

One Night Stand With The Uninvited Wolf President

Chapter 151 You Are Lying!

After the funeral, Johnny brought Ceres back to Imperial City.

Ceres did not say a word along the way.

After returning home, Johnny settled Ceres down and gently tucked her in. "Ceres, have a good sleep. Even though your father has passed away, you still have to live well, right?"

Ceres remained silent.

"Don't forget that you still have me. Let's live well in the future. Go to sleep." Johnny kissed Ceres's forehead.

The bedroom was quiet at night.

Ceres opened her eyes. Her eyes were cold enough to send chills down Johnny's spine. She took out a dagger from under her pillow.

Johnny slept next to her. She got out of bed with the dagger and walked to Johnny's side.

Her emotions were complicated.

On the one hand, she wanted to seek revenge for the death of her beloved father. On the other hand, she did not want to kill Johnny, the man she loved deeply.

Thinking about the years she had spent with her father, she finally raised the dagger in her hand. However, when the dagger was about to touch Johnny's chest, she suddenly stopped.

She couldn't bear to kill him.

Ceres's tears rolled down her cheeks.

She was useless!

She actually did not have the courage to avenge her father!

"Do I still love Johnny? Why cannot I kill him?"

Ceres asked herself again and again.

Once again, she finally raised her dagger, but this time, she still didn't stab him.

She remembered Johnny's kindness to her. It was this man who gave her the only warmth in this world. He cherished her, loved her, and pampered her. He made her no longer feel lonely.

When she raised her dagger for the third time, Johnny opened his eyes.

"Why didn't you stab me?"

The dagger in Ceres's hand fell to the ground.

Johnny sat up. He knew that Ceres would definitely think of a way to kill him. From her behavior at the funeral, he knew that she must be conserving her energy and planning something.

As he expected, he was right.

"You knew I was going to kill you?"

After coming back, Johnny heard from Sofia that a woman whose surname was Morris came to meet Ceres. Thinking of the video incident last time, Johnny was sure that Mary must have turned Ceres against him again.

However, he knew that Ceres was in a bad mood. If she could feel better after hurting him, he was willing to be stabbed by her.

Ceres's tears kept rolling down. She fell to the ground as if she had lost all her strength in an instant.

"Why did you do that? Why? Johnny, I am so obedient to you. Why didn't you allow me to see him? Why are you so cruel to me?"

Ceres finally gave vent to her recent anger and sadness.

She raised her head and cried bitterly, gasping for breath.

That man was her father, her most beloved father. She was brought up by him. He took her to go up the hill to pick fruits. He also took her to jump into rivers to catch fish. Besides, he taught her to write.

He was all she had!

She could live in the Morris family in humiliation just because of her father. She endured the humiliation in order to reunite her father one day and continue to live with him.

But that was impossible now!

Johnny got out of bed and held Ceres in his arms. He knew how it felt to lose a family and could empathize with her.

Ceres cried for a long time before she finally stopped. "Are you that cruel? Do you really have to kill him?"

"Ceres, your father did commit suicide."

"You are still lying to me!" Ceres looked at Johnny in shock. "I heard from the prison guards that my father's commutation has been approved. He could leave prison in half a year. You tell me. Why did he commit suicide? I know my father. He would not leave me behind!"

"When he was arrested, he told me to wait for him! He would never commit suicide!" Ceres wiped the tears off her face.

Johnny was helpless, but what he said was the truth.

George saw him for the last time and the two of them talked about a lot of things. George didn't allow Johnny to tell Ceres that he committed suicide just for her. He knew his daughter well. She would definitely feel guilty for the rest of her life and would never be able to live well.

Johnny promised him to keep the secret.

"But he did commit suicide. He suffered a lot in prison. Ceres, do you know your father is not an innocent man as you think at all? He is a professional killer and has killed many people."

"You are lying!" Ceres refused to believe it.

Her father was a good person. He was kind-hearted.

"I know you may not be able to accept it, but this is the truth. He also wrote a suicide note. The prison guard gave it to me."

Johnny took out a letter from his pocket and said, "I was planning to give it to you when you feel better."

Ceres could not wait to take the letter and open it. It was indeed his father's handwriting.

"Dear Ceres, I'm sorry. I really can't bear it anymore. Life in prison is too boring, and I really can't make it through anymore. Sweetie, actually, I am not as good as you think. I am a sinner and a professional killer. You must think that Dad is a hero. Unfortunately, Dad let you down..."

This letter was so long that Ceres read it for a long time.

She was struck dumbfounded by the last words in the letter. "Ceres, forget about me and go to look for your biological father. I lied to you. You're not my biological daughter. I became infertile a long time ago. Ceres, I still love you."

Ceres, however, tore the letter into pieces and threw them to the ground.

"Johnny, you imitated my father's handwriting, didn't you? Tell me!"

Ceres did not believe a single word in the letter.

How could her father be a killer? How could her father not be her biological father?

This was impossible!

They were all lies made up by Johnny!

Lies!

Johnny did not expect Ceres to be so stubborn. "This letter was indeed written by your dad. What he said in the letter was true. Ceres, you and your dad have lived together for so long. You should be able to recognize his handwriting."

"No! You are lying! You are talking nonsense. Johnny, I didn't expect you to be so shameless! You even used such despicable means!"

Ceres glared fiercely at Johnny.

She felt as if something was stabbing her heart, she was in a great deal of pain!

"What I said is true! Why don't you believe me? Ceres, in fact, I investigated and discovered the truth in advance. I was just afraid that you wouldn't be able to accept it, so I didn't tell you."

"Shut up!" Ceres picked up the dagger on the ground and stabbed it into Johnny's chest!

The next second, she hurriedly threw away the dagger. She was also frightened by herself!

She could not believe that she actually stabbed the dagger into Johnny's chest!
