

One Night Stand With The Uninvited Wolf President

Chapter 230 I Will Punish You

She didn't understand him!

She wondered, "There were so many women going after him. Why would he waste much time on me?"

And now that the Eagle Group is in turmoil, he should attach more attention to his work.

But now, he was even wasting time on teaching classes.

Johnny smiled calmly, saying, "Now You know how much I like you. Are you a little touched?"

When Ceres heard such an answer, she was a little angry.

"I'm serious. Johnny, it has been a long time since the Eagle Group has produced a new product, right? Otherwise, we wouldn't have run to court when we released a new product. The Winsor Group and the Andy Group have joined forces to compete with you. You are now in trouble at home and abroad. Don't you feel threatened?"

Ceres wanted to know what does he thought.

Johnny smiled.

"There are some things that need not be rushed, and some things cannot be rushed either," he said.

He lightly only said such a sentence.

He was so calm and composed, coupled with his highly charming face, attracted Ceres very much.

No wonder he could control such a giant group company at such a young age. No wonder he could establish his sect at such a young age. In just a few years, the Eagle Group became the best one in the country and was ranked at the top of the world.

He was really a powerful man.

Not only that, but he was also Arno, the pioneer of artificial intelligence in the country. Despite having a lot of work, he still could research and develop artificial intelligence. This was admirable.

Johnny saw that Ceres was a little stunned. He suddenly raised her chin and asked, "Do you think I'm mighty?"

Ceres looked at his deep eyes and could not help being attracted by them.

"I am also very mighty on the bed. Do you want to try it?" he asked in a naughty tone.

Only then did Ceres release Johnny's hand, saying, "Shameless!"

Johnny curled his lips, looking very sexy.

He said to her, "Next class, remember to give me your notebook. Otherwise, I will punish you."

The word "punishment" sounded very naughty.

Johnny took out a car key from his pocket and said, "I got a tune-up for your car. It's parked in the school parking lot. Area A. 15."

When Ceres took the key, she touched Johnny's palm, feeling that his palm was warm.

Looking up at his face again, he seemed uncomfortable, and there were faint cracks on his lips.

"Are you ok? You look thirsty," she asked.

"Yeah, my cock is thirsty," he said.

Ceres regretted asking him, frowned a little.

"Screw you!" Ceres took his bag and key and fled in a panic. She found her car according to the location that Johnny had mentioned.

She found that her car was much brighter than usual. Looking carefully, Johnny not only helped her wash the car but also made an invisible car coat—what a thoughtful man.

Ceres remembered that he had put some food in her trunk. They should have expired now. She quickly opened the trunk.

Suddenly! When she opened the trunk, the colorful balloon suddenly rose into the air, and the rich fragrance of flowers came to her nose, giving her a big fright.

There were a few words written on the balloon, "Be my girlfriend."

There were a few large gift boxes in the trunk.

"Wow, it's so romantic!" a girl stopped and said to Ceres.

"Congratulations. He must love you so much!" the girl said.

Ceres looked at the trunk full of flowers, balloons, and gift boxes and was at a loss.

The phone suddenly rang. It was an unfamiliar number.

"Do you like it?" It was Johnny.

Ceres immediately recognized Johnny's voice, saying, "So tacky!"

"Is that so?" Johnny said.

Ceres looked at these things and felt that it seemed that many people in short Internet videos proposed or pursued girls in this way. He learned from them.

"Yes!" she said.

"Alright, then I'll prepare something more unique when I propose next time. I'll wait for your answer," Johnny said.

"What propose?" Ceres was about to say something, but Johnny ended the call.

Looking at the flowers, balloons, and gifts in the trunk, Ceres pursed his lips and smiled.

Girls were all very strange creatures. Their heart and mouth were at variance.

Johnny stood in the classroom upstairs, seeing that Ceres smiled. He thought that Bill was really good at coaxing girls.

Bill had said that all women liked to compete. They enjoyed comparing their boyfriend with the other people's boyfriend.

Therefore, the most common thing was the most practical thing.

It took Ceres a lot of effort to move those gift boxes from her trunk home. She opened the gift boxes and found that they contained all kinds of things, including cosmetics, skincare products, electric appliances, snacks, and all sorts of small things.

They were gifts that could make a girl's heart burst.

Johnny was really thoughtful.

She wondered, "He had said that he would wait for my reply. Was he going after me?"

The door opened, and Kirs walked straight in.

He had the key to Ceres's house and could enter at any time. This was the first time that Ceres felt that it was very proper that Kirs barged in like this.

"Hey," Ceres greeted Kirs.

When Kirs saw the things in the big boxes, he was also amazed, asking, "Who sent them?"

"Johnny," Ceres scratched his head awkwardly.

She felt that there was no need to lie to Kirs.

Kirs's face immediately darkened.

"Kirs, don't misunderstand. We're just friends, and I will not betray our company. It is him who has been going after me and making me very anxious," Ceres hurriedly explained.

Kirs calmed and smiled.

"You're beautiful and talented. It's not surprising that Johnny's going after you. But..." he said.

Ceres hurriedly asked, "What?"

"Could it be that he has other motives for pursuing you? Ceres, you should know that you are the technical director of the Cosmos Group. All the important data is in your hands. He is also the CEO of Eagle Group. Moreover, it has been a long since the Eagle Group has produced a new product. I think it is very strange," Kirs said.

Ceres understood. What he meant was that Johnny approached her purely for the sake of stealing information from Cosmos.

However, Ceres did not want to believe it because she knew that he was Arno. Arno probably did not care about the products of Cosmos.

"Kirs, I understand what you mean. I will consider it carefully," she managed to stop his subject.

"I've already asked the logistics department to prepare a vacation for you. Have a good rest," Kirs said.

The moment Kirs finished speaking, Ceres's phone rang.

"Wait a minute; I need to answer the phone," she said.
