

One Night Stand With The Uninvited Wolf President

Chapter 184 An Exciting Competition!

Ceres came to the break room. The players had changed into white uniforms. They were all in high spirits and were waiting for her!

Ceres immediately went to the locker room. When she changed into the white uniform and came out, she saw Kirs wearing the same uniform as her.

The other members all held back their laughter. They seemed to know it.

Ceres was a little surprised, "Kirs, why are you..."

"How can I let you fight alone?"

Kirs had a brilliant smile, which always bring people energy.

Ceres replied with a bright smile.

"Come on! You guys need to restrain yourself!"

"Should we, the third wheels, leave now?"

"If we win the championship today, will it be double happiness?"

The last team member who spoke caught everyone's attention. They asked, "What double happiness you are saying?"

"One is winning the championship. Have you forgotten that Mr. Kirs has proposed to Miss Ceres last time? If Miss Ceres says yes this time, isn't it double happiness?"

"Yes! Yes! It's double happiness!"

When Ceres heard this, she felt a little upset.

The last time Kirs's proposal was interrupted by Johnny. In the end, she did not give Kirs an answer. As the president, Kirs had lost face at that time. However, he acted as if nothing had happened and let everyone joke around. He was never angry.

She couldn't find anyone else as gentle as him in this world.

Kirs laughed it off, "You guys can really gossip. Work hard in the competition. If we win, you will get a bonus. If we lose, you will lose this year's bonus!"

They all laughed.

The curtain opened and the host appeared. The impassioned music sounded. After the thunderous applause, the host held the microphone.

After the opening speech, the host shouted, "Next, let us invite the last two teams! Team Warrior from Cosmos Group!"

The lights lit up, and the team of Cosmos Group stepped onto the stage. Each of them was valiant and spirited, with an amiable smile on their faces.

The audience burst into applause again!

Because they saw Kirs!

The handsome and gentle president of Cosmos Group, Kirs, participated in the competition!

This had to be said to be a surprise.

"Next, let's invite Team Eagle from Eagle Group!"

The light on the other side lit up.

The audience was stunned, then there were screams and loud applause.

Ceres was also stunned when she saw Team Eagle.

It was Johnny!

She was surprised that he participate in this competition.

She wondered if she had seen it wrong.

Johnny had once pretended to be in a vegetative state. No one knew about Eagle Group and his identity as Arno. But now it was different. There was no need for him to hide it.

At the moment, he was Arno, her former idol.

"Today's competition is too grand. The two presidents of Cosmos Group and Eagle Group have all come to participate in the competition. Today's tickets are worthy!"

The host was also extremely excited, "Alright, let's not talk too much. We'll start our first round of competition right away!"

The first round was a competition of the basic qualities of the robots. The rules of the competition stipulated some specific movements and instructions. The robots were to complete it and score points based on the completion status.

In the first round of the competition, the robots from both sides were almost perfect. The Reunion from Eagle Group got 99 out of 100 points, and the Wargod No. 1 from Cosmos Group got 98 points. It could be said that they were equally matched.

The second round of the competition was a self-selection project. Both sides could freely choose the display items of their robot. The Reunion from Eagle Group was focused on the performance of the robot, and Wargod No. 1 chose the character and interaction of the robot to display. Both sides had their focus.

Reunion got 98 points and Wargod No. 1 got 97 points.

After the two rounds, the momentum of Cosmos Group was somewhat low. They had fallen behind in the two rounds. If they could not get points in the third round, they would lose.

They went back to their break room. The players complained, "Did Johnny spend money to bribe the judges? Our robot is more distinctive in the second round. Why is he still one point higher than us?"

"Yes! They must have bribed the judges. We have to find evidence later!"

"Johnny doesn't bother to bribe," Ceres said sternly.

As soon as she spoke, everyone turned to look at her.

"When you lose, you just blame others. Didn't you reflect on yourself? Didn't you notice that the robot of Eagle Group is very good?"

The players all shut up.

Ceres had to admit that although their robot had added character, in terms of performance, there was indeed a gap between their robot and Eagle Group's robot. Although Eagle Group's robot was only cold metal in everyone's eyes, they were perfect.

When Ceres worked in Eagle Group, there was the idea of the character of the robot in the company. She wondered why Eagle Group did not use it.

If it was used, the robot of Eagle Group could be called perfect.

"Alright, the purpose of our visit this time is to win the championship. We will summarize the lessons learned after we go back. Right now, the most important thing is to focus on the competition and work hard in the last round. The last round..."

"Ceres and I will fight together," Kirs stood behind Ceres and hugged her shoulders.

Everyone immediately began to clap.

Ceres looked at Kirs in astonishment. She wanted to reject him, but she couldn't find any reason to do so.

The last round was the most important. The robots would have a frontal confrontation.

For Cosmos Group, they had no way out. Because they were two points less than Eagle Group in the first two rounds. They had to win the last round!

When Ceres and Kirs stood on the competition stage, the host did not forget to tease them a little.

Ceres was not surprised when she saw that Johnny was the one to fight.

The last round began.

Under Kirs's control, Wargod No. 1 displayed its martial arts. Its somersaults caused the audience to cheer.

Reunion remained motionless.

Wargod No. 1 attacked first. Reunion dodged, and Wargod No. 1 almost fell. Then, Reunion began to launch a counterattack. Reunion hit Wargod No. 1's shoulder with its fist, and Wargod No. 1 did not show the white feather. It kicked Reunion on the thigh.

The two sides went back and forth, almost on par.

With time passing by, their combat strength slowly declined because of the damage and the consumption of electricity. The following battle mattered.

Reunion suddenly hit the back of Wargod No. 1. Sparks flew out of Wargod No. 1!