

One Night Stand With The Uninvited Wolf President

Chapter 241 Marry You

"I'm ten years older than you. I must die earlier than you. The only thing I can leave for you is a child."

Hearing Johnny's words, Ceres's heart ached inexplicably.

She thought, 'Why did my heart hurt so much? It was like being gouged by a knife.'

Johnny looked at Ceres and couldn't help kissing her lips!

He kissed hard as if he remembered this feeling but also seemed to be in a hurry.

"If I survive, remember to marry me! I have saved you with my life!"

Johnny fell into the water after saying these words.

"Johnny! Johnny!" Ceres guarded at the edge of the speedboat. Because the speed was too fast, she could not see Johnny soon.

But she could see the light on Johnny's body. He was attracting the enemies because there was no light on her speedboat!

"Johnny!" Ceres's face was cold. She didn't know it was tears or splashes.

She thought, 'Although she had known Johnny for a short time, he was willing to save her with his life.'

And she knew he had arranged her future life.

Ceres didn't know the reasons.

She didn't know.

Ceres felt that her brain was in a mess suddenly.

She felt that although they had just met for the first time, they seemed to fall in love for a long time.

When Ceres's thoughts were in chaos, the speedboat stopped.

She followed Johnny's instructions and found the emergency button. The speedboat started again and continued to run far away.

At this time, it was not far from the island of Kirs.

She knew she must swim to Ceres Island.

So, she swam toward the island of Kirs with the flashlight on. But soon, she was exhausted. The island looked closely, but it was so far away.

Ceres's consciousness began to dissipate, and then she couldn't swim.

She could feel her body sinking slowly, and her mind was in a mess. Many images flashed by.

Finally, she closed her eyes.

She didn't know what to do.

When she woke up again, Ceres found the smell of medicine. She thought she might be in the hospital.

Recalling what had happened, she sat up abruptly and saw Bob in her ward.

"Ceres, you're awake."

"Where's Johnny? Is he alright?"

"He was shot and injured on his leg. He's fine. His wound was soaked in the water and inflamed. He needs to rest for a few days. Don't worry."

Hearing that Johnny was saved, Ceres's heart settled.

She thought it was good that he was fine.

She muttered to herself.

"This is the first time I've seen Johnny care about a woman so much. When I went there, he swam with a wounded leg. He was going to die soon. Fortunately, I arrived in time. But he asked me to save you first. Otherwise, his wound would not have been inflamed."

Bob told Ceres what happened.

Ceres felt uncomfortable in his heart.

"Can I see him now?"

"Of course, you can. He will be happy. Before you woke up, he demanded to be in the same room as you. Later, the doctor said that you needed to rest, so he gave up. He wanted to protect you forever. Finally, the doctor gave him a tranquilizer to let him sleep."

Ceres was a little tired. She was not injured, so she could move freely. She and Bob went to Johnny's room.

Unexpectedly, Johnny had woken up and was clamoring to see Ceres.

"Alright, Johnny. Ceres is coming."

Johnny turned around and saw Ceres. "You're alive. Let me see!"

Ceres walked to him, and Bob gestured for everyone to leave.

They were left in the room.

Looking at Johnny, Ceres suddenly felt that the atmosphere was a little awkward. She seemed to experience a tribulation. But she felt that they had more intimacy suddenly.

"How's your leg injury?"

"You will know if you get closer." Johnny beckoned her over.

Ceres approached. Johnny got up and pulled her into his arms. Before Ceres could react, he kissed her lips.

After she reacted, Ceres opened her eyes quietly.

Johnny closed his eyes to kiss her carefully.

He kissed her lips gently.

Ceres looked at his long eyelashes, and a thought appeared in her head. Whose eyelashes were longer?

This feeling was strange. Why did she always feel that many things had happened between them?

But her head was empty except for the memories they had over the past few days.

Ceres saved her. She hugged Johnny's neck and began to kiss him back.

Johnny seemed to have received a reward and became bolder.

However, when his hand touched into Ceres's clothes, Ceres pushed him away hurriedly.

Johnny panted.

Ceres grabbed his collar tightly and lowered his head. She said, "No."

Johnny licked his lips.

"Alright."

"At least, we have to wait until you left the hospital," Ceres added.

Johnny laughed immediately. He touched the bell, and Ceres stopped him. "What are you doing?"

"I want to leave the hospital! I will leave the hospital immediately! Let's go home now!"

"Stop messing around. Your injure is infected now. How can you leave the hospital?" Ceres grabbed the bell in hand.

"But I want to. I can't care so much." Johnny replied with a bad smile.

"Are you in such a hurry?"

"Yes! It's very urgent!"

"I mean that you must recover. If you leave the hospital now, I won't let you touch me." Ceres replied.

"Alright, I promise you! After all, you are my lucky star!"

"Your lucky star?"

Ceres felt that she had heard this sentence before.

"Didn't we say that we will get married if we don't die? Can you marry me now?" Johnny changed the topic.

Ceres stared at Johnny's eyes.

Those eyes were charming.

Those eyes were full of affection.

The eyes were so familiar.

She did not know where the courage came from, but she nodded. "I agree."
