

One Night Stand With The Uninvited Wolf President

Chapter 210 The Truth Was Discovered

"I'm not here to pick you up," Ceres said coldly, looking at Sally.

"Aren't you here to pick me up? Then what are you here for? Isn't Johnny still alive? If so, you can't catch me!" Sally sat on the sofa in a bad mood. "I am your mother! I suffered a lot for giving birth to you! There are many men, but you have only one mother!"

Ceres felt sick for having heard these words so frequently. She also sat on the sofa.

"I came here to talk to you about something." Ceres's face was still cold and indifferent. For this money-oriented mother, she had been no longer affectionate.

"What are you going to tell me?"

"You've been locked up here for a few days. You probably don't know that the Morris Group has officially declared bankruptcy."

Sally was not surprised by this news because it was expected that the Morris Group would close down.

"Also, in the fashion design competition that was just held, Mary's design was suspected of plagiarism and it was investigated. In addition, all the products produced by Shasha are ordered to be canceled."

"How could this be?" Sally looked at Ceres in shock.

As the Mrs. Winsor of the Winsor family, sometimes it was not convenient for her to show up, so many of the matters concerning clothing companies were managed by Sally.

Sally naturally knew about this fashion design competition. She originally thought that she would be able to be ranked among the top three. In that case, Shasha would be able to be famous. She did not expect that she would be suspected of plagiarism.

"Did you do this? Ceres! No matter what happened, Mary is your sister. How can you be so ruthless?"

Sally's finger was about to poke Ceres' forehead but just at that time, Ceres grabbed her wrist.

"She is my younger sister? Did you tell her that I am her sister? How can she be so ruthless? Not to mention that how she bullied me when I was a child, if it weren't for her, would my face be like this? She tried to kill me time and time again. She tried to kill my husband and my son!

Why should I think of her as my sister?!"

Sally was speechless. Ceres let go of Sally's wrist, and Sally's brain was racing quickly.

Currently, Mary definitely met her downfall. Since Johnny was not dead, then he would definitely think of a way to deal with Henry and Mary. At that time, Sally thought she would definitely not be able to rely on Mary.

But Ceres was different.

A smile slowly appeared on Sally's face, and her flattering face sent shivers down Ceres' spine.

"Ceres, when I was young, I protected Mary because we could live in the Morris family, right? And the Morris family has nothing to do with you. I brought you there, so it's not easy for you to live there. When you were a child, I saw you being bullied and my heart really ached."

Ceres smiled bitterly. She hoped that everything Sally said was true.

"Today I finally woke up to the reality. Mary has indeed done many bad things. She is not worthy to be Mrs. Winsor of the Winsor family. I also know that you hate her, but I can tell you a secret, through which you can take revenge immediately, but you must promise me that you will keep her alive. Moreover..."

Sally became a little embarrassed, "I am your mother, right? I won't be partial to her this time but to you, are you..."

Ceres knew that Sally wanted to take advantage of Mary to curry favor with her so that she could continue to live the life of wealth she wanted.

"This woman, for the sake of wealth and glory, could even betray her own daughter.

She betrayed her before and now she betrayed Mary.

However, when Sally told Ceres that secret, Ceres was still shocked!

Mary was completely involved in a lawsuit because of a design competition. It was known that Nyla was not bearable to be provoked. She had always been a person who was unreasonable and would not forgive others. Rose really left her in a dreadful situation.

She cooperated with the investigation of relevant departments and struggled for three days in a row. The company closed and was ordered to stop the infringement. Moreover, Nyla had already filed a lawsuit to the court. It was said that she commended a compensation of as high as one hundred million to the court.

Where was she going to get a hundred million to her?

If it was an ordinary small company, it was okay. However, the other side was coincidentally Nyla, and the Yoder family was also very powerful!

Mary thought about it and could only ask Henry for help.

She dressed herself up and returned to the Winsor family.

As soon as she stepped into the house, she felt that the entire Winsor family was different, and even the servants looked at her differently.

Mary was just about to return to her room to rest. As soon as she entered the bedroom, she saw Henry sitting in the room with a gloomy face.

She had a request for Henry, so she naturally did not dare to provoke him. She immediately smiled and walked in front of Henry. "Honey, I haven't seen you for many days."

Henry glared at her and took out two pieces of paper in his hand. "Explain it to me."

He threw the paper on Mary's face.

Mary picked up them and saw two DNA tests.

One showed that they were related by blood, while the other indicated the reverse.

Brice's name was written on the paper that showed that they were not related by blood!

"Darling, listen to me!"

"Explain what? You b*tch! How dare you lie to me!" Henry raised his hand and slapped Mary hard.

"Hubby, I'm doing this for your own good. If I give birth to a daughter, the Winsor family wouldn't have a grandson. That's why we had a new son." Mary covered her face and got up.

"Then hide your daughter well, or just strangle her to death so as to prevent future troubles! Do you know that the girl ran straight home and was seen by my dad! My dad already knows about this!"

Mary looked at Henry in shock. "I clearly..."

That girl was sent away by her when she was born. No matter what happened, she was still her daughter. In the past few years, she had spent a lot to raise her. They had never met before. How did she suddenly appear?

"Someone must be deliberately playing tricks!

It must be!

Who was it?

Ceres?'

How did Ceres know that she gave birth to a daughter?'

Henry grabbed her by the collar, "You are a woman who can't do anything. You can't even give birth to a son. What use do I have for you?"

"Honey, since I've done so much for you, please forgive me, okay? Forgive me, I'll give you a son right now, right now!" As she spoke, Mary tugged at her clothes.

She even tried to kiss Henry.

Henry felt extremely disgusted. "B*tch! Why are you so despicable! Did you also strip other men's clothes like this?"

As he spoke, he started punching and kicking Mary.

Only when Mary lay motionless on the ground did he stop.

"Servants! Clean up this slut's things and throw her out!"

He was done with it and he never wanted to see this woman again!
