

One Planet 198

Chapter 198: First Day Results! Jiang Fan's ranking!

Time passed quickly!

Hundreds of thousands of candidates in the immense square, suddenly disappeared!

They were transported to their respective exam positions.

This was the powerful ability of this college entrance examination space.

Same thing happened to Jiang Fan.

He just felt a blur before his eyes and one seconds later, he discovered his surroundings, the scene had already changed!

It was no longer the square, instead it was an environment of nothingness above, below, left and right!

It was like walking between time and space!

A feeling that was completely indescribable.

Naturally, there was nothing of the sort, except for a table and chairs in the front.

The examination table was still empty at the moment.

“It is said that this environment of nothingness was specially created for the entrance exams.”

Jiang Fan looked around and thought to himself, “It can keep the examiner's mind calm. They can maximize their own level!”

Glancing around, Jiang Fan discovered that in front of the table, there was also a clock.

It was going by the second.

The time for the first section of the entrance exam was two hours, from 9:00 am to 11:00 am!

Time passed minute by minute.

Soon, the ethereal voice sounded again:

“There is one minute left in the exam, now distributing the test papers, please don't answer in advance, you will be allowed to answer the questions only after the exam officially starts.”

As the words fell.

Jiang Fan saw that on the exam table in front of him, a test paper appeared out of thin air!

Jiang Fan curiously touched it.

This test paper was not made of paper.

It was an extremely special material and beside the paper scroll, there was also a pen.

This pen was also from some powerful transcendent civilization!

Jiang Fan picked up the pen and filled in his name and admission ticket number on the test paper!

In fact, this was also just in case.

With the power of the college entrance examination space, naturally, there was no way that such a thing as a wrong candidate's test paper could happen.

Cheating was even more impossible!

If you dare to answer in advance, surely the first warning will be given!

The former pen in hand will be frozen.

In previous entrance examinations, there had not been a single case of cheating.

The previous inspection was also just a walk in the park.

Even if you come in with a communicator and cheat, you would only be caught immediately!

One minute passed in a flash!

“The examination begins, candidates, please start answering the questions!”

The ethereal voice fell.

Jiang Fan, as well as all the candidates, picked up their pens to start answering.

For this first test, most people were in a relaxed mood.

Especially the many geniuses who were ranked on the Heavenly Pride List.

None of them were nervous.

Because, this section was a theory exam called “Planetology”!

There was nothing difficult at all.

As long as you are always prepared enough, not to mention the geniuses on the list of heavenly pride, even an upper-middle class student like Ma Songtao could get a good score!

Of course, this subject, “Planetology”, couldn't be ignored.

It had a score of one hundred and fifty points!

Total score for the entrance exam was-

750 points!

Every point was exceptionally critical and important!

According to the statistics of previous years.

Every point determines thousands or even tens of thousands of rankings!

Therefore, even for geniuses who want to compete for the first prize, “Planetology” was a must to get high marks.

Everyone wanted to get a perfect score of 150!

According to the results of the previous examination, no one got a perfect score in this one.

Jiang Fan naturally would not be careless.

He had been preparing for this course for a long time in the past three months!

Soon, in less than an hour.

Jiang Fan finished all the exam questions.

After checking it twice, Jiang Fan who wanted to insure his first prize, connected to the deduction system!

This deduction was for the system.

It couldn't be any easier.

The results came out in an instant.

Looking at the full score of the deduction results, Jiang Fan exhaled faintly.

Due to the inability to turn in papers early, Jiang Fan could only sit in his seat, bored and waiting because in this particular exam room, even if it was a connection to your own planet, it was also disconnected.

Finally, the ethereal voice sounded again:

“Exam time is up, please leave the room.”

In the next moment, Jiang Fan was transported directly out of the place.

He was back to the huge square.
