

One Night Stand With The Uninvited Wolf President

Chapter 169 We Didn't Divorce

The staffs of the Cosmos Group looked at each other in dismay. They wondered what was going on. And who was this man who suddenly barged in?

Kirs narrowed his eyes slightly. He did not expect Johny to appear at the most critical moment of his proposal.

Of course, Ceres didn't expect Johny's appearance, either.

Johny looked at Ceres. At that moment, he was lost in a trance.

The woman he missed day and night was right in front of him.

He felt like he was dreaming right now. Occasionally, he would even doubt if Ceres was already dead, but she was now alive right in front of him. His heart was ecstatic because of her.

His eyes actually moistened at that moment.

Because he ran all the way here, Johny was a little breathless. But He didn't care. He strode to Ceres and grabbed her wrist to take her out of the hall.

Ceres only felt that her wrist was painful and she could not break free from his big force at all!

Kirs hurriedly caught up with them.

In the corridor, Kirs blocked their way.

"Mr. Johny, I believe it is inappropriate for you to do this."

"Johny, let me go!" Ceres struggled to break free from his grasp.

The more she struggled, the harder his grip became.

"Inappropriate? What's wrong with me taking my woman home?"

"Your woman?" Kirs looked at Ceres's wretched expression.

Kirs snorted and said, "Didn't you see that I was proposing just now? Ceres is mine now."

A mocking smile appeared on Johny's face, "She didn't say yes. You can't say that."

Kirs looked at Ceres, "All right, Ceres. Now give me your answer."

Kirs stared fixedly at Ceres. Johny also turned his head to the side to look at her. His malicious gaze was like an eagle looking for preys in the sky, sharp and cold.

Ceres did not want to lie, even if Johny was there.

"I..."

"Ceres!" Johny immediately interrupted Ceres, "You are still my wife!"

"We have already divorced." Ceres turned her face to the side and said, "Please behave yourself, Mr. Johny."

Johny saw the indifference and alienation in her eyes at that moment.

Although he knew that she had left with a broken heart, he also had been looking for her for so many years. Why? Why was she indifferent?

Johny was confused.

She even called him "Mr. Johny"! Although she had been calling him Johny Winsor before, he felt he was aliened by her calling him "Mr. Johny".

Why? Why did everything change?

Johny let go of her hand, "Divorce is about two people. You can't announce it unilaterally."

"What are you..."Ceres looked at Johny in astonishment.

"I have never signed our divorce paper. Miss Ceres, you are still my wife. Please behave yourself."

Was he the man who hid his Ceres? Very well, he would investigate it thoroughly.

Johny returned to the Eagle Group. Bill was still begging Bob to plead for him, or he might be killed by Kirs today.

Just as Bob said that Bill deserved a punishment, Johny came back. Bill took the opportunity to hide behind Bob, but Bob directly dodged to a side, exposing Bill to Johny.

When Bill saw Johny's dark and gloomy face, he became even more terrified.

"Did you see her?" Bob spoke up first.

Johny nodded and walked straight to Bill. Bill lowered his head in shame and then said cheekily, "Johny, I really didn't mean it. Can you forgive me?"

Johny suddenly raised his hand. Bill was so scared that he quickly covered her head with his hands. Seeing this, Bob shook his head with a smile.

"Please! Please! Johny, please don't hit me in the face!"

"Tell me. I need the truth. What exactly happened that night?"

Bill held his head and revealed a pair of eyes. He turned around his eyes and said, "If I tell you the truth, please promise you won't hit me!"

"Depends on my mood." Johny sat in the chair.

Although Ceres has not been reconciled to him yet, he felt that the heavy weight has lifted off his heart.

He was still happy. Ceres, his woman was back!

"This is what happened!" Bill suddenly pulled Bob to the corner with one hand on the wall. Bob looked at his wit disgust and wanted to leave, but Bill insisted and said, "Bob, please!"

As Bill spoke, he took out a few condoms from his pocket. He imitated Johny and caressed Bob's cheeks. He also imitated Johny's tone to Ceres's name.

Johny frowned. Was he wretched and dirty like that?

"Bill Jaden! I believe you exaggerate the fact. Am I so ... indecent?"

Johny was embarrassed to say that he was wretched.

"You were even more than this that day. I was overwhelmed with emotions when I saw you and thought that you were going to make love with that young girl on the spot!"

"A young girl?" Johny had always thought that those emotional actions and words were directed at Ceres. Who was the young girl they were talking about?

"Yes, it's the girl I arranged for you. Johny, I thought my methods indeed help you out at that time, but I didn't expect..."

Bill silly smiled and said, "Then, when you saw Ceres, you went for her like a hungry wolf!"

Johny frowned, "She was there at that time?"

"Yes! I wanted to stop you, but it was too late. You were too fast."

Bill took out the condoms from his pocket and threw them on the ground.

"Everything was over when the condom landed." Bill suddenly slapped his own head, "Oh. And Ceres slapped you and then scolded you for being disgusting."

Johny really wanted to kill Bill when he finally got to know the whole thing.

That was the reason why Ceres was so distant to him.

She must have misunderstood him for the past few years.

"Look at what you have done!" Johny yelled to him angrily.

Bill hurriedly hid behind Bob, "Johny, you promised that you would let it go if I told you the truth. I have told you every single detail. Please forgive me once."

Johny glowered at him.

He needed to explain it to Ceres clearly.

"Bob, help me investigate the Cosmos Group. Find out what happened to Ceres in the past few years."

"Okay, no problem."

In the Cosmos Group, Ceres had yet to recover from the shock of knowing that she had not divorced Johny.

"Ceres." Kirs walked up to her.

Ceres looked at the ring in Kirs' hands.
