

One Night Stand With The Uninvited Wolf President

Chapter 252 I Have to Win!

Although the employees of the Eagle Group also felt that the Cosmos Corporation had indeed stolen their research and development results, they really had no evidence. If this lawsuit continued, they could only lose the support from the public.

Now, what they had to do was to stop the damage in time and retrieve their public image.

Everyone looked at Johnny. At this time, they only needed a decision.

Johnny finally looked up and glanced around. "I'll go back and consider this problem."

After saying that, Johnny walked straight out of the office.

Everyone looked at each other in dismay.

In their impression, Johnny was not an indecisive person, so how come this time, he needed to consider it carefully?

The current poor situation of the Eagle Group had lasted for a period of time, and he still had not come up with a solution.

"What exactly is going on with the president? Can't he decide on such a small matter quickly?" The staff began to complain.

"I heard that the president recently received an invitation from the school to be a professor to give lectures."

"Let me tell you guys. Mr. Johnny has a relationship problem. He is doing it for a woman. Recently, he has been busy dating!"

"What? For a woman, does he want to ruin such a big company?"

When they heard that Johnny was doing this for the sake of a woman, these employees had even more objections. Many even discussed resigning to go to Cosmos Corporation.

Johnny sat in his office with a splitting headache.

It was not that he was indecisive, but this matter involved too many things.

He knew that leaving Ceres was the best choice.

However, Johnny really couldn't make this decision.

Was he really going to stay away from her? He couldn't bear to part with her.

At this time, Ben walked in with a serious face. "Mr. Johnny, the Cosmos Group's President, Mr. Kirs, wants to talk to you."

Hearing the name Kirs, Johnny immediately became alert.

"He's already downstairs in the reception room."

"Let him in."

Soon, Kirs walked into Johnny's office swaggeringly. He even sat directly opposite Johnny and crossed his legs, looking high and arrogant.

Johnny looked at Kirs with disdain.

"You don't have to look at me like that, Johnny. Now that you are at the end of the cliff, what right do you have to look at me like that?"

Kirs also had a look of disdain on his face.

"Does it feel good?" Johnny sneered.

"Yeah, it feels so great. I have never felt so good before!" Kirs sat up straight and approached Johnny, "When I press your woman under me one day, I just feel better. I will definitely share my experience with you."

Johnny clenched his fists so hard.

Soon, he let released them.

"What do you want to do today?"

"I am here to tell you good news!" Kirs shrugged his shoulders, "I can help you save your woman."

Johnny frowned.

"I believe that you already know it. Only I know how Ceres was hypnotized, so only I can help her. I am sure Nyla also told you that leaving Ceres is the best choice."

"So?"

Kirs curled his lips, "So, I hope that you and Ceres will immediately go through the divorce procedures, and this matter cannot be known to Ceres."

Kirs could change everything, but he could not completely change Ceres's identity. Therefore, Ceres and Johnny were still married.

"I believe that with your ability, you can definitely do it."

"Are you planning to marry her?" Johnny asked.

"Of course, or why am I putting in so much effort? Don't worry. I won't let her suffer at all. I'll love her well for you."

Kirs raised his eyebrows and said the word "love" in an ambiguous way.

"What if I do not?"

Kirs shrugged his shoulders again. "It doesn't matter. You can continue to get close to her, and you can also take me to court again. Then, you can slowly wait for her to recall the past. In this process, I will help her and strive to let her recall it earlier, or simply do another hypnosis to let her reunite with you sooner."

Johnny looked at Kirs's arrogant face and really wanted to beat him up like last time!

The thing Johnny regretted the most now was that he had not directly killed Kirs last time!

"Do you want to beat me up like last time? Come on! I'll give you a chance. The harder, the better!" Kirs stretched his head over.

Johnny grabbed Kirs by the collar and punched his cheekbone.

Kirs fell to the ground in pain. He didn't expect Johnny to really beat him!

"Johnny, just you wait!" Kirs covered his face and slowly got up from the ground.

"Get lost!" Johnny shouted.

Kirs looked at Johnny and laughed. His laughter echoed in the office, so insolent.

"Johnny, can I understand that you are angry from embarrassment? So interesting... It doesn't matter. You are just punching me to vent your anger. The divorce procedures have to be done early. Otherwise, if Ceres knows that you have been married to her, it will be another big trouble."

"In addition, I don't want you to withdraw the lawsuit. Just let it go on. I want to win," Kirs put his hands on the table and spoke.

He then laughed and left Johnny's office.

Johnny was boiling with rage as he watched Kirs leave. However, he couldn't do anything.

Kirs knew well that Johnny deeply loved Ceres and took advantage of it. That was why Kirs dared to be so unscrupulous.

Kirs was threatening Johnny with his weak point.

Bob and Bill both knew about this matter, and Bill cursed Kirs in the office.

"Johnny, you can't exercise forbearance like this. He will be insatiable in the future! This kind of man's desire is endless!" Bill was so angry that he paced back and forth in the office.

"Johnny, what do you think?" Bob asked seriously. He was much calmer than Bill.

Johnny shook his head.

He knew clearly in his heart that Kirs's ultimate goal was to bankrupt the Eagle Group and then marry Ceres when Johnny was in his lowest state, which was probably the most wonderful moment of Kirs's life.

However, if Johnny didn't follow Kirs's words, Ceres would probably die or go crazy.

"Johnny, from my viewpoint, it's better to give it a try! Tell all the truth to Ceres. She is a person, and she has the ability to think. Something may be wrong with her, but it is also possible that she has a strong heart and that nothing will happen! We'll bet on it once!"

This was Bill's suggestion.

"Bill, you know what? That was a gamble with Ceres's life," Bob reminded him.

"I know it's a gamble with her life, but if we don't gamble now, everyone will lose their lives! The Eagle Group is our painstaking effort, and there are so many employees! Johnny can't be so selfish! This group is not his alone!"

Johnny raised his head after hearing Bill's words.
