

One Night Stand With The Uninvited Wolf President

Chapter 190 I'll Agree with You

'It's she!

'It's because of this woman!

'If Ceres had not brought Swedum back, Johny won't retaliate against the Morris Group!

'It is all because of her!'

Hatred got the better of Mike. With Ceres and Swedum living on the earth, not only the Morris Group but also Mary's life would be ruined, too.

He had tried to kidnap Swedum, but Johny came too soon and saved the boy in one night!

Mike stared at Ceres and Swedum.

All his hope was on Mary and Brice. To enhance their status in the Winsor family, Ceres and Swedum must die!

Mike started the car and followed them.

Ceres and Swedum sat in the back of the car. Ceres was not familiar with this area, so she asked Markus to be the driver.

Swedum was already three years old. In M City, Swedum had already entered the kindergarten. Ceres could not leave Swedum to Nick every time, not to mention that Nick had been injured recently.

They came here for an interview of a kindergarten.

"Swedum, do you like the kindergarten? I think the environment is good."

"It's okay. There is no difference to me since it cannot teach me how to build a robot." Swedum had no interest in attending kindergarten.

"There's no kindergarten in this world that can teach you how to make robots."

"Let Daddy teach me!" Swedum suddenly looked up at Ceres.

Ceres was speechless.

"Mommy, let's find a kindergarten that is near Daddy's company. After school, I'll go to Dad and let him teach me. When you get off work, you can pick me up in his place. How about it?"

Swedum was excited about his idea.

But Ceres was in a pickle.

Ever since Johny saved him, Swedum admired Johny even more. Johny was the best Daddy in Swedum's eyes. He was good at both fighting and building robots.

"Swedum, your daddy is busy."

"You haven't even asked him, how do you know that he will refuse? He is my daddy. No matter how busy he is, he will be willing to teach me. He said that last time."

Swedum gave Ceres dog eyes. He took Ceres's cell phone out of her bag and said, "Mommy, why don't you call Daddy now?"

Ceres was unprepared for this.

"Besides, since he is my Daddy, should we ask for his advice on choosing a kindergarten for me?"

Ceres could find no reason to refuse Swedum.

Ceres felt that she has been fooled by her son. Swedum used to say that he would be content if only he could take a look at his father to know how he looks like. Now, he kept talking about Johny all the time.

"If I make you feel difficult, then forget it." Swedum stuffed the phone back into Ceres's bag.

His consideration made Ceres feel guilty.

She could not pass on her grievance to her son!

Swedum just wanted to be closer to his Daddy. He had done nothing wrong.

"Okay, I will make the call now. Cheer up, Swedum."

Swedum smiled at Ceres brightly.

He was not sad at all. He just knew how to deal with Ceres!

Ceres had to call Johny.

Johny picked up the phone quickly.

"Hello." His low and magnetic voice came from the other side of the line.

"Well... I am going to send Swedum to a kindergarten. Since he is also your son, I think I'd better ask for your advice."

Ceres said politely.

"Don't worry. I'll agree with you."

Johny said as if they were intimate.

"Then I will make my own decision."

Ceres heaved a long sigh of relief. She could hang up the phone now.

"Daddy! You promised to teach me how to make robots last time. I want to go to a kindergarten that's near your company so that I could go to your place after school and let you teach me. Mommy will pick me up after work. Is that okay for you?"

Swedum rushed over and said before Ceres could hang up.

"Okay, does your Mommy agree?"

Ceres had to make the final decision now.

Swedum looked at Ceres pitifully, "Mommy, Daddy will agree as long as you agree."

Ceres wanted to refuse. She did not want to see Johny every weekday!

"It'll cause you too much trouble," Ceres said to the phone.

"Not at all. I can let my secretary rearrange my schedule and leave the time to Swedum."

Hearing this, Swedum jumped up with joy.

"But Swedum is too young to learn such profound knowledge. I can teach him myself."

"Mommy, you don't have time. You are the director of the Cosmos Corporation, and you have to go to school. You don't have time to teach me. Just leave me to Daddy."

"School?" Johny asked.

"Yes. I'm studying for a master's degree."

"I recommend you to send Swedum to Farblue International Kindergarten. It is near my company and I can help when you are busy."

Ceres had to agree.

Suddenly, Johny called out, "Ask the driver to change the lane!"

He sounded anxious as if there was an emergency.

"What did you say?"

Ceres was confused.

"Ask the driver to change the lane, now!"

"Ask the driver to change the lane? Johny, are you talking to me?"

She thought that Johny was talking to someone else rather than her.

"Fasten your seat belt and protect your head!"

"What?"

Before Ceres could grasp his meaning, the car skidded with an ear-piercing sound.

She instinctively held Swedum in her arms!

The car had been driving fast. Ceres' head knocked on the front seat and her ears began tingling.

After a long time, she came back to her senses and slowly got up.

"Miss Ceres, are you alright?" The driver in front asked.

Ceres hurriedly checked on Swedum. Swedum sat in a child car seat and was fine.

"Swedum, are you alright?"

"I'm fine, Mommy. Look!"

Swedum pointed to the road. Ceres turned around and saw a car accident!
