

One Night Stand With The Uninvited Wolf President

Chapter 161 I Will Defeat Him

After three years.

"After three months of fierce competition, the robot Wargod No. 1 and Reunion finally entered our final championship competition!"

The host's impassioned voice stirred the atmosphere of the scene, making everyone excited.

"Wow, Wargod No. 1 is so amazing, isn't it? It is said that it is from the Cosmos Group. These few years, the Cosmos Group has completely turned over."

"Although the name Reunion is ordinary, this robot is really eye-catching. It is said that Mr. Johny of Eagle Group personally named it."

"In the current artificial intelligence field, I'm afraid only the Cosmos Group and Eagle Group are fighting."

"These two companies are too interesting. They compete in the product, and they compete in the robot competition, too."

Everyone was talking about the robot competition.

As artificial intelligence got closer and closer to people's lives, the discussions about it became more and more.

The woman in a black and white business suit listened to the discussions of these people and entered the lounge.

Kirs stretched out his hand, with a cup of coffee in his hand. "Thank you, Ceres!"

Ceres sat on the sofa, took the coffee, and took a sip.

"Ceres, you could have beaten Reunion just now." Kirs sat next to Ceres.

"The last fight is fun. It will be boring to beat it so early." The light in Ceres's eyes was cold and filled with hatred.

Every time she thought of Johny, she felt miserable.

He deceived her and he killed her father.

When she was suffering, and when she was pregnant and imprisoned, he was happily engaged to the mixed-blood princess as if she never existed.

In these three years, he seemed not to care about her disappearance and managed Eagle Group well.

"Don't think about the unhappy things. I will take you to the office of our company in Imperial City."

What Ceres did not expect was that Kirs chose the office of the Cosmos Group in Imperial City to be in the building opposite Eagle Group.

The building of Eagle Group was the landmark of Imperial City. It was located in the center of the city. It was also the commercial center of Imperial City. Ceres stood in front of the large floor-to-ceiling window and looked at the grand building of Eagle Group. Memories of the past filled her mind.

Back then, she had been doing research with Johny in the building opposite. She had helped him research robots for years with her creativity.

Kirs also looked at the building opposite with his hands on his hips. "Eagle Group has been developing well in the past three years. Their products have been developed one after another, and each one sells well. Compared to them, we are a little weaker. It is said that Eagle Group has dominated the market in Imperial City."

Ceres sneered, "He will soon be defeated by me."

The light in her eyes was firm and cold.

In the past three years, she had been reborn and became a different person.

Kirs patted Ceres on the shoulder. "Ceres, I know you can definitely do it."

Ceres turned her head to look at Kirs. "I know that I can definitely do it."

They smiled at each other.

"Ceres, I..."

"By the way, Kirs, I will meet a friend tonight, so I have to go now."

Kirs stopped what he wanted to say, "Okay, will it be late? Do you need me to pick you up? I can be your driver at any time, Ceres's exclusive driver."

Ceres was amused by Kirs. "If you have the time, find a girlfriend first. I'll drive tonight. I forgot to tell you that I bought a house nearby. I'll invite our colleagues to have a party."

Kirs's smile froze. He wanted to say that he had prepared a house and hoped that Ceres would live with him.

In the past three years, he believed that Ceres knew his feelings for her, but she always refused.

"Alright, no problem!"

"I must go now." Ceres waved at Kirs, took her car key, and left.

The secretary, Lisa, walked in. "Mr. Kirs, please sign the document off."

Kirs looked at the document and signed it off directly.

Lisa looked at Kirs. "Mr. Kirs, you and Miss Ceres are a perfect match. Everyone is guessing when you will get married."

Lisa was a mischievous girl. Kirs got along well with everyone in the company, so everyone liked joking with him.

Kirs put the pen on the table. "Why are you asking so much?"

"Oh, we are looking forward to your wedding. Mr. Kirs, Come on!" Lisa clenched her fist and made a gesture.

"Alright, go back to work." Kirs waved at Lisa.

Lisa went out with the document.

It had been three years. During these three years, he and Ceres had been together. They had been doing research all night, staying up all night, eating together. They almost had never separated, like a pair of babies.

In everyone's eyes, they were a pair of lovers.

Kirs thought that perhaps it was time for them to have a perfect ending.

Previously, Ceres loved Johny deeply. Kirs had no chance at all. But now, Ceres had no more illusions about Johny. She only had hatred. When she completely defeated Johny, he and Ceres would marry.

This was the best ending.

Kirs looked at the building of Eagle Group. "Johny, just wait and see. Ceres is mine."

Ceres had just gotten her driver's license and did not drive well. She spent more than an hour getting over ten kilometers. Nyla and Alice, who had already arrived, complained.

The location of their gathering was a restaurant called Exquisite Restaurant.

This restaurant was run by Ceres and Nyla together. Ceres and Nyla were together again. It must be fate. Back then, Nyla fell in love with Justin, Lily's ex-boyfriend. As the saying went, "if you don't fight, you don't know each other." After that, Nyla wanted to make friends with Ceres.

It was a pity that Ceres did not want to be Nyla's friend.

Later, in City M, where the Cosmos Group was located, Ceres and Alice watched a show together. They met Nyla again. At that time, Nyla was already a famous fashion designer.

Their relationship became better and better.

Nyla had eaten the dishes that Ceres cooked once. She fell in love with that taste and insisted on running a restaurant, which was Exquisite Restaurant.

Alice had not been very popular in the past three years. She had acted in some popular TV dramas. Unfortunately, she was never popular. Although she was not a first-rate star, she was a qualified third-rate star.

"Come on! Since you're late, drink three cups of wine first!" Nyla had prepared the wine.

"OK. Bottoms up!" Ceres drank in one gulp.

"Excellent!" Nyla slapped her thigh and drank with Ceres.

They drank to their hearts' content. Nyla hooked her arm around Ceres's shoulder. "Ceres, you returned to Imperial City this time for Johny, right?"
