

One Night Stand With The Uninvited Wolf President

Chapter 131 The Result of the Medical Exams

She hadn't expected Bill to be like that.

He had saved her life, and she even fell in love with him. How could he be that kind of man?

"Are you listening to me?" Nancy knocked on the table and said to Alice, who was lost in mind.

"Yes, I heard you."

"Anyway, don't try to take shortcuts. He is very good at hooking up with women, especially young students like you. But all the women had a tragic fate, and they will be abandoned by him. In addition, Mr. Jaden is from a rich family and the Jaden family won't allow him to marry an ordinary girl. You need to be clear about that."

Nancy warned her again, "Keep a distance with Mr. Jaden! You need to remember that!"

Alice bit her lips nervously. She and Bill had already slept together. She hoped that no others would know that.

"Alright, you can leave now."

On the way back, Alice was in a daze.

She didn't expect Bill to be such a man, but she had slept with him. What could she do now?

...

After Ceres joined the new project team, she became even much busier. Johnny said that the original robots were not perfect enough. He always asked them to come up with more ideas. Everyone in the project team was trying hard. So was Ceres.

Just as Ceres was brainstorming, her phone rang. "Hello."

"Hello, is this Miss Ceres?"

"Yes."

"The result of your medical exams has come out. Do you have time to come over and get it? We will analyze the result for you."

"I am a little busy. Why don't you just send me the report?"

Ceres was unwilling to waste her time on that.

"Well, the result doesn't turn out to be very good. I suggest that you come here and we will analyze it for you in detail."

When she heard that the result was bad, Ceres panicked a little. She remembered what she had said to Johnny. They prepared to have children recently. How could there be a problem with her body?

Therefore, Ceres immediately put down her work and went to the health center. She did not tell Johnny about this matter and went there herself.

When she arrived at the health center, a doctor came with her report.

"What's wrong with the result?"

"Calm down first. I want to ask you a question. Have you been taking contraceptives recently?"

Ceres immediately shook her head. To be honest, she did not even know what contraceptives looked like.

"I've never had them before."

The doctor held the report and was doubtful. He handed it to Ceres, "Look at these numbers. Generally speaking, they are supposed to be in a certain range, but your hormones exceed so much."

Ceres was also surprised to see the numbers. They were actually much more than the normal amount.

"Generally speaking, the level of hormones in your body will fluctuate, but there won't be such a big fluctuation. It's always caused by contraceptives. But if you haven't taken the contraceptive pills, there may be other problems. But..."

The doctor looked at her and said, "But the other parts of your body are quite normal. It is strange. So, I think you should have a further examination."

"Is it serious?" Ceres did not know anything about this. She rubbed her hands uneasily. She wished she had brought Johnny with her, then she would not be so flustered.

"You need to have a further examination. But there are no problems with the other part of your body, so it's hard to say for now."

"Will this affect pregnancy?" This was the question that Ceres was most concerned about.

"Of course it will. These indicators are all about pregnancy. I asked you if you took contraceptives because the numbers would rise after taking contraceptives. But those indicators of you are really too high. You need to take a lot of contraceptives to be like that."

Ceres suddenly remembered something.

She remembered what Mary said after her miscarriage. She said that Johnny made Ceres take contraceptives secretly.

Was that true?

"Are you going to have a further examination today?"

Ceres nodded. After further examinations, she left the health center without waiting for the result.

As soon as she left the health center, she saw Mary.

She did not expect to meet Mary here. After all, Mary had a miscarriage not long ago and she should be resting now.

Mary was dressed very casually. Perhaps it was because she had just had a miscarriage. Her face was a little pale. A servant followed behind her. She was probably also here for an examination.

"It's really a narrow road for us. Ceres, how can I see you again?" Mary spoke with a hint of sarcasm.

Ceres didn't want to have a quarrel with her because she had just miscarried.

Ceres put her report into the bag and wanted to leave.

"Wait! Didn't you find anything strange from your report?" Mary sneered.

"What are you trying to say?" Ceres turned around slowly and looked at Mary.

"I already told you this before. But you were stupid and didn't believe me. You have seen the report now. You should believe what I said, right?"

Mary crossed her arms and looked Ceres up and down. "Men like their careers more, just like Henry. I had a miscarriage. What about him? He was busy with his business and was busy apologizing to his father, afraid of affecting his career. He is Johnny's brother. Do you think there will be any difference between them?"

"They are totally different!" Ceres was unwilling to compare Johnny and Henry together.

Henry is a despicable man, and Johnny is not!

However, Mary snorted coldly, "This is just your own thought. Women who are in love are always dumb. I thought you would be different, but I didn't expect you to be even more stupid than me! Well, for men, their careers are important than their lives, and their lives are more important than women.

When he has a career and good life, he will naturally love you. But when he was striving for his career, he can abandon women and life!"

Mary looked at Ceres meaningfully and said, "You are smart. I don't want to persuade you. Believe it or not."

After that, Mary turned over and went into the health center.

Ceres was stunned in place for a long time, lost in mind.

Was it really Johnny?