

One Night Stand With The Uninvited Wolf President

Chapter 174 Being Exposed

When Ceres was pregnant for the first time, it was the first Sedum Festival that they spent time together.

They went to the hospital and confirmed that Ceres was pregnant.

Ceres named their child Swedum because she was found pregnant during the Sedum Festival.

Unfortunately, that child didn't make it to his birth.

The lost child had always been a scar craved in the hearts of Johny and Ceres. They have both been remaining silent about the lost child.

Nick was waiting anxiously at the entrance of the Eagle Group. He wasn't sure if Swedum could find his biological father, but from the deduction of Swedum, there were no other possibilities.

However, he had heard of Eagle Group as the biggest competitor of the Cosmos Group. And Ceres was the director of Cosmos Group's technology department.

He felt something was wrong.

Suddenly, he saw a person walking out of the building across the street!

"Ceres!" Nick waved to her.

Because the road was very wide, Ceres did not notice that someone was there. Just as she was about to go to the parking lot, she received a call from Nick, "Ceres, I am right across from you! Look!"

Only then did Ceres look across the street. When she saw Nick, she immediately walked to him through the bridge over the road.

"Why are you here? Where's Swedum?"

Nick pointed at the building of Eagle Group.

Ceres's face turned pale immediately. She quickly rushed into the building, heading towards Johny's office.

The door suddenly opened. Both Johny and Swedum looked at her.

Ceres rushed over and picked Swedum up.

Johny kept looking at her. It never crossed his mind that Ceres would give birth to his son while she was away.

He could never imagine that Ceres hated him so much that she would not come back to him even after their son was born!

"He..."

"He is not!" Ceres held Swedum tightly in her arms. She hurriedly denied it before Johny finished speaking, "His father is Kirs!"

Johny frowned.

Swedum looked up at her mother, saying seriously, "I'm not Kirs's son."

Ceres glared at her son, "how dare he expose me?"

Is he my son? "

"Johny, he has nothing to do with you!"

"So your name is Johny!" Swedum shouted.

Holding Swedum in her arms, Ceres strode away hurriedly.

Johny watched her leave and did not ask anyone to stop her. Perhaps he needed time to face the truth that he had a son.

Ceres took Nick and Swedum to the parking lot with a gloomy face. A car blocked her way when she had just driven the car out of the underground parking lot.

The car that blocked her way out stopped right in front of her.

Ceres had no choice but to get off the car. She knocked on the window and then saw Olivia's attractive face after the window rolling down.

"Please move your car. You are blocking my way out." Ceres did not expect it to be Olivia. She did not want to be entangled with Olivia, or anyone related to Johny.

"I did it on purpose." Olivia looked at Ceres, saying proudly, "When you are dealing with a thief, you need to take some special measures."

"I don't know what you are talking about. Please move your car away. Otherwise, I will call the police!" Ceres did not understand why Olivia called her a thief.

"Ceres! Stop acting innocent! If you did not steal the chip our team had been working so hard on for many years, you would never make it here today. They would never offer you such an important position in the Cosmos Group." Olivia said.

Ceres sneered, "I got the position with my ability! You should be fully aware of it, right? You are a loser."

"You..."

Olivia was speechless. She had indeed lost to Ceres. "Alright. I finally know what kind of person you are. Johny treated you so well that he allowed you to participate in the biggest project of Eagle Group as an intern. In return, you stole our works and even turned to our competitor.

Not only did you bring the Cosmos Group back to life, but you also developed the biggest rival for Eagle Group. Ceres, you did a good job! I have lost to you once, but I won't lose to you twice. Just wait and see!

Then Olivia drove away.

But Ceres was confused.

Why would Olivia say that she stole their works? The robot plan of Eagle Group was delayed because the chip was stolen?

Only when Swedum pressed the horn, did Ceres's thoughts come back to reality.

On the way back, Ceres did not say a word. Nick and Swedum sat in the backseat, looking at each other.

They both knew that they had caused trouble, and Nick didn't even dare to breathe heavily.

"Ceres, I had no choice. Swedum, he, he, he..."

"I did it. Mommy, please don't blame Nick, and don't fire him. I will bear all the consequences!"

Nick looked at Swedum gratefully. It seemed that his caring for Swedum finally paid off.

But Swedum glanced at Nick. All he was thinking was that if Nick was fired, the next one probably wouldn't be as dupable as him. Then his activities wouldn't go smoothly as they were now. Therefore, it was better to keep Nick.

Ceres remained silent.

When they arrived at the hotel, Ceres asked Nick to stay in the hotel for the time being. Tomorrow, she would arrange a place for him to stay. Then she and Swedum went home.

When they returned home, Ceres ignored Swedum and directly ordered takeout.

During the meal, no one spoke. Swedum tried to say something but he got scared by Ceres's cold expression.

"This time, Mommy was really pissed off."

Ceres went upstairs right after dinner.

"Oh, my god. Cold violence." Swedum took a deep breath and went upstairs.

Ceres was working in front of the computer in the study room. Swedum walked over, holding an apple in his hand, "Mommy, eat an apple. I picked the sweetest one! Here, take it!"

Ceres ignored him.

"Do you know how I find that this apple to be the sweetest one? Because I took a bite of all the apples and confirmed that this is the sweetest. So I take it to you!"

Swedum stood on tiptoe and showed Ceres the apple more closely.

Ceres still ignored him.

"Oh, I forgot. I need to peel the apples for girls." Swedum picked up the fruit knife and began to peel it. Suddenly, the fruit knife fell to the ground. "Ouch! I cut my finger! It hurts!"

Swedum sat down on the ground, clutching his finger with another hand and crying.

Ceres picked up the cup on the table and took a sip, "Alright. Stop acting. You didn't cut your figure at all!"
