

Ocean Lord 851

Chapter 851: Crazy, Simply Crazy!

Led by several heroes of the Ocean Crown, they surged forward.

Benbo soared high, wings flapping vigorously, spewing endless flames from his mouth. The scorching heat and intensity instilled fear in the giant insects, who were already wary of fire. Many twisted their antennae and screamed in ' avoidance as they were burned.

Herald's eyes turned blood red as his scorching blood carried explosive power through his veins, turning into a gray-white blur that chopped dozens of giant insects into pieces.

Anina, riding solo on her Divine Crystal Wyvern, charged into the fray. Her great sword, infused with the power of might, cleaved down with brute force, slashing through the enemy ranks and unleashing a green mist of blood.

And the two heroes who had just gained complete authority displayed extraordinary power.

Patheia, already adept at high-speed combat, lowered her gravity significantly with the power of gravity, flapping her wings and dashing at incredible speeds, becoming like an invisible wind, leaving no trace behind.

Meanwhile, the enemies, bound by the authority of gravity, moved as if trapped in quicksand, their actions sluggish. The speed difference was magnified to the extreme, with Patheia zipping past like a white flash, cutting through enemies, leaving their bodies severed seconds later.

A group of powerful Ocean Crown heroes led the army in a fierce resistance against the forces of the Natural Divine Realm, buying time for Ji Chen to gain control of the authority.

With heroes at the forefront, they weaved in and out of the enemy ranks, their formidable authority power crushing countless enemies.

However, the Natural Divine Realm army perched on the giant tree trunk seemed endless. After killing one wave, the next surged forward like a green tide. Everywhere, in front, above, and in the distance, there were ferocious insects flapping their wings.

If they weren't in the canopy of the giant tree with many branches obstructing them, such a large number of enemies would have bypassed their defenses from all sides and attacked Ji Chen behind them long ago.

One hour passed.

The Ocean Crown defense line retreated several hundred meters, and the entire canopy was filled with green insects. The Ocean Crown army lost more than half of its divine power troops, but they also killed more than twice as many enemies.

Alice sang loudly to disrupt a group of enemies, coordinating with her colleagues to eliminate them. Taking advantage of this gap, she turned to look back

Ji Chen still maintained the posture of touching the light sphere, with his eyes closed tightly, emitting an increasingly imposing aura, even causing her to feel alarmed.

It made her feel as if she was facing five descending gods at the same time, and even stronger!

At this moment, as if countless energies had converged to the extreme, there was an instant absolute silence. The touched light sphere had completely disappeared, and the aura emanating from Ji Chen had reached its peak

Whoosh-

Like the shockwave of a nuclear explosion, it suddenly swept in all directions from its center, blowing both the Ocean Crown army and the Natural Divine Realm army, including themselves, away.

The canopy shook violently, but amidst it, a feeling of joy could be sensed.

Alice suddenly realized.

They were cheering for the return of their master!

The Natural Divine Realm army no longer attacked, bowing their heads in deference. Even the flapping wings carried reverence.

At the same time, all the creatures and beings that had been fleeing in the Natural Divine Realm stopped in their tracks, looking in the direction of the giant tree in amazement, then bowing down in awe.

The towering figure slowly opened its eyes, and a majestic aura like a mountain spread out.

“Alice, you’ve done well,” said the figure as it spoke.

Only then did the heroes of the Ocean Crown breathe a sigh of relief. This was their familiar and loyal lord, not anyone else.

“My lord, did... you succeed?”

The authority has become his own, natural authority, ocean authority, thunder authority, storm authority, the four authorities, revolving around him like planets around the sun.

Through the medium of natural authority, the Natural Divine Realm had already fallen under his control, the mountains, rivers, every blade of grass and tree, including the countless armies of the natural kingdom, all subject to his will.

Closing his eyes once again, the grassland and Moriah Aulis reappeared.

Moriah Aulis remained silent, not resorting to any tricks, but relying on the natural authority already under Jichen’s control, she too was now under his dominion like the Natural Divine Realm.

“...Lady Moriah Aulis, I appreciate your generosity,” Ji Chen said, both out of courtesy and logic.

Moriah Aulis smiled. “It’s nothing. The natural authority can only unleash its full power in the hands of those who can change it, only then can the chaos in the outside world be ended, and an existence capable of leading this plane through crisis can be born.

If Lord Jichen has no further questions, then you should go now. To do what needs to be done.”

With a firm tone, he said, “Next, we should return, to end this chaotic era, and... usher in a new era.”

“Yes!!”

In the boundless void, shrouded in endless darkness and silence, a huge divine kingdom suddenly lit up with dazzling brilliance, seeming to have countless thrusters behind it, advancing from the distant unnamed land towards the main world.

The outermost lower divine kingdoms first noticed the anomaly from the outside, as they discovered a huge and incredibly fast-moving divine kingdom heading straight towards them in an extremely arrogant manner.

If their divine kingdom were a satellite, then this suddenly appearing unfamiliar divine kingdom would be like a gigantic space station.

Once collided with, they would be crushed to pieces!

Fear instantly appeared on their faces as they shouted desperately, “Get out of the way!!”

In a panic, they maneuvered their divine kingdoms to avoid the trajectory, making way for the huge divine kingdom.

Though silent in the void, this immense divine kingdom they looked up to barely passed by them, leaving them drenched in cold sweat.

Madman! He’s simply a madman!

Don’t the gods of this divine kingdom consider the consequences of a collision!?

As they continued to curse wildly, watching the huge divine kingdom gradually flying towards the core orbit of the main world, they suddenly realized something, their faces changing dramatically.

Distant memories, long sealed, began to resurface.

Wait, could this divine kingdom.... be the Natural Divine Realm? The one that disappeared into the void over three hundred thousand years ago!?

Chapter 852: Attack

Seemingly realizing something, they trembled involuntarily, watching the natural divine realm gradually recede into the distance, a sense of unprecedented anxiety flashing through their hearts.

A change was imminent.

The ostentatious behavior of the Natural Divine Realm, without any concealment, naturally did not escape the observation of the inner divine realms. However, at this moment, their actions were not much different from those of the smaller outer divine realms. They all hurriedly maneuvered to avoid this reckless entity.

Although in existing history, there have indeed been cases of using divine realms to directly collide with enemy divine realms, achieving the effect of “kill one thousand enemies, lose eight hundred of our own.”

But at this moment, their actions were no different from those of the smaller outer divine realms. They hastily manipulated their realms to avoid this reckless entity.

Moreover, most of them were unwilling. They were determined not to let their hard-earned divine realms, which had been cultivated for tens of thousands, hundreds of thousands, or even millions of years, and even those inherited from undocumented eras, perish along with the enemy.

The leading orderly divine realms, such as the Elven Divine Realm and the Divine Realm of Light, naturally noticed this unexpected guest, which caused quite a stir.

At that time, when something happened in the Natural Divine Realm, they naturally knew what was going on, which made them both shocked and somewhat worried about the return of the Natural Divine Realm.

Among those who once forced the remaining Natural Divine Realm to migrate into the distant void, there were quite a few who were directly involved.

So, inevitably, they were somewhat apprehensive.

But it didn't seem like the natural divine realm had come back to settle scores, as they had feared. After forcefully driving off many divine realms, the natural divine realm slowed down and parked itself in the nearest orbit to the main world. Then, countless insect-like divine realm armies poured out from its gates and swarmed into the main world.

“What does the natural divine realm want to do? Are they planning to launch a surprise attack on the main world and slaughter our followers?”

Many divine realms shifted their attention to the main world, watching as this tide of divine realm armies surged towards the central ocean.

At the same time, the Crown of the Ocean had long been on high alert, with the remaining troops and heroes vigilantly watching the enemies outside the shield.

At a glance, countless troops of evil divine realms stood tall.

The dark gods, upon seeing the departure of the oceanic divine realm's army, dared not make a move and finally let go of their last shred of pride and arrogance.

In each divine realm army, there was at least one divine descent body, either sneering, disdainful, or smugly looking at the New Moon Islands on the sea.

“This time, we must clear out this territory. Otherwise, given more time, it may develop into a threat to our power.”

“But it seems that the human is not here. Could it be that they knew about our attack and fled in advance?”

“Hmph, we just need to destroy this territory and he would appear. I don’t believe that human can watch his efforts go up in smoke without doing anything.”

Approximately thirty deities were present at the scene, indicating that the majority of the dark gods had arrived, with the remaining ones observing covertly.

Just as the Dark Divine Legion was about to launch its attack, several legions from the Orderly Divine Lineage arrived from all directions.

Elven Divine Lineage, Radiant Divine Lineage, Sky Divine Lineage, Golden Divine Lineage...

They rushed from all over the main world when they noticed the large gathering and movement of the Dark Divine Legion. Seeing such a large number of dark divine troops mobilizing for a mortal territory, and even dark gods descending, they couldn’t help but be astonished.

One deity, with a chilling tone, spoke up.

Hearing this, these several legions of the Orderly Divine Lineage looked at each other. Although they didn’t know exactly what had happened, it seemed that the dark gods only wanted to deal with this mortal territory.

For them, what mattered were the gods, divine citizens, and believers. Since this territory wasn’t even their believers, they naturally didn’t care much. What did it matter how many mortals died?

They came hastily and would leave just as swiftly.

Immediately, several legions of the Orderly Divine Lineage were ready to leave, leaving only the Elven Divine Lineage and the Light Divine Lineage behind.

They had received orders that if the Ocean Crown were to be attacked by the Dark Divine Legion, they were to assist at all costs.

No need for further words.

The Dark Divine Legion surged forward and clashed with the Elven Divine Lineage and the Light Divine Lineage, who were significantly outnumbered. The latter soon found themselves at a disadvantage.

Penelope wielded her blade like a Valkyrie in the midst of the enemy, the number of Dark Divine Legion soldiers dying at her hands unknown, but the endless waves of enemies seemed infinite, as if one died, another would replace them.

The dark gods sneered, but did not intervene.

When divine legions fought against each other, the deities could not interfere. This was an unwritten rule among the gods, one of the reasons why divine legions from various divine lineages had fought for so long without the deities ever intervening.

Both sides observed the etiquette between divine beings, much like aristocrats watching slaves fighting in an arena with wild beasts.

Seeing the reinforcements they had been waiting for so desperately being pushed back by enemies covering the mountains and plains, a hint of despair rose among the people below in the Ocean Crown.

At this moment, the sky cracked open with countless wrinkled fissures, and blinking clouds of wriggling dark insects descended. Countless legions of insect gods arrived, their wing-beating sounds drowning out the sounds of battle below.

Like a massive wave crashing against a dam, the vast insect god legions suddenly collided with the Dark Divine Legion, instantly tearing open dozens of breaches.

Amidst the piercing chirps of insects were countless falling bodies.

With each “commander insect” serving as a node, the insects advanced one after another, tearing apart the enemy’s bodies.

The dark gods were both shocked and furious. “Damn it, is this... the Natural Divine Legion? But hasn’t the Natural Divine Lineage already perished? How could their army appear here!?”

A faint voice came, causing them all to collectively change their expressions and look up to the sky.

The god of dark incantations’ expression instantly darkened. “Lowly insects, how dare you steal the power of my incantations?!”

He had already noticed that Alice possessed a portion of his dark incantation power, which made him furious, wishing to slay her immediately.

The other four dark gods, who had also had a portion of their power stolen, were equally grim. They looked around but didn’t see Ji Chen, so they spoke up. “Insects, where is your lowly master? Return our powers!”

Alice sneered. “Where is he? Isn’t he in your divine realm?”

They hesitated for a moment, then their faces suddenly changed drastically.

Because they sensed that someone was attacking their divine realms!!

Chapter 853: Dual Godhood

The divine realm of the dark gods was not close to the orderly divine realm, nor was it located in the near-earth orbit of the main world, but rather fixed in the void near the abyss of chaos like nails.

At this moment, at some unknown time, a batch of troops sent to support the natural divine realm had already approached the divine realm of the dark gods. Countless troops from the natural divine realm swarmed out from it, like meteors descending straight down.

Upon discovery, the army of the dark gods launched a counterattack, but their sudden and unexpected arrival caught them off guard. The hastily erected outer defenses were quickly breached by the well-prepared troops from the natural divine realm, pouring in like a tide.

The natural divine realm was covered in vegetation, with clear skies and vibrant life, while the divine realm of the dark gods resembled hell, with volcanoes erupting molten lava everywhere, exuding a green miasma, and the black earth cracked and shattered.

This divine realm seemed to belong to the infernal divine lineage. Countless denizens of hell and troops looked up, watching as green lights appeared in the black and red sky.

The land was even more devastated now, with countless denizens of hell buried beneath, and countless buildings collapsed and shattered.

However, despite the relentless attacks for a while, there was no sign of those dark gods appearing, which made Ji Chen ponder.

“Damn insects! How dare they attack us?”

In the depths of the void, in a place as dark as if there were no concept of light, dozens of evil gods stood tall amidst the darkness, some as massive as hills, some as sinister as demons, and some as ominous as nightmares.

Just seeing the true faces of these evil gods would drive mortals insane.

At this moment, these evil gods were all angry, mixed with surprise.

Although they were unwilling to believe it, the army of the dark gods that had been annihilated in the main world, and the insect army that was currently attacking the divine realm, along with the vast divine realm suspended in the void, all indicated that this was not false.

Could it be that the lost natural divine lineage, what agreement did this Lord of Glory reach with them, or what special method did they use to drive the army of the natural divine realm?

With endless doubts in their hearts, they knew that they could no longer sit idly by at this moment. The enemy had already reached their doorstep, and if they didn't act now, their home would be torn apart.

Many dark gods stepped out, traversing the void with their bodies, and the evil power they condensed surged like a tide.

This abnormality was noticed by many orderly divine beings, and they were horrified. In order to prevent the existing situation from being disrupted and the balance of power from being lost, they all returned to their divine realms and drove towards the divine realm of the dark gods.

For a while, because of the sudden appearance of the natural divine realm, the sudden attack on the divine realm of the dark gods occurred.

With the sudden appearance of the natural divine realm as the center, it was like a vortex that dragged all orderly divine beings and dark gods into it.

If there were a god's eye view, one could see in the distant void, far from the main world, where originally a multitude of dark divine realms hovered. However, with the sudden appearance of the natural divine realm, like an unexpected army, a vast expanse of orderly divine realms rushed forth.

Gods stood tall in the void, facing each other in a standoff.

On the side of the dark divine realm were the lesser god of brute strength, the wrathful demon god... the intermediate god, the Lord of Hell... Among these dark gods, the eight main gods of each dark divine lineage emitted the most powerful aura, without exception, they were all the existence of upper gods, and all the dark gods showed reverence to them.

On the side of the orderly divine realm were the lesser god of tidal surges, the god of flames... the intermediate god, the giant spirit god... and the seven main gods of each orderly divine lineage, including the Moon Goddess, the God of Order, the Goddess of Light, and the elven mother goddess, who had long had contact with Ji Chen but had not been seen for a long time.

In terms of quantity, the number of gods in the orderly divine realm was slightly fewer than that in the dark divine realm, and there was also one less main god at the level of the divine lineage.

Seeing the orderly gods following closely, the dark gods showed a somewhat unsurprised expression on their faces, and in their hearts, they had already drawn some conclusions.

"The natural divine realm is truly your orchestrated drama, including that Lord of Glory, all for this moment? Are you aiming to wipe us out in one strike?" the Lord of Darkness asked, his expression turning grim as his divine power resonated with a malevolent voice across the silent void.

The main gods of the orderly divine lineage, led by the elven mother goddess and the goddess of light, remained silent, feeling somewhat bewildered. The goddess of light and the elven mother goddess could be said to have helped Ji Chen, but as for the matter of the natural divine realm, they also didn't know what had happened specifically.

The dark gods, seeing the somewhat confused expressions of the orderly gods, quickly realized something.

Could it be that even the orderly gods didn't know what happened with this natural divine realm and this Lord of Glory?

From the current result, it seemed that the natural divine realm and its divine army were already under Ji Chen's control and had actively launched an attack against them.

As for the role played by the natural divine lineage, which had disappeared for tens of thousands of years, it was also unknown.

At this moment, both the orderly and the dark were somewhat puzzled.

Among them, the gods of the oceanic divine lineage were the most doubtful.

They had previously sent their divine army to punish the Oceanic Crown, but they ended up having a falling out with Ji Chen. Now, with him returning with the Natural Divine Realm, it wouldn't be good if they sought retribution.

They were especially resentful for not decisively taking action to destroy him before he grew stronger.

In a moment of deathly silence, Ji Chen appeared.

His demeanor was calm, as if the destruction of the world couldn't faze him. He stood tall, exuding an aura of majesty.

At this moment, the expressions of all the gods present changed.

This human... had actually become a god!?

Even after the disappearance of the Natural Divine Lineage for hundreds of thousands of years, there were still many natural believers in the main world.

While all the gods were distracted by each other, deep in the void, as Ji Chen successfully gained control of the powers of nature and manipulated the divine realm towards the main world.

The surging tide of long-lost natural faith came forth, coupled with the fervent expansion of the Oceanic Divine Cult with millions of believers, providing the faith power, allowing him to take a crucial step towards godhood.

When the divine fire ignited, his body evolved into a divine body, his soul transformed into a divine soul, and his divinity was fully formed.

However, what was unexpected was that the condensed divinity was not just one, but two, and the ascended divine position was not that of a demigod or lesser god.

But that of an upper god!

The Oceanic Divine Aspect, an upper divine aspect.

The Natural Divine Aspect, an upper divine aspect.

The enhancement brought by the upper power of nature and the control of the Natural Divine Realm was terrifying.

Utilizing the control of the Natural Divine Realm and the gift from Moriah Aulis, during the ascension process, the immense energy prompted the integration of the Oceanic Power with the powers of thunder and storms, merging three powerful powers into one, making it the thirteenth known upper power, and also giving birth to the Oceanic Divine Aspect.

Unprecedented.

This was also why Morimyalis dared to say before that Ji Chen had the power to end all chaos and lead this plane through crisis.

When Ji Chen recklessly emitted the aura of two divine aspects and the momentum of two upper powers, all the gods, including the Elven Mother Goddess Eluvita, were shocked..

Chapter 854: Chaotic Battle Between Gods

At this moment, a phrase emerged within the gods.

How did he do it?

Originally, they thought it was astonishing enough for a mere mortal to grow from being powerless to becoming above-epic in just over a year.

But now, what stood before them was a true god with formidable divinity and authority!

Moreover, his momentum was not inferior to that of higher gods; it even faintly rivaled the chief gods!

As if struck dumbfounded, the five dark gods who had previously acted, along with the Oceanic Divine Realm, couldn't help but tremble.

This higher god, who wielded the authority of the upper echelon, was simply not someone they could provoke!

For a moment, the expressions of the divine beings on both sides varied.

The dark gods were filled with worry, unease, and suspicion, for they now faced an additional formidable enemy.

While the orderly divine beings were filled with surprise, astonishment, and joy, as the addition of a major god bolstered their ranks, providing them with more strength to confront the dark gods.

Among them, the Mother Goddess of the Elves, Eluvita, and the Goddess of Light seemed most pleased. To be honest, they never imagined that Ji Chen would grow so rapidly, like a seed planted yesterday that had sprouted into a towering tree today.

"... I didn't expect you to grow so fast, indeed, it's a bit beyond my expectations."

This was the first time Ji Chen had seen the Mother Goddess of the Elves, Eluvita. She appeared to be a young elf in appearance, and no one could imagine that she was one of the oldest divine beings, having lived for millions of years among the existing gods.

"I've had some opportunities, nothing worth mentioning." Ji Chen smiled faintly, then turned to look at the dark gods, a hint of killing intent flashing in his eyes. "As for other matters, let's discuss them after this is over. Now, it's a good opportunity to deal with these dark gods."

"How dare you!" A being named the Lord of Purgatory roared angrily, "Human, do you think you can boast in front of us just because you've had some opportunities to skyrocket in power?"

"There's still a gap between gods!"

The Lord of Purgatory, the chief god of the Purgatory Divine Realm, the master of the Purgatory Divine Realm's higher gods, was also an old dark god who had achieved great feats in the previous divine wars.

So, he had the capital to say such things.

Before Ji Chen could speak, the Mother Goddess of the Elves, Eluvita, interjected with a retort, "Vitos, you're nothing! How dare you bark so wildly in front of me? Do you think I won't stuff your head into a dung heap and let you taste it?"

Or, just like thousands of years ago, I'll turn you into a hedgehog with my elven god bow, and you'll crawl back to your shattered divine realm like a wounded insect, barely clinging to life?"

Unexpectedly, Eluvita, who appeared gentle and beautiful on the surface, burst out with a string of "graceful" words, leaving Ji Chen somewhat surprised.

"Eluvita!" The Lord of Purgatory's face turned ashen. The events of that time were something he had never wanted to recall, filled with unbearable anger. "Do you really want to break the agreement and start a war today!?"

"And what if I do? I've tolerated you for a long time!"

"I'm curious to see how strong you are now. I haven't been idle in these tens of thousands of years either!"

As the exchange of insults between the two chief gods began, the battle commenced, with both sides' divine beings joining the fray. Perhaps seeing the birth of Ji Chen, a newly ascended higher god, gave the orderly divine beings some confidence in dealing with the dark gods, and they followed Eluvita's lead in taking action.

In an instant, a battle spanning countless miles erupted in the void, and the colorful streams of divine power illuminated the nearby area, even catching the attention of the main world.

At this moment, it was nighttime in the main world, and some indigenous people and players who happened to glance at the sky were astonished to find a certain area of the sky constantly flickering with faint light.

The battle was divided into several zones: one where lesser gods from both sides clashed, another for the intermediate gods, and at the very center, the battlefield of the higher gods and the main deities of the godly lineages.

They had assumed that even though he had ascended to godhood, Ji Chen would surely still be unfamiliar with controlling his divine powers and would likely struggle.

But what truly stunned them was that he handled his powers and responded to attacks with the mastery of a deity who had experienced hundreds of divine battles.

How did he do it?

Eluvita was a bit worried at first, but when she saw Ji Chen effortlessly deal with the dark gods using the power of nature, she felt relieved.

Her emotions soared.

This time, maybe they could really take care of the dark gods and suppress them back into the depths of chaos!

This was undoubtedly the effect of wielding the authority of nature. Nature authority was the main authority of the gods of nature and abundance. In addition to pure power, it also integrated the endless battle experience and skills from its countless years, just like an enlightening experience in martial arts novels.

Whew—

Ji Chen, who had retreated, breathed a sigh of relief, feeling that he had finally adapted to the power he now possessed and murmured.

The light goddess, holding a divine staff and draped in streams of light like a fairy, seemed to hear this sentence. Before she could be puzzled, she saw Ji Chen erupt with astonishing power.

The vast ocean authority transformed into a gigantic starry whale that spanned the starry sea and was even larger than a mountain. The giant whale emitted a long whale song that resounded through the void, rolling its massive body and fiercely colliding with one of the higher gods of the dark divine lineage, the dark demon god.

The dark demon god’s eyes turned red as he shouted angrily, unleashing dark divine power, which transformed into a dark dragon that leaped up, spewing out immense dark flames.

In the collision of divine power and divine power, authority and authority, the dark dragon was gradually engulfed by the giant whale, and the aura of the dark demon god disappeared completely into the starry sky, leaving no trace.

The expressions of the gods were all filled with incredulity as they looked at Ji Chen, who remained calm and the dark demon god, who had lost all signs of life. There was even a sense of unreality.

The dark demon god had fallen?

A higher god who had lived since ancient times had been killed like this?

Originally, they thought it would be just a minor conflict like before, and both sides would calm down after a little fight.

But now, unexpectedly, a higher god had fallen.

The goddess of the elves, Eluvita, was the first to react, her face showing a mix of surprise and excitement as she exclaimed.

“Today is the day we defeat the dark gods!”

Seeing this, other orderly gods also suddenly felt a surge of enthusiasm and determination after exchanging glances, resolving to do their utmost.

A more intense battle erupted, and this time, the orderly gods were ruthless.

“Damn it, how could this human be so powerful?”

The Lord of Purgatory blocked Eluvita’s attack, still unable to sense the aura of the dark demon god, and completely unable to hold back.

That was a higher god, not some ordinary creature.

How could he be easily killed like this, or even cleanly dealt with by a human who had just become a god? It was unacceptable.

Seeing the expression of the Lord of Purgatory, Eluvita smiled happily. “Vitos, it seems that you are going to be planted here today.”

The Lord of Purgatory’s face turned extremely gloomy. Before he could say anything, he saw a dazzling light shining from the side, followed by an explosion.

The terrifying fluctuations caused by the self-destruction at the cost of divine body and divine power made the three orderly lower gods besieging him heavily injured, forcing them to withdraw from the battlefield.

This seemed to mark the beginning of an even more intense and bloody battle to come.

The gods of the orderly divine lineage wielded their authorities. The lord of order, holding the divine artifact Order Scale, suppressed several dark intermediate gods. The moon goddess created a new moon out of thin air, showering endless moonlight to burn the enemy gods.

The demon lord of hell transformed his supreme divine power into a terrifying hell behemoth, spewing out death lava to forcibly suppress two upper-level gods of the orderly divine lineage. The lord of death, who mastered the upper-level authority [Death], forced back more than ten orderly gods with the power of one god.

In the fierce battle, both sides gradually became frenzied, using their abilities regardless of the cost.

Soon, after the dark demon god and the dark lower god who had self-destructed, the third, fourth... In this large-scale chaotic divine battle, like the god wars tens of thousands of years ago, one god after another fell.

Elven divine lineage, light divine lineage, swamp divine lineage, dark divine lineage... The godheads shattered, and divine blood splattered into the void. The believers who were located in the main world suddenly panicked when they found that they could not sense the presence of the gods.

They couldn’t help but look towards the colorful and meteor-like shining sky. Those bursts of light seemed to indicate the fall of a god.

No one knew how long they had been fighting. When Ji Chen once again killed another intermediate dark god, smashing its divine body with divine power, and looked around.

He didn’t know when the dark gods had already retreated, leaving behind only the broken bodies of gods.

If she had seen it correctly just now, Ji Chen alone had killed thirteen gods, including even two higher gods.

Such a dazzling record was truly astonishing..

Chapter 855: Battle of Dimensions!

In this sudden outbreak of the divine war, almost half of the dark gods fell, including many pillars of the intermediate gods, lesser gods, and accompanying demigods.

The orderly gods also suffered losses, but due to Ji Chen's terrifying combat power, he single-handedly suppressed multiple dark gods, resulting in far fewer casualties compared to the dark gods.

Overall, this time the orderly gods were victorious!

Seeing such a record, even Eluvita couldn't help but show a hint of joy. This wave of battles could be said to have completely reversed the decline that the dark gods were previously experiencing, at least temporarily.

Seeing this situation, all the remaining orderly gods looked at this newly ascended human with awe in their eyes.

Whether it was his illustrious record, terrifying combat power, or the power of the higher gods, it was enough to make them slightly lower their proud heads and respectfully address him as "The Great Lord Ji Chen."

"The Great Lord Ji Chen, thank you for your assistance," an intermediate god, stained with the blood of unknown gods, approached with a respectful tone.

Ji Chen nodded slightly, "Since I have ascended to divinity with the Ocean God's grace, naturally, I belong to the ranks of the orderly gods. There is no need to hold back when dealing with the dark gods."

-Well said, the dark gods are our enemies. We must decisively strike against them. Great Lord Ji Chen, you understand the righteousness!" A light goddess, draped in divine light and graceful in appearance, also approached and looked around. "It's just a pity that not every orderly god is like you."

Ji Chen surveyed the surroundings and suddenly realized that the gods of the Ocean God's lineage were nowhere to be seen. Could it be that they had fallen?

As if sensing his doubts, the light goddess sneered, "Great Lord Ji Chen, the gods of the Oceanic Divine lineage are afraid you might find them and make them fallen gods, so they secretly withdrew from the battlefield shortly after the start of the war. They should be trembling in the Oceanic Divine Realm by now."

Ji Chen was stunned. Goodness, did they escape with their tails between their legs?

The struggle between darkness and order was irreconcilable and could not be eased. It was either you perished or I did. The behavior of the Ocean Gods lineage, withdrawing without a fight, regardless of the reason, was obviously a clear act of betrayal.

“Betrayers must not be forgiven,” said the god of order, holding a balance and a divine sword, with a cold expression.

“That’s right, the Oceanic Divine’s lineage’s retreat without a fight is treason!” Many surviving gods nodded in agreement. They also knew somewhat about the conflict between Ji Chen and the Oceanic Divine lineage.

Everyone knew which side to choose with Ji Chen, a newly ascended upper god boasting glorious achievements and terrifying combat power, and the Oceanic Divine lineage reduced to a few useless gods.

“The matter of the Oceanic Divine lineage can be temporarily set aside. What is urgent now is to press the advantage and pursue the dark gods. With their defeat in this battle, it is a perfect opportunity to completely eliminate the threat they pose.”

-Yes, with Great Lord Ji Chen joining us, this is the perfect opportunity for us to once again suppress the dark gods back into the depths of chaos.”

The gods agreed.

-No, when I say eliminate, I mean completely eradicate the threat,” Ji Chen said calmly.

-Even if the bodies of the gods fall, as long as the faith does not perish, they may one day be reborn. Therefore, even before the battle began, I had already dispatched my army to attack the dark god’s followers in the main world.” At the same time, due to the temporary return to calmness caused by the withdrawal of various divine world armies, the main world once again erupted in flames of war.

And this time, it was led by the Crown of the Ocean and countless Lords of Glory as the attacking party.

Before the divine war broke out, Ji Chen informed the players through chat channels and forums about everything regarding the Dark Gods and the dimensional crisis.

Whether it was actively provoking a war with the Dark Gods or proposing that players attack the darkbelievers, it was all for the imminent dimensional crisis.

The moment he ascended to divinity in the Natural Divine Realm, the being from above the heavens- the Will of the Plane -informed him about the arrival of the players and its intentions and arrangements over the past hundreds of thousands of years.

Upon discovering the attack on the planes, the conservative Will of the Plane began to seek solutions.

This included breaking the seal of the Chaos Abyss by the Dark Gods, an act orchestrated by the Will of the Plane, all in the name of sparking another war between the forces of darkness and order, a competition in its own words.

After the last divine war ended and the Orderly Gods suppressed the Dark Gods in the Chaos Abyss, there had been no rapid recovery of power or appearance of more gods over hundreds of thousands of years as the Will had hoped.

The Orderly Gods became highly conservative, seldom intervening in the main world, neglecting to aid more beings in ascending to godhood, and actively pooling resources to oppose the emergence of new gods, such as the Oceanic Divine Realm's resistance against Ji Chen. This led to only a few newly ascended gods over the past hundreds of thousands of years, amounting to less than a quarter of those from the last divine war!

Since they couldn't afford to pay for the lesser gods, the Will decided to help the seemingly more tenacious side that struggled for survival.

The Will still harbored some hope for the Orderly Gods, merely helping the Dark Gods break the seal to let both sides compete and become stronger, thus leading the entire plane to confront the invading plane.

However, the performance of the Dark Gods was even more disappointing. First, they failed in the main world's war, with Ji Chen's contribution, of course. But after breaking out of the seal, instead of launching a proactive attack on the Orderly Gods, they pinned their hopes on demons to destabilize the orderly believers in the main world.

Thousands of years passed, and the two sides remained at a stalemate. The Will of the Plane once again devised a new method to summon another force to break the deadlock.

And thus, the players appeared.

With various convenient abilities and assistance, players rapidly grew in a short time. At the very beginning, he also planted some "seeds" to produce players who could play a leading role.

However, despite sowing so many "seeds," only a few managed to sprout, while the others remained stillborn.

In the conception of the Will of the Plane, perhaps it would only take a few hundred years for players to become the backbone of this plane, increasing the capital to resist enemies.

However, what it never expected was the emergence of Ji Chen, a "deviant" with growth speed far beyond its expectations, among those "seeds." In less than two years, Ji Chen had already ascended from an ordinary mortal to a god, standing on par with and even surpassing gods that had existed for hundreds of thousands or even millions of years.

After organizing his thoughts, Ji Chen decisively informed the players of everything and proposed taking action against the Dark Gods.

He firmly believed that only by ending the chaos in the main world and this plane could enough power be gathered to deal with the crisis. Therefore, the primary task was to deal with the Dark Gods and their followers.

By killing the Dark Gods and reclaiming the power representing the highest authority of this world from their hands, and then delivering this power to beings capable of wielding it, a sufficiently powerful energy could be consolidated.

Upon learning everything, the players did not disappoint Ji Chen's expectations. They launched the most powerful attack in history. Whether they were players stationed in the rear or on the front lines, they all showed immense determination in the face of the impending apocalypse.

Countless players poured out with their territorial troops, turning the main world upside down. Numerous dark believers, both overt and covert, were slaughtered, and almost all followers of the Dark Gods were nearly exterminated, their faith lost.

The Dark Gods, who had been killed and fallen not long ago, their souls returning to the Divine Realm, lost the nurturing power of faith and perished one after another.

Ji Chen, who had long been prepared, timely reclaimed these powers.

The main world players, along with the subsequent arrival of orderly god believers, spent two years finally slaughtering or assimilating billions of dark believers.

Seizing this opportunity, the Oceanic Faith expanded wildly, recruiting countless sea races and various human ethnicities into loyal believers. The power of faith surged like a landslide and tsunami, continuously enhancing Ji Chen's strength.

At the same time, Ji Chen and the orderly gods pursued victory, forcing the heavily damaged Dark Gods into dire straits and killing them one by one, reclaiming the powers representing rules and strength.

As the last main god of the Dark Gods was besieged in his divine realm and perished amidst unwilling roars, it signaled the end of this "war" from the arrival of the players to the complete extinction of the Dark Gods.

In this war, the Crown of the Ocean, nurtured countless times, had also become a top power comparable to the Elven Empire, with territories stretching from the western coast of the Mid-Ocean to countless islands in the vast sea to the eastern continent.

With vast territory and numerous resources, the Oceanic Faith, relying on its powerful territorial strength, has become the most powerful church of the time, with tens of millions of believers.

And Ji Chen's power has reached an unprecedented peak.

Having collected a large number of powers, adorned with supreme authority, Ji Chen, who gained the respect and obedience of the orderly gods, did not become a dictator like the Dragon Slayer who ultimately became an evil dragon.

Instead, he complied with the expectations of countless players and natives, leading the god-making system, selecting potential beings worldwide, pouring resources, and granting powers.

in just fifty years after the war, more than ten gods were born, including many intermediate gods.

One hundred and fifty years later, after all powers were distributed, hundreds of new gods were born in this plane, with players accounting for more than half. However, more beings, under the pouring of abundant resources, created new powers and ascended to godhood.

With Ji Chen's continuous development and assistance in utilizing military talent tree, powerful god kingdom armies were born, providing strong support for the vigorous development of this plane.

Two hundred years after the players arrived, the power of the plane reached an unprecedented climax, and by this time, that aggressive plane had already arrived.

In the vast and boundless void of the plane, a huge blood-red plane, resembling a flying disc, has already come into view.

Ji Chen stood calmly in the void, with a dignified demeanor and a majestic aura, like the unfathomable void.

Beside him stood a group of heroes of the Crown of the Ocean n who had become gods, such as Alice, Herald, and Patheia...

Behind him stood thousands of godlike figures, majestic and imposing, many of whom were familiar player faces like I .Love.BlaclStockings and Wang Shanyue...

Peering downward, millions of divine realm armies stood in formation behind, prepared to confront the fierce enemy forces streaming forth from the invading plane, their eyes ablaze with determined battle fervor.

As Ji Chen waved his hand gently, countless armies stepped forward with determined and majestic formations, facing the enemy head-on.

The End..
