

O Summoner 941

Chapter 941

In a room that could be described as a sealed barrier room, the Splash of the Wilde is currently there and is being harnessed. It is on top of a three-meter-tall podium and is guarded by five guards inside the room and five guards outside the doors. There is also one mage checking every once in a while, that the divine artifact fragment is operating properly.

The Splash of the Wilde looks like an orb made of water that is continuously flowing in a spherical motion. Not just anyone can use it as it would take years of studying to even harness a fraction of its power if they are not chosen by the Will of the Wilde.

If King Neptune is not greedy then he might have activated the Splash of the Wilde using Kabrakan's help. The leviathans would not have easily damaged the barrier if Kabrakan activated the full might of the divine artifact fragment. They would not have sacrificed many lives of the merfolk, but greed always gets in the way.

As soon as the barrier got broken, the hidden assassins that the Dark God that Slumbers in the Sea sent headed towards the location of the Splash of the Wilde. It might be located in the inner palace, but the Deep Assassins could manipulate their bodies to become unseen when underwater.

The monsters called the Deep Assassins look like humanoid monsters that have the arms and legs of an octopus while the head of a shark. They also crawl on the walls to further avoid detection as they have the camouflage characteristics of an octopus. They also attack by suddenly grasping the target with their tentacles and then suddenly biting their heads off with their shark jaws.

The outside guards of the barrier room did not even know how they died. When the communication from the outside has been suddenly cut off, the inner guards tried to investigate but they soon died one by one. The Deep Assassins easily dispatched the inner guards and even the mage that monitors the divine artifact fragment.

The deep assassins then gathered the bodies of the fallen merfolk and arranged them in a pile. One of the Deep Assassins then started to chant a spell that suddenly made its body glow red. The deep assassin that chanted the spell and suddenly exploded into a bloody mess after it was finished.

The bodies of the merfolk and the bloody mess that the deep assassin has become suddenly started to fuse together. All the bodies merged into a meat pile and a humanoid silhouette started to emerge from it. The humanoid figure that started to appear is wearing a robe that hid its body.

The only thing that they can see is that the hands it has are tentacles while the feet could clearly be seen as ten tentacles. The face of the humanoid figure could be seen to be reminiscent of a starfish. This is the Deep Warlock that the deep assassin sacrificed its life to summon. It is a higher being that worships the Dark God that Slumbers in the Sea.

The Deep Warlock suddenly looked like it regurgitated something, and it is actually worm like beings. These worm-like beings are then placed on top of the Splash of the Wilde. The divine artifact fragment that is rotating suddenly started to slow down its rotation. It is clear that the worm-like beings are doing something to the Splash of the Wilde.

"The Splash of the Wilde is calling for me! It is being attacked!" Kabrakan stated as he suddenly received a cry for help from the divine artifact fragment.

"Where is it?" Peridot asked as she suddenly transformed into her dragon form.

"There! It is at the center of the castle. I might get a clearer location if we go closer." Kabrakan replied.

Peridot then grabbed the two as she suddenly swam at a fast pace. It is not the usual speed that they swam as it is an emergency. They must not let something happen to the Splash of the Wilde or else they will have come here for nothing. Peridot even used the spell called Mist Walker to turn themselves invisible so that they will not be spotted by the guards.

Thankfully, most of the guards are no longer near the palace as they are fighting against the leviathan horde. The merfolk royalty does not like to put treasure in the halls of the palace which is why there are no important things that need to protect. The most important ones are royalty itself which is why the guards are laying their lives to make sure that they kill all the leviathans.

When the trio arrived at the barrier room, they are suddenly greeted by two deep assassins that are hiding on the roof of the room. Kabrakan managed to block the sudden attack or else Levin Cloud and Peridot might have had their heads bitten off. The Deep Warlock did not bother to look at them as it is completing an important task for its god.

"What are those hideous things?" Peridot stated as she reverted to a more humanoid form since the space of the room will hinder her dragon form.

"Nevermind that! Kill them first!" Levin Cloud stated as he activated Bramble Trap.

Seaweed suddenly sprouted to bind the two Deep Assassins, but they are quick enough to dodge. The Deep Assassins swim as fast as a shark but with the flexibility of an octopus which is why they are difficult to trap. Levin Cloud could not think of a way to pin them down unless Kabrakan gets captured by them.

"Frozen Abyss!" Peridot stated as she casted a Legendary Tier degraded spell. She sacrificed half of her mana and a frozen gem in order to immediately cast the spell.

The whole room suddenly transformed into an ice cage as the temperature of the water is lowered. The most important thing is that she encased the Splash of the Wilde in ice so that the Deep Warlock will not be able to send those disgusting worm looking beasts towards it.

"The cry for help stopped." Kabrakan muttered as the Splash of the Wilde told him that it is no longer being attacked but the damage is still there. If they want to get the divine artifact fragment, then they need to defeat the enemy in front of them.

"Protect me." Levin Cloud stated as he suddenly started to pray.

"Tidal Vortex!" Peridot shouted as she created a water tornado by using the other half of her mana and a water stone.

The Tidal Vortex managed to push away the Deep Assassins and the Deep Warlock to a wall while Kabrakan slammed his shield on the ground and used a skill. The walls that the Deep Assassins and the Deep Warlock got pinned on suddenly started to trap them. The three monsters tried to break free, but the Tidal Vortex is keeping them pushed. The walls of the room are clearly superior as it is not broken by a legendary tier spell.

"Come and aid us. Descent of Yewdrassil!" Levin Cloud shouted as he finished casting.

A small spatial rift suddenly opened, and a seed fell down from it. Ywedrassil suddenly grew to a great size that it even took the roof of the room. A large divine tree suddenly sprouted at the barrier room which made the fighting forces stop briefly.

"The barrier room!" King Neptune stated as he suddenly swam towards the location of the Splash of the Wilde, but Ursalla suddenly blocked him.

The Wicked Sea Sorceress knew that the transformation of the Splash of the Wilde is happening as she could sense that the Deep Warlock has been summoned. If King Neptune were to go, there then her plans might be lost, and she might even receive punishment from the Dark God that Slumbers in the Sea.

"Get out of my way! Tidal Slicer!" King Neptune shouted as he waved his trident to create water whips that intended to kill the Ursalla.

"I will kill you right here!" The Wicked Sea Sorceress Ursalla shouted back as she parried each water whip with a miasma tentacle.

King Neptune knew that the Splash of the Wilde might be in trouble as a tree suddenly sprouted from nowhere, but he cannot go there. All of his sons and daughters that are combatants are currently trying to kill the leviathans. As he is getting focused on the Splash of the Wilde, he did not pay full attention on the fight.

A hidden tentacle that sprouted just below King Neptune suddenly grabbed him and started to pull him down. Ursalla made King Neptune think that she can only summon tentacles from the Eye of Poseidon but that is not true. She can actually summon a tentacle in a fifty-meter area around her but the farther it is the more concentration that needs to be used.

"You should not look away during a fight, King Neptune. Is that not what you taught me?" Ursalla sneered.

Chapter 942

"You should not look away during a fight, King Neptune. Is that not what you taught me?" Ursalla sneered.

King Neptune got dragged down to the depths of the abyss by the miasma tentacle summoned by Ursalla. She did not expect that the merfolk king would be too occupied with the sudden intrusion in the barrier room, but she greatly appreciated it.

She would not immediately kill the king by tearing as that would be wasteful on his blood. He would merely snap the king's neck and bones in order for her to preserve the body. If she could then she will keep the king hostage forever and draw blood from him at all times until she can fill the seas with leviathans.

The Sea King that the king raised saw this and immediately went into rage. Her master is suddenly being dragged down the sea, so it tried to kill Ursalla, but the Reaper blocked it. King Neptune could feel that the miasma tentacle is not just for binding him but also sapping at his strength.

The longer that he is being bound by the tentacle, more and more of his strength is fading away. King Neptune could no longer take it and immediately shouted out loud. His three-meter-tall body started to expand as his real form started to materialize.

King Neptune is a rare breed of hydromorph as he is of the hybrid race. He is part Whalefolk and part mermaid which is why he had a fish tail. Some people might say that mermaids and hydromorphs are the same, but they are not. The two races had intermingled with each other for quite some time which is why they are described as such.

King Neptune activated his whale beast man bloodline and transformed into an enormous blue whale. Some might think that this will make him a large target and easy to kill but they are wrong. King Neptune's ferocity manifested as some sort of barrier around his body that protected him from attacks that cannot penetrate half of his defense.

With King Neptune's Ferocity, only spells or attacks of the Legendary Tier could hurt him. This made him far stronger than any other king in the sea as not many could contend with him. Not everyone can just casually let loose a legendary tier spell as if they are spitting water. This is the reason why the Scylla and the Kraken race do not attack them despite the hostilities between the two kingdoms.

Ursalla knew this as well which is why she also activated her Beast Transformation. She suddenly expanded and turned into a large octopus that is incredibly hideous to look at. There are clear signs of corruption from her body which is why she is no longer just an octopus beast kin.

The bodies of the two are almost at the same size of the leviathans due to their beast species. Especially King Neptune as he is as big as his Sea King. King Neptune attacked Ursalla with sonic waves generated from his mouth while the latter tried entangling the former. Since Ursalla transformed with the miasma that she uses, her tentacles also had the absorbing properties.

King Neptune and Ursalla might look like they are evenly matched, but they are not. King Neptune's Ferocity far exceeded the damage that Ursalla can do. Furthermore, since Ursalla abandoned her pride as a beast kin and became a follower of a dark god, she can no longer use Ferocity as this power is essentially sourced from a beast kin's pride. She could no longer muster it as she is just a hollow of her former beast kin self. She is persistent as her dark god gave her the power to do so which is why she plans on dragging the fight for as long as she can.

"Descent of Yewdrassil!" Levin Cloud shouted as the tree of life and death suddenly appeared in the room.

The Deep Assassins and the Deep Warlock suddenly shuddered at the face of incredible holy magic. The strengths of the Deep Assassins and the Deep Warlock suddenly plummeted as they are getting weakened by the aura released by Yewdrassil.

"Why do you look a little different?" Levin Cloud asked the tree of life and death.

"This is my aquatic form of course. I adapt to any situation." Yewdrassil replied but this is actually just a fragment of its real self.

"Nevermind. With you here then my holy magic would be much more powerful." Levin Cloud stated as he needs to do the role of a damage dealer too.

"It seems that you have been too caught up as a priest that just uses holy magic. Did you forget that you are also a priest that can use Death Magic?" The tree of life and death, Yewdrassil, stated as it judged that Levin Cloud forgot that it thought him a few spells from Death Magic.

"I tried using them, but they are not spells that can damage mortal bodies as that is taboo." Levin Cloud replied as he tried using them on monsters, but the effect was not even at 20% of the original spell's power.

"Fool! Did you forget that Death Magic is on powerful against beings that defy the balance of life and death? What are the beings that you are fighting against now?" The tree of life and death, Yewdrassil, stated.

Levin Cloud suddenly had an epiphany as the beings that ty are battling right now are not natural or do not confer with the natural state of things. These things are artificial creatures created by a dark god solely to do its bidding. One can even say that these are just walking meat sacks that follow instruction.

"I forgot about that. Let me refocus then." Levin Cloud stated as his white and green robe suddenly turned into a different color.

The white parts of his robe suddenly became black as his aura that seemed benevolent turned into something eerily calm. For beings that followed the natural law, his appearance would provide them peace and comfort but to those that do not then they can only run away.

The Deep Assassins and Deep Warlock felt something that is not ingrained into their heads. This was the sense of dread and fear that knocks on anyone's door. The looming sense of death that one feels when their time is about to end is felt by the Deep Assassins and Deep Warlock.

The Deep Assassins and Deep Warlock wanted to escape but their wills do not let them do so. They were created solely for the happiness of their dark god and will only exist for it. They stayed and fought their urge to escape as the aura that the tree of life and death also changed to a more death aspect.

As if the tree of life and death responded with the will of the one that called for it, the lush and green side of the tree vanished as only the deathly side appeared. The surrounding waters also became cold as if the water itself lost life. In fact, Levin Cloud might not have noticed but he also unconsciously summoned some water from the river Styx.

"Call of Death!" Levin Cloud chanted as his pendant suddenly released ghoulish flaming skulls that homed in on the Deep Assassins and Deep Warlock.

The flames that covered these flying skulls seemed to not be made of fire as it was not put out by the water around them. The pale blue glow of the skulls gave them a terrifying aura that the Deep Assassins and Deep Warlock felt. The enemies wanted to dodge the attacks, but they are still pinned down by the Tidal Vortex that Peridot used.

The three ghoulish flaming skulls attacked the Deep Assassins and Deep Warlock. The three pitiful beings let out a piercing scream as if they are being tortured. The flames enveloped their body as they started to squirm. With the tidal vortex still active, parts of the tentacles of the Deep Assassins and Deep Warlock started to get cut off because of their immense struggle.

Levin Cloud did not stop as he used every Death Magic spell that is taught to him. This was rare chance for him to use the spells that he rarely used because of the restrictions. The pitiful screams of the Deep Assassins and Deep Warlock wanted to echo out, but the tree of life and death did not give them the luxury to do so. The Deep Assassins and Deep Warlock died without even managing to fulfill their roles as sacrificial pawns.

"Director! You should see this." One of the staff of Atlas Inc. stated as replayed the video of Levin Cloud using Death Magic.

"Mark him as well. Seriously, even his friends are a pain in the neck. To think that the Envoy of the Twin Gods gained the seal of approval of the Tree of Life and Death. Even in the written story of Pandemonium that was not achieved. The Tree of Life and Death is a fickle existence that did not even spare a glance at the former envoys of the twin gods.

Chapter 943

[You have killed the Deep Assassin with Death Magic. Some of the miasma it carried in its body has been converted to Death Miasma and absorbed into the body.]

[You have killed the Deep Assassin with Death Magic. Some of the miasma it carried in its body has been converted to Death Miasma and absorbed into the body.]

[You have killed the Deep Warlock with Death Magic. Some of the miasma it carried in its body has been converted to Death Miasma and absorbed into the body.]

The Deep Assassins and Deep Warlock died due to the immense power that Death magic afflicted to their bodies. So powerful that the miasma that is once from a dark god has been partially converted to Death Miasma where only servants of the God of Death Abaddon can absorb it through their bodies.

Not all beings affected by death magic will be transformed to death miasma as it also rarely happens. In fact, the death miasma that was converted is only about 5% of the total miasma that the deep assassins and deep warlocks have. This is extremely beneficial to Levin Cloud that has more life energy compared to death energy.

Once the Deep Assassins and Deep Warlock has died, Peridot and Kabrakan cancelled the spells that they are channeling. The two plopped down on the ground as they lost all their mana just to pin the enemies to the wall. The apparition of the tree of life and death, Yewdrassil, also receded back into a seed and vanished into a rift in space.

Levin Cloud's priestly robe returned back to its white and green color scheme as all the death energy receded back to his body as well. He made sure to not leak his death energy as that is incredibly harmful to the surrounding as taught by the dark elves.

In fact, death energy must be masterfully contained or else it could leak which can change the surroundings. This is testament to the fact that the first thing that all Priests of Death master is the containment of death energy. Thankfully, races of the Asmodian lineage can perfectly contain any energy as long as they are transformed using that energy.

The ice that protected the Splash of the Wilde melted but the impurities in the divine artifact fragment are still there. External intervention is needed to help it get purified, but Kabrakan alone cannot be able to do it. The Splash of the Wilde needed to be purified with the help of a hydromorph.

Kabrakan wanted to protest that he alone is enough as he already has the Soil of the Wilde, but it seems that the Splash of the Wilde is tied with the hydromorphs. The divine artifact fragment is actually sentient and knows that it needs to bless the hydromorphs before going away just like the Soil of the Wilde.

"The divine artifact fragment said that we need the aid of a merfolk royalty in order to cleanse its impurities." Kabrakan stated.

"If that is the case then our best bet would be Princess Ariella. She seems to be the most decent among the royal family." Peridot suggested and even Levin Cloud agreed.

"But how can we locate her? She is not fighting outside which means she must have already evacuated from the area." Kabrakan asked.

"Easy. We just need to follow the seed that I given her. To think the tracker seed that I have given her when we met would be useful like this. That seed is treated as a gem because of its beauty but it actually contained some of my lingering energy. I can still detect it, but it is faint." Levin Cloud stated as he already planned for this just in case he needs to 'retrieve' more.

"To think that you planned ahead. I thought you were hitting on her." Peridot stated as she almost hit Levin Cloud from the previous interaction.

Just as the trio is about to move, a large piercing screech travelled throughout the whole kingdom. Dark Bubbles suddenly started to manifest on the seabed as something sinister crept up to the heart of every living being in the kingdom. Not only the trio felt it but also all the merfolk that has yet to escape.

"Dark Lord! Help me once more! I shall sacrifice one of my tentacles!" Ursalla shouted as one of her tentacles suddenly detached but it did not regenerate.

The large tentacle then split into one hundred fragment and numerous Deep Assassins suddenly manifested from them. When about fifty Deep Assassins manifested, the ones fighting outside could feel a dark ominous presence loom over the kingdom that even made the leviathans tremble a little. Only when this presence suddenly vanished did the fighting resumed once again.

The fifty Deep Assassins did not help Ursalla with her fight, but they all bolted to the location of the Splash of the Wilde. Levin Cloud suddenly sensed that numerous miasma filled monsters are coming their way. He suddenly urged everyone to find Princess Ariella fast as those monsters are fixated on the Splash of the Wilde that has traces of the dark god's miasma.

"Hurry! She is not far from here. There are numerous monsters that are coming for that. We must purify it immediately so that they cannot locate it." Levin Cloud shouted as Peridot transformed into her dragon form and swam as if her life depended on it.

Due to the Splash of the Wilde not being able to be stored in the inventory, the trio could be said to be holding a walking beacon for dark god followers. They will only be able to lose them if they can store the Splash of the Wilde inside the inventory. As fast as Peridot could swim, it is still difficult to carry two grown men especially if one is of a large build.

"She is there! There is a hidden passageway in that floor space! Enter there. I will buy you as much time as I can." Levin Cloud stated as he broke free from Peridot's claws to guard the entrance.

Peridot looked at Levin Cloud with a determined gaze and took off the lid. Levin Cloud will act as a first line of defense while Peridot will guard the other side. When Peridot closed the lid of the floor, she froze the entrance so that it could at least stall for more time if Levin Cloud were to fall.

Levin Cloud could no longer use death magic as the cooldowns for the spells are at minimum two hours. He also does not have the support of the tree of life and death which means the damage that he dealt earlier will not be as powerful. He started to cover the entire room with sea plants since he will use life energy to combat the incoming threats.

Levin Cloud filled the room with sea plants while also covering the entrance with thick and heavy plants. He wants to buy as much time as he needed because even, he does not have confidence that he will survive. He has no confidence because he saw about forty Deep Assassins in the room surrounding him.

"I guess I will be sea food. I hope you guys are vegetarian." Levin Cloud stated as his body started to get covered in green light.

"Your majesty! Those abominations are headed towards the passage!" One of the merfolk generals reported to King Neptune through shouting.

The struggling King Neptune knew what the merfolk general stated as his precious daughters are clearly there. By their demeanor, he knew that they would volunteer to be last to escape since he raised him that way. King Neptune, in his whale form, suddenly exploded his ferocity that freed him from the entanglement of Ursalla.

King Neptune is about to burst with speed to kill off the Deep Assassins, but another leviathan suddenly flanked him from the side. This leviathan is not the same as the first ones that Ursalla called for. This leviathan is in the form of a mixture of an arrow and an electric eel. This leviathan is called Spear Spark which is one of the deadliest leviathans that are said to have been extinct.

The sharp nose of the Spear Spark managed to actually pierce the skin of King Neptune which he did not think is possible. Even King Neptune's Sea King will not be able to do that as his defenses are powered by his Ferocity that is a lot.

"How is this possible!" King Neptune stated in a muffled voice.

"Hahaha! You did not expect this!" Ursalla laughed maniacally as she waited for this to happen.

She perfectly hid this other leviathan that she raised in order to kill King Neptune if she had the chance. She wanted to kill him, but King Neptune managed to react in time to only get pierced in his side. Still, the skin of a whale beast kin got pierced and blood oozed out of it. Upon seeing this, the Sea King suddenly roared out loud and the waters suddenly became chaotic.

Chapter 944

The waters around the kingdom suddenly became chaotic as the Sea King of King Neptune became enraged. Even the weaker tiered leviathans became fearful when it emitted the deafening roar. The leviathans around them suddenly weakened which made the merfolk strengthen their attacks against them.

King Neptune is still heavily injured though and is about to get entangled by Ursalla when water tornadoes suddenly surrounded him. It prevented the Reaper and Spear Spark from getting in the way as those water tornadoes could easily damage their flesh.

"Interesting! A Sea King raised by the blood of a merfolk king properly could exceed their powers. It is almost near the mythical tier. I will dominate you once your owner is made into my slave!" Ursalla stated as she used the Eye of Poseidon to cancel the skill of the Sea King.

The Sea King managed to buy enough time for its master to breath and revert back to his merfolk form. It did not negate the damage that he suffered though as the wound is still present. His body might have become small, but the injury is still present.

Ursalla also reverted back to her smaller form as it also taken a toll on her stamina. Also, it would be uncomfortable fighting King Neptune in her larger form as she will take more hits due to her bigger form. For now, she had the upper hand which is she is not taking more measures to defeat him. She will relish the taught of the previous king she served as a half dead man.

"I am surrounded. I surely have no luck in this world." Levin Cloud chuckled as his preparations are already finished.

He managed to cover the whole area in sea plant life. He knows that he is more powerful when he is amongst greenery which is why he forcefully attracted all the plants in the vicinity to come towards him. Thankfully, even sea plant life considers him as a leader among them as a leshy.

"Need to buy as much time as possible first. I am already running low on life energy just by forcefully growing all these plants. Bramble Cage! Flower Enhancement!" Levin Cloud stated.

The sea plant life that surrounded him suddenly formed a dome around him that protected him from external attacks. After that, flowers suddenly started to bloom from the sea plant life as the defense provided by the Bramble Cage is enhanced. The Deep Assassins started to bash the dome attempting to kill him and get to the Splash of the Wilde.

"You guys are lucky because I cannot transform to my true form or else, I would have turned all of you into fish balls!" Levin Cloud shouted at the Deep Assassins which seemed to have agitated the monsters even more.

The Deep Assassins were tearing at the layers of Bramble Cage and even the enhancement cannot completely block them. Levin Cloud could not help but pour mana into the spell so that it would continue to glow but stopping numerous enemies is not as easy as one can imagine. The most reliable one in their party that can deal damage to large number of enemies is currently lost at sea.

"Achoo! Someone must be talking bad about me." Adrian stated as he looked at the state of the Sea King Leviathan eggs while rubbing his nose.

"How are my babies, blessed one?" The Sea King asked Adrian.

"They are good, but I need to tell you something about the eggs. It seems that they have little life energy left. Have they taken too long for them to hatch?" Adrian asked the Sea King.

"You are correct, blessed one. It usually takes two years for my babies to hatch but it is already ten years, but they have yet to hatch. I fear they might turn to stone this year if they do not hatch. I have seen other eggs that became stone as some of my brothers and sisters did not hatch as well." The Sea King stated.

"I shall try my best. You said that leviathan eggs hatch faster when exposed to the blood of a merfolk. Is that absolutely true?" Adrian asked as he did not want to just randomly stroll to a merfolk and suddenly ask for their blood.

"I heard from the other leviathans that merfolk royalty blood is what increases the chances for our eggs to hatch. It is not absolute, but it also increases the chance for a mutation if it is purer. Unlike other leviathans, I do not like going to the merfolk as they would surely ask for one of my eggs if I asked them for help." The Sea King replied.

"I see. Maybe...it is not the merfolk blood that is affecting them but the small amounts of Asmodian blood present in their body. Royalty should be purer than others which is why the merfolk royal family's blood is needed." Adrian muttered to himself.

"I ask you, blessed one of the Goddess of Life. Please help my children to hatch. I will gladly sacrifice my core as long as my children are safely hatched." The Sea King stated.

"Let us discuss the reward after I hatch them successfully." Adrian replied as he started to inject life energy to the three eggs as he wanted to try his blood theory.

When the three eggs are sufficiently filled with life energy, Adrian suddenly made a small cut on his finger as his blood started to ooze out. He did this in an environment that is not filled with water as the Sea King manipulated the water so that Adrian's blood will not flow with the water.

Adrian just used one drop of blood per egg, and he could suddenly feel that two of the three eggs started to get filled with immense energy. He looked at the last egg that did not move and tried one more drop of blood but there was no reaction unlike the other two.

Adrian activated his evil eye and then saw why it showed no reaction. The egg or rather the sea king that is supposed to be inside of it is soulless. Unlike the other two that showed reaction, the last one is just a husk filled with life energy. It seems that just supplying life energy is not enough to hatch them as their souls are also needed.

Adrian told the Sea King about the news, but he was comforted with motherly love. The Sea King did not hold a grudge and just told Adrian that it is nature for some to not hatch. Adrian did not like this as it is very painful for a mother to see its child die but he did his best at least. Even if he injected more life energy, a being without a soul will never be born.

After Adrian told the Sea King of the news, she stopped manipulating the waters. The eggs and Adrian are once again underwater. As soon as this happened, the two eggs suddenly started to wiggle as they started to hatch. Joy overcame the sadness that the Sea King experienced of learning the news as her two newborns are about to come out.

The two eggs cracked simultaneously, and the appearance of the two baby sea kings came into view. They were extremely cute to the point that Adrian wanted to pinch their bodies. He did not do so out of respect for the Sea King.

Adrian is enjoying the cuteness when he saw that the baby sea kings looked like sea turtles in their baby forms. Also, one of the two sea king babies are of a different color as it had a silver shine compared to the orange hue that a normal sea king has. He wanted to check if this baby sea king is sick, but its soul is bright and healthy.

"I cannot believe it. A mutated one. The chances are one in eight thousand one hundred ninety-two." The Sea King muttered.

"You mean the silver one is a mutated one? Is it more powerful than a normal sea king?" Adrian asked.

"Not much but she will be more attractive to other sea kings. She will be a troublemaker in the future." The Sea King replied.

"I see. Maybe it also has some odd abilities but to think that they look like sea turtles. Sorry if that offended you." Adrian stated as his thought came out of his mouth.

"No need blessed one. Our species is said to have been born from the union of an octopus leviathan king and a turtle dragon which is why we look like turtles at the beginning of our lives. Some Sea Kings even have small amounts of dragon blood in them which is why they look more like dragons. If you look at me, my head looks more like a lower draconic species, and I also have enhanced intelligence due to the dragon blood in me albeit faint." The Sea King stated.

"Oh! I learn something new every day." Adrian stated as he suddenly earned two titles.

[You have earned the Underwater Egg Hatcher title.]

[You have earned the Friend of the Great Sea King title.]

Chapter 945

[You have earned the Underwater Egg Hatcher title.]

[You have earned the Friend of the Great Sea King title.]

Adrian earned two new titles just like that for helping hatch an egg of a Sea King. The Sea King is indeed a leviathan but the one that he met is not an ordinary Sea King. This Sea King is the oldest one and had some dragon blood in its veins which is why it is incredibly powerful and intelligent.

Adrian did not know that he earned the gratitude of a Mythical Tier existence that might become a Transcendent being. The two children of the sea king swam around Adrian as if they are expressing their thankfulness to him. These two will become the Terrors of the Deep in a few years later as they will grow up to become extraordinary sea kings.

Description: You managed to befriend an individual that you can only encounter by chance. You are almost untouchable in the waters of the main world. You got extremely lucky.

"Seriously, who does the descriptions for these titles?" Adrian muttered.

"Thank you once again, blessed one. You are truly the one chosen by the Goddess of Life as your empathy for life is something that is hard to find." The Sea King stated as the two children swam around it. It seems that she is already bidding farewell to Adrian as her eggs already hatched.

"What about your egg that did not hatch?" Adrian asked.

"I believe that you will have a use for it, blessed one. Please keep it as you might use it for something. I might be heartbroken, but that child has already gone to a better place. It will turn to stone in a few days, but I believe that mages use that stone to create a Great Water Crystal." The Sea King stated in a bit of a sad tone as she accepted the fate of the dead egg.

She gave the egg instead because Adrian will not accept her core as he did not want to decrease the lifespan of the Sea King. If a monster gives up its core, then its life span will immediately decrease to only a tenth of its original life. It will also weaken as the monster core usually condenses the mana that the body uses to function properly.

Adrian did not accept the monster core of the Sea King as it would be cruel to the small babies. He might be tempted as it is a Mythical Tier monster core, but he is not a total greedy person. If he accepts the core, then he just basically accepted the fact that he is willingly killing an intelligent monster.

"Since you are pushing for it then I shall graciously accept." Adrian stated as the Sea King might offer up her core again if he did not accept the dead egg.

[You have been given Dead Sea King Leviathan Egg.]

Item Name: Dead Sea King Leviathan Egg

Tier: Unknown

Type: Consumable / Material

Description: An egg of a Sea King that was not able to hatch due to the soul inside no longer residing in the egg. It will transform into a Great Water Crystal after five days if it is not used for something else. It is also a great material for alchemy, and it could strengthen any water element relic.

Just as Adrian accepted the egg of the Sea King, Sea King and her children already swam away in a fast motion. It seems that she wanted to go faraway now because it pains her to not see her child hatch. Adrian was about to put the egg into his inventory when something shot out of it.

The mysterious bud that he got from The Green suddenly floated in top of the Dead Sea King Leviathan Egg. Adrian did not know what was happening, but it seems that the two things are resonating with each other. It seems that the mysterious bud wants to absorb the Dead Sea King Leviathan Egg.

"Paradox, what is happening?" Adrian asked his ego weapon as he wanted to make sure that what he is seeing is indeed real.

"It seems that the spirit within that mysterious bud wants to possess the egg, master." The Cube of Paradox stated in a mechanical tone.

Just as Adrian has expected, the mysterious bud does indeed have the soul of a spirit. What kind of spirit it is beyond him, but he did not think that it would need a vessel? He thought that the Tree of Life and Death was joking when it told him that the mysterious bud is a plant that gained sentience.

"This greedy thing is actually greedy for the egg. It is circling around me as if it is begging me to fuse it with the egg." Adrian muttered.

"Do you want to fuse the two things, master? Shall I ready the seal?" The Cube of Paradox asked as they could fuse the two using the Summoner Spell 'Greater Seal'.

"Why not? I needed a new soulbound anyway. I just hope that the egg will be easy to hatch when we fuse the two things." Adrian stated as the Cube of Paradox suddenly laid out the magic circle.

Adrian did not just immediately use the Greater Seal spell as he also made changes to the magic circle to link the soul of the mysterious bud to the Dead Sea King Leviathan Egg. Adrian immediately activated the Greater Seal Spell and it surprised him that it made use of half of his total mana.

Adrian could visibly see that the mysterious bud is slowly melding into the Dead Sea King Leviathan Egg. The egg that had orange color and blue tiger stripes suddenly turned into something different. Its pattern is now akin to a map with a small sprout coming out of the top of the egg.

[You have successfully created the Spiritual Bud Egg by combining the Mysterious Bud and the Dead Sea King Leviathan Egg.]

[You have successfully created a brand-new egg that is said to have been extinct.]

[You are the third one to get this achievement hence the egg will increase in tier instead. You are also awarded with 50% of the hatch gauge.]

Monster Name: Unknown (Spiritual Bud Egg)

Tier: Mythical

Type: Monster Egg

Hatch Gauge: 50%

Description: An unknown egg that has been created from the combination of a Mysterious Bud that contains the powers of a spirit and the Dead Sea King Leviathan Egg. It is unknown what will hatch from it as the being inside could transform depending on the nourishment that the egg is provided.

Current Essence: Mysterious Bud (30%), Sea King (2%), Turtle Dragon (10%), Life Elemental Energy (5%), Primordial Essence (3%)

"What the freak is this? This is new to me as well. It seems that this egg is different from other eggs that just needs to get warmed up. All the essence indicated here are basically the things that he supplied. The Primordial Essence might be from my blood but why is it not Asmodian Blood? Unless the egg could not handle the Asmodian blood because the sea king inside it is already dead and it just vanished." Adrian thought to himself.

The only things that clung to the egg are the energies that he gave as the Primordial Essence might be the energy from his blood. The percentage for the mysterious bud is the greatest as it transformed the egg into a living egg.

What surprised him is that the turtle dragon percentage is great which means the being that hatches could have great power if gets more of that. Adrian got shocked as turtle dragons are rare dragons that are said to be descendants of one of the nine sons of the dragon king of the east. He learned that from the library of the Ryujins as he looked through them to find a good monster.

"Maybe giving Kanlaon's blood might increase the chances of the turtle dragon percentage to be greater?" Adrian thought but if he is heard by other dragons then they would shudder. The fact that he wants to easily give it the blood of a Genesis Dragon that is their ancestor would make them cry to even have a drop of blood.

Just as Adrian is currently trying to find ways to hatch the Spiritual Bud Egg, a sudden force of terror swept across him. The tingle that he felt is very familiar to him as this is what he felt when a dark god momentarily manifested. The sensation was quick, but he knew right away that it is indeed from a dark god.

"Paradox, lock on that terrifying power!" Adrian commanded.

"Affirmative. It is from the southwest direction." The Cube of Paradox replied in a robotic tone.

Adrian immediately summoned Kanlaon and commanded the latter to swim to the location while the Cube of Paradox has it locked on. He knew that the direction he is going is the correct one as numerous sea life are currently fleeing from that direction. He did not know what happened, but it might lead him back to his friends.

Levin Cloud looked at his mana bar and immediately frowned as the Deep Assassins would continuously hit the cage that he created. Sometimes some attacks from their tentacles would slip inside as they wanted to impale him. He naturally evaded the obvious attacks, but some attacks could not be evaded as he does not have eyes on the back of his head.

Levin Cloud held on for about an hour and a half as his mana no longer regenerated the Bramble Cage. Once the first Deep Assassin broke through his Bramble Cage, the rest followed like madmen. He died due to the onslaught of attacks, but he still had his revive. He did not immediately revive as he still has one minute leeway to revive.

His soul could see the numerous Deep Assassins trying to tear away the vines scattered in the entrance. When the first layer of vines was destroyed by the Deep Assassins, all of them bashed the floor with their bodies to destroy it. They managed to destroy the floor but noticed a layer of frost is covering the entrance.

A thick layer of ice is blocking the way forward which made the Deep Assassins roar in great frustration. Since they can only bash the ice to destroy it, numerous Deep Assassins are injured as a result. Having tentacles as hands were not great during these types of situations as it cannot break the ice. When the one minute is up, Levin Cloud revived in the spot that he was killed earlier.

Upon reviving, the Deep Assassins were not focused on him as they looked crazy in pursuit of the Splash of the Wilde. The Deep Assassins did not focus on him, and he is immediately thankful for that. It did leave a worse feeling in his mouth that the enemy is not paying attention to him as if he was air.

"Let see if you can actually continue to ignore me." Levin Cloud stated as he fused two of his spells.

The first spell is the Thorns Embrace which is a crowd control spell that traps all those in the area in vines that induces bleeding. The spell that he combined with this is the Death magic spell that is off cooldown called Death's Grip. It is a spell that squeezes the life force of the target. The second spell might be a single target spell, but Levin Cloud has a special unique skill called 'Life and Death'.

Skill Name: Life and Death

Tier: Unique

Type: Active Spell Combiner

Effect:

- The skill bearer will be able to fuse two spells of different elements.
- Only life elemental spells and death elemental spells will be able to fuse together.

- The crowd control effect of only one skill can only take effect but status ailments could apply at the same time.
- Both of the spells used will enter their own cooldowns and will not share a cooldown.
- The mana cost of the spell will be the combined cost of both the spells

[Do you wish to synthesize the Thorns Embrace and Death's Grip to create another spell?]

"Yes." Levin Cloud answered. In just five seconds, the skill has been synthesized and the icon for the Life and Death skill changed to that of the synthesized spell.

[You have successfully created the Thorny Death's Gripping Embrace.]

Skill Name: Thorny Death's Gripping Embrace

Tier: Unique

Type: Active Crowd Control

Effect:

-Trap an area around the caster in thorny vines that deals 100% of their magical damage every second.

-All those inside the affected area will have their life force absorbed and converted into death energy.

-If death elemental energy exceeds the gauge, then it will transform into mist that deals 30% of the user's magical damage every second.

-All enemies inside the affected area will not be able to move for the duration of this spell.

Mana Cost: 50% of total mana

Cooldown: None

Cast Time: Instant

Duration: Five minutes

"Thorny Death's Gripping Embrace" Levin Cloud immediately casted.

The vines that were torn away earlier by the Deep Assassins suddenly became alive once more and trapped all of them. The Deep Assassins noticed too late as they were already trapped inside a thorny cage that punctured their bodies. The thorns are like injections that absorbed the life force out of them.

Since Levin Cloud just freshly revived, all of his death energy is still the same which means the mist suddenly intoxicated all of the Deep Assassins. The Deep Assassins could not take the mist and started to rip their bodies away from the cage, but they could not.

The Deep Assassins could not get out of the area of the skill which means they are just waiting for their deaths since the skill dealt damage every second. With the Deep Assassins not being naturally created by the world, the death mist dealt twice as much damage to their bodies instead of the normal 30% of Levin Cloud's magic damage.

The screech of the Deep Assassins echoed in all of Atlantis as they knew that their deaths are near. What is worse for them is that they could feel their life draining away from them while being afflicted by the deadly mist. No one has been this cruel to them as even their dark god prefers to have them get a swift death when they want to sacrifice themselves.

The loud screech of death of the Deep Assassins made it to Ursalla's ears. She was already lauding her victory when her smile suddenly turned into a frown. King Neptune, who is still heavily injured, laughed as he knew that something is not going according to his opponent's plan. The sound also came from the evacuation area which means someone, or something is killing the Deep Assassins.

King Neptune had a vague feeling that the one killing off the Deep Assassins seems to be on his side. Ursalla looked incredibly angry as she wanted to dart off to the distance as the Deep Assassins called out to her for help. King Neptune felt this and immediately created water tornadoes to block the path of the Wicked Sea Sorceress.

"We are still not done here, you witch." King Neptune stated as he pushed through despite his wounds. Whatever it is, he can feel that his daughters are not in imminent danger as the pendant on his neck is not glowing which means they are still safe. He is willing to sacrifice his life as long as his daughters are safe.

The Deep Assassins could feel that the last of their breaths being absorbed but they are unwilling to let go of life. Even Levin Cloud is shocked upon seeing that his spell could kill numerous high-level monsters. In fact, he lucked out this time as the Deep Assassins are monsters that cannot escape since they do not have invulnerability skills. The best way to actually kill them is to trap them in crowd control spells.

Just as Levin Cloud is assured of his victory, the Deep Assassins wailed one last time when their health became red. He thought that this is them trying to call for help but he felt something incredibly wrong from this. The bodies of the Deep Assassins suddenly started to burst into mush and blood mists as they sacrificed their bodies.

Levin Cloud instinctively felt that this is not what is supposed to happen as the area around him suddenly froze. It is not literally being frozen like an ice spell is casted, but the world became still. The next thing that happened made him bulge his eyes as if it will fall out of his sockets.

[The numerous sacrifices of the Deep Assassins have partially summoned the Dark God that Slumbers in the Sea.]

A gigantic figure that is the combination of octopus, a dragon, and a human suddenly appeared. Thankfully for Levin Cloud, it is not a complete apparition as it is made up of the lumps of flesh and blood that were the Deep Assassins.

Chapter 947

[The numerous sacrifices of the Deep Assassins have partially summoned the Dark God that Slumbers in the Sea.]

A gigantic figure that is the combination of octopus, a dragon, and a human suddenly appeared. It is formed from the blood and flesh that the numerous Deep Assassins have sacrificed themselves for. It is exuding an aura that could potentially choke anyone near it if they are not strong enough or have an aura that could counteract it.

The gigantic figure is about fifty meters in height and destroyed the sealing of the room that it was summoned in. The gigantic figure is none other than an aspect of the Dark God that Slumbers in the Sea. It might be an aspect but the power it exudes is not someone in Levin Cloud's level can handle alone.

Monster Name: Aspect of the Dark God that Slumbers in the Sea

Tier: Legendary

Level: 290

Health: 99.9%

Mana: 100%

Description: An aspect that has been unstably summoned by Deep Assassins to perfect the will of their god. They summoned an aspect of their god directly as the Dark God of the Slumbering in the Sea has become impatient. Its body is not stable due to the poisoned flesh and mana that the Deep Assassins were in before they sacrificed their lives.

Status: Body Deterioration, Dark God's Aura

Body Deterioration: The body of the monster is unstable and will continually lose 0.01% of its health per second.

Dark God's Aura: All monsters in a surrounding area of fifty meters will be affected with decrease stats.

The Aspect of the Dark God that Slumbers in the Sea looked at Levin Cloud with eyes full of anger and frustration. The anger and frustration that the Deep Assassins felt are also transferred to it since their blood and flesh is used to recreate the monster in front of hit.

[You are suddenly aimed by a supreme being. You cannot move due to the psychic power holding your body.]

The Aspect of the Dark God that Slumbers in the Sea lifted up Levin Cloud with its mind and is squeezing his body in the air. It then formed a fist using one of its gigantic arms and got ready to punch him. The look on Levin Cloud's eyes could be seen as regretting his decision to even try and stop the Deep Assassins. He made a mental note that he will never play the hero once again as he is not befitting of that image.

The Aspect of the Dark God that Slumbers in the Sea suddenly punched Levin Cloud and he is sent flying into the sea. The pressure that the water is also not helping to cushion his body since it only made the damage greater. The water felt like millions of needles that are pricking him as he traveled.

Levin Cloud did not give up as he immediately got released the telekinesis when he got punched. He started to move the mana in his body and healed himself while he is still moving through the water. Thankfully, his body is not normal as he does not have a complete physical body. It still hurt like hell though as he is left with ten percent of his total health from one punch.

He wanted to stop from getting carried by the force of the punch, but he could not. Behind him is a reef and he will definitely experience a world of pain when he gets hit by that. He closed his eyes as he believed that he would die upon crashing on the reef.

"I will never be a hero again!" Levin Cloud cursed inside as he could not shout it out.

A few seconds later after closing his eyes, he did not feel that he crashed onto the wall. He opened his eyes as he wanted to see if he went to Limbo already. He is a privilege being there as he could just cut in line and log out as he is the Envoy of the Twin Gods.

"You can open your eyes now." The sound of a familiar voice entered his ears.

"I am alive." Levin Cloud shouted as he is now suspended in water due to Adrian twisting the space and the force affecting his body.

What Adrian did is not easy as he also used a quarter of all his total mana to even save Levin Cloud. The force the attack that hit Levin Cloud is not easily countered and if he made a mistake then he might have killed Levin Cloud instead. Thankfully, Adrian had an ego weapon to do the calculations for him and all he needed to do is supply the mana with great control.

"How are you sent flying here?" Adrian asked as he did not expect that Levin Cloud could be sent flying like that. He is actually lucky that he is still alive, but Adrian knew that luck did not apply to Levin Cloud's survival.

"Where were you?" Levin Cloud shouted as he wanted to hit his best friend as he did not follow them.

"I told you guys to go ahead but not completely go without me and not give a landmark. You could have waited for a few minutes in different intervals so I could at least follow. You guys know that I am bad with directions if I do not have a map." Adrian replied which made Levin Cloud somewhat sorry.

They actually did not think to have intervals to wait for him as they needed to chase the signal that the Splash of the Wilde gave out. Still, they did not deviate much from the path, but they might not have noticed it as they are swimming in a vast ocean that can make anyone lose their ways since no landmark is available.

"Let us forget that and destroy that thing. If we do not defeat that then we would have come here for nothing." Levin Cloud shouted as he pointed at the Aspect of the Dark God that Slumbers in the Sea.

The merfolk that has defeated the leviathans that they are fighting could see that the Aspect of the Dark God that Slumbers in the Sea is giving them immense pressure. They felt that their souls are screaming at them to escape or else they might not get reincarnated.

"Attack that abomination! The princesses are still there!" King Neptune shouted his command while he still fighting against Ursalla.

The Aspect of the Dark God that Slumbers in the Sea collected power into its claws and immediately brought it down to the ice blocking the way. It did not only destroy the ice that blocked the way but also the whole floor of the castle. It started collecting power like that once again, but a dragon of platinum scales suddenly burst out of the floor.

A blue gem that is embedded on the dragon's forehead suddenly shone and a Legendary tier spell is activated. A giant water dragon is sent out of the water gem and crashed against the Aspect of the Dark God that Slumbers in the Sea that cancelled its attack.

"Its Peridot! Let us hurry and assist her." Adrian stated as he suddenly held Levin Cloud's clothes and activated teleportation.

"Wait! Let me get accustomed..." Levin Cloud stated as he suddenly got whisked away.

The next scene that Levin Cloud could see is a giant hand coming down towards him, but Adrian used Blink to escape the attack. They moved ten meters away from the reach of the Aspect of the Dark God that Slumbers in the Sea. It seems that the current opponent could sense some small disturbances in space, and it also locked in on the aura that Levin Cloud and Adrian released.

"Quickly and use your true form." Levin Cloud whispered as he started to send healing spells towards Peridot as she got hurt from the attacks aimed at her.

"Kanlaon, Charon and Dodu! Aid Peridot." Adrian shouted as he summoned his three soulbounds that can fight in water.

It is not just the Aspect of the Dark God that Slumbers in the Sea that noticed the aura that Levin Cloud and Adrian released but also Ursalla. She immediately sent the Reaper to attack the two as she was sent a message to kill those two immediately. The Aspect of the Dark God that Slumbers in the Sea could feel fear from them as the energies in the body of the two are a direct nemesis of it.

"It is heading towards us!" Levin Cloud shouted.

"Soul Recall!" Adrian stated as his body suddenly got shrouded in the aura of death.

A door made of bones and ghostly fire suddenly appeared next to Adrian. The door is at the size of about two meters at first, but it started to expand until it reached to a height of twenty meters. All of those in the battlefield looked at the otherworldly door as it is radiating the aura of death.

[You have summoned a Wraith Leviathan.]

Chapter 948

[You have summoned a Wraith Leviathan.]

A huge Wraith Leviathan came out of the soul gate, and it seemed to have come from an underworld that houses spirits of dead sea creatures. The Wraith Leviathan is like a Reaper that shed its flesh and traded it for a ghostly appearance.

It looks like the body of the Reaper became the substance that is same of what jellyfish have. It also has glowing lights in its body that has three colors which is red, blue and yellow. It is both a majestic and eerie appearance that can chill and instill awe in those who sees them.

Monster Name: Wraith (Summoned by Equinox)

Monster Species: Leviathan

Tier: Legendary

Level: 210

Health: 100%

Mana: 100%

Description: A monster summoned from the pits of the underworld river of Lethe. It is hidden in the very depths of the river and is said to attack those that do not want to drink the water from the river of Lethe. It will forcefully drag the souls of those unwilling to forget their mortal life into oblivion.

It is one of the beasts of oblivion and is said to be tame as long as one does not disrupt the balance of the underworld. It is characterized by its eerily mysterious but beautiful appearance. No one knows where oblivion is, or it is just a word to describe the depths of the River of Lethe. The souls dragged to oblivion by the Wraith leviathan never resurface back to continue their journey in the underworld.

The Wraith leviathan immediately clashed with the Reaper that suddenly came attacking Adrian and Levin Cloud. The Wraith leviathan might have been lower leveled compared to the Reaper, but it is proving a great opponent to the beast. The Reaper could not attack the Wraith as it does not have a physical body.

The Reaper would just pass through the Wraith and deal no damage to it while the latter will be able to damage it by the aura of death surrounding its body. The aura of death is present to all beings that are summoned by Soul Recall and those that are summoned are mostly immune to physical attacks.

Every time that the Reaper passes through the body of the Wraith, it would sustain damage to its soul as the aura of death targets the soul. The Reaper noticed that it cannot damage the Wraith which is why it focused its attention once again on the two friends, but the latter immediately wrapped around it.

The Reaper struggled as the Wraith wrapped around its body and even tried to bite the latter. The Wraith can wrap around the Reaper, but it did not solidify its body as it is still ghostly in appearance. The Reaper is now in a state of total confusion as its enemy is damaging it but it cannot hurt its enemy.

The Aspect of the Dark God that Slumbers in the Sea noticed this and wanted to help the Reaper as it is a servant of its servant. A dark pulse came out of the hand of the Aspect of the Dark God that Slumbers in the Sea and shot towards the Wraith entangling the Reaper.

"Oblivion Dive!" Adrian suddenly commanded.

The Wraith then summoned a portal that leads to an empty space. It let go of the Reaper at the right moment and entered that portal. The attack of the Aspect of the Dark God that Slumbers in the Sea did not hit the Wraith, but it did hit the Reaper. The Reaper wallowed in agony as that attack is deadly to any living species and its body is not made using the parts of a dark god.

The Weakened Reaper slowly fell down to the ocean floor while a portal opened not far from the previous location. The Wraith came out of that portal filled with never ending darkness and glared at its opponent that fell down. Adrian did not want to deliver the final blow on the Reaper as it is thoroughly weakened but the Wraith had other plans.

[The summoned Wraith leviathan has activated special skill Drag it to Oblivion.]

The Wraith leviathan emitted a bone chilling screech and then followed after the Reaper. The Reaper wanted to escape as it could feel immense fear from the incoming monster but the power it got hit is poisonous to its body. It cannot move incessantly, and it only has 20% of its total health left.

The Reaper thought that the Wraith will just entangle itself once again to its body, but it was mistaken. The Wraith leviathan passed through the body of the Reaper then proceeded to rip the latter's soul out its body. All those that witnessed the scene shuddered upon witnessing a living body's soul get ripped apart from its mortal body.

Even the process looked gruesome as a shriek that sounded inhuman and pitiful came out of the mouth of the Reaper. About one minute later, the Wraith successfully ripped the Reaper's soul out of its body and opened another portal to oblivion. It then dragged the unwilling soul of the Reaper to the so-called oblivion.

The dead body of the Reaper dropped to the ocean floor with fear written on its face. If it is not underwater, then the people could see that the Reaper actually released a tear for its soul got ripped out of its body. The leviathans that witnessed the fight immediately snapped out of Ursalla's control for a second and proceeded to run away.

[The Wraith leviathan has dragged a soul to oblivion. It will no longer return.]

[You have killed a legendary tier Reaper of the leviathan species. You have received massive amounts of experience points.]

Even the Aspect of the Dark God that Slumbers in the Sea is dumbfounded of the things that happened and immediately shifted its attention to Adrian. It now prioritize the death of the demon before it as it realized that he will be the most troublesome here.

Chapter 949

The Aspect of the Dark God that Slumbers in the Sea has shifted its attention to Adrian as it realized that he is the most troublesome opponent. It even commanded Ursalla to disregard King Neptune so that they could kill Adrian together since the body of the Aspect of the Dark God that Slumbers in the Sea is deteriorating quickly.

"But Dark Master!" Ursalla stated to the wind as if he is conversing with someone.

"Let the worthless king go as he is already injured. The Champion of the Twin Gods and the Envoy of the Twin Gods are here, and their blood will be more potent than a worthless hybrid." The Aspect of the Dark God that Slumbers in the Sea commanded.

Ursalla's eyes widened of the news of special existences being here in Atlantis. She did not know that her luck is that heaven defying since she needed special blood to hatch more leviathans. She might even induce mutation on the leviathans as she knows that the Champion of the Twin Gods seem to have Asmodian blood running in his veins.

It is no longer a secret between gods that the Champion of the Twin Gods have special characteristics that only show up on Asmodians. The recent death of a dark god confirmed this as numerous envoys of both Pandemonium Gods and Dark gods witnessed the event. They are sure that the Champion of the Twin Gods is indeed an Asmodian in the making.

They just did not make a move yet as there were numerous demons at that time. It is only folly to capture a special greater demon when the three archdemons were present in the vicinity. They fear that the archdemons might invoke their special spell called Universe Collapse. It is the most feared spell of the Daemos Clan and is one of the reasons why they were not wiped out even if they are portrayed as evil.

"This is your chance. Get the blood from him while offer the body of the Champion of the Twin Gods to me. He will be the perfect vessel for my resurrection in the mortal plane." The Aspect of the Dark God that Slumbers in the Sea commanded.

Adrian noticed that the Aspect of the Dark God that Slumbers in the Sea seemed to shift its attention to him. He did not even notice that a telepathic force is now coming down on his body that made it feel heavy. Levin Cloud tried to dispel it as Adrian could not move but Cleanse did not work.

[You cannot Cleanse the power suppressing the target Equinox as it is a natural force.]

Cleanse only works on things that are unnatural or disrupts the natural state of things. The fact that Telekinesis of the Aspect of the Dark God that Slumbers in the Sea is made of natural force made Levin Cloud shudder. He also knows that Adrian has a passive skill that makes him immune to crowd control or status deductions, but it seemed to have been bypassed.

[You did not negate the effect of Telekinesis. You are suppressed as long as it is pouring down on your body.]

"Peridot! Disrupt the giant abomination!" Levin Cloud shouted as he immediately fired off holy attribute spells at the Aspect of the Dark God that Slumbers in the Sea.

Peridot rose from the debris as the Aspect of the Dark God that Slumbers in the Sea managed to hit her that resulted in her getting thrown to a wall. She emitted a dragon roar and all the four crystals suddenly glowed as she released spell 'Elemental Apocalypse'.

She sacrificed a mythical tier gemstone and all of her remaining mana to immediately cast the spell. The Aspect of the Dark God that Slumbers in the Sea did not pay no heed to the damage that Elemental Apocalypse did to its body as it will soon get a new one once they capture Adrian.

[You cannot use Blink.]

"Why the hell not?" Adrian thought to himself as even speaking is proving to be difficult.

The eyes of Ursalla changed to a hungry and greedy beast as she launched herself to Adrian. King Neptune noticed this and wanted to deter her, but he noticed that they are attacking outsiders instead. He did not care as long as the target is not his family or any of the merfolk.

Levin Cloud immediately noticed that the Aspect of the Dark God that Slumbers in the Sea and Ursalla no longer cared for the Splash of the Wilde. They are now looking hungrily towards Adrian as if he is a treasure chest waiting to be opened. The Aspect of the Dark God that Slumbers in the Sea did not even care if its current body is falling apart as it is just waiting for Ursalla to reach them.

"What the heck!" Levin Cloud shouted as he immediately chanted the spell Sanctuary and came to Adrian's general direction.

Ursalla held the Eye of Poseidon and pointed it towards Adrian. It then released numerous tentacles that are much more compared to before. It released at least a hundred and all of them are trying to grab Adrian. Thankfully, Levin Cloud managed to activate Sanctuary and repelled the tentacles but the hold on Adrian via telekinesis has yet to diminish.

"I will not let you have him!" Levin Cloud shouted.

"Then you will need to come with him then." Ursalla shouted as the number of miasma tentacles doubled and the area affected by Sanctuary is affected as well.

Peridot tried attacking once more but she is out of high tiered gemstones and mana. She could barely hold on to her dragon form as her stamina is also drained to the limit. When all seemed lost, a loud ear piercing sound suddenly erupted from below the palace and a pillar of light shot out from a hole.

Two beings slowly rose from this pillar of light, and everyone knew who it was. It is none other than Kabrakan and Princess Ariella.

Chapter 950

As soon as the two entered the passageway, Peridot immediately activated the Frost Nova skill. She made sure to block the passageway as she knew that it will only take a matter of time before Levin Cloud falls.

She is not underestimating Levin Cloud, but he is not a priest that can withstand numerous enemies that are assassins. If the enemies were warrior type opponents, then he has greater chance to win as they do not have as much damage as assassins have.

"I will stay here and protect the passageway. You must go and convince Princess Ariella to help you purify the divine artifact fragment." Peridot stated as she continued to freeze the entrance and the walls of the passageway.

Kabrakan did as he is told and proceeded to the next room where the Splash of the Wilde is pointing at him. He found about two merfolk guards and other merfolk that are evacuating. It seems that the passageway is only limited which is why not all of them are yet to escape.

"Halt!" The merfolk guards stated as they raised their tridents towards Kabrakan that suddenly entered.

The merfolk guards did not know how an outsider managed to find the hidden passageway, but they will make sure to eliminate him. The merfolk guards are about to charge towards Kabrakan when Princess Ariella shouted at them to stop.

"Stop! That man is a distinguished guest." Princess Ariella stated but she soon recognizes the thing that is on Kabrakan's hands.

"It seems that you have noticed, Princess Ariella. I need you help with the Splash of the Wilde. It is currently infected by those that are attacking the kingdom. It calls for you to help it to cleanse the impurities within it." Kabrakan stated which made Princess Ariella stunned.

She could not believe that she is chosen by the great treasure that protects them. She always dreamed to be the chosen protector of the Wilde when she was a small child, but she did not think that it would come true. She always thought that it would be one of her brothers that will be chosen because they are far stronger than her.

"Am I really chosen?" Princess Ariella asked with a soft voice as she could still not believe.

"Stay back, princess! I am sure that he just stole the treasure and wants you to fall prey to the evil infecting it. He is just using you to be a sacrifice so that he can activate the great treasure." The merfolk guards stated as they came closer to Kabrakan in an attempt to capture him.

The ground suddenly started to shake as something huge happened above ground. A few seconds later, the sound of rocks falling, and ice breaking could be heard from the distance. Kabrakan knew that the second layer of defense is broken. What he found dreadful is the aura of a being that resembles a dark god.

"We do not have time to dillydally. Do you trust me, princess?" Kabrakan asked as he held the Splash of the Wilde with his hands.

"I trust you. Stop what you are doing and help the others to evacuate. This is an imperial order." Princess Ariella commanded with the dignity fit for royalty.

The two merfolk guards knew that they cannot change the mind of the princess and she even issued an imperial order. They have to obey that order with all their might as they know that disobedience meant punishment or banishment.

The merfolk guards took note of everything that will happen to the princess so that they can respond if something bad is supposed to happen to her. Princess Ariella went in front of the Splash of the Wilde and laid her hand on top of it.

"What should we do now?" Princess Ariella asked.

"I actually do not know as it just told me to look for merfolk royalty. The next step has not been given to me so even I do not know what we need to do." Kabrakan replied.

A few seconds after the both of them placed their hands on the Splash of the Wilde, it suddenly started to activate. The Splash of the Wilde that should be the size of a basketball suddenly expanded and locked the hands of the two individuals. They tried to take their hands out, but it continued to suck them in.

The Splash of the Wilde continued to expand until it swallowed Kabrakan and Princess Ariella. The guards tried to free her as the treasure suddenly swallowed their princess, but they got repelled instead. When both of them got swallowed inside, the Splash of the Wilde suddenly emitted a strong light, and it pierced the ceiling.

The Splash of the Wilde then rose to the sky gently as it kept releasing a powerful energy. The ones fighting in the vicinity could not pull their eyes away from the Splash of the Wilde as it is giving off energy powerful enough to conquer the oceans.

The Splash of the Wilde then returned to its normal size, but it emitted a shockwave that nullified all skills and spells in the vicinity. The shockwave did not differentiate from friend or foe as it erased everything. It even erased the telekinesis holding Adrian hostage.

Two beings came out of the Splash of the Wilde with different appearances than what they normally have. Princess Ariella wore a merfolk dress but now she is wearing a scaled armor made of pink scales. She is also using a replica of the Splash of the Wilde as an orb.

Kabrakan is also different as he is now wearing a scaled armor that has the same qualities of a fish. He also has the Splash of the Wilde embedded into his chest as some sort of power supply to his armor. He no longer needs to consume the pill that makes them breath underwater as long as he is wearing this armor.
