

One Night Stand With The Uninvited Wolf President

Chapter 249 | Am Swedum

It was on the 15th of August.

After getting up, Ceres went to prepare a birthday present for Swedum. In the morning, she had received a call from him, saying that the birthday party was at seven o'clock in the evening and hoping that Ceres would attend it on time.

At seven in the evening, Ceres arrived at Johny's house on time.

However, there was quiet. Ceres pressed the doorbell and walked in. She found that there was indeed a birthday party, but no one was there.

"Mommy, you're here!" Swedum greeted Ceres warmly.

Johny wore a set of grey home clothes and leaned against the wall leisurely.

Ever since he had started pretending to be himself with another identity, he hadn't missed out on any details, including his dressing.

Johny smiled with mockery.

"Happy birthday, Elian." Ceres glanced at Johny before she handed the gift to Swedum.

"Thank you, mommy!" Swedum put on a sweet smile as he pulled Ceres to sit on the sofa.

Ceres looked around. There were no other guests. "Elian, who did you invite for today's birthday party?"

"I only invited Mommy!"

Ceres realized that this was a birthday party with three of them.

"Mommy, I want to celebrate my birthday only with you and daddy, so I didn't invite anyone else."

Swedum looked at Ceres playfully. "When daddy and mommy give birth to another baby, you may not be so diligent in holding a birthday party for me, so I only want you two."

Ceres could only comfort herself that Johny would not act recklessly due to Swedum.

"Mommy, I also have a gift for you! I will go upstairs to get it. Wait a minute!" Swedum ran upstairs.

When Swedum passed Johny, he winked at Johny.

Johny naturally knew what did Sweden mean.

He handed a glass of wine to Ceres. Then he picked up his cup and wanted to touch Ceres, but Ceres refused.

Johny put the cup on the table with disappointment.

"You haven't answered the question I asked you last time. It's a good chance to discuss the wedding today."

Johny looked at Ceres confidently.

"Johny, I won't marry you. Don't you understand?" Ceres replied indifferently.

"Don't be like this." Johny moved closer to Ceres, but Ceres retreated a little.

"Don't make a fuss, darling. Elian called you mommy, and you agreed. Do you refuse to marry me?" Johny said.

"That's for comforting Elian. Otherwise, you want me to tell him sternly that I don't want to marry you, and he shouldn't call me mommy in the future?"

Ceres sneered, "I came here is only for Elian. I haven't any fantasies about you. I have already filed a lawsuit to sue you."

"Sue me for what?"

"Rap..."

Johny smiled, "It's a great crime. If I'm convicted, I'm probably the first billionaire to be sentenced to jail."

Ceres felt that Johny didn't care about it at all.

Johny shrugged. "It doesn't matter. Perhaps the police officers will prove me innocent and let you know who drugged you."

Ceres turned away. "I heard that you are arranging the wedding. You should stop and tell Elian the truth earlier. I don't need to act anymore. We can't get married."

Johny ignored Ceres's words and held his wine glass. "If I have to marry you, what will you do?"

Smelling the alcohol, Ceres felt angry.

She held Johny's hand and splashed the wine on him. The wine was splashed on Johny's face, flowing down his hair.

But Johny wasn't angry at all. He even had a satisfied smile.

"Darling, you wasted this expensive black wine, but if you like to splash it, you can continue."

Then Johny took a whole bottle of black wine in front of Ceres.

Ceres lost her words. How could there be such a shameless man?

She doubted whether her judgment was right or wrong!

Johny noticed Ceres. "Do you want me to change my clothes and let you continue? Alright, wait for me."

Johny turned and went upstairs right away.

Ceres hoped that the birthday party would end soon.

It's a long time since Swedum went upstairs. Why didn't he return yet?

Ceres looked upstairs, finding that Swedum was standing upstairs and looking at her with tears.

Ceres immediately ran up and squatted down. "What's wrong? Elian, why are you crying?"

Swedum looked at Ceres and cried louder!

He had heard the conversation between Ceres and Johny just now!

He thought that Ceres and Johny would get married soon and he could live with them, but Ceres didn't intend to marry Johny at all.

So Swedum felt sad at this moment.

"Mommy! Mommy!" Swedum hugged Ceres tightly.

"Don't cry, Elian. Today is your birthday. Don't cry." Ceres stroked Swedum's head.

"My name isn't Elian! I am Swedum! Mommy! You are my mommy. Today is not my birthday. My birthday is the Lantern Festival. Mommy, have you forgotten? Mommy, why did you forget me?"

Swedum looked at Ceres with crying.

Ceres looked at Swedum in disbelief.

"Mommy, you are my mommy. Uncle Kirs is a bad person! He hypnotized you and made you forget daddy and me. So, daddy and I pretended not to know you and wanted to reunite with you again!"

Swedum wanted to tell Ceres everything.

"Mommy, I am your son! I am Swedum!"

"Elian! Stop talking nonsense!" Johny shouted!
