

One Night Stand With The Uninvited Wolf President

Chapter 231 Don't You Want to Be with Him?

"Miss Ceres, my daddy has a high fever. Can you come over?"

A childish voice came from the receiver.

For a moment, Ceres even suspected that the other party had made the wrong call.

The first thing she thought of was the little boy she met in the parking lot that day, who was Johny's son.

"What's wrong? Speak slowly."

"It's like this. My daddy has a high fever. His head is very hot. He is lying on the bed motionlessly. I am afraid that he is in danger. I don't know what to do."

"Is there no one else in your house? There are no servants either?"

Johny, who was rich, hired a bunch of servants at home, right?

"There's no one at home. There's only a servant in charge of cooking. She's on leave today. Miss Ceres, please come over, okay?"

The tender voice on the phone sounded like he was about to cry.

"Alright, alright, alright. Baby, don't cry first. I'll be right there."

After hanging up the phone, Ceres hurriedly took her coat and prepared to go out. "Kirs, I have something to do outside!"

Kirs still did not know what had happened. "What is it? Why are you in such a hurry? Do you want me to drive you?"

"No need, I can handle it myself," Ceres said as she began to change her shoes.

"Ceres, did I just hear a child's voice on the phone?" Kirs pursued relentlessly.

"It's Johny's son. He said that Johny had a high fever and was unconscious. The child is alone at home. I have to go and take a look."

Kirs felt that it was ridiculous. "Ceres, will you believe such words? It must be Johny who used his son. He is a single man at home, and you go there alone. I think he must have other plans."

Ceres took a deep breath, "Kirs, I went to Johny's class today. He was indeed a little unstable during the class, and his face didn't look too good. I think it should be true. And I believe that children won't lie."

"Even if he didn't lie and had a fever, what kind of person was Johny? There were a lot of servants in the house and many friends. Even if there was nothing, there was still his special assistant, secretary, and so on. Why would he need you?"

Kirs said eagerly.

"What if no one can contact him? A child doesn't understand these things. I'll leave first!" Ceres's face turned a little awkward.

After saying that, Ceres immediately walked out of the door.

Only now did Kirs realize that he was too impatient!

To prevent Ceres from going to Johny's house, he said such words. He should be as innocent and kind as her!

Kirs secretly clenched his fists. It's all Johny's fault!

He couldn't help but think of what the child on the phone said. Perhaps he should consider it carefully.

Ceres drove to the Villa Amio according to the location that Swedum had sent her and found Johny's house. It was Swedum who opened the door.

"Where is your daddy?"

"He's in the bedroom. I just called him, but he didn't respond."

Swedum pointed to the upstairs.

Ceres immediately ran upstairs. Johny was lying on the bed. She quietly walked over and reached her hand to touch his forehead. When she felt the frighteningly hot forehead, she quickly retracted her hand.

"He has a high fever. We must send him to the hospital immediately."

"I just measured it with an electronic thermometer. It is close to forty degrees."

"Daddy, daddy, wake up!" Swedum looked worriedly at Johny on the bed.

At this time, Johny slowly opened his eyes. When he opened his eyes, he saw Ceres. "Ceres..."

"Mr. Johny, you have a high fever and have to go to the hospital immediately. Can you get up now?" Ceres was still not used to such an intimate address.

Johny forced himself to sit up. "No need. Go to the medicine box and bring back the antipyretic. Swedum, fetch it."

"Swedum?" Ceres looked at Johny in astonishment and then at Swedum.

"My father was confused." Swedum hurriedly explained.

Johny remembered that Swedum had told Ceres that his name was Elian and Johny forgot about it for a moment.

"Miss Ceres, let's send Daddy to the hospital."

"Alright!"

Swedum brought Johny some antipyretic, and Johny ate one. Under Ceres and Swedum's persistence, Johny finally agreed to go to the hospital.

However, his entire body was trembling. Because of his high fever, all the bones in his body were hurting.

Ceres put one of his arms on her shoulder and took him out of the room with great efforts to help him to the car.

Johny sat in the back of the car. Swedum was right next to him and smiled strangely at him.

It was true that he had a high fever, but Swedum quickly came up with an idea. 'It wasn't easy for daddy to get sick. This was the best opportunity for him to get in touch with Miss Ceres.'

Therefore, he took Johny's phone and called Ceres.

Fortunately, there were not many cars at night. Ceres drove quite smoothly. She took Johny to the hospital for registration, doctor, and drip. The journey was unimpeded.

Johny fell asleep in the ward, either because of the effect of the medicine or because he was too tired.

Ceres stared at the drip in the infusion bottle and adjusted the speed of injection, rubbing Johny's forehead. It did not feel so hot.

"Thank you, Miss Ceres. It's so late, and you still came over." Swedum said very politely.

"You're welcome. Are you hungry? Didn't you say that the servants at home took a leave?"

Swedum gave a silly smile.

"Then I will buy you something to eat."

"Buy one for daddy too."

"Alright."

Because Johny was still on infusion here, Ceres was worried about him. She ordered takeout.

After eating, Swedum sighed deeply. Ceres stroked his little head. "What's wrong? Why are you sighing? Your daddy will be fine."

"He is fine this time, but what about next time? Miss Ceres, my father, works very hard. He has always been very busy with his company. He has to work very late every day and has to take care of me, so he was ill."

Swedum sadly lowered his head.

Of course, Ceres knew that Johny was very busy. The Eagle Group was now in trouble. Although he looked calm on the surface, he definitely had to work hard. Moreover, he had to go to school to teach, and he was... pursuing her. He was very busy.

"Miss Ceres, it would be great if I had a mommy. My daddy loves you deeply. Don't you want to be with him?" Swedum blinked his big black grape-like eyes and looked at Ceres seriously.

Ceres smiled awkwardly.

"It's rare for my daddy to love someone so much. He did everything for you with his thoughts. He did it himself. My daddy understands you best. He really loves you. I really hope that you can be my mommy, too."
