

One Night Stand With The Uninvited Wolf President

Chapter 167 The Purest Eyes

Glory Entertainment

Alice did not take any acting job during this period of time. Pitifully, there were even few jobs. She had to come to her agent Nancy again to ask for more jobs.

Young talented stars were emerging. Every year, there were countless graduates from the art academy. However, there were too many of them who couldn't become famous and left completely.

Alice got cold feet and wanted to retreat recently. Perhaps this was a wrong path for her life, either.

Knowing that she had entered the entertainment industry and started her career as an actress, her mother had not contacted her for two years. If she did not perform well, she might have to change jobs.

"Alice, I have given you all the resources I can give you. It is you who did not seize the opportunity in time. The resources are so scarce now in the entertainment industry. You have to cherish what you have already got."

Originally, Nancy did not have much hope for Alice. After all, Alice has her talent. She would never give up anyone. Therefore, she would give some good resources of acting to Alice. However, Alice just could not become famous.

"Nancy, I'm sorry to let you down."

"Don't feel sorry for me. I don't want to hear your apology from you again. Alice, you have to work hard for yourself!"

"I will work harder." Alice nodded.

However, Nancy shook her head. Alice was as dumb as a piece of wood. She said that she would work hard again and again, but she had never made it.

"Did you really work hard? I asked you to post some positive content on Weibo. What are you doing? You have no perseverance and don't insist. If I don't remind you, you always forget to post. And I have to revise your selfies. I don't have so much time to waste on this!"

Ceres lowered her head.

Nancy had set a character for her from the beginning, but she really disliked it. She felt that it was too fake. Every time she posted something on Weibo, she would always have to say something genteel, which she always checked on the Internet for a long time. Therefore, when Nancy stopped pushing her, she didn't want to do that again.

Nancy gave a few scripts to Alice and said, "These series are recruiting actors and actresses. If you like any of them, you can contact them according to their contact information yourself. I've been too busy recently. I just signed a few new artists. I really don't have much time for you."

Alice took the scripts. At that moment, she knew that Nancy had completely given up on her.

Nancy was a very utilitarian person. She was indeed a great agent. However, once Alice lost her value, she would be abandoned by Nancy.

Most of the time, she would give an artist three years to grow and develop careers. Now that three years had passed and Alice still wasn't a big star. So she had to abandon her.

Alice didn't know what to say. She had once seen some artists kneel down to Nancy in order to get more opportunities. However, she couldn't do such a thing.

"Thank you, Nancy. I will go back and read this." Alice left Nancy's office with those scripts.

Nancy looked down at the information of the new artists, not even looking at Alice leaving.

Alice walked out of the Building of Glory Entertainment. It turned out that it was raining outside.

The weather was fine when she came, so she didn't bring an umbrella. She wasn't rich enough to own a car because she was not famous in the past few years. She came here by taxi. Sadly, the driver didn't recognize her as a star and thought she was a staff.

Watching it rain heavily, Alice really wanted to cry.

At this time, a voice suddenly came from the side, "Miss, let me give you a ride. It's raining so heavily."

Alice turned around and saw Bill in a red suit.

Bill had always liked to wear fancy clothes, and he always stood out in the crowd.

Bill hadn't expected it to be Alice. But since he had already said it, he couldn't take it back.

"Let's go. What are you waiting for? I won't do anything to you." Bill tilted his head.

Bill's indifferent attitude made Alice suddenly realize that this man had so many girlfriends. He probably had already forgotten that she had slept with him.

She was about to refuse while Bill had already driven the car over. So she got in the car.

There was a strong smell of perfume in the car, which made Alice feel a little nauseous. She wondered that how many women had sat in this position.

Bill didn't know what to say to her. In the past three years, he was punished by his father, he had learned a lot. He had to turn on the music to change the depressing atmosphere in the car.

The rain was heavy. There were even some puddles of water.

Bill drove the car very fast. Perhaps he also wanted to hide this awkward as soon as possible. However, the car suddenly stuck into the water and extinguished the fire.

He tried to restart it several times, but it was no.

"Damn it!" Bill turned the steering wheel and looked at Alice nearby awkwardly, "The car is probably in water."

"It's ok. I'll call a taxi." Alice also wanted to end the awkward atmosphere.

"Well, it's raining so heavily now. It's difficult to get yourself a taxi." Bill looked outside. The rain was coming down in buckets that he couldn't see clearly. He had to open the map on his phone and said, "There is a hotel nearby. Let's go and take shelter from the rain."

Alice still had lingering fears when she heard the word "hotel".

Their first encounter was in the hotel.

But the rain was really too heavy so that she couldn't leave. Alice could only agree with Bill.

They parked the car on the side of the road and rushed all the way to the hotel in the rain.

Because of the heavy rain, many people could not go home and had to stay in the hotel. The hotel was full and only the last big bedroom was left. But now they could not go to another hotel. Even if they went to another hotel, they did not know if there were rooms.

Therefore, they had no choice but to check in.

They took a bath separately.

Alice wrapped herself tightly in a bathrobe. Bill took a bath very quickly. When he came out, he saw Alice standing in front of the window and staring at the rain outside.

She had just taken a shower and did not put on any makeup. Her fair skin served as a foil to her rosy face. Her eyes were clear and limpid. Those were probably the purest eyes Bill had ever seen before.

He had seen so many women so he could judge.

Her eyes were filled with sorrow.

"What are you thinking about? Why are you frowning? You are so young."

"It's nothing, Mr. Jaden. I made a call to my friend who will pick me up later."

"Ok." Bill was obviously a little disappointed. At that moment, he wanted to stay with her for a while longer.
