

One Night Stand With The Uninvited Wolf President

Chapter 152 Leave

Johnny subconsciously covered his chest.

Blood flowed down along his fingers.

He really did not expect that Ceres would stab the dagger into his chest, but it did not matter. If Ceres could feel better, he was willing to.

"Ceres, calm down. If you don't want to hear it now, I will tell you all about it when you have thought it through and calmed down."

Covering his chest, Johnny stood up and staggered to the door.

Ceres just looked at him like that.

With his hand on the doorknob, Johnny turned around once again, "I never thought of lying to you."

"But you've been lying to me," she said, slumping on the ground and turning her head to another side.

"I always thought that I was very powerful, but when everything happened, I realized that I was not as powerful as I thought. There were many things that I could do nothing about."

Then Johnny turned the doorknob and walked out.

Ceres quietly shed tears on the ground.

Johnny came out and went straight to Bob's house, where Bob should be at that time. After pressing the doorbell a few times, Bob finally opened the door.

"Johnny? You..."

There was a strong smell of blood!

Johnny was just about to speak when he fell directly onto Bob's shoulder.

Bob hurriedly sent Johnny to the hospital. After bandaging, Johnny woke up. Then the doctor gave him fluids. Because of losing a lot of blood, Johnny's face looked a little pale.

After knowing that Johnny was hurt by Ceres, Bob was quite shocked.

"She actually wants to kill you!" Bob looked at Johnny in shock. "Johnny, aren't you two on good terms? Didn't you tell her the truth?"

Johnny shook his head.

"You are a madman! How can she not take revenge for the death of her father? If it were me, I would take revenge too!" Bob paced back and forth in the ward.

He knew that Johnny loved Ceres, but he never thought that he would love her to that extent!

"I don't want her to bear too much burden."

Johnny said lightly.

He was not willing to mention the grudge of his mother's death. Although he really wanted to avenge his mother's murderer, George was already dead. Moreover, George was only taking money to help people solve problems. And this matter had nothing to do with Ceres.

Even if he told Ceres that George had killed his mother, so what?

Ceres was a kind person, so she would definitely feel guilty and sad. He did not want her to live in guilt for him for the rest of her life. He would rather she enjoyed everything he had given with a clear conscience than for her to live in humble and guilty.

The first half of her life was already very humble.

"But is she still willing to be with you? Aren't you breaking the relationship between you two?" Bob did not understand.

"Time can heal everything."

He knew that it would be difficult for Ceres to trust him again, but he was willing to try, and he would use his kindness to her to let her be with him.

Looking at Johnny, Bob suddenly felt that he did not really know this man. Why didn't he think of himself at all?

If he told Ceres the truth of the matter, Ceres would feel guilty, and she would definitely treat Johnny better, in order to atone for his father's sins and make up for Johnny. However, this way, their identities would be reversed!

"How long will this end?" Johnny looked up at the infusion bottle.

Bob also took a look at the infusion bottle, "You should just be obediently on a drip. Originally, the doctor planned to give you a blood transfusion. It was really thrilling that it would hurt your heart just a little bit more!"

Johnny let out a long sigh of relief, but there was a smile on his lips. "She can't bear to kill me. She loves me," he said.

He actually knew Ceres's intentions long ago, and he even saw her hide the dagger under the pillow.

The reason why he remained calm and collected was to see if Ceres would really kill him.

It turned out that he won the bet and Ceres could not kill him.

As long as he won the bet this time, he would win for sure in the future.

"I'm tired. And I'm going to sleep for a while. Call me when it's done."

"Why do I call you? Just stay in the hospital. Do you want to go home?"

"I'm worried about Ceres being alone at home."

He was not afraid of Ceres committing suicide, because Ceres was not such a fragile person. But he was worried that there would be no one to accompany her.

"You really beat me!"

"You will understand when you meet a woman you love." Johnny closed his eyes.

Ceres sat at the head of her bed for the whole night, and she thought a lot.

When the sun rose, she saw the bright light outside. It was as if she had just woken up from a dream.

Johnny was a man that she could not reach. Just treat it as a dream. Now that it was dawn, it was time for her to wake up.

Ceres slowly stood up and simply packed her things.

She prepared to leave.

She first took a taxi to the Eagle Group and took her things away before everyone came to work. She might never come back to this company again, but she had no time to greet everyone.

After packing up her things, she came back and sorted the things out in the house.

Sofia had not woken up yet. After all, it was so early now.

Just as Ceres was about to leave, she saw the rooster poking its head out. She did not take anything away from this villa, except the odds and ends she bought.

This rooster should belong there.

But she walked over and picked it up.

This rooster had accompanied her for a long time when she was the loneliest and most helpless, and she had long regarded it as a member of the family.

"I'll take you away, okay?" Ceres touched the rooster's fur, and the rooster only looked at her without any crow.

Carrying her bag, Ceres left the villa with the rooster in her arms. She turned around to look at the villa, where she had many memories, good or bad.

She didn't want to take any of them away.

In the end, she walked out directly.

Standing at the gate of the community, she suddenly felt a little lost. The world was so big, but there was no place for her.

Where should she go?

"Where do you think we should go?" Ceres did not want to go back to school, because she knew Johnny would definitely go there to find her.

She did not want to see Johnny. And she left him a letter and a divorce agreement.

She wrote clearly in the letter that when they met again, they were enemies.

A black car stopped beside her, and she hurriedly made way. But a few people got out of the car.

It was menacing!

Immediately feeling something wrong, Ceres ran away with the rooster in her arms!