just by using his six palms with eyes, but he could see everything around him permanently. He felt like he became an all seeing god.

"The Blind Demon God!" The Sacred Snake suddenly muttered as she received an oracle from the world of The Wilde herself.

Chapter 520 - Oracle From The Wilde

"The Blind Demon God!" The Sacred Snake suddenly muttered as she received an oracle from the world of The Wilde herself when she woke up about a few days earlier.

The Sacred Snake does not have the word 'sacred' just because of its white scales and almost godlike appearance. The Sacred Snake basically has qualities that a land deity has which are a half spirit body and the ability to hear the will of the world.

Land Deities are different from gods because of one fundamental thing. That fundamental thing is that Land Deities are essentially still mortal but have long life spans. If the Land Deity does not get killed by others, then it could ascend to godhood upon the end of its mortal life cycle.

All Land Deities are basically close to demigods in power at their peak age where it would only take about a decade or two before their ascension to the godly plane. The Sacred Snake however is still a very new existence for a Land Deity as she only appeared a couple of hundred years.

If a Land Deity wants to ascend to godhood earlier then they would need to strengthen themselves. If they just passively sleep all the time, then they would take a minimum of ten thousand years for them to become a god.

The one thing that the Land Deities have in conjunction with the gods is their need for prayers. Land Deities could also harness the power of faith but not to the amount that gods could harness. Some Land Deities even form covenants with existing gods so that they could ascend faster with the help of the faith of that god.

The evolution to become a Land Deity is not something every individual knows because each requirement is different for each individual. Even if they are the same species, it does not mean that they have the same means of becoming a Land Deity.

Although not all Land Deities decide to become gods as some become attached to the world or land, they are revered in and stay there for the rest of their lives. Not all Land Deities have the words like 'Sacred' to identify them as others would have 'Enlightened' or 'Exalted' as an identifier.

The Sacred Snake received an oracle from the world itself that woke her from her slumber. The Wilde never really cared for the inhabitants, so it rarely gave the Sacred Snake oracles. The last oracle that she received is the arrival of the Wolf of Disaster.

She did not particularly like that oracle because it was vague and did not tell her that the Wolf of Disaster would actually attack her. She usually just brushes off the things that the will of the world told her but this one is pretty specific.

"The world will turn to grand or to dust depending on the action of the blind demon that the gods trust." The will of the world stated to the Sacred Snake.

She did not completely hear the oracle perfectly because she was drowsy when she received it. It is not like the will of the world needs to have appointments for the Sacred Snake to listen to it. The Sacred Snake heard different as she heard the sentence.

"The world will grand on the blind demon god."

The sentence that the Sacred Snake heard is basically different from what the will of the world actually said. She might not like the will of this world, but she knows that she must not dismiss the oracle that the will of the world gave her. Due to this, the normally sluggish and asleep Southern Overlord is awake and alert.

She waited for days so that the oracle would come true. She waited about a week for the oracle of the Wolf of Disaster to come true. She did not mind waiting for the subject of the oracle that she received as it seems to be a positive note.

She even used almost all parts of her long body to become mist in order to become a sensory ability. Since the southern region of the world of The Wilde is her very own Land Deity territory, she could scatter herself to all parts of the area. Her ability would be limited if she were in another's territory though.

She waited and waited until she detected movement in her territory. She thought it was the blind demon god, but it was just a young demon. She did not mind the presence of the young demon as he did not harm the inhabitants of her territory.

He was also a summoner and she detected that his soulbounds all have great attitudes which means the young demon values the life of others. The young demon also suddenly shouted and asked to meet her, but she did not care as she does not know him. She does not need to speak with him.

When she wanted to sleep once more as the oracle will not happen any time soon, she immediately sensed intense bloodlust in four directions of the southern territory. She could not always be in mist form that covers the territory as that is tiresome for her, but she could still have slight perception when it comes to her territory.

She dealt with the four areas quickly only to feel that the area where the young demon is currently located is being attacked. The Sacred Snake thought that the young demon would be dead by now, but it seems that he had hiding mechanisms as even she could barely feel his presence.

The Sacred Snake decided to still go back to that area as he remembers that the area that the young demon was located is a heavily inhabited area. She immediately dispatched the demon wolves that attacked the poor defenseless monsters, but she lacked the healing skill to save them.

When she finished dealing with the demon wolves, she thought that she would see the small monsters taking their last breath. But she was shocked upon seeing, the young demon healing and helping the weak monsters. He even got their affection which is something that she rarely got as the weak monsters were scared of her despite not attacking them.

This is the moment where the southern overlord took interest in the young demon. He might not be the blind demon god that the oracle mentioned but he is helpful to her right now. She decided to observe the young demon in earnest.

When the young demon is playing with the small monsters in her territory, he suddenly commanded his dragon to emit a commanding roar. The dragon told everyone to find a place to hide as the demon wolves are coming. The Sacred Snake knew that the young demon would not command such a thing if it is not true.

The Sacred Snake increased her perception and felt the energies of a large number of demon wolves. The most frightening thing that she felt is the energy that is that of a Child of Disaster. She knows about the Child of Disasters as she felt them when they were born to this world.

The energies surrounding the Child of Disasters is like that of their parent which is the Wolf of Disaster. The only thing that is different is the fact it is weaker compared to the actual Fenrir. She decided to make her move early and warn the young demon to escape but she is shocked once more.

She did not expect that the young demon would risk his life to fight for her territory. When she met him again, the young demon finally told him of his plan or rather the other overlord's plan. It seems that the overlords are finally starting to move to kill the Wolf of Disaster which took control of the northern part of this world.

The Sacred Snake did not refute the young demon anymore as he already made his stance. When the young demon said that he would battle, he immediately changed form which put a blindfold on his face. The Sacred Snake wanted to ask the demon but even she has to prepare to fight the Child of Disaster, so she did not ask.

A few hours into the battle, the oracle that she received finally came true. The blind demon god that the will of the world stated has finally graced this world. This means that the world has acknowledge the change that is to come and the eradication of the Wolf of Disaster. The world wants the death of the personification of disaster.

She marveled at the power that the Blind Demon God used as the soulbounds that he controlled became beings of power incarnate. The proud beasts of the Blind Demon God became the personification of fear and power themselves while their master looked as if he could see everything present in this world.

The Sacred Snake finally decided to aid the Blind Demon God in his effort to kill the disaster. It seems that the oracle she received is true and she would make it come true. Even she holds a grudge against the Wolf of Disaster and wants to squeeze it to death.